United States politician and lawyer; vice president of the United States (1877-1956).

- Understanding "alben barkley" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "alben barkley" during the group presentation.

---

alben william barkley (noun)

United States politician and lawyer; vice president of the United States (1877-1956).

- They discussed "alben william barkley" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "alben william barkley" means with a simple example.

---

alizarin (noun)

An orange-red crystalline compound used in making red pigments and in dyeing.

- In class, the teacher used "alizarin" to mean an orange-red crystalline compound used in making....
- They discussed "alizarin" during the group presentation.

---

alizarin crimson (noun)

Any of various acid dyes; used for dyeing wool scarlet red.

- The article explained what "alizarin crimson" means with a simple example.

- Understanding "alizarin crimson" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

alizarin red (noun)

Any of various acid dyes; used for dyeing wool scarlet red.

- They discussed "alizarin red" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "alizarin red" means with a simple example.

---

alizarin yellow (noun)

Any of various yellow dyes; not related chemically to alizarin but applied in the same manner.

- He looked up "alizarin yellow" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "alizarin yellow."

---

alkalies (noun)

A mixture of soluble salts found in arid soils and some bodies of water; detrimental to agriculture.

- He looked up "alkalies" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "alkalies."

---

allocution (noun)

(rhetoric) a formal or authoritative address that advises or exhorts.

- Understanding "allocution" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "allocution" during the group presentation.

---

alnus maritima (noun)

Shrub or small tree of southeastern United States having soft light brown wood.

- The article explained what "alnus maritima" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "alnus maritima" to mean shrub or small tree of southeastern united states....

---

ameba (noun)

Naked freshwater or marine or parasitic protozoa that form temporary pseudopods for feeding and locomotion.

- He looked up "ameba" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "ameba" to mean naked freshwater or marine or parasitic protozoa....

---

amirs (noun)

An independent ruler or chieftain (especially in Africa or Arabia).

- In class, the teacher used "amirs" to mean an independent ruler or chieftain (especially in....
- Understanding "amirs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

amphitheaters (noun)

A sloping gallery with seats for spectators (as in an operating room or theater).

- They discussed "amphitheaters" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "amphitheaters" because he had never seen it before.

---

amplifications (noun)

Addition of extra material or illustration or clarifying detail.

- The article explained what "amplifications" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "amplifications" to mean addition of extra material or illustration or....

---

annelid (noun)

Worms with cylindrical bodies segmented both internally and externally.

- They discussed "annelid" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "annelid" because he had never seen it before.

---

annelid worm (noun)

Worms with cylindrical bodies segmented both internally and externally.

- He looked up "annelid worm" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "annelid worm" during the group presentation.

---

anomia (noun)

Type genus of the family Anomiidae: saddle oysters.

- They discussed "anomia" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anomia."

---

anthroposophy (noun)

A system of beliefs and practices based on the philosophy of Rudolf Steiner; it claims to integrate the practical and psychological in child-centered education.

- He looked up "anthroposophy" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anthroposophy."

---

antipope (noun)

Someone who is elected pope in opposition to another person who is held to be canonically elected.

- The antipopes resided in Avignon during the Great Schism.
- In class, the teacher used "antipope" to mean someone who is elected pope in opposition to....

---

antrum (noun)

A natural cavity or hollow in a bone.

- The article explained what "antrum" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "antrum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

aperitifs (noun)

Alcoholic beverage taken before a meal as an appetizer.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aperitifs."
- The article explained what "aperitifs" means with a simple example.

---

appertaining (verb)

Be a part or attribute of.

- The coach explained when to use "appertaining" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "appertaining" in real sentences.

---

appraises (verb)

Evaluate or estimate the nature, quality, ability, extent, or significance of.

- She tried to use "appraises" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "appraises" when talking about this idea.

---

arameans (noun)

A member of one of a group of Semitic peoples inhabiting Aram and parts of Mesopotamia from the 11th to the 8th century BC.

- In class, the teacher used "arameans" to mean a member of one of a group of semitic peoples....
- Understanding "arameans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

argillite (noun)

A sedimentary rock differing from shale in being bound by silica and from slate in having no slate cleavages.

- The article explained what "argillite" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "argillite."

---

arizonan (noun)

A native or resident of Arizona.

- Understanding "arizonan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "arizonan."

---

arthur honegger (noun)

Swiss composer (born in France) who was the founding member of a group in Paris that included Erik Satie and Darius Milhaud and Francis Poulenc and Jean Cocteau (1892-1955).

- They discussed "arthur honegger" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "arthur honegger" because he had never seen it before.

---

ascender (noun)

A lowercase letter that has a part extending above other lowercase letters.

- The article explained what "ascender" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ascender."

---

aspers (noun)

20 aspers equal 1 kurus in Turkey.

- In class, the teacher used "aspers" to mean 20 aspers equal 1 kurus in turkey.
- The article explained what "aspers" means with a simple example.

---

autoantibody (noun)

An antibody acting against tissues of the organism that produces it.

- The article explained what "autoantibody" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "autoantibody" to mean an antibody acting against tissues of the organism....

---

awesomer (adjective)

Inspiring awe or admiration or wonder; ; ; ; - Melville.

- The speaker chose "awesomer" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "awesomer."

---

barfs (verb)

Eject the contents of the stomach through the mouth.

- The coach explained when to use "barfs" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "barfs" until he saw an example.

---

barkeeper (noun)

An employee who mixes and serves alcoholic drinks at a bar.

- The article explained what "barkeeper" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "barkeeper" during the group presentation.

---

battle of tannenberg (noun)

A battle in World War I (1914); decisive German victory over the Russians.

- They discussed "battle of tannenberg" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "battle of tannenberg" to mean a battle in world war i (1914); decisive german....

---

beaners (noun)

A baseball deliberately thrown at the batter's head.

- He looked up "beaners" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "beaners" during the group presentation.

---

beepers (noun)

An electronic device that generates a series of beeps when the person carrying it is being paged.

- He looked up "beepers" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "beepers" to mean an electronic device that generates a series of....

---

beet armyworm (noun)

Moth larva that eats foliage of beets and other vegetables.

- He looked up "beet armyworm" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "beet armyworm" to mean moth larva that eats foliage of beets and other....

---

ben shahn (noun)

United States artist whose work reflected social and political themes (1898-1969).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ben shahn."
- Understanding "ben shahn" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

benjamin shahn (noun)

United States artist whose work reflected social and political themes (1898-1969).

- In class, the teacher used "benjamin shahn" to mean united states artist whose work reflected social....
- They discussed "benjamin shahn" during the group presentation.

besieges (verb)

Surround so as to force to give up.

- He did not know how to use "besieges" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "besieges" in a sentence that fits this situation?

biogenetic (adjective)

Of or relating to the production of living organisms from other living organisms.

- A "biogenetic" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "biogenetic."

bloodbaths (noun)

Indiscriminate slaughter.

- Understanding "bloodbaths" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "bloodbaths" means with a simple example.

bluegills (noun)

Important edible sunfish of eastern and central United States.

- The article explained what "bluegills" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "bluegills" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

bluejacket (noun)

A serviceman in the navy.

- In class, the teacher used "bluejacket" to mean a serviceman in the navy.
- Understanding "bluejacket" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

boated (verb)

Ride in a boat on water.

- He did not know how to use "boated" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "boated" in real sentences.

boded (verb)

Indicate by signs.

- Learners should practice how to use "boded" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "boded" carefully so everyone would understand.

boors (noun)

A crude uncouth ill-bred person lacking culture or refinement.

- The article explained what "boors" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "boors" to mean a crude uncouth ill-bred person lacking culture or....

broadswords (noun)

A sword with a broad blade and (usually) two cutting edges; used to cut rather than stab.

- In class, the teacher used "broadswords" to mean a sword with a broad blade and (usually) two....
- The article explained what "broadswords" means with a simple example.

broca's gyrus (noun)

The motor speech center in the left hemisphere of the brain in most people.

- The article explained what "broca's gyrus" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "broca's gyrus" during the group presentation.

brunhild (noun)

A Valkyrie or a queen in the Nibelungenlied who loved the hero Siegfried; when he deceived her she had him killed and then committed suicide.

- He looked up "brunhild" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "brunhild" during the group presentation.

bubblers (noun)

A public fountain to provide a jet of drinking water.

- The article explained what "bubblers" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "bubblers" to mean a public fountain to provide a jet of drinking water.

---

buglers (noun)

Someone who plays a bugle.

- In class, the teacher used "buglers" to mean someone who plays a bugle.
- The article explained what "buglers" means with a simple example.

---

bungs (noun)

A plug used to close a hole in a barrel or flask.

- The article explained what "bungs" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "bungs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cabochons (noun)

A highly polished gem that is cut convexly but without facets.

- Understanding "cabochons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "cabochons" because he had never seen it before.

---

caesar's agaric (noun)

Widely distributed edible mushroom resembling the fly agaric.

- Understanding "caesar's agaric" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "caesar's agaric" because he had never seen it before.

---

caimans (noun)

A semiaquatic reptile of Central and South America that resembles an alligator but has a more heavily armored belly.

- In class, the teacher used "caimans" to mean a semiaquatic reptile of central and south america....
- He looked up "caimans" because he had never seen it before.

---

capitular (adjective)

Of or pertaining to an ecclesiastical chapter.

- Capitular estates.
- A "capitular" approach may work better in this case.

---

cascara sagrada (noun)

Dried bark of the cascara buckthorn used as a laxative.

- The article explained what "cascara sagrada" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "cascara sagrada" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cathouse (noun)

A building where prostitutes are available.

- Understanding "cathouse" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "cathouse" to mean a building where prostitutes are available.

---

centerfielder (noun)

The person who plays center field.

- He looked up "centerfielder" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "centerfielder" to mean the person who plays center field.

---

charmes (verb)

Attract; cause to be enamored.

- Can you use "charmes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "charmes" until he saw an example.

---

chemoreceptors (noun)

A sensory receptor that responds to chemical stimuli.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chemoreceptors."

- The article explained what "chemoreceptors" means with a simple example.

---

chessman (noun)

Any of 16 white and 16 black pieces used in playing the game of chess.

- He looked up "chessman" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chessman."

---

chocs (noun)

Colloquial British abbreviation.

- A box of chocs.
- In class, the teacher used "chocs" to mean colloquial british abbreviation.

---

cladistic analysis (noun)

A system of biological taxonomy based on the quantitative analysis of comparative data and used to reconstruct cladograms summarizing the (assumed) phylogenetic relations and evolutionary history of groups of organisms.

- Understanding "cladistic analysis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "cladistic analysis" because he had never seen it before.

---

clifford odets (noun)

United States playwright (1906-1963).

- In class, the teacher used "clifford odets" to mean united states playwright (1906-1963).
- The article explained what "clifford odets" means with a simple example.

---

clumsier (adjective)

Difficult to handle or manage especially because of shape.

- Students compared "clumsier" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "clumsier."

---

coati (noun)

Omnivorous mammal of Central America and South America.

- In class, the teacher used "coati" to mean omnivorous mammal of central america and south america.
- They discussed "coati" during the group presentation.

---

cobbler's last (noun)

Holding device shaped like a human foot that is used to fashion or repair shoes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cobbler's last."
- Understanding "cobbler's last" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cockers (noun)

A small breed with wavy silky hair; originally developed in England.

- Understanding "cockers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cockers."

---

colorations (noun)

The timbre of a musical sound.

- The article explained what "colorations" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "colorations."

---

combatted (verb)

Battle or contend against in or as if in a battle.

- He did not know how to use "combatted" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "combatted" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

combusts (verb)

Cause to become violent or angry.

- The coach explained when to use "combusts" and when to wait.
- Can you use "combusts" in a sentence that fits this situation?

comeing (verb)

To be the product or result.

- Learners should practice how to use "comeing" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "comeing" until he saw an example.

commissure (noun)

A bundle of nerve fibers passing from one side to the other of the brain or spinal cord.

- The article explained what "commissure" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "commissure" during the group presentation.

conchology (noun)

The collection and study of mollusc shells.

- The article explained what "conchology" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "conchology."

concreteness (noun)

The quality of being concrete (not abstract).

- Understanding "concreteness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "concreteness" during the group presentation.

conservations (noun)

An occurrence of improvement by virtue of preventing loss or injury or other change.

- In class, the teacher used "conservations" to mean an occurrence of improvement by virtue of....
- He looked up "conservations" because he had never seen it before.

contrabass (noun)

Largest and lowest member of the violin family.

- He looked up "contrabass" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "contrabass" to mean largest and lowest member of the violin family.

coonskin (noun)

A raccoon cap with the tail hanging down the back.

- He looked up "coonskin" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coonskin."

coonskin cap (noun)

A raccoon cap with the tail hanging down the back.

- Understanding "coonskin cap" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "coonskin cap" means with a simple example.

corer (noun)

A device for removing the core from apples.

- They discussed "corer" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "corer."

corkboard (noun)

A heat-insulating building material consisting of cork granules that are made into sheets by compressing and baking.

- The article explained what "corkboard" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "corkboard" to mean a heat-insulating building material consisting of....

cornflowers (noun)

An annual Eurasian plant cultivated in North America having showy heads of blue or purple or pink or white flowers.

- He looked up "cornflowers" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "cornflowers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

countesses (noun)

Female equivalent of a count or earl.

- Understanding "countesses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "countesses" to mean female equivalent of a count or earl.

---

coxed (verb)

Act as the coxswain, in a boat race.

- In everyday English, people use "coxed" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "coxed" in real sentences.

---

crataegus mollis (noun)

American red-fruited hawthorn with stems and leaves densely covered with short woolly hairs.

- The article explained what "crataegus mollis" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "crataegus mollis."

---

criminalises (verb)

Declare illegal; outlaw.

- He did not know how to use "criminalises" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "criminalises" in real sentences.

---

cucurbita maxima (noun)

Any of several winter squash plants producing large greyish-green football-shaped fruit with a rough warty rind.

- They discussed "cucurbita maxima" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "cucurbita maxima" because he had never seen it before.

---

cumulate (verb)

Collect or gather.

- Learners should practice how to use "cumulate" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "cumulate" when talking about this idea.

---

cuticular (adjective)

Of or relating to a cuticle or cuticula.

- It is useful to describe something as "cuticular" when it is of or relating to a cuticle or cuticula.
- Students compared "cuticular" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

dame kiri janette te kanawa (noun)

New Zealand operatic soprano (born in 1944).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dame kiri janette te kanawa."
- The article explained what "dame kiri janette te kanawa" means with a simple example.

---

daubing (noun)

The application of plaster.

- He looked up "daubing" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "daubing."

---

decomposable (adjective)

Capable of being partitioned.

- Would you call this situation "decomposable"? Explain why.
- A "decomposable" approach may work better in this case.

---

decrements (noun)

A process of becoming smaller or shorter.

- He looked up "decrements" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "decrements" during the group presentation.

---

deerstalker (noun)

A tight-fitting hat with visors front and back; formerly worn by hunters.

- He looked up "deerstalker" because he had never seen it before.

- Understanding “deerstalker” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

deltoid tuberosity (noun)

A bump on the outside of the humerus where the deltoid muscle attaches.

- The article explained what “deltoid tuberosity” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “deltoid tuberosity.”

---

demilitarize (verb)

Do away with the military organization and potential of.

- He did not know how to use “demilitarize” until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use “demilitarize” in real sentences.

---

despoil (verb)

Steal goods; take as spoils.

- She tried to use “despoil” carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use “despoil” until he saw an example.

---

dhole (noun)

Fierce wild dog of the forests of central and southeast Asia that hunts in packs.

- Understanding “dhole” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “dhole” because he had never seen it before.

---

dianthus chinensis (noun)

Chinese pink with deeply toothed rose-lilac flowers with a purplish eye; usually raised as an annual.

- In class, the teacher used “dianthus chinensis” to mean chinese pink with deeply toothed rose-lilac flowers....
- Understanding “dianthus chinensis” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dictations (noun)

An authoritative direction or instruction to do something.

- In class, the teacher used “dictations” to mean an authoritative direction or instruction to do....
- The article explained what “dictations” means with a simple example.

---

dimpling (verb)

Produce dimples while smiling.

- Learners should practice how to use “dimpling” in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use “dimpling” and when to wait.

---

disclaiming (verb)

Make a disclaimer about.

- The coach explained when to use “disclaiming” and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use “disclaiming” until he saw an example.

---

disproof (noun)

The act of determining that something is false.

- In class, the teacher used “disproof” to mean the act of determining that something is false.
- Understanding “disproof” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

drambuie (noun)

A sweet Scotch whisky liqueur.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “drambuie.”
- Understanding “drambuie” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dufy (noun)

French painter noted for brightly colored scenes (1877-1953).

- Understanding “dufy” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “dufy” to mean french painter noted for brightly colored scenes....

---

dungaree (noun)

A coarse durable twill-weave cotton fabric.

- The article explained what "dungaree" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "dungaree" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

easters (noun)

A Christian celebration of the Resurrection of Christ; celebrated on the Sunday following the first full moon after the vernal equinox.

- The article explained what "easters" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "easters" to mean a christian celebration of the resurrection of....

---

edibility (noun)

The property of being fit to eat.

- They discussed "edibility" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "edibility."

---

emceeing (verb)

Act as a master of ceremonies.

- Can you use "emceeing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "emceeing" until he saw an example.

---

endonucleases (noun)

A nuclease that cleaves nucleic acids at interior bonds and so produces fragments of various sizes.

- They discussed "endonucleases" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "endonucleases" means with a simple example.

---

eniwetok (noun)

An atoll in the Marshall Islands; site of an amphibious assault in World War II; later used temporarily by the United States to test atomic bombs.

- In class, the teacher used "eniwetok" to mean an atoll in the marshall islands; site of an....
- Understanding "eniwetok" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ensnares (verb)

Catch in or as if in a trap.

- He did not know how to use "ensnares" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "ensnares" in real sentences.

---

enumerators (noun)

Someone who collects census data by visiting individual homes.

- They discussed "enumerators" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "enumerators" means with a simple example.

---

epaulette (noun)

Adornment consisting of an ornamental cloth pad worn on the shoulder.

- The article explained what "epaulette" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "epaulette" to mean adornment consisting of an ornamental cloth pad....

---

euterpe (noun)

A monocotyledonous genus of graceful palm trees in tropical America.

- In class, the teacher used "euterpe" to mean a monocotyledonous genus of graceful palm trees in....
- He looked up "euterpe" because he had never seen it before.

---

evincing (verb)

Give expression to.

- He did not know how to use "evincing" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "evincing" and when to wait.

---

exabytes (noun)

A unit of information equal to 1024 pebibytes or 2^60 bytes.

- They discussed "exabytes" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "exabytes."

---

exogamy (noun)

Marriage to a person belonging to a tribe or group other than your own as required by custom or law.

- In class, the teacher used "exogamy" to mean marriage to a person belonging to a tribe or group....
- He looked up "exogamy" because he had never seen it before.

---

faille (noun)

A ribbed woven fabric of silk or rayon or cotton.

- The article explained what "faille" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "faille" to mean a ribbed woven fabric of silk or rayon or cotton.

---

fannies (noun)

The fleshy part of the human body that you sit on.

- Understanding "fannies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "fannies" to mean the fleshy part of the human body that you sit on.

---

fauve (noun)

A member of a group of French painters who followed fauvism.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fauve."
- He looked up "fauve" because he had never seen it before.

---

fazes (verb)

Disturb the composure of.

- In everyday English, people use "fazes" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "fazes" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

fellate (verb)

Provide sexual gratification through oral stimulation.

- Can you use "fellate" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "fellate" and when to wait.

---

festal (adjective)

Offering fun and gaiety.

- A festive (or festal) occasion.
- The speaker chose "festal" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

flannel mullein (noun)

Tall-stalked very woolly mullein with densely packed yellow flowers; ancient Greeks and Romans dipped the stalks in tallow for funeral torches.

- Understanding "flannel mullein" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "flannel mullein."

---

fluorspar (noun)

A soft mineral (calcium fluoride) that is fluorescent in ultraviolet light; chief source of fluorine.

- In class, the teacher used "fluorspar" to mean a soft mineral (calcium fluoride) that is....
- Understanding "fluorspar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fodders (noun)

Soldiers who are regarded as expendable in the face of artillery fire.

- They discussed "fodders" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "fodders" to mean soldiers who are regarded as expendable in the face....

---

frazzle (noun)

A state of extreme exhaustion.

- He was worn to a frazzle.
- He looked up "frazzle" because he had never seen it before.

frederick james furnivall (noun)

English philologist who first proposed the Oxford English Dictionary (1825-1910).

- In class, the teacher used "frederick james furnivall" to mean english philologist who first proposed the oxford....
- The article explained what "frederick james furnivall" means with a simple example.

fricassee (verb)

Make a fricassee of by cooking.

- Fricassee meats.
- Can you use "fricassee" in a sentence that fits this situation?

furnivall (noun)

English philologist who first proposed the Oxford English Dictionary (1825-1910).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "furnivall."
- They discussed "furnivall" during the group presentation.

garishly (adverb)

In a tastelessly garish manner.

- The temple was garishly decorated with bright plastic flowers.
- Using "garishly" can make your explanation more exact.

genus anomia (noun)

Type genus of the family Anomiidae: saddle oysters.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus anomia."
- The article explained what "genus anomia" means with a simple example.

genus euterpe (noun)

A monocotyledonous genus of graceful palm trees in tropical America.

- Understanding "genus euterpe" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "genus euterpe" to mean a monocotyledonous genus of graceful palm trees in....

genus kalmia (noun)

Erect evergreen shrubs: mountain laurel.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus kalmia."
- Understanding "genus kalmia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

genus lactuca (noun)

An herb with milky juice: lettuce; prickly lettuce.

- The article explained what "genus lactuca" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "genus lactuca" to mean an herb with milky juice: lettuce; prickly lettuce.

genus maranta (noun)

Herbs of tropical America.

- He looked up "genus maranta" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus maranta."

genus morone (noun)

Carnivorous fresh and salt water fishes.

- He looked up "genus morone" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus morone" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

genus neurospora (noun)

Genus of fungi with black perithecia used extensively in genetic research; includes some forms with orange spore masses that cause severe damage in bakeries.

- In class, the teacher used "genus neurospora" to mean genus of fungi with black perithecia used....
- Understanding "genus neurospora" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

genus ostrea (noun)

Type genus of the family Ostreidae.

- Understanding "genus ostrea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "genus ostrea" during the group presentation.

---

genus pecten (noun)

Type genus of the family Pectinidae: sea and bay scallops.

- They discussed "genus pecten" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "genus pecten" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus pisum (noun)

Small genus of variable annual Eurasian vines: peas.

- Understanding "genus pisum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus pisum."

---

genus rhizobium (noun)

The type genus of Rhizobiaceae; usually occur in the root nodules of legumes; can fix atmospheric oxygen.

- The article explained what "genus rhizobium" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "genus rhizobium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus rudbeckia (noun)

North American perennial herbs with showy cone-shaped flower heads.

- He looked up "genus rudbeckia" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "genus rudbeckia" during the group presentation.

---

genus spiraea (noun)

A dicotyledonous genus of the family Rosaceae.

- They discussed "genus spiraea" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus spiraea."

---

geometers (noun)

A mathematician specializing in geometry.

- They discussed "geometers" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "geometers" because he had never seen it before.

---

gestalten (noun)

A configuration or pattern of elements so unified as a whole that it cannot be described merely as a sum of its parts.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gestalten."
- The article explained what "gestalten" means with a simple example.

---

gesticulate (verb)

Show, express or direct through movement.

- She tried to use "gesticulate" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "gesticulate" when talking about this idea.

---

gilds (noun)

A formal association of people with similar interests.

- The article explained what "gilds" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gilds" to mean a formal association of people with similar interests.

---

glutted (adjective)

Exceeding demand.

- A glutted market.
- A "glutted" approach may work better in this case.

---

goalmouth (noun)

(sports) the area immediately in front of the goal.

- He looked up "goalmouth" because he had never seen it before.

- They discussed "goalmouth" during the group presentation.

---

gooses (noun)

A man who is a stupid incompetent fool.

- Understanding "gooses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gooses."

---

graininess (noun)

The quality of being composed of relatively large particles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "graininess."
- He looked up "graininess" because he had never seen it before.

---

gratifyingly (adverb)

In a gratifying manner.

- The performance was at a gratifyingly high level.
- Using "gratifyingly" can make your explanation more exact.

---

greasepaint (noun)

A greasy substance used as makeup by actors.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "greasepaint."
- Understanding "greasepaint" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

grievers (noun)

A person who is feeling grief (as grieving over someone who has died).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "grievers."
- Understanding "grievers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

grumpier (adjective)

Annoyed and irritable.

- A "grumpier" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "grumpier" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

guenevere (noun)

(Arthurian legend) wife of King Arthur; in some versions of the legend she became Lancelot's lover and that led to the end of the Knights of the Round Table.

- In class, the teacher used "guenevere" to mean (arthurian legend) wife of king arthur; in some....
- The article explained what "guenevere" means with a simple example.

---

haemolytic anaemia (noun)

Anemia resulting from destruction of erythrocytes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "haemolytic anaemia."
- They discussed "haemolytic anaemia" during the group presentation.

---

hairpieces (noun)

A covering or bunch of human or artificial hair used for disguise or adornment.

- The article explained what "hairpieces" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "hairpieces" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

halloweens (noun)

The evening before All Saints' Day; often devoted to pranks played by young people.

- In class, the teacher used "halloweens" to mean the evening before all saints' day; often devoted....
- The article explained what "halloweens" means with a simple example.

---

handclap (noun)

A clap of the hands to indicate approval.

- They discussed "handclap" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "handclap" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

haslet (noun)

Heart and liver and other edible viscera especially of hogs; usually chopped and formed into a loaf and braised.

- They discussed "haslet" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "haslet" because he had never seen it before.

---

heaver (noun)

A bar used as a lever (as in twisting rope).

- They discussed "heaver" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "heaver" means with a simple example.

---

heras (noun)

Queen of the Olympian gods in ancient Greek mythology; sister and wife of Zeus remembered for her jealously of the many mortal women Zeus fell in love with; identified with Roman Juno.

- The article explained what "heras" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "heras" to mean queen of the olympian gods in ancient greek....

---

holidayed (verb)

Spend or take a vacation.

- He did not know how to use "holidayed" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "holidayed" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

honegger (noun)

Swiss composer (born in France) who was the founding member of a group in Paris that included Erik Satie and Darius Milhaud and Francis Poulenc and Jean Cocteau (1892-1955).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "honegger."
- The article explained what "honegger" means with a simple example.

---

horseflies (noun)

Large swift fly the female of which sucks blood of various animals.

- Understanding "horseflies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "horseflies."

---

horsewomen (noun)

A woman horseman.

- The article explained what "horsewomen" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "horsewomen" during the group presentation.

---

hostas (noun)

Robust east Asian clump-forming perennial herbs having racemose flowers: plantain lilies; sometimes placed in family Hostaceae.

- He looked up "hostas" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hostas."

---

iapetus (noun)

(Greek mythology) the Titan who was father of Atlas and Epimetheus and Prometheus in ancient mythology.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "iapetus."
- He looked up "iapetus" because he had never seen it before.

---

ignitor (noun)

A device for lighting or igniting fuel or charges or fires.

- Understanding "ignitor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "ignitor" because he had never seen it before.

---

impalpable (adjective)

Incapable of being perceived by the senses especially the sense of touch; - James Jeans.

- An impalpable cloud.
- Impalpable shadows.

---

impresarios (noun)

A sponsor who books and stages public entertainments.

- He looked up "impresarios" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "impresarios."

---

inapt (adjective)

Not elegant or graceful in expression.

- It is useful to describe something as "inapt" when it is not elegant or graceful in expression.
- Would you call this situation "inapt"? Explain why.

---

incautious (adjective)

Carelessly failing to exercise proper caution.

- An incautious step sent her headlong down the stairs.
- It is useful to describe something as "incautious" when it is carelessly failing to exercise proper caution.

---

incommensurable (adjective)

Impossible to measure or compare in value or size or excellence.

- Would you call this situation "incommensurable"? Explain why.
- Students compared "incommensurable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

inflowing (adjective)

Flowing inward.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "inflowing."
- Students compared "inflowing" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

insensitively (adverb)

In an insensitive manner.

- The police officer questioned the woman rather insensitively about the attack.
- She spoke "insensitively," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

interpenetration (noun)

The action of penetrating between or among.

- They discussed "interpenetration" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "interpenetration."

---

intervenors (noun)

(law) a party who interposes in a pending proceeding.

- The article explained what "intervenors" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "intervenors" during the group presentation.

---

ipse dixit (noun)

An unsupported dogmatic assertion.

- The article explained what "ipse dixit" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "ipse dixit" to mean an unsupported dogmatic assertion.

---

islamized (verb)

Cause to conform to Islamic law.

- The Mughals Islamized much of Northern India in the 16th century.
- She tried to use "islamized" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

isobutyl nitrite (noun)

A colorless pungent liquid sometimes used as a stimulant drug by drug abusers.

- He looked up "isobutyl nitrite" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isobutyl nitrite."

---

ixl (adjective)

Being nine more than thirty.

- The speaker chose "ixl" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "ixl"? Explain why.

jakob boehme (noun)

German mystic and theosophist who founded modern theosophy; influenced George Fox (1575-1624).

- They discussed "jakob boehme" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "jakob boehme" means with a simple example.

jansenism (noun)

The Roman Catholic doctrine of Cornelis Jansen and his disciples; salvation is limited to those who are subject to supernatural determinism and the rest are assigned to perdition.

- Understanding "jansenism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "jansenism" means with a simple example.

japanese medlar (noun)

Evergreen tree of warm regions having fuzzy yellow olive-sized fruit with a large free stone; native to China and Japan.

- In class, the teacher used "japanese medlar" to mean evergreen tree of warm regions having fuzzy yellow....
- Understanding "japanese medlar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

jilt (noun)

A woman who jilts a lover.

- The article explained what "jilt" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "jilt" during the group presentation.

joyed (verb)

Feel happiness or joy.

- He did not know how to use "joyed" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "joyed" in a sentence that fits this situation?

junking (verb)

Dispose of (something useless or old).

- She tried to use "junking" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "junking" when talking about this idea.

kalka (noun)

The Mongol people living in the central and eastern parts of Outer Mongolia.

- In class, the teacher used "kalka" to mean the mongol people living in the central and eastern....
- The article explained what "kalka" means with a simple example.

kalmia (noun)

Any plant of the genus Kalmia.

- They discussed "kalmia" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "kalmia" to mean any plant of the genus kalmia.

kamas (noun)

Hindu god of love and erotic desire; opposite of Mara.

- The article explained what "kamas" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "kamas" during the group presentation.

karats (noun)

The unit of measurement for the proportion of gold in an alloy; 18-karat gold is 75% gold; 24-karat gold is pure gold.

- He looked up "karats" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "karats" during the group presentation.

kenning (noun)

Conventional metaphoric name for something, used especially in Old English and Old Norse poetry.

- Understanding "kenning" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kenning."

koruna (noun)

The basic unit of money in Czech Republic.

- Understanding "koruna" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "koruna."

---

krishnas (noun)

8th and most important avatar of Vishnu; incarnated as a handsome young man playing a flute.

- The article explained what "krishnas" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "krishnas."

---

lactuca (noun)

An herb with milky juice: lettuce; prickly lettuce.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lactuca."
- He looked up "lactuca" because he had never seen it before.

---

lahar (noun)

An avalanche of volcanic water and mud down the slopes of a volcano.

- He looked up "lahar" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lahar."

---

lastingly (adverb)

In an enduring or permanent manner.

- The narrator describes the scene "lastingly" in the final chapter.
- He answered "lastingly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

lathyrus niger (noun)

Perennial of Europe and North Africa; foliage turns black in drying.

- They discussed "lathyrus niger" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "lathyrus niger" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lawrences (noun)

A town in northeastern Kansas on the Kansas River; scene of raids by John Brown in 1856.

- He looked up "lawrences" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "lawrences" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

leches (noun)

Man with strong sexual desires.

- He looked up "leches" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "leches."

---

lemmons (noun)

United States film actor (1925-2001).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lemmons."
- He looked up "lemmons" because he had never seen it before.

---

lems (noun)

A spacecraft that carries astronauts from the command module to the surface of the moon and back.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lems."
- He looked up "lems" because he had never seen it before.

---

lightings (noun)

The craft of providing artificial light.

- The article explained what "lightings" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lightings" to mean the craft of providing artificial light.

---

lobule (noun)

A small lobe or subdivision of a lobe.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lobule."

- He looked up “lobule” because he had never seen it before.

---

lunger (noun)

A person with pulmonary tuberculosis.

- They discussed “lunger” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “lunger” to mean a person with pulmonary tuberculosis.

---

lustfully (adverb)

In a lustful manner.

- He looked at the young woman lustfully.
- Place “lustfully” carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

macgregors (noun)

Scottish clan leader and outlaw who was the subject of a 1817 novel by Sir Walter Scott (1671-1734).

- He looked up “macgregors” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “macgregors” during the group presentation.

---

mafa (noun)

A Chadic language spoken south of Lake Chad.

- The article explained what “mafa” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “mafa” during the group presentation.

---

magnetohydrodynamics (noun)

The study of the interaction of magnetic fields and electrically conducting fluids (as plasma or molten metal).

- They discussed “magnetohydrodynamics” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “magnetohydrodynamics” to mean the study of the interaction of magnetic fields and....

---

maisonettes (noun)

A self-contained apartment (usually on two floors) in a larger house and with its own entrance from the outside.

- Understanding “maisonettes” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “maisonettes.”

---

maked (verb)

Create or manufacture a man-made product.

- The coach explained when to use “maked” and when to wait.
- She tried to use “maked” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

makos (noun)

Powerful mackerel shark of the Atlantic and Pacific.

- They discussed “makos” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “makos.”

---

maranta (noun)

Any of numerous herbs of the genus Maranta having tuberous starchy roots and large sheathing leaves.

- Understanding “maranta” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “maranta” to mean any of numerous herbs of the genus maranta having....

---

maskers (noun)

A participant in a masquerade.

- Understanding “maskers” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “maskers” means with a simple example.

---

medlar (noun)

A South African globular fruit with brown leathery skin and pithy flesh having a sweet-acid taste.

- They discussed “medlar” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “medlar.”

---

medlar tree (noun)

Small deciduous Eurasian tree cultivated for its fruit that resemble crab apples.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "medlar tree."
- He looked up "medlar tree" because he had never seen it before.

---

mestiza (noun)

A woman of mixed racial ancestry (especially mixed European and Native American ancestry).

- The article explained what "mestiza" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "mestiza" during the group presentation.

---

misgiving (noun)

Uneasiness about the fitness of an action.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "misgiving."
- He looked up "misgiving" because he had never seen it before.

---

monatomic (adjective)

Of or relating to an element consisting of a single atom.

- Helium and argon are monatomic gases.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "monatomic."

---

monolinguals (noun)

A person who knows only one language.

- Understanding "monolinguals" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "monolinguals" because he had never seen it before.

---

monopolizes (verb)

Have or exploit a monopoly of.

- He monopolizes the laser printer.
- In everyday English, people use "monopolizes" when talking about this idea.

---

morone (noun)

Carnivorous fresh and salt water fishes.

- Understanding "morone" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "morone."

---

moth mullein (noun)

European mullein with smooth leaves and large yellow or purplish flowers; naturalized as a weed in North America.

- In class, the teacher used "moth mullein" to mean european mullein with smooth leaves and large....
- Understanding "moth mullein" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mukalla (noun)

A port in southern Yemen on the Gulf of Aden to the east of Aden.

- They discussed "mukalla" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "mukalla" to mean a port in southern yemen on the gulf of aden to the....

---

mussy (adjective)

Dirty and disorderly.

- A mussy fussy bedroom.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "mussy."

---

myometrium (noun)

The smooth muscle forming the wall of the uterus.

- Understanding "myometrium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "myometrium" during the group presentation.

---

myrmidon (noun)

A follower who carries out orders without question.

- The article explained what "myrmidon" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "myrmidon" to mean a follower who carries out orders without question.

---

mythologizing (verb)

Construct a myth.

- Learners should practice how to use "mythologizing" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "mythologizing" until he saw an example.

---

neap (noun)

A less than average tide occurring at the first and third quarters of the moon.

- In class, the teacher used "neap" to mean a less than average tide occurring at the first and....
- Understanding "neap" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

neap tide (noun)

A less than average tide occurring at the first and third quarters of the moon.

- He looked up "neap tide" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "neap tide" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

neighs (noun)

The characteristic sounds made by a horse.

- Understanding "neighs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "neighs" means with a simple example.

---

neuroblasts (noun)

A cell from which a nerve cell develops.

- Understanding "neuroblasts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "neuroblasts" during the group presentation.

---

neurospora (noun)

Genus of fungi with black perithecia used extensively in genetic research; includes some forms with orange spore masses that cause severe damage in bakeries.

- He looked up "neurospora" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "neurospora" to mean genus of fungi with black perithecia used....

---

ninurta (noun)

A solar deity; firstborn of Bel and consort was Gula; god of war and the chase and agriculture; sometimes identified with biblical Nimrod.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ninurta."
- They discussed "ninurta" during the group presentation.

---

noctilucent (adjective)

Shining or glowing by night.

- The noctilucent eyes of a cat.
- Students compared "noctilucent" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

nonporous (adjective)

Not porous; especially not having vessels that appear as pores.

- Nonporous wood.
- The speaker chose "nonporous" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

noonan's syndrome (noun)

Syndrome seen only in males; marked by short stature and lowset ears and subnormal fertility.

- In class, the teacher used "noonan's syndrome" to mean syndrome seen only in males; marked by short....
- The article explained what "noonan's syndrome" means with a simple example.

---

northern phalarope (noun)

Breeds in Arctic regions of Old and New Worlds; large flocks often seen far out at sea.

- Understanding "northern phalarope" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "northern phalarope" means with a simple example.

novaya zemlya (noun)

Two islands in the Arctic Ocean belonging to Russia; site of a test center for nuclear warheads.

- In class, the teacher used "novaya zemlya" to mean two islands in the arctic ocean belonging to....
- The article explained what "novaya zemlya" means with a simple example.

numerological (adjective)

Of or relating to numerology.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "numerological."
- Students compared "numerological" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

nyssa sylvatica (noun)

Columnar tree of eastern North America having horizontal limbs and small leaves that emerge late in spring and have brilliant color in early fall.

- In class, the teacher used "nyssa sylvatica" to mean columnar tree of eastern north america having....
- The article explained what "nyssa sylvatica" means with a simple example.

obfuscates (verb)

Make obscure or unclear.

- In everyday English, people use "obfuscates" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "obfuscates" in real sentences.

odesa (noun)

A port city of south central Ukraine on an arm of the Black Sea.

- Understanding "odesa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "odesa" because he had never seen it before.

odets (noun)

United States playwright (1906-1963).

- The article explained what "odets" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "odets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

opsin (noun)

Retinal protein formed by the action of light on rhodopsin.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "opsin."
- He looked up "opsin" because he had never seen it before.

ostrea (noun)

Type genus of the family Ostreidae.

- In class, the teacher used "ostrea" to mean type genus of the family ostreidae.
- The article explained what "ostrea" means with a simple example.

outcalls (verb)

Make a higher bid than (the previous bid or player); in a card game.

- Can you use "outcalls" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "outcalls" carefully so everyone would understand.

outturn (noun)

What is produced in a given time period.

- The article explained what "outturn" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "outturn" to mean what is produced in a given time period.

paines (verb)

Cause emotional anguish or make miserable.

- The coach explained when to use "paines" and when to wait.
- Can you use "paines" in a sentence that fits this situation?

paintable (adjective)

Lending itself to being painted.

- A highly paintable landscape.
- Made of sturdy eminently paintable wood.

---

parvenu (noun)

A person who has suddenly risen to a higher economic status but has not gained social acceptance of others in that class.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "parvenu."
- They discussed "parvenu" during the group presentation.

---

pastorals (noun)

A letter from a pastor to the congregation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pastorals."
- He looked up "pastorals" because he had never seen it before.

---

pegmatites (noun)

A form of igneous rock consisting of extremely coarse granite resulting from the crystallization of magma rich in rare elements.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pegmatites."
- He looked up "pegmatites" because he had never seen it before.

---

pennon (noun)

A long flag; often tapering.

- In class, the teacher used "pennon" to mean a long flag; often tapering.
- The article explained what "pennon" means with a simple example.

---

pentagrams (noun)

A star with 5 points; formed by 5 straight lines between the vertices of a pentagon and enclosing another pentagon.

- In class, the teacher used "pentagrams" to mean a star with 5 points; formed by 5 straight lines....
- The article explained what "pentagrams" means with a simple example.

---

pentothal (noun)

Barbiturate that is a hygroscopic powder (trade name Pentothal) that is a strong barbiturate that acts rapidly; induces a relaxed state when injected as a general anesthetic.

- The article explained what "pentothal" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "pentothal" during the group presentation.

---

perianal (adjective)

Around the anus.

- Students compared "perianal" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "perianal"? Explain why.

---

permanents (noun)

A series of waves in the hair made by applying heat and chemicals.

- They discussed "permanents" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "permanents" means with a simple example.

---

personnels (noun)

The department responsible for hiring and training and placing employees and for setting policies for personnel management.

- They discussed "personnels" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "personnels" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

petrification (noun)

The process of turning some plant material into stone by infiltration with water carrying mineral particles without changing the original shape.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "petrification."
- He looked up "petrification" because he had never seen it before.

---

phalarope (noun)

Small sandpiper-like shorebird having lobate toes and being good swimmers; breed in the Arctic and winter in the tropics.

- Understanding "phalarope" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "phalarope."

---

phaseolus caracalla (noun)

Perennial tropical American vine cultivated for its racemes of showy yellow and purple flowers having the corolla keel coiled like a snail shell; sometimes placed in genus Phaseolus.

- Understanding "phaseolus caracalla" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "phaseolus caracalla" means with a simple example.

---

phragmites communis (noun)

Tall North American reed having relative wide leaves and large plumelike panicles; widely distributed in moist areas; used for mats, screens and arrow shafts.

- The article explained what "phragmites communis" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "phragmites communis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pianola (noun)

A mechanically operated piano that uses a roll of perforated paper to activate the keys.

- Understanding "pianola" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "pianola" to mean a mechanically operated piano that uses a roll of....

---

pilau (noun)

Rice cooked in well-seasoned broth with onions or celery and usually poultry or game or shellfish and sometimes tomatoes.

- They discussed "pilau" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pilau."

---

pisum (noun)

Small genus of variable annual Eurasian vines: peas.

- In class, the teacher used "pisum" to mean small genus of variable annual eurasian vines: peas.
- They discussed "pisum" during the group presentation.

---

polysemy (noun)

The ambiguity of an individual word or phrase that can be used (in different contexts) to express two or more different meanings.

- He looked up "polysemy" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polysemy."

---

popcorns (noun)

Corn having small ears and kernels that burst when exposed to dry heat.

- Understanding "popcorns" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "popcorns" because he had never seen it before.

---

popularizer (noun)

Someone who makes attractive to the general public.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "popularizer."
- He looked up "popularizer" because he had never seen it before.

---

postdated (verb)

Establish something as being later relative to something else.

- She tried to use "postdated" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "postdated" when talking about this idea.

---

praetorium (noun)

The tent of an ancient Roman general.

- He looked up "praetorium" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "praetorium" during the group presentation.

---

prejudgment (noun)

A judgment reached before the evidence is available.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prejudgment."
- They discussed "prejudgment" during the group presentation.

---

presciently (adverb)

With foresight.

- More presciently than they superiors, these workers grasped the economic situation.
- She spoke "presciently," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

prevaricate (verb)

Be deliberately ambiguous or unclear in order to mislead or withhold information.

- The coach explained when to use "prevaricate" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "prevaricate" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

primatology (noun)

The branch of zoology that studies primates.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "primatology."
- The article explained what "primatology" means with a simple example.

---

procaine (noun)

A white crystalline powder (trade name Ethocaine) administered near nerves as a local anesthetic in dentistry and medicine.

- The article explained what "procaine" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "procaine" to mean a white crystalline powder (trade name ethocaine)....

---

puffballs (noun)

Any of various fungi of the genus Scleroderma having hard-skinned subterranean fruiting bodies resembling truffles.

- They discussed "puffballs" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "puffballs."

---

quirt (noun)

Whip with a leather thong at the end.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "quirt."
- He looked up "quirt" because he had never seen it before.

---

quizmaster (noun)

The host or chairman of a radio or tv quiz show or panel game.

- They discussed "quizmaster" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "quizmaster."

---

raggedly (adverb)

In a ragged uneven manner.

- I took the cigarette he offered, drawing at it raggedly.
- A stone wall trails raggedly through the woods.

---

red phalarope (noun)

Phalarope of northern oceans and lakes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "red phalarope."
- He looked up "red phalarope" because he had never seen it before.

---

regicides (noun)

The act of killing a king.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "regicides."
- He looked up "regicides" because he had never seen it before.

---

regularise (verb)

Bring into conformity with rules or principles or usage; impose regulations.

- Can you use "regularise" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "regularise" and when to wait.

---

relocatable program (noun)

A program that can be located in different parts of memory at different times.

- He looked up “relocatable program” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “relocatable program” to mean a program that can be located in different parts of....

---

renovates (verb)

Restore to a previous or better condition.

- He did not know how to use “renovates” until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use “renovates” in real sentences.

---

rerunning (verb)

Rerun a performance of a play, for example.

- Learners should practice how to use “rerunning” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “rerunning” when talking about this idea.

---

res judicata (noun)

A matter already settled in court; cannot be raised again.

- They discussed “res judicata” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “res judicata.”

---

reseeding (verb)

Maintain by seeding without human intervention.

- She tried to use “reseeding” carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use “reseeding” in real sentences.

---

revaluations (noun)

A new appraisal or evaluation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “revaluations.”
- They discussed “revaluations” during the group presentation.

---

rhizobium (noun)

The type genus of Rhizobiaceae; usually occur in the root nodules of legumes; can fix atmospheric oxygen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “rhizobium.”
- He looked up “rhizobium” because he had never seen it before.

---

rootlets (noun)

Small root or division of a root.

- He looked up “rootlets” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “rootlets” to mean small root or division of a root.

---

rosses (noun)

A politician in Wyoming who was the first woman governor in the United States (1876-1977).

- They discussed “rosses” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “rosses” because he had never seen it before.

---

rubus ursinus (noun)

American blackberry with oblong black fruit.

- In class, the teacher used “rubus ursinus” to mean american blackberry with oblong black fruit.
- The article explained what “rubus ursinus” means with a simple example.

---

rudbeckia (noun)

North American perennial herbs with showy cone-shaped flower heads.

- Understanding “rudbeckia” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “rudbeckia” means with a simple example.

---

ruggedized (verb)

Produce in a version designed to withstand rough usage.

- Detroit ruggedized the family car.
- The coach explained when to use “ruggedized” and when to wait.

rutabagas (noun)

The large yellow root of a rutabaga plant used as food.

- In class, the teacher used "rutabagas" to mean the large yellow root of a rutabaga plant used as food.
- The article explained what "rutabagas" means with a simple example.

sailplane (noun)

Aircraft supported only by the dynamic action of air against its surfaces.

- They discussed "sailplane" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "sailplane" to mean aircraft supported only by the dynamic action of....

salines (noun)

An isotonic solution of sodium chloride and distilled water.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "salines."
- Understanding "salines" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

salukis (noun)

Old breed of tall swift keen-eyed hunting dogs resembling greyhounds; from Egypt and southwestern Asia.

- Understanding "salukis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "salukis" because he had never seen it before.

saponin (noun)

Any of various plant glucosides that form soapy lathers when mixed and agitated with water; used in detergents and foaming agents and emulsifiers.

- He looked up "saponin" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "saponin."

scarified (verb)

Puncture and scar (the skin), as for purposes or tribal identification or rituals.

- She tried to use "scarified" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "scarified" when talking about this idea.

sempiternal (adjective)

Having no known beginning and presumably no end.

- Sempiternal truth.
- It is useful to describe something as "sempiternal" when it is having no known beginning and presumably no end.

settlor (noun)

(law) a person who creates a trust by giving real or personal property in trust to a trustee for the benefit of a beneficiary; a person who gives such property is said to settle it on the trustee.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "settlor."
- Understanding "settlor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

sexcapades (noun)

A sexual escapade; an illicit affair.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sexcapades."
- The article explained what "sexcapades" means with a simple example.

shadowbox (verb)

Go through boxing motions without an opponent.

- In everyday English, people use "shadowbox" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "shadowbox" until he saw an example.

shahn (noun)

United States artist whose work reflected social and political themes (1898-1969).

- Understanding "shahn" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "shahn" to mean united states artist whose work reflected social....

siskins (noun)

Small yellow-and-black Eurasian finch with a sharp beak.

- He looked up "siskins" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "siskins" to mean small yellow-and-black eurasian finch with a sharp beak.

---

smoothy (noun)

Someone with an assured and ingratiating manner.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "smoothy."
- The article explained what "smoothy" means with a simple example.

---

socotra begonia (noun)

Semi-tuberous begonia having peltate leaves and rose-pink flowers; Yemen.

- Understanding "socotra begonia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "socotra begonia" to mean semi-tuberous begonia having peltate leaves and....

---

spicks (noun)

(ethnic slur) offensive term for persons of Latin American descent.

- They discussed "spicks" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "spicks" to mean (ethnic slur) offensive term for persons of latin....

---

spiraea (noun)

A dicotyledonous genus of the family Rosaceae.

- The article explained what "spiraea" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "spiraea" to mean a dicotyledonous genus of the family rosaceae.

---

spoonbills (noun)

Wading birds having a long flat bill with a tip like a spoon.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "spoonbills."
- He looked up "spoonbills" because he had never seen it before.

---

sporangium (noun)

Organ containing or producing spores.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sporangium."
- He looked up "sporangium" because he had never seen it before.

---

sportscasters (noun)

An announcer who reads sports news or describes sporting events.

- In class, the teacher used "sportscasters" to mean an announcer who reads sports news or describes....
- Understanding "sportscasters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sprats (noun)

Small fatty European fish; usually smoked or canned like sardines.

- The article explained what "sprats" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "sprats" to mean small fatty european fish; usually smoked or canned....

---

squabbled (verb)

Argue over petty things.

- He did not know how to use "squabbled" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "squabbled" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

stabroek (noun)

Port city and the capital and largest city of Guyana.

- The city was called Stabroek by the Dutch but was renamed Georgetown by the British in 1812.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stabroek."

---

staffa (noun)

An island in western Scotland in the Inner Hebrides to the west of Mull; site of Fingal's Cave.

- They discussed "staffa" during the group presentation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "staffa."

---

standees (noun)

A lifesize cardboard cutout (usually of a celebrity).

- The allowed number of standees is posted.
- The article explained what "standees" means with a simple example.

---

stigmatising (verb)

To accuse or condemn or openly or formally or brand as disgraceful.

- In everyday English, people use "stigmatising" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "stigmatising" in real sentences.

---

stockinged (adjective)

Wearing stockings.

- Walks about in his stockinged feet.
- A "stockinged" approach may work better in this case.

---

streetwalker (noun)

A prostitute who attracts customers by walking the streets.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "streetwalker."
- They discussed "streetwalker" during the group presentation.

---

sublets (verb)

Lease or rent all or part of (a leased or rented property) to another person.

- She tried to use "sublets" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "sublets" in real sentences.

---

subsidises (verb)

Support through subsidies.

- Learners should practice how to use "subsidises" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "subsidises" when talking about this idea.

---

superimposes (verb)

Place on top of.

- Can you use "superimposes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "superimposes" when talking about this idea.

---

symbiotically (adverb)

In a symbiotic manner.

- Using "symbiotically" can make your explanation more exact.
- She spoke "symbiotically," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

tannenberg (noun)

A battle in World War I (1914); decisive German victory over the Russians.

- He looked up "tannenberg" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tannenberg."

---

tantalite (noun)

A mineral consisting of tantalum oxide of iron and manganese that occurs with niobite or in coarse granite; an ore of tantalum.

- In class, the teacher used "tantalite" to mean a mineral consisting of tantalum oxide of iron and....
- The article explained what "tantalite" means with a simple example.

---

tarheel (noun)

A native or resident of North Carolina.

- The article explained what "tarheel" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tarheel" to mean a native or resident of north carolina.

---

tarsier (noun)

Nocturnal arboreal primate of Indonesia and the Philippines having huge eyes and digits ending in pads to facilitate climbing; the only primate that spurns all plant material as food living entirely on insects and small vertebrates.

- In class, the teacher used "tarsier" to mean nocturnal arboreal primate of indonesia and the....
- He looked up "tarsier" because he had never seen it before.

---

technobabble (noun)

Technical jargon from computing and other high-tech subjects.

- They discussed "technobabble" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "technobabble" because he had never seen it before.

---

tenpenny nail (noun)

A nail 3 inches long.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tenpenny nail."
- He looked up "tenpenny nail" because he had never seen it before.

---

teras (noun)

(medicine) a grossly malformed and usually nonviable fetus.

- The article explained what "teras" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "teras" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

thomas a kempis (noun)

German ecclesiastic (1380-1471).

- He looked up "thomas a kempis" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "thomas a kempis" to mean german ecclesiastic (1380-1471).

---

thomas wentworth storrow higginson (noun)

United States writer and soldier who led the first Black regiment in the Union Army (1823-1911).

- Understanding "thomas wentworth storrow higginson" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "thomas wentworth storrow higginson" because he had never seen it before.

---

tightwad (noun)

A miserly person.

- Understanding "tightwad" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tightwad" to mean a miserly person.

---

tilefish (noun)

Yellow-spotted violet food fish of warm deep waters.

- He looked up "tilefish" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "tilefish" during the group presentation.

---

tinea capitis (noun)

Fungal infection of the scalp characterized by bald patches.

- Understanding "tinea capitis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tinea capitis" to mean fungal infection of the scalp characterized by bald....

---

tmv (noun)

The widely studied plant virus that causes tobacco mosaic; it was the first virus discovered (1892).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tmv."
- He looked up "tmv" because he had never seen it before.

---

totalitarians (noun)

An adherent of totalitarian principles or totalitarian government.

- The article explained what "totalitarians" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "totalitarians."

---

totters (verb)

Move without being stable, as if threatening to fall.

- In everyday English, people use “totters” when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use “totters” in real sentences.

---

tranquilize (verb)

Cause to be calm or quiet as by administering a sedative to.

- She tried to use “tranquilize” carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use “tranquilize” when talking about this idea.

---

transcendentalists (noun)

Advocate of transcendentalism.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “transcendentalists.”
- He looked up “transcendentalists” because he had never seen it before.

---

transfixing (verb)

To render motionless, as with a fixed stare or by arousing terror or awe.

- In everyday English, people use “transfixing” when talking about this idea.
- Can you use “transfixing” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

transplantations (noun)

An operation moving an organ from one organism (the donor) to another (the recipient).

- The article explained what “transplantations” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “transplantations” to mean an operation moving an organ from one organism (the....

---

tricorn (noun)

Cocked hat with the brim turned up to form three points.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “tricorn.”
- They discussed “tricorn” during the group presentation.

---

trivialising (verb)

Make trivial or insignificant.

- He did not know how to use “trivialising” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “trivialising” and when to wait.

---

trochaic (adjective)

Of or consisting of trochees.

- Trochaic dactyl.
- A “trochaic” approach may work better in this case.

---

tuatara (noun)

Only extant member of the order Rhynchocephalia of large spiny lizard-like diapsid reptiles of coastal islands off New Zealand.

- He looked up “tuatara” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “tuatara” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tulu (noun)

A member of a Dravidian people living on the southwestern coast of India.

- Understanding “tulu” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “tulu” means with a simple example.

---

tundras (noun)

A vast treeless plain in the Arctic regions where the subsoil is permanently frozen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “tundras.”
- They discussed “tundras” during the group presentation.

---

tutorship (noun)

Teaching pupils individually (usually by a tutor hired privately).

- Understanding “tutorship” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “tutorship” to mean teaching pupils individually (usually by a tutor....

twitterers (noun)

A bird that twitters.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "twitterers."
- The article explained what "twitterers" means with a simple example.

ululating (verb)

Emit long loud cries.

- In everyday English, people use "ululating" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "ululating" in real sentences.

unbolt (verb)

Undo the bolt of.

- Unbolt the door.
- Learners should practice how to use "unbolt" in real sentences.

uncompahgre peak (noun)

The highest peak in the San Juan Mountains of southwestern Colorado (14,309 feet high).

- In class, the teacher used "uncompahgre peak" to mean the highest peak in the san juan mountains of....
- The article explained what "uncompahgre peak" means with a simple example.

undescended testis (noun)

A testis that fails to move into the scrotum as the male fetus develops.

- Undescended testicles have an increased risk for cancer.
- In class, the teacher used "undescended testis" to mean a testis that fails to move into the scrotum as the....

unsealing (verb)

Break the seal of.

- Learners should practice how to use "unsealing" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "unsealing" when talking about this idea.

unseeing (adjective)

Not consciously observing.

- Looked through him with blank unseeing eyes.
- Students compared "unseeing" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

unutterable (adjective)

Defying expression or description.

- Unutterable contempt.
- Unutterable consonant clusters.

urokinase (noun)

Protease produced in the kidney that converts plasminogen to plasmin and so initiates fibrinolysis.

- They discussed "urokinase" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "urokinase" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

valances (noun)

A decorative framework to conceal curtain fixtures at the top of a window casing.

- They discussed "valances" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "valances" means with a simple example.

valis (noun)

(Norse mythology) one of the Aesir and avenger of Balder; son of Odin.

- The article explained what "valis" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "valis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

vanadium pentoxide (noun)

Any of various oxyacids of vanadium; known mostly in the form of its salts.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "vanadium pentoxide."
- Understanding "vanadium pentoxide" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vaquita (noun)

A short porpoise that lives in the Gulf of California; an endangered species.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "vaquita."
- He looked up "vaquita" because he had never seen it before.

---

vegetate (verb)

Grow or spread abnormally.

- Warts and polyps can vegetate if not removed.
- They vegetated the hills behind their house.

---

venus's curse (noun)

A communicable infection transmitted by sexual intercourse or genital contact.

- The article explained what "venus's curse" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "venus's curse" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

venus's flower basket (noun)

A deep-water marine sponge having a cylindrical skeleton of intricate glassy latticework; found in the waters of the East Indies and the eastern coast of Asia.

- He looked up "venus's flower basket" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "venus's flower basket."

---

venus's shoe (noun)

Any of various orchids of the genus Paphiopedilum having slender flower stalks bearing 1 to several waxy flowers with pouchlike lips.

- Understanding "venus's shoe" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "venus's shoe" means with a simple example.

---

viola rostrata (noun)

Violet of eastern North America having lilac-purple flowers with a long slender spur.

- They discussed "viola rostrata" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "viola rostrata" because he had never seen it before.

---

vitalizing (adjective)

Giving or having the power to give life and spirit; - Louis Bromfield.

- The vitalizing rays of the warming sun.
- The speaker chose "vitalizing" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

wigging (noun)

British slang for a scolding.

- He looked up "wigging" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wigging."

---

wild medlar (noun)

Small deciduous tree of southern Africa having edible fruit.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wild medlar."
- He looked up "wild medlar" because he had never seen it before.

---

wild medlar tree (noun)

Small deciduous tree of southern Africa having edible fruit.

- The article explained what "wild medlar tree" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wild medlar tree."

---

winepress (noun)

A press that is used to extract the juice from grapes.

- Understanding "winepress" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- They discussed "winepress" during the group presentation.

---

wonted (adjective)

Commonly used or practiced; usual.

- With her wonted candor.
- The speaker chose "wonted" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

woolly mullein (noun)

Tall-stalked very woolly mullein with densely packed yellow flowers; ancient Greeks and Romans dipped the stalks in tallow for funeral torches.

- He looked up "woolly mullein" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "woolly mullein."

---

worts (noun)

Usually used in combination: 'liverwort'; 'milkwort'; 'whorlywort'.

- They discussed "worts" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "worts" means with a simple example.

---

wrongfulness (noun)

That which is contrary to the principles of justice or law.

- They discussed "wrongfulness" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "wrongfulness" means with a simple example.

---

yeshivas (noun)

An academy for the advanced study of Jewish texts (primarily the Talmud).

- In class, the teacher used "yeshivas" to mean an academy for the advanced study of jewish texts....
- The article explained what "yeshivas" means with a simple example.

---

abies concolor (noun)

Medium to tall fir of central to western United States having a narrow erect crown and soft wood.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "abies concolor."
- Understanding "abies concolor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

abjection (noun)

A low or downcast state; - H.L.Menchken.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "abjection."
- He looked up "abjection" because he had never seen it before.

---

abms (noun)

A defensive missile designed to shoot down incoming intercontinental ballistic missiles.

- The Strategic Arms Limitation Talks placed limits on the deployment of ABMs.
- They discussed "abms" during the group presentation.

---

addressees (noun)

One to whom something is addressed.

- The article explained what "addressees" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "addressees" to mean one to whom something is addressed.

---

adenomatous polyp (noun)

A polyp that consists of benign neoplastic tissue derived from glandular epithelium.

- Adenomatous polyps are visible protrusions that can develop on the mucosal surface of the colon or rectum.
- He looked up "adenomatous polyp" because he had never seen it before.

---

aedes albopictus (noun)

Striped native of Japan thriving in southwestern and midwestern United States and spreading to the Caribbean; potential carrier of serious diseases.

- He looked up "aedes albopictus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "aedes albopictus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

agrostis alba (noun)

Slender European grass of shady places; grown also in northeastern America and temperate Asia.

- In class, the teacher used "agrostis alba" to mean slender european grass of shady places; grown also....
- They discussed "agrostis alba" during the group presentation.

---

al sunna wal jamma (noun)

A resurgent Islamic fundamentalist organization based in Nigeria that is thought to be planning terrorist attacks.

- In class, the teacher used "al sunna wal jamma" to mean a resurgent islamic fundamentalist organization....
- He looked up "al sunna wal jamma" because he had never seen it before.

---

albuminuria (noun)

The presence of excessive protein (chiefly albumin but also globulin) in the urine; usually a symptom of kidney disorder.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "albuminuria."
- The article explained what "albuminuria" means with a simple example.

---

alcyone (noun)

(Greek mythology) a woman who was turned into a kingfisher.

- The article explained what "alcyone" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "alcyone."

---

allures (noun)

The power to entice or attract through personal charm.

- He looked up "allures" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "allures."

---

aminos (noun)

The radical -NH2.

- They discussed "aminos" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "aminos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

amnestied (verb)

Grant a pardon to (a group of people).

- Learners should practice how to use "amnestied" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "amnestied" when talking about this idea.

---

anastomoses (verb)

Cause to join or open into each other by anastomosis.

- In everyday English, people use "anastomoses" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "anastomoses" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

anathematized (verb)

Curse or declare to be evil or anathema or threaten with divine punishment.

- Can you use "anathematized" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "anathematized" and when to wait.

---

animality (noun)

The physical (or animal) side of a person as opposed to the spirit or intellect.

- Understanding "animality" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "animality" means with a simple example.

---

annuitant (noun)

The recipient of an annuity.

- In class, the teacher used "annuitant" to mean the recipient of an annuity.
- They discussed "annuitant" during the group presentation.

---

antiperspirants (noun)

An astringent substance applied to the skin to reduce perspiration.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “antiperspirants.”
- They discussed “antiperspirants” during the group presentation.

---

antiprotons (noun)

An unstable negatively charged proton; the antiparticle of a proton.

- They discussed “antiprotons” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “antiprotons” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

aphrodisias (noun)

A desire for heterosexual intimacy.

- They discussed “aphrodisias” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “aphrodisias” means with a simple example.

---

appositive (adjective)

Relating to or being in apposition.

- An appositive noun.
- It is useful to describe something as “appositive” when it is relating to or being in apposition.

---

ashcan (noun)

A bin that holds rubbish until it is collected.

- He looked up “ashcan” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “ashcan” to mean a bin that holds rubbish until it is collected.

---

ashcan school (noun)

A group of United States painters founded in 1907 and noted for their realistic depictions of sordid aspects of city life.

- In class, the teacher used “ashcan school” to mean a group of united states painters founded in 1907....
- He looked up “ashcan school” because he had never seen it before.

---

asphalted (verb)

Cover with tar or asphalt.

- She tried to use “asphalted” carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use “asphalted” in real sentences.

---

aspirates (noun)

A consonant pronounced with aspiration.

- In class, the teacher used “aspirates” to mean a consonant pronounced with aspiration.
- He looked up “aspirates” because he had never seen it before.

---

ataraxia (noun)

Peace of mind.

- The article explained what “ataraxia” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “ataraxia” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

augmentin (noun)

An antibiotic; a semisynthetic oral penicillin (trade names Amoxil and Larotid and Polymox and Trimox and Augmentin) used to treat bacterial infections.

- Understanding “augmentin” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “augmentin” means with a simple example.

---

autocue (noun)

A device that displays words for people to read.

- Understanding “autocue” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “autocue” means with a simple example.

---

autographing (verb)

Mark with one’s signature.

- He did not know how to use “autographing” until he saw an example.
- Can you use “autographing” in a sentence that fits this situation?

bacitracin (noun)

A polypeptide antibiotic of known chemical structure effective against several types of Gram-positive organisms; usually applied locally.

- Understanding "bacitracin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "bacitracin" to mean a polypeptide antibiotic of known chemical....

backdate (verb)

Make effective from an earlier date.

- The increase in tax was backdated to January.
- He did not know how to use "backdate" until he saw an example.

bacteriologists (noun)

A biologist who studies bacteria.

- In class, the teacher used "bacteriologists" to mean a biologist who studies bacteria.
- The article explained what "bacteriologists" means with a simple example.

bamboozling (verb)

Conceal one's true motives from especially by elaborately feigning good intentions so as to gain an end.

- She tried to use "bamboozling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "bamboozling" until he saw an example.

baptizes (verb)

Administer baptism to.

- She tried to use "baptizes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "baptizes" in a sentence that fits this situation?

barky (adjective)

Resembling the rough bark of a tree.

- The rattlesnake's barky scales.
- The speaker chose "barky" because it captured the feeling precisely.

basseterre (noun)

The capital of Saint Kitts and Nevis on the island of Saint Christopher.

- He looked up "basseterre" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "basseterre" to mean the capital of saint kitts and nevis on the island....

batched (verb)

Batch together; assemble or process as a batch.

- Can you use "batched" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "batched" and when to wait.

baton twirler (noun)

Someone who twirls a baton.

- The article explained what "baton twirler" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "baton twirler" to mean someone who twirls a baton.

befitted (verb)

Accord or comport with.

- He did not know how to use "befitted" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "befitted" in a sentence that fits this situation?

blench (verb)

Turn pale, as if in fear.

- She tried to use "blench" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "blench" in real sentences.

bluestocking (noun)

A woman having literary or intellectual interests.

- In class, the teacher used "bluestocking" to mean a woman having literary or intellectual interests.
- Understanding "bluestocking" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bobbling (verb)

Make a mess of, destroy or ruin.

- In everyday English, people use "bobbling" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "bobbling" in real sentences.

---

bodiless (adjective)

Not having a material body.

- Bodiless ghosts.
- A bodiless head.

---

bodying (verb)

Invest with or as with a body; give body to.

- The coach explained when to use "bodying" and when to wait.
- Can you use "bodying" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

braincase (noun)

The part of the skull that encloses the brain.

- In class, the teacher used "braincase" to mean the part of the skull that encloses the brain.
- The article explained what "braincase" means with a simple example.

---

brans (noun)

Food prepared from the husks of cereal grains.

- In class, the teacher used "brans" to mean food prepared from the husks of cereal grains.
- The article explained what "brans" means with a simple example.

---

brazenness (noun)

Behavior marked by a bold defiance of the proprieties and lack of shame.

- The article explained what "brazenness" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "brazenness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

broca's aphasia (noun)

Aphasia in which expression by speech or writing is severely impaired.

- He looked up "broca's aphasia" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "broca's aphasia" to mean aphasia in which expression by speech or writing is....

---

bruces (noun)

Australian physician and bacteriologist who described the bacterium that causes undulant fever or brucellosis (1855-1931).

- Understanding "bruces" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "bruces" because he had never seen it before.

---

bunchy (adjective)

Occurring close together in bunches or clusters.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "bunchy."
- A "bunchy" approach may work better in this case.

---

burts (noun)

English psychologist whose studies of twins were later said to have used fabricated data (1883-1971).

- Understanding "burts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "burts" to mean english psychologist whose studies of twins were....

---

busbar (noun)

An electrical conductor that makes a common connection between several circuits.

- The busbar in this computer can transmit data either way between any two components of the system.

- The article explained what "busbar" means with a simple example.

---

buspar (noun)

A drug (trade name BuSpar) designed specifically for anxiety.

- They discussed "buspar" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "buspar" to mean a drug (trade name buspar) designed specifically....

---

cabooses (noun)

A car on a freight train for use of the train crew; usually the last car on the train.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cabooses."
- The article explained what "cabooses" means with a simple example.

---

calfs (noun)

The muscular back part of the shank.

- They discussed "calfs" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "calfs" because he had never seen it before.

---

calpe (noun)

Location of a colony of the United Kingdom on a limestone promontory at the southern tip of Spain; strategically important because it can control the entrance of ships into the Mediterranean; one of the Pillars of Hercules.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "calpe."
- The article explained what "calpe" means with a simple example.

---

capitulum (noun)

A dense cluster of flowers or foliage.

- Understanding "capitulum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "capitulum" to mean a dense cluster of flowers or foliage.

---

carboy (noun)

A large bottle for holding corrosive liquids; usually cushioned in a special container.

- He looked up "carboy" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carboy."

---

carex arenaria (noun)

European maritime sedge naturalized along Atlantic coast of United States; rootstock has properties of sarsaparilla.

- In class, the teacher used "carex arenaria" to mean european maritime sedge naturalized along atlantic....
- They discussed "carex arenaria" during the group presentation.

---

castigates (verb)

Inflict severe punishment on.

- She tried to use "castigates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "castigates" and when to wait.

---

castilians (noun)

The Spanish language as spoken in Castile.

- They discussed "castilians" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "castilians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

catalysing (verb)

Change by catalysis or cause to catalyze.

- In everyday English, people use "catalysing" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "catalysing" in real sentences.

---

catkin (noun)

A cylindrical spikelike inflorescence.

- He looked up "catkin" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "catkin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

caucasia (noun)

A large region between the Black and Caspian seas that contains the Caucasus Mountains; oil is its major resource.

- He looked up "caucasia" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "caucasia" during the group presentation.

centralizes (verb)

Make central.

- Learners should practice how to use "centralizes" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "centralizes" until he saw an example.

cephalexin (noun)

An oral cephalosporin (trade names Keflex and Keflin and Keftab) commonly prescribe for mild to moderately severe infections of the skin or ears or throat or lungs or urinary tract.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cephalexin."
- The article explained what "cephalexin" means with a simple example.

charioteers (noun)

A conspicuous constellation in the northern hemisphere; between Great Bear and Orion at edge of Milky Way.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "charioteers."
- The article explained what "charioteers" means with a simple example.

chiluba (noun)

A member of a Bantu people in southeastern Congo.

- Understanding "chiluba" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "chiluba" means with a simple example.

chronographs (noun)

An accurate timer for recording time.

- He looked up "chronographs" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "chronographs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cims (noun)

The United Kingdom's central unit for the tasking and coordination and funding of intelligence and security agencies.

- Understanding "cims" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "cims" means with a simple example.

circumferences (noun)

The boundary line encompassing an area or object.

- He looked up "circumferences" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "circumferences" during the group presentation.

cirio (noun)

Candlewood of Mexico and southwestern California having tall columnar stems and bearing honey-scented creamy yellow flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "cirio" to mean candlewood of mexico and southwestern california....
- The article explained what "cirio" means with a simple example.

cistus (noun)

Small to medium-sized evergreen shrubs of southern Europe and North Africa.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cistus."
- The article explained what "cistus" means with a simple example.

clanged (verb)

Make a loud noise.

- The coach explained when to use "clanged" and when to wait.
- Can you use "clanged" in a sentence that fits this situation?

cockatiels (noun)

Small grey Australian parrot with a yellow crested head.

- Understanding "cockatiels" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "cockatiels" means with a simple example.

---

coffea robusta (noun)

Native to West Africa but grown in Java and elsewhere; resistant to coffee rust.

- Understanding "coffea robusta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "coffea robusta" during the group presentation.

---

collagenous (adjective)

Relating to or consisting of collagen.

- Students compared "collagenous" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "collagenous."

---

collared peccary (noun)

Dark grey peccary with an indistinct white collar; of semi desert areas of Mexico and southwestern United States.

- They discussed "collared peccary" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "collared peccary" to mean dark grey peccary with an indistinct white collar;....

---

colludes (verb)

Act in unison or agreement and in secret towards a deceitful or illegal purpose.

- Can you use "colludes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "colludes" until he saw an example.

---

comedones (noun)

A black-tipped plug clogging a pore of the skin.

- The article explained what "comedones" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "comedones."

---

common gum cistus (noun)

Shrub having white flowers and viscid stems and leaves yielding a fragrant oleoresin used in perfumes especially as a fixative.

- They discussed "common gum cistus" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "common gum cistus."

---

common madia (noun)

California annual having red-brown spots near the base of its yellow flower rays.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "common madia."
- They discussed "common madia" during the group presentation.

---

common mullein (noun)

Tall-stalked very woolly mullein with densely packed yellow flowers; ancient Greeks and Romans dipped the stalks in tallow for funeral torches.

- They discussed "common mullein" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "common mullein."

---

compassed (verb)

Get the meaning of something.

- We compassed the earth.
- He did not know how to use "compassed" until he saw an example.

---

comprehensibility (noun)

The quality of comprehensible language or thought.

- He looked up "comprehensibility" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "comprehensibility" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

connotative (adjective)

Having the power of implying or suggesting something in addition to what is explicit.

- It is useful to describe something as "connotative" when it is having the power of implying or suggesting....

- The speaker chose “connotative” because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

connotative of (adjective)

Of or relating to a connotation.

- A “connotative of” approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “connotative of.”

---

construal (noun)

An interpretation of the meaning of something; the act of construing.

- The article explained what “construal” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “construal.”

---

corpus delicti (noun)

The body of evidence that constitute the offence; the objective proof that a crime has been committed (sometimes mistakenly thought to refer to the body of a homicide victim).

- In class, the teacher used “corpus delicti” to mean the body of evidence that constitute the offence;....
- The article explained what “corpus delicti” means with a simple example.

---

crawdads (noun)

Tiny lobster-like crustaceans usually boiled briefly.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “crawdads.”
- Understanding “crawdads” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cremating (verb)

Reduce to ashes.

- Learners should practice how to use “cremating” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “cremating” when talking about this idea.

---

crematoriums (noun)

A furnace where a corpse can be burned and reduced to ashes.

- They discussed “crematoriums” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “crematoriums” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

crocus sativus (noun)

Old World crocus having purple or white flowers with aromatic pungent orange stigmas used in flavoring food.

- In class, the teacher used “crocus sativus” to mean old world crocus having purple or white flowers....
- Understanding “crocus sativus” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

customhouse (noun)

A government building where customs are collected and where ships are cleared to enter or leave the country.

- The article explained what “customhouse” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “customhouse” during the group presentation.

---

cyma (noun)

(architecture) a molding for a cornice; in profile it is shaped like an S (partly concave and partly convex).

- In class, the teacher used “cyma” to mean (architecture) a molding for a cornice; in profile....
- The article explained what “cyma” means with a simple example.

---

cynodon (noun)

Creeping perennial grasses of tropical and southern Africa.

- In class, the teacher used “cynodon” to mean creeping perennial grasses of tropical and southern....
- He looked up “cynodon” because he had never seen it before.

---

cyprinus (noun)

Type genus of the family Cyprinidae: carp.

- They discussed “cyprinus” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “cyprinus” to mean type genus of the family cyprinidae: carp.

---

d'oyly carte (noun)

English impresario who brought Gilbert and Sullivan together and produced many of their operettas in London (1844-1901).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "d'oyly carte."
- They discussed "d'oyly carte" during the group presentation.

---

datings (noun)

Use of chemical analysis to estimate the age of geological specimens.

- Understanding "datings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "datings."

---

daylily (noun)

Any of numerous perennials having tuberous roots and long narrow bladelike leaves and usually yellow lily-like flowers that bloom for only a day.

- He looked up "daylily" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "daylily."

---

deamination (noun)

Removal of the amino radical from an amino acid or other amino compound.

- The article explained what "deamination" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "deamination" to mean removal of the amino radical from an amino acid or....

---

debriefings (noun)

Report of a mission or task.

- Understanding "debriefings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "debriefings" because he had never seen it before.

---

defames (verb)

Charge falsely or with malicious intent; attack the good name and reputation of someone.

- He did not know how to use "defames" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "defames" when talking about this idea.

---

deferent (adjective)

Showing deference.

- A "deferent" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "deferent" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

demineralization (noun)

The removal of minerals and mineral salts from a liquid (especially from water).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "demineralization."
- Understanding "demineralization" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dialyzed (verb)

Separate by dialysis.

- She tried to use "dialyzed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "dialyzed" and when to wait.

---

diethylstilbestrol (noun)

A potent estrogen used in medicine and in feed for livestock and poultry.

- In class, the teacher used "diethylstilbestrol" to mean a potent estrogen used in medicine and in feed for....
- He looked up "diethylstilbestrol" because he had never seen it before.

---

dimetrodon (noun)

Carnivorous dinosaur of the Permian in North America having a crest or dorsal sail.

- The article explained what "dimetrodon" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dimetrodon."

---

disbelieves (noun)

A rejection of belief.

- The article explained what "disbelieves" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "disbelieves."

---

distributers (noun)

Electrical device that distributes voltage to the spark plugs of a gasoline engine in the order of the firing sequence.

- Understanding "distributers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "distributers."

---

divertimento (noun)

A musical composition in several movements; has no fixed form.

- He looked up "divertimento" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "divertimento" during the group presentation.

---

downstroke (noun)

A stroke normally made in a downward direction.

- In class, the teacher used "downstroke" to mean a stroke normally made in a downward direction.
- The article explained what "downstroke" means with a simple example.

---

dystrophies (noun)

Any degenerative disorder resulting from inadequate or faulty nutrition.

- Understanding "dystrophies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dystrophies" because he had never seen it before.

---

earthman (noun)

An inhabitant of the earth.

- Understanding "earthman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "earthman" means with a simple example.

---

ecclesiasticus (noun)

An Apocryphal book mainly of maxims (resembling Proverbs in that respect).

- He looked up "ecclesiasticus" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "ecclesiasticus" to mean an apocryphal book mainly of maxims (resembling....

---

ecuadoran (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Ecuador.

- He looked up "ecuadoran" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "ecuadoran" during the group presentation.

---

ecuadoran monetary unit (noun)

Monetary unit in Ecuador.

- The article explained what "ecuadoran monetary unit" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ecuadoran monetary unit."

---

egoists (noun)

A self-centered person with little regard for others.

- He looked up "egoists" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "egoists" during the group presentation.

---

eleonora duse (noun)

Italian actress best known for her performances in tragic roles (1858-1924).

- He looked up "eleonora duse" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "eleonora duse."

---

elizabethans (noun)

A person who lived during the reign of Elizabeth I.

- Understanding "elizabethans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "elizabethans" because he had never seen it before.

embryologist (noun)

A physician who specializes in embryology.

- He looked up "embryologist" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "embryologist" to mean a physician who specializes in embryology.

enteropathy (noun)

A disease of the intestinal tract.

- The article explained what "enteropathy" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "enteropathy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

entreats (verb)

Ask for or request earnestly.

- Learners should practice how to use "entreats" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "entreats" carefully so everyone would understand.

enumerator (noun)

Someone who collects census data by visiting individual homes.

- He looked up "enumerator" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "enumerator."

enunciates (verb)

Speak, pronounce, or utter in a certain way.

- In everyday English, people use "enunciates" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "enunciates" in real sentences.

epizootic (adjective)

(of animals) epidemic among animals of a single kind within a particular region.

- An epizootic disease.
- Students compared "epizootic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

equilibrated (verb)

Bring into balance or equilibrium.

- In everyday English, people use "equilibrated" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "equilibrated" until he saw an example.

escolar (noun)

Large snake mackerel with rings like spectacles around its eyes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "escolar."
- He looked up "escolar" because he had never seen it before.

essene (noun)

A member of an ascetic Jewish sect around the time of Jesus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "essene."
- He looked up "essene" because he had never seen it before.

euphorbia marginata (noun)

Annual spurge of western United States having showy white-bracted flower clusters and very poisonous milk.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "euphorbia marginata."
- They discussed "euphorbia marginata" during the group presentation.

eva le gallienne (noun)

United States actress (born in England) (1899-1991).

- Understanding "eva le gallienne" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "eva le gallienne" during the group presentation.

execration (noun)

The object of cursing or detestation; that which is execrated.

- In class, the teacher used "execration" to mean the object of cursing or detestation; that which is....
- The article explained what "execration" means with a simple example.

---

exonuclease (noun)

A nuclease that releases one nucleotide at a time (serially) beginning at one of a nucleic acid.

- He looked up "exonuclease" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "exonuclease."

---

family leguminosae (noun)

A large family of trees, shrubs, vines, and herbs bearing bean pods; divided for convenience into the subfamilies Caesalpiniaceae; Mimosaceae; Papilionaceae.

- The article explained what "family leguminosae" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "family leguminosae" to mean a large family of trees, shrubs, vines, and herbs....

---

family noctuidae (noun)

Cutworms; armyworms.

- He looked up "family noctuidae" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "family noctuidae."

---

fancifully (adverb)

In a fanciful manner.

- The Christmas tree was fancifully decorated.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "fancifully" naturally.

---

felly (noun)

Rim (or part of the rim) into which spokes are inserted.

- In class, the teacher used "felly" to mean rim (or part of the rim) into which spokes are inserted.
- Understanding "felly" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fishhooks (noun)

A sharp barbed hook for catching fish.

- Understanding "fishhooks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "fishhooks" because he had never seen it before.

---

fixates (verb)

Pay attention to exclusively and obsessively.

- He fixates on his mother, even at the age of 40.
- Learners should practice how to use "fixates" in real sentences.

---

floodlighting (verb)

Illuminate with floodlights.

- Learners should practice how to use "floodlighting" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "floodlighting" when talking about this idea.

---

flus (noun)

An acute febrile highly contagious viral disease.

- He looked up "flus" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "flus" to mean an acute febrile highly contagious viral disease.

---

freys (noun)

(Norse mythology) god of earth's fertility and peace and prosperity; son of Njorth and brother of Freya; originally of the Vanir; later with the Aesir.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "freys."
- He looked up "freys" because he had never seen it before.

---

frogged (verb)

Hunt frogs for food.

- She tried to use "frogged" carefully so everyone would understand.

- The coach explained when to use "frogged" and when to wait.

---

frunze (noun)

The capital of Kyrgyzstan (known as Frunze 1926-1991).

- In class, the teacher used "frunze" to mean the capital of kyrgyzstan (known as frunze 1926-1991).
- The article explained what "frunze" means with a simple example.

---

fuchsia coccinea (noun)

Erect or climbing shrub of Brazil with deep pink to red flowers.

- Understanding "fuchsia coccinea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "fuchsia coccinea" during the group presentation.

---

fulminated (verb)

Come on suddenly and intensely.

- The disease fulminated.
- He fulminated against the Republicans' plan to cut Medicare.

---

funked (verb)

Draw back, as with fear or pain.

- Can you use "funked" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "funked" when talking about this idea.

---

funks (noun)

A state of nervous depression.

- They discussed "funks" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "funks" because he had never seen it before.

---

gaffers (noun)

A person who exercises control over workers.

- Understanding "gaffers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "gaffers" because he had never seen it before.

---

gamine (noun)

A homeless girl who roams the streets.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gamine."
- He looked up "gamine" because he had never seen it before.

---

gentlemans (noun)

A manservant who acts as a personal attendant to his employer.

- Understanding "gentlemans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "gentlemans" to mean a manservant who acts as a personal attendant to....

---

genus cistus (noun)

Small to medium-sized evergreen shrubs of southern Europe and North Africa.

- The article explained what "genus cistus" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "genus cistus" during the group presentation.

---

genus cynodon (noun)

Creeping perennial grasses of tropical and southern Africa.

- Understanding "genus cynodon" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "genus cynodon" to mean creeping perennial grasses of tropical and southern....

---

genus cyprinus (noun)

Type genus of the family Cyprinidae: carp.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus cyprinus."
- Understanding "genus cyprinus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus dimetrodon (noun)

A reptile genus of Pelycosauria.

- They discussed "genus dimetrodon" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "genus dimetrodon" means with a simple example.

---

genus hordeum (noun)

Annual to perennial grasses of temperate northern hemisphere and South America: barley.

- Understanding "genus hordeum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "genus hordeum" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus lathyrus (noun)

Genus of climbing herbs of Old World and temperate North and South America: vetchling; wild pea.

- In class, the teacher used "genus lathyrus" to mean genus of climbing herbs of old world and temperate....
- Understanding "genus lathyrus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus madia (noun)

Genus of sticky herbs with yellow flowers open in morning or evening but closed in bright light.

- In class, the teacher used "genus madia" to mean genus of sticky herbs with yellow flowers open in....
- The article explained what "genus madia" means with a simple example.

---

genus oestrus (noun)

Type genus of the Oestridae: sheep botflies.

- They discussed "genus oestrus" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "genus oestrus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus ricinus (noun)

A genus of herb having only one known species: castor-oil plant.

- They discussed "genus ricinus" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "genus ricinus" to mean a genus of herb having only one known species:....

---

genus tillandsia (noun)

Large genus of epiphytic or terrestrial sparse-rooting tropical plants usually forming dense clumps or pendant masses.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus tillandsia."
- They discussed "genus tillandsia" during the group presentation.

---

georg philipp telemann (noun)

German baroque composer (1681-1767).

- He looked up "georg philipp telemann" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "georg philipp telemann" during the group presentation.

---

gimmickry (noun)

A collection of gimmicks.

- In class, the teacher used "gimmickry" to mean a collection of gimmicks.
- He looked up "gimmickry" because he had never seen it before.

---

gladdens (verb)

Become glad or happy.

- Learners should practice how to use "gladdens" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "gladdens" when talking about this idea.

---

glowworm (noun)

The luminous larva or wingless grub-like female of a firefly.

- In class, the teacher used "glowworm" to mean the luminous larva or wingless grub-like female of....
- The article explained what "glowworm" means with a simple example.

---

glyceryl ester (noun)

An ester of glycerol.

- Understanding "glyceryl ester" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "glyceryl ester" because he had never seen it before.

---

gnaeus julius agricola (noun)

Roman general who was governor of Britain and extended Roman rule north to the Firth of Forth (37-93).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gnaeus julius agricola."
- They discussed "gnaeus julius agricola" during the group presentation.

---

goggled (verb)

Look with amazement; look stupidly.

- In everyday English, people use "goggled" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "goggled" in real sentences.

---

good-neighborliness (noun)

A disposition to be friendly and helpful to neighbors.

- Understanding "good-neighborliness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "good-neighborliness" to mean a disposition to be friendly and helpful to neighbors.

---

governmentally (adverb)

By government.

- Governmentally determined policy.
- Using "governmentally" can make your explanation more exact.

---

great mullein (noun)

Tall-stalked very woolly mullein with densely packed yellow flowers; ancient Greeks and Romans dipped the stalks in tallow for funeral torches.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "great mullein."
- Understanding "great mullein" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

greater omentum (noun)

Part of the peritoneum attached to the stomach and to the colon and covering the intestines.

- The article explained what "greater omentum" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "greater omentum" to mean part of the peritoneum attached to the stomach and....

---

gsas (noun)

A central management agency that sets Federal policy for Federal procurement and real property management and information resources management.

- He looked up "gsas" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gsas."

---

gumdrops (noun)

A jellied candy coated with sugar crystals.

- They discussed "gumdrops" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "gumdrops" because he had never seen it before.

---

hairbrushes (noun)

A brush used to groom a person's hair.

- Understanding "hairbrushes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "hairbrushes" because he had never seen it before.

---

handwrite (verb)

Write by hand.

- You should handwrite the note to your guests.
- Learners should practice how to use "handwrite" in real sentences.

---

hangdog (adjective)

Showing a sense of guilt; ; - Eric Linklater.

- The hangdog and shamefaced air of the retreating enemy.
- Would you call this situation "hangdog"? Explain why.

harmonizer (noun)

A musician who sings or plays in harmony.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "harmonizer."
- The article explained what "harmonizer" means with a simple example.

harpsichordist (noun)

Someone who plays the harpsichord.

- They discussed "harpsichordist" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "harpsichordist" because he had never seen it before.

hassidic (adjective)

Of or relating to the Jewish Hasidim or its members or their beliefs and practices.

- It is useful to describe something as "hassidic" when it is of or relating to the jewish hasidim or its members....
- Would you call this situation "hassidic"? Explain why.

hatefully (adverb)

In a hateful manner.

- She spoke "hatefully," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- Place "hatefully" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

hatefulness (noun)

The quality of being hateful.

- He looked up "hatefulness" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "hatefulness" during the group presentation.

heitor villa-lobos (noun)

Brazilian composer (1887-1959).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "heitor villa-lobos."
- The article explained what "heitor villa-lobos" means with a simple example.

hierarchic (adjective)

Classified according to various criteria into successive levels or layers.

- It has been said that only a hierarchical society with a leisure class at the top can produce works of art.
- In her hierarchical set of values honesty comes first.

hindmost (adjective)

Located farthest to the rear.

- It is useful to describe something as "hindmost" when it is located farthest to the rear.
- Would you call this situation "hindmost"? Explain why.

holsteins (noun)

A breed of dairy cattle from northern Holland.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "holsteins."
- He looked up "holsteins" because he had never seen it before.

homogenates (noun)

Material that has been homogenized (especially tissue that has been ground and mixed).

- Understanding "homogenates" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "homogenates" means with a simple example.

homozygotes (noun)

(genetics) an organism having two identical alleles of a particular gene and so breeding true for the particular characteristic.

- In class, the teacher used "homozygotes" to mean (genetics) an organism having two identical alleles....
- The article explained what "homozygotes" means with a simple example.

honoraria (noun)

A fee paid for a nominally free service.

- The article explained what “honoraria” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “honoraria” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hordeum (noun)

Annual to perennial grasses of temperate northern hemisphere and South America: barley.

- In class, the teacher used “hordeum” to mean annual to perennial grasses of temperate northern....
- The article explained what “hordeum” means with a simple example.

---

hospitalisations (noun)

Placing in medical care in a hospital.

- Understanding “hospitalisations” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “hospitalisations” during the group presentation.

---

hrvatska (noun)

A republic in the western Balkans in south-central Europe in the eastern Adriatic coastal area; formerly part of the Habsburg monarchy and Yugoslavia; became independent in 1991.

- He looked up “hrvatska” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “hrvatska.”

---

hydronephrosis (noun)

Accumulation of urine in the kidney because of an obstruction in the ureter.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “hydronephrosis.”
- The article explained what “hydronephrosis” means with a simple example.

---

idealizes (verb)

Consider or render as ideal.

- Learners should practice how to use “idealizes” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “idealizes” when talking about this idea.

---

idolising (verb)

Love unquestioningly and uncritically or to excess; venerate as an idol.

- She tried to use “idolising” carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use “idolising” until he saw an example.

---

imbricate (verb)

Place so as to overlap.

- Imbricate the roof tiles.
- The roof tiles imbricate.

---

immolating (verb)

Offer as a sacrifice by killing or by giving up to destruction.

- He did not know how to use “immolating” until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use “immolating” in real sentences.

---

imperatively (adverb)

In an imperative and commanding manner.

- The narrator describes the scene “imperatively” in the final chapter.
- She spoke “imperatively,” and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

impersonally (adverb)

In an impersonal manner.

- When I told him about Russ I found it difficult to speak impersonally.
- He treated his patients impersonally.

---

incise (verb)

Make an incision into by carving or cutting.

- He did not know how to use “incise” until he saw an example.

- In everyday English, people use "incise" when talking about this idea.

---

infarctions (noun)

Localized necrosis resulting from obstruction of the blood supply.

- Understanding "infarctions" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "infarctions" because he had never seen it before.

---

inflators (noun)

An air pump operated by hand to inflate something (as a tire).

- In class, the teacher used "inflators" to mean an air pump operated by hand to inflate something....
- They discussed "inflators" during the group presentation.

---

inflexibly (adverb)

In an inflexible manner.

- 'You will–because you must!,' Madam told her inflexibly.
- Place "inflexibly" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

intervenor (noun)

(law) a party who interposes in a pending proceeding.

- Understanding "intervenor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "intervenor" to mean (law) a party who interposes in a pending proceeding.

---

ischaemia (noun)

Local anemia in a given body part sometimes resulting from vasoconstriction or thrombosis or embolism.

- Understanding "ischaemia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "ischaemia" during the group presentation.

---

janissary (noun)

A loyal supporter.

- Understanding "janissary" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "janissary" to mean a loyal supporter.

---

jehad (noun)

A holy war waged by Muslims against infidels.

- He looked up "jehad" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jehad."

---

jihads (noun)

A holy war waged by Muslims against infidels.

- The article explained what "jihads" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jihads."

---

jointure (noun)

The act of making or becoming a single unit.

- He looked up "jointure" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jointure."

---

juleps (noun)

Bourbon and sugar and mint over crushed ice.

- They discussed "juleps" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "juleps."

---

kadai (noun)

A family of Sino-Tibetan languages spoken in southeastern Asia.

- Understanding "kadai" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kadai."

---

kadai language (noun)

A family of Sino-Tibetan languages spoken in southeastern Asia.

- In class, the teacher used "kadai language" to mean a family of sino-tibetan languages spoken in....
- The article explained what "kadai language" means with a simple example.

---

kaisers (noun)

The title of the Holy Roman Emperors or the emperors of Austria or of Germany until 1918.

- He looked up "kaisers" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "kaisers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kanara (noun)

A historical region of southwestern India on the west coast.

- He looked up "kanara" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "kanara" to mean a historical region of southwestern india on the....

---

kinescope (noun)

A cathode-ray tube in a television receiver; translates the received signal into a picture on a luminescent screen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kinescope."
- Understanding "kinescope" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kobus leche (noun)

Tawny-colored African antelope inhabiting wet grassy plains; a threatened species.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kobus leche."
- He looked up "kobus leche" because he had never seen it before.

---

kudus (noun)

Either of two spiral-horned antelopes of the African bush.

- He looked up "kudus" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "kudus" during the group presentation.

---

kvetch (verb)

Express complaints, discontent, displeasure, or unhappiness.

- In everyday English, people use "kvetch" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "kvetch" until he saw an example.

---

kwakiutl (noun)

A Wakashan language spoken by the Kwakiutl.

- In class, the teacher used "kwakiutl" to mean a wakashan language spoken by the kwakiutl.
- The article explained what "kwakiutl" means with a simple example.

---

labrador-ungava peninsula (noun)

A peninsular region of eastern Canada between Hudson Bay and the Labrador Sea; contains most of Quebec and the mainland part of Newfoundland and Labrador.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "labrador-ungava peninsula."
- He looked up "labrador-ungava peninsula" because he had never seen it before.

---

ladled (verb)

Put (a liquid) into a container by means of a ladle.

- She tried to use "ladled" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "ladled" and when to wait.

---

lamming (verb)

Flee; take to one's heels; cut and run.

- In everyday English, people use "lamming" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "lamming" in real sentences.

---

langoustines (noun)

Caught in European waters; slenderer than American lobster.

- In class, the teacher used “langoustines” to mean caught in european waters; slenderer than american....
- They discussed “langoustines” during the group presentation.

---

larn (verb)

Gain knowledge or skills.

- In everyday English, people use “larn” when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use “larn” in real sentences.

---

lathyrus (noun)

Genus of climbing herbs of Old World and temperate North and South America: vetchling; wild pea.

- He looked up “lathyrus” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “lathyrus” to mean genus of climbing herbs of old world and temperate....

---

layby (noun)

Designated paved area beside a main road where cars can stop temporarily.

- They discussed “layby” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “layby” means with a simple example.

---

le gallienne (noun)

United States actress (born in England) (1899-1991).

- Understanding “le gallienne” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “le gallienne” because he had never seen it before.

---

legal jointure (noun)

(law) an estate secured to a prospective wife as a marriage settlement in lieu of a dower.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “legal jointure.”
- They discussed “legal jointure” during the group presentation.

---

leguminosae (noun)

A large family of trees, shrubs, vines, and herbs bearing bean pods; divided for convenience into the subfamilies Caesalpiniaceae; Mimosaceae; Papilionaceae.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “leguminosae.”
- The article explained what “leguminosae” means with a simple example.

---

lepus americanus (noun)

Large large-footed North American hare; white in winter.

- They discussed “lepus americanus” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “lepus americanus.”

---

lesser omentum (noun)

A part of the peritoneum attached to the stomach and liver and supporting the hepatic vessels.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “lesser omentum.”
- They discussed “lesser omentum” during the group presentation.

---

lhotse (noun)

A mountain in the central Himalayas on the border of Tibet and Nepal (27,890 feet high).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “lhotse.”
- He looked up “lhotse” because he had never seen it before.

---

linguae (noun)

A mobile mass of muscular tissue covered with mucous membrane and located in the oral cavity.

- The article explained what “linguae” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “linguae” to mean a mobile mass of muscular tissue covered with....

---

lipases (noun)

An enzyme secreted in the digestive tract that catalyzes the breakdown of fats into individual fatty acids that can be absorbed into the bloodstream.

- The article explained what “lipases” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “lipases” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

liposarcoma (noun)

Sarcoma of fat cells.

- Understanding "liposarcoma" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "liposarcoma" means with a simple example.

lobar (adjective)

Of or relating to or affecting a lobe.

- Lobar pneumonia.
- It is useful to describe something as "lobar" when it is of or relating to or affecting a lobe.

lobar pneumonia (noun)

Pneumonia affecting one or more lobes of the lung; commonly due to streptococcal infection.

- Understanding "lobar pneumonia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "lobar pneumonia" during the group presentation.

longshots (noun)

A photograph taken from a distance.

- The article explained what "longshots" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "longshots" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

lonicera flava (noun)

Climbing deciduous shrub with fragrant yellow (later orange) flowers in terminal whorls; southeastern United States.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lonicera flava."
- They discussed "lonicera flava" during the group presentation.

luchino visconti (noun)

Italian filmmaker (1906-1976).

- The article explained what "luchino visconti" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "luchino visconti" during the group presentation.

lumbosacral plexus (noun)

A nerve plexus formed by the ventral divisions of the coccygeal and sacral and lumbar nerves; supplies the lower limbs and perineum and coccygeal area.

- In class, the teacher used "lumbosacral plexus" to mean a nerve plexus formed by the ventral divisions of....
- They discussed "lumbosacral plexus" during the group presentation.

lunettes (noun)

Temporary fortification like a detached bastion.

- Understanding "lunettes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "lunettes" because he had never seen it before.

lynches (verb)

Kill without legal sanction.

- She tried to use "lynches" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "lynches" when talking about this idea.

lynxes (noun)

Short-tailed wildcats with usually tufted ears; valued for their fur.

- The article explained what "lynxes" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "lynxes" during the group presentation.

lyonnaise (adjective)

Cooked with onions.

- It is useful to describe something as "lyonnaise" when it is cooked with onions.
- A "lyonnaise" approach may work better in this case.

lyonnaise sauce (noun)

Brown sauce with sauteed chopped onions and parsley and dry white wine or vinegar.

- The article explained what "lyonnaise sauce" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lyonnaise sauce" to mean brown sauce with sauteed chopped onions and parsley....

---

macroevolution (noun)

Evolution on a large scale extending over geologic era and resulting in the formation of new taxonomic groups.

- The article explained what "macroevolution" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "macroevolution."

---

madia (noun)

Genus of sticky herbs with yellow flowers open in morning or evening but closed in bright light.

- He looked up "madia" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "madia."

---

madia oil (noun)

Used as a substitute for olive oil.

- In class, the teacher used "madia oil" to mean used as a substitute for olive oil.
- The article explained what "madia oil" means with a simple example.

---

madia oil plant (noun)

South American herb with sticky glandular foliage; source of madia oil.

- They discussed "madia oil plant" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "madia oil plant."

---

maladjustment (noun)

The condition of being unable to adapt properly to your environment with resulting emotional instability.

- The article explained what "maladjustment" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "maladjustment" to mean the condition of being unable to adapt properly to....

---

malignant hepatoma (noun)

Carcinoma of the liver.

- He looked up "malignant hepatoma" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "malignant hepatoma" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

marquise de montespan (noun)

French noblewoman who was mistress to Louis XIV until he became attracted to Madame de Maintenon (1641-1707).

- They discussed "marquise de montespan" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "marquise de montespan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

massagers (noun)

Someone who rubs or kneads parts of the body to stimulate circulation and promote relaxation.

- In class, the teacher used "massagers" to mean someone who rubs or kneads parts of the body to....
- The article explained what "massagers" means with a simple example.

---

mbabane (noun)

Capital of Swaziland; located in northwestern Swaziland.

- Understanding "mbabane" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "mbabane" to mean capital of swaziland; located in northwestern swaziland.

---

mechanize (verb)

Make monotonous; make automatic or routine.

- If your work becomes too mechanized, change jobs!
- Mechanize armies.

---

mesmerise (verb)

Attract strongly, as if with a magnet.

- The coach explained when to use "mesmerise" and when to wait.

- Can you use “mesmerise” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

mesodermal (adjective)

Relating to or derived from the mesoderm.

- The speaker chose “mesodermal” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A “mesodermal” approach may work better in this case.

---

meticulousness (noun)

Strict attention to minute details.

- The article explained what “meticulousness” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “meticulousness” to mean strict attention to minute details.

---

micropenis (noun)

An abnormally small penis.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “micropenis.”
- Understanding “micropenis” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

middletons (noun)

English playwright and pamphleteer (1570-1627).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “middletons.”
- He looked up “middletons” because he had never seen it before.

---

militates (verb)

Have force or influence; bring about an effect or change.

- Learners should practice how to use “militates” in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use “militates” and when to wait.

---

misbranded (adjective)

Branded or labeled falsely and in violation of statutory requirements.

- Confiscated the misbranded drugs.
- A “misbranded” approach may work better in this case.

---

moistness (noun)

A slight wetness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “moistness.”
- The article explained what “moistness” means with a simple example.

---

mojos (noun)

A magic power or magic spell.

- In class, the teacher used “mojos” to mean a magic power or magic spell.
- He looked up “mojos” because he had never seen it before.

---

momus (noun)

God of blame and mockery.

- The article explained what “momus” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “momus” to mean god of blame and mockery.

---

monkish (adjective)

Befitting a monk; inclined to self-denial.

- A “monkish” approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared “monkish” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

monosyllables (noun)

A word or utterance of one syllable.

- Understanding “monosyllables” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “monosyllables” during the group presentation.

---

monstrance (noun)

Proof by a process of argument or a series of proposition proving an asserted conclusion.

- Understanding "monstrance" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "monstrance" during the group presentation.

---

moorhen (noun)

Black gallinule that inhabits ponds and lakes.

- He looked up "moorhen" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "moorhen."

---

msts (noun)

Standard time in the 7th time zone west of Greenwich, reckoned at the 105th meridian west; used in the mountain states of the United States.

- They discussed "msts" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "msts" means with a simple example.

---

mudguards (noun)

A curved piece above the wheel of a bicycle or motorcycle to protect the rider from water or mud thrown up by the wheels.

- In class, the teacher used "mudguards" to mean a curved piece above the wheel of a bicycle or....
- He looked up "mudguards" because he had never seen it before.

---

mullein (noun)

Any of various plants of the genus Verbascum having large usually woolly leaves and terminal spikes of yellow or white or purplish flowers.

- Understanding "mullein" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "mullein" means with a simple example.

---

mullein pink (noun)

An old cottage garden plant of southeastern Europe widely cultivated for its attractive white woolly foliage and showy crimson flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "mullein pink" to mean an old cottage garden plant of southeastern europe....
- The article explained what "mullein pink" means with a simple example.

---

multiform (adjective)

Occurring in or having many forms or shapes or appearances; - John Dewey.

- The multiform universe of nature and man.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "multiform."

---

musculus serratus anterior (noun)

Muscles that rotate the scapula and elevate the rib cage.

- In class, the teacher used "musculus serratus anterior" to mean muscles that rotate the scapula and elevate the rib....
- They discussed "musculus serratus anterior" during the group presentation.

---

musculus serratus posterior (noun)

Skeletal muscle that draws the rib cage backward and downward.

- They discussed "musculus serratus posterior" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musculus serratus posterior."

---

mycosis (noun)

An inflammatory condition caused by a fungus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mycosis."
- He looked up "mycosis" because he had never seen it before.

---

najd (noun)

A central plateau region of the Arabian Peninsula; formerly an independent sultanate until 1932 when it united with Hejaz to form the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

- They discussed "najd" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "najd" to mean a central plateau region of the arabian peninsula;....

---

necromantic (adjective)

Relating to or associated with necromancy.

- Mysterious necromantic rites.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "necromantic."

---

neighborliness (noun)

A disposition to be friendly and helpful to neighbors.

- In class, the teacher used "neighborliness" to mean a disposition to be friendly and helpful to neighbors.
- Understanding "neighborliness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nepheline (noun)

A whitish mineral consisting of sodium aluminum silicate or potassium aluminum silicate in crystalline form; used in the manufacture of ceramics and enamels.

- He looked up "nepheline" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "nepheline" to mean a whitish mineral consisting of sodium aluminum....

---

neurontin (noun)

An anticonvulsant (trade name Neurontin) used to control some types of seizures in the treatment of epilepsy; also used to manage neuralgia caused by shingles.

- He looked up "neurontin" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "neurontin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nightcrawlers (noun)

Terrestrial worm that burrows into and helps aerate soil; often surfaces when the ground is cool or wet; used as bait by anglers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nightcrawlers."
- He looked up "nightcrawlers" because he had never seen it before.

---

nimrods (noun)

(Old Testament) a famous hunter.

- Understanding "nimrods" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "nimrods" because he had never seen it before.

---

noctuidae (noun)

Cutworms; armyworms.

- Understanding "noctuidae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "noctuidae."

---

nuttall's oak (noun)

Similar to the pin oak; grows in damp sites in Mississippi River basin.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nuttall's oak."
- He looked up "nuttall's oak" because he had never seen it before.

---

nymphaea alba (noun)

A water lily with white flowers.

- They discussed "nymphaea alba" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "nymphaea alba" to mean a water lily with white flowers.

---

oestrus (noun)

Type genus of the Oestridae: sheep botflies.

- The article explained what "oestrus" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "oestrus" to mean type genus of the oestridae: sheep botflies.

---

olde worlde (adjective)

Attractively old-fashioned (but not necessarily authentic).

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "olde worlde."
- Students compared "olde worlde" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

omentum (noun)

A fold of peritoneum supporting the viscera.

- They discussed "omentum" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "omentum" to mean a fold of peritoneum supporting the viscera.

onchocerciasis (noun)

Infestation with slender threadlike roundworms (filaria) deposited under the skin by the bite of black fleas; when the eyes are involved it can result in blindness; common in Africa and tropical America.

- The article explained what "onchocerciasis" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "onchocerciasis" during the group presentation.

os frontale (noun)

The large cranial bone forming the front part of the cranium: includes the upper part of the orbits.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "os frontale."
- The article explained what "os frontale" means with a simple example.

outmanoeuvred (verb)

Defeat by more skillful maneuvering.

- Learners should practice how to use "outmanoeuvred" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "outmanoeuvred" and when to wait.

outvote (verb)

Defeat by a majority of votes.

- The Democrats outvoted the Republicans.
- The coach explained when to use "outvote" and when to wait.

overambitious (adjective)

Excessively ambitious.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "overambitious."
- The speaker chose "overambitious" because it captured the feeling precisely.

oxidise (verb)

Enter into a combination with oxygen or become converted into an oxide.

- Can you use "oxidise" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "oxidise" when talking about this idea.

oxygenating (verb)

Impregnate, combine, or supply with oxygen.

- In everyday English, people use "oxygenating" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "oxygenating" in a sentence that fits this situation?

palliation (noun)

To act in such a way as to cause an offense to seem less serious.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "palliation."
- They discussed "palliation" during the group presentation.

palmate (adjective)

Of a leaf shape; having leaflets or lobes radiating from a common point.

- Would you call this situation "palmate"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "palmate" when it is of a leaf shape; having leaflets or lobes radiating....

palmate leaf (noun)

A leaf resembling an open hand; having lobes radiating from a common point.

- He looked up "palmate leaf" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "palmate leaf."

paraphilias (noun)

Abnormal sexual activity.

- Understanding "paraphilias" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paraphilias."

partaker (noun)

Someone who has or gives or receives a part or a share.

- In class, the teacher used "partaker" to mean someone who has or gives or receives a part or a share.
- They discussed "partaker" during the group presentation.

---

pascals (noun)

A unit of pressure equal to one newton per square meter.

- They discussed "pascals" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "pascals" to mean a unit of pressure equal to one newton per square meter.

---

patinated (verb)

Coat with a patina.

- Learners should practice how to use "patinated" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "patinated" when talking about this idea.

---

pavane (noun)

A stately court dance of the 16th and 17th centuries.

- They discussed "pavane" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pavane" means with a simple example.

---

pepperonis (noun)

A pork and beef sausage (or a thin slice of this sausage).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pepperonis."
- He looked up "pepperonis" because he had never seen it before.

---

phonogram (noun)

Any written symbol standing for a sound or syllable or morpheme or word.

- They discussed "phonogram" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "phonogram" because he had never seen it before.

---

picoseconds (noun)

One trillionth (10^-12) of a second; one thousandth of a nanosecond.

- Understanding "picoseconds" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "picoseconds" means with a simple example.

---

picric acid (noun)

A yellow toxic highly explosive strong acid; used in high explosives and as a dye and in chemical reactions.

- They discussed "picric acid" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "picric acid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pij (noun)

A militant Palestinian terrorist group created in 1979 and committed to the creation of an Islamic state in Palestine and to the destruction of Israel; smaller and more exclusively militant that Hamas.

- They discussed "pij" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "pij" to mean a militant palestinian terrorist group created in....

---

pileus (noun)

A fruiting structure resembling an umbrella or a cone that forms the top of a stalked fleshy fungus such as a mushroom.

- He looked up "pileus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pileus."

---

pinus contorta (noun)

Shrubby two-needled pine of coastal northwestern United States; red to yellow-brown bark fissured into small squares.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pinus contorta."
- He looked up "pinus contorta" because he had never seen it before.

---

planter's punch (noun)

A cocktail made of rum and lime or lemon juice with sugar and sometimes bitters.

- He looked up "planter's punch" because he had never seen it before.

- They discussed "planter's punch" during the group presentation.

---

platos (noun)

Ancient Athenian philosopher; pupil of Socrates; teacher of Aristotle (428-347 BC).

- They discussed "platos" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "platos."

---

playes (verb)

Employ in a game or in a specific position.

- Learners should practice how to use "playes" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "playes" when talking about this idea.

---

pleasanter (adjective)

Affording pleasure; being in harmony with your taste or likings.

- The speaker chose "pleasanter" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "pleasanter" when it is affording pleasure; being in harmony with your....

---

pleasantry (noun)

An agreeable or amusing remark.

- They discussed "pleasantry" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "pleasantry" because he had never seen it before.

---

plimsolls (noun)

A light gym shoe with a rubber sole and a canvas top.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "plimsolls."
- Understanding "plimsolls" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

plumbs (noun)

The metal bob of a plumb line.

- They discussed "plumbs" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "plumbs."

---

pockmarks (noun)

A scar or pit on the skin that is left by a pustule of smallpox or acne or other eruptive disease.

- They discussed "pockmarks" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "pockmarks" because he had never seen it before.

---

polarise (verb)

Cause to vibrate in a definite pattern.

- He did not know how to use "polarise" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "polarise" in real sentences.

---

potentiates (verb)

Increase the effect of or act synergistically with (a drug or a physiological or biochemical phenomenon).

- Learners should practice how to use "potentiates" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "potentiates" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

pottle (noun)

A pot that holds 2 quarts.

- He looked up "pottle" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pottle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

powerboats (noun)

A boat propelled by an internal-combustion engine.

- Understanding "powerboats" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "powerboats" because he had never seen it before.

---

prandial (adjective)

Of or relating to a meal.

- The speaker chose "prandial" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "prandial"? Explain why.

---

precedential (adjective)

Having precedence (especially because of longer service).

- Precedential treatment for senior members of the firm.
- Students compared "precedential" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

preconditioned (adjective)

Having already been put into a suitable condition.

- A surface preconditioned to receive paint.
- Customers preconditioned to buy a product.

---

priding (verb)

Be proud of.

- He did not know how to use "priding" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "priding" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

principalship (noun)

The post of principal.

- In class, the teacher used "principalship" to mean the post of principal.
- They discussed "principalship" during the group presentation.

---

propertied (adjective)

Owning land or securities as a principal source of revenue.

- It is useful to describe something as "propertied" when it is owning land or securities as a principal source of....
- The speaker chose "propertied" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

prunus persica (noun)

Cultivated in temperate regions.

- Understanding "prunus persica" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "prunus persica" to mean cultivated in temperate regions.

---

psychokinetic (adjective)

Moving an object without apparent use of physical means.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "psychokinetic."
- Students compared "psychokinetic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

punitively (adverb)

In a punishing manner.

- Using "punitively" can make your explanation more exact.
- She spoke "punitively," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

purple mullein (noun)

Eurasian mullein with showy purple or pink flowers.

- Understanding "purple mullein" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "purple mullein" because he had never seen it before.

---

purposefulness (noun)

The quality of having a definite purpose.

- Understanding "purposefulness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "purposefulness" to mean the quality of having a definite purpose.

---

quaffing (verb)

To swallow hurriedly or greedily or in one draught.

- In everyday English, people use “quaffing” when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use “quaffing” in real sentences.

---

quartette (noun)

A musical composition for four performers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “quartette.”
- Understanding “quartette” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

quern (noun)

A primitive stone mill for grinding corn by hand.

- The article explained what “quern” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “quern” during the group presentation.

---

raisings (noun)

The event of something being raised upward.

- In class, the teacher used “raisings” to mean the event of something being raised upward.
- The article explained what “raisings” means with a simple example.

---

rapports (noun)

A relationship of mutual understanding or trust and agreement between people.

- The article explained what “rapports” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “rapports” to mean a relationship of mutual understanding or trust and....

---

recuperates (verb)

Regain a former condition after a financial loss.

- He did not know how to use “recuperates” until he saw an example.
- She tried to use “recuperates” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

refocuses (verb)

Put again into focus or focus more sharply.

- In everyday English, people use “refocuses” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “refocuses” until he saw an example.

---

relearned (verb)

Learn something again, as after having forgotten or neglected it.

- The coach explained when to use “relearned” and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use “relearned” until he saw an example.

---

remands (noun)

The act of sending an accused person back into custody to await trial (or the continuation of the trial).

- Understanding “remands” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “remands.”

---

remediating (verb)

Set straight or right.

- In everyday English, people use “remediating” when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use “remediating” in real sentences.

---

remoulade sauce (noun)

A mayonnaise sauce flavored with herbs and mustard and capers; served with e.g. salad and cold meat.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “remoulade sauce.”
- They discussed “remoulade sauce” during the group presentation.

---

renovator (noun)

A skilled worker who is employed to restore or refinish buildings or antique furniture.

- Understanding “renovator” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “renovator” during the group presentation.

resistible (adjective)

Capable of being resisted or withstood or frustrated.

- A resistible attack.
- Such resistible temptations.

restatements (noun)

A revised statement.

- The article explained what "restatements" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "restatements" to mean a revised statement.

revetments (noun)

A facing (usually masonry) that supports an embankment.

- The article explained what "revetments" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "revetments" to mean a facing (usually masonry) that supports an embankment.

richard d'oyly carte (noun)

English impresario who brought Gilbert and Sullivan together and produced many of their operettas in London (1844-1901).

- He looked up "richard d'oyly carte" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "richard d'oyly carte" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

ricinus (noun)

A genus of herb having only one known species: castor-oil plant.

- The article explained what "ricinus" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "ricinus" during the group presentation.

romanticising (verb)

Interpret romantically.

- Can you use "romanticising" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "romanticising" until he saw an example.

rootes (verb)

Become settled or established and stable in one's residence or life style.

- She tried to use "rootes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "rootes" when talking about this idea.

rosh hashana (noun)

(Judaism) a solemn Jewish feast day celebrated on the 1st or 1st and 2nd of Tishri; noted for the blowing of the shofar.

- In class, the teacher used "rosh hashana" to mean (judaism) a solemn jewish feast day celebrated on....
- Understanding "rosh hashana" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

roulettes (noun)

A wheel with teeth for making a row of perforations.

- The article explained what "roulettes" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "roulettes" to mean a wheel with teeth for making a row of perforations.

roved (verb)

Move about aimlessly or without any destination, often in search of food or employment.

- The coach explained when to use "roved" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "roved" carefully so everyone would understand.

salal (noun)

Small evergreen shrub of Pacific coast of North America having edible dark purple grape-sized berries.

- The article explained what "salal" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "salal" during the group presentation.

salmi (noun)

Ragout of game in a rich sauce.

- In class, the teacher used "salmi" to mean ragout of game in a rich sauce.
- The article explained what "salmi" means with a simple example.

---

salvific (adjective)

Pertaining to the power of salvation or redemption.

- The speaker chose "salvific" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "salvific" when it is pertaining to the power of salvation or redemption.

---

sandhi (noun)

The articulatory process whereby the pronunciation of a word or morpheme changes when it is followed immediately by another (especially in fluent speech).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sandhi."
- Understanding "sandhi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sardegna (noun)

An island in the Mediterranean to the west of Italy.

- The article explained what "sardegna" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sardegna."

---

sassenach (noun)

The Scots' term for an English person.

- They discussed "sassenach" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "sassenach" to mean the scots' term for an english person.

---

scepters (noun)

The imperial authority symbolized by a scepter.

- The article explained what "scepters" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "scepters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

schnauzers (noun)

Old German breed of sturdy black or greyish wire-haired terriers having a blunt muzzle ranging in size from fairly small to very large; used as ratters and guard dogs or police dogs.

- Understanding "schnauzers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "schnauzers" because he had never seen it before.

---

schnorr (verb)

Obtain or seek to obtain by cadging or wheedling.

- He did not know how to use "schnorr" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "schnorr" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

sciurus niger (noun)

Exceptionally large arboreal squirrel of eastern United States.

- The article explained what "sciurus niger" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sciurus niger."

---

scrawls (noun)

Poor handwriting.

- They discussed "scrawls" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "scrawls" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scribblers (noun)

A writer whose handwriting is careless and hard to read.

- They discussed "scribblers" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "scribblers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scrofula (noun)

A form of tuberculosis characterized by swellings of the lymphatic glands.

- They discussed "scrofula" during the group presentation.

- In class, the teacher used "scrofula" to mean a form of tuberculosis characterized by swellings....

---

scuffled (verb)

Fight or struggle in a confused way at close quarters.

- The coach explained when to use "scuffled" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "scuffled" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

scute (noun)

Large bony or horny plate as on an armadillo or turtle or the underside of a snake.

- Understanding "scute" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "scute" means with a simple example.

---

severities (noun)

Used of the degree of something undesirable e.g. pain or weather.

- They discussed "severities" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "severities" because he had never seen it before.

---

sextants (noun)

A unit of angular distance equal to 60 degrees.

- Understanding "sextants" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "sextants" to mean a unit of angular distance equal to 60 degrees.

---

shanking (verb)

Hit (a golf ball) with the heel of a club, causing the ball to veer in the wrong direction.

- He did not know how to use "shanking" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "shanking" and when to wait.

---

shopfronts (noun)

The front side of a store facing the street; usually contains display windows.

- In class, the teacher used "shopfronts" to mean the front side of a store facing the street;....
- Understanding "shopfronts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

showerheads (noun)

A perforated nozzle that showers water on a bather.

- They discussed "showerheads" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "showerheads" because he had never seen it before.

---

signes (verb)

Mark with one's signature; write one's name (on).

- Can you use "signes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "signes" until he saw an example.

---

silurians (noun)

From 425 million to 405 million years ago; first air-breathing animals.

- Understanding "silurians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "silurians."

---

simon legree (noun)

A cruel employer who demands excessive work from the employees.

- He looked up "simon legree" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "simon legree."

---

sir john tenniel (noun)

English cartoonist (1820-1914).

- Understanding "sir john tenniel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "sir john tenniel" to mean english cartoonist (1820-1914).

---

skirmished (verb)

Engage in a skirmish.

- Can you use "skirmished" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "skirmished" and when to wait.

---

skirmisher (noun)

Someone who skirmishes (e.g., as a member of a scouting party).

- The article explained what "skirmisher" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "skirmisher" to mean someone who skirmishes (e.g., as a member of a....

---

skittered (verb)

To move about or proceed hurriedly.

- In everyday English, people use "skittered" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "skittered" until he saw an example.

---

snowsuit (noun)

A child's overgarment for cold weather.

- Understanding "snowsuit" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "snowsuit" means with a simple example.

---

socializes (verb)

Make conform to socialist ideas and philosophies.

- He never socializes with his colleagues.
- The coach explained when to use "socializes" and when to wait.

---

solidago bicolor (noun)

Plant of eastern North America having creamy white flowers.

- Understanding "solidago bicolor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "solidago bicolor" means with a simple example.

---

somersaulting (noun)

An acrobatic feat in which the feet roll over the head (either forward or backward) and return.

- They discussed "somersaulting" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "somersaulting" because he had never seen it before.

---

sonatina (noun)

A short and simple sonata.

- The article explained what "sonatina" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "sonatina" to mean a short and simple sonata.

---

sorbus americana (noun)

A variety of mountain ash.

- They discussed "sorbus americana" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "sorbus americana" because he had never seen it before.

---

sough (verb)

Make a murmuring sound.

- The coach explained when to use "sough" and when to wait.
- Can you use "sough" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

spellbinder (noun)

An orator who can hold his listeners spellbound.

- Understanding "spellbinder" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "spellbinder" during the group presentation.

---

squashy (adjective)

Easily squashed; resembling a sponge in having soft porous texture and compressibility.

- Would you call this situation "squashy"? Explain why.
- A "squashy" approach may work better in this case.

---

standardizes (verb)

Cause to conform to standard or norm.

- She tried to use "standardizes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "standardizes" until he saw an example.

---

steak au poivre (noun)

Steak covered with crushed peppercorns pan-broiled and served with brandy-and-butter sauce.

- They discussed "steak au poivre" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "steak au poivre" means with a simple example.

---

stepfathers (noun)

The husband of your mother by a subsequent marriage.

- They discussed "stepfathers" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "stepfathers" to mean the husband of your mother by a subsequent marriage.

---

stigmatise (verb)

To accuse or condemn or openly or formally or brand as disgraceful.

- She tried to use "stigmatise" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "stigmatise" until he saw an example.

---

string quartette (noun)

An instrumental quartet with 2 violins and a viola and a cello.

- In class, the teacher used "string quartette" to mean an instrumental quartet with 2 violins and a viola....
- The article explained what "string quartette" means with a simple example.

---

studentships (noun)

The position of student.

- In class, the teacher used "studentships" to mean the position of student.
- The article explained what "studentships" means with a simple example.

---

sueing (verb)

Institute legal proceedings against; file a suit against.

- In everyday English, people use "sueing" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "sueing" in real sentences.

---

supertankers (noun)

The largest class of oil tankers.

- They discussed "supertankers" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "supertankers."

---

surcharged (verb)

Fill to an excessive degree.

- The air was surcharged with tension.
- The air raids had surcharged the emergency wards.

---

swooshes (verb)

Move with or cause to move with a whistling or hissing sound.

- In everyday English, people use "swooshes" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "swooshes" in real sentences.

---

tactility (noun)

The faculty of perceiving (via the skin) pressure or heat or pain.

- They discussed "tactility" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "tactility" to mean the faculty of perceiving (via the skin) pressure....

tailcoat (noun)

Formalwear consisting of full evening dress for men.

- The article explained what "tailcoat" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tailcoat" to mean formalwear consisting of full evening dress for men.

tallness (noun)

The property of being taller than average stature.

- In class, the teacher used "tallness" to mean the property of being taller than average stature.
- Understanding "tallness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

tanagers (noun)

Any of numerous New World woodland birds having brightly colored males.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tanagers."
- He looked up "tanagers" because he had never seen it before.

tartus (noun)

A city of southeastern Estonia that was a member of the Hanseatic League.

- The article explained what "tartus" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "tartus" during the group presentation.

tediousness (noun)

Dullness owing to length or slowness.

- In class, the teacher used "tediousness" to mean dullness owing to length or slowness.
- The article explained what "tediousness" means with a simple example.

temuco (noun)

A city in central Chile to the south of Concepcion.

- They discussed "temuco" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "temuco" to mean a city in central chile to the south of concepcion.

tenniel (noun)

English cartoonist (1820-1914).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tenniel."
- Understanding "tenniel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

thereabout (adverb)

Near that time or date.

- Come at noon or thereabouts.
- He stayed in London or thereabouts for several weeks.

thermistors (noun)

A semiconductor device made of materials whose resistance varies as a function of temperature; can be used to compensate for temperature variation in other components of a circuit.

- Understanding "thermistors" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "thermistors" to mean a semiconductor device made of materials whose....

thickset (adjective)

Having a short and solid form or stature.

- A thickset young man.
- Thickset trees.

thudded (verb)

Make a noise typical of an engine lacking lubricants.

- The knocker thudded against the front door.
- Learners should practice how to use "thudded" in real sentences.

tiddler (noun)

A young person of either sex.

- 'tiddler' is a British term for youngster.
- In class, the teacher used "tiddler" to mean a young person of either sex.

---

tillandsia (noun)

Large genus of epiphytic or terrestrial sparse-rooting tropical plants usually forming dense clumps or pendant masses.

- They discussed "tillandsia" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "tillandsia" because he had never seen it before.

---

tippling (verb)

Drink moderately but regularly.

- Can you use "tippling" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "tippling" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

tottered (verb)

Move without being stable, as if threatening to fall.

- The drunk man tottered over to our table.
- He did not know how to use "tottered" until he saw an example.

---

towboat (noun)

A powerful small boat designed to pull or push larger ships.

- In class, the teacher used "towboat" to mean a powerful small boat designed to pull or push....
- They discussed "towboat" during the group presentation.

---

trebuchets (noun)

An engine that provided medieval artillery used during sieges; a heavy war engine for hurling large stones and other missiles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "trebuchets."
- Understanding "trebuchets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

trichomoniasis (noun)

Infection of the vagina.

- He looked up "trichomoniasis" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "trichomoniasis" during the group presentation.

---

triclinic (adjective)

Having three unequal crystal axes intersecting at oblique angles.

- Triclinic system.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "triclinic."

---

triticum durum (noun)

Wheat with hard dark-colored kernels high in gluten and used for bread and pasta; grown especially in southern Russia, North Africa, and northern central North America.

- In class, the teacher used "triticum durum" to mean wheat with hard dark-colored kernels high in gluten....
- Understanding "triticum durum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

truing (verb)

Make level, square, balanced, or concentric.

- He did not know how to use "truing" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "truing" when talking about this idea.

---

tunicates (noun)

Primitive marine animal having a saclike unsegmented body and a urochord that is conspicuous in the larva.

- He looked up "tunicates" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "tunicates" during the group presentation.

---

twirler (noun)

(baseball) the person who does the pitching.

- The article explained what "twirler" means with a simple example.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "twirler."

typographers (noun)

One who sets written material into type.

- In class, the teacher used "typographers" to mean one who sets written material into type.
- Understanding "typographers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

tyros (noun)

Someone new to a field or activity.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tyros."
- The article explained what "tyros" means with a simple example.

ulmus glabra (noun)

Eurasian elm often planted as a shade tree.

- The article explained what "ulmus glabra" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "ulmus glabra" during the group presentation.

unchurched (verb)

Exclude from a church or a religious community.

- In everyday English, people use "unchurched" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "unchurched" until he saw an example.

undecipherable (adjective)

Not easily deciphered.

- The speaker chose "undecipherable" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "undecipherable."

undiplomatic (adjective)

Not skilled in dealing with others.

- A "undiplomatic" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "undiplomatic."

unhatched (adjective)

Not yet emerged from an egg.

- It is useful to describe something as "unhatched" when it is not yet emerged from an egg.
- A "unhatched" approach may work better in this case.

unmarketable (adjective)

Not capable of being sold.

- The speaker chose "unmarketable" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "unmarketable" approach may work better in this case.

unsubstantial (adjective)

Lacking material form or substance; unreal.

- A "unsubstantial" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "unsubstantial" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

unthought (adjective)

So unexpected as to have not been imagined.

- An unthought advantage.
- An unthought-of place to find the key.

unthought-of (adjective)

So unexpected as to have not been imagined.

- An unthought-of place to find the key.
- Would you call this situation "unthought-of"? Explain why.

untwist (verb)

Cause to become untwisted.

- Learners should practice how to use "untwist" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "untwist" until he saw an example.

---

upstroke (noun)

A stroke normally made in an upward direction.

- They discussed "upstroke" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "upstroke" to mean a stroke normally made in an upward direction.

---

vacationer (noun)

Someone on vacation; someone who is devoting time to pleasure or relaxation rather than to work.

- In class, the teacher used "vacationer" to mean someone on vacation; someone who is devoting time....
- They discussed "vacationer" during the group presentation.

---

vaccinium pallidum (noun)

Low deciduous shrub of the eastern United States bearing dark blue sweet berries.

- They discussed "vaccinium pallidum" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "vaccinium pallidum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vanir (noun)

(Norse mythology) race of ancient gods sometimes in conflict with the Aesir.

- He looked up "vanir" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "vanir" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

verd antique (noun)

A dark green impure marble.

- In class, the teacher used "verd antique" to mean a dark green impure marble.
- The article explained what "verd antique" means with a simple example.

---

verruca (noun)

(pathology) a firm abnormal elevated blemish on the skin; caused by a virus.

- He looked up "verruca" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "verruca."

---

vestris (noun)

Italian dancing-master for Louis XVI who was considered the greatest dancer of his day; he was the first to discard the mask in mime (1729-1808).

- He looked up "vestris" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "vestris" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vicinities (noun)

A surrounding or nearby region.

- They discussed "vicinities" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "vicinities."

---

vuillard (noun)

French painter (1868-1940).

- The article explained what "vuillard" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "vuillard."

---

wagners (noun)

Austrian architect and pioneer of modern architecture (1841-1918).

- The article explained what "wagners" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wagners" to mean austrian architect and pioneer of modern....

---

walkabouts (noun)

A public stroll by a celebrity to meet people informally.

- They discussed "walkabouts" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "walkabouts" means with a simple example.

---

waspish (adjective)

Very irritable.

- Witty and waspish about his colleagues.
- A "waspish" approach may work better in this case.

---

waterer (noun)

An assistant who supplies drinking water.

- In class, the teacher used "waterer" to mean an assistant who supplies drinking water.
- He looked up "waterer" because he had never seen it before.

---

wattled (verb)

Build of or with wattle.

- Can you use "wattled" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "wattled" when talking about this idea.

---

waylay (verb)

Wait in hiding to attack.

- In everyday English, people use "waylay" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "waylay" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

whirred (verb)

Make a soft swishing sound.

- The motor whirred.
- Can you use "whirred" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

white mullein (noun)

Densely hairy Eurasian herb with racemose white flowers; naturalized in North America.

- The article explained what "white mullein" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "white mullein" during the group presentation.

---

white-lipped peccary (noun)

Blackish peccary with whitish cheeks; larger than the collared peccary.

- They discussed "white-lipped peccary" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "white-lipped peccary" to mean blackish peccary with whitish cheeks; larger than....

---

whited sepulcher (noun)

A person who is inwardly evil but outwardly professes to be virtuous.

- He looked up "whited sepulcher" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whited sepulcher."

---

xyy (noun)

(genetics) abnormal complement of sex hormones in a male who has two Y chromosomes.

- Understanding "xyy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "xyy" during the group presentation.

---

yardarm (noun)

Either end of the yard of a square-rigged ship.

- Understanding "yardarm" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "yardarm" during the group presentation.

---

yedo (noun)

The capital and largest city of Japan; the economic and cultural center of Japan.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "yedo."
- He looked up "yedo" because he had never seen it before.

yens (noun)

A yearning for something or to do something.

- The article explained what "yens" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "yens."

yids (noun)

(ethnic slur) offensive term for a Jew.

- The article explained what "yids" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "yids" to mean (ethnic slur) offensive term for a jew.

zenos (noun)

Ancient Greek philosopher who founded the Stoic school (circa 335-263 BC).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "zenos."
- They discussed "zenos" during the group presentation.

abandonments (noun)

Withdrawing support or help despite allegiance or responsibility.

- Understanding "abandonments" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "abandonments" because he had never seen it before.

acceptation (noun)

The act of accepting with approval; favorable reception.

- They discussed "acceptation" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "acceptation" to mean the act of accepting with approval; favorable reception.

accoutrement (noun)

Clothing that is worn or carried, but not part of your main clothing.

- In class, the teacher used "accoutrement" to mean clothing that is worn or carried, but not part of....
- Understanding "accoutrement" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

achenes (noun)

Small dry indehiscent fruit with the seed distinct from the fruit wall.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "achenes."
- The article explained what "achenes" means with a simple example.

achillea (noun)

Any of several plants of the genus Achillea native to Europe and having small white flowers in flat-topped flower heads.

- The article explained what "achillea" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "achillea" to mean any of several plants of the genus achillea native....

acid anhydrides (noun)

Organic compounds that react with water to form an acid.

- In class, the teacher used "acid anhydrides" to mean organic compounds that react with water to form an acid.
- Understanding "acid anhydrides" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

ackee (noun)

Red pear-shaped tropical fruit with poisonous seeds; flesh is poisonous when unripe or overripe.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ackee."
- He looked up "ackee" because he had never seen it before.

acute pyelonephritis (noun)

Pyelonephritis resulting from the spread of a bladder infection.

- The article explained what "acute pyelonephritis" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "acute pyelonephritis."

acylation (noun)

The process of introducing an acyl group into a compound.

- He looked up "acylation" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "acylation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

aerially (adverb)

By means of aircraft.

- The survey was carried out aerially.
- The narrator describes the scene "aerially" in the final chapter.

---

agaric (noun)

A saprophytic fungus of the order Agaricales having an umbrellalike cap with gills on the underside.

- The article explained what "agaric" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "agaric" during the group presentation.

---

agglomerates (noun)

A collection of objects laid on top of each other.

- The article explained what "agglomerates" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "agglomerates" during the group presentation.

---

agrostis (noun)

Annual or perennial grasses cosmopolitan in northern hemisphere: bent grass (so named from 'bent' meaning an area of unfenced grassland).

- In class, the teacher used "agrostis" to mean annual or perennial grasses cosmopolitan in....
- The article explained what "agrostis" means with a simple example.

---

americanised (verb)

Make American in character.

- He did not know how to use "americanised" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "americanised" in real sentences.

---

ampulla (noun)

A flask that has two handles; used by Romans for wines or oils.

- He looked up "ampulla" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ampulla."

---

anemone cylindrica (noun)

A common North American anemone with cylindrical fruit clusters resembling thimbles.

- They discussed "anemone cylindrica" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anemone cylindrica."

---

anhydrides (noun)

A compound formed from one or more other compounds in a reaction resulting in removal of water.

- They discussed "anhydrides" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "anhydrides" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

anointment (noun)

The act of applying oil or an oily liquid.

- They discussed "anointment" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "anointment" means with a simple example.

---

antifouling paint (noun)

A paint used to protect against the accumulation of barnacles etc. on underwater surfaces.

- He looked up "antifouling paint" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "antifouling paint" during the group presentation.

---

antiparticle (noun)

A particle that has the same mass as another particle but has opposite values for its other properties; interaction of a particle and its antiparticle results in annihilation and the production of radiant energy.

- Understanding "antiparticle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- In class, the teacher used “antiparticle” to mean a particle that has the same mass as another....

---

aranea (noun)

A genus of orb-weaving spiders including common garden spiders and barn spiders.

- He looked up “aranea” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “aranea” during the group presentation.

---

archipelagic (adjective)

Relating to or part of an archipelago.

- An archipelagic war.
- Would you call this situation “archipelagic”? Explain why.

---

armyworm (noun)

Moth whose destructive larvae travel in multitudes.

- In class, the teacher used “armyworm” to mean moth whose destructive larvae travel in multitudes.
- The article explained what “armyworm” means with a simple example.

---

arraignments (noun)

A legal document calling someone to court to answer an indictment.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “arraignments.”
- Understanding “arraignments” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

artemia (noun)

Fairy shrimp; brine shrimp.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “artemia.”
- They discussed “artemia” during the group presentation.

---

assignor (noun)

(law) the party who makes an assignment.

- In class, the teacher used “assignor” to mean (law) the party who makes an assignment.
- Understanding “assignor” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

athanasian creed (noun)

A Christian profession of faith.

- They discussed “athanasian creed” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “athanasian creed” means with a simple example.

---

atomised (verb)

Break up into small particles.

- She tried to use “atomised” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “atomised” and when to wait.

---

atriplex (noun)

Orach; saltbush.

- The article explained what “atriplex” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “atriplex” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

audibility (noun)

Quality or fact or degree of being audible or perceptible by the ear.

- He looked up “audibility” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “audibility” to mean quality or fact or degree of being audible or....

---

aurorae (noun)

An atmospheric phenomenon consisting of bands of light caused by charged solar particles following the earth’s magnetic lines of force.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “aurorae.”
- Understanding “aurorae” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

austerely (adverb)

In an austere fashion.

- The church was austerely simple.
- He answered "austerely," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

ayin (noun)

The 16th letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ayin."
- He looked up "ayin" because he had never seen it before.

---

babyhood (noun)

The early stage of growth or development.

- In class, the teacher used "babyhood" to mean the early stage of growth or development.
- Understanding "babyhood" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bastardy (noun)

The status of being born to parents who were not married.

- In class, the teacher used "bastardy" to mean the status of being born to parents who were not....
- They discussed "bastardy" during the group presentation.

---

bastardy proceeding (noun)

A lawsuit filed to determine the father of a child born out of wedlock (and to provide for the support of the child once paternity is determined).

- Understanding "bastardy proceeding" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bastardy proceeding."

---

bayed (verb)

Utter in deep prolonged tones.

- Can you use "bayed" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "bayed" when talking about this idea.

---

bentwood (noun)

Wood that is steamed until it becomes pliable and then is shaped for use in making furniture.

- Bentwood chairs.
- Understanding "bentwood" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bergens (noun)

A port city in southwestern Norway.

- He looked up "bergens" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "bergens" to mean a port city in southwestern norway.

---

bermudas (noun)

A group of islands in the Atlantic off the Carolina coast; British colony; a popular resort.

- They discussed "bermudas" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "bermudas" because he had never seen it before.

---

betimes (adverb)

In good time.

- He awoke betimes that morning.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "betimes" naturally.

---

beveling (verb)

Cut a bevel on; shape to a bevel.

- The coach explained when to use "beveling" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "beveling" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

biddable (adjective)

Willing to carry out the orders or wishes of another without protest.

- The speaker chose “biddable” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “biddable.”

---

biedermeier (adjective)

Of or relating to a style of furniture developed in Germany in the 19th century.

- The speaker chose “biedermeier” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as “biedermeier” when it is of or relating to a style of furniture developed in....

---

birefringent (adjective)

Relating to or characterized by double refraction.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “birefringent.”
- A “birefringent” approach may work better in this case.

---

bitterns (noun)

Relatively small compact tawny-brown heron with nocturnal habits and a booming cry; found in marshes.

- They discussed “bitterns” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “bitterns” means with a simple example.

---

blackguards (verb)

Subject to laughter or ridicule.

- In everyday English, people use “blackguards” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “blackguards” until he saw an example.

---

blanches (verb)

Cook (vegetables) briefly.

- The coach explained when to use “blanches” and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use “blanches” in real sentences.

---

blooding (verb)

Smear with blood, as in a hunting initiation rite, where the face of a person is smeared with the blood of the kill.

- Learners should practice how to use “blooding” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “blooding” when talking about this idea.

---

bodge (verb)

Make a mess of, destroy or ruin.

- In everyday English, people use “bodge” when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use “bodge” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

boehme (noun)

German mystic and theosophist who founded modern theosophy; influenced George Fox (1575-1624).

- In class, the teacher used “boehme” to mean german mystic and theosophist who founded modern....
- The article explained what “boehme” means with a simple example.

---

bombyx mori (noun)

Stocky creamy-white Asiatic moth found almost entirely under human care; the source of most of the silk commerce.

- In class, the teacher used “bombyx mori” to mean stocky creamy-white asiatic moth found almost....
- They discussed “bombyx mori” during the group presentation.

---

borings (noun)

The act of drilling a hole in the earth in the hope of producing petroleum.

- In class, the teacher used “borings” to mean the act of drilling a hole in the earth in the hope....
- The article explained what “borings” means with a simple example.

---

brasier (noun)

Large metal container in which coal or charcoal is burned; warms people who must stay outside for long times.

- In class, the teacher used “brasier” to mean large metal container in which coal or charcoal is....
- The article explained what “brasier” means with a simple example.

breakfasting (verb)

Eat an early morning meal.

- He did not know how to use "breakfasting" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "breakfasting" when talking about this idea.

breathalyser (noun)

A device that measures chemicals (especially the alcohol content) in a person's expired breath.

- Understanding "breathalyser" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "breathalyser."

bryozoan (noun)

Sessile aquatic animal forming mossy colonies of small polyps each having a curved or circular ridge bearing tentacles; attach to stones or seaweed and reproduce by budding.

- Understanding "bryozoan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "bryozoan" because he had never seen it before.

butterbean (noun)

Small flat green bean similar to lima beans.

- In class, the teacher used "butterbean" to mean small flat green bean similar to lima beans.
- They discussed "butterbean" during the group presentation.

calumnies (noun)

An abusive attack on a person's character or good name.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "calumnies."
- Understanding "calumnies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

canidae (noun)

Dogs; wolves; jackals; foxes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "canidae."
- They discussed "canidae" during the group presentation.

carl von linne (noun)

Swedish botanist who proposed the modern system of biological nomenclature (1707-1778).

- They discussed "carl von linne" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "carl von linne" means with a simple example.

carlina (noun)

Genus of Mediterranean thistles.

- He looked up "carlina" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carlina."

cassia alata (noun)

Tropical shrub (especially of Americas) having yellow flowers and large leaves whose juice is used as a cure for ringworm and poisonous bites; sometimes placed in genus Cassia.

- They discussed "cassia alata" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "cassia alata" means with a simple example.

chapatis (noun)

Flat pancake-like bread cooked on a griddle.

- They discussed "chapatis" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "chapatis" means with a simple example.

charcoals (noun)

A stick of black carbon material used for drawing.

- Understanding "charcoals" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "charcoals" because he had never seen it before.

chartism (noun)

The principles of a body of 19th century English reformers who advocated better social and economic conditions for working people.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chartism."
- They discussed "chartism" during the group presentation.

---

childe hassam (noun)

United States painter noted for brilliant colors and bold brushwork (1859-1935).

- Understanding "childe hassam" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "childe hassam."

---

chorion (noun)

The outermost membranous sac enclosing the embryo in higher vertebrates (reptiles, birds and mammals).

- He looked up "chorion" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "chorion" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

chronic pyelonephritis (noun)

Pyelonephritis that develops slowly and can lead to renal failure if untreated; often associated with a kidney stone or with narrowing of the urinary passageways.

- They discussed "chronic pyelonephritis" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chronic pyelonephritis."

---

cinderellas (noun)

A woman whose merits were not been recognized but who then achieves sudden success and recognition.

- In class, the teacher used "cinderellas" to mean a woman whose merits were not been recognized but....
- They discussed "cinderellas" during the group presentation.

---

cingulum (noun)

(anatomy) an encircling structure (as the ridge around the base of a tooth).

- He looked up "cingulum" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cingulum."

---

ciss (noun)

An alliance made up of states that had been Soviet Socialist Republics in the Soviet Union prior to its dissolution in Dec 1991.

- Understanding "ciss" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "ciss" because he had never seen it before.

---

cnidarians (noun)

Radially symmetrical animals having saclike bodies with only one opening and tentacles with stinging structures; they occur in polyp and medusa forms.

- Understanding "cnidarians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "cnidarians" during the group presentation.

---

coastwise (adverb)

By way of, or along the coast.

- We were travelling coastwise.
- He answered "coastwise," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

colonics (noun)

A water enema given to flush out the colon.

- In class, the teacher used "colonics" to mean a water enema given to flush out the colon.
- They discussed "colonics" during the group presentation.

---

combativeness (noun)

A militant aggressiveness.

- The article explained what "combativeness" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "combativeness" during the group presentation.

---

combinational (adjective)

Able to or tending to combine.

- Would you call this situation "combinational"? Explain why.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “combinational.”

---

commotions (noun)

A disorderly outburst or tumult.

- He looked up “commotions” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “commotions” during the group presentation.

---

conceptualizes (verb)

Have the idea for.

- Can you use “conceptualizes” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use “conceptualizes” and when to wait.

---

congregant (noun)

A member of a congregation (especially that of a church or synagogue).

- Understanding “congregant” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “congregant” because he had never seen it before.

---

conjurers (noun)

A witch doctor who practices conjury.

- The article explained what “conjurers” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “conjurers.”

---

contos (noun)

1 conto equals 1,000 escudos in Portugal.

- Understanding “contos” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “contos” during the group presentation.

---

corrupter (adjective)

Not straight; dishonest or immoral or evasive.

- Would you call this situation “corrupter”? Explain why.
- The speaker chose “corrupter” because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

corticospinal tract (noun)

Any of the important motor nerves on each side of the central nervous system that run from the sensorimotor areas of the cortex through the brainstem to motor neurons of the cranial nerve nuclei and the ventral root of the spinal cord.

- Understanding “corticospinal tract” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “corticospinal tract.”

---

countrified (adjective)

Characteristic of rural life.

- Countrified clothes.
- Students compared “countrified” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

cowhand (noun)

A hired hand who tends cattle and performs other duties on horseback.

- Understanding “cowhand” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “cowhand” to mean a hired hand who tends cattle and performs other....

---

crawdad (noun)

Tiny lobster-like crustaceans usually boiled briefly.

- In class, the teacher used “crawdad” to mean tiny lobster-like crustaceans usually boiled briefly.
- The article explained what “crawdad” means with a simple example.

---

crochets (verb)

Make a piece of needlework by interlocking and looping thread with a hooked needle.

- Can you use “crochets” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use “crochets” until he saw an example.

---

crocodilian reptile (noun)

Extant archosaurian reptile.

- He looked up "crocodilian reptile" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "crocodilian reptile."

---

crotalus (noun)

Large rattlesnakes; seldom bite unless startled or pursuing prey.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "crotalus."
- The article explained what "crotalus" means with a simple example.

---

cryostat (noun)

A thermostat that operates at very low temperatures.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cryostat."
- They discussed "cryostat" during the group presentation.

---

crystallises (verb)

Cause to take on a definite and clear shape.

- Learners should practice how to use "crystallises" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "crystallises" when talking about this idea.

---

cucurbita (noun)

Type genus of the Cucurbitaceae.

- Understanding "cucurbita" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "cucurbita" during the group presentation.

---

cuneate (adjective)

(of a leaf shape) narrowly triangular, wider at the apex and tapering toward the base.

- The speaker chose "cuneate" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "cuneate" when it is (of a leaf shape) narrowly triangular, wider at the....

---

cuneate leaf (noun)

A wedge-shaped leaf having the acute angle at the base.

- They discussed "cuneate leaf" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "cuneate leaf" because he had never seen it before.

---

cybercrimes (noun)

Crime committed using a computer and the internet to steal a person's identity or sell contraband or stalk victims or disrupt operations with malevolent programs.

- In class, the teacher used "cybercrimes" to mean crime committed using a computer and the internet....
- The article explained what "cybercrimes" means with a simple example.

---

danmarks (noun)

A constitutional monarchy in northern Europe; consists of the mainland of Jutland and many islands between the North Sea and the Baltic Sea.

- The article explained what "danmarks" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "danmarks" to mean a constitutional monarchy in northern europe;....

---

deadbolts (noun)

The part of a lock that is engaged or withdrawn with a key.

- He looked up "deadbolts" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "deadbolts" during the group presentation.

---

debarment (noun)

The act of prevention by legal means.

- They achieved his debarment from holding public office.
- He looked up "debarment" because he had never seen it before.

---

decolonize (verb)

Grant independence to (a former colony).

- West Africa was decolonized in the early 1960's.
- Learners should practice how to use "decolonize" in real sentences.

---

delphiniums (noun)

Any plant of the genus Delphinium having palmately divided leaves and showy spikes of variously colored spurred flowers; some contain extremely poisonous substances.

- He looked up "delphiniums" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "delphiniums" during the group presentation.

---

deneb (noun)

The brightest star in Cygnus.

- In class, the teacher used "deneb" to mean the brightest star in cygnus.
- Understanding "deneb" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

deputations (noun)

A group of representatives or delegates.

- In class, the teacher used "deputations" to mean a group of representatives or delegates.
- Understanding "deputations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

deuteron (noun)

The nucleus of deuterium; consists of one proton and one neutron; used as a bombarding particle in accelerators.

- In class, the teacher used "deuteron" to mean the nucleus of deuterium; consists of one proton....
- Understanding "deuteron" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

diametric (adjective)

Characterized by opposite extremes; completely opposed.

- In diametric contradiction to his claims.
- Diametrical (or opposite) points of view.

---

dingos (noun)

Wolflike yellowish-brown wild dog of Australia.

- Understanding "dingos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dingos" because he had never seen it before.

---

discolorations (noun)

A soiled or discolored appearance.

- They discussed "discolorations" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "discolorations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

discotheques (noun)

A public dance hall for dancing to recorded popular music.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "discotheques."
- The article explained what "discotheques" means with a simple example.

---

discursively (adverb)

In a rambling manner.

- Place "discursively" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "discursively" naturally.

---

downscale (adjective)

Intended for people with low incomes.

- Mass-produced downscale versions of high-priced fashions.
- It is useful to describe something as "downscale" when it is intended for people with low incomes.

---

eccrine gland (noun)

A small sweat gland that produces only a fluid; restricted to the human skin.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "eccrine gland."
- They discussed "eccrine gland" during the group presentation.

eclogue (noun)

A short poem descriptive of rural or pastoral life.

- Understanding "eclogue" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "eclogue" to mean a short poem descriptive of rural or pastoral life.

economise (verb)

Use cautiously and frugally.

- She tried to use "economise" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "economise" until he saw an example.

economizing (verb)

Use cautiously and frugally.

- The coach explained when to use "economizing" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "economizing" until he saw an example.

eegs (noun)

A graphical record of electrical activity of the brain; produced by an electroencephalograph.

- In class, the teacher used "eegs" to mean a graphical record of electrical activity of the....
- Understanding "eegs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

effortlessness (noun)

The quality of requiring little effort.

- Such effortlessness is achieved only after hours of practice.
- Understanding "effortlessness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

el misti (noun)

The world's 2nd largest active volcano; located in the Andes in southern Peru.

- They discussed "el misti" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "el misti" because he had never seen it before.

enology (noun)

The art of wine making.

- The article explained what "enology" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "enology" during the group presentation.

enthral (verb)

Hold spellbound.

- Learners should practice how to use "enthral" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "enthral" carefully so everyone would understand.

entwining (verb)

Spin,wind, or twist together.

- Can you use "entwining" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "entwining" until he saw an example.

epicondyle (noun)

A projection on a bone above a condyle serving for the attachment of muscles and ligaments.

- In class, the teacher used "epicondyle" to mean a projection on a bone above a condyle serving for....
- They discussed "epicondyle" during the group presentation.

epistaxis (noun)

Bleeding from the nose.

- Understanding "epistaxis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "epistaxis."

euphorbia medusae (noun)

African dwarf succulent perennial shrub with numerous slender drooping branches.

- The article explained what "euphorbia medusae" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "euphorbia medusae" to mean african dwarf succulent perennial shrub with....

---

euryale (noun)

(Greek mythology) one of the three Gorgons.

- The article explained what "euryale" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "euryale" to mean (greek mythology) one of the three gorgons.

---

exer (adjective)

Out of fashion.

- Students compared "exer" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "exer" approach may work better in this case.

---

explicitness (noun)

Clarity as a consequence of being explicit.

- They discussed "explicitness" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "explicitness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

faceplates (noun)

A protective covering for the front of a machine or device (as a door lock or computer component).

- He looked up "faceplates" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "faceplates."

---

faddish (adjective)

Intensely fashionable for a short time.

- The speaker chose "faddish" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "faddish"? Explain why.

---

faithlessness (noun)

Unfaithfulness by virtue of being unreliable or treacherous.

- In class, the teacher used "faithlessness" to mean unfaithfulness by virtue of being unreliable or....
- The article explained what "faithlessness" means with a simple example.

---

fakirs (noun)

A Muslim or Hindu mendicant monk who is regarded as a holy man.

- He looked up "fakirs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fakirs."

---

fall armyworm (noun)

Larva of a migratory American noctuid moth; destroys grasses and small grains.

- The article explained what "fall armyworm" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "fall armyworm" to mean larva of a migratory american noctuid moth;....

---

family canidae (noun)

Dogs; wolves; jackals; foxes.

- The article explained what "family canidae" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "family canidae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

farsightedness (noun)

A reduced ability to focus on near objects caused by loss of elasticity of the crystalline lens after age 45.

- He looked up "farsightedness" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "farsightedness."

---

fatefully (adverb)

In a prophetically fateful manner.

- The nurse whispered fatefully to call the priest.

- He answered "fatefully," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

featherless (adjective)

Having no feathers.

- A featherless biped.
- Students compared "featherless" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

feudalistic (adjective)

Of or relating to or characteristic of feudalism.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "feudalistic."
- Students compared "feudalistic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

filched (verb)

Make off with belongings of others.

- He did not know how to use "filched" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "filched" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

filthier (adjective)

Disgustingly dirty; filled or smeared with offensive matter.

- The speaker chose "filthier" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "filthier" approach may work better in this case.

---

flagellated protozoan (noun)

A usually nonphotosynthetic free-living protozoan with whiplike appendages; some are pathogens of humans and other animals.

- They discussed "flagellated protozoan" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "flagellated protozoan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

flakiness (noun)

Having or breaking into thin crisp flakes.

- In class, the teacher used "flakiness" to mean having or breaking into thin crisp flakes.
- Understanding "flakiness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

flouncing (verb)

Walk emphatically.

- He did not know how to use "flouncing" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "flouncing" when talking about this idea.

---

fluky (adjective)

Subject to accident or chance or change.

- Getting that job was definitely fluky.
- A fluky wind.

---

fly agaric (noun)

Poisonous (but rarely fatal) woodland fungus having a scarlet cap with white warts and white gills.

- In class, the teacher used "fly agaric" to mean poisonous (but rarely fatal) woodland fungus having....
- They discussed "fly agaric" during the group presentation.

---

forbearing (adjective)

Showing patient and unruffled self-control and restraint under adversity; slow to retaliate or express resentment.

- Seemly and forbearing...yet strong enough to resist aggression.
- A "forbearing" approach may work better in this case.

---

foreordained (adjective)

Established or prearranged unalterably.

- His place in history was foreordained.
- It is useful to describe something as "foreordained" when it is established or prearranged unalterably.

---

frederick childe hassam (noun)

United States painter noted for brilliant colors and bold brushwork (1859-1935).

- They discussed "frederick childe hassam" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "frederick childe hassam" because he had never seen it before.

---

fundi (noun)

(anatomy) the base of a hollow organ or that part of the organ farthest from its opening.

- In class, the teacher used "fundi" to mean (anatomy) the base of a hollow organ or that part....
- The article explained what "fundi" means with a simple example.

---

gaols (noun)

A correctional institution used to detain persons who are in the lawful custody of the government (either accused persons awaiting trial or convicted persons serving a sentence).

- In class, the teacher used "gaols" to mean a correctional institution used to detain persons....
- The article explained what "gaols" means with a simple example.

---

gawp (verb)

Look with amazement; look stupidly.

- He did not know how to use "gawp" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "gawp" and when to wait.

---

genus achillea (noun)

Perennial often aromatic and sometimes mat-forming herbs of north temperate regions: yarrow; milfoil.

- They discussed "genus achillea" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "genus achillea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus agrostis (noun)

Annual or perennial grasses cosmopolitan in northern hemisphere: bent grass (so named from 'bent' meaning an area of unfenced grassland).

- Understanding "genus agrostis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "genus agrostis" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus aranea (noun)

A genus of orb-weaving spiders including common garden spiders and barn spiders.

- In class, the teacher used "genus aranea" to mean a genus of orb-weaving spiders including common....
- The article explained what "genus aranea" means with a simple example.

---

genus artemia (noun)

Fairy shrimp; brine shrimp.

- The article explained what "genus artemia" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus artemia."

---

genus atriplex (noun)

Orach; saltbush.

- They discussed "genus atriplex" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "genus atriplex" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus carlina (noun)

Genus of Mediterranean thistles.

- In class, the teacher used "genus carlina" to mean genus of mediterranean thistles.
- They discussed "genus carlina" during the group presentation.

---

genus crotalus (noun)

Large rattlesnakes; seldom bite unless startled or pursuing prey.

- The article explained what "genus crotalus" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "genus crotalus" during the group presentation.

---

genus cucurbita (noun)

Type genus of the Cucurbitaceae.

- He looked up “genus cucurbita” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus cucurbita.”

---

genus euryale (noun)

Basket stars.

- They discussed “genus euryale” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “genus euryale” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus laurus (noun)

Small evergreen trees or shrubs with aromatic leaves.

- He looked up “genus laurus” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “genus laurus” during the group presentation.

---

genus leptospira (noun)

Very slender aerobic spirochetes; free-living or parasitic in mammals.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus leptospira.”
- They discussed “genus leptospira” during the group presentation.

---

genus nymphaea (noun)

The type genus of the family Nymphaeaceae; any of a variety of water lilies.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus nymphaea.”
- They discussed “genus nymphaea” during the group presentation.

---

genus pothos (noun)

Evergreen climbers with adhesive adventitious roots; southeastern Asia and Brazil.

- They discussed “genus pothos” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “genus pothos” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus pseudotsuga (noun)

Douglas fir; closely related to genera Larix and Cathaya.

- In class, the teacher used “genus pseudotsuga” to mean douglas fir; closely related to genera larix and....
- He looked up “genus pseudotsuga” because he had never seen it before.

---

genus sambucus (noun)

Elder; elderberry.

- They discussed “genus sambucus” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “genus sambucus” means with a simple example.

---

genus sciurus (noun)

Type genus of the Sciuridae; typical moderate-sized arboreal squirrels.

- He looked up “genus sciurus” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus sciurus.”

---

genus sorbus (noun)

A genus of shrubs or trees of the family Rosaceae having feathery leaves.

- In class, the teacher used “genus sorbus” to mean a genus of shrubs or trees of the family rosaceae....
- They discussed “genus sorbus” during the group presentation.

---

genus spodoptera (noun)

Moths whose larvae are armyworms.

- They discussed “genus spodoptera” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “genus spodoptera” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

geryon (noun)

(Greek mythology) a mythical monster with three heads that was slain by Hercules.

- In class, the teacher used “geryon” to mean (greek mythology) a mythical monster with three....
- Understanding “geryon” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

golden pothos (noun)

Evergreen liana widely cultivated for its variegated foliage.

- Understanding "golden pothos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "golden pothos" because he had never seen it before.

graffito (noun)

A rude decoration inscribed on rocks or walls.

- He looked up "graffito" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "graffito."

groundings (noun)

Education or instruction in the fundamentals of a field of knowledge.

- Understanding "groundings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "groundings" means with a simple example.

handbell (noun)

A bell that is held in the hand.

- He looked up "handbell" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "handbell" during the group presentation.

hannukah (noun)

(Judaism) an eight-day Jewish holiday commemorating the rededication of the Temple of Jerusalem in 165 BC.

- In class, the teacher used "hannukah" to mean (judaism) an eight-day jewish holiday commemorating....
- The article explained what "hannukah" means with a simple example.

hasdrubal (noun)

General who commanded a Carthaginian army in Spain; joined his brother Hannibal in Italy and was killed by the Romans at the battle of Metaurus River (died 207 BC).

- Understanding "hasdrubal" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "hasdrubal" to mean general who commanded a carthaginian army in spain;....

hawkings (noun)

The act of selling goods for a living.

- Understanding "hawkings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "hawkings" to mean the act of selling goods for a living.

hawser (noun)

Large heavy rope for nautical use.

- Understanding "hawser" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "hawser" to mean large heavy rope for nautical use.

hawser bend (noun)

A knot uniting the ends of two lines.

- They discussed "hawser bend" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "hawser bend" because he had never seen it before.

hayti (noun)

An island in the West Indies.

- The article explained what "hayti" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "hayti" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

hepatoma (noun)

Carcinoma of the liver.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hepatoma."
- The article explained what "hepatoma" means with a simple example.

hidatsa (noun)

A member of the Sioux people formerly inhabiting an area along the Missouri river in western North Dakota.

- Understanding "hidatsa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "hidatsa" because he had never seen it before.

---

hilling (verb)

Form into a hill.

- He did not know how to use "hilling" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "hilling" in real sentences.

---

hived (verb)

Move together in a hive or as if in a hive.

- He hived lots of information.
- The beekeeper hived the swarm.

---

hogweed (noun)

Tall coarse plant having thick stems and cluster of white to purple flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hogweed."
- They discussed "hogweed" during the group presentation.

---

homecourt advantage (noun)

The advantage of playing on your home court in front of fans who are rooting for you.

- The article explained what "homecourt advantage" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "homecourt advantage" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hydrolyzing (verb)

Undergo hydrolysis; decompose by reacting with water.

- Can you use "hydrolyzing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "hydrolyzing" until he saw an example.

---

hymenium (noun)

Spore-bearing layer of cells in certain fungi containing asci or basidia.

- In class, the teacher used "hymenium" to mean spore-bearing layer of cells in certain fungi....
- The article explained what "hymenium" means with a simple example.

---

ibidem (adverb)

In the same place (used when citing a reference).

- He answered "ibidem," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- The narrator describes the scene "ibidem" in the final chapter.

---

icepick (noun)

Pick consisting of a steel rod with a sharp point; used for breaking up blocks of ice.

- Understanding "icepick" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "icepick" means with a simple example.

---

ideologists (noun)

An advocate of some ideology.

- Understanding "ideologists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "ideologists" to mean an advocate of some ideology.

---

ileus (noun)

Blockage of the intestine (especially the ileum) that prevents the contents of the intestine from passing to the lower bowel.

- In class, the teacher used "ileus" to mean blockage of the intestine (especially the ileum)....
- The article explained what "ileus" means with a simple example.

---

immersions (noun)

The act of wetting something by submerging it.

- Understanding "immersions" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- He looked up "immersions" because he had never seen it before.

impatiens capensis (noun)

North American annual plant with usually yellow or orange flowers; grows chiefly on wet rather acid soil.

- Understanding "impatiens capensis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "impatiens capensis."

importunate (adjective)

Expressing earnest entreaty.

- An importunate job applicant.
- Would you call this situation "importunate"? Explain why.

imputations (noun)

A statement attributing something dishonest (especially a criminal offense).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "imputations."
- He looked up "imputations" because he had never seen it before.

inanities (noun)

Total lack of meaning or ideas.

- He looked up "inanities" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "inanities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

incomings (noun)

The act of entering.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "incomings."
- The article explained what "incomings" means with a simple example.

incurved (adjective)

Bent into or having an inward curve.

- It is useful to describe something as "incurved" when it is bent into or having an inward curve.
- The speaker chose "incurved" because it captured the feeling precisely.

inducts (verb)

Place ceremoniously or formally in an office or position.

- Learners should practice how to use "inducts" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "inducts" and when to wait.

inla (noun)

A radical terrorist group dedicated to the removal of British forces from Northern Ireland and the unification of Ireland.

- In class, the teacher used "inla" to mean a radical terrorist group dedicated to the removal....
- Understanding "inla" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

inscribes (verb)

Register formally as a participant or member.

- She tried to use "inscribes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "inscribes" until he saw an example.

internalizes (verb)

Incorporate within oneself; make subjective or personal.

- She tried to use "internalizes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "internalizes" and when to wait.

iraqi mukhabarat (noun)

The most notorious and possibly the most important arm of Iraq's security system.

- The Iraqi Mukhabarat has been involved in numerous terrorist activities.
- Understanding "iraqi mukhabarat" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

irishwoman (noun)

A woman who is a native or inhabitant of Ireland.

- The article explained what "irishwoman" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "irishwoman" to mean a woman who is a native or inhabitant of ireland.

---

isomerism (noun)

The state of being an isomer; the complex of chemical and physical phenomena characteristic of isomers.

- In class, the teacher used "isomerism" to mean the state of being an isomer; the complex of....
- The article explained what "isomerism" means with a simple example.

---

isometry (noun)

A one-to-one mapping of one metric space into another metric space that preserves the distances between each pair of points.

- He looked up "isometry" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "isometry" to mean a one-to-one mapping of one metric space into....

---

isothiocyanate (noun)

A family of compounds derived from horseradish and radishes and onions and mustards; source of the hotness of those plants and preparations.

- Understanding "isothiocyanate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "isothiocyanate" means with a simple example.

---

jarvik artificial heart (noun)

A kind of artificial heart that has been used with some success.

- They discussed "jarvik artificial heart" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "jarvik artificial heart" because he had never seen it before.

---

jarvik heart (noun)

A kind of artificial heart that has been used with some success.

- They discussed "jarvik heart" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "jarvik heart" because he had never seen it before.

---

journalistically (adverb)

By journalists.

- He is being journalistically crucified in his own country.
- Using "journalistically" can make your explanation more exact.

---

kabala (noun)

An esoteric or occult matter resembling the Kabbalah that is traditionally secret.

- He looked up "kabala" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "kabala" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kangaroo's paw (noun)

Sedgelike spring-flowering herb having clustered flowers covered with woolly hairs; Australia.

- Understanding "kangaroo's paw" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "kangaroo's paw" because he had never seen it before.

---

karl linne (noun)

Swedish botanist who proposed the modern system of biological nomenclature (1707-1778).

- Understanding "karl linne" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "karl linne" during the group presentation.

---

kayaked (verb)

Travel in a small canoe.

- We kayaked down the river.
- The coach explained when to use "kayaked" and when to wait.

---

kludge (noun)

A badly assembled collection of parts hastily assembled to serve some particular purpose (often used to refer to computing systems or software that has been badly put together).

- In class, the teacher used "kludge" to mean a badly assembled collection of parts hastily....
- The article explained what "kludge" means with a simple example.

---

kund johan victor rasmussen (noun)

Danish ethnologist and Arctic explorer; led expeditions into the Arctic to find support for his theory that Eskimos and North American Indians originally migrated from Asia (1879-1933).

- Understanding "kund johan victor rasmussen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "kund johan victor rasmussen" because he had never seen it before.

---

kvs (noun)

A unit of potential equal to a thousand volts.

- He looked up "kvs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kvs."

---

landslips (noun)

A slide of a large mass of dirt and rock down a mountain or cliff.

- He looked up "landslips" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "landslips."

---

laotians (noun)

A member of a Buddhist people inhabiting the area of the Mekong River in Laos and Thailand and speaking the Lao language; related to the Thais.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "laotians."
- They discussed "laotians" during the group presentation.

---

lapwings (noun)

Large crested Old World plover having wattles and spurs.

- They discussed "lapwings" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lapwings."

---

larcenies (noun)

The act of taking something from someone unlawfully.

- Understanding "larcenies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "larcenies" to mean the act of taking something from someone unlawfully.

---

lateral epicondyle (noun)

Epicondyle near the lateral condyle of the femur.

- They discussed "lateral epicondyle" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "lateral epicondyle" because he had never seen it before.

---

latona (noun)

Wife or mistress of Zeus and mother of Apollo and Artemis in ancient mythology; called Latona in Roman mythology.

- The article explained what "latona" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "latona" to mean wife or mistress of zeus and mother of apollo and....

---

laurentius (noun)

Roman martyr; supposedly Lawrence was ordered by the police to give up the church's treasure and when he responded by presenting the poor people of Rome he was roasted to death on a gridiron (died in 258).

- Understanding "laurentius" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "laurentius" to mean roman martyr; supposedly lawrence was ordered by....

---

laurus (noun)

Small evergreen trees or shrubs with aromatic leaves.

- Understanding "laurus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "laurus" means with a simple example.

---

lavers (noun)

Seaweed with edible translucent crinkly green fronds.

- They discussed "lavers" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "lavers" to mean seaweed with edible translucent crinkly green fronds.

leadbelly (noun)

United States folk singer and composer (1885-1949).

- In class, the teacher used "leadbelly" to mean united states folk singer and composer (1885-1949).
- He looked up "leadbelly" because he had never seen it before.

lents (noun)

A period of 40 weekdays from Ash Wednesday to Holy Saturday.

- He looked up "lents" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lents."

leptospira (noun)

Important pathogens causing Weil's disease or canicola fever.

- They discussed "leptospira" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "leptospira" because he had never seen it before.

lichen ruber planus (noun)

An eruption of shiny flat-topped purplish (usually itchy) papules on the wrist and forearms and thighs.

- He looked up "lichen ruber planus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "lichen ruber planus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

litchi chinensis (noun)

Chinese tree cultivated especially in Philippines and India for its edible fruit; sometimes placed in genus Nephelium.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "litchi chinensis."
- He looked up "litchi chinensis" because he had never seen it before.

loaches (noun)

Slender freshwater fishes of Eurasia and Africa resembling catfishes.

- The article explained what "loaches" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "loaches" during the group presentation.

loaners (noun)

A car that is lent as a replacement for one that is under repair.

- In class, the teacher used "loaners" to mean a car that is lent as a replacement for one that is....
- The article explained what "loaners" means with a simple example.

lonicera canadensis (noun)

Erect deciduous North American shrub with yellow-white flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "lonicera canadensis" to mean erect deciduous north american shrub with....
- The article explained what "lonicera canadensis" means with a simple example.

lonicera japonica (noun)

An Asiatic trailing evergreen honeysuckle with half-evergreen leaves and fragrant white flowers turning yellow with age; has become a weed in some areas.

- He looked up "lonicera japonica" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "lonicera japonica" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

looseleaf (adjective)

Being or having leaves that can be easily removed or rearranged.

- A looseleaf notebook.
- It is useful to describe something as "looseleaf" when it is being or having leaves that can be easily removed....

louis stanton auchincloss (noun)

United States writer (born in 1917).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "louis stanton auchincloss."
- He looked up "louis stanton auchincloss" because he had never seen it before.

loverly (adjective)

Like or in the manner of a lover.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "loverly."
- Would you call this situation "loverly"? Explain why.

---

lpns (noun)

A nurse who has enough training to be licensed by a state to provide routine care for the sick.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lpns."
- He looked up "lpns" because he had never seen it before.

---

lubricator (noun)

A substance capable of reducing friction by making surfaces smooth or slippery.

- They discussed "lubricator" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lubricator."

---

luganda (noun)

The Bantu language of the Buganda people; spoken in Uganda.

- In class, the teacher used "luganda" to mean the bantu language of the buganda people; spoken in....
- He looked up "luganda" because he had never seen it before.

---

mailmen (noun)

A man who delivers the mail.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mailmen."
- They discussed "mailmen" during the group presentation.

---

makuta (noun)

100 makuta equal 1 zaire in Zaire.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "makuta."
- He looked up "makuta" because he had never seen it before.

---

malvasia (noun)

Used to make malmsey wine.

- In class, the teacher used "malvasia" to mean used to make malmsey wine.
- The article explained what "malvasia" means with a simple example.

---

manumitted (verb)

Free from slavery or servitude.

- Learners should practice how to use "manumitted" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "manumitted" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

marabout (noun)

Large African black-and-white carrion-eating stork; its downy underwing feathers are used to trim garments.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "marabout."
- They discussed "marabout" during the group presentation.

---

marrieds (noun)

A person who is married.

- We invited several young marrieds.
- The article explained what "marrieds" means with a simple example.

---

matrixes (noun)

The formative tissue at the base of a nail.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "matrixes."
- The article explained what "matrixes" means with a simple example.

---

maxillae (noun)

The jaw in vertebrates that is fused to the cranium.

- They discussed "maxillae" during the group presentation.

- The article explained what "maxillae" means with a simple example.

---

mayos (noun)

Egg yolks and oil and vinegar.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mayos."
- He looked up "mayos" because he had never seen it before.

---

meades (noun)

English economist noted for his studies of international trade and finance (1907-1995).

- They discussed "meades" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "meades" to mean english economist noted for his studies of....

---

mediocrities (noun)

A person of second-rate ability or value.

- Shone among the mediocrities who surrounded him.
- The article explained what "mediocrities" means with a simple example.

---

mentha aquatica (noun)

A European mint that thrives in wet places; has a perfume like that of the bergamot orange; naturalized in eastern North America.

- He looked up "mentha aquatica" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mentha aquatica."

---

mesentery (noun)

A double layer of peritoneum that attaches to the back wall of the abdominal cavity and supports the small intestines.

- He looked up "mesentery" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mesentery."

---

milieus (noun)

The environmental condition.

- He looked up "milieus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "milieus."

---

millilitre (noun)

A metric unit of volume equal to one thousandth of a liter.

- They discussed "millilitre" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "millilitre."

---

miltiades (noun)

Athenian general who defeated the Persians at Marathon (540-489).

- Understanding "miltiades" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "miltiades."

---

misconducts (noun)

Activity that transgresses moral or civil law.

- Understanding "misconducts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "misconducts."

---

miwok (noun)

A member of the North American Indian people living in the central Sierra Nevada in California.

- They discussed "miwok" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "miwok" because he had never seen it before.

---

modest petrovich mussorgsky (noun)

Russian composer of operas and orchestral works (1839-1881).

- The article explained what "modest petrovich mussorgsky" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "modest petrovich mussorgsky" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

monkshood (noun)

A poisonous herb native to northern Europe having hooded blue-purple flowers; the dried leaves and roots yield aconite.

- In class, the teacher used "monkshood" to mean a poisonous herb native to northern europe having....
- They discussed "monkshood" during the group presentation.

---

montezuma's revenge (noun)

Diarrhea contracted in Mexico or Central America.

- In class, the teacher used "montezuma's revenge" to mean diarrhea contracted in mexico or central america.
- The article explained what "montezuma's revenge" means with a simple example.

---

moonlighted (verb)

Work a second job, usually after hours.

- She tried to use "moonlighted" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "moonlighted" when talking about this idea.

---

muscadine (noun)

Dull-purple grape of southern United States.

- They discussed "muscadine" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "muscadine" to mean dull-purple grape of southern united states.

---

musculus trapezius (noun)

Either of two flat triangular muscles of the shoulder and upper back that are involved in moving the shoulders and arms.

- Understanding "musculus trapezius" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "musculus trapezius" means with a simple example.

---

nanometres (noun)

A metric unit of length equal to one billionth of a meter.

- He looked up "nanometres" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "nanometres" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

narcissi (noun)

(Greek mythology) a beautiful young man who fell in love with his own reflection.

- Understanding "narcissi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "narcissi" to mean (greek mythology) a beautiful young man who fell in....

---

nicotiana rustica (noun)

Tobacco plant of South America and Mexico.

- They discussed "nicotiana rustica" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "nicotiana rustica" means with a simple example.

---

nincompoops (noun)

A stupid foolish person.

- They discussed "nincompoops" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "nincompoops" means with a simple example.

---

nitrides (noun)

A compound containing nitrogen and a more electropositive element (such as phosphorus or a metal).

- Understanding "nitrides" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nitrides."

---

noncitizen (noun)

A person who comes from a foreign country; someone who does not owe allegiance to your country.

- The article explained what "noncitizen" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "noncitizen" to mean a person who comes from a foreign country; someone....

---

nosedived (verb)

Plunge nose first; drop with the nose or front first, of aircraft.

- Can you use "nosedived" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "nosedived" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

nymphaea (noun)

The type genus of the family Nymphaeaceae; any of a variety of water lilies.

- They discussed "nymphaea" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "nymphaea" because he had never seen it before.

---

nymphaea lotus (noun)

White Egyptian lotus: water lily of Egypt to southeastern Africa; held sacred by the Egyptians.

- He looked up "nymphaea lotus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nymphaea lotus."

---

octoberfest (noun)

A strong lager made originally in Germany for the Oktoberfest celebration; sweet and copper-colored.

- Understanding "octoberfest" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "octoberfest" because he had never seen it before.

---

olive-tree agaric (noun)

Red luminescent mushroom of Europe.

- They discussed "olive-tree agaric" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "olive-tree agaric" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

otorhinolaryngology (noun)

The medical specialty that deals with diseases of the ear, nose and throat.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "otorhinolaryngology."
- They discussed "otorhinolaryngology" during the group presentation.

---

overcompensated (verb)

Make up for shortcomings or a feeling of inferiority by exaggerating good qualities.

- Can you use "overcompensated" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "overcompensated" and when to wait.

---

overdoes (verb)

Do something to an excessive degree.

- Can you use "overdoes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "overdoes" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

overwintered (verb)

Spend the winter.

- Shackleton's men overwintered on Elephant Island.
- She tried to use "overwintered" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

oyster agaric (noun)

Edible agaric with a soft greyish cap growing in shelving masses on dead wood.

- They discussed "oyster agaric" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "oyster agaric" means with a simple example.

---

palmy (adjective)

Very lively and profitable.

- A palmy time for stockbrokers.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "palmy."

---

parthenogenetic (adjective)

(of reproduction) not involving the fusion of male and female gametes in reproduction.

- Students compared "parthenogenetic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "parthenogenetic."

particularism (noun)

A focus on something particular.

- He looked up "particularism" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "particularism."

passkey (noun)

Key that secures entrance everywhere.

- In class, the teacher used "passkey" to mean key that secures entrance everywhere.
- They discussed "passkey" during the group presentation.

pastiches (noun)

A work of art that imitates the style of some previous work.

- He looked up "pastiches" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pastiches" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

peccadilloes (noun)

A petty misdeed.

- Understanding "peccadilloes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "peccadilloes."

pedlars (noun)

Someone who travels about selling his wares (as on the streets or at carnivals).

- The article explained what "pedlars" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pedlars."

pelagianism (noun)

The theological doctrine put forward by Pelagius which denied original sin and affirmed the ability of humans to be righteous; condemned as heresy by the Council of Ephesus in 431.

- He looked up "pelagianism" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "pelagianism" to mean the theological doctrine put forward by pelagius....

petty whin (noun)

Prickly yellow-flowered shrub of the moors of New England and Europe.

- He looked up "petty whin" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "petty whin" during the group presentation.

phocas (noun)

Type genus of the Phocidae: earless seals.

- Understanding "phocas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "phocas" means with a simple example.

pickiest (adjective)

Exacting especially about details.

- Would you call this situation "pickiest"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "pickiest" when it is exacting especially about details.

piercingly (adverb)

Extremely and sharply.

- Place "piercingly" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "piercingly" naturally.

pietistic (adjective)

Of or relating to Pietism.

- The Pietistic movement.
- Would you call this situation "pietistic"? Explain why.

plosives (noun)

A consonant produced by stopping the flow of air at some point and suddenly releasing it.

- The article explained what "plosives" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "plosives" during the group presentation.

---

plunking (verb)

Pull lightly but sharply with a plucking motion.

- She tried to use "plunking" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "plunking" until he saw an example.

---

porphyrins (noun)

Any of various pigments distributed widely in living tissues.

- Understanding "porphyrins" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "porphyrins" means with a simple example.

---

poshest (adjective)

Elegant and fashionable; ; ; ; - Julia Child.

- It is useful to describe something as "poshest" when it is elegant and fashionable; ; ; ; - julia child.
- The speaker chose "poshest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

posset (noun)

Sweet spiced hot milk curdled with ale or beer.

- He looked up "posset" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "posset."

---

pothos (noun)

Any of various tropical lianas of the genus Scindapsus.

- The article explained what "pothos" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "pothos" to mean any of various tropical lianas of the genus scindapsus.

---

pratfalls (noun)

A fall onto your buttocks.

- The article explained what "pratfalls" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "pratfalls" to mean a fall onto your buttocks.

---

preened (verb)

Dress or groom with elaborate care.

- The birds preened.
- Can you use "preened" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

prejudged (verb)

Judge beforehand, especially without sufficient evidence.

- Learners should practice how to use "prejudged" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "prejudged" when talking about this idea.

---

premedical (adjective)

Preceding and preparing for the study of medicine.

- Premedical courses.
- Would you call this situation "premedical"? Explain why.

---

primly (adverb)

In a prissy manner.

- Using "primly" can make your explanation more exact.
- He answered "primly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

probables (noun)

An applicant likely to be chosen.

- In class, the teacher used "probables" to mean an applicant likely to be chosen.

- The article explained what "probables" means with a simple example.

---

prostrations (noun)

An abrupt failure of function or complete physical exhaustion.

- He looked up "prostrations" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "prostrations" during the group presentation.

---

pseudotsuga (noun)

Douglas fir; closely related to genera Larix and Cathaya.

- He looked up "pseudotsuga" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pseudotsuga" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

publicizes (verb)

Make public.

- She tried to use "publicizes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "publicizes" until he saw an example.

---

pullbacks (noun)

A device (as a decorative loop of cord or fabric) for holding or drawing something back.

- The draperies were drawn to the sides by pullbacks.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pullbacks."

---

punctuations (noun)

The marks used to clarify meaning by indicating separation of words into sentences and clauses and phrases.

- They discussed "punctuations" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "punctuations" means with a simple example.

---

pyelonephritis (noun)

Inflammation of the kidney and its pelvis caused by bacterial infection.

- They discussed "pyelonephritis" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pyelonephritis" means with a simple example.

---

rana pipiens (noun)

Common North American green or brownish frog having white-edged dark oval spots.

- He looked up "rana pipiens" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rana pipiens."

---

readier (adjective)

Completely prepared or in condition for immediate action or use or progress.

- It is useful to describe something as "readier" when it is completely prepared or in condition for immediate....
- Students compared "readier" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

reenacts (verb)

Act out; represent or perform as if in a play.

- Can you use "reenacts" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "reenacts" and when to wait.

---

reorganisations (noun)

The imposition of a new organization; organizing differently (often involving extensive and drastic changes).

- He looked up "reorganisations" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "reorganisations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

resections (noun)

Surgical removal of part of a structure or organ.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "resections."
- The article explained what "resections" means with a simple example.

---

reseed (verb)

Maintain by seeding without human intervention.

- Some plants reseed themselves indefinitely.
- She tried to use "reseed" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

rewa-rewa (noun)

Slender elegant tree of New Zealand having racemes of red flowers and yielding valuable mottled red timber.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rewa-rewa."
- The article explained what "rewa-rewa" means with a simple example.

---

ribes nigrum (noun)

Widely cultivated current bearing edible black aromatic berries.

- They discussed "ribes nigrum" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ribes nigrum" to mean widely cultivated current bearing edible black....

---

rookeries (noun)

A breeding ground for gregarious birds (such as rooks).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rookeries."
- They discussed "rookeries" during the group presentation.

---

royal agaric (noun)

Widely distributed edible mushroom resembling the fly agaric.

- He looked up "royal agaric" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "royal agaric."

---

ruminated (verb)

Reflect deeply on a subject.

- In everyday English, people use "ruminated" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "ruminated" in real sentences.

---

salmonella typhi (noun)

A form of salmonella that causes typhoid fever.

- He looked up "salmonella typhi" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "salmonella typhi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

saltiest (adjective)

Containing or filled with salt.

- The speaker chose "saltiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "saltiest"? Explain why.

---

sambucus (noun)

Elder; elderberry.

- The article explained what "sambucus" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sambucus."

---

sanderling (noun)

Small sandpiper that breeds in the Arctic and migrates southward along sandy coasts in most of world.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sanderling."
- He looked up "sanderling" because he had never seen it before.

---

sardonyx (noun)

An onyx characterized by parallel layers of sard and a different colored mineral.

- In class, the teacher used "sardonyx" to mean an onyx characterized by parallel layers of sard....
- They discussed "sardonyx" during the group presentation.

---

sashayed (verb)

To walk with a lofty proud gait, often in an attempt to impress others.

- The coach explained when to use "sashayed" and when to wait.
- Can you use "sashayed" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

sating (verb)

Fill to satisfaction.

- The coach explained when to use "sating" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "sating" until he saw an example.

---

scatterbrain (noun)

A flighty and disorganized person.

- He looked up "scatterbrain" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "scatterbrain" to mean a flighty and disorganized person.

---

schizotypal personality (noun)

Characterized by symptoms similar to but less severe than schizophrenia.

- He looked up "schizotypal personality" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "schizotypal personality" to mean characterized by symptoms similar to but less....

---

schwarzwald (noun)

A hilly forest region in southwestern Germany.

- In class, the teacher used "schwarzwald" to mean a hilly forest region in southwestern germany.
- The article explained what "schwarzwald" means with a simple example.

---

sciurus (noun)

Type genus of the Sciuridae; typical moderate-sized arboreal squirrels.

- Understanding "sciurus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "sciurus" during the group presentation.

---

scry (verb)

Divine by gazing into crystals.

- He did not know how to use "scry" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "scry" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

seducers (noun)

A bad person who entices others into error or wrongdoing.

- He looked up "seducers" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "seducers" to mean a bad person who entices others into error or....

---

seigneurs (noun)

A man of rank in the ancient regime.

- The article explained what "seigneurs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "seigneurs" to mean a man of rank in the ancient regime.

---

shaytan (noun)

(Islam) a rebellious jinni who leads men astray.

- He looked up "shaytan" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "shaytan."

---

shebeen (noun)

Unlicensed drinking establishment.

- He looked up "shebeen" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "shebeen."

---

shibboleths (noun)

A favorite saying of a sect or political group.

- They discussed "shibboleths" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "shibboleths" means with a simple example.

shirkers (noun)

A person who shirks his work or duty (especially one who tries to evade military service in wartime).

- They discussed "shirkers" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "shirkers" means with a simple example.

shopworn (adjective)

Worn or faded from being on display in a store.

- Shopworn merchandise at half price.
- Would you call this situation "shopworn"? Explain why.

shoshoni (noun)

A member of the North American Indian people (related to the Aztecs) of the southwestern United States.

- They discussed "shoshoni" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "shoshoni" means with a simple example.

shrubberies (noun)

An area where a number of shrubs are planted.

- In class, the teacher used "shrubberies" to mean an area where a number of shrubs are planted.
- He looked up "shrubberies" because he had never seen it before.

sidewise (adverb)

With one side forward or to the front.

- Crabs seeming to walk sidewise.
- A figure moving sidewise in the shadows.

siestas (noun)

A nap in the early afternoon (especially in hot countries).

- Understanding "siestas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "siestas" because he had never seen it before.

silicide (noun)

Any of various compounds of silicon with a more electropositive element or radical.

- He looked up "silicide" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "silicide."

sinclairs (noun)

United States writer whose novels argued for social reform (1878-1968).

- Understanding "sinclairs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "sinclairs" means with a simple example.

siris (noun)

Large spreading Old World tree having large leaves and globose clusters of greenish-yellow flowers and long seed pods that clatter in the wind.

- Understanding "siris" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "siris" because he had never seen it before.

siris tree (noun)

Large spreading Old World tree having large leaves and globose clusters of greenish-yellow flowers and long seed pods that clatter in the wind.

- He looked up "siris tree" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "siris tree."

sloppiest (adjective)

Wet or smeared with a spilled liquid or moist material.

- A "sloppiest" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "sloppiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

soakers (noun)

A person who drinks alcohol to excess habitually.

- He looked up "soakers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "soakers."

---

sorbus (noun)

A genus of shrubs or trees of the family Rosaceae having feathery leaves.

- He looked up "sorbus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sorbus."

---

spawner (noun)

A female fish at spawning time.

- In class, the teacher used "spawner" to mean a female fish at spawning time.
- They discussed "spawner" during the group presentation.

---

spectrographic (adjective)

Relating to or employing a spectrograph.

- Would you call this situation "spectrographic"? Explain why.
- A "spectrographic" approach may work better in this case.

---

spectrographic analysis (noun)

The use of spectroscopes to analyze spectra.

- Understanding "spectrographic analysis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "spectrographic analysis" during the group presentation.

---

splicers (noun)

A woodworker who joins pieces of wood with a splice.

- They discussed "splicers" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "splicers."

---

spodoptera (noun)

Moths whose larvae are armyworms.

- The article explained what "spodoptera" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "spodoptera" to mean moths whose larvae are armyworms.

---

stanleys (noun)

United States inventor who built a steam-powered automobile (1849-1918).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stanleys."
- He looked up "stanleys" because he had never seen it before.

---

stereotypic (adjective)

Lacking spontaneity or originality or individuality.

- A "stereotypic" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "stereotypic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

stingless (adjective)

Without a sting.

- Students compared "stingless" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "stingless."

---

stochastically (adverb)

By stochastic means.

- We estimated the answer stochastically.
- The narrator describes the scene "stochastically" in the final chapter.

---

stocktaking (noun)

Making an itemized list of merchandise or supplies on hand.

- He looked up "stocktaking" because he had never seen it before.

- They discussed "stocktaking" during the group presentation.

---

strudels (noun)

Thin sheet of filled dough rolled and baked.

- He looked up "strudels" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "strudels" during the group presentation.

---

summiting (verb)

Reach the summit (of a mountain).

- He did not know how to use "summiting" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "summiting" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

sumners (noun)

United States sociologist (1840-1910).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sumners."
- Understanding "sumners" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

suppertime (noun)

The customary or habitual hour for the evening meal.

- He looked up "suppertime" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "suppertime" to mean the customary or habitual hour for the evening meal.

---

syllogistic (adjective)

Of or relating to or consisting of syllogism.

- Syllogistic reasoning.
- It is useful to describe something as "syllogistic" when it is of or relating to or consisting of syllogism.

---

symptomatically (adverb)

By symptoms.

- He answered "symptomatically," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- Using "symptomatically" can make your explanation more exact.

---

syndicator (noun)

A businessman who forms a syndicate.

- Understanding "syndicator" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "syndicator" means with a simple example.

---

tailbacks (noun)

(American football) the person who plays tailback.

- In class, the teacher used "tailbacks" to mean (american football) the person who plays tailback.
- He looked up "tailbacks" because he had never seen it before.

---

teleworking (noun)

Employment at home while communicating with the workplace by phone or fax or modem.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "teleworking."
- He looked up "teleworking" because he had never seen it before.

---

temptingly (adverb)

In a tempting seductive manner.

- Using "temptingly" can make your explanation more exact.
- He answered "temptingly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

tepees (noun)

A Native American tent; usually of conical shape.

- He looked up "tepees" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "tepees" during the group presentation.

---

theatregoers (noun)

Someone who attends the theater.

- The article explained what "theatregoers" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "theatregoers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

thermostatically (adverb)

By thermostat; in a thermostatic manner.

- The temperature is thermostatically controlled.
- Using "thermostatically" can make your explanation more exact.

---

thuja occidentalis (noun)

Small evergreen of eastern North America having tiny scalelike leaves on flattened branchlets.

- Understanding "thuja occidentalis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "thuja occidentalis" means with a simple example.

---

tieing (verb)

Fasten or secure with a rope, string, or cord.

- The coach explained when to use "tieing" and when to wait.
- Can you use "tieing" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

tinsmith (noun)

Someone who makes or repairs tinware.

- He looked up "tinsmith" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tinsmith."

---

titters (noun)

A nervous restrained laugh.

- The article explained what "titters" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "titters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tocopherols (noun)

A fat-soluble vitamin that is essential for normal reproduction; an important antioxidant that neutralizes free radicals in the body.

- Understanding "tocopherols" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "tocopherols" during the group presentation.

---

torero (noun)

A matador or one of the supporting team during a bull fight.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "torero."
- The article explained what "torero" means with a simple example.

---

tramcar (noun)

A four-wheeled wagon that runs on tracks in a mine.

- A tramcar carries coal out of a coal mine.
- Understanding "tramcar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

transmogrification (noun)

The act of changing into a different form or appearance (especially a fantastic or grotesque one).

- The transmogrification of the prince into a porcupine.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "transmogrification."

---

traumatology (noun)

The branch of medicine that deals with the surgical repair of injuries and wounds arising from accidents.

- In class, the teacher used "traumatology" to mean the branch of medicine that deals with the surgical....
- Understanding "traumatology" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

trebling (verb)

Increase threefold.

- In everyday English, people use "trebling" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "trebling" until he saw an example.

---

trematode (noun)

Parasitic flatworms having external suckers for attaching to a host.

- They discussed "trematode" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "trematode" means with a simple example.

---

trematode worm (noun)

Parasitic flatworms having external suckers for attaching to a host.

- He looked up "trematode worm" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "trematode worm."

---

tripler (adjective)

Having three units or components or elements.

- Would you call this situation "tripler"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "tripler" when it is having three units or components or elements.

---

trousered (adjective)

Dressed in trousers.

- A "trousered" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "trousered."

---

tupi-guarani (noun)

A family of South American Indian languages.

- Understanding "tupi-guarani" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "tupi-guarani" means with a simple example.

---

tupi-guarani language (noun)

A family of South American Indian languages.

- In class, the teacher used "tupi-guarani language" to mean a family of south american indian languages.
- The article explained what "tupi-guarani language" means with a simple example.

---

turko-tatar (noun)

A subfamily of Altaic languages.

- He looked up "turko-tatar" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "turko-tatar."

---

tweezing (verb)

Pluck with tweezers.

- Can you use "tweezing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "tweezing" when talking about this idea.

---

unaccented (adjective)

(used of vowels or syllables) pronounced with little or no stress.

- It is useful to describe something as "unaccented" when it is (used of vowels or syllables) pronounced with....
- Would you call this situation "unaccented"? Explain why.

---

uncommercial (adjective)

Not conducive to commercial success; - H.E.Clurman.

- Might prove arty and hence uncommercial.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "uncommercial."

---

unconstructive (adjective)

Not constructive.

- It is useful to describe something as "unconstructive" when it is not constructive.
- A "unconstructive" approach may work better in this case.

underpayments (noun)

A payment smaller than needed or expected.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "underpayments."
- He looked up "underpayments" because he had never seen it before.

unhallowed (adjective)

Not hallowed or consecrated.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unhallowed."
- Students compared "unhallowed" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

unmoderated (adjective)

Not made less extreme.

- Spoke with unmoderated harshness.
- It is useful to describe something as "unmoderated" when it is not made less extreme.

useing (verb)

Take or consume (regularly or habitually).

- In everyday English, people use "useing" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "useing" in real sentences.

varan (noun)

Any of various large tropical carnivorous lizards of Africa and Asia and Australia; fabled to warn of crocodiles.

- Understanding "varan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "varan."

villus (noun)

A minute hairlike projection on mucous membrane.

- They discussed "villus" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "villus" because he had never seen it before.

vin ordinaire (noun)

Cheap French table wine of unspecified origin.

- Understanding "vin ordinaire" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "vin ordinaire" during the group presentation.

vindictively (adverb)

In a vindictive, revengeful manner.

- He plotted vindictively against his former superiors.
- Place "vindictively" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

virological (adjective)

Of or relating to the science of virology.

- Virological research.
- The speaker chose "virological" because it captured the feeling precisely.

voracity (noun)

Excessive desire to eat.

- They discussed "voracity" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "voracity" because he had never seen it before.

wantonness (noun)

The trait of lacking restraint or control; reckless freedom from inhibition or worry.

- In class, the teacher used "wantonness" to mean the trait of lacking restraint or control; reckless....
- The article explained what "wantonness" means with a simple example.

wefts (noun)

The yarn woven across the warp yarn in weaving.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wefts."
- He looked up "wefts" because he had never seen it before.

---

wheedling (noun)

The act of urging by means of teasing or flattery.

- The article explained what "wheedling" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wheedling" to mean the act of urging by means of teasing or flattery.

---

whin (noun)

Any of various hard colored rocks (especially rocks consisting of chert or basalt).

- In class, the teacher used "whin" to mean any of various hard colored rocks (especially rocks....
- They discussed "whin" during the group presentation.

---

whitecap (noun)

A wave that is blown by the wind so its crest is broken and appears white.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whitecap."
- He looked up "whitecap" because he had never seen it before.

---

wolfish (adjective)

Resembling or characteristic (or considered characteristic) of a wolf.

- Wolfish rapacity.
- Would you call this situation "wolfish"? Explain why.

---

woodcocks (noun)

Game bird of the sandpiper family that resembles a snipe.

- In class, the teacher used "woodcocks" to mean game bird of the sandpiper family that resembles a....
- He looked up "woodcocks" because he had never seen it before.

---

wusses (noun)

A person who is physically weak and ineffectual.

- He looked up "wusses" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "wusses" to mean a person who is physically weak and ineffectual.

---

xer (adjective)

Being one more than nine.

- A "xer" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "xer" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

xylophones (noun)

A percussion instrument with wooden bars tuned to produce a chromatic scale and with resonators; played with small mallets.

- The article explained what "xylophones" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "xylophones" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

zeno of elea (noun)

Ancient Greek philosopher who formulated paradoxes that defended the belief that motion and change are illusory (circa 495-430 BC).

- In class, the teacher used "zeno of elea" to mean ancient greek philosopher who formulated paradoxes....
- They discussed "zeno of elea" during the group presentation.

---

zeppo (noun)

United States comedian; one of four brothers who made motion pictures together (1901-1979).

- In class, the teacher used "zeppo" to mean united states comedian; one of four brothers who....
- They discussed "zeppo" during the group presentation.

---

aalst (noun)

A town in central Belgium.

- They discussed "aalst" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "aalst" to mean a town in central belgium.

abscessed (adjective)

Infected and filled with pus.

- An abscessed tooth.
- A "abscessed" approach may work better in this case.

abscessed tooth (noun)

An abscess of a common kind in the tissue around a tooth.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "abscessed tooth."
- Understanding "abscessed tooth" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

acromion (noun)

The outermost point of the spine of the shoulder blade.

- He looked up "acromion" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "acromion" during the group presentation.

actinic keratosis (noun)

An overgrowth of skin layers resulting from extended exposure to the sun.

- He looked up "actinic keratosis" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "actinic keratosis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

actualisation (noun)

Making real or giving the appearance of reality.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "actualisation."
- He looked up "actualisation" because he had never seen it before.

admixed (verb)

Mix or blend.

- Hyaline casts were admixed with neutrophils.
- Learners should practice how to use "admixed" in real sentences.

agaves (noun)

Tropical American plants with basal rosettes of fibrous sword-shaped leaves and flowers in tall spikes; some cultivated for ornament or for fiber.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "agaves."
- Understanding "agaves" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

albers-schonberg disease (noun)

An inherited disorder characterized by an increase in bone density; in severe forms the bone marrow cavity may be obliterated.

- They discussed "albers-schonberg disease" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "albers-schonberg disease."

alienable (adjective)

Transferable to another owner.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "alienable."
- Students compared "alienable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

alkyne (noun)

A colorless flammable gas used chiefly in welding and in organic synthesis.

- Understanding "alkyne" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "alkyne" because he had never seen it before.

altruists (noun)

Someone who makes charitable donations intended to increase human well-being.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "altruists."
- He looked up "altruists" because he had never seen it before.

ambrosial (adjective)

Extremely pleasing to the taste; sweet and fragrant.

- Ambrosial food.
- It is useful to describe something as "ambrosial" when it is extremely pleasing to the taste; sweet and fragrant.

---

ampule (noun)

A small bottle that contains a drug (especially a sealed sterile container for injection by needle).

- Understanding "ampule" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "ampule" because he had never seen it before.

---

anglerfish (noun)

Fishes having large mouths with a wormlike filament attached for luring prey.

- The article explained what "anglerfish" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "anglerfish" to mean fishes having large mouths with a wormlike filament....

---

antagonised (verb)

Provoke the hostility of.

- Can you use "antagonised" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "antagonised" and when to wait.

---

anvers (noun)

A busy port and financial center in northern Belgium on the Scheldt river; it has long been a center for the diamond industry and the first stock exchange was opened there in 1460.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anvers."
- He looked up "anvers" because he had never seen it before.

---

anxiolytics (noun)

A tranquilizer used to relieve anxiety and reduce tension and irritability.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anxiolytics."
- The article explained what "anxiolytics" means with a simple example.

---

appetiser (noun)

Food or drink to stimulate the appetite (usually served before a meal or as the first course).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "appetiser."
- He looked up "appetiser" because he had never seen it before.

---

aprils (noun)

The month following March and preceding May.

- The article explained what "aprils" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "aprils" to mean the month following march and preceding may.

---

apsidal (adjective)

Of or relating to an apse.

- Would you call this situation "apsidal"? Explain why.
- Students compared "apsidal" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

archimandrite (noun)

The superior of an abbey of monks.

- The article explained what "archimandrite" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "archimandrite" to mean the superior of an abbey of monks.

---

armlet (noun)

A band worn around the arm for decoration.

- The article explained what "armlet" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "armlet" during the group presentation.

---

artifices (noun)

A deceptive maneuver (especially to avoid capture).

- In class, the teacher used "artifices" to mean a deceptive maneuver (especially to avoid capture).

- The article explained what "artifices" means with a simple example.

---

aspectual (adjective)

Of or belonging to an aspect (as an aspect of the verb).

- The aspectual system of Greek.
- Would you call this situation "aspectual"? Explain why.

---

aspergillus fumigatus (noun)

A mold causing aspergillosis in birds and man.

- In class, the teacher used "aspergillus fumigatus" to mean a mold causing aspergillosis in birds and man.
- They discussed "aspergillus fumigatus" during the group presentation.

---

assuredness (noun)

Great coolness and composure under strain.

- In class, the teacher used "assuredness" to mean great coolness and composure under strain.
- Understanding "assuredness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

auchincloss (noun)

United States writer (born in 1917).

- He looked up "auchincloss" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "auchincloss."

---

autotrophic (adjective)

Of or relating to organisms (as green plants) that can make complex organic nutritive compounds from simple inorganic sources by photosynthesis.

- Would you call this situation "autotrophic"? Explain why.
- A "autotrophic" approach may work better in this case.

---

autotrophic organism (noun)

Plant capable of synthesizing its own food from simple organic substances.

- He looked up "autotrophic organism" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "autotrophic organism."

---

avowal (noun)

A statement asserting the existence or the truth of something.

- Understanding "avowal" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "avowal" to mean a statement asserting the existence or the truth of....

---

backtalk (noun)

An impudent or insolent rejoinder.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "backtalk."
- They discussed "backtalk" during the group presentation.

---

barbu (noun)

Found along western Atlantic coast.

- Understanding "barbu" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "barbu" because he had never seen it before.

---

barleycorn (noun)

A grain of barley.

- They discussed "barleycorn" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "barleycorn" to mean a grain of barley.

---

beaned (verb)

Hit on the head, especially with a pitched baseball.

- Can you use "beaned" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "beaned" when talking about this idea.

---

bedazzle (verb)

To cause someone to lose clear vision, especially from intense light.

- In everyday English, people use "bedazzle" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "bedazzle" in real sentences.

---

beggarly (adjective)

Marked by poverty befitting a beggar.

- A beggarly existence in the slums.
- A "beggarly" approach may work better in this case.

---

benedictions (noun)

The act of praying for divine protection.

- They discussed "benedictions" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "benedictions" because he had never seen it before.

---

bigamous (adjective)

Of illegal marriage to a second person while legally married to a first.

- The speaker chose "bigamous" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "bigamous" approach may work better in this case.

---

biggish (adjective)

Somewhat large.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "biggish."
- Students compared "biggish" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

bilabial (adjective)

Of or relating to or being a speech sound that is articulated using both lips.

- Bilabial fricatives.
- It is useful to describe something as "bilabial" when it is of or relating to or being a speech sound that is....

---

blockhouses (noun)

A stronghold that is reinforced for protection from enemy fire; with apertures for defensive fire.

- He looked up "blockhouses" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "blockhouses" during the group presentation.

---

blubbery (adjective)

Swollen with fat.

- A coarse blubbery individual.
- The speaker chose "blubbery" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

bmis (noun)

A measure of someone's weight in relation to height; to calculate one's BMI, multiply one's weight in pounds and divide that by the square of one's height in inches; overweight is a BMI greater than 25; obese is a BMI greater than 30.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bmis."
- The article explained what "bmis" means with a simple example.

---

bombyx (noun)

Type genus of the Bombycidae: Chinese silkworm moth.

- The article explained what "bombyx" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bombyx."

---

borsch (noun)

A Russian or Polish soup usually containing beet juice as a foundation.

- They discussed "borsch" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "borsch" because he had never seen it before.

---

bristlecone fir (noun)

A pyramidal fir of southwestern California having spiny pointed leaves and cone scales with long spines.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bristlecone fir."
- Understanding "bristlecone fir" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

budded (verb)

Start to grow or develop.

- The coach explained when to use "budded" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "budded" until he saw an example.

---

buddys (noun)

A close friend who accompanies his buddies in their activities.

- The article explained what "buddys" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "buddys" to mean a close friend who accompanies his buddies in their....

---

burglarize (verb)

Commit a burglary; enter and rob a dwelling.

- He did not know how to use "burglarize" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "burglarize" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

burls (noun)

A large rounded outgrowth on the trunk or branch of a tree.

- In class, the teacher used "burls" to mean a large rounded outgrowth on the trunk or branch of....
- He looked up "burls" because he had never seen it before.

---

burtons (noun)

A strong dark English ale.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "burtons."
- Understanding "burtons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

calan (noun)

A drug (trade names Calan and Isoptin) used as an oral or parenteral calcium blocker in cases of hypertension or congestive heart failure or angina or migraine.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "calan."
- Understanding "calan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

calcaneal (adjective)

Relating to the heel bone or heel.

- Students compared "calcaneal" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "calcaneal" approach may work better in this case.

---

cannelloni (noun)

Tubular pasta filled with meat or cheese.

- The article explained what "cannelloni" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "cannelloni" to mean tubular pasta filled with meat or cheese.

---

cannister (noun)

Metal container for storing dry foods such as tea or flour.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cannister."
- The article explained what "cannister" means with a simple example.

---

carefulness (noun)

The quality of being careful and painstaking.

- I admired the carefulness of his work.
- The article explained what "carefulness" means with a simple example.

---

caretta (noun)

Loggerhead turtles.

- Understanding "caretta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "caretta" to mean loggerhead turtles.

carful (noun)

The quantity that a car will hold.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carful."
- The article explained what "carful" means with a simple example.

catholicos (noun)

The ecclesiastical title of the leaders of the Nestorian and Armenian churches.

- The article explained what "catholicos" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "catholicos" during the group presentation.

cbcs (noun)

Counting the number of white and red blood cells and the number of platelets in 1 cubic millimeter of blood.

- The article explained what "cbcs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "cbcs" to mean counting the number of white and red blood cells....

centerboard (noun)

A retractable fin keel used on sailboats to prevent drifting to leeward.

- The article explained what "centerboard" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "centerboard" to mean a retractable fin keel used on sailboats to prevent....

cepheus (noun)

A faint constellation in the northern hemisphere near Cassiopeia and the pole star.

- They discussed "cepheus" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cepheus."

chewers (noun)

Someone who chews (especially someone who chews tobacco).

- The article explained what "chewers" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "chewers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

chiefest (adjective)

Most important element.

- The speaker chose "chiefest" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "chiefest"? Explain why.

chilblains (noun)

Inflammation of the hands and feet caused by exposure to cold and moisture.

- They discussed "chilblains" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chilblains."

chimborazo (noun)

A mountain peak in the Andes in Ecuador (20,560 feet high).

- Understanding "chimborazo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "chimborazo" to mean a mountain peak in the andes in ecuador (20,560....

chlamydia trachomatis (noun)

Bacteria responsible for the sexually transmitted diseases chlamydia and lymphogranuloma venereum.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chlamydia trachomatis."
- He looked up "chlamydia trachomatis" because he had never seen it before.

cisterna (noun)

A sac or cavity containing fluid especially lymph or cerebrospinal fluid.

- They discussed "cisterna" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "cisterna" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

civilise (verb)

Raise from a barbaric to a civilized state.

- The coach explained when to use “civilise” and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use “civilise” until he saw an example.

---

clannish (adjective)

Characteristic of a clan especially in being unified.

- Clannish loyalty.
- Would you call this situation “clannish”? Explain why.

---

coarsening (verb)

Make less subtle or refined.

- In everyday English, people use “coarsening” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “coarsening” until he saw an example.

---

coiner (noun)

A skilled worker who coins or stamps money.

- He looked up “coiner” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “coiner.”

---

compositors (noun)

One who sets written material into type.

- In class, the teacher used “compositors” to mean one who sets written material into type.
- They discussed “compositors” during the group presentation.

---

conclaves (noun)

A confidential or secret meeting.

- He looked up “conclaves” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “conclaves.”

---

concretion (noun)

A hard lump produced by the concretion of mineral salts; found in hollow organs or ducts of the body.

- Understanding “concretion” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “concretion.”

---

conto (noun)

1 conto equals 1,000 escudos in Portugal.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “conto.”
- The article explained what “conto” means with a simple example.

---

corrigendum (noun)

A printer’s error; to be corrected.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “corrigendum.”
- He looked up “corrigendum” because he had never seen it before.

---

cosmogenic (adjective)

Pertaining to the branch of astronomy dealing with the origin and history and structure and dynamics of the universe.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “cosmogenic.”
- Students compared “cosmogenic” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

coziest (adjective)

Having or fostering a warm or friendly and informal atmosphere.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “coziest.”
- A “coziest” approach may work better in this case.

---

crocodilian (noun)

Extant archosaurian reptile.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “crocodilian.”

- They discussed "crocodilian" during the group presentation.

---

crookedness (noun)

A tortuous and twisted shape or position.

- Understanding "crookedness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "crookedness" because he had never seen it before.

---

crosscurrents (noun)

Actions counter to the main group activity.

- Political crosscurrents disrupted the conference.
- In class, the teacher used "crosscurrents" to mean actions counter to the main group activity.

---

cultivations (noun)

The process of fostering the growth of something.

- The article explained what "cultivations" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cultivations."

---

cusk-eel (noun)

Elongate compressed somewhat eel-shaped fishes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cusk-eel."
- He looked up "cusk-eel" because he had never seen it before.

---

damnably (adverb)

In a damnable manner.

- Kindly Arthur–so damnably , politely , endlessly persistent!
- He answered "damnably," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

decipherable (adjective)

Easily deciphered.

- Students compared "decipherable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "decipherable."

---

defilements (noun)

The state of being polluted.

- He looked up "defilements" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "defilements."

---

deictic (noun)

A word specifying identity or spatial or temporal location from the perspective of a speaker or hearer in the context in which the communication occurs; - R.Rommetveit.

- They discussed "deictic" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "deictic" means with a simple example.

---

deictic word (noun)

A word specifying identity or spatial or temporal location from the perspective of a speaker or hearer in the context in which the communication occurs; - R.Rommetveit.

- Words that introduce particulars of the speaker's and hearer's shared cognitive field into the message.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "deictic word."

---

delimits (verb)

Set, mark, or draw the boundaries of something.

- Can you use "delimits" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "delimits" until he saw an example.

---

deplane (verb)

Get off an airplane.

- In everyday English, people use "deplane" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "deplane" in real sentences.

---

deplorably (adverb)

In an unfortunate or deplorable manner.

- She spoke "deplorably," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- He answered "deplorably," which changed the tone of the conversation.

despicably (adverb)

In a despicable manner.

- He acted despicably.
- He answered "despicably," which changed the tone of the conversation.

devis (noun)

Hindu mother goddess; supreme power in the universe; wife or embodiment of the female energy of Siva having both beneficent and malevolent forms or aspects.

- They discussed "devis" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "devis."

dinges (verb)

Make a dent or impression in.

- The coach explained when to use "dinges" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "dinges" carefully so everyone would understand.

dinkas (noun)

A Nilotic language.

- He looked up "dinkas" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "dinkas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

dirigibles (noun)

A steerable self-propelled aircraft.

- He looked up "dirigibles" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "dirigibles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

discomfiting (verb)

Cause to lose one's composure.

- She tried to use "discomfiting" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "discomfiting" in real sentences.

dishware (noun)

Tableware (eating and serving dishes) collectively.

- The article explained what "dishware" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "dishware" during the group presentation.

dissatisfying (verb)

Fail to satisfy.

- He did not know how to use "dissatisfying" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "dissatisfying" in a sentence that fits this situation?

dormition (noun)

Celebration in the Eastern Orthodox Church of the Virgin Mary's being taken up into heaven when her earthly life ended; corresponds to the Assumption in the Roman Catholic Church and is also celebrated on August 15th.

- The article explained what "dormition" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "dormition" to mean celebration in the eastern orthodox church of the....

dorsa (noun)

The posterior part of a human (or animal) body from the neck to the end of the spine.

- The article explained what "dorsa" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dorsa."

doxepin hydrochloride (noun)

A tricyclic antidepressant (trade names Adapin and Sinequan) with numerous side effects (dry mouth and sedation and gastrointestinal disturbances).

- They discussed "doxepin hydrochloride" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "doxepin hydrochloride" to mean a tricyclic antidepressant (trade names adapin and....

---

draftsmanship (noun)

The creation of artistic pictures or diagrams.

- He looked up "draftsmanship" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "draftsmanship" during the group presentation.

---

drenches (verb)

Drench or submerge or be drenched or submerged.

- The coach explained when to use "drenches" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "drenches" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

dysphonia (noun)

Speech disorder attributable to a disorder of phonation.

- The article explained what "dysphonia" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "dysphonia" during the group presentation.

---

eccrine (adjective)

(of exocrine glands) producing a clear aqueous secretion without releasing part of the secreting cell; important in regulating body temperature.

- The speaker chose "eccrine" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "eccrine" when it is (of exocrine glands) producing a clear aqueous....

---

elemis (noun)

Fragrant resin obtain from trees of the family Burseraceae and used as incense.

- The article explained what "elemis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "elemis" to mean fragrant resin obtain from trees of the family....

---

endoscopes (noun)

A long slender medical instrument for examining the interior of a bodily organ or performing minor surgery.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "endoscopes."
- He looked up "endoscopes" because he had never seen it before.

---

enthuses (verb)

Utter with enthusiasm.

- In everyday English, people use "enthuses" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "enthuses" in real sentences.

---

enumerations (noun)

The act of counting; reciting numbers in ascending order.

- He looked up "enumerations" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "enumerations" during the group presentation.

---

epas (noun)

An independent federal agency established to coordinate programs aimed at reducing pollution and protecting the environment.

- They discussed "epas" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "epas" means with a simple example.

---

epigrammatic (adjective)

Terse and witty and like a maxim.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "epigrammatic."
- The speaker chose "epigrammatic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

erica arborea (noun)

Evergreen treelike Mediterranean shrub having fragrant white flowers in large terminal panicles and hard woody roots used to make tobacco pipes.

- Understanding "erica arborea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "erica arborea" to mean evergreen treelike mediterranean shrub having....

erlenmeyer flask (noun)

A conical flask with a wide base and narrow neck.

- The article explained what "erlenmeyer flask" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "erlenmeyer flask" to mean a conical flask with a wide base and narrow neck.

espousal (noun)

The act of accepting with approval; favorable reception.

- In class, the teacher used "espousal" to mean the act of accepting with approval; favorable reception.
- The article explained what "espousal" means with a simple example.

esprit de l'escalier (noun)

A witty remark that occurs to you too late.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "esprit de l'escalier."
- He looked up "esprit de l'escalier" because he had never seen it before.

ethmoid sinus (noun)

A sinus of the meatuses of the nasal cavity (behind the bridge of the nose).

- Understanding "ethmoid sinus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "ethmoid sinus" to mean a sinus of the meatuses of the nasal cavity (behind....

evaporite (noun)

The sediment that is left after the evaporation of seawater.

- The article explained what "evaporite" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "evaporite" during the group presentation.

eyres (noun)

A shallow salt lake in south central Australia about 35 feet below sea level; the largest lake in the country and the lowest point on the continent.

- In class, the teacher used "eyres" to mean a shallow salt lake in south central australia....
- He looked up "eyres" because he had never seen it before.

facilitative (adjective)

Freeing from difficulty or impediment.

- Facilitative changes in the economic structure.
- The speaker chose "facilitative" because it captured the feeling precisely.

feast of dormition (noun)

Celebration in the Eastern Orthodox Church of the Virgin Mary's being taken up into heaven when her earthly life ended; corresponds to the Assumption in the Roman Catholic Church and is also celebrated on August 15th.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "feast of dormition."
- They discussed "feast of dormition" during the group presentation.

ferromagnetism (noun)

Phenomenon exhibited by materials like iron (nickel or cobalt) that become magnetized in a magnetic field and retain their magnetism when the field is removed.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ferromagnetism."
- The article explained what "ferromagnetism" means with a simple example.

ficus elastica (noun)

Large tropical Asian tree frequently dwarfed as a houseplant; source of Assam rubber.

- He looked up "ficus elastica" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ficus elastica."

flogs (verb)

Beat severely with a whip or rod.

- He did not know how to use "flogs" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "flogs" in a sentence that fits this situation?

footless (adjective)

Having no feet or analogous appendages.

- The speaker chose "footless" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "footless" when it is having no feet or analogous appendages.

---

fornix (noun)

An arched bundle of white fibers at the base of the brain by which the hippocampus of each hemisphere projects to the contralateral hippocampus and to the thalamus and mamillary bodies.

- Understanding "fornix" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "fornix" during the group presentation.

---

foveal vision (noun)

Vision with the fovea.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "foveal vision."
- He looked up "foveal vision" because he had never seen it before.

---

francesco petrarca (noun)

An Italian poet famous for love lyrics (1304-1374).

- In class, the teacher used "francesco petrarca" to mean an italian poet famous for love lyrics (1304-1374).
- Understanding "francesco petrarca" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fulmar (noun)

Heavy short-tailed oceanic bird of polar regions.

- They discussed "fulmar" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "fulmar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

furling (verb)

Form into a cylinder by rolling.

- In everyday English, people use "furling" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "furling" in real sentences.

---

gamy (adjective)

Suggestive of sexual impropriety.

- He skips asterisks and gives you the gamy details.
- Students compared "gamy" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

garfish (noun)

Primitive predaceous North American fish covered with hard scales and having long jaws with needlelike teeth.

- Understanding "garfish" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "garfish" to mean primitive predaceous north american fish covered....

---

gawkers (noun)

A spectator who stares stupidly without intelligent awareness.

- In class, the teacher used "gawkers" to mean a spectator who stares stupidly without intelligent....
- The article explained what "gawkers" means with a simple example.

---

geed (verb)

Give a command to a horse to turn to the right side.

- The horse geed.
- In everyday English, people use "geed" when talking about this idea.

---

genus babesia (noun)

Type genus of the family Babesiidae.

- They discussed "genus babesia" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus babesia."

---

genus bombyx (noun)

Type genus of the Bombycidae: Chinese silkworm moth.

- They discussed "genus bombyx" during the group presentation.

- The article explained what "genus bombyx" means with a simple example.

---

genus caretta (noun)

Loggerhead turtles.

- He looked up "genus caretta" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus caretta."

---

genus larrea (noun)

Xerophytic evergreen shrubs; South America to southwestern United States.

- The article explained what "genus larrea" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "genus larrea" to mean xerophytic evergreen shrubs; south america to....

---

genus lithops (noun)

Genus of stemless South African succulents.

- They discussed "genus lithops" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus lithops."

---

genus osmanthus (noun)

Widely distributed genus of evergreen shrubs or trees of southern United States and Middle East and China and Japan.

- In class, the teacher used "genus osmanthus" to mean widely distributed genus of evergreen shrubs or....
- He looked up "genus osmanthus" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus paspalum (noun)

A genus of perennial grasses of warm regions.

- They discussed "genus paspalum" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "genus paspalum" means with a simple example.

---

genus phalaris (noun)

A genus of grasses with broad leaves and a dense spike of flowers.

- Understanding "genus phalaris" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "genus phalaris" to mean a genus of grasses with broad leaves and a dense....

---

genus potamogeton (noun)

A large genus of aquatic herbs found in quiet waters in temperate regions; leaves usually float on the water.

- They discussed "genus potamogeton" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "genus potamogeton" means with a simple example.

---

genus sison (noun)

Genus including stone parsley.

- In class, the teacher used "genus sison" to mean genus including stone parsley.
- The article explained what "genus sison" means with a simple example.

---

giant fulmar (noun)

Large brownish petrel chiefly of Antarctic seas.

- He looked up "giant fulmar" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "giant fulmar."

---

giovanni battista cibo (noun)

Italian pope from 1484 to 1492 who was known as a nepotist and was attacked by Savonarola for his worldliness (1432-1492).

- In class, the teacher used "giovanni battista cibo" to mean italian pope from 1484 to 1492 who was known as a....
- The article explained what "giovanni battista cibo" means with a simple example.

---

glomerulus (noun)

A small intertwined group of capillaries in the malpighian body; it filters the blood during urine formation.

- They discussed "glomerulus" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "glomerulus" to mean a small intertwined group of capillaries in the....

---

glyceryl (noun)

A trivalent radical derived from glycerol by removing the three hydroxyl radicals.

- They discussed "glyceryl" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "glyceryl" means with a simple example.

---

gops (noun)

The younger of two major political parties in the United States; GOP is an acronym for grand old party.

- The article explained what "gops" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gops" to mean the younger of two major political parties in the....

---

gouger (noun)

An attacker who gouges out the antagonist's eye.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gouger."
- They discussed "gouger" during the group presentation.

---

greatcoat (noun)

A heavy coat worn over clothes in winter.

- In class, the teacher used "greatcoat" to mean a heavy coat worn over clothes in winter.
- The article explained what "greatcoat" means with a simple example.

---

gulf of bothnia (noun)

A northern arm of the Baltic Sea; between Sweden and Finland.

- Understanding "gulf of bothnia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "gulf of bothnia" means with a simple example.

---

gunrunning (noun)

The smuggling of guns and ammunition into a country secretly and illegally.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gunrunning."
- They discussed "gunrunning" during the group presentation.

---

halloo (noun)

A shout to attract attention.

- He gave a great halloo but no one heard him.
- The article explained what "halloo" means with a simple example.

---

handgrip (noun)

The appendage to an object that is designed to be held in order to use or move it.

- They discussed "handgrip" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "handgrip" means with a simple example.

---

handiest (adjective)

Skillful with the hands.

- Would you call this situation "handiest"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "handiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

hardbacks (noun)

A book with cardboard or cloth or leather covers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hardbacks."
- Understanding "hardbacks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

harijan (noun)

Belongs to lowest social and ritual class in India.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "harijan."
- He looked up "harijan" because he had never seen it before.

---

harked (verb)

Listen; used mostly in the imperative.

- He did not know how to use "harked" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "harked" in real sentences.

---

hatting (verb)

Put on or wear a hat.

- Can you use "hatting" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "hatting" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

havasupai (noun)

The Yuman language spoken by the Havasupai.

- Understanding "havasupai" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "havasupai" during the group presentation.

---

heliothis zia (noun)

Medium-sized moth whose larvae are corn earworms.

- They discussed "heliothis zia" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "heliothis zia" means with a simple example.

---

hemoptysis (noun)

Coughing up blood from the respiratory tract; usually indicates a severe infection of the bronchi or lungs.

- They discussed "hemoptysis" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hemoptysis."

---

hemothorax (noun)

Accumulation of blood in the pleural cavity (the space between the lungs and the walls of the chest).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hemothorax."
- The article explained what "hemothorax" means with a simple example.

---

heron's bill (noun)

Any of various plants of the genus Erodium.

- They discussed "heron's bill" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "heron's bill" means with a simple example.

---

hoagy carmichael (noun)

United States songwriter (1899-1981).

- They discussed "hoagy carmichael" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "hoagy carmichael" because he had never seen it before.

---

hogsheads (noun)

A large cask especially one holding 63 gals.

- Understanding "hogsheads" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "hogsheads" to mean a large cask especially one holding 63 gals.

---

huckleberries (noun)

Any of various dark-fruited as distinguished from blue-fruited blueberries.

- He looked up "huckleberries" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "huckleberries" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

humanised (verb)

Make more humane.

- The coach explained when to use "humanised" and when to wait.
- Can you use "humanised" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

hummock (noun)

A small natural hill.

- In class, the teacher used "hummock" to mean a small natural hill.
- The article explained what "hummock" means with a simple example.

hydrangea paniculata (noun)

Deciduous shrub or small tree with pyramidal flower clusters.

- The article explained what "hydrangea paniculata" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hydrangea paniculata."

hydroids (noun)

Colonial coelenterates having the polyp phase dominant.

- In class, the teacher used "hydroids" to mean colonial coelenterates having the polyp phase dominant.
- Understanding "hydroids" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

hyperbolically (adverb)

In an exaggerated manner.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "hyperbolically" naturally.
- Using "hyperbolically" can make your explanation more exact.

hypothesise (verb)

To believe especially on uncertain or tentative grounds.

- He did not know how to use "hypothesise" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "hypothesise" when talking about this idea.

iccs (noun)

A former independent federal agency that supervised and set rates for carriers that transported goods and people between states; was terminated in 1995.

- He looked up "iccs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "iccs."

ideologist (noun)

An advocate of some ideology.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ideologist."
- He looked up "ideologist" because he had never seen it before.

ikes (noun)

United States general who supervised the invasion of Normandy and the defeat of Nazi Germany; 34th President of the United States (1890-1961).

- Understanding "ikes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "ikes" means with a simple example.

illumine (verb)

Make lighter or brighter.

- He did not know how to use "illumine" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "illumine" in real sentences.

indeterminable (adjective)

Not capable of being definitely decided or ascertained.

- A "indeterminable" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "indeterminable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

individuated (verb)

Give individual shape or form to.

- She tried to use "individuated" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "individuated" and when to wait.

injuns (noun)

(slang) offensive term for Native Americans.

- The article explained what "injuns" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "injuns" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

interlanguage (noun)

A common language used by speakers of different languages.

- Understanding "interlanguage" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "interlanguage" during the group presentation.

---

inventively (adverb)

In an inventive manner.

- Picasso's liberated shapes and excitingly applied and inventively combined colours.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "inventively" naturally.

---

invigilator (noun)

Someone who watches examination candidates to prevent cheating.

- He looked up "invigilator" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "invigilator" to mean someone who watches examination candidates to....

---

ivry la bataille (noun)

A battle (1590) in which the Huguenots under Henry IV defeated the Catholics under the duke of Mayenne.

- The article explained what "ivry la bataille" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ivry la bataille."

---

jigsaws (noun)

A portable power saw with a reciprocating blade; can be used with a variety of blades depending on the application and kind of cut; generally have a plate that rides on the surface that is being cut.

- He looked up "jigsaws" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jigsaws."

---

john barleycorn (noun)

An alcoholic beverage that is distilled rather than fermented.

- In class, the teacher used "john barleycorn" to mean an alcoholic beverage that is distilled rather than....
- The article explained what "john barleycorn" means with a simple example.

---

juniperus virginiana (noun)

Small juniper found east of Rocky Mountains having a conic crown, brown bark that peels in shreds, and small sharp needles.

- They discussed "juniperus virginiana" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "juniperus virginiana" to mean small juniper found east of rocky mountains having....

---

kanamycin (noun)

Antibiotic (trade name Kantrex) used to treat severe infections.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kanamycin."
- He looked up "kanamycin" because he had never seen it before.

---

kangaroo's-foot (noun)

Sedgelike spring-flowering herb having clustered flowers covered with woolly hairs; Australia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kangaroo's-foot."
- They discussed "kangaroo's-foot" during the group presentation.

---

kaposi's sarcoma (noun)

A sarcoma that starts with purplish spots on the feet and legs and spreads from the skin to lymph nodes and internal organs; a common manifestation of AIDS.

- Until 1980 Kaposi's sarcoma occurred almost exclusively with Jewish or Italian or black men.
- The article explained what "kaposi's sarcoma" means with a simple example.

---

karakorum range (noun)

A mountain range in northern Kashmir; an extension of the Hindu Kush; contains the 2nd highest peak.

- In class, the teacher used "karakorum range" to mean a mountain range in northern kashmir; an extension....
- Understanding "karakorum range" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kennelly-heaviside layer (noun)

A region of the ionosphere (from 50 to 90 miles up) that reflects radio waves of medium length.

- In class, the teacher used "kennelly-heaviside layer" to mean a region of the ionosphere (from 50 to 90 miles up)....

- Understanding "kennelly-heaviside layer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

khanty (noun)

A Ugric language (related to Hungarian) spoken by the Ostyak.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "khanty."
- He looked up "khanty" because he had never seen it before.

---

kinkier (adjective)

(used of sexual behavior) showing or appealing to bizarre or deviant tastes.

- A "kinkier" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "kinkier."

---

knap (verb)

Break a small piece off from.

- Learners should practice how to use "knap" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "knap" when talking about this idea.

---

krakatau (noun)

A small volcanic island in Indonesia between Java and Sumatra; its violent eruption in 1883 was the greatest in recorded history.

- In class, the teacher used "krakatau" to mean a small volcanic island in indonesia between java....
- He looked up "krakatau" because he had never seen it before.

---

kurus (noun)

100 kurus equal 1 lira in Turkey.

- In class, the teacher used "kurus" to mean 100 kurus equal 1 lira in turkey.
- Understanding "kurus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lambasts (verb)

Censure severely or angrily.

- In everyday English, people use "lambasts" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "lambasts" until he saw an example.

---

lambent (adjective)

Softly bright or radiant.

- Lambent tongues of flame.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "lambent."

---

lams (noun)

A rapid escape (as by criminals).

- The article explained what "lams" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lams" to mean a rapid escape (as by criminals).

---

larrea (noun)

Xerophytic evergreen shrubs; South America to southwestern United States.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "larrea."
- Understanding "larrea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lightheartedness (noun)

The cheerful feeling you have when nothing is troubling you.

- In class, the teacher used "lightheartedness" to mean the cheerful feeling you have when nothing is....
- Understanding "lightheartedness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lisps (noun)

A speech defect that involves pronouncing 's' like voiceless 'th' and 'z' like voiced 'th'.

- The article explained what "lisps" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "lisps" during the group presentation.

---

lithops (noun)

Any plant of the genus Lithops native to Africa having solitary yellow or white flowers and thick leaves that resemble stones.

- The article explained what "lithops" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lithops" to mean any plant of the genus lithops native to africa....

long-snouted (adjective)

Having a snout that is longer than average.

- A "long-snouted" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "long-snouted"? Explain why.

longan (noun)

Tree of southeastern Asia to Australia grown primarily for its sweet edible fruit resembling litchi nuts; sometimes placed in genera Euphorbia or Nephelium.

- The article explained what "longan" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "longan" to mean tree of southeastern asia to australia grown....

louis auchincloss (noun)

United States writer (born in 1917).

- He looked up "louis auchincloss" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "louis auchincloss."

lubricity (noun)

Feeling morbid sexual desire or a propensity to lewdness.

- They discussed "lubricity" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "lubricity" to mean feeling morbid sexual desire or a propensity to....

lucania (noun)

A region of southern Italy (forming the instep of the Italian 'boot').

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lucania."
- He looked up "lucania" because he had never seen it before.

machos (noun)

A male exhibiting or characterized by machismo.

- They discussed "machos" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "machos" means with a simple example.

malebranche (noun)

French philosopher (1638-1715).

- He looked up "malebranche" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malebranche."

mantids (noun)

Predacious long-bodied large-eyed insect of warm regions; rests with forelimbs raised as in prayer.

- Understanding "mantids" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "mantids" during the group presentation.

marquises (noun)

A noblewoman ranking below a duchess and above a countess.

- Understanding "marquises" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "marquises."

marrows (noun)

The choicest or most essential or most vital part of some idea or experience.

- They discussed "marrows" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "marrows."

masculinized (verb)

Give a masculine appearance or character to.

- Fashion designers have masculinized women's looks in the 1990s.
- The drugs masculinized the teenage girl.

---

masseter (noun)

A large muscle that raises the lower jaw and is used in chewing.

- He looked up "masseter" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "masseter."

---

matchlock (noun)

An early style of musket; a slow-burning wick would be lowered into a hole in the breech to ignite the charge.

- Understanding "matchlock" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "matchlock" to mean an early style of musket; a slow-burning wick would....

---

mechanist (noun)

A philosopher who subscribes to the doctrine of mechanism.

- Understanding "mechanist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mechanist."

---

medroxyprogesterone (noun)

A progestin compound (trade name Provera) used to treat menstrual disorders.

- The article explained what "medroxyprogesterone" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "medroxyprogesterone" during the group presentation.

---

megabucks (noun)

A large sum of money (especially as pay or profit).

- They sank megabucks into their new house.
- He looked up "megabucks" because he had never seen it before.

---

memorialization (noun)

A ceremony to honor the memory of someone or something.

- In class, the teacher used "memorialization" to mean a ceremony to honor the memory of someone or something.
- Understanding "memorialization" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mendicants (noun)

A male member of a religious order that originally relied solely on alms.

- In class, the teacher used "mendicants" to mean a male member of a religious order that originally....
- He looked up "mendicants" because he had never seen it before.

---

millpond (noun)

A pond formed by damming a stream to provide a head of water to turn a mill wheel.

- They discussed "millpond" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "millpond" to mean a pond formed by damming a stream to provide a head....

---

millwrights (noun)

A workman who designs or erects mills and milling machinery.

- In class, the teacher used "millwrights" to mean a workman who designs or erects mills and milling....
- The article explained what "millwrights" means with a simple example.

---

mindlessness (noun)

The trait of acting rashly and without prudence.

- Understanding "mindlessness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "mindlessness" because he had never seen it before.

---

mismanage (verb)

Manage badly or incompetently.

- The funds were mismanaged.
- The coach explained when to use "mismanage" and when to wait.

misquotes (noun)

An incorrect quotation.

- In class, the teacher used "misquotes" to mean an incorrect quotation.
- He looked up "misquotes" because he had never seen it before.

modernizes (verb)

Make repairs, renovations, revisions or adjustments to.

- She tried to use "modernizes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "modernizes" when talking about this idea.

mongoloids (noun)

A person suffering from Down syndrome (no longer used technically in this sense).

- The article explained what "mongoloids" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "mongoloids" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

moppet (noun)

A little girl (usually one you are fond of).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "moppet."
- Understanding "moppet" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

mudras (noun)

Ritual hand movement in Hindu religious dancing.

- He looked up "mudras" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "mudras" to mean ritual hand movement in hindu religious dancing.

muggins (noun)

A person who lacks good judgment.

- In class, the teacher used "muggins" to mean a person who lacks good judgment.
- He looked up "muggins" because he had never seen it before.

multiplexers (noun)

A device that can interleave two or more activities.

- In class, the teacher used "multiplexers" to mean a device that can interleave two or more activities.
- The article explained what "multiplexers" means with a simple example.

musculus adductor longus (noun)

The long adductor muscle of the thigh.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musculus adductor longus."
- They discussed "musculus adductor longus" during the group presentation.

mym (noun)

A metric unit of length equal to 10,000 meters.

- The article explained what "mym" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "mym" to mean a metric unit of length equal to 10,000 meters.

myotonic (adjective)

Of or relating to or caused by myotonia.

- It is useful to describe something as "myotonic" when it is of or relating to or caused by myotonia.
- Students compared "myotonic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

myxomatosis (noun)

A viral disease (usually fatal) of rabbits.

- They discussed "myxomatosis" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "myxomatosis."

navvy (noun)

A laborer who is obliged to do menial work.

- In class, the teacher used "navvy" to mean a laborer who is obliged to do menial work.
- The article explained what "navvy" means with a simple example.

---

negativism (noun)

Characterized by habitual skepticism and a disagreeable tendency to deny or oppose or resist suggestions or commands.

- They discussed "negativism" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "negativism."

---

neuroleptics (noun)

Tranquilizer used to treat psychotic conditions when a calming effect is desired.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "neuroleptics."
- They discussed "neuroleptics" during the group presentation.

---

nguni (noun)

A group of southern Bantu languages.

- They discussed "nguni" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "nguni" means with a simple example.

---

nicolas de malebranche (noun)

French philosopher (1638-1715).

- In class, the teacher used "nicolas de malebranche" to mean french philosopher (1638-1715).
- They discussed "nicolas de malebranche" during the group presentation.

---

noahs (noun)

The Hebrew patriarch who saved himself and his family and the animals by building an ark in which they survived 40 days and 40 nights of rain; the story of Noah and the flood is told in the Book of Genesis.

- The article explained what "noahs" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "noahs."

---

nomes (noun)

A town in western Alaska on the southern coast of the Seward Peninsula; an important center of an Alaskan gold rush at the beginning of the 20th century.

- In class, the teacher used "nomes" to mean a town in western alaska on the southern coast of....
- The article explained what "nomes" means with a simple example.

---

nuthouse (noun)

Pejorative terms for an insane asylum.

- The article explained what "nuthouse" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "nuthouse" to mean pejorative terms for an insane asylum.

---

oblates (noun)

A lay person dedicated to religious work or the religious life.

- Understanding "oblates" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oblates."

---

occlusions (noun)

An obstruction in a pipe or tube.

- He looked up "occlusions" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "occlusions."

---

odalisque (noun)

A woman slave in a harem.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "odalisque."
- The article explained what "odalisque" means with a simple example.

---

oftener (adverb)

More often or more frequently.

- The narrator describes the scene "oftener" in the final chapter.

- Using "oftener" can make your explanation more exact.

---

oilcloth (noun)

Cloth treated on one side with a drying oil or synthetic resin.

- He looked up "oilcloth" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "oilcloth" to mean cloth treated on one side with a drying oil or....

---

oliviers (noun)

English actor best know for his Shakespearean roles (1907-1989).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oliviers."
- The article explained what "oliviers" means with a simple example.

---

oner (adjective)

Of the same kind or quality.

- Students compared "oner" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "oner" approach may work better in this case.

---

oohing (verb)

Express admiration and pleasure by uttering 'ooh' or 'aah'.

- She tried to use "oohing" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "oohing" and when to wait.

---

osmanthus (noun)

Widely distributed genus of evergreen shrubs or trees of southern United States and Middle East and China and Japan.

- He looked up "osmanthus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "osmanthus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

outskirt (noun)

A part of the city far removed from the center.

- They built a factory on the outskirts of the city.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "outskirt."

---

overcrowd (verb)

Cause to crowd together too much.

- The students overcrowded the cafeteria.
- In everyday English, people use "overcrowd" when talking about this idea.

---

paintbox (noun)

A box containing a collection of cubes or tubes of artists' paint.

- They discussed "paintbox" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paintbox."

---

paleobiology (noun)

A branch of paleontology that deals with the origin and growth and structure of fossil animals and plants as living organisms.

- Understanding "paleobiology" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paleobiology."

---

panax ginseng (noun)

Chinese herb with palmately compound leaves and small greenish flowers and forked aromatic roots believed to have medicinal powers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "panax ginseng."
- He looked up "panax ginseng" because he had never seen it before.

---

paspalum (noun)

Tall tufted perennial tropical American grass naturalized as pasture and forage grass in southern United States.

- The article explained what "paspalum" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paspalum."

---

passerines (noun)

Perching birds mostly small and living near the ground with feet having 4 toes arranged to allow for gripping the perch; most are songbirds; hatchlings are helpless.

- They discussed "passerines" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "passerines" means with a simple example.

---

passiveness (noun)

The trait of remaining inactive; a lack of initiative.

- He looked up "passiveness" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "passiveness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

petabyte (noun)

A unit of information equal to 1024 tebibytes or 2^50 bytes.

- He looked up "petabyte" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "petabyte" to mean a unit of information equal to 1024 tebibytes or....

---

phalaris (noun)

A genus of grasses with broad leaves and a dense spike of flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "phalaris" to mean a genus of grasses with broad leaves and a dense....
- He looked up "phalaris" because he had never seen it before.

---

phonograms (noun)

Any written symbol standing for a sound or syllable or morpheme or word.

- In class, the teacher used "phonograms" to mean any written symbol standing for a sound or syllable....
- The article explained what "phonograms" means with a simple example.

---

photogravure (noun)

An intaglio print produced by gravure.

- He looked up "photogravure" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "photogravure."

---

pikas (noun)

Small short-eared burrowing mammal of rocky uplands of Asia and western North America.

- Understanding "pikas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pikas."

---

pilferage (noun)

The act of stealing small amounts or small articles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pilferage."
- He looked up "pilferage" because he had never seen it before.

---

pilocarpine (noun)

Cholinergic alkaloid used in eyedrops to treat glaucoma.

- He looked up "pilocarpine" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pilocarpine" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pinheads (noun)

An ignorant or foolish person.

- He looked up "pinheads" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pinheads" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pinny (noun)

A sleeveless dress resembling an apron; worn over other clothing.

- In class, the teacher used "pinny" to mean a sleeveless dress resembling an apron; worn over....
- They discussed "pinny" during the group presentation.

---

pipits (noun)

A songbird that lives mainly on the ground in open country; has streaky brown plumage.

- They discussed “pipits” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “pipits” means with a simple example.

---

plushes (noun)

A fabric with a nap that is longer and softer than velvet.

- He looked up “plushes” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “plushes” to mean a fabric with a nap that is longer and softer than....

---

pome (noun)

A fleshy fruit (apple or pear or related fruits) having seed chambers and an outer fleshy part.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “pome.”
- He looked up “pome” because he had never seen it before.

---

postulants (noun)

One submitting a request or application especially one seeking admission into a religious order.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “postulants.”
- The article explained what “postulants” means with a simple example.

---

potamogeton (noun)

A large genus of aquatic herbs found in quiet waters in temperate regions; leaves usually float on the water.

- The article explained what “potamogeton” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “potamogeton.”

---

presentiment (noun)

A feeling of evil to come.

- The lawyer had a presentiment that the judge would dismiss the case.
- Understanding “presentiment” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

profoundest (adjective)

Showing intellectual penetration or emotional depth.

- The speaker chose “profoundest” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as “profoundest” when it is showing intellectual penetration or emotional depth.

---

proscribing (verb)

Command against.

- The coach explained when to use “proscribing” and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use “proscribing” until he saw an example.

---

proserpina (noun)

Goddess of the underworld; counterpart of Greek Persephone.

- They discussed “proserpina” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “proserpina” because he had never seen it before.

---

pruner (noun)

A worker who thins out and trims trees and shrubs.

- Untouched by the pruner’s axe.
- Understanding “pruner” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pseud (noun)

A person who makes deceitful pretenses.

- They discussed “pseud” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “pseud” means with a simple example.

---

purslane speedwell (noun)

North American annual with small white flowers widely naturalized as a weed in South America and Europe.

- They discussed “purslane speedwell” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “purslane speedwell” because he had never seen it before.

purvey (verb)

Supply with provisions.

- He did not know how to use "purvey" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "purvey" in real sentences.

quashes (verb)

Put down by force or intimidation.

- The government quashes any attempt of an uprising.
- Learners should practice how to use "quashes" in real sentences.

querulous (adjective)

Habitually complaining.

- A "querulous" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "querulous" when it is habitually complaining.

quintets (noun)

A musical composition for five performers.

- They discussed "quintets" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "quintets" to mean a musical composition for five performers.

ranter (noun)

Someone who rants and raves; speaks in a violent or loud manner.

- He looked up "ranter" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "ranter" to mean someone who rants and raves; speaks in a violent or....

rapscallion (noun)

A deceitful and unreliable scoundrel.

- In class, the teacher used "rapscallion" to mean a deceitful and unreliable scoundrel.
- The article explained what "rapscallion" means with a simple example.

rase (verb)

Tear down so as to make flat with the ground.

- Can you use "rase" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "rase" when talking about this idea.

reenactor (noun)

A person who enacts a role in an event that occurred earlier.

- The article explained what "reenactor" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "reenactor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

reenlistment (noun)

A renewed enlistment.

- He looked up "reenlistment" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "reenlistment" during the group presentation.

reflectively (adverb)

In a reflective manner.

- He watched her reflectively.
- Place "reflectively" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

remonstrating (verb)

Censure severely or angrily.

- He did not know how to use "remonstrating" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "remonstrating" and when to wait.

repp (noun)

A fabric with prominent rounded crosswise ribs.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "repp."
- They discussed "repp" during the group presentation.

---

reseeded (verb)

Maintain by seeding without human intervention.

- He did not know how to use "reseeded" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "reseeded" in real sentences.

---

reverends (noun)

A member of the clergy and a spiritual leader of the Christian Church.

- Understanding "reverends" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "reverends" because he had never seen it before.

---

rhodope mountains (noun)

A mountain range in the Balkan peninsula in southeastern Europe; extends along the border between Greece and Bulgaria.

- They discussed "rhodope mountains" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "rhodope mountains" means with a simple example.

---

ribes rubrum (noun)

Cultivated European current bearing small edible red berries.

- He looked up "ribes rubrum" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "ribes rubrum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

richard august carl emil erlenmeyer (noun)

German chemist (1825-1909).

- The article explained what "richard august carl emil erlenmeyer" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "richard august carl emil erlenmeyer."

---

ringlet (noun)

A round shape formed by a series of concentric circles (as formed by leaves or flower petals).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ringlet."
- The article explained what "ringlet" means with a simple example.

---

ringlet butterfly (noun)

Any of various butterflies belonging to the family Satyridae.

- In class, the teacher used "ringlet butterfly" to mean any of various butterflies belonging to the family....
- He looked up "ringlet butterfly" because he had never seen it before.

---

riyal-omani (noun)

The basic unit of money in Oman.

- In class, the teacher used "riyal-omani" to mean the basic unit of money in oman.
- He looked up "riyal-omani" because he had never seen it before.

---

robing (verb)

Take something away by force or without the consent of the owner.

- He did not know how to use "robing" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "robing" and when to wait.

---

roquette (noun)

Erect European annual often grown as a salad crop to be harvested when young and tender.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "roquette."
- They discussed "roquette" during the group presentation.

---

rose chafer (noun)

A common metallic green European beetle: larvae feed on plant roots and adults on leaves and flowers of e.g. roses.

- He looked up "rose chafer" because he had never seen it before.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rose chafer."

---

rowdiness (noun)

Rowdy behavior.

- In class, the teacher used "rowdiness" to mean rowdy behavior.
- Understanding "rowdiness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ruga (noun)

(anatomy) a fold or wrinkle or crease.

- Rugae of the stomach.
- They discussed "ruga" during the group presentation.

---

runabouts (noun)

An open automobile having a front seat and a rumble seat.

- They discussed "runabouts" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "runabouts" means with a simple example.

---

salesroom (noun)

An area where merchandise (such as cars) can be displayed.

- In Britain a showroom is called a salesroom.
- The article explained what "salesroom" means with a simple example.

---

salix humilis (noun)

Slender shrubby willow of dry areas of North America.

- Understanding "salix humilis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "salix humilis" to mean slender shrubby willow of dry areas of north america.

---

salvor (noun)

Someone who salvages.

- The article explained what "salvor" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "salvor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scarcities (noun)

A small and inadequate amount.

- He looked up "scarcities" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "scarcities" during the group presentation.

---

scouters (noun)

An adult member of the Boy Scouts movement.

- In class, the teacher used "scouters" to mean an adult member of the boy scouts movement.
- They discussed "scouters" during the group presentation.

---

scrabbled (verb)

Write down quickly without much attention to detail.

- Learners should practice how to use "scrabbled" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "scrabbled" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

sealskin (noun)

The pelt or fur (especially the underfur) of a seal.

- In class, the teacher used "sealskin" to mean the pelt or fur (especially the underfur) of a seal.
- They discussed "sealskin" during the group presentation.

---

sealskin tent (noun)

Tent that is an Eskimo summer dwelling.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sealskin tent."
- He looked up "sealskin tent" because he had never seen it before.

---

sectarians (noun)

A member of a sect.

- Most sectarians are intolerant of the views of any other sect.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sectarians."

seedier (adjective)

Morally degraded; ; ; ; - Seattle Weekly; - James Joyce.

- A "seedier" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "seedier"? Explain why.

semitransparent (adjective)

Allowing light to pass through diffusely.

- Semitransparent curtains at the windows.
- It is useful to describe something as "semitransparent" when it is allowing light to pass through diffusely.

serologic (adjective)

Of or relating to serology.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "serologic."
- The speaker chose "serologic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

shiting (verb)

Give away information about somebody.

- She tried to use "shiting" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "shiting" when talking about this idea.

short-snouted (adjective)

Having a snout that is shorter than average.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "short-snouted."
- Students compared "short-snouted" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

shua (noun)

Any branch of Shinto other than Kokka.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "shua."
- He looked up "shua" because he had never seen it before.

sideway (adverb)

With one side forward or to the front.

- Turned sideways to show the profile.
- A picture lit sideways.

sinuate (adjective)

Curved or curving in and out.

- A "sinuate" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "sinuate" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

sirdar (noun)

An important person in India.

- The article explained what "sirdar" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "sirdar" during the group presentation.

sison (noun)

Genus including stone parsley.

- He looked up "sison" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "sison" during the group presentation.

sitta canadensis (noun)

Bluish-grey nuthatch with reddish breast; of northern coniferous forests.

- He looked up “sitta canadensis” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “sitta canadensis.”

---

skuas (noun)

Gull-like jaeger of northern seas.

- They discussed “skuas” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “skuas” because he had never seen it before.

---

smoldered (verb)

Burn slowly and without a flame.

- He did not know how to use “smoldered” until he saw an example.
- Can you use “smoldered” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

somewheres (noun)

An indefinite or unknown location.

- He looked up “somewheres” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “somewheres.”

---

sorbate (noun)

A material that has been or is capable of being taken up by another substance by either absorption or adsorption.

- Understanding “sorbate” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “sorbate” during the group presentation.

---

sorriest (adjective)

Feeling or expressing regret or sorrow or a sense of loss over something done or undone.

- The speaker chose “sorriest” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as “sorriest” when it is feeling or expressing regret or sorrow or a sense....

---

southpaws (noun)

A person who uses the left hand with greater skill than the right.

- He looked up “southpaws” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “southpaws” during the group presentation.

---

spanker (noun)

A hitter who slaps (usually another person) with an open hand.

- My father was the designated spanker in our family.
- In class, the teacher used “spanker” to mean a hitter who slaps (usually another person) with an....

---

speedometers (noun)

A meter fixed to a vehicle that measures and displays its speed.

- In class, the teacher used “speedometers” to mean a meter fixed to a vehicle that measures and....
- The article explained what “speedometers” means with a simple example.

---

spookily (adverb)

In an unnatural eery manner.

- She spoke “spookily,” and the audience immediately understood her point.
- He answered “spookily,” which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

stagers (noun)

An experienced person who has been through many battles; someone who has given long service.

- They discussed “stagers” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “stagers” because he had never seen it before.

---

strakes (noun)

Thick plank forming a ridge along the side of a wooden ship.

- The article explained what “strakes” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “strakes” during the group presentation.

sublimating (verb)

Change or cause to change directly from a solid into a vapor without first melting.

- Can you use "sublimating" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "sublimating" and when to wait.

sumps (noun)

An oil reservoir in an internal combustion engine.

- He looked up "sumps" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sumps."

sundew (noun)

Any of various bog plants of the genus Drosera having leaves covered with sticky hairs that trap and digest insects; cosmopolitan in distribution.

- Understanding "sundew" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "sundew" during the group presentation.

sundew family (noun)

A family of carnivorous herbs and shrubs.

- He looked up "sundew family" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "sundew family" during the group presentation.

sundew plant (noun)

Any of various bog plants of the genus Drosera having leaves covered with sticky hairs that trap and digest insects; cosmopolitan in distribution.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sundew plant."
- The article explained what "sundew plant" means with a simple example.

suning (verb)

Expose to the rays of the sun or affect by exposure to the sun.

- Learners should practice how to use "suning" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "suning" carefully so everyone would understand.

sunshades (noun)

A canopy made of canvas to shelter people or things from rain or sun.

- Understanding "sunshades" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "sunshades" because he had never seen it before.

swains (noun)

A man who is the lover of a girl or young woman.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "swains."
- Understanding "swains" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

syllogisms (noun)

Deductive reasoning in which a conclusion is derived from two premises.

- In class, the teacher used "syllogisms" to mean deductive reasoning in which a conclusion is....
- Understanding "syllogisms" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

syringa vulgaris (noun)

Large European lilac naturalized in North America having heart-shaped ovate leaves and large panicles of highly fragrant lilac or white flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "syringa vulgaris" to mean large european lilac naturalized in north america....
- The article explained what "syringa vulgaris" means with a simple example.

tadalafil (noun)

Virility drug (trade name Cialis) used to treat erectile dysfunction in men.

- In class, the teacher used "tadalafil" to mean virility drug (trade name cialis) used to treat....
- Understanding "tadalafil" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

tailplane (noun)

The horizontal airfoil of an aircraft's tail assembly that is fixed and to which the elevator is hinged.

- In class, the teacher used "tailplane" to mean the horizontal airfoil of an aircraft's tail....
- The article explained what "tailplane" means with a simple example.

---

tansy ragwort (noun)

Widespread European weed having yellow daisylike flowers; sometimes an obnoxious weed and toxic to cattle if consumed in quantity.

- The article explained what "tansy ragwort" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "tansy ragwort" during the group presentation.

---

tapis (noun)

A heavy textile with a woven design; used for curtains and upholstery.

- They discussed "tapis" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "tapis" means with a simple example.

---

tatis (noun)

French filmmaker (1908-1982).

- The article explained what "tatis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tatis" to mean french filmmaker (1908-1982).

---

teals (noun)

A blue-green color or pigment.

- The article explained what "teals" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "teals."

---

telecasted (verb)

Broadcast via television.

- The coach explained when to use "telecasted" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "telecasted" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

teraflops (noun)

(computer science) a unit for measuring the speed of a computer system.

- He looked up "teraflops" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "teraflops" during the group presentation.

---

thunderclouds (noun)

A dark cloud of great vertical extent charged with electricity; associated with thunderstorms.

- Understanding "thunderclouds" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "thunderclouds" during the group presentation.

---

tiddly (adjective)

Slightly intoxicated.

- Would you call this situation "tiddly"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "tiddly" when it is slightly intoxicated.

---

tiddlywinks (noun)

A game in which players try to flip plastic disks into a cup by pressing them on the side sharply with a larger disk.

- In class, the teacher used "tiddlywinks" to mean a game in which players try to flip plastic disks....
- The article explained what "tiddlywinks" means with a simple example.

---

toiler (noun)

One who works strenuously.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "toiler."
- He looked up "toiler" because he had never seen it before.

---

toxicant (noun)

Any substance that causes injury or illness or death of a living organism.

- He looked up "toxicant" because he had never seen it before.

- Understanding "toxicant" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

traduced (verb)

Speak unfavorably about.

- The coach explained when to use "traduced" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "traduced" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

trudges (verb)

Walk heavily and firmly, as when weary, or through mud.

- The coach explained when to use "trudges" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "trudges" until he saw an example.

---

twittered (verb)

Make high-pitched sounds, as of birds.

- The coach explained when to use "twittered" and when to wait.
- Can you use "twittered" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

unconsummated (adjective)

Not consummated (especially of a marriage).

- An unconsummated marriage can be annulled.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unconsummated."

---

unobservant (adjective)

Not consciously observing.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unobservant."
- The speaker chose "unobservant" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

unpicked (verb)

Become or cause to become undone by separating the fibers or threads of.

- He did not know how to use "unpicked" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "unpicked" and when to wait.

---

unscrambled (verb)

Become or cause to become undone by separating the fibers or threads of.

- The coach explained when to use "unscrambled" and when to wait.
- Can you use "unscrambled" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

unskillful (adjective)

Poorly done.

- It was an unskillful attempt.
- A "unskillful" approach may work better in this case.

---

vardenafil (noun)

Virility drug (trade name Levitra) used to treat erectile dysfunction in men.

- Understanding "vardenafil" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "vardenafil" during the group presentation.

---

venters (noun)

A bulging body part (as the belly of a muscle).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "venters."
- He looked up "venters" because he had never seen it before.

---

vesture (noun)

Something that covers or cloaks like a garment.

- Fields in a vesture of green.
- Understanding "vesture" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

violences (noun)

An act of aggression (as one against a person who resists).

- Understanding "violences" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "violences" means with a simple example.

---

viscounts (noun)

A British peer who ranks below an earl and above a baron.

- He looked up "viscounts" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "viscounts" during the group presentation.

---

vouchsafed (verb)

Grant in a condescending manner.

- She tried to use "vouchsafed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "vouchsafed" and when to wait.

---

welches (verb)

Cheat by avoiding payment of a gambling debt.

- In everyday English, people use "welches" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "welches" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

whiteflies (noun)

Minute insect that feeds on plant juices; related to scale insects.

- Understanding "whiteflies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whiteflies."

---

whooper (noun)

Common Old World swan noted for its whooping call.

- He looked up "whooper" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "whooper" to mean common old world swan noted for its whooping call.

---

whooper swan (noun)

Common Old World swan noted for its whooping call.

- The article explained what "whooper swan" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "whooper swan" during the group presentation.

---

zens (noun)

A Buddhist doctrine that enlightenment can be attained through direct intuitive insight.

- He looked up "zens" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "zens."

---

zithromax (noun)

A systemic antibacterial medicine (trade name Zithromax) that is prescribed to treat bacterial infections in many different parts of the body.

- Understanding "zithromax" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "zithromax" means with a simple example.

---

zocor (noun)

An oral lipid-lowering medicine (trade name Zocor) administered to reduce blood cholesterol levels; recommended after heart attacks.

- They discussed "zocor" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "zocor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

zus (noun)

Evil storm god represented as a black bird.

- In class, the teacher used "zus" to mean evil storm god represented as a black bird.
- The article explained what "zus" means with a simple example.

---

zygotic (adjective)

Of or relating to a zygote.

- The speaker chose "zygotic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "zygotic."

---

abets (verb)

Assist or encourage, usually in some wrongdoing.

- He did not know how to use "abets" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "abets" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

abrogates (verb)

Revoke formally.

- The coach explained when to use "abrogates" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "abrogates" in real sentences.

---

afterworld (noun)

The place where you are after you die.

- Understanding "afterworld" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "afterworld" during the group presentation.

---

airlifts (verb)

Fly people or goods to or from places not accessible by other means.

- The coach explained when to use "airlifts" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "airlifts" in real sentences.

---

aldermanic (adjective)

Of or relating to or like an alderman.

- Would you call this situation "aldermanic"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "aldermanic" when it is of or relating to or like an alderman.

---

alnus rubra (noun)

Large tree of Pacific coast of North America having hard red wood much used for furniture.

- The article explained what "alnus rubra" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "alnus rubra" to mean large tree of pacific coast of north america having....

---

alsatians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Alsace.

- In class, the teacher used "alsatians" to mean a native or inhabitant of alsace.
- Understanding "alsatians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

alyssum (noun)

A genus of the family Cruciferae.

- Understanding "alyssum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "alyssum" during the group presentation.

---

ambuscade (noun)

The act of concealing yourself and lying in wait to attack by surprise.

- The article explained what "ambuscade" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "ambuscade" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

anoraks (noun)

A kind of heavy jacket ('windcheater' is a British term).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anoraks."
- Understanding "anoraks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

apexes (noun)

The highest point (of something).

- He looked up "apexes" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "apexes" during the group presentation.

---

appealable (adjective)

Capable of being appealed especially to a higher tribunal; - New Republic.

- Decisions...appealable to the head of the agency.
- A “appealable” approach may work better in this case.

---

archdeacons (noun)

(Anglican Church) an ecclesiastical dignitary usually ranking just below a bishop.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “archdeacons.”
- The article explained what “archdeacons” means with a simple example.

---

argive (noun)

A native or inhabitant of the city of Argos.

- Understanding “argive” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “argive” means with a simple example.

Science & Technology

heuristic (adjective / noun)

Describing a practical method of solving problems by trial, experience, or rules of thumb rather than fixed formulas; such a method itself.

- Chess players rely on heuristics rather than calculating every possible move.
- The software uses a heuristic approach to detect new types of viruses.

---

stochastic (adjective)

Involving chance or probability; randomly determined and analyzed statistically rather than predicted precisely.

- Weather forecasting relies on stochastic models that estimate the probability of rain.
- Stock prices follow a largely stochastic pattern that resists exact prediction.

---

extrapolate (verb)

To estimate or conclude something unknown by extending known facts or trends beyond the available data.

- It is risky to extrapolate national trends from a survey of one small town.
- From current growth rates, analysts extrapolate that the market will double within five years.

---

algorithm (noun)

A precise set of rules or steps used by a computer to solve a problem or complete a task.

- Search engines use complex algorithms to rank web pages.
- The recommendation algorithm suggested films she might like.

---

entropy (noun)

A measure of disorder or randomness in a system; in information theory, a measure of uncertainty.

- Left alone, systems tend toward higher entropy.
- Compression algorithms exploit patterns that reduce entropy.

---

quantum (adjective / noun)

Related to the smallest discrete units of energy in physics; also, a sudden large increase or amount.

- Quantum computing could transform cryptography.
- There was a quantum leap in battery technology.

---

nanotechnology (noun)

Technology that works with materials and devices at an extremely small scale, measured in nanometers.

- Nanotechnology is used in advanced medical treatments.
- Researchers explore nanotechnology for cleaner energy.

---

encryption (noun)

The process of converting information into a code so that only authorized people can read it.

- End-to-end encryption protects private messages.
- Banks rely on strong encryption for online transactions.

---

latency (noun)

The delay between a request for data and the beginning of a response, especially in computing or networks.

- High latency makes online games frustrating.
- Engineers reduced the system's latency by optimizing the code.

---

thermodynamics (noun)

The branch of physics that studies heat, energy, and the relationships between them.

- The laws of thermodynamics govern how engines convert heat into work.
- Students struggle with the second law of thermodynamics.

---

iterative (adjective)

Involving repetition of a process in order to generate a sequence of outcomes that approach a desired result.

- Software development often follows an iterative design process.
- An iterative algorithm improves its estimate with each cycle.

---

bandwidth (noun)

The capacity of a network connection to transmit data; also, the mental or organizational capacity to deal with something.

- Streaming video requires more bandwidth than sending email.
- I do not have the bandwidth to take on another project this month.

---

arithmetically (adverb)

With respect to arithmetic.

- This problem is arithmetically easy.
- He answered "arithmetically," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

army cutworm (noun)

Larvae (of a noctuid moth) that travel in large groups and destroy grains and alfalfa in the midwestern states.

- He looked up "army cutworm" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "army cutworm."

---

arthralgia (noun)

Pain in a joint or joints.

- They discussed "arthralgia" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "arthralgia" means with a simple example.

---

arthropoda (noun)

Jointed-foot invertebrates: arachnids; crustaceans; insects; millipedes; centipedes.

- Understanding "arthropoda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "arthropoda."

---

asafoetida (noun)

The brownish gum resin of various plants; has strong taste and odor; formerly used as an antispasmodic.

- The article explained what "asafoetida" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "asafoetida" to mean the brownish gum resin of various plants; has....

---

asthenosphere (noun)

The lower layer of the crust.

- The article explained what "asthenosphere" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "asthenosphere" to mean the lower layer of the crust.

---

autograft (noun)

Tissue that is taken from one site and grafted to another site on the same person.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "autograft."
- He looked up "autograft" because he had never seen it before.

---

autotrophs (noun)

Plant capable of synthesizing its own food from simple organic substances.

- The article explained what "autotrophs" means with a simple example.

- Understanding "autotrophs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

avestan (noun)

The script in which the ancient Persian language of the Avesta is written.

- He looked up "avestan" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "avestan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

axolotls (noun)

Larval salamander of mountain lakes of Mexico that usually lives without metamorphosing.

- He looked up "axolotls" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "axolotls" during the group presentation.

---

bandicoots (noun)

Any of various agile ratlike terrestrial marsupials of Australia and adjacent islands; insectivorous and herbivorous.

- In class, the teacher used "bandicoots" to mean any of various agile ratlike terrestrial marsupials....
- He looked up "bandicoots" because he had never seen it before.

---

bankia (noun)

Giant shipworms.

- Understanding "bankia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "bankia" because he had never seen it before.

---

basotho (noun)

A member of a subgroup of people who inhabit Lesotho.

- Understanding "basotho" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "basotho" during the group presentation.

---

batmans (noun)

An orderly assigned to serve a British military officer.

- He looked up "batmans" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "batmans" to mean an orderly assigned to serve a british military officer.

---

battle of navarino (noun)

A decisive naval battle in the War of Greek Independence (1827); the Turkish and Egyptian fleet was defeated by an allied fleet of British and French and Russian warships.

- They discussed "battle of navarino" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "battle of navarino" means with a simple example.

---

beated (verb)

Sail with much tacking or with difficulty.

- Can you use "beated" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "beated" and when to wait.

---

benefic (adjective)

Exerting a favorable or beneficent influence.

- A benefic star.
- A benefic force.

---

biogeographical (adjective)

Of or relating to or involved with biogeography.

- Would you call this situation "biogeographical"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "biogeographical" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

biogeographical region (noun)

An area of the Earth determined by distribution of flora and fauna.

- In class, the teacher used "biogeographical region" to mean an area of the earth determined by distribution of....
- The article explained what "biogeographical region" means with a simple example.

---

bittering (verb)

Make bitter.

- She tried to use "bittering" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "bittering" when talking about this idea.

---

blepharitis (noun)

Inflammation of the eyelids characterized by redness and swelling and dried crusts.

- They discussed "blepharitis" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "blepharitis" means with a simple example.

---

blowgun (noun)

A tube through which darts can be shot by blowing.

- He looked up "blowgun" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "blowgun" during the group presentation.

---

boldfaced (verb)

Print in boldface.

- The coach explained when to use "boldfaced" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "boldfaced" until he saw an example.

---

bolivars (noun)

The basic unit of money in Venezuela; equal to 100 centimos.

- Understanding "bolivars" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bolivars."

---

bosie (noun)

A cricket ball bowled as if to break one way that actually breaks in the opposite way.

- Understanding "bosie" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "bosie" to mean a cricket ball bowled as if to break one way that....

---

bosie ball (noun)

A cricket ball bowled as if to break one way that actually breaks in the opposite way.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bosie ball."
- He looked up "bosie ball" because he had never seen it before.

---

bracer (noun)

A tonic or restorative (especially a drink of liquor).

- They discussed "bracer" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "bracer" to mean a tonic or restorative (especially a drink of liquor).

---

bracero (noun)

A Mexican laborer who worked in the United States on farms and railroads in order to ease labor shortages during World War II.

- Understanding "bracero" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "bracero" because he had never seen it before.

---

bracteoles (noun)

A small bract.

- He looked up "bracteoles" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bracteoles."

---

brahmas (noun)

The Creator; one of the three major deities in the later Hindu pantheon.

- Understanding "brahmas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "brahmas" because he had never seen it before.

---

brahminical (adjective)

Of or relating to or characteristic of a brahmin.

- It is useful to describe something as "brahminical" when it is of or relating to or characteristic of a brahmin.
- The speaker chose "brahminical" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

breezily (adverb)

In a breezy manner.

- He swings breezily into the title song.
- He answered "breezily," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

bridegrooms (noun)

A man participant in his own marriage ceremony.

- They discussed "bridegrooms" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "bridegrooms" because he had never seen it before.

---

bristlecone pine (noun)

Small slow-growing upland pine of western United States (Rocky Mountains) having dense branches with fissured rust-brown bark and short needles in bunches of 5 and thorn-tipped cone scales; among the oldest living things some over 4500 years old.

- In class, the teacher used "bristlecone pine" to mean small slow-growing upland pine of western united....
- They discussed "bristlecone pine" during the group presentation.

---

buring (verb)

Remove the burrs from.

- He did not know how to use "buring" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "buring" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

cagoule (noun)

Lightweight parka; waterproof.

- He looked up "cagoule" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "cagoule" during the group presentation.

---

calk (noun)

A metal cleat on the bottom front of a horseshoe to prevent slipping.

- The article explained what "calk" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "calk" to mean a metal cleat on the bottom front of a horseshoe to....

---

callipers (noun)

An instrument for measuring the distance between two points (often used in the plural).

- They discussed "callipers" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "callipers."

---

canis familiaris (noun)

A member of the genus Canis (probably descended from the common wolf) that has been domesticated by man since prehistoric times; occurs in many breeds.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "canis familiaris."
- He looked up "canis familiaris" because he had never seen it before.

---

carrick bitt (noun)

Either of a pair of strong posts that support a windlass on a ship's deck.

- Understanding "carrick bitt" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "carrick bitt" during the group presentation.

---

caspases (noun)

Any of a group of proteases that mediate apoptosis.

- They discussed "caspases" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "caspases" because he had never seen it before.

---

castrati (noun)

A male singer who was castrated before puberty and retains a soprano or alto voice.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "castrati."
- They discussed "castrati" during the group presentation.

centrepieces (noun)

The central or most important feature.

- Understanding "centrepieces" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "centrepieces" because he had never seen it before.

chaga (noun)

A Bantu language spoken by the Chaga in northern Tanzania.

- Understanding "chaga" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "chaga" to mean a bantu language spoken by the chaga in northern....

chalybeate (adjective)

Containing or impregnated with or tasting of iron.

- Students compared "chalybeate" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "chalybeate" when it is containing or impregnated with or tasting of iron.

chauffeuring (verb)

Drive someone in a vehicle.

- He did not know how to use "chauffeuring" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "chauffeuring" and when to wait.

cheekiness (noun)

The trait of being rude and impertinent; inclined to take liberties.

- Understanding "cheekiness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "cheekiness" means with a simple example.

choosey (adjective)

Difficult to please.

- It is useful to describe something as "choosey" when it is difficult to please.
- Students compared "choosey" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

chrysotile (noun)

A grey or green fibrous mineral; an important source of commercial asbestos.

- Understanding "chrysotile" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "chrysotile" because he had never seen it before.

circumscribing (verb)

To draw a geometric figure around another figure so that the two are in contact but do not intersect.

- The coach explained when to use "circumscribing" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "circumscribing" in real sentences.

clinked (verb)

Make or emit a high sound.

- Champagne glasses clinked to make a toast.
- The coach explained when to use "clinked" and when to wait.

clucks (noun)

The sound made by a hen (as in calling her chicks).

- The article explained what "clucks" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "clucks" during the group presentation.

cockfights (noun)

A match in a cockpit between two fighting cocks heeled with metal gaffs.

- They discussed "cockfights" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "cockfights" because he had never seen it before.

coffea arabica (noun)

Shrubby tree of northeastern tropical Africa widely cultivated in tropical or near tropical regions for its seed which form most of the commercial coffee.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coffea arabica."
- Understanding "coffea arabica" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

commodes (noun)

A plumbing fixture for defecation and urination.

- The article explained what "commodes" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "commodes" during the group presentation.

---

concatenating (verb)

Add by linking or joining so as to form a chain or series.

- Learners should practice how to use "concatenating" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "concatenating" when talking about this idea.

---

confidantes (noun)

A female confidant.

- Understanding "confidantes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "confidantes."

---

conformably (adverb)

In a conformable manner.

- Place "conformably" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "conformably" naturally.

---

congruous (adjective)

Corresponding in character or kind.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "congruous."
- The speaker chose "congruous" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

connubial (adjective)

Of or relating to marriage or to the relationship between a wife and husband.

- Connubial bliss.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "connubial."

---

convoke (verb)

Call together.

- Can you use "convoke" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "convoke" when talking about this idea.

---

corruptive (adjective)

Tending to corrupt or pervert.

- The speaker chose "corruptive" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "corruptive."

---

corticotropin (noun)

A hormone produced by the anterior pituitary gland that stimulates the adrenal cortex.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "corticotropin."
- He looked up "corticotropin" because he had never seen it before.

---

counterintuitively (adverb)

In a counterintuitive manner.

- Place "counterintuitively" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "counterintuitively" naturally.

---

counterproposal (noun)

A proposal offered as an alternative to an earlier proposal.

- He looked up "counterproposal" because he had never seen it before.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "counterproposal."

---

counterterror (adjective)

Intended to prevent terrorism.

- The government took counterterror measures.
- Students compared "counterterror" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

covariances (noun)

(statistics) the mean value of the product of the deviations of two variates from their respective means.

- Understanding "covariances" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "covariances."

---

crankiness (noun)

A fussy and eccentric disposition.

- They discussed "crankiness" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "crankiness" to mean a fussy and eccentric disposition.

---

crassula (noun)

Type genus of Crassulaceae; herbs and small shrubs having woody stems and succulent aerial parts.

- He looked up "crassula" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "crassula" to mean type genus of crassulaceae; herbs and small shrubs....

---

cremains (noun)

The remains of a dead body after cremation.

- He looked up "cremains" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cremains."

---

crystallising (verb)

Cause to take on a definite and clear shape.

- Learners should practice how to use "crystallising" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "crystallising" when talking about this idea.

---

cubbyhole (noun)

A small secluded room.

- The article explained what "cubbyhole" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cubbyhole."

---

cupidity (noun)

Extreme greed for material wealth.

- They discussed "cupidity" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "cupidity" means with a simple example.

---

cusk (noun)

The lean flesh of a cod-like fish of North Atlantic waters.

- In class, the teacher used "cusk" to mean the lean flesh of a cod-like fish of north atlantic....
- They discussed "cusk" during the group presentation.

---

cutworm (noun)

North American moth whose larvae feed on young plant stems cutting them off at the ground.

- They discussed "cutworm" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "cutworm" means with a simple example.

---

deadness (noun)

The physical property of something that has lost its elasticity.

- He objected to the deadness of the tennis balls.
- In an instant all the deadness and withdrawal were wiped away.

---

defiler (noun)

A person or organization that causes pollution of the environment.

- They discussed "defiler" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "defiler" because he had never seen it before.

---

delf (noun)

An excavation; usually a quarry or mine.

- The article explained what "delf" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "delf" to mean an excavation; usually a quarry or mine.

---

demarcates (verb)

Set, mark, or draw the boundaries of something.

- He did not know how to use "demarcates" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "demarcates" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

demarcations (noun)

A conceptual separation or distinction.

- Understanding "demarcations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "demarcations" because he had never seen it before.

---

demoniac (noun)

Someone who acts as if possessed by a demon.

- He looked up "demoniac" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "demoniac" to mean someone who acts as if possessed by a demon.

---

demoralise (verb)

Lower someone's spirits; make downhearted.

- He did not know how to use "demoralise" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "demoralise" and when to wait.

---

dependences (noun)

The state of relying on or being controlled by someone or something else.

- He looked up "dependences" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dependences."

---

depressor (noun)

A device used by physician to press a part down or aside.

- They discussed "depressor" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "depressor" to mean a device used by physician to press a part down or....

---

depressor muscle (noun)

Any skeletal muscle that draws a body part down.

- Understanding "depressor muscle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "depressor muscle" because he had never seen it before.

---

depressor nerve (noun)

Any nerve whose activity tends to reduce the activity or tone of the body part it serves.

- They discussed "depressor nerve" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "depressor nerve."

---

depressurized (verb)

Decrease the pressure of.

- Can you use "depressurized" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "depressurized" when talking about this idea.

---

deputize (verb)

Appoint as a substitute.

- The coach explained when to use "deputize" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "deputize" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

derogate (verb)

Cause to seem less serious; play down.

- In everyday English, people use "derogate" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "derogate" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

detestation (noun)

Hate coupled with disgust.

- In class, the teacher used "detestation" to mean hate coupled with disgust.
- They discussed "detestation" during the group presentation.

---

detoxified (verb)

Treat for alcohol or drug dependence.

- He was detoxified in the clinic.
- He did not know how to use "detoxified" until he saw an example.

---

detraction (noun)

The act of discrediting or detracting from someone's reputation (especially by slander).

- Let it be no detraction from his merits to say he is plainspoken.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "detraction."

---

deutschlands (noun)

A republic in central Europe; split into East Germany and West Germany after World War II and reunited in 1990.

- He looked up "deutschlands" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "deutschlands" to mean a republic in central europe; split into east....

---

diaphoretic (noun)

Used to produce perspiration.

- In class, the teacher used "diaphoretic" to mean used to produce perspiration.
- The article explained what "diaphoretic" means with a simple example.

---

diathesis (noun)

Constitutional predisposition to a particular disease or abnormality.

- He looked up "diathesis" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "diathesis."

---

differentiators (noun)

A person who (or that which) differentiates.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "differentiators."
- They discussed "differentiators" during the group presentation.

---

digressed (verb)

Lose clarity or turn aside especially from the main subject of attention or course of argument in writing, thinking, or speaking.

- Learners should practice how to use "digressed" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "digressed" when talking about this idea.

---

diols (noun)

Any of a class of alcohols having 2 hydroxyl groups in each molecule.

- They discussed "diols" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "diols."

---

disambiguate (verb)

State unambiguously or remove ambiguities from.

- Can you disambiguate this statement?
- In everyday English, people use "disambiguate" when talking about this idea.

disconcert (verb)

Cause to feel embarrassment.

- She tried to use "disconcert" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "disconcert" in real sentences.

dissolvable (adjective)

Capable of dissolving.

- It is useful to describe something as "dissolvable" when it is capable of dissolving.
- The speaker chose "dissolvable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

dreariness (noun)

Extreme dullness; lacking spirit or interest.

- He looked up "dreariness" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "dreariness" to mean extreme dullness; lacking spirit or interest.

drizzles (noun)

Very light rain; stronger than mist but less than a shower.

- They discussed "drizzles" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "drizzles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

dubonnet (noun)

(trademark) a sweet aromatic French wine (red or white) used chiefly as an aperitif.

- They discussed "dubonnet" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "dubonnet" to mean (trademark) a sweet aromatic french wine (red or....

ductus deferens (noun)

A duct that carries spermatozoa from the epididymis to the ejaculatory duct.

- He looked up "ductus deferens" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ductus deferens."

dynamites (noun)

An explosive containing nitrate sensitized with nitroglycerin absorbed on wood pulp.

- Understanding "dynamites" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dynamites" because he had never seen it before.

dysarthria (noun)

Impaired articulatory ability resulting from defects in the peripheral motor nerves or in the speech musculature.

- The article explained what "dysarthria" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "dysarthria" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

eavesdroppers (noun)

A secret listener to private conversations.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "eavesdroppers."
- Understanding "eavesdroppers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

echinoderm (noun)

Marine invertebrates with tube feet and five-part radially symmetrical bodies.

- He looked up "echinoderm" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "echinoderm" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

echinoderm family (noun)

A family of echinoderms.

- In class, the teacher used "echinoderm family" to mean a family of echinoderms.
- They discussed "echinoderm family" during the group presentation.

echinoderm genus (noun)

A genus of echinoderms.

- In class, the teacher used "echinoderm genus" to mean a genus of echinoderms.
- He looked up "echinoderm genus" because he had never seen it before.

---

eldership (noun)

The office of elder.

- In class, the teacher used "eldership" to mean the office of elder.
- Understanding "eldership" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

embrasure (noun)

An opening (in a wall or ship or armored vehicle) for firing through.

- In class, the teacher used "embrasure" to mean an opening (in a wall or ship or armored vehicle)....
- The article explained what "embrasure" means with a simple example.

---

emilia coccinea (noun)

Tropical African annual having scarlet tassel-shaped flower heads; sometimes placed in genus Cacalia.

- Understanding "emilia coccinea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "emilia coccinea" means with a simple example.

---

emmy noether (noun)

German mathematician (1882-1935).

- They discussed "emmy noether" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "emmy noether."

---

enrichments (noun)

A gift that significantly increases the recipient's wealth.

- Understanding "enrichments" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "enrichments" because he had never seen it before.

---

entrenches (verb)

Occupy a trench or secured area.

- This matter entrenches on other domains.
- In everyday English, people use "entrenches" when talking about this idea.

---

enucleation (noun)

Surgical removal of something without cutting into it.

- The enucleation of the tumor.
- They discussed "enucleation" during the group presentation.

---

erlenmeyer (noun)

German chemist (1825-1909).

- In class, the teacher used "erlenmeyer" to mean german chemist (1825-1909).
- Understanding "erlenmeyer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

espagnole (noun)

Brown sauce with tomatoes and a caramelized mixture of minced carrots and onions and celery seasoned with Madeira.

- He looked up "espagnole" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "espagnole."

---

espys (verb)

Catch sight of.

- Learners should practice how to use "espys" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "espys" when talking about this idea.

---

ethmoid (noun)

One of the eight bones of the cranium; a small bone filled with air spaces that forms part of the eye sockets and the nasal cavity.

- Understanding "ethmoid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ethmoid."

---

ethmoid bone (noun)

One of the eight bones of the cranium; a small bone filled with air spaces that forms part of the eye sockets and the nasal cavity.

- He looked up "ethmoid bone" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ethmoid bone."

---

ethnographies (noun)

The branch of anthropology that provides scientific description of individual human societies.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ethnographies."
- He looked up "ethnographies" because he had never seen it before.

---

etienne-louis arthur fallot (noun)

French physician who described cardiac anomalies including Fallot's tetralogy (1850-1911).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "etienne-louis arthur fallot."
- He looked up "etienne-louis arthur fallot" because he had never seen it before.

---

etiolated (adjective)

(especially of plants) developed without chlorophyll by being deprived of light.

- Etiolated celery.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "etiolated."

---

evildoer (noun)

A person who sins (without repenting).

- In class, the teacher used "evildoer" to mean a person who sins (without repenting).
- They discussed "evildoer" during the group presentation.

---

fagus purpurea (noun)

Variety of European beech with shining purple or copper-colored leaves.

- He looked up "fagus purpurea" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fagus purpurea."

---

falsities (noun)

The state of being false or untrue.

- He looked up "falsities" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "falsities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fattier (adjective)

Containing or composed of fat.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "fattier."
- Would you call this situation "fattier"? Explain why.

---

feminised (verb)

To give a (more) feminine, effeminate, or womanly quality or appearance to.

- Learners should practice how to use "feminised" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "feminised" until he saw an example.

---

fetlock (noun)

The joint between the cannon bone and the pastern.

- In class, the teacher used "fetlock" to mean the joint between the cannon bone and the pastern.
- The article explained what "fetlock" means with a simple example.

---

fetlock joint (noun)

The joint between the cannon bone and the pastern.

- He looked up "fetlock joint" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "fetlock joint" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

feudatory (adjective)

Of or pertaining to the relation of a feudal vassal to his lord.

- A feudatory relationship.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "feudatory."

fluffiest (adjective)

Like down or as soft as down.

- Would you call this situation "fluffiest"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "fluffiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

flypaper (noun)

Paper that is poisoned or coated with a sticky substance to kill flies.

- The article explained what "flypaper" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "flypaper."

foregrounding (noun)

The execution of a program that preempts the use of the processing system.

- The article explained what "foregrounding" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "foregrounding" to mean the execution of a program that preempts the use of....

forehands (noun)

(sports) a return made with the palm of the hand facing the direction of the stroke (as in tennis or badminton or squash).

- In class, the teacher used "forehands" to mean (sports) a return made with the palm of the hand....
- The article explained what "forehands" means with a simple example.

friedrich wilhelm august froebel (noun)

German educator who founded the kindergarten system (1782-1852).

- Understanding "friedrich wilhelm august froebel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "friedrich wilhelm august froebel" because he had never seen it before.

frittering (verb)

Spend frivolously and unwisely.

- Learners should practice how to use "frittering" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "frittering" when talking about this idea.

fudges (verb)

Avoid or try to avoid fulfilling, answering, or performing (duties, questions, or issues).

- She tried to use "fudges" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "fudges" when talking about this idea.

fukien (noun)

Any of the forms of Chinese spoken in Fukien province.

- In class, the teacher used "fukien" to mean any of the forms of chinese spoken in fukien province.
- He looked up "fukien" because he had never seen it before.

fulvic acid (noun)

A yellow to yellow-brown humic substance that is soluble in water under all pH conditions.

- They measured the fluvial fulvic acid.
- Understanding "fulvic acid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

genic (adjective)

Of or relating to or produced by or being a gene.

- Genic combinations.
- Would you call this situation "genic"? Explain why.

gentlewomen (noun)

A woman of refinement.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gentlewomen."
- They discussed "gentlewomen" during the group presentation.

---

genus alyssum (noun)

A genus of the family Cruciferae.

- He looked up "genus alyssum" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus alyssum."

---

genus bankia (noun)

Giant shipworms.

- He looked up "genus bankia" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "genus bankia" to mean giant shipworms.

---

genus crassula (noun)

Type genus of Crassulaceae; herbs and small shrubs having woody stems and succulent aerial parts.

- In class, the teacher used "genus crassula" to mean type genus of crassulaceae; herbs and small shrubs....
- Understanding "genus crassula" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus hyaena (noun)

Type genus of the Hyaenidae.

- Understanding "genus hyaena" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "genus hyaena" means with a simple example.

---

genus picus (noun)

Type genus of Picidae.

- He looked up "genus picus" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "genus picus" during the group presentation.

---

genus salvelinus (noun)

Brook trout.

- He looked up "genus salvelinus" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "genus salvelinus" to mean brook trout.

---

genus tribulus (noun)

Annual or perennial herbs or subshrubs of warm regions.

- He looked up "genus tribulus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus tribulus."

---

genus typha (noun)

Reed maces; cattails.

- In class, the teacher used "genus typha" to mean reed maces; cattails.
- They discussed "genus typha" during the group presentation.

---

genus xanthomonas (noun)

A genus of bacteria similar to Pseudomonas but producing a yellow pigment that is not soluble in water.

- Understanding "genus xanthomonas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "genus xanthomonas" means with a simple example.

---

gimcrack (noun)

Ornamental objects of no great value.

- They discussed "gimcrack" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "gimcrack" to mean ornamental objects of no great value.

---

girondins (noun)

A member of the moderate republican party that was in power during the French Revolution; the Girondists were overthrown by their more radical rivals the Jacobins.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "girondins."
- He looked up "girondins" because he had never seen it before.

glees (noun)

Malicious satisfaction.

- In class, the teacher used "glees" to mean malicious satisfaction.
- They discussed "glees" during the group presentation.

grassing (verb)

Give away information about somebody.

- The coach explained when to use "grassing" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "grassing" in real sentences.

gussets (noun)

A metal plate used to strengthen a joist.

- Understanding "gussets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "gussets" during the group presentation.

haemodialysis (noun)

Dialysis of the blood to remove toxic substances or metabolic wastes from the bloodstream; used in the case of kidney failure.

- Understanding "haemodialysis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "haemodialysis" means with a simple example.

halm (noun)

Stems of beans and peas and potatoes and grasses collectively as used for thatching and bedding.

- He looked up "halm" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "halm."

handwash (verb)

Wash or launder by hand instead of with a machine.

- This delicate sweater must be handwashed.
- Learners should practice how to use "handwash" in real sentences.

hatless (adjective)

Not wearing a hat.

- Stood hatless in the rain with water dripping down his neck.
- It is useful to describe something as "hatless" when it is not wearing a hat.

hcfc (noun)

A fluorocarbon that is replacing chlorofluorocarbon as a refrigerant and propellant in aerosol cans; considered to be somewhat less destructive to the atmosphere.

- Understanding "hcfc" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "hcfc" because he had never seen it before.

headwaiter (noun)

A dining-room attendant who is in charge of the waiters and the seating of customers.

- He looked up "headwaiter" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "headwaiter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

hightailed (verb)

Leave as fast as possible.

- We hightailed it when we saw the police walking in.
- He did not know how to use "hightailed" until he saw an example.

hoagy (noun)

A large sandwich made of a long crusty roll split lengthwise and filled with meats and cheese (and tomato and onion and lettuce and condiments); different names are used in different sections of the United States.

- Understanding "hoagy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hoagy."

homeobox (noun)

One of various similar homeotic genes that are involved in bodily segmentation during embryonic development.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "homeobox."
- He looked up "homeobox" because he had never seen it before.

---

homeobox gene (noun)

One of various similar homeotic genes that are involved in bodily segmentation during embryonic development.

- He looked up "homeobox gene" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "homeobox gene" to mean one of various similar homeotic genes that are....

---

homomorphisms (noun)

Similarity of form.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "homomorphisms."
- They discussed "homomorphisms" during the group presentation.

---

hooke's law (noun)

(physics) the principle that (within the elastic limit) the stress applied to a solid is proportional to the strain produced.

- In class, the teacher used "hooke's law" to mean (physics) the principle that (within the elastic....
- The article explained what "hooke's law" means with a simple example.

---

hotchpotch (noun)

A stew (or thick soup) made with meat and vegetables.

- Understanding "hotchpotch" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hotchpotch."

---

houseflies (noun)

Common fly that frequents human habitations and spreads many diseases.

- They discussed "houseflies" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "houseflies."

---

hyaena (noun)

Doglike nocturnal mammal of Africa and southern Asia that feeds chiefly on carrion.

- In class, the teacher used "hyaena" to mean doglike nocturnal mammal of africa and southern....
- Understanding "hyaena" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ideogram (noun)

A graphic character that indicates the meaning of a thing without indicating the sounds used to say it.

- Chinese characters are ideograms.
- In class, the teacher used "ideogram" to mean a graphic character that indicates the meaning of a....

---

idolater (noun)

A person who worships idols.

- In class, the teacher used "idolater" to mean a person who worships idols.
- He looked up "idolater" because he had never seen it before.

---

iller (adjective)

Affected by an impairment of normal physical or mental function.

- Would you call this situation "iller"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "iller."

---

imaginaries (noun)

(mathematics) a number of the form a+bi where a and b are real numbers and i is the square root of -1.

- The article explained what "imaginaries" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "imaginaries" to mean (mathematics) a number of the form a+bi where a and....

---

immortalizing (verb)

Be or provide a memorial to a person or an event.

- The coach explained when to use "immortalizing" and when to wait.

- She tried to use "immortalizing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

immunocompetent (adjective)

Capable of developing an immune response following exposure to an antigen.

- Immunocompetent cells.
- Students compared "immunocompetent" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

infernos (noun)

(Christianity) the abode of Satan and the forces of evil; where sinners suffer eternal punishment; - John Milton; ; -Dr. Johnson.

- He looked up "infernos" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "infernos."

---

insufflation (noun)

An act of blowing or breathing on or into something.

- Understanding "insufflation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "insufflation" means with a simple example.

---

intelligibly (adverb)

In an intelligible manner.

- The foreigner spoke to us quite intelligibly.
- Place "intelligibly" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

internal spermatic artery (noun)

A branch of the aorta supplying the testicles.

- In class, the teacher used "internal spermatic artery" to mean a branch of the aorta supplying the testicles.
- The article explained what "internal spermatic artery" means with a simple example.

---

interpolates (verb)

Insert words into texts, often falsifying it thereby.

- The coach explained when to use "interpolates" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "interpolates" until he saw an example.

---

inundations (noun)

The rising of a body of water and its overflowing onto normally dry land.

- Plains fertilized by annual inundations.
- Understanding "inundations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

isobar (noun)

(meteorology)an isogram connecting points having equal barometric pressure at a given time.

- He looked up "isobar" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isobar."

---

isobars (noun)

(meteorology)an isogram connecting points having equal barometric pressure at a given time.

- They discussed "isobars" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "isobars" means with a simple example.

---

italicize (verb)

Print in italics.

- The coach explained when to use "italicize" and when to wait.
- Can you use "italicize" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

john hanning speke (noun)

English explorer who with Sir Richard Burton was the first European to explore Lake Tanganyika; he also discovered Lake Victoria and named it (1827-1864).

- In class, the teacher used "john hanning speke" to mean english explorer who with sir richard burton was....
- Understanding "john hanning speke" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

jotter (noun)

A small notebook for rough notes.

- He looked up "jotter" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "jotter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

joviality (noun)

Feeling jolly and jovial and full of good humor.

- The article explained what "joviality" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "joviality."

---

jutes (noun)

A plant fiber used in making rope or sacks.

- The article explained what "jutes" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "jutes" during the group presentation.

---

kazoos (noun)

A toy wind instrument that has a membrane that makes a sound when you hum into the mouthpiece.

- The article explained what "kazoos" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "kazoos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kelvins (noun)

The basic unit of thermodynamic temperature adopted under the Systeme International d'Unites.

- Understanding "kelvins" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "kelvins" because he had never seen it before.

---

keyholes (noun)

The hole where a key is inserted.

- He looked up "keyholes" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "keyholes."

---

kidnaped (verb)

Take away to an undisclosed location against their will and usually in order to extract a ransom.

- The coach explained when to use "kidnaped" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "kidnaped" in real sentences.

---

kishinev (noun)

The capital of Moldova.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kishinev."
- He looked up "kishinev" because he had never seen it before.

---

knut hamsun (noun)

Norwegian writer of novels (1859-1952).

- In class, the teacher used "knut hamsun" to mean norwegian writer of novels (1859-1952).
- The article explained what "knut hamsun" means with a simple example.

---

koans (noun)

A paradoxical anecdote or a riddle that has no solution; used in Zen Buddhism to show the inadequacy of logical reasoning.

- In class, the teacher used "koans" to mean a paradoxical anecdote or a riddle that has no....
- Understanding "koans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kvass (noun)

Fermented beverage resembling beer but made from rye or barley.

- In class, the teacher used "kvass" to mean fermented beverage resembling beer but made from....
- He looked up "kvass" because he had never seen it before.

---

lancastrians (noun)

A member (or supporter) of the house of Lancaster.

- They discussed "lancastrians" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "lancastrians" to mean a member (or supporter) of the house of lancaster.

---

lateralization (noun)

Localization of function on either the right or left sides of the brain.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lateralization."
- The article explained what "lateralization" means with a simple example.

---

lavishness (noun)

The quality possessed by something that is excessively expensive.

- Understanding "lavishness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "lavishness" means with a simple example.

---

lightless (adjective)

Without illumination.

- Came up the lightless stairs.
- Lightless stars 'visible' only to radio antennae.

---

loams (noun)

A rich soil consisting of a mixture of sand and clay and decaying organic materials.

- In class, the teacher used "loams" to mean a rich soil consisting of a mixture of sand and....
- Understanding "loams" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

loanword (noun)

A word borrowed from another language; e.g. 'blitz' is a German word borrowed into modern English.

- In class, the teacher used "loanword" to mean a word borrowed from another language; e.g. 'blitz'....
- Understanding "loanword" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

loud hailer (noun)

A portable loudspeaker with built-in microphone and amplifier.

- They discussed "loud hailer" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "loud hailer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

loud-hailer (noun)

A portable loudspeaker with built-in microphone and amplifier.

- In class, the teacher used "loud-hailer" to mean a portable loudspeaker with built-in microphone and....
- Understanding "loud-hailer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lowborn (adjective)

Of humble birth or origins.

- A topsy-turvy society of lowborn rich and blue-blooded poor.
- The speaker chose "lowborn" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

lumbermen (noun)

A person who fells trees.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lumbermen."
- The article explained what "lumbermen" means with a simple example.

---

lumbosacral (adjective)

Of or relating to or near the small of the back and the back part of the pelvis between the hips.

- The speaker chose "lumbosacral" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "lumbosacral"? Explain why.

---

lupinus albus (noun)

White-flowered Eurasian herb widely cultivated for forage and erosion control.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lupinus albus."
- Understanding "lupinus albus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

lusher (adjective)

Produced or growing in extreme abundance.

- A "lusher" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "lusher."

lxiii (adjective)

Being three more than sixty.

- The speaker chose "lxiii" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "lxiii"? Explain why.

maldive islands (noun)

A group of about 1,200 small coral islands (about 220 inhabited) in the Indian ocean.

- Understanding "maldive islands" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "maldive islands" to mean a group of about 1,200 small coral islands (about....

malti (noun)

The national language of the Republic of Malta; a Semitic language derived from Arabic but with many loan words from Italian, Spanish, and Norman-French.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malti."
- He looked up "malti" because he had never seen it before.

matchboxes (noun)

A box for holding matches.

- Understanding "matchboxes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "matchboxes" to mean a box for holding matches.

merchandised (verb)

Engage in the trade of.

- Can you use "merchandised" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "merchandised" and when to wait.

metalworker (noun)

Someone who works metal (especially by hammering it when it is hot and malleable).

- The article explained what "metalworker" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "metalworker."

middy blouse (noun)

Blouse with a sailor collar.

- They discussed "middy blouse" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "middy blouse" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

misalignments (noun)

The spatial property of things that are not properly aligned.

- They discussed "misalignments" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "misalignments" to mean the spatial property of things that are not....

misplacement (noun)

Faulty position.

- He looked up "misplacement" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "misplacement" to mean faulty position.

mistrusts (noun)

The trait of not trusting others.

- Understanding "mistrusts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "mistrusts" during the group presentation.

mohammedans (noun)

A follower of Mohammed.

- He looked up "mohammedans" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "mohammedans" to mean a follower of mohammed.

---

moneymakers (noun)

A project that generates a continuous flow of money.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "moneymakers."
- He looked up "moneymakers" because he had never seen it before.

---

monomania (noun)

A mania restricted to one thing or idea.

- They discussed "monomania" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "monomania."

---

monorails (noun)

A railway having a single track.

- Understanding "monorails" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "monorails" to mean a railway having a single track.

---

monotheists (noun)

A believer in one god.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "monotheists."
- He looked up "monotheists" because he had never seen it before.

---

montespan (noun)

French noblewoman who was mistress to Louis XIV until he became attracted to Madame de Maintenon (1641-1707).

- The article explained what "montespan" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "montespan" to mean french noblewoman who was mistress to louis xiv....

---

mopes (noun)

An informal expression for a mildly depressed state.

- Have the mopes.
- Understanding "mopes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

morphia (noun)

An alkaloid narcotic drug extracted from opium; a powerful, habit-forming narcotic used to relieve pain.

- Understanding "morphia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "morphia" during the group presentation.

---

mounded (verb)

Form into a rounded elevation.

- The coach explained when to use "mounded" and when to wait.
- Can you use "mounded" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

mounded over (adjective)

Having a wound formed over it.

- It is useful to describe something as "mounded over" when it is having a wound formed over it.
- The speaker chose "mounded over" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

muddier (adjective)

Dirty and messy; covered with mud or muck.

- Would you call this situation "muddier"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "muddier."

---

naja naja (noun)

A cobra of tropical Africa and Asia.

- In class, the teacher used "naja naja" to mean a cobra of tropical africa and asia.

- He looked up "naja naja" because he had never seen it before.

---

naturalizing (verb)

Adapt (a wild plant or unclaimed land) to the environment.

- She tried to use "naturalizing" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "naturalizing" and when to wait.

---

navarino (noun)

A decisive naval battle in the War of Greek Independence (1827); the Turkish and Egyptian fleet was defeated by an allied fleet of British and French and Russian warships.

- He looked up "navarino" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "navarino" to mean a decisive naval battle in the war of greek....

---

neocortical (adjective)

Of or relating to the neocortex of the cerebrum.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "neocortical."
- Would you call this situation "neocortical"? Explain why.

---

noether (noun)

German mathematician (1882-1935).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "noether."
- The article explained what "noether" means with a simple example.

---

nomenklatura (noun)

The system of patronage in communist countries; controlled by committees in the Communist Party.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nomenklatura."
- The article explained what "nomenklatura" means with a simple example.

---

nonmagnetic (adjective)

Not capable of being magnetized.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "nonmagnetic."
- Would you call this situation "nonmagnetic"? Explain why.

---

numberplate (noun)

A plate mounted on the front and back of car and bearing the car's registration number.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "numberplate."
- He looked up "numberplate" because he had never seen it before.

---

obligatorily (adverb)

In a manner that cannot be evaded.

- This rule applies obligatorily.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "obligatorily" naturally.

---

ogive (noun)

Front consisting of the conical head of a missile or rocket that protects the payload from heat during its passage through the atmosphere.

- He looked up "ogive" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ogive."

---

oncologic (adjective)

Of or relating to or practicing oncology.

- Oncological nurse.
- The speaker chose "oncologic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

organismic (adjective)

Of or relating to or belonging to an organism (considered as a whole).

- The organismic theory of the state.
- It is useful to describe something as "organismic" when it is of or relating to or belonging to an organism....

---

outflanking (verb)

Go around the flank of (an opposing army).

- The coach explained when to use "outflanking" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "outflanking" until he saw an example.

---

outsmarts (verb)

Beat through cleverness and wit.

- She tried to use "outsmarts" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "outsmarts" in real sentences.

---

overdraw (verb)

To enlarge beyond bounds or the truth.

- The coach explained when to use "overdraw" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "overdraw" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

pacifistic (adjective)

Opposed to war.

- A "pacifistic" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "pacifistic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

palanquins (noun)

A closed litter carried on the shoulders of four bearers.

- He looked up "palanquins" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "palanquins" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

palpated (verb)

Examine (a body part) by palpation.

- The nurse palpated the patient's stomach.
- In everyday English, people use "palpated" when talking about this idea.

---

parallelized (verb)

Place parallel to one another.

- Can you use "parallelized" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "parallelized" and when to wait.

---

parallelograms (noun)

A quadrilateral whose opposite sides are both parallel and equal in length.

- In class, the teacher used "parallelograms" to mean a quadrilateral whose opposite sides are both....
- The article explained what "parallelograms" means with a simple example.

---

pastern (noun)

The part between the fetlock and the hoof.

- The article explained what "pastern" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "pastern" during the group presentation.

---

paybacks (noun)

The act of taking revenge (harming someone in retaliation for something harmful that they have done) especially in the next life; –Romans 12:19; –James Garfield.

- In class, the teacher used "paybacks" to mean the act of taking revenge (harming someone in....
- The article explained what "paybacks" means with a simple example.

---

peccary (noun)

Nocturnal gregarious pig-like wild animals of North America and South America.

- They discussed "peccary" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "peccary" to mean nocturnal gregarious pig-like wild animals of north....

---

pedantically (adverb)

In a pedantic manner.

- These interpretations are called ‘schemas’ or, more pedantically, ‘schemata’.
- She spoke “pedantically,” and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

peke (noun)

A Chinese breed of small short-legged dogs with a long silky coat and broad flat muzzle.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “peke.”
- Understanding “peke” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

peonage (noun)

The practice of making a debtor work for his creditor until the debt is discharged.

- The article explained what “peonage” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “peonage” during the group presentation.

---

peradventure (noun)

Doubt or uncertainty as to whether something is the case.

- This proves beyond peradventure that he is innocent.
- They discussed “peradventure” during the group presentation.

---

perjuring (verb)

Knowingly tell an untruth in a legal court and render oneself guilty of perjury.

- The coach explained when to use “perjuring” and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use “perjuring” in real sentences.

---

perkier (adjective)

Characterized by liveliness and lightheartedness.

- Students compared “perkier” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation “perkier”? Explain why.

---

petrarca (noun)

An Italian poet famous for love lyrics (1304-1374).

- He looked up “petrarca” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “petrarca.”

---

philibert delorme (noun)

French royal architect who built the Tuileries Palace and Gardens in Paris for Catherine de Medicis (1515-1570).

- They discussed “philibert delorme” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “philibert delorme.”

---

physostigmine (noun)

Used in treatment of Alzheimer’s disease and glaucoma.

- They discussed “physostigmine” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “physostigmine” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

picardie (noun)

A region of northern France on the English Channel.

- They discussed “picardie” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “picardie” to mean a region of northern france on the english channel.

---

picus (noun)

Type genus of Picidae.

- Understanding “picus” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “picus” means with a simple example.

---

pinger (noun)

A pulse generator used for echo sounding in sonar.

- The article explained what “pinger” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “pinger” during the group presentation.

pinnace (noun)

A boat for communication between ship and shore.

- Understanding "pinnace" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "pinnace" because he had never seen it before.

pixilated (adjective)

Naughtily or annoyingly playful.

- Students compared "pixilated" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "pixilated"? Explain why.

playbills (noun)

A theatrical program.

- In class, the teacher used "playbills" to mean a theatrical program.
- He looked up "playbills" because he had never seen it before.

pluralized (verb)

Mark with a grammatical morpheme that indicates plural.

- The coach explained when to use "pluralized" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "pluralized" carefully so everyone would understand.

poled (verb)

Deoxidize molten metals by stirring them with a wooden pole.

- The coach explained when to use "poled" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "poled" in real sentences.

politest (adjective)

Not rude; marked by satisfactory (or especially minimal) adherence to social usages and sufficient but not noteworthy consideration for others; - W.S. Maugham.

- Would you call this situation "politest"? Explain why.
- Students compared "politest" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

precocity (noun)

Intelligence achieved far ahead of normal developmental schedules.

- In class, the teacher used "precocity" to mean intelligence achieved far ahead of normal....
- They discussed "precocity" during the group presentation.

prefabrication (noun)

The manufacture of sections of a building at the factory so they can be easily and rapidly assembled at the building site.

- They discussed "prefabrication" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "prefabrication" because he had never seen it before.

prepossessing (adjective)

Creating a favorable impression.

- Strong and vigorous and of prepossessing appearance.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "prepossessing."

prism spectroscope (noun)

An optical instrument for spectrographic analysis.

- The article explained what "prism spectroscope" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "prism spectroscope" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

proselytes (noun)

A new convert; especially a gentile converted to Judaism.

- He looked up "proselytes" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "proselytes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

pseudepigrapha (noun)

52 texts written between 200 BC and AD 200 but ascribed to various prophets and kings in the Hebrew scriptures; many are apocalyptic in nature.

- Understanding "pseudepigrapha" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "pseudepigrapha" to mean 52 texts written between 200 bc and ad 200 but....

---

psychopathological (adjective)

Suffering from an undiagnosed mental disorder.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "psychopathological."
- Students compared "psychopathological" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

pulque (noun)

Fermented Mexican drink from juice of various agave plants especially the maguey.

- Understanding "pulque" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "pulque" means with a simple example.

---

pyrolytic (adjective)

Resulting from pyrolysis.

- A "pyrolytic" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "pyrolytic"? Explain why.

---

quaintness (noun)

The quality of being quaint and old-fashioned.

- She liked the old cottage; its quaintness was appealing.
- Some words in her dialect had a charming quaintness.

---

quasiparticles (noun)

A quantum of energy (in a crystal lattice or other system) that has position and momentum and can in some respects be regarded as a particle.

- Understanding "quasiparticles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "quasiparticles" because he had never seen it before.

---

quercus robur (noun)

Medium to large deciduous European oak having smooth leaves with rounded lobes; yields hard strong light-colored wood.

- In class, the teacher used "quercus robur" to mean medium to large deciduous european oak having....
- He looked up "quercus robur" because he had never seen it before.

---

questioningly (adverb)

In a curious and questioning manner.

- They turned their heads questioningly, as if awaiting further instructions.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "questioningly" naturally.

---

railyard (noun)

An area having a network of railway tracks and sidings for storage and maintenance of cars and engines.

- He looked up "railyard" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "railyard" during the group presentation.

---

rainmakers (noun)

American Indian medicine man who attempt to make it rain.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rainmakers."
- They discussed "rainmakers" during the group presentation.

---

ramie (noun)

Tall perennial herb of tropical Asia with dark green leaves; cultivated for the fiber from its woody stems that resembles flax.

- He looked up "ramie" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "ramie" during the group presentation.

---

ramified (verb)

Have or develop complicating consequences.

- He did not know how to use "ramified" until he saw an example.

- Learners should practice how to use "ramified" in real sentences.

---

raunch (noun)

The quality of lacking taste and refinement.

- They discussed "raunch" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "raunch" because he had never seen it before.

---

rawer (adjective)

Devoid of elaboration or diminution or concealment; bare and pure.

- A "rawer" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "rawer" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

raying (verb)

Extend or spread outward from a center or focus or inward towards a center.

- She tried to use "raying" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "raying" in real sentences.

---

razorblade (noun)

A blade that has very sharp edge.

- In class, the teacher used "razorblade" to mean a blade that has very sharp edge.
- He looked up "razorblade" because he had never seen it before.

---

reappraise (verb)

Appraise anew.

- Homes in our town are reappraised every five years and taxes are increased accordingly.
- Learners should practice how to use "reappraise" in real sentences.

---

rebuffing (verb)

Reject outright and bluntly.

- The coach explained when to use "rebuffing" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "rebuffing" in real sentences.

---

recusants (noun)

Someone who refuses to conform to established standards of conduct.

- In class, the teacher used "recusants" to mean someone who refuses to conform to established....
- The article explained what "recusants" means with a simple example.

---

redonda (noun)

An island in Antigua and Barbuda.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "redonda."
- He looked up "redonda" because he had never seen it before.

---

refractions (noun)

The amount by which a propagating wave is bent.

- Understanding "refractions" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "refractions" because he had never seen it before.

---

rehabilitates (verb)

Help to readapt, as to a former state of health or good repute.

- In everyday English, people use "rehabilitates" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "rehabilitates" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

reticles (noun)

A network of fine lines, dots, cross hairs, or wires in the focal plane of the eyepiece of an optical instrument.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "reticles."
- They discussed "reticles" during the group presentation.

---

robertsons (noun)

United States basketball guard (born in 1938).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "robertsons."
- He looked up "robertsons" because he had never seen it before.

---

rocky mountain bristlecone pine (noun)

Small slow-growing upland pine of western United States (Rocky Mountains) having dense branches with fissured rust-brown bark and short needles in bunches of 5 and thorn-tipped cone scales; among the oldest living things some over 4500 years old.

- The article explained what "rocky mountain bristlecone pine" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "rocky mountain bristlecone pine" to mean small slow-growing upland pine of western united....

---

rocs (noun)

Mythical bird of prey having enormous size and strength.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rocs."
- They discussed "rocs" during the group presentation.

---

roundhouses (noun)

A hook delivered with an exaggerated swing.

- The article explained what "roundhouses" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "roundhouses" during the group presentation.

---

sabas (noun)

A island in the Netherlands Antilles that is the top of an extinct volcano.

- In class, the teacher used "sabas" to mean a island in the netherlands antilles that is the....
- He looked up "sabas" because he had never seen it before.

---

saccadic (adjective)

Of or related to the rapid movement of the eyes between points of fixation.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "saccadic."
- Would you call this situation "saccadic"? Explain why.

---

salvelinus (noun)

Brook trout.

- Understanding "salvelinus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "salvelinus" because he had never seen it before.

---

sanitise (verb)

Make less offensive or more acceptable by removing objectionable features.

- Learners should practice how to use "sanitise" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "sanitise" when talking about this idea.

---

sauce espagnole (noun)

Brown sauce with tomatoes and a caramelized mixture of minced carrots and onions and celery seasoned with Madeira.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sauce espagnole."
- They discussed "sauce espagnole" during the group presentation.

---

scalds (noun)

The act of burning with steam or hot water.

- He looked up "scalds" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "scalds" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scalene (adjective)

Of or relating to any of the scalene muscles.

- A "scalene" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "scalene" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

scalene muscle (noun)

Any of four pairs of muscles extending from the cervical vertebrae to the second rib; involved in moving the neck and in breathing.

- Understanding “scalene muscle” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “scalene muscle” during the group presentation.

---

scalene triangle (noun)

A triangle with no two sides of equal length.

- The article explained what “scalene triangle” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “scalene triangle.”

---

scatting (verb)

Flee; take to one’s heels; cut and run.

- In everyday English, people use “scatting” when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use “scatting” in real sentences.

---

secretaryship (noun)

The position of secretary.

- He looked up “secretaryship” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “secretaryship” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

secretase (noun)

A set of enzymes believed to snip pieces off a longer protein producing fragments of amyloid protein that bunch up and create amyloid protein plaques in brain tissue (the pathological hallmark of Alzheimer’s).

- They discussed “secretase” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “secretase.”

---

sequoia sempervirens (noun)

Lofty evergreen of United States coastal foothills from Oregon to Big Sur; it flourishes in wet, rainy, foggy habitats.

- In class, the teacher used “sequoia sempervirens” to mean lofty evergreen of united states coastal foothills....
- The article explained what “sequoia sempervirens” means with a simple example.

---

serin (noun)

Any of various brown and yellow finches of parts of Europe.

- They discussed “serin” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “serin” means with a simple example.

---

serration (noun)

The condition of being serrated.

- The serrations of a city skyline.
- The pliers had serrations to improve the grip.

---

shamble (noun)

Walking with a slow dragging motion without lifting your feet.

- In class, the teacher used “shamble” to mean walking with a slow dragging motion without lifting....
- He looked up “shamble” because he had never seen it before.

---

shawnees (noun)

The Algonquian language spoken by the Shawnee.

- He looked up “shawnees” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “shawnees” to mean the algonquian language spoken by the shawnee.

---

shipload (noun)

The amount of cargo that can be held by a boat or ship or a freight car.

- In class, the teacher used “shipload” to mean the amount of cargo that can be held by a boat or....
- He looked up “shipload” because he had never seen it before.

---

signaller (noun)

Someone who communicates by signals.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “signaller.”
- Understanding “signaller” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

signallers (noun)

Someone who communicates by signals.

- Understanding "signallers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "signallers."

siloxane (noun)

Any of a large class of compounds that have alternate silicon and oxygen atoms.

- The article explained what "siloxane" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "siloxane."

slanderers (noun)

One who attacks the reputation of another by slander or libel.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "slanderers."
- He looked up "slanderers" because he had never seen it before.

slipways (noun)

Structure consisting of a sloping way down to the water from the place where ships are built or repaired.

- He looked up "slipways" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "slipways" to mean structure consisting of a sloping way down to the....

slub (noun)

Soft lump or unevenness in a yarn; either an imperfection or created by design.

- In class, the teacher used "slub" to mean soft lump or unevenness in a yarn; either an....
- They discussed "slub" during the group presentation.

snarf (verb)

Make off with belongings of others.

- The coach explained when to use "snarf" and when to wait.
- Can you use "snarf" in a sentence that fits this situation?

snobbishness (noun)

The trait of condescending to those of lower social status.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "snobbishness."
- The article explained what "snobbishness" means with a simple example.

solemnities (noun)

A solemn and dignified feeling.

- Understanding "solemnities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "solemnities."

somites (noun)

One of a series of similar body segments into which some animals are divided longitudinally.

- He looked up "somites" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "somites" to mean one of a series of similar body segments into which....

sousaphone (noun)

The lowest brass wind instrument.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sousaphone."
- He looked up "sousaphone" because he had never seen it before.

spathe (noun)

A conspicuous bract surrounding or subtending a spadix or other inflorescence.

- The article explained what "spathe" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "spathe" during the group presentation.

spathe flower (noun)

Any of various plants of the genus Spathiphyllum having a white or green spathe and a spike of fragrant flowers and often cultivated as an ornamental.

- In class, the teacher used "spathe flower" to mean any of various plants of the genus spathiphyllum....
- He looked up "spathe flower" because he had never seen it before.

---

spendings (noun)

The act of spending or disbursing money.

- They discussed "spendings" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "spendings" because he had never seen it before.

---

spermatic (adjective)

Consisting of or resembling spermatozoa.

- Would you call this situation "spermatic"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "spermatic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

spermatic cord (noun)

A structure resembling a cord that suspends the testis within the scrotum and contains the vas deferens and other vessels and nerves.

- Understanding "spermatic cord" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "spermatic cord" because he had never seen it before.

---

spinet (noun)

A small and compactly built upright piano.

- They discussed "spinet" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "spinet."

---

sporran (noun)

A fur or leather pouch worn at the front of the kilt as part of the traditional dress of Scottish Highlanders.

- They discussed "sporran" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "sporran" to mean a fur or leather pouch worn at the front of the....

---

sportfishing (noun)

The act of someone who fishes as a diversion.

- He looked up "sportfishing" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "sportfishing" to mean the act of someone who fishes as a diversion.

---

starkness (noun)

An extreme lack of furnishings or ornamentation.

- I was struck by the starkness of my father's room.
- The starkness of his contrast between justice and fairness was open to many objections.

---

stiffener (noun)

Material used for stiffening something.

- In class, the teacher used "stiffener" to mean material used for stiffening something.
- The article explained what "stiffener" means with a simple example.

---

stilly (adjective)

(poetic) still or calm.

- In the stilly night.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "stilly."

---

sureness (noun)

The quality of being steady and unfailing.

- Sureness of hand.
- In class, the teacher used "sureness" to mean the quality of being steady and unfailing.

---

sweet alyssum (noun)

Perennial European plant having clusters of small fragrant usually white flowers; widely grown in gardens.

- He looked up "sweet alyssum" because he had never seen it before.

- They discussed "sweet alyssum" during the group presentation.

---

swelter (verb)

Suffer from intense heat.

- We were sweltering at the beach.
- Learners should practice how to use "swelter" in real sentences.

---

sympathises (verb)

To feel or express sympathy or compassion.

- The coach explained when to use "sympathises" and when to wait.
- Can you use "sympathises" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

sympathomimetic (adjective)

Relating to epinephrine (its release or action).

- The speaker chose "sympathomimetic" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "sympathomimetic" when it is relating to epinephrine (its release or action).

---

systematizing (verb)

Arrange according to a system or reduce to a system.

- Can you use "systematizing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "systematizing" and when to wait.

---

tappet wrench (noun)

A wrench having parallel jaws at fixed separation (often on both ends of the handle).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tappet wrench."
- He looked up "tappet wrench" because he had never seen it before.

---

tasseled (adjective)

Fringed or adorned with tassels.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "tasseled."
- Students compared "tasseled" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

teakwood (noun)

Hard strong durable yellowish-brown wood of teak trees; resistant to insects and to warping; used for furniture and in shipbuilding.

- He looked up "teakwood" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "teakwood" to mean hard strong durable yellowish-brown wood of teak....

---

tenderize (verb)

Make tender or more tender as by marinating, pounding, or applying a tenderizer.

- Tenderize meat.
- The coach explained when to use "tenderize" and when to wait.

---

tenderloins (noun)

A city district known for its vice and high crime rate.

- The article explained what "tenderloins" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tenderloins" to mean a city district known for its vice and high crime rate.

---

tenpin (noun)

One of the bottle-shaped pins used in bowling.

- In class, the teacher used "tenpin" to mean one of the bottle-shaped pins used in bowling.
- The article explained what "tenpin" means with a simple example.

---

tenpin bowling (noun)

Bowling down an alley at a target of ten wooden pins.

- In class, the teacher used "tenpin bowling" to mean bowling down an alley at a target of ten wooden pins.
- Understanding "tenpin bowling" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

territorials (noun)

A territorial military unit.

- Understanding "territorials" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "territorials."

thiazide (noun)

Any of a group of drugs commonly used as diuretics in the treatment of hypertension; they block the reabsorption of sodium in the kidneys.

- He looked up "thiazide" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thiazide."

thighbone (noun)

The longest and thickest bone of the human skeleton; extends from the pelvis to the knee.

- He looked up "thighbone" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "thighbone" to mean the longest and thickest bone of the human....

thirstier (adjective)

Able to take in large quantities of moisture.

- It is useful to describe something as "thirstier" when it is able to take in large quantities of moisture.
- Would you call this situation "thirstier"? Explain why.

tidelands (noun)

Land near the sea that is overflowed by the tide.

- He looked up "tidelands" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "tidelands" to mean land near the sea that is overflowed by the tide.

tidies (verb)

Put (things or places) in order.

- Learners should practice how to use "tidies" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "tidies" and when to wait.

tilia japonica (noun)

Medium-sized tree of Japan used as an ornamental.

- Understanding "tilia japonica" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tilia japonica" to mean medium-sized tree of japan used as an ornamental.

tokamaks (noun)

A doughnut-shaped chamber used in fusion research; a plasma is heated and confined in a magnetic bottle.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tokamaks."
- They discussed "tokamaks" during the group presentation.

toklas (noun)

United States writer remembered as the secretary and companion of Gertrude Stein (1877-1967).

- In class, the teacher used "toklas" to mean united states writer remembered as the secretary....
- The article explained what "toklas" means with a simple example.

tongue depressor (noun)

A thin depressor used to press the tongue down during an examination of the mouth and throat.

- They discussed "tongue depressor" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "tongue depressor" to mean a thin depressor used to press the tongue down....

topographies (noun)

The configuration of a surface and the relations among its man-made and natural features.

- They discussed "topographies" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "topographies" because he had never seen it before.

toxoid (noun)

A bacterial toxin that has been weakened until it is no longer toxic but is strong enough to induce the formation of antibodies and immunity to the specific disease caused by the toxin.

- Diphtheria toxoid.
- The article explained what "toxoid" means with a simple example.

---

transliterations (noun)

A transcription from one alphabet to another.

- He looked up "transliterations" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "transliterations."

---

transmutes (verb)

Change or alter in form, appearance, or nature.

- Learners should practice how to use "transmutes" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "transmutes" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

tribulus (noun)

Annual or perennial herbs or subshrubs of warm regions.

- Understanding "tribulus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tribulus" to mean annual or perennial herbs or subshrubs of warm regions.

---

tricker (noun)

Someone who plays practical jokes on others.

- In class, the teacher used "tricker" to mean someone who plays practical jokes on others.
- The article explained what "tricker" means with a simple example.

---

trivialise (verb)

Make trivial or insignificant.

- The coach explained when to use "trivialise" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "trivialise" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

trophoblast (noun)

The membrane that forms the wall of the blastocyst in early development; aids implantation in the uterine wall.

- After implantation of the blastocyst in the uterine wall the trophoblast divides into two layers, the chorion and the placenta.
- Understanding "trophoblast" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tumescent (adjective)

Abnormally distended especially by fluids or gas.

- Tumescent tissue.
- It is useful to describe something as "tumescent" when it is abnormally distended especially by fluids or gas.

---

tussling (verb)

Fight or struggle in a confused way at close quarters.

- Can you use "tussling" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "tussling" until he saw an example.

---

twanging (verb)

Cause to sound with a twang.

- The bowstring was twanging.
- He did not know how to use "twanging" until he saw an example.

---

typha (noun)

Reed maces; cattails.

- He looked up "typha" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "typha."

---

ulcerations (noun)

The process of ulcer formation; the process of becoming ulcerated.

- They discussed "ulcerations" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ulcerations" to mean the process of ulcer formation; the process of....

unadventurous (adjective)

Lacking in boldness.

- The speaker chose "unadventurous" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "unadventurous"? Explain why.

unarguable (adjective)

Against which no argument can be made.

- It is useful to describe something as "unarguable" when it is against which no argument can be made.
- Students compared "unarguable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

unclipped (adjective)

Not clipped.

- Unclipped rosebushes.
- Unclipped hair.

underframe (noun)

The internal supporting structure that gives an artifact its shape.

- The article explained what "underframe" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "underframe" during the group presentation.

undervaluation (noun)

Too low a value or price assigned to something.

- The article explained what "undervaluation" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "undervaluation" to mean too low a value or price assigned to something.

undescended testicle (noun)

A testis that fails to move into the scrotum as the male fetus develops.

- Undescended testicles have an increased risk for cancer.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "undescended testicle."

undramatic (adjective)

Lacking dramatic force and quality.

- Moved with quiet force and undramatic bearing.
- Would you call this situation "undramatic"? Explain why.

unfermented (adjective)

Not soured or preserved.

- A "unfermented" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "unfermented" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

unreactive (adjective)

(chemistry) not reacting chemically.

- Students compared "unreactive" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unreactive."

usurers (noun)

Someone who lends money at excessive rates of interest.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "usurers."
- He looked up "usurers" because he had never seen it before.

vanquisher (noun)

Someone who is victorious by force of arms.

- Understanding "vanquisher" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "vanquisher" because he had never seen it before.

viola odorata (noun)

European violet typically having purple to white flowers; widely naturalized.

- The article explained what "viola odorata" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "viola odorata."

---

viti levu (noun)

A volcanic island in the Fijis.

- Understanding "viti levu" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "viti levu" to mean a volcanic island in the fijis.

---

vocationally (adverb)

Affecting the pursuit of a vocation or occupation.

- Vocationally trained.
- The narrator describes the scene "vocationally" in the final chapter.

---

wadis (noun)

Gully or streambed in northern Africa and the Middle East that remains dry except during rainy season.

- Understanding "wadis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wadis."

---

waistbands (noun)

A band of material around the waist that strengthens a skirt or trousers.

- He looked up "waistbands" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "waistbands" to mean a band of material around the waist that....

---

waterfronts (noun)

The area of a city (such as a harbor or dockyard) alongside a body of water.

- The article explained what "waterfronts" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "waterfronts" during the group presentation.

---

waterings (noun)

Wetting with water.

- Understanding "waterings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "waterings" to mean wetting with water.

---

willfulness (noun)

The trait of being prone to disobedience and lack of discipline.

- Understanding "willfulness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "willfulness" means with a simple example.

---

woebegone (adjective)

Affected by or full of grief or woe; - George du Maurier.

- His sorrow...made him look...haggard and...woebegone.
- A woebegone old shack.

---

wordsmiths (noun)

A fluent and prolific writer.

- He looked up "wordsmiths" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wordsmiths."

---

workweeks (noun)

Hours or days of work in a calendar week.

- He looked up "workweeks" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "workweeks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

wych elm (noun)

Eurasian elm often planted as a shade tree.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wych elm."

- He looked up "wych elm" because he had never seen it before.

---

wych hazel (noun)

Any of several shrubs or trees of the genus Hamamelis; bark yields an astringent lotion.

- They discussed "wych hazel" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "wych hazel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

wych hazel plant (noun)

Any of several shrubs or trees of the genus Hamamelis; bark yields an astringent lotion.

- He looked up "wych hazel plant" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "wych hazel plant" to mean any of several shrubs or trees of the genus....

---

x-raying (noun)

Obtaining images by the use of X rays.

- They discussed "x-raying" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "x-raying" means with a simple example.

---

xanthomonas (noun)

A genus of bacteria similar to Pseudomonas but producing a yellow pigment that is not soluble in water.

- In class, the teacher used "xanthomonas" to mean a genus of bacteria similar to pseudomonas but....
- Understanding "xanthomonas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

yipes (verb)

Bark in a high-pitched tone.

- She tried to use "yipes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "yipes" and when to wait.

---

zidovudine (noun)

An antiviral drug (trade name Retrovir) used in the treatment of AIDS; adverse side effects include liver damage and suppression of the bone marrow.

- The article explained what "zidovudine" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "zidovudine" to mean an antiviral drug (trade name retrovir) used in the....

---

activeness (noun)

The trait of being active; moving or acting rapidly and energetically.

- The article explained what "activeness" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "activeness."

---

adjudicates (verb)

Put on trial or hear a case and sit as the judge at the trial of.

- Can you use "adjudicates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "adjudicates" and when to wait.

---

agglomerated (adjective)

Clustered together but not coherent.

- An agglomerated flower head.
- It is useful to describe something as "agglomerated" when it is clustered together but not coherent.

---

alabamians (noun)

A native or resident of Alabama.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "alabamians."
- He looked up "alabamians" because he had never seen it before.

---

albite (noun)

A widely distributed feldspar that forms rocks.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "albite."
- He looked up "albite" because he had never seen it before.

---

allophones (noun)

(linguistics) any of various acoustically different forms of the same phoneme.

- The article explained what "allophones" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "allophones."

---

amphitheatres (noun)

A sloping gallery with seats for spectators (as in an operating room or theater).

- They discussed "amphitheatres" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "amphitheatres" because he had never seen it before.

---

analysers (noun)

An instrument that performs analyses.

- In class, the teacher used "analysers" to mean an instrument that performs analyses.
- They discussed "analysers" during the group presentation.

---

anas acuta (noun)

Long-necked river duck of the Old and New Worlds having elongated central tail feathers.

- They discussed "anas acuta" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "anas acuta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

anne robert jacques turgot (noun)

French economist who in 1774 was put in control of finances by Louis XVI; his proposals for reforms that involved abolishing feudal privileges made him unpopular with the aristocracy and in 1776 he was dismissed (1727-1781).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anne robert jacques turgot."
- He looked up "anne robert jacques turgot" because he had never seen it before.

---

antlered (adjective)

Having antlers.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "antlered."
- The speaker chose "antlered" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

apar (noun)

South American armadillo with three bands of bony plates.

- In class, the teacher used "apar" to mean south american armadillo with three bands of bony....
- Understanding "apar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

appal (verb)

Fill with apprehension or alarm; cause to be unpleasantly surprised.

- The coach explained when to use "appal" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "appal" until he saw an example.

---

arava (noun)

An anti-TNF compound (trade name Arava) that is given orally; can slow the progression of rheumatoid arthritis by slowing the proliferation of white blood cells which reduces inflammation in the synovium.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "arava."
- He looked up "arava" because he had never seen it before.

---

archaean (adjective)

Of or relating to the earliest known rocks formed during the Precambrian Eon.

- The speaker chose "archaean" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "archaean" when it is of or relating to the earliest known rocks formed....

---

arng (noun)

A civilian reserve component of the United States Army comprised of guardsmen who serve during overseas peacekeeping missions and during local emergencies.

- He looked up "arng" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "arng" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

arrack (noun)

Any of various strong liquors distilled from the fermented sap of toddy palms or from fermented molasses.

- He looked up "arrack" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "arrack."

---

artilleryman (noun)

A serviceman in the artillery.

- He looked up "artilleryman" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "artilleryman."

---

astrologist (noun)

Someone who predicts the future by the positions of the planets and sun and Moon.

- They discussed "astrologist" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "astrologist" because he had never seen it before.

---

authoress (noun)

A woman author.

- In class, the teacher used "authoress" to mean a woman author.
- Understanding "authoress" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

autopilots (noun)

A cognitive state in which you act without self-awareness.

- He looked up "autopilots" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "autopilots."

---

avoirdupois (noun)

A system of weights based on the 16-ounce pound (or 7,000 grains).

- They discussed "avoirdupois" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "avoirdupois" means with a simple example.

---

avoirdupois unit (noun)

Any of the units of the avoirdupois system of weights.

- They discussed "avoirdupois unit" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "avoirdupois unit" means with a simple example.

---

avoirdupois weight (noun)

A system of weights based on the 16-ounce pound (or 7,000 grains).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "avoirdupois weight."
- He looked up "avoirdupois weight" because he had never seen it before.

---

avos (noun)

100 avos equal 1 pataca in Macao.

- The article explained what "avos" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "avos" to mean 100 avos equal 1 pataca in macao.

---

backaches (noun)

An ache localized in the back.

- They discussed "backaches" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "backaches" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

backboards (noun)

A raised vertical board with basket attached; used to play basketball.

- He looked up "backboards" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "backboards" during the group presentation.

---

backpacked (verb)

Hike with a backpack.

- In everyday English, people use "backpacked" when talking about this idea.

- Can you use “backpacked” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

bacons (noun)

Back and sides of a hog salted and dried or smoked; usually sliced thin and fried.

- In class, the teacher used “bacons” to mean back and sides of a hog salted and dried or smoked;....
- Understanding “bacons” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

balata (noun)

A tropical hardwood tree yielding balata gum and heavy red timber.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “balata.”
- He looked up “balata” because he had never seen it before.

---

balata tree (noun)

A tropical hardwood tree yielding balata gum and heavy red timber.

- The article explained what “balata tree” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “balata tree.”

---

balloonist (noun)

Someone who flies a balloon.

- They discussed “balloonist” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “balloonist.”

---

barer (adjective)

Lacking its natural or customary covering.

- Would you call this situation “barer”? Explain why.
- Students compared “barer” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

barm (noun)

A commercial leavening agent containing yeast cells; used to raise the dough in making bread and for fermenting beer or whiskey.

- He looked up “barm” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “barm.”

---

bastard lignum vitae (noun)

Small evergreen tree of the southern United States and West Indies a source of lignum vitae wood.

- He looked up “bastard lignum vitae” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “bastard lignum vitae.”

---

baudelaires (noun)

A French poet noted for macabre imagery and evocative language (1821-1867).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “baudelaires.”
- He looked up “baudelaires” because he had never seen it before.

---

bawd (noun)

A woman who engages in sexual intercourse for money.

- In class, the teacher used “bawd” to mean a woman who engages in sexual intercourse for money.
- The article explained what “bawd” means with a simple example.

---

bayberry tallow (noun)

A fragrant green wax obtained from the wax myrtle and used in making candles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “bayberry tallow.”
- He looked up “bayberry tallow” because he had never seen it before.

---

bessy cerca (noun)

Tropical Atlantic fish.

- In class, the teacher used “bessy cerca” to mean tropical atlantic fish.
- He looked up “bessy cerca” because he had never seen it before.

---

bibliographers (noun)

Someone trained in compiling bibliographies.

- The article explained what "bibliographers" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "bibliographers" during the group presentation.

---

bilges (noun)

In a vessel with two hulls, an enclosed area between the frames at each side.

- In class, the teacher used "bilges" to mean in a vessel with two hulls, an enclosed area....
- Understanding "bilges" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bitt (noun)

A strong post (as on a wharf or quay or ship for attaching mooring lines).

- The article explained what "bitt" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "bitt" during the group presentation.

---

bitt pin (noun)

A pin through the bitthead to keep the mooring lines from slipping off.

- Understanding "bitt pin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "bitt pin" because he had never seen it before.

---

black henbane (noun)

Poisonous fetid Old World herb having sticky hairy leaves and yellow-brown flowers; yields hyoscyamine and scopolamine.

- Understanding "black henbane" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "black henbane" during the group presentation.

---

blastoff (noun)

The launching of a missile or spacecraft to a specified destination.

- The article explained what "blastoff" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "blastoff" to mean the launching of a missile or spacecraft to a....

---

blastomeres (noun)

Any cell resulting from cleavage of a fertilized egg.

- The article explained what "blastomeres" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "blastomeres" during the group presentation.

---

bleats (noun)

The sound of sheep or goats (or any sound resembling this).

- They discussed "bleats" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "bleats" means with a simple example.

---

bootlickers (noun)

Someone who humbles himself as a sign of respect; who behaves as if he had no self-respect.

- The article explained what "bootlickers" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "bootlickers" during the group presentation.

---

brassica juncea (noun)

Asiatic mustard used as a potherb.

- Understanding "brassica juncea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "brassica juncea" during the group presentation.

---

brassica rapa chinensis (noun)

Asiatic plant grown for its cluster of edible white stalks with dark green leaves.

- Understanding "brassica rapa chinensis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "brassica rapa chinensis" means with a simple example.

---

breccias (noun)

A rudaceous rock consisting of sharp fragments embedded in clay or sand.

- In class, the teacher used "breccias" to mean a rudaceous rock consisting of sharp fragments....
- They discussed "breccias" during the group presentation.

---

brickbats (noun)

A fragment of brick used as a weapon.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brickbats."
- They discussed "brickbats" during the group presentation.

---

broca's area (noun)

The motor speech center in the left hemisphere of the brain in most people.

- He looked up "broca's area" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "broca's area" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

broca's center (noun)

The motor speech center in the left hemisphere of the brain in most people.

- Understanding "broca's center" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "broca's center."

---

bullheaded (adjective)

Obstinate and stupid.

- Would you call this situation "bullheaded"? Explain why.
- Students compared "bullheaded" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

bulrush millet (noun)

Tall grass having cattail like spikes; grown in Africa and Asia for its grain and in the United States chiefly for forage; sometimes used in making beer.

- In class, the teacher used "bulrush millet" to mean tall grass having cattail like spikes; grown in....
- He looked up "bulrush millet" because he had never seen it before.

---

bunted (verb)

To strike, thrust or shove against.

- Learners should practice how to use "bunted" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "bunted" and when to wait.

---

buteo (noun)

Broad-winged soaring hawks.

- The article explained what "buteo" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "buteo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

carbonyls (noun)

A compound containing metal combined with carbon monoxide.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carbonyls."
- He looked up "carbonyls" because he had never seen it before.

---

carl yastrzemski (noun)

United States baseball player (born in 1939).

- He looked up "carl yastrzemski" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "carl yastrzemski" to mean united states baseball player (born in 1939).

---

cassiterite (noun)

A hard heavy dark mineral that is the chief source of tin.

- Understanding "cassiterite" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "cassiterite" because he had never seen it before.

---

ceramist (noun)

A craftsman who shapes pottery on a potter's wheel and bakes them it a kiln.

- He looked up "ceramist" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "ceramist" during the group presentation.

chabad hasidism (noun)

A form of Hasidism practiced by Lithuanian and Russian Jews under communist rule; the beliefs and practices of the Lubavitch movement.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chabad hasidism."
- The article explained what "chabad hasidism" means with a simple example.

chequer (verb)

Variegate with different colors, shades, or patterns.

- He did not know how to use "chequer" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "chequer" in a sentence that fits this situation?

chicanes (noun)

The use of tricks to deceive someone (usually to extract money from them).

- Understanding "chicanes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "chicanes" to mean the use of tricks to deceive someone (usually to....

chid (verb)

Censure severely or angrily.

- Learners should practice how to use "chid" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "chid" until he saw an example.

chiropodist (noun)

A specialist in care for the feet.

- He looked up "chiropodist" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "chiropodist" to mean a specialist in care for the feet.

civets (noun)

Cat-like mammal typically secreting musk used in perfumes.

- In class, the teacher used "civets" to mean cat-like mammal typically secreting musk used in....
- The article explained what "civets" means with a simple example.

class nuda (noun)

Ctenophores lacking tentacles; comprises one genus: beroe.

- In class, the teacher used "class nuda" to mean ctenophores lacking tentacles; comprises one genus:....
- Understanding "class nuda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

clefs (noun)

A musical notation written on a staff indicating the pitch of the notes following it.

- The article explained what "clefs" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "clefs" during the group presentation.

clotheslines (noun)

A cord on which clothes are hung to dry.

- The article explained what "clotheslines" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "clotheslines" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cofferdam (noun)

Large watertight chamber used for construction under water.

- They discussed "cofferdam" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "cofferdam" means with a simple example.

cohabited (verb)

Share living quarters; usually said of people who are not married and live together as a couple.

- Can you use "cohabited" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "cohabited" carefully so everyone would understand.

colourised (verb)

Add color to.

- Can you use "colourised" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "colourised" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

comports (verb)

Behave in a certain manner.

- He did not know how to use "comports" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "comports" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

confinements (noun)

The act of keeping something within specified bounds (by force if necessary).

- They discussed "confinements" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "confinements."

---

confucians (noun)

A believer in the teachings of Confucius.

- The article explained what "confucians" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "confucians" during the group presentation.

---

connoted (verb)

Involve as a necessary condition of consequence; as in logic.

- Learners should practice how to use "connoted" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "connoted" until he saw an example.

---

conscripting (verb)

Enroll into service compulsorily.

- In everyday English, people use "conscripting" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "conscripting" in real sentences.

---

conservativism (noun)

A political or theological orientation advocating the preservation of the best in society and opposing radical changes.

- The article explained what "conservativism" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "conservativism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

contortionists (noun)

An acrobat able to twist into unusual positions.

- In class, the teacher used "contortionists" to mean an acrobat able to twist into unusual positions.
- The article explained what "contortionists" means with a simple example.

---

conveyancers (noun)

A lawyer who specializes in the business of conveying properties.

- In class, the teacher used "conveyancers" to mean a lawyer who specializes in the business of....
- The article explained what "conveyancers" means with a simple example.

---

corps diplomatique (noun)

The body of diplomatic personnel.

- They discussed "corps diplomatique" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "corps diplomatique" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

coxcomb (noun)

A cap worn by court jesters; adorned with a strip of red.

- The article explained what "coxcomb" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coxcomb."

---

cranch (verb)

Press or grind with a crushing noise.

- He did not know how to use "cranch" until he saw an example.

- Learners should practice how to use “cranch” in real sentences.

---

crested myna (noun)

Dark brown crested bird of southeastern Asia.

- The article explained what “crested myna” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “crested myna” during the group presentation.

---

crispier (adjective)

Tender and brittle.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “crispier.”
- Students compared “crispier” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

cusped (adjective)

Having cusps or points.

- Would you call this situation “cusped”? Explain why.
- Students compared “cusped” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

cuttle (noun)

Ten-armed oval-bodied cephalopod with narrow fins as long as the body and a large calcareous internal shell.

- The article explained what “cuttle” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “cuttle.”

---

da’wah (noun)

Missionary work for Islam.

- He looked up “da’wah” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “da’wah” during the group presentation.

---

daks (noun)

East Indian tree bearing a profusion of intense vermilion velvet-textured blooms and yielding a yellow dye.

- They discussed “daks” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “daks.”

---

dearness (noun)

The quality possessed by something with a great price or value.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “dearness.”
- He looked up “dearness” because he had never seen it before.

---

declawed (verb)

Remove the claws from.

- In everyday English, people use “declawed” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “declawed” until he saw an example.

---

decumbent (adjective)

Lying down; in a position of comfort or rest.

- The speaker chose “decumbent” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as “decumbent” when it is lying down; in a position of comfort or rest.

---

demineralized (verb)

Remove the minerals or salts from.

- He did not know how to use “demineralized” until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use “demineralized” in real sentences.

---

depressives (noun)

Someone suffering psychological depression.

- The article explained what “depressives” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “depressives.”

---

describable (adjective)

Capable of being described.

- Would you call this situation "describable"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "describable."

despairingly (adverb)

With desperation.

- 'Why can't you understand?,' she asked despairingly.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "despairingly" naturally.

dewlap (noun)

A hanging fold of loose skin on an elderly person's neck.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dewlap."
- The article explained what "dewlap" means with a simple example.

diagrammed (verb)

Make a schematic or technical drawing of that shows interactions among variables or how something is constructed.

- In everyday English, people use "diagrammed" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "diagrammed" until he saw an example.

digressive (adjective)

Of superficial relevance if any.

- A digressive allusion to the day of the week.
- Amusingly digressive with satirical thrusts at women's fashions among other things.

diminutives (noun)

A word that is formed with a suffix (such as -let or -kin) to indicate smallness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "diminutives."
- Understanding "diminutives" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

dinge (verb)

Make a dent or impression in.

- Dinge a soft hat.
- In everyday English, people use "dinge" when talking about this idea.

disadvantaging (verb)

Put at a disadvantage; hinder, harm.

- Learners should practice how to use "disadvantaging" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "disadvantaging" when talking about this idea.

discomfiture (noun)

Anxious embarrassment.

- He looked up "discomfiture" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "discomfiture" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

dishearten (verb)

Take away the enthusiasm of.

- Can you use "dishearten" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "dishearten" and when to wait.

dispossessing (verb)

Deprive of the possession of real estate.

- Learners should practice how to use "dispossessing" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "dispossessing" and when to wait.

disquisition (noun)

An elaborate analytical or explanatory essay or discussion.

- The article explained what "disquisition" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "disquisition."

---

dominations (noun)

Power to dominate or defeat.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dominations."
- They discussed "dominations" during the group presentation.

---

dracaena draco (noun)

Tall tree of the Canary Islands; source of dragon's blood.

- In class, the teacher used "dracaena draco" to mean tall tree of the canary islands; source of dragon's....
- They discussed "dracaena draco" during the group presentation.

---

dramatis personae (noun)

The actors in a play.

- In class, the teacher used "dramatis personae" to mean the actors in a play.
- The article explained what "dramatis personae" means with a simple example.

---

druidism (noun)

The system of religion and philosophy taught by the Druids and their rites and ceremonies.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "druidism."
- He looked up "druidism" because he had never seen it before.

---

dyestuffs (noun)

A usually soluble substance for staining or coloring e.g. fabrics or hair.

- They discussed "dyestuffs" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dyestuffs."

---

edward bouverie pusey (noun)

English theologian who (with John Henry Newman and John Keble) founded the Oxford movement (1800-1882).

- Understanding "edward bouverie pusey" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "edward bouverie pusey."

---

egyptian henbane (noun)

Poisonous herb whose leaves are a source of hyoscyamine.

- He looked up "egyptian henbane" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "egyptian henbane."

---

elul (noun)

The twelfth month of the civil year; the sixth month of the ecclesiastical year in the Jewish calendar (in August and September).

- Understanding "elul" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "elul" because he had never seen it before.

---

emaciation (noun)

Extreme leanness (usually caused by starvation or disease).

- In class, the teacher used "emaciation" to mean extreme leanness (usually caused by starvation or....
- Understanding "emaciation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

embroiderer (noun)

Someone who ornaments with needlework.

- He looked up "embroiderer" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "embroiderer."

---

enamelling (verb)

Coat, inlay, or surface with enamel.

- She tried to use "enamelling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "enamelling" until he saw an example.

endogamous (adjective)

Characterized by or fit for fertilization by pollen from another flower of the same kind.

- It is useful to describe something as “endogamous” when it is characterized by or fit for fertilization by pollen....
- The speaker chose “endogamous” because it captured the feeling precisely.

enervated (adjective)

Lacking strength or vigor.

- Students compared “enervated” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “enervated.”

enfilade (verb)

Rake or be in a position to rake with gunfire in a lengthwise direction.

- She tried to use “enfilade” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “enfilade” and when to wait.

enfilade fire (noun)

Gunfire directed along the length rather than the breadth of a formation.

- In class, the teacher used “enfilade fire” to mean gunfire directed along the length rather than the....
- They discussed “enfilade fire” during the group presentation.

enfranchise (verb)

Grant freedom to; as from slavery or servitude.

- Slaves were enfranchised in the mid-19th century.
- Learners should practice how to use “enfranchise” in real sentences.

epiphyte (noun)

Plant that derives moisture and nutrients from the air and rain; usually grows on another plant but not parasitic on it.

- Understanding “epiphyte” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “epiphyte” during the group presentation.

epitomise (verb)

Embody the essential characteristics of or be a typical example of.

- In everyday English, people use “epitomise” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “epitomise” until he saw an example.

equable (adjective)

Not easily irritated.

- An equable temper.
- An equable climate.

erythroid (adjective)

Relating to erythrocytes.

- Would you call this situation “erythroid”? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “erythroid.”

esteems (noun)

The condition of being honored (esteemed or respected or well regarded).

- Understanding “esteems” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “esteems” means with a simple example.

estriol (noun)

A naturally occurring estrogenic hormone; a synthetic form is used to treat estrogen deficiency.

- Understanding “estriol” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “estriol” to mean a naturally occurring estrogenic hormone; a....

eulogised (verb)

Praise formally and eloquently.

- Can you use "eulogised" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "eulogised" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

euphorbia dentata (noun)

An annual weed of northeastern North America with dentate leaves.

- In class, the teacher used "euphorbia dentata" to mean an annual weed of northeastern north america with....
- They discussed "euphorbia dentata" during the group presentation.

---

executrix (noun)

A woman executor.

- The article explained what "executrix" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "executrix" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

exults (verb)

To express great joy.

- He did not know how to use "exults" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "exults" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

fabians (noun)

A member of the Fabian Society in Britain.

- He looked up "fabians" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "fabians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

faires (verb)

Join so that the external surfaces blend smoothly.

- The coach explained when to use "faires" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "faires" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

fasciae (noun)

A sheet or band of fibrous connective tissue separating or binding together muscles and organs etc.

- Understanding "fasciae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fasciae."

---

felis domesticus (noun)

Any domesticated member of the genus Felis.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "felis domesticus."
- Understanding "felis domesticus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fifes (noun)

A small high-pitched flute similar to a piccolo; has a shrill tone and is used chiefly to accompany drums in a marching band.

- The article explained what "fifes" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "fifes" during the group presentation.

---

fireweed (noun)

An American weedy plant with small white or greenish flowers.

- The article explained what "fireweed" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "fireweed" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

first sacker (noun)

(baseball) the person who plays first base.

- They discussed "first sacker" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "first sacker" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fixity (noun)

The quality of being incapable of mutation.

- Darwin challenged the fixity of species.

- The article explained what "fixity" means with a simple example.

---

foregrounded (verb)

Move into the foreground to make more visible or prominent.

- Learners should practice how to use "foregrounded" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "foregrounded" when talking about this idea.

---

fowlers (noun)

English lexicographer who wrote a well-known book on English usage (1858-1933).

- Understanding "fowlers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "fowlers" to mean english lexicographer who wrote a well-known book....

---

francois charles mauriac (noun)

French novelist who wrote about the conflict between desire and religious belief (1885-1970).

- They discussed "francois charles mauriac" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "francois charles mauriac" to mean french novelist who wrote about the conflict....

---

francois mauriac (noun)

French novelist who wrote about the conflict between desire and religious belief (1885-1970).

- The article explained what "francois mauriac" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "francois mauriac" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

frequenter (noun)

A regular customer.

- The article explained what "frequenter" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "frequenter" to mean a regular customer.

---

freshens (verb)

Become or make oneself fresh again.

- The coach explained when to use "freshens" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "freshens" in real sentences.

---

friedrich froebel (noun)

German educator who founded the kindergarten system (1782-1852).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "friedrich froebel."
- Understanding "friedrich froebel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fuchsias (noun)

Any of various tropical shrubs widely cultivated for their showy drooping purplish or reddish or white flowers; Central and South America and New Zealand and Tahiti.

- Understanding "fuchsias" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "fuchsias" because he had never seen it before.

---

fundraised (verb)

Raise money for a cause or project.

- He did not know how to use "fundraised" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "fundraised" and when to wait.

---

gardened (verb)

Work in the garden.

- The coach explained when to use "gardened" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "gardened" until he saw an example.

---

gastrocnemius (noun)

The muscle in the back part of the leg that forms the greater part of the calf; responsible for the plantar flexion of the foot.

- Understanding "gastrocnemius" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "gastrocnemius" during the group presentation.

---

gastrocnemius muscle (noun)

The muscle in the back part of the leg that forms the greater part of the calf; responsible for the plantar flexion of the foot.

- They discussed "gastrocnemius muscle" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "gastrocnemius muscle" to mean the muscle in the back part of the leg that forms....

---

gdps (noun)

The measure of an economy adopted by the United States in 1991; the total market values of goods and services produced by workers and capital within a nation's borders during a given period (usually 1 year).

- He looked up "gdps" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gdps."

---

gelignite (noun)

A type of dynamite in which the nitroglycerin is absorbed in a base of wood pulp and sodium or potassium nitrate.

- He looked up "gelignite" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "gelignite" to mean a type of dynamite in which the nitroglycerin is....

---

genially (adverb)

In an affable manner.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "genially" naturally.
- Place "genially" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

genus buteo (noun)

Broad-winged soaring hawks.

- They discussed "genus buteo" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "genus buteo" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus manduca (noun)

Moths whose larvae are tobacco hornworms or tomato hornworms.

- They discussed "genus manduca" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "genus manduca" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus parmelia (noun)

Type genus of the Parmeliaceae; a large genus of chiefly alpine foliaceous lichens.

- They discussed "genus parmelia" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "genus parmelia" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus passiflora (noun)

Type genus of the Passifloraceae.

- He looked up "genus passiflora" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus passiflora" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus perilla (noun)

Small genus of Asiatic herbs.

- The article explained what "genus perilla" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "genus perilla" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

geometer (noun)

A mathematician specializing in geometry.

- He looked up "geometer" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "geometer" during the group presentation.

---

germy (adjective)

Full of germs or pathological microorganisms.

- The water in New York harbor is oily and dirty and germy.
- Would you call this situation "germy"? Explain why.

---

ghanian (adjective)

Of or relating to or characteristic of Ghana or its people or language.

- It is useful to describe something as "ghanian" when it is of or relating to or characteristic of ghana or its....
- The speaker chose "ghanian" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

ghanian monetary unit (noun)

Monetary unit of Ghana.

- They discussed "ghanian monetary unit" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "ghanian monetary unit" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gian carlo menotti (noun)

United States composer (born in Italy) of operas (born in 1911).

- In class, the teacher used "gian carlo menotti" to mean united states composer (born in italy) of operas....
- The article explained what "gian carlo menotti" means with a simple example.

---

gigolos (noun)

A man who has sex with and is supported by a woman.

- In class, the teacher used "gigolos" to mean a man who has sex with and is supported by a woman.
- The article explained what "gigolos" means with a simple example.

---

giovanni battista montini (noun)

Italian pope from 1963 to 1978 who eased restrictions on fasting and on interfaith marriages (1897-1978).

- They discussed "giovanni battista montini" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "giovanni battista montini."

---

globalize (verb)

Make world-wide in scope or application.

- Markets are being increasingly globalized.
- He did not know how to use "globalize" until he saw an example.

---

globule (noun)

A small globe or ball.

- Understanding "globule" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "globule."

---

glom (verb)

Seize upon or latch onto something.

- The Republicans glommed onto Whitewater.
- He did not know how to use "glom" until he saw an example.

---

glop (noun)

Any gummy shapeless matter; usually unpleasant.

- Understanding "glop" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "glop" because he had never seen it before.

---

gluts (verb)

Overeat or eat immodestly; make a pig of oneself.

- Can you use "gluts" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "gluts" until he saw an example.

---

gobies (noun)

Small spiny-finned fish of coastal or brackish waters having a large head and elongated tapering body having the ventral fins modified as a sucker.

- The article explained what "gobies" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "gobies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

grandnephew (noun)

A son of your niece or nephew.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "grandnephew."
- Understanding "grandnephew" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

grimmest (adjective)

Not to be placated or appeased or moved by entreaty.

- Undoubtedly the grimmest part of him was his iron claw.
- Would you call this situation "grimmest"? Explain why.

gujaratis (noun)

The Indic language spoken by the people of India who live in Gujarat in western India.

- He looked up "gujaratis" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gujaratis."

haematological (adjective)

Of or relating to or involved in hematology.

- Would you call this situation "haematological"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "haematological."

haemolytic (adjective)

Relating to or involving or causing hemolysis.

- The speaker chose "haemolytic" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "haemolytic" when it is relating to or involving or causing hemolysis.

halters (verb)

Prevent the progress or free movement of.

- He did not know how to use "halters" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "halters" when talking about this idea.

hangmen (noun)

An executioner who hangs the condemned person.

- Understanding "hangmen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "hangmen" because he had never seen it before.

harakat ul-jihad-i-islami (noun)

An extremist militant group in Pakistan occupied Kashmir that seeks an Islamic government and that has had close links and fought with the Taliban in Afghanistan.

- He looked up "harakat ul-jihad-i-islami" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "harakat ul-jihad-i-islami."

hatbox (noun)

A round piece of luggage for carrying hats.

- He looked up "hatbox" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "hatbox" during the group presentation.

hatchway (noun)

An entrance equipped with a hatch; especially a passageway between decks of a ship.

- They discussed "hatchway" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "hatchway" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

heliothis moth (noun)

Medium-sized moth whose larvae are corn earworms.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "heliothis moth."
- Understanding "heliothis moth" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

henbane (noun)

Poisonous fetid Old World herb having sticky hairy leaves and yellow-brown flowers; yields hyoscyamine and scopolamine.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "henbane."
- Understanding "henbane" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

henriette rosine bernard (noun)

French actress (1844-1923).

- He looked up "henriette rosine bernard" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "henriette rosine bernard" to mean french actress (1844-1923).

---

hibernated (verb)

Be in an inactive or dormant state.

- She tried to use "hibernated" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "hibernated" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

histamines (noun)

Amine formed from histidine that stimulates gastric secretions and dilates blood vessels; released by the human immune system during allergic reactions.

- The article explained what "histamines" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "histamines."

---

hizbollah (noun)

A Shiite terrorist organization with strong ties to Iran; seeks to create an Iranian fundamentalist Islamic state in Lebanon; car bombs are the signature weapon.

- The article explained what "hizbollah" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hizbollah."

---

hoaxers (noun)

Someone who plays practical jokes on others.

- In class, the teacher used "hoaxers" to mean someone who plays practical jokes on others.
- He looked up "hoaxers" because he had never seen it before.

---

honker (noun)

A driver who causes his car's horn to make a loud honking sound.

- The honker was fined for disturbing the peace.
- They discussed "honker" during the group presentation.

---

humpbacked (adjective)

Characteristic of or suffering from kyphosis, an abnormality of the vertebral column.

- It is useful to describe something as "humpbacked" when it is characteristic of or suffering from kyphosis, an....
- The speaker chose "humpbacked" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

hymnody (noun)

The act of singing psalms or hymns.

- Understanding "hymnody" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hymnody."

---

hyperopia (noun)

Abnormal condition in which vision for distant objects is better than for near objects.

- They discussed "hyperopia" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "hyperopia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hypnotise (verb)

Induce hypnosis in.

- He did not know how to use "hypnotise" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "hypnotise" when talking about this idea.

---

hypospadias (noun)

An abnormal condition in males in which the urethra opens on the under surface of the penis.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hypospadias."
- They discussed "hypospadias" during the group presentation.

---

ideality (noun)

The quality of being ideal.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ideality."

- He looked up "ideality" because he had never seen it before.

---

ignace jan paderewski (noun)

Polish pianist who in 1919 served as the first Prime Minister of independent Poland (1860-1941).

- They discussed "ignace jan paderewski" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ignace jan paderewski" to mean polish pianist who in 1919 served as the first....

---

ignace paderewski (noun)

Polish pianist who in 1919 served as the first Prime Minister of independent Poland (1860-1941).

- Understanding "ignace paderewski" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "ignace paderewski" means with a simple example.

---

immobilisation (noun)

The act of limiting movement or making incapable of movement.

- He looked up "immobilisation" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "immobilisation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

imprecisely (adverb)

In an imprecise manner.

- He expressed himself imprecisely.
- She spoke "imprecisely," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

incinerates (verb)

Cause to undergo combustion.

- In everyday English, people use "incinerates" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "incinerates" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

inebriate (verb)

Fill with sublime emotion.

- He was inebriated by his phenomenal success.
- He did not know how to use "inebriate" until he saw an example.

---

ineffably (adverb)

To an inexpressible degree.

- She spoke "ineffably," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- Place "ineffably" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

infrequency (noun)

Noteworthy scarcity.

- They discussed "infrequency" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "infrequency" to mean noteworthy scarcity.

---

inquirers (noun)

Someone who asks a question.

- He looked up "inquirers" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "inquirers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

inroad (noun)

An encroachment or intrusion.

- They made inroads in the United States market.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "inroad."

---

insecurely (adverb)

In a tentative and self-conscious manner.

- She always acts very insecurely in the presence of her father.
- Our positions here at the university are rather insecurely supported by grant money.

---

insolently (adverb)

In an insolent manner.

- He had replied insolently to his superiors.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "insolently" naturally.

---

insouciant (adjective)

Marked by blithe unconcern.

- An utterly insouciant financial policy.
- An elegantly insouciant manner.

---

insulins (noun)

Hormone secreted by the isles of Langerhans in the pancreas; regulates storage of glycogen in the liver and accelerates oxidation of sugar in cells.

- The article explained what "insulins" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "insulins" during the group presentation.

---

intermarriages (noun)

Marriage within one's own tribe or group as required by custom or law.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "intermarriages."
- Understanding "intermarriages" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

intersperse (verb)

Place at intervals in or among.

- Intersperse exclamation marks in the text.
- The coach explained when to use "intersperse" and when to wait.

---

ipomoea tricolor (noun)

Annual or perennial climbing herb of Central America having sky-blue flowers; most commonly cultivated morning glory.

- In class, the teacher used "ipomoea tricolor" to mean annual or perennial climbing herb of central....
- The article explained what "ipomoea tricolor" means with a simple example.

---

jambon (noun)

Meat cut from the thigh of a hog (usually smoked).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jambon."
- Understanding "jambon" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

jenas (noun)

The battle in 1806 in which Napoleon decisively defeated the Prussians.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jenas."
- They discussed "jenas" during the group presentation.

---

jose ortega y gasset (noun)

Spanish philosopher who advocated leadership by an intellectual elite (1883-1955).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jose ortega y gasset."
- They discussed "jose ortega y gasset" during the group presentation.

---

judiciaries (noun)

The system of law courts that administer justice and constitute the judicial branch of government.

- In class, the teacher used "judiciaries" to mean the system of law courts that administer justice....
- The article explained what "judiciaries" means with a simple example.

---

juglans regia (noun)

Eurasian walnut valued for its large edible nut and its hard richly figured wood; widely cultivated.

- In class, the teacher used "juglans regia" to mean eurasian walnut valued for its large edible nut and....
- They discussed "juglans regia" during the group presentation.

---

keuka lake (noun)

A glacial lake in central New York; one of the Finger Lakes.

- Understanding "keuka lake" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "keuka lake" because he had never seen it before.

---

klinefelter (noun)

United States physician who first described the XXY-syndrome (born in 1912).

- The article explained what "klinefelter" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "klinefelter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

klinefelter syndrome (noun)

Syndrome in males that is characterized by small testes and long legs and enlarged breasts and reduced sperm production and mental retardation; a genetic defect in which an extra X chromosome (XXY) is present in the male.

- He looked up "klinefelter syndrome" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "klinefelter syndrome" during the group presentation.

---

knacker (noun)

Someone who buys up old horses for slaughter.

- The article explained what "knacker" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "knacker" during the group presentation.

---

knish (noun)

(Yiddish) a baked or fried turnover filled with potato or meat or cheese; often eaten as a snack.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "knish."
- Understanding "knish" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kobes (noun)

A port city in Japan on Osaka Bay in southern Honshu; was damaged by an earthquake in 1995.

- He looked up "kobes" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "kobes" to mean a port city in japan on osaka bay in southern....

---

lake keuka (noun)

A glacial lake in central New York; one of the Finger Lakes.

- Understanding "lake keuka" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "lake keuka" because he had never seen it before.

---

langoustine (noun)

Caught in European waters; slenderer than American lobster.

- They discussed "langoustine" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "langoustine" to mean caught in european waters; slenderer than american....

---

lauric acid (noun)

A crystalline fatty acid occurring as glycerides in natural fats and oils (especially coconut oil and palm-kernel oil).

- They discussed "lauric acid" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "lauric acid" to mean a crystalline fatty acid occurring as glycerides in....

---

leister (noun)

A spear with three or more prongs; used for spearing fish (especially salmon).

- He looked up "leister" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "leister."

---

letch (noun)

Man with strong sexual desires.

- In class, the teacher used "letch" to mean man with strong sexual desires.
- They discussed "letch" during the group presentation.

---

leukopenia (noun)

An abnormal lowering of the white blood cell count.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "leukopenia."
- They discussed "leukopenia" during the group presentation.

lignum vitae (noun)

Hard greenish-brown wood of the lignum vitae tree and other trees of the genus Guaiacum.

- The article explained what "lignum vitae" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lignum vitae" to mean hard greenish-brown wood of the lignum vitae tree....

lipid granulomatosis (noun)

Widespread xanthomas (especially on elbows and knees); often associated with a disorder of lipid metabolism.

- Understanding "lipid granulomatosis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "lipid granulomatosis" to mean widespread xanthomas (especially on elbows and....

livonian (noun)

A member of the Livonian-speaking people of Latvia.

- In class, the teacher used "livonian" to mean a member of the livonian-speaking people of latvia.
- The article explained what "livonian" means with a simple example.

livonian-speaking (adjective)

Able to communicate in Livonian.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "livonian-speaking."
- A "livonian-speaking" approach may work better in this case.

luta (noun)

An industrial conurbation in northeastern China on the southern end of the Liaodong Peninsula; it now includes the cities of Dalian and Lushun.

- In class, the teacher used "luta" to mean an industrial conurbation in northeastern china on....
- They discussed "luta" during the group presentation.

lutefisk (noun)

Dried cod soaked in a lye solution before boiling to give it a gelatinous consistency.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lutefisk."
- Understanding "lutefisk" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

machiavellianism (noun)

The political doctrine of Machiavelli: any means (however unscrupulous) can be used by a ruler in order to create and maintain his autocratic government.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "machiavellianism."
- The article explained what "machiavellianism" means with a simple example.

malians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Mali.

- The article explained what "malians" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "malians" to mean a native or inhabitant of mali.

malus pumila (noun)

Native Eurasian tree widely cultivated in many varieties for its firm rounded edible fruits.

- Understanding "malus pumila" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malus pumila."

manduca (noun)

Moths whose larvae are tobacco hornworms or tomato hornworms.

- The article explained what "manduca" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "manduca" to mean moths whose larvae are tobacco hornworms or tomato....

mannerly (adjective)

Socially correct in behavior.

- It is useful to describe something as "mannerly" when it is socially correct in behavior.
- Would you call this situation "mannerly"? Explain why.

martensite (noun)

A solid solution of carbon in alpha-iron that is formed when steel is cooled so rapidly that the change from austenite to pearlite is suppressed; responsible for the hardness of quenched steel.

- He looked up "martensite" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "martensite" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

martials (noun)

Roman poet noted for epigrams (first century BC).

- The article explained what "martials" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "martials" to mean roman poet noted for epigrams (first century bc).

---

masturbators (noun)

A person who practices masturbation.

- They discussed "masturbators" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "masturbators."

---

materialises (verb)

Come into being; become reality.

- He did not know how to use "materialises" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "materialises" in real sentences.

---

megillah (noun)

(Yiddish) a long boring tediously detailed account.

- He insisted on giving us the whole megillah.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "megillah."

---

memorializes (verb)

Be or provide a memorial to a person or an event.

- Can you use "memorializes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "memorializes" when talking about this idea.

---

memorisation (noun)

Learning so as to be able to remember verbatim.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "memorisation."
- He looked up "memorisation" because he had never seen it before.

---

mezuzah (noun)

Religious texts from Deuteronomy inscribed on parchment and rolled up in a case that is attached to the doorframe of many Jewish households in accordance with Jewish law.

- He looked up "mezuzah" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "mezuzah" to mean religious texts from deuteronomy inscribed on....

---

middy (noun)

Blouse with a sailor collar.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "middy."
- He looked up "middy" because he had never seen it before.

---

mikhail ivanovich glinka (noun)

Russian composer (1804-1857).

- Understanding "mikhail ivanovich glinka" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mikhail ivanovich glinka."

---

mileages (noun)

A travel allowance at a given rate per mile traveled.

- They discussed "mileages" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mileages."

---

milker (noun)

Cattle that are reared for their milk.

- Understanding "milker" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- He looked up “milker” because he had never seen it before.

---

misfeasance (noun)

Doing a proper act in a wrongful or injurious manner.

- They discussed “misfeasance” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “misfeasance” because he had never seen it before.

---

mockers (noun)

Someone who jeers or mocks or treats something with contempt or calls out in derision.

- In class, the teacher used “mockers” to mean someone who jeers or mocks or treats something with....
- The article explained what “mockers” means with a simple example.

---

moldable (adjective)

Capable of being molded or modeled (especially of earth or clay or other soft material).

- Students compared “moldable” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as “moldable” when it is capable of being molded or modeled (especially of....

---

monogenic (adjective)

Of or relating to an inheritable character that is controlled by a single pair of genes.

- A “monogenic” approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “monogenic.”

---

monogenic disease (noun)

An inherited disease controlled by a single pair of genes.

- The article explained what “monogenic disease” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “monogenic disease” during the group presentation.

---

monogenic disorder (noun)

An inherited disease controlled by a single pair of genes.

- The article explained what “monogenic disorder” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “monogenic disorder” to mean an inherited disease controlled by a single pair of....

---

monotheist (noun)

A believer in one god.

- In class, the teacher used “monotheist” to mean a believer in one god.
- They discussed “monotheist” during the group presentation.

---

moodys (noun)

United States tennis player who dominated women’s tennis in the 1920s and 1930s (1905-1998).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “moodys.”
- The article explained what “moodys” means with a simple example.

---

multistorey (adjective)

Having more than one story.

- The speaker chose “multistorey” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation “multistorey”? Explain why.

---

namibians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Namibia.

- He looked up “namibians” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “namibians” during the group presentation.

---

nevadans (noun)

A native or resident of Nevada.

- Understanding “nevadans” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “nevadans” means with a simple example.

---

nies (noun)

A Mid-Atlantic state; one of the original 13 colonies.

- They discussed "nies" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "nies" because he had never seen it before.

---

nucleate (adjective)

Having a nucleus or occurring in the nucleus.

- Nucleated cells.
- The speaker chose "nucleate" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

nuda (noun)

Ctenophores lacking tentacles; comprises one genus: beroe.

- He looked up "nuda" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "nuda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nymphomania (noun)

Abnormally intense sexual desire in women.

- The article explained what "nymphomania" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "nymphomania" during the group presentation.

---

obbligato (noun)

A part of the score that must be performed without change or omission.

- They discussed "obbligato" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "obbligato" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

occupancies (noun)

The act of occupying or taking possession of a building.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "occupancies."
- He looked up "occupancies" because he had never seen it before.

---

oddish (adjective)

Somewhat strange.

- A "oddish" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "oddish" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

odoacer (noun)

Germanic barbarian leader who ended the Western Roman Empire in 476 and became the first barbarian ruler of Italy (434-493).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "odoacer."
- He looked up "odoacer" because he had never seen it before.

---

oilier (adjective)

Containing an unusual amount of grease or oil.

- Would you call this situation "oilier"? Explain why.
- Students compared "oilier" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

one-trillionth (noun)

One part in a trillion equal parts.

- In class, the teacher used "one-trillionth" to mean one part in a trillion equal parts.
- The article explained what "one-trillionth" means with a simple example.

---

order trichoptera (noun)

An order of insects consisting of caddis flies.

- The article explained what "order trichoptera" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "order trichoptera" to mean an order of insects consisting of caddis flies.

---

ortega y gasset (noun)

Spanish philosopher who advocated leadership by an intellectual elite (1883-1955).

- He looked up "ortega y gasset" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "ortega y gasset" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

osteoclast (noun)

Cell that functions in the breakdown and resorption of bone tissue.

- The article explained what "osteoclast" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "osteoclast" to mean cell that functions in the breakdown and resorption....

---

outspokenly (adverb)

In an outspoken manner.

- He was outspokenly critical of the Government's new social policy.
- The narrator describes the scene "outspokenly" in the final chapter.

---

oversimplifies (verb)

Simplify to an excessive degree.

- In everyday English, people use "oversimplifies" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "oversimplifies" in real sentences.

---

packman (noun)

Someone who travels about selling his wares (as on the streets or at carnivals).

- They discussed "packman" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "packman" because he had never seen it before.

---

parmelia (noun)

Type genus of the Parmeliaceae; a large genus of chiefly alpine foliaceous lichens.

- The article explained what "parmelia" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "parmelia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

passiflora (noun)

Type genus of the Passifloraceae.

- Understanding "passiflora" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "passiflora."

---

paster (noun)

A workman who pastes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paster."
- He looked up "paster" because he had never seen it before.

---

patas (noun)

Reddish long-tailed monkey of west Africa.

- The article explained what "patas" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "patas."

---

payslips (noun)

A slip of paper included with your pay that records how much money you have earned and how much tax or insurance etc. has been taken out.

- The article explained what "payslips" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "payslips" during the group presentation.

---

peaces (noun)

A treaty to cease hostilities.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "peaces."
- He looked up "peaces" because he had never seen it before.

---

peckers (noun)

Bird with strong claws and a stiff tail adapted for climbing and a hard chisel-like bill for boring into wood for insects.

- They discussed "peckers" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "peckers."

penlight (noun)

A small flashlight resembling a fountain pen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "penlight."
- They discussed "penlight" during the group presentation.

pentoxide (noun)

An oxide containing five atoms of oxygen in the molecule.

- He looked up "pentoxide" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "pentoxide" during the group presentation.

perilla (noun)

Small genus of Asiatic herbs.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "perilla."
- He looked up "perilla" because he had never seen it before.

pessimistically (adverb)

With pessimism; in a pessimistic manner.

- He evaluated his chances for survival rather pessimistically.
- The narrator describes the scene "pessimistically" in the final chapter.

pesters (verb)

Annoy persistently.

- Learners should practice how to use "pesters" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "pesters" when talking about this idea.

phlebitis (noun)

Inflammation of a vein (usually in the legs).

- He looked up "phlebitis" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "phlebitis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

pico de orizaba (noun)

An extinct volcano in southern Mexico between Mexico City and Veracruz; the highest peak in Mexico (18,695 feet).

- Understanding "pico de orizaba" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pico de orizaba."

picturesquely (adverb)

In a picturesque manner.

- In the building trade such a trader is picturesquely described as a 'brass plate' merchant.
- The narrator describes the scene "picturesquely" in the final chapter.

planchette (noun)

A triangular board supported on casters; when lightly touched with the fingertips it is supposed to spell out supernatural (or unconscious) messages.

- Understanding "planchette" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "planchette" because he had never seen it before.

platonists (noun)

An advocate of Platonism.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "platonists."
- He looked up "platonists" because he had never seen it before.

polecats (noun)

Dark brown mustelid of woodlands of Eurasia that gives off an unpleasant odor when threatened.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polecats."
- They discussed "polecats" during the group presentation.

polytheist (noun)

One who believes in a plurality of gods.

- They discussed "polytheist" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polytheist."

---

popularisation (noun)

An interpretation that easily understandable and acceptable.

- In class, the teacher used "popularisation" to mean an interpretation that easily understandable and....
- Understanding "popularisation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

porticoes (noun)

A porch or entrance to a building consisting of a covered and often columned area.

- In class, the teacher used "porticoes" to mean a porch or entrance to a building consisting of a....
- The article explained what "porticoes" means with a simple example.

---

possessives (noun)

The case expressing ownership.

- They discussed "possessives" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "possessives" to mean the case expressing ownership.

---

potboiler (noun)

A literary composition of poor quality that was written quickly to make money (to boil the pot).

- He looked up "potboiler" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "potboiler" during the group presentation.

---

presidentially (adverb)

In a presidential manner.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "presidentially" naturally.
- Place "presidentially" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

primping (noun)

Careful or finicky grooming.

- The primping alone took more than an hour.
- In class, the teacher used "primping" to mean careful or finicky grooming.

---

priories (noun)

Religious residence in a monastery governed by a prior or a convent governed by a prioress.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "priories."
- The article explained what "priories" means with a simple example.

---

protea mellifera (noun)

Australian shrub whose flowers yield honey copiously.

- Understanding "protea mellifera" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "protea mellifera" means with a simple example.

---

protectionists (noun)

An advocate of protectionism.

- He looked up "protectionists" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "protectionists" during the group presentation.

---

pummelling (verb)

Strike, usually with the fist.

- She tried to use "pummelling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "pummelling" until he saw an example.

---

pyrophoric alloy (noun)

An alloy that emits sparks when struck or scratched with steel; used in lighter flints.

- In class, the teacher used "pyrophoric alloy" to mean an alloy that emits sparks when struck or scratched....

- Understanding "pyrophoric alloy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

quaestor (noun)

Any of several public officials of ancient Rome (usually in charge of finance and administration).

- Understanding "quaestor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "quaestor" because he had never seen it before.

---

quercus variabilis (noun)

Medium to large deciduous tree of China, Japan, and Korea having thick corky bark.

- He looked up "quercus variabilis" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "quercus variabilis."

---

rainiest (adjective)

(of weather) wet by periods of rain.

- A "rainiest" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "rainiest" when it is (of weather) wet by periods of rain.

---

rana sylvatica (noun)

Wide-ranging light-brown frog of moist North American woodlands especially spruce.

- He looked up "rana sylvatica" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "rana sylvatica" during the group presentation.

---

rangefinders (noun)

A measuring instrument (acoustic or optical or electronic) for finding the distance of an object.

- In class, the teacher used "rangefinders" to mean a measuring instrument (acoustic or optical or....
- He looked up "rangefinders" because he had never seen it before.

---

rastas (noun)

(Jamaica) a Black youth subculture and religious movement that arose in the ghettos of Kingston, Jamaica, in the 1950s; males grow hair in long dreadlocks and wear woolen caps; use marijuana and listen to reggae music.

- In class, the teacher used "rastas" to mean (jamaica) a black youth subculture and religious....
- The article explained what "rastas" means with a simple example.

---

reanimating (verb)

Give new life or energy to.

- In everyday English, people use "reanimating" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "reanimating" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

redeemers (noun)

A teacher and prophet born in Bethlehem and active in Nazareth; his life and sermons form the basis for Christianity (circa 4 BC - AD 29).

- Understanding "redeemers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "redeemers."

---

reforest (verb)

Forest anew.

- After the fire, they reforested the mountain.
- The coach explained when to use "reforest" and when to wait.

---

regroups (verb)

Reorganize into new groups.

- He did not know how to use "regroups" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "regroups" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

retorting (verb)

Answer back.

- Learners should practice how to use "retorting" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "retorting" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

retrying (verb)

Hear or try a court case anew.

- She tried to use “retrying” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “retrying” and when to wait.

---

rheostat (noun)

Resistor for regulating current.

- He looked up “rheostat” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “rheostat” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rhus glabra (noun)

Common nonpoisonous shrub of eastern North America with waxy compound leaves and green paniculate flowers followed by red berries.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “rhus glabra.”
- They discussed “rhus glabra” during the group presentation.

---

riding bitt (noun)

One of the large bitts used to secure the cable of a dropped anchor.

- In class, the teacher used “riding bitt” to mean one of the large bitts used to secure the cable of....
- The article explained what “riding bitt” means with a simple example.

---

romanticise (verb)

Interpret romantically.

- Learners should practice how to use “romanticise” in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use “romanticise” and when to wait.

---

rosa odorata (noun)

Any of several hybrid bush roses derived from a tea-scented Chinese rose with pink or yellow flowers.

- The article explained what “rosa odorata” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “rosa odorata” during the group presentation.

---

roughhousing (verb)

Engage in rough or disorderly play.

- Learners should practice how to use “roughhousing” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “roughhousing” when talking about this idea.

---

ruinously (adverb)

In a ruinous manner or to a ruinous degree.

- Ruinously high wages.
- Place “ruinously” carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

ruminates (verb)

Reflect deeply on a subject.

- Learners should practice how to use “ruminates” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “ruminates” when talking about this idea.

---

sandblast (noun)

A blast of wind laden with sand.

- Understanding “sandblast” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “sandblast.”

---

satirise (verb)

Ridicule with satire.

- The coach explained when to use “satirise” and when to wait.
- Can you use “satirise” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

sawbones (noun)

A physician who specializes in surgery.

- Understanding "sawbones" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sawbones."

---

sclerotia (noun)

Form genus of sterile imperfect fungi; many form sclerotia; some cause sclerotium disease in plants.

- In class, the teacher used "sclerotia" to mean form genus of sterile imperfect fungi; many form....
- The article explained what "sclerotia" means with a simple example.

---

sealings (noun)

The act of treating something to make it repel water.

- Understanding "sealings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "sealings" because he had never seen it before.

---

secateurs (noun)

Small pruning shears with a spring that holds the handles open and a single blade that closes against a flat surface.

- The article explained what "secateurs" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "secateurs" during the group presentation.

---

second sacker (noun)

(baseball) the person who plays second base.

- They discussed "second sacker" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "second sacker" because he had never seen it before.

---

sensitiveness (noun)

The ability to respond to physical stimuli or to register small physical amounts or differences.

- The sensitiveness of Mimosa leaves does not depend on a change of growth.
- They discussed "sensitiveness" during the group presentation.

---

sensorium (noun)

The areas of the brain that process and register incoming sensory information and make possible the conscious awareness of the world.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sensorium."
- The article explained what "sensorium" means with a simple example.

---

sergei sergeyevich prokofiev (noun)

Russian composer of ballets and symphonies and operas (1891-1953).

- He looked up "sergei sergeyevich prokofiev" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "sergei sergeyevich prokofiev" during the group presentation.

---

shannons (noun)

United States electrical engineer who pioneered mathematical communication theory (1916-2001).

- Understanding "shannons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "shannons" during the group presentation.

---

shimmies (noun)

An abnormal wobble in a motor vehicle (especially in the front wheels).

- They discussed "shimmies" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "shimmies" to mean an abnormal wobble in a motor vehicle (especially....

---

sir frederick gowland hopkins (noun)

English biochemist who did pioneering work that led to the discovery of vitamins (1861-1947).

- They discussed "sir frederick gowland hopkins" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "sir frederick gowland hopkins" means with a simple example.

---

sketcher (noun)

An implement for sketching.

- They discussed "sketcher" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "sketcher" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

sleepier (adjective)

Ready to fall asleep.

- A "sleepier" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "sleepier"? Explain why.

sniggered (verb)

Laugh quietly.

- The coach explained when to use "sniggered" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "sniggered" in real sentences.

soaped (verb)

Rub soap all over, usually with the purpose of cleaning.

- Learners should practice how to use "soaped" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "soaped" when talking about this idea.

spaceflights (noun)

A voyage outside the Earth's atmosphere.

- They discussed "spaceflights" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "spaceflights" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

spatulate (adjective)

(of a leaf shape) having a broad rounded apex and a narrow base.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "spatulate."
- A "spatulate" approach may work better in this case.

spatulate leaf (noun)

Spatula-shaped leaf; having a broad rounded apex and narrow base.

- The article explained what "spatulate leaf" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "spatulate leaf" to mean spatula-shaped leaf; having a broad rounded apex....

spectroscope (noun)

An optical instrument for spectrographic analysis.

- He looked up "spectroscope" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "spectroscope" during the group presentation.

spendable (adjective)

(used of funds) remaining after taxes.

- Spendable income.
- It is useful to describe something as "spendable" when it is (used of funds) remaining after taxes.

spritzing (verb)

Cover (a location) wholly or partially by squirting a liquid onto it.

- Learners should practice how to use "spritzing" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "spritzing" and when to wait.

steadiest (adjective)

Not subject to change or variation especially in behavior.

- It is useful to describe something as "steadiest" when it is not subject to change or variation especially in....
- The speaker chose "steadiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

stepparents (noun)

The spouse of your parent by a subsequent marriage.

- The article explained what "stepparents" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "stepparents" to mean the spouse of your parent by a subsequent marriage.

stomachaches (noun)

An ache localized in the stomach or abdominal region.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stomachaches."
- The article explained what "stomachaches" means with a simple example.

---

streetwalkers (noun)

A prostitute who attracts customers by walking the streets.

- Understanding "streetwalkers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "streetwalkers" because he had never seen it before.

---

strew (verb)

Spread by scattering (is archaic).

- Strew toys all over the carpet.
- Dead bodies strewed the ground.

---

stylet (noun)

Small needlelike appendage; especially the feeding organ of a tardigrade.

- They discussed "stylet" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "stylet" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

summering (verb)

Spend the summer.

- He did not know how to use "summering" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "summering" in real sentences.

---

surmounts (verb)

Reach the highest point of.

- The coach explained when to use "surmounts" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "surmounts" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

tabbouleh (noun)

A finely chopped salad with tomatoes and parsley and mint and scallions and bulgur wheat.

- Understanding "tabbouleh" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tabbouleh" to mean a finely chopped salad with tomatoes and parsley....

---

tads (noun)

A slight amount or degree of difference.

- Understanding "tads" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "tads" means with a simple example.

---

tailpipes (noun)

A pipe carrying fumes from the muffler to the rear of a car.

- They discussed "tailpipes" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "tailpipes" because he had never seen it before.

---

tappet (noun)

A lever that is moved in order to tap something else.

- In class, the teacher used "tappet" to mean a lever that is moved in order to tap something else.
- The article explained what "tappet" means with a simple example.

---

tardive dyskinesia (noun)

Involuntary rolling of the tongue and twitching of the face or trunk or limbs; often occurs in patients with Parkinsonism who are treated with phenothiazine.

- They discussed "tardive dyskinesia" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tardive dyskinesia."

---

telegrapher (noun)

Someone who transmits messages by telegraph.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "telegrapher."

- Understanding "telegrapher" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

telemann (noun)

German baroque composer (1681-1767).

- In class, the teacher used "telemann" to mean german baroque composer (1681-1767).
- He looked up "telemann" because he had never seen it before.

---

televangelists (noun)

An evangelist who conducts services on television.

- Understanding "televangelists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "televangelists" because he had never seen it before.

---

telluric (adjective)

Of or relating to or containing the chemical element tellurium.

- Students compared "telluric" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "telluric."

---

tenons (noun)

A projection at the end of a piece of wood that is shaped to fit into a mortise and form a mortise joint.

- The article explained what "tenons" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "tenons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tenzing norgay (noun)

Sherpa mountaineer guide who with Sir Edmund Hillary was one of the first to attain the summit of Mount Everest (1914-1986).

- The article explained what "tenzing norgay" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "tenzing norgay" during the group presentation.

---

third sacker (noun)

(baseball) the person who plays third base.

- He looked up "third sacker" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "third sacker" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

thrombectomy (noun)

Surgical removal of a blood clot (thrombus) from a blood vessel.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thrombectomy."
- They discussed "thrombectomy" during the group presentation.

---

toques (noun)

A tall white hat with a pouched crown; worn by chefs.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "toques."
- He looked up "toques" because he had never seen it before.

---

toroid (noun)

The doughnut-shaped object enclosed by a torus.

- The article explained what "toroid" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "toroid."

---

totting (verb)

Determine the sum of.

- In everyday English, people use "totting" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "totting" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

towline (noun)

(nautical) a rope used in towing.

- Understanding "towline" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "towline" to mean (nautical) a rope used in towing.

---

tramline (noun)

The track on which trams or streetcars run.

- Understanding "tramline" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tramline" to mean the track on which trams or streetcars run.

---

transected (verb)

Cut across or divide transversely.

- Can you use "transected" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "transected" until he saw an example.

---

trichoptera (noun)

An order of insects consisting of caddis flies.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "trichoptera."
- They discussed "trichoptera" during the group presentation.

---

trillionth (adjective)

The ordinal number of one trillion in counting order.

- A "trillionth" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "trillionth"? Explain why.

---

tropism (noun)

An involuntary orienting response; positive or negative reaction to a stimulus source.

- Understanding "tropism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "tropism" during the group presentation.

---

turgot (noun)

French economist who in 1774 was put in control of finances by Louis XVI; his proposals for reforms that involved abolishing feudal privileges made him unpopular with the aristocracy and in 1776 he was dismissed (1727-1781).

- They discussed "turgot" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "turgot" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tweeze (verb)

Pluck with tweezers.

- Tweeze facial hair.
- Learners should practice how to use "tweeze" in real sentences.

---

unbinding (verb)

Untie or unfasten.

- The coach explained when to use "unbinding" and when to wait.
- Can you use "unbinding" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

unclip (verb)

Remove the clip from.

- In everyday English, people use "unclip" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "unclip" in real sentences.

---

unconsidered (adjective)

Without proper consideration or reflection.

- Unconsidered words.
- Prejudice is the holding of unconsidered opinions.

---

unfed (adjective)

Not given support.

- A grudge that remained unfed.
- Would you call this situation "unfed"? Explain why.

---

unicycles (noun)

A vehicle with a single wheel that is driven by pedals.

- The article explained what “unicycles” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “unicycles” during the group presentation.

---

unplugs (verb)

Pull the plug of (electrical appliances) and render inoperable.

- She tried to use “unplugs” carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use “unplugs” until he saw an example.

---

upholstering (verb)

Provide furniture with padding, springs, webbing, and covers.

- She tried to use “upholstering” carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use “upholstering” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

ursus ursinus (noun)

Common coarse-haired long-snouted bear of south-central Asia.

- They discussed “ursus ursinus” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “ursus ursinus” to mean common coarse-haired long-snouted bear of....

---

usurpations (noun)

Wrongfully seizing and holding (an office or powers) by force (especially the seizure of a throne or supreme authority).

- They discussed “usurpations” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “usurpations.”

---

variegation (noun)

The act of introducing variety (especially in investments or in the variety of goods and services offered).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “variegation.”
- The article explained what “variegation” means with a simple example.

---

viola sylvatica (noun)

Common European violet that grows in woods and hedgerows.

- They discussed “viola sylvatica” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “viola sylvatica” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

virginias (noun)

A town in northeastern Minnesota in the heart of the Mesabi Range.

- In class, the teacher used “virginias” to mean a town in northeastern minnesota in the heart of....
- He looked up “virginias” because he had never seen it before.

---

visayan (noun)

A member of the most numerous indigenous people of the Philippines.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “visayan.”
- He looked up “visayan” because he had never seen it before.

---

visayan islands (noun)

Group of islands in the central Philippines.

- The article explained what “visayan islands” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “visayan islands” during the group presentation.

---

vocalizes (verb)

Sing (each note a scale or in a melody) with the same vowel.

- The coach explained when to use “vocalizes” and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use “vocalizes” until he saw an example.

---

walleyes (noun)

Strabismus in which one or both eyes are directed outward.

- In class, the teacher used “walleyes” to mean strabismus in which one or both eyes are directed....
- Understanding “walleyes” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

welcher (noun)

Someone who swindles you by not repaying a debt or wager.

- Understanding "welcher" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "welcher."

wherefores (noun)

The cause or intention underlying an action or situation, especially in the phrase 'the whys and wherefores'.

- Understanding "wherefores" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "wherefores" during the group presentation.

whitewashes (noun)

A defeat in which the losing person or team fails to score.

- Understanding "whitewashes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whitewashes."

wonderfulness (noun)

Admirable excellence.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wonderfulness."
- He looked up "wonderfulness" because he had never seen it before.

xenografts (noun)

Tissue from an animal of one species used as a temporary graft (as in cases of severe burns) on an individual of another species.

- The article explained what "xenografts" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "xenografts" to mean tissue from an animal of one species used as a....

xerostomia (noun)

Abnormal dryness of the mouth resulting from decreased secretion of saliva.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "xerostomia."
- They discussed "xerostomia" during the group presentation.

yastrzemski (noun)

United States baseball player (born in 1939).

- He looked up "yastrzemski" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "yastrzemski" to mean united states baseball player (born in 1939).

yaws (noun)

An infectious tropical disease resembling syphilis in its early stages; marked by red skin eruptions and ulcerating lesions.

- Understanding "yaws" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "yaws" during the group presentation.

yellow henbane (noun)

Found on sea beaches from Virginia to South America having greenish-yellow flowers and orange or yellow berries.

- They discussed "yellow henbane" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "yellow henbane" because he had never seen it before.

yquem (noun)

A sweet white French wine.

- The article explained what "yquem" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "yquem" to mean a sweet white french wine.

zollinger-ellison syndrome (noun)

Syndrome consisting of intractable peptic ulceration with gastric hypersecretion and hyperacidity.

- He looked up "zollinger-ellison syndrome" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "zollinger-ellison syndrome."

abeles (noun)

A poplar that is widely cultivated in the United States; has white bark and leaves with whitish undersurfaces.

- Understanding "abeles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "abeles" to mean a poplar that is widely cultivated in the united....

---

abiogenesis (noun)

A hypothetical organic phenomenon by which living organisms are created from nonliving matter.

- The article explained what "abiogenesis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "abiogenesis" to mean a hypothetical organic phenomenon by which living....

---

abortifacient (noun)

A drug (or other chemical agent) that causes abortion.

- The article explained what "abortifacient" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "abortifacient" to mean a drug (or other chemical agent) that causes abortion.

---

abysses (noun)

A bottomless gulf or pit; any unfathomable (or apparently unfathomable) cavity or chasm or void extending below (often used figuratively).

- In class, the teacher used "abysses" to mean a bottomless gulf or pit; any unfathomable (or....
- He looked up "abysses" because he had never seen it before.

---

achene (noun)

Small dry indehiscent fruit with the seed distinct from the fruit wall.

- In class, the teacher used "achene" to mean small dry indehiscent fruit with the seed distinct....
- He looked up "achene" because he had never seen it before.

---

acidify (verb)

Make sour or more sour.

- In everyday English, people use "acidify" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "acidify" in real sentences.

---

actinium (noun)

A radioactive element of the actinide series; found in uranium ores.

- In class, the teacher used "actinium" to mean a radioactive element of the actinide series; found....
- They discussed "actinium" during the group presentation.

---

adulterants (noun)

Any substance that lessens the purity or effectiveness of a substance.

- It is necessary to remove the adulterants before use.
- The article explained what "adulterants" means with a simple example.

---

aesthetes (noun)

One who professes great sensitivity to the beauty of art and nature.

- In class, the teacher used "aesthetes" to mean one who professes great sensitivity to the beauty....
- The article explained what "aesthetes" means with a simple example.

---

agglomerate (noun)

A collection of objects laid on top of each other.

- Understanding "agglomerate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "agglomerate" to mean a collection of objects laid on top of each other.

---

ailed (verb)

Cause bodily suffering to and make sick or indisposed.

- Can you use "ailed" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "ailed" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

allocable (adjective)

Capable of being distributed.

- The speaker chose "allocable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "allocable."

---

alphabetize (verb)

Arrange in alphabetical order.

- Alphabetize the list.
- Cyril and Method alphabetized the Slavic languages.

---

amberjack (noun)

Any of several amber to coppery fork-tailed warm-water carangid fishes.

- He looked up "amberjack" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "amberjack."

---

andre derain (noun)

French painter and exponent of fauvism (1880-1954).

- They discussed "andre derain" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "andre derain" because he had never seen it before.

---

antiemetic (noun)

A drug that prevents or alleviates nausea and vomiting.

- The article explained what "antiemetic" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "antiemetic" to mean a drug that prevents or alleviates nausea and vomiting.

---

antiemetic drug (noun)

A drug that prevents or alleviates nausea and vomiting.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "antiemetic drug."
- He looked up "antiemetic drug" because he had never seen it before.

---

antiheroes (noun)

A protagonist who lacks the characteristics that would make him a hero (or her a heroine).

- In class, the teacher used "antiheroes" to mean a protagonist who lacks the characteristics that....
- The article explained what "antiheroes" means with a simple example.

---

antimonopoly (adjective)

Of laws and regulations; designed to protect trade and commerce from unfair business practices.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "antimonopoly."
- Would you call this situation "antimonopoly"? Explain why.

---

antiphonal (adjective)

Containing or using responses; alternating.

- Antiphonal laughter.
- Would you call this situation "antiphonal"? Explain why.

---

apheresis (noun)

A procedure in which blood is drawn and separated into its components by dialysis; some are retained and the rest are returned to the donor by transfusion.

- He looked up "apheresis" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "apheresis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

aphoristic (adjective)

Containing aphorisms or maxims.

- Students compared "aphoristic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "aphoristic."

---

apothecia (noun)

A cuplike ascocarp in many lichens and ascomycetous fungi.

- In class, the teacher used "apothecia" to mean a cuplike ascocarp in many lichens and ascomycetous....
- He looked up "apothecia" because he had never seen it before.

---

arbitrating (verb)

Act between parties with a view to reconciling differences.

- He did not know how to use "arbitrating" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "arbitrating" when talking about this idea.

---

aristotelianism (noun)

(philosophy) the philosophy of Aristotle that deals with logic and metaphysics and ethics and poetics and politics and natural science.

- Aristotelianism profoundly influenced Western thought.
- He looked up "aristotelianism" because he had never seen it before.

---

assortative mating (noun)

Mating of individuals having more traits in common than likely in random mating.

- They discussed "assortative mating" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "assortative mating" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bacchanalian (adjective)

Used of riotously drunken merrymaking.

- A night of bacchanalian revelry.
- The speaker chose "bacchanalian" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

baccy (noun)

Leaves of the tobacco plant dried and prepared for smoking or ingestion.

- He looked up "baccy" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "baccy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

baluster (noun)

One of a number of closely spaced supports for a railing.

- Understanding "baluster" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "baluster."

---

battle of st mihiel (noun)

A battle in the Meuse-Argonne operation in World War I (1918); the battle in which American troops launched their first offensive in France.

- Understanding "battle of st mihiel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "battle of st mihiel" means with a simple example.

---

battle of wagram (noun)

A battle in the Napoleonic campaigns (1809); Napoleon defeated the Austrians.

- He looked up "battle of wagram" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "battle of wagram" to mean a battle in the napoleonic campaigns (1809);....

---

bawls (verb)

Shout loudly and without restraint.

- In everyday English, people use "bawls" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "bawls" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

beguine (noun)

A ballroom dance that originated in the French West Indies; similar to the rumba.

- The article explained what "beguine" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "beguine" during the group presentation.

---

behoves (verb)

Be appropriate or necessary.

- The coach explained when to use "behoves" and when to wait.
- Can you use "behoves" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

belmonts (noun)

A racetrack for thoroughbred racing in Elmont on Long Island; site of the Belmont Stakes.

- He looked up “belmonts” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “belmonts.”

---

benefactress (noun)

A woman benefactor.

- The article explained what “benefactress” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “benefactress” to mean a woman benefactor.

---

betula pubescens (noun)

European birch with dull white to pale brown bark and somewhat drooping hairy branches.

- They discussed “betula pubescens” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “betula pubescens” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bifurcates (verb)

Divide into two branches.

- She tried to use “bifurcates” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “bifurcates” and when to wait.

---

black-and-tan coonhound (noun)

American breed of large powerful hound dogs used for hunting raccoons and other game.

- Understanding “black-and-tan coonhound” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “black-and-tan coonhound” because he had never seen it before.

---

blander (adjective)

Lacking stimulating characteristics; uninteresting.

- Would you call this situation “blander”? Explain why.
- The speaker chose “blander” because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

brachycephalic (noun)

An adult with a short broad head.

- In class, the teacher used “brachycephalic” to mean an adult with a short broad head.
- They discussed “brachycephalic” during the group presentation.

---

bridgework (noun)

A denture anchored to teeth on either side of missing teeth.

- He looked up “bridgework” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “bridgework” to mean a denture anchored to teeth on either side of....

---

bronchodilator (noun)

A drug that relaxes and dilates the bronchial passageways and improves the passages of air into the lungs.

- He looked up “bronchodilator” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “bronchodilator.”

---

burgling (verb)

Commit a burglary; enter and rob a dwelling.

- Learners should practice how to use “burgling” in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use “burgling” until he saw an example.

---

burnup (noun)

A high-speed motorcycle race on a public road.

- Understanding “burnup” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “burnup” means with a simple example.

---

buspirone (noun)

A drug (trade name BuSpar) designed specifically for anxiety.

- They discussed “buspirone” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “buspirone” to mean a drug (trade name buspar) designed specifically....

calderas (noun)

A large crater caused by the violent explosion of a volcano that collapses into a depression.

- The article explained what "calderas" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "calderas" to mean a large crater caused by the violent explosion of a....

calendaring (verb)

Enter into a calendar.

- The coach explained when to use "calendaring" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "calendaring" carefully so everyone would understand.

caliche (noun)

Nitrate-bearing rock or gravel of the sodium nitrate deposits of Chile and Peru.

- They discussed "caliche" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "caliche" to mean nitrate-bearing rock or gravel of the sodium....

caliche-topped (adjective)

Covered with caliche, a hard calcium-carbonate encrusted soil.

- It is useful to describe something as "caliche-topped" when it is covered with caliche, a hard calcium-carbonate....
- Would you call this situation "caliche-topped"? Explain why.

cancellous (adjective)

Having an open or latticed or porous structure.

- The speaker chose "cancellous" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "cancellous" approach may work better in this case.

capriciousness (noun)

The trait of acting unpredictably and more from whim or caprice than from reason or judgment.

- The article explained what "capriciousness" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "capriciousness" during the group presentation.

carabidae (noun)

Ground beetles.

- Understanding "carabidae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "carabidae" means with a simple example.

caravanserai (noun)

An inn in some eastern countries with a large courtyard that provides accommodation for caravans.

- He looked up "caravanserai" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "caravanserai" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

catchings (noun)

The act of detecting something; catching sight of something.

- In class, the teacher used "catchings" to mean the act of detecting something; catching sight of....
- They discussed "catchings" during the group presentation.

cautery (noun)

The act of coagulating blood and destroying tissue with a hot iron or caustic agent or by freezing.

- The article explained what "cautery" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "cautery" during the group presentation.

chanters (noun)

Reed pipe with finger holes on which the melody is played.

- He looked up "chanters" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "chanters" during the group presentation.

chary (adjective)

Characterized by great caution and wariness.

- Chary of the risks involved.
- A chary investor.

---

cheddars (noun)

A village in southwestern England where cheddar cheese was first made.

- Understanding "cheddars" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "cheddars" to mean a village in southwestern england where cheddar....

---

chiselling (verb)

Engage in deceitful behavior; practice trickery or fraud.

- She tried to use "chiselling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "chiselling" when talking about this idea.

---

cholecystitis (noun)

Inflammation of the gall bladder.

- They discussed "cholecystitis" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "cholecystitis" means with a simple example.

---

chromatically (adverb)

With respect to color.

- Chromatically pure.
- She spoke "chromatically," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

cirri (noun)

A wispy white cloud (usually of fine ice crystals) at a high altitude (4 to 8 miles).

- The article explained what "cirri" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cirri."

---

coalescent (adjective)

Growing together, fusing.

- Coalescent tradititions.
- Coalescent bones.

---

cobia (noun)

Large dark-striped tropical food and game fish related to remoras; found worldwide in coastal to open waters.

- In class, the teacher used "cobia" to mean large dark-striped tropical food and game fish....
- Understanding "cobia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cock's eggs (noun)

Weedy vine of Argentina having solitary white flowers followed by egg-shaped white or yellow fruit.

- He looked up "cock's eggs" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "cock's eggs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cocooning (noun)

Retreating to the seclusion of your home (as for privacy or escape).

- They discussed "cocooning" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cocooning."

---

colonizes (verb)

Settle as colonists or establish a colony (in).

- The coach explained when to use "colonizes" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "colonizes" in real sentences.

---

comptrollers (noun)

Someone who maintains and audits business accounts.

- He looked up "comptrollers" because he had never seen it before.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "comptrollers."

---

conductivities (noun)

The transmission of heat or electricity or sound.

- They discussed "conductivities" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "conductivities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

conferment (noun)

The act of conferring an honor or presenting a gift.

- They discussed "conferment" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "conferment" to mean the act of conferring an honor or presenting a gift.

---

conflagrations (noun)

A very intense and uncontrolled fire.

- He looked up "conflagrations" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "conflagrations."

---

connive (verb)

Form intrigues (for) in an underhand manner.

- The coach explained when to use "connive" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "connive" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

connive at (verb)

Give one's silent approval to.

- In everyday English, people use "connive at" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "connive at" in real sentences.

---

conspecifics (noun)

An organism belonging to the same species as another organism.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "conspecifics."
- He looked up "conspecifics" because he had never seen it before.

---

conventionalized (adjective)

Using artistic forms and conventions to create effects; not natural or spontaneous.

- Would you call this situation "conventionalized"? Explain why.
- Students compared "conventionalized" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

convertor (noun)

A device for changing one substance or form or state into another.

- He looked up "convertor" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "convertor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

convulsively (adverb)

With convulsions, in a convulsive way.

- Her leg twitched convulsively.
- The narrator describes the scene "convulsively" in the final chapter.

---

coonhound (noun)

Any of several breeds of hound developed for hunting raccoons.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coonhound."
- He looked up "coonhound" because he had never seen it before.

---

copyrighting (verb)

Secure a copyright on a written work.

- Can you use "copyrighting" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "copyrighting" and when to wait.

---

cornstalk (noun)

The stalk of a corn plant.

- They discussed "cornstalk" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "cornstalk" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

corynebacterium (noun)

Any species of the genus Corynebacterium.

- He looked up "corynebacterium" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "corynebacterium" to mean any species of the genus corynebacterium.

---

cowlick (noun)

A tuft of hair that grows in a different direction from the rest of the hair and usually will not lie flat.

- He looked up "cowlick" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cowlick."

---

davy's gray (noun)

Slightly purplish or bluish dark grey.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "davy's gray."
- The article explained what "davy's gray" means with a simple example.

---

davy's grey (noun)

Slightly purplish or bluish dark grey.

- They discussed "davy's grey" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "davy's grey" because he had never seen it before.

---

decapod crustacean (noun)

Crustaceans characteristically having five pairs of locomotor appendages each joined to a segment of the thorax.

- They discussed "decapod crustacean" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "decapod crustacean" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

deciliter (noun)

A metric unit of volume equal to one tenth of a liter.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "deciliter."
- They discussed "deciliter" during the group presentation.

---

degradations (noun)

A low or downcast state; - H.L.Menchken.

- The article explained what "degradations" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "degradations" to mean a low or downcast state; - h.l.menchken.

---

deistic (adjective)

Of or relating to deism.

- The speaker chose "deistic" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "deistic" when it is of or relating to deism.

---

deputised (verb)

Appoint as a substitute.

- Can you use "deputised" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "deputised" when talking about this idea.

---

derain (noun)

French painter and exponent of fauvism (1880-1954).

- The article explained what "derain" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "derain."

---

derivable (adjective)

Capable of being derived.

- It is useful to describe something as "derivable" when it is capable of being derived.
- Students compared "derivable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

devons (noun)

A county in southwestern England.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "devons."
- He looked up "devons" because he had never seen it before.

---

diabetes insipidus (noun)

A rare form of diabetes resulting from a deficiency of vasopressin (the pituitary hormone that regulates the kidneys); characterized by the chronic excretion of large amounts of pale dilute urine which results in dehydration and extreme thirst.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "diabetes insipidus."
- They discussed "diabetes insipidus" during the group presentation.

---

diarists (noun)

Someone who keeps a diary or journal.

- The article explained what "diarists" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "diarists."

---

disdaining (verb)

Look down on with disdain.

- Learners should practice how to use "disdaining" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "disdaining" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

disfigurements (noun)

An appearance that has been spoiled or is misshapen.

- There were distinguishing disfigurements on the suspect's back.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "disfigurements."

---

disneys (noun)

United States film maker who pioneered animated cartoons and created such characters as Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck; founded Disneyland (1901-1966).

- They discussed "disneys" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "disneys" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

djakarta (noun)

Capital and largest city of Indonesia; located on the island of Java; founded by the Dutch in 17th century.

- In class, the teacher used "djakarta" to mean capital and largest city of indonesia; located on....
- The article explained what "djakarta" means with a simple example.

---

djinns (noun)

(Islam) an invisible spirit mentioned in the Koran and believed by Muslims to inhabit the earth and influence mankind by appearing in the form of humans or animals.

- He looked up "djinns" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "djinns" during the group presentation.

---

dogtooth (noun)

A carved pyramidal ornament; used in 13th century England.

- Understanding "dogtooth" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "dogtooth" during the group presentation.

---

dogtooth violet (noun)

Perennial woodland spring-flowering plant; widely cultivated.

- The article explained what "dogtooth violet" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "dogtooth violet" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dramaturgical (adjective)

Relating to the technical aspects of drama.

- Would you call this situation "dramaturgical"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "dramaturgical."

drawls (noun)

A slow speech pattern with prolonged vowels.

- They discussed "drawls" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "drawls" to mean a slow speech pattern with prolonged vowels.

duffs (noun)

A stiff flour pudding steamed or boiled usually and containing e.g. currants and raisins and citron.

- Understanding "duffs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "duffs."

eimeria (noun)

Parasitic on the digestive epithelium of vertebrates and higher invertebrates.

- In class, the teacher used "eimeria" to mean parasitic on the digestive epithelium of....
- He looked up "eimeria" because he had never seen it before.

ellul (noun)

The twelfth month of the civil year; the sixth month of the ecclesiastical year in the Jewish calendar (in August and September).

- Understanding "ellul" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "ellul" during the group presentation.

embalmers (noun)

A mortician who treats corpses with preservatives.

- He looked up "embalmers" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "embalmers" to mean a mortician who treats corpses with preservatives.

empanelled (verb)

Enter into a list of prospective jurors.

- In everyday English, people use "empanelled" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "empanelled" in a sentence that fits this situation?

englishes (noun)

The discipline that studies the English language and literature.

- Understanding "englishes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "englishes" during the group presentation.

entrapping (verb)

Catch in or as if in a trap.

- Learners should practice how to use "entrapping" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "entrapping" carefully so everyone would understand.

ephesian (noun)

A resident of the ancient Greek city of Ephesus.

- They discussed "ephesian" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "ephesian" means with a simple example.

epilogues (noun)

A short passage added at the end of a literary work.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "epilogues."
- He looked up "epilogues" because he had never seen it before.

epiphyseal (adjective)

Relating to the epiphysis of a bone.

- Would you call this situation "epiphyseal"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "epiphyseal."

epistemologies (noun)

The philosophical theory of knowledge.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "epistemologies."
- He looked up "epistemologies" because he had never seen it before.

---

erythematous (adjective)

Relating to or characterized by erythema.

- Would you call this situation "erythematous"? Explain why.
- A "erythematous" approach may work better in this case.

---

european dogtooth (noun)

Sturdy European dogtooth with rose to mauve flowers; cultivated in many varieties.

- The article explained what "european dogtooth" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "european dogtooth."

---

excoriate (verb)

Tear or wear off the skin or make sore by abrading.

- The coach explained when to use "excoriate" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "excoriate" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

extemporaneously (adverb)

Without prior preparation.

- He spoke extemporaneously.
- He answered "extemporaneously," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

extirpate (verb)

Destroy completely, as if down to the roots.

- The coach explained when to use "extirpate" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "extirpate" in real sentences.

---

fallot (noun)

French physician who described cardiac anomalies including Fallot's tetralogy (1850-1911).

- In class, the teacher used "fallot" to mean french physician who described cardiac anomalies....
- He looked up "fallot" because he had never seen it before.

---

family carabidae (noun)

Ground beetles.

- He looked up "family carabidae" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "family carabidae" to mean ground beetles.

---

fascias (noun)

A sheet or band of fibrous connective tissue separating or binding together muscles and organs etc.

- He looked up "fascias" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fascias."

---

fews (noun)

A small elite group.

- They discussed "fews" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "fews" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

firestorms (noun)

An outburst of controversy.

- He looked up "firestorms" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "firestorms" to mean an outburst of controversy.

---

flagellates (noun)

A usually nonphotosynthetic free-living protozoan with whiplike appendages; some are pathogens of humans and other animals.

- He looked up "flagellates" because he had never seen it before.

- They discussed "flagellates" during the group presentation.

---

flouts (verb)

Treat with contemptuous disregard.

- In everyday English, people use "flouts" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "flouts" in real sentences.

---

fluffiness (noun)

A light softness.

- The article explained what "fluffiness" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fluffiness."

---

footbridges (noun)

A bridge designed for pedestrians.

- In class, the teacher used "footbridges" to mean a bridge designed for pedestrians.
- The article explained what "footbridges" means with a simple example.

---

formalwear (noun)

Attire to wear on formal occasions in the evening.

- He looked up "formalwear" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "formalwear" to mean attire to wear on formal occasions in the evening.

---

fortuneteller (noun)

A person who foretells your personal future.

- The article explained what "fortuneteller" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "fortuneteller" to mean a person who foretells your personal future.

---

forwardness (noun)

An advanced stage.

- The forwardness of the harvest this year.
- The arts are in no kind of forwardness in this matter.

---

foxhounds (noun)

Medium-sized glossy-coated hounds developed for hunting foxes.

- In class, the teacher used "foxhounds" to mean medium-sized glossy-coated hounds developed for....
- Understanding "foxhounds" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

froebel (noun)

German educator who founded the kindergarten system (1782-1852).

- The article explained what "froebel" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "froebel" during the group presentation.

---

frustum (noun)

A truncated cone or pyramid; the part that is left when a cone or pyramid is cut by a plane parallel to the base and the apical part is removed.

- He looked up "frustum" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "frustum."

---

fussiness (noun)

An irritable petulant feeling.

- They discussed "fussiness" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "fussiness" means with a simple example.

---

gasconade (noun)

An instance of boastful talk.

- Whenever he won we were exposed to his gasconade.
- The article explained what "gasconade" means with a simple example.

---

genus corynebacterium (noun)

The type genus of the family Corynebacteriaceae which is widely distributed in nature; the best known are parasites and pathogens of humans and domestic animals.

- In class, the teacher used "genus corynebacterium" to mean the type genus of the family corynebacteriaceae....
- Understanding "genus corynebacterium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus eimeria (noun)

Type genus of the family Eimeriidae; includes serious pathogens.

- Understanding "genus eimeria" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "genus eimeria" to mean type genus of the family eimeriidae; includes....

---

genus hakea (noun)

Australian shrubs and small trees with evergreen usually spiny leaves and dense clusters of showy flowers.

- He looked up "genus hakea" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus hakea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus heliothis (noun)

A genus of Noctuidae.

- They discussed "genus heliothis" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "genus heliothis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus iguanodon (noun)

Type genus of the Iguanodontidae.

- In class, the teacher used "genus iguanodon" to mean type genus of the iguanodontidae.
- He looked up "genus iguanodon" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus kobus (noun)

African antelopes: waterbucks.

- He looked up "genus kobus" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "genus kobus" during the group presentation.

---

genus lycopodium (noun)

Type and sole genus of the Lycopodiaceae; erect or creeping evergreen plants often used for Christmas decorations.

- The article explained what "genus lycopodium" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "genus lycopodium" to mean type and sole genus of the lycopodiaceae; erect or....

---

genus nepenthes (noun)

Pitcher plants.

- In class, the teacher used "genus nepenthes" to mean pitcher plants.
- They discussed "genus nepenthes" during the group presentation.

---

genus panax (noun)

Perennial herbs of eastern North America and Asia having aromatic tuberous roots: ginseng.

- He looked up "genus panax" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus panax" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus potentilla (noun)

Chiefly perennial northern hemisphere herbs and shrubs: cinquefoil.

- In class, the teacher used "genus potentilla" to mean chiefly perennial northern hemisphere herbs and....
- He looked up "genus potentilla" because he had never seen it before.

---

gramme (noun)

A metric unit of weight equal to one thousandth of a kilogram.

- The article explained what "gramme" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "gramme" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

grampus (noun)

Slaty-grey blunt-nosed dolphin common in northern seas.

- They discussed "grampus" during the group presentation.

- Understanding "grampus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gravies (noun)

A sudden happening that brings good fortune (as a sudden opportunity to make money).

- The article explained what "gravies" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "gravies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

greedier (adjective)

Immoderately desirous of acquiring e.g. wealth.

- Grew richer and greedier.
- A "greedier" approach may work better in this case.

---

grumpily (adverb)

In an ill-natured manner.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "grumpily" naturally.
- The narrator describes the scene "grumpily" in the final chapter.

---

gryphons (noun)

Winged monster with the head of an eagle and the body of a lion.

- Understanding "gryphons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "gryphons" to mean winged monster with the head of an eagle and the....

---

guardedly (adverb)

In a conservative manner.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "guardedly" naturally.
- She spoke "guardedly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

guesser (noun)

A person who guesses.

- He looked up "guesser" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "guesser" during the group presentation.

---

gunsight (noun)

A sight used for aiming a gun.

- The article explained what "gunsight" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "gunsight" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gypped (verb)

Deprive of by deceit.

- The cashier gypped me when he gave me too little change.
- Can you use "gypped" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

hairballs (noun)

A compact mass of hair that forms in the alimentary canal (especially in the stomach of animals as a result of licking fur).

- He looked up "hairballs" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "hairballs" during the group presentation.

---

hakea (noun)

Australian shrubs and small trees with evergreen usually spiny leaves and dense clusters of showy flowers.

- Understanding "hakea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hakea."

---

handsaw (noun)

A saw used with one hand for cutting wood.

- He looked up "handsaw" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "handsaw" to mean a saw used with one hand for cutting wood.

---

handsaw fish (noun)

A soft-finned fish of the genus Alepisaurus.

- In class, the teacher used "handsaw fish" to mean a soft-finned fish of the genus alepisaurus.
- Understanding "handsaw fish" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

harpsichords (noun)

A clavier with strings that are plucked by plectra mounted on pivots.

- In class, the teacher used "harpsichords" to mean a clavier with strings that are plucked by plectra....
- Understanding "harpsichords" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

healthfulness (noun)

The quality of promoting good health.

- In class, the teacher used "healthfulness" to mean the quality of promoting good health.
- They discussed "healthfulness" during the group presentation.

---

hedonists (noun)

Someone motivated by desires for sensual pleasures.

- They discussed "hedonists" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "hedonists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

heliothis (noun)

A genus of Noctuidae.

- The article explained what "heliothis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "heliothis" to mean a genus of noctuidae.

---

hermaphroditism (noun)

Congenital condition in which external genitalia and internal sex organs have both male and female characteristics.

- Understanding "hermaphroditism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hermaphroditism."

---

hiccuping (verb)

Breathe spasmodically, and make a sound.

- Learners should practice how to use "hiccuping" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "hiccuping" when talking about this idea.

---

hobnail (noun)

A short nail with a thick head; used to protect the soles of boots.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hobnail."
- He looked up "hobnail" because he had never seen it before.

---

holocausts (noun)

An act of mass destruction and loss of life (especially in war or by fire).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "holocausts."
- He looked up "holocausts" because he had never seen it before.

---

homiletic (adjective)

Of or relating to homiletics.

- Homiletic speech.
- Students compared "homiletic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

homogenised (adjective)

Formed by blending unlike elements especially by reducing one element to particles and dispersing them throughout another substance.

- It is useful to describe something as "homogenised" when it is formed by blending unlike elements especially by....
- Would you call this situation "homogenised"? Explain why.

---

hoodoos (noun)

(geology) a column of weathered and unusually shaped rock.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hoodoos."
- He looked up "hoodoos" because he had never seen it before.

---

horsefly (noun)

Large swift fly the female of which sucks blood of various animals.

- In class, the teacher used "horsefly" to mean large swift fly the female of which sucks blood of....
- The article explained what "horsefly" means with a simple example.

---

horsefly weed (noun)

Much-branched erect herb with bright yellow flowers; distributed from Massachusetts to Florida.

- The article explained what "horsefly weed" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "horsefly weed" to mean much-branched erect herb with bright yellow....

---

husbandman (noun)

A person who operates a farm.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "husbandman."
- The article explained what "husbandman" means with a simple example.

---

hybridoma (noun)

A hybrid cell resulting from the fusion of a lymphocyte and a tumor cell; used to culture a specific monoclonal antibody.

- They discussed "hybridoma" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hybridoma."

---

hygienically (adverb)

In a hygienic manner.

- The body must cared for hygienically.
- Place "hygienically" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

ichneumon (noun)

Northern African mongoose; in ancient times thought to devour crocodile eggs.

- In class, the teacher used "ichneumon" to mean northern african mongoose; in ancient times thought....
- The article explained what "ichneumon" means with a simple example.

---

ichneumon fly (noun)

Hymenopterous insect that resembles a wasp and whose larvae are parasitic on caterpillars and other insect larvae.

- The article explained what "ichneumon fly" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "ichneumon fly" to mean hymenopterous insect that resembles a wasp and....

---

icily (adverb)

In a cold and icy manner.

- 'Mr. Powell finds it easier to take it out of mothers, children and sick people than to take on this vast industry,' Mr Brown commented icily.
- Place "icily" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

iguanodon (noun)

Massive herbivorous bipedal dinosaur with a long heavy tail; common in Europe and northern Africa; early Cretaceous period.

- He looked up "iguanodon" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "iguanodon" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ileal artery (noun)

Branch of the superior mesenteric artery that supplies the ileum.

- Understanding "ileal artery" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "ileal artery" because he had never seen it before.

---

impetuosity (noun)

Rash impulsiveness.

- He looked up "impetuosity" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "impetuosity."

importations (noun)

The commercial activity of buying and bringing in goods from a foreign country.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "importations."
- Understanding "importations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

incurious (adjective)

Showing absence of intellectual inquisitiveness or natural curiosity.

- Strangely incurious about the cause of the political upheaval surrounding them.
- The speaker chose "incurious" because it captured the feeling precisely.

intestacy (noun)

The situation of being or dying without a legally valid will.

- Understanding "intestacy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "intestacy" to mean the situation of being or dying without a legally....

inuits (noun)

A member of a people inhabiting the Arctic (northern Canada or Greenland or Alaska or eastern Siberia); the Algonquians called them Eskimo ('eaters of raw flesh') but they call themselves the Inuit ('the people').

- Understanding "inuits" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "inuits" means with a simple example.

iris cristata (noun)

Low-growing summer-flowering iris of northeastern United States.

- He looked up "iris cristata" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "iris cristata."

irreverently (adverb)

In an irreverent manner.

- In the seventeenth century England had known fifty years of doctrinal quarrels and civil war; clergymen had been turned from their cures, and churches irreverently used.
- The student irreverently mimicked the teacher in his presence.

isak dinesen (noun)

Danish writer who lived in Kenya for 19 years and is remembered for her writings about Africa (1885-1962).

- He looked up "isak dinesen" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isak dinesen."

jejune (adjective)

Lacking interest or significance or impact.

- Jejune novel.
- The jejune diets of the very poor.

jockeyed (verb)

Compete (for an advantage or a position).

- Learners should practice how to use "jockeyed" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "jockeyed" when talking about this idea.

john uhler (noun)

United States film actor (1925-2001).

- They discussed "john uhler" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "john uhler" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

jonquil (noun)

Often used colloquially for any yellow daffodil.

- Understanding "jonquil" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "jonquil" to mean often used colloquially for any yellow daffodil.

judder (verb)

Shake or vibrate rapidly and intensively.

- The old engine was juddering.
- She tried to use "judder" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

katydid (noun)

Large green long-horned grasshopper of North America; males produce shrill sounds by rubbing together special organs on the forewings.

- Understanding "katydid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "katydid."

---

killdeer plover (noun)

American plover of inland waters and fields having a distinctive cry.

- He looked up "killdeer plover" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "killdeer plover."

---

kilobyte (noun)

A unit of information equal to 1000 bytes.

- The article explained what "kilobyte" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kilobyte."

---

kleins (noun)

German mathematician who created the Klein bottle (1849-1925).

- He looked up "kleins" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "kleins" during the group presentation.

---

knobbed (adjective)

Used of old persons or old trees; covered with knobs or knots.

- A knobbed stick.
- A "knobbed" approach may work better in this case.

---

kobus (noun)

African antelopes: waterbucks.

- Understanding "kobus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "kobus" means with a simple example.

---

kvetching (verb)

Express complaints, discontent, displeasure, or unhappiness.

- In everyday English, people use "kvetching" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "kvetching" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

larus marinus (noun)

White gull having a black back and wings.

- In class, the teacher used "larus marinus" to mean white gull having a black back and wings.
- Understanding "larus marinus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lautaro popular rebel forces (noun)

A violent terrorist group organized in the 1980s and advocating the overthrow of the Chilean military government; leaders are mainly criminals or impoverished youths.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lautaro popular rebel forces."
- Understanding "lautaro popular rebel forces" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lautaro youth movement (noun)

A violent terrorist group organized in the 1980s and advocating the overthrow of the Chilean military government; leaders are mainly criminals or impoverished youths.

- In class, the teacher used "lautaro youth movement" to mean a violent terrorist group organized in the 1980s....
- They discussed "lautaro youth movement" during the group presentation.

---

librium (noun)

A tranquilizer (trade names Librium and Libritabs) used in the treatment of alcoholism.

- In class, the teacher used "librium" to mean a tranquilizer (trade names librium and libritabs)....
- The article explained what "librium" means with a simple example.

---

lifework (noun)

The principal work of your career.

- The article explained what "lifework" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lifework."

---

limbering (verb)

Cause to become limber.

- He did not know how to use "limbering" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "limbering" in real sentences.

---

livelong (adjective)

(of time) constituting the full extent or duration.

- All the livelong day.
- It is useful to describe something as "livelong" when it is (of time) constituting the full extent or duration.

---

lorica (noun)

A hard protective sheath (as secreted by certain protoctists, for example).

- He looked up "lorica" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "lorica" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lugers (noun)

A German semiautomatic pistol.

- He looked up "lugers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lugers."

---

luminosities (noun)

The quality of being luminous; emitting or reflecting light.

- The article explained what "luminosities" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "luminosities."

---

lushness (noun)

The property of being lush and abundant and a pleasure to the senses.

- The article explained what "lushness" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "lushness" during the group presentation.

---

lvii (adjective)

Being seven more than fifty.

- Students compared "lvii" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "lvii" approach may work better in this case.

---

lycopodium (noun)

Type and sole genus of the Lycopodiaceae; erect or creeping evergreen plants often used for Christmas decorations.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lycopodium."
- He looked up "lycopodium" because he had never seen it before.

---

lysimachus (noun)

Macedonian general under Alexander the Great; with Seleucus he defeated Antigonus and Demetrius at the battle of Ipsus (circa 355-281 BC).

- He looked up "lysimachus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lysimachus."

---

machination (noun)

A crafty and involved plot to achieve your (usually sinister) ends.

- They discussed "machination" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "machination" to mean a crafty and involved plot to achieve your (usually....

manufactories (noun)

A plant consisting of one or more buildings with facilities for manufacturing.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "manufactories."
- He looked up "manufactories" because he had never seen it before.

mashers (noun)

A kitchen utensil used for mashing (e.g. potatoes).

- They discussed "mashers" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "mashers" means with a simple example.

masticating (verb)

Chew (food); to bite and grind with the teeth.

- The cows were masticating the grass.
- She tried to use "masticating" carefully so everyone would understand.

maund (noun)

A unit of weight used in Asia; has different values in different countries.

- The official maund in India is 82.6 pounds avoirdupois.
- They discussed "maund" during the group presentation.

mauriac (noun)

French novelist who wrote about the conflict between desire and religious belief (1885-1970).

- In class, the teacher used "mauriac" to mean french novelist who wrote about the conflict....
- They discussed "mauriac" during the group presentation.

maximian (noun)

Roman Emperor from 286 until he abdicated in 305; when Diocletian divided the Roman Empire in 286 Maximian became emperor in the west (died in 311).

- In class, the teacher used "maximian" to mean roman emperor from 286 until he abdicated in 305;....
- He looked up "maximian" because he had never seen it before.

maxwells (noun)

A cgs unit of magnetic flux equal to the flux perpendicular to an area of 1 square centimeter in a magnetic field of 1 gauss.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "maxwells."
- The article explained what "maxwells" means with a simple example.

medicos (noun)

A licensed medical practitioner.

- Understanding "medicos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "medicos" to mean a licensed medical practitioner.

metabolise (verb)

Produce by metabolism.

- He did not know how to use "metabolise" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "metabolise" and when to wait.

metier (noun)

An occupation for which you are especially well suited.

- In law he found his true metier.
- He looked up "metier" because he had never seen it before.

militate (verb)

Have force or influence; bring about an effect or change.

- Politeness militated against this opinion being expressed.
- He did not know how to use "militate" until he saw an example.

misappropriate (verb)

Appropriate (as property entrusted to one's care) fraudulently to one's own use.

- She tried to use "misappropriate" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "misappropriate" in real sentences.

---

mocker (noun)

Someone who jeers or mocks or treats something with contempt or calls out in derision.

- They discussed "mocker" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "mocker" because he had never seen it before.

---

moisturised (verb)

Make (more) humid.

- She tried to use "moisturised" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "moisturised" when talking about this idea.

---

mollah (noun)

A Muslim trained in the doctrine and law of Islam; the head of a mosque.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mollah."
- The article explained what "mollah" means with a simple example.

---

monas (noun)

A singular metaphysical entity from which material properties are said to derive.

- Understanding "monas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "monas" during the group presentation.

---

monetised (verb)

Give legal value to or establish as the legal tender of a country.

- She tried to use "monetised" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "monetised" when talking about this idea.

---

motorization (noun)

The act of motorizing (equiping with motors or with motor vehicles).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "motorization."
- The article explained what "motorization" means with a simple example.

---

multipotent (adjective)

Able to many things.

- Multipotent drugs.
- The speaker chose "multipotent" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

musculus adductor brevis (noun)

The short adductor muscle of the thigh.

- In class, the teacher used "musculus adductor brevis" to mean the short adductor muscle of the thigh.
- The article explained what "musculus adductor brevis" means with a simple example.

---

musculus tibialis (noun)

Either of two skeletal muscle in each leg arising from the tibia; provides for movement of the foot.

- Understanding "musculus tibialis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "musculus tibialis" means with a simple example.

---

muslimah (noun)

A Muslim woman.

- In class, the teacher used "muslimah" to mean a muslim woman.
- The article explained what "muslimah" means with a simple example.

---

mycologist (noun)

A botanist who specializes in the study of fungi.

- In class, the teacher used "mycologist" to mean a botanist who specializes in the study of fungi.

- They discussed "mycologist" during the group presentation.

---

mynah (noun)

Tropical Asian starlings.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mynah."
- Understanding "mynah" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mynah bird (noun)

Tropical Asian starlings.

- In class, the teacher used "mynah bird" to mean tropical asian starlings.
- Understanding "mynah bird" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nastily (adverb)

In a nasty ill-tempered manner.

- 'Don't expect me to help you,' he added nastily.
- Place "nastily" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

navels (noun)

A scar where the umbilical cord was attached.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "navels."
- They discussed "navels" during the group presentation.

---

neisseria gonorrhoeae (noun)

The pus-producing bacterium that causes gonorrhea.

- In class, the teacher used "neisseria gonorrhoeae" to mean the pus-producing bacterium that causes gonorrhea.
- He looked up "neisseria gonorrhoeae" because he had never seen it before.

---

nepenthes (noun)

Pitcher plants.

- He looked up "nepenthes" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nepenthes."

---

nerium oleander (noun)

An ornamental but poisonous flowering shrub having narrow evergreen leaves and clusters of fragrant white to pink or red flowers: native to East Indies but widely cultivated in warm regions.

- In class, the teacher used "nerium oleander" to mean an ornamental but poisonous flowering shrub having....
- Understanding "nerium oleander" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nicolo amati (noun)

Italian violin maker in Cremona; taught the craft to Guarneri and Stradivari (1596-1684).

- In class, the teacher used "nicolo amati" to mean italian violin maker in cremona; taught the craft....
- Understanding "nicolo amati" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nicotiana glauca (noun)

Evergreen South American shrub naturalized in United States; occasionally responsible for poisoning livestock.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nicotiana glauca."
- He looked up "nicotiana glauca" because he had never seen it before.

---

nitrogenase (noun)

An enzyme of nitrogen-fixing microorganisms that catalyzes the conversion of nitrogen to ammonia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nitrogenase."
- He looked up "nitrogenase" because he had never seen it before.

---

nominator (noun)

Someone who proposes a candidate for appointment or election.

- They discussed "nominator" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "nominator" to mean someone who proposes a candidate for appointment or....

---

nrem (noun)

A recurring sleep state during which rapid eye movements do not occur and dreaming does not occur; accounts for about 75% of normal sleep time.

- Understanding "nrem" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "nrem" because he had never seen it before.

---

nrem sleep (noun)

A recurring sleep state during which rapid eye movements do not occur and dreaming does not occur; accounts for about 75% of normal sleep time.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nrem sleep."
- He looked up "nrem sleep" because he had never seen it before.

---

nuthatches (noun)

Any of various small short-tailed songbirds with strong feet and a sharp beak that feed on small nuts and insects.

- They discussed "nuthatches" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nuthatches."

---

nvs (noun)

A state in the southwestern United States.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nvs."
- He looked up "nvs" because he had never seen it before.

---

obstreperous (adjective)

Noisily and stubbornly defiant.

- Obstreperous boys.
- Kept up an obstreperous clamor.

---

ocotillo (noun)

Desert shrub of southwestern United States and Mexico having slender naked spiny branches that after the rainy season put forth foliage and clusters of red flowers.

- They discussed "ocotillo" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ocotillo."

---

ophiuchus (noun)

A large constellation in the equatorial region between Hercules and Scorpius.

- In class, the teacher used "ophiuchus" to mean a large constellation in the equatorial region....
- The article explained what "ophiuchus" means with a simple example.

---

opposer (noun)

Someone who offers opposition.

- Understanding "opposer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "opposer."

---

ortolan bunting (noun)

Brownish Old World bunting often eaten as a delicacy.

- He looked up "ortolan bunting" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ortolan bunting."

---

oubliette (noun)

A dungeon with the only entrance or exit being a trap door in the ceiling.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oubliette."
- He looked up "oubliette" because he had never seen it before.

---

outclassing (verb)

Cause to appear in a lower class.

- She tried to use "outclassing" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "outclassing" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

overlie (verb)

Lie upon; lie on top of.

- The granite overlies the older rocks.
- She tried to use "overlie" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

overtopping (verb)

Look down on.

- Can you use "overtopping" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "overtopping" and when to wait.

---

oxidoreductase (noun)

An enzyme that catalyzes oxidation-reduction.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oxidoreductase."
- The article explained what "oxidoreductase" means with a simple example.

---

palooka (noun)

A second-rate prize fighter.

- They discussed "palooka" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "palooka" to mean a second-rate prize fighter.

---

panax (noun)

Perennial herbs of eastern North America and Asia having aromatic tuberous roots: ginseng.

- Understanding "panax" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "panax."

---

paramours (noun)

A woman who cohabits with an important man.

- Understanding "paramours" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paramours."

---

pavo (noun)

A small constellation near the South Pole between Tucana and Ara.

- In class, the teacher used "pavo" to mean a small constellation near the south pole between....
- They discussed "pavo" during the group presentation.

---

peloponnesus (noun)

The southern peninsula of Greece; dominated by Sparta until the 4th century BC.

- The article explained what "peloponnesus" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "peloponnesus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

perquisites (noun)

An incidental benefit awarded for certain types of employment (especially if it is regarded as a right).

- Understanding "perquisites" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "perquisites" because he had never seen it before.

---

petrolatum gauze (noun)

Gauze saturated with petrolatum.

- They discussed "petrolatum gauze" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "petrolatum gauze" to mean gauze saturated with petrolatum.

---

pewee (noun)

Small olive-colored woodland flycatchers of eastern North America.

- In class, the teacher used "pewee" to mean small olive-colored woodland flycatchers of eastern....
- The article explained what "pewee" means with a simple example.

---

phidias (noun)

Ancient Greek sculptor (circa 500-432 BC).

- In class, the teacher used "phidias" to mean ancient greek sculptor (circa 500-432 bc).
- They discussed "phidias" during the group presentation.

pinnipeds (noun)

Aquatic carnivorous mammal having a streamlined body specialized for swimming with limbs modified as flippers.

- He looked up "pinnipeds" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pinnipeds."

piquancy (noun)

The quality of being agreeably stimulating or mentally exciting.

- He looked up "piquancy" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "piquancy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

placket (noun)

A piece of cloth sewn under an opening.

- Understanding "placket" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "placket" to mean a piece of cloth sewn under an opening.

playschool (noun)

A small informal nursery group meeting for half-day sessions.

- In class, the teacher used "playschool" to mean a small informal nursery group meeting for half-day....
- The article explained what "playschool" means with a simple example.

pleasurably (adverb)

In a very pleasurable manner.

- He answered "pleasurably," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- The narrator describes the scene "pleasurably" in the final chapter.

plunderer (noun)

Someone who takes spoils or plunder (as in war).

- They discussed "plunderer" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "plunderer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

poisoners (noun)

Someone who kills with poison.

- He looked up "poisoners" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "poisoners" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

polygynous (adjective)

Having more than one wife at a time.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "polygynous."
- A "polygynous" approach may work better in this case.

polyphosphate (noun)

A salt or ester of polyphosphoric acid.

- Understanding "polyphosphate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "polyphosphate" because he had never seen it before.

pompon (noun)

Dusky grey food fish found from Louisiana and Florida southward.

- They discussed "pompon" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pompon" means with a simple example.

postindustrial (adjective)

Of or relating to a society or economy marked by a lessened importance of manufacturing and an increase of services, information, and research.

- Postindustrial countries.
- A "postindustrial" approach may work better in this case.

potentilla (noun)

Chiefly perennial northern hemisphere herbs and shrubs: cinquefoil.

- He looked up "potentilla" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "potentilla" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

predaceous (adjective)

Living by or given to victimizing others for personal gain; ; - Peter S. Prescott; - W.E.Swinton.

- A "predaceous" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "predaceous"? Explain why.

---

presupposing (verb)

Require as a necessary antecedent or precondition.

- Can you use "presupposing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "presupposing" when talking about this idea.

---

proprieties (noun)

Correct or appropriate behavior.

- In class, the teacher used "proprieties" to mean correct or appropriate behavior.
- The article explained what "proprieties" means with a simple example.

---

prorogue (verb)

Hold back to a later time.

- Can you use "prorogue" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "prorogue" and when to wait.

---

provender (noun)

A stock or supply of foods.

- The article explained what "provender" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "provender" to mean a stock or supply of foods.

---

prussic acid (noun)

A solution of hydrogen cyanide in water; weak solutions are used in fumigating and in the synthesis of organic compounds.

- He looked up "prussic acid" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prussic acid."

---

psychoanalyze (verb)

Subject to psychoanalytic treatment.

- She tried to use "psychoanalyze" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "psychoanalyze" when talking about this idea.

---

puranic (adjective)

Of or relating to the Purana.

- Students compared "puranic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "puranic"? Explain why.

---

puzzlers (noun)

A particularly baffling problem that is said to have a correct solution.

- They discussed "puzzlers" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "puzzlers" because he had never seen it before.

---

quadriceps femoris (noun)

A muscle of the thigh that extends the leg.

- Understanding "quadriceps femoris" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "quadriceps femoris" during the group presentation.

---

quagmires (noun)

A soft wet area of low-lying land that sinks underfoot.

- Understanding "quagmires" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- He looked up “quagmires” because he had never seen it before.

---

queasiness (noun)

A mild state of nausea.

- The article explained what “queasiness” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “queasiness” to mean a mild state of nausea.

---

queen triggerfish (noun)

Tropical Atlantic fish.

- He looked up “queen triggerfish” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “queen triggerfish” during the group presentation.

---

quipping (verb)

Make jokes or quips.

- Can you use “quipping” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use “quipping” when talking about this idea.

---

quoin (noun)

Expandable metal or wooden wedge used by printers to lock up a form within a chase.

- He looked up “quoin” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “quoin” during the group presentation.

---

rabbi moses ben maimon (noun)

Spanish philosopher considered the greatest Jewish scholar of the Middle Ages who codified Jewish law in the Talmud (1135-1204).

- The article explained what “rabbi moses ben maimon” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “rabbi moses ben maimon” to mean spanish philosopher considered the greatest jewish....

---

reassignments (noun)

Assignment to a different duty.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “reassignments.”
- Understanding “reassignments” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

redevelopments (noun)

The act of improving by renewing and restoring.

- They discussed “redevelopments” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “redevelopments” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rehashes (noun)

Old material that is slightly reworked and used again.

- They discussed “rehashes” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “rehashes” because he had never seen it before.

---

rehouse (verb)

Put up in a new or different housing.

- Can you use “rehouse” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use “rehouse” and when to wait.

---

reneges (noun)

The mistake of not following suit when able to do so.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “reneges.”
- He looked up “reneges” because he had never seen it before.

---

replys (noun)

The speech act of continuing a conversational exchange.

- They discussed “replys” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “replys” because he had never seen it before.

---

resect (verb)

Surgically remove a part of a structure or an organ.

- The coach explained when to use "resect" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "resect" until he saw an example.

---

riffed (verb)

Look through a book or other written material.

- Learners should practice how to use "riffed" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "riffed" when talking about this idea.

---

riskless (adjective)

Thought to be devoid of risk.

- Students compared "riskless" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "riskless."

---

ritualism (noun)

The study of religious or magical rites and ceremonies.

- Understanding "ritualism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ritualism."

---

roadstead (noun)

A partly sheltered anchorage.

- The article explained what "roadstead" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "roadstead" to mean a partly sheltered anchorage.

---

roamers (noun)

Someone who leads a wandering unsettled life.

- They discussed "roamers" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "roamers" because he had never seen it before.

---

romanic (adjective)

Of or relating to or derived from Rome (especially ancient Rome).

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "romanic."
- Students compared "romanic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

rotifers (noun)

Minute aquatic multicellular organisms having a ciliated wheel-like organ for feeding and locomotion; constituents of freshwater plankton.

- Understanding "rotifers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "rotifers" means with a simple example.

---

ruing (verb)

Feel remorse for; feel sorry for; be contrite about.

- In everyday English, people use "ruing" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "ruing" in real sentences.

---

saint-mihiel (noun)

A battle in the Meuse-Argonne operation in World War I (1918); the battle in which American troops launched their first offensive in France.

- Understanding "saint-mihiel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "saint-mihiel" to mean a battle in the meuse-argonne operation in world....

---

salade (noun)

A light medieval helmet with a slit for vision.

- In class, the teacher used "salade" to mean a light medieval helmet with a slit for vision.
- They discussed "salade" during the group presentation.

---

salmonellosis (noun)

A kind of food poisoning caused by eating foods contaminated with Salmonella typhimurium.

- The article explained what "salmonellosis" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "salmonellosis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scilla verna (noun)

European scilla with small blue or purple flowers.

- He looked up "scilla verna" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "scilla verna" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

screwups (noun)

The complete mismanagement or mishandling of a situation.

- He looked up "screwups" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "screwups" to mean the complete mismanagement or mishandling of a....

---

scrumpy (noun)

Strong cider (as made in western England).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "scrumpy."
- The article explained what "scrumpy" means with a simple example.

---

scrutineers (noun)

Someone who examines votes at an election.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "scrutineers."
- The article explained what "scrutineers" means with a simple example.

---

seeked (verb)

Try to locate or discover, or try to establish the existence of.

- Can you use "seeked" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "seeked" and when to wait.

---

senna alata (noun)

Tropical shrub (especially of Americas) having yellow flowers and large leaves whose juice is used as a cure for ringworm and poisonous bites; sometimes placed in genus Cassia.

- In class, the teacher used "senna alata" to mean tropical shrub (especially of americas) having....
- Understanding "senna alata" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

serializing (verb)

Arrange serially.

- In everyday English, people use "serializing" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "serializing" until he saw an example.

---

shamash (noun)

The chief sun god; drives away winter and storms and brightens the earth with greenery; drives away evil and brings justice and compassion.

- The article explained what "shamash" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "shamash" to mean the chief sun god; drives away winter and storms....

---

shortlisting (verb)

Put someone or something on a short list.

- She tried to use "shortlisting" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "shortlisting" until he saw an example.

---

sidonie-gabrielle claudine colette (noun)

French writer of novels about women (1873-1954).

- Understanding "sidonie-gabrielle claudine colette" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "sidonie-gabrielle claudine colette" to mean french writer of novels about women (1873-1954).

---

signally (adverb)

As a signal.

- A term that is used signally rather than symbolically.
- Signally inappropriate methods.

singeing (verb)

Become superficially burned.

- Learners should practice how to use "singeing" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "singeing" and when to wait.

sinistral (adjective)

Preferring to use left foot or hand or eye.

- Sinistral individuals exhibit dominance of the left hand and eye.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "sinistral."

skive (verb)

Remove the surface of.

- Skive leather.
- Learners should practice how to use "skive" in real sentences.

sloppier (adjective)

Wet or smeared with a spilled liquid or moist material.

- Would you call this situation "sloppier"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "sloppier" because it captured the feeling precisely.

soldierly (adjective)

(of persons) befitting a warrior.

- A "soldierly" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "soldierly" when it is (of persons) befitting a warrior.

sophisticates (verb)

Alter and make impure, as with the intention to deceive.

- Can you use "sophisticates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "sophisticates" carefully so everyone would understand.

sparseness (noun)

The property of being scanty or scattered; lacking denseness.

- The article explained what "sparseness" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "sparseness" during the group presentation.

splotch (noun)

An irregularly shaped spot.

- The article explained what "splotch" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "splotch" during the group presentation.

springers (noun)

The lowest stone in an arch – from which it springs.

- They discussed "springers" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "springers."

squalling (adjective)

Characterized by short periods of noisy commotion.

- Students compared "squalling" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "squalling" approach may work better in this case.

st mihiel (noun)

A battle in the Meuse-Argonne operation in World War I (1918); the battle in which American troops launched their first offensive in France.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "st mihiel."
- He looked up "st mihiel" because he had never seen it before.

staghorn sumac (noun)

Deciduous shrubby tree or eastern North America with compound leaves that turn brilliant red in fall and dense panicles of greenish yellow flowers followed by crimson acidic berries.

- They discussed "staghorn sumac" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "staghorn sumac."

---

stalemates (noun)

A situation in which no progress can be made or no advancement is possible.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stalemates."
- He looked up "stalemates" because he had never seen it before.

---

staminate (adjective)

Capable of fertilizing female organs.

- It is useful to describe something as "staminate" when it is capable of fertilizing female organs.
- The speaker chose "staminate" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

steelmaker (noun)

A worker engaged in making steel.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "steelmaker."
- They discussed "steelmaker" during the group presentation.

---

sterlings (noun)

British money; especially the pound sterling as the basic monetary unit of the UK.

- The article explained what "sterlings" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sterlings."

---

stirk (noun)

Yearling heifer or bullock.

- They discussed "stirk" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "stirk" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

stratum lucidum (noun)

The layer of epidermis immediately under the stratum corneum in the skin of the palms and soles.

- They discussed "stratum lucidum" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "stratum lucidum" because he had never seen it before.

---

stria (noun)

A stripe or stripes of contrasting color.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stria."
- The article explained what "stria" means with a simple example.

---

strivers (noun)

Someone who works as hard as a slave.

- He looked up "strivers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "strivers."

---

submandibular salivary gland (noun)

A salivary gland inside the lower jaw on either side that produces most of the nocturnal saliva; discharges saliva into the mouth under the tongue.

- He looked up "submandibular salivary gland" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "submandibular salivary gland" to mean a salivary gland inside the lower jaw on either....

---

sugarcoated (verb)

Cause to appear more pleasant or appealing.

- Learners should practice how to use "sugarcoated" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "sugarcoated" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

sulphates (noun)

A salt or ester of sulphuric acid.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sulphates."

- He looked up "sulphates" because he had never seen it before.

---

supermom (noun)

An informal term for a mother who can combine childcare and full-time employment.

- In class, the teacher used "supermom" to mean an informal term for a mother who can combine....
- They discussed "supermom" during the group presentation.

---

syndicating (verb)

Join together into a syndicate.

- He did not know how to use "syndicating" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "syndicating" and when to wait.

---

synovitis (noun)

Inflammation of the synovial membrane that lines a synovial joint; results in pain and swelling.

- Understanding "synovitis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "synovitis."

---

tardigrade (noun)

An arthropod of the division Tardigrada.

- The article explained what "tardigrade" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tardigrade."

---

tatting (noun)

The act or art of making handmade lace.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tatting."
- He looked up "tatting" because he had never seen it before.

---

teahouses (noun)

A restaurant where tea and light meals are available.

- They discussed "teahouses" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "teahouses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

thill (noun)

One of two shafts extending from the body of a cart or carriage on either side of the animal that pulls it.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thill."
- Understanding "thill" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

thingamajig (noun)

Something unspecified whose name is either forgotten or not known.

- The article explained what "thingamajig" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "thingamajig" during the group presentation.

---

thundershowers (noun)

A short rainstorm accompanied by thunder and lightning.

- They discussed "thundershowers" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "thundershowers" because he had never seen it before.

---

timeworn (adjective)

Repeated too often; overfamiliar through overuse.

- Parroting some timeworn axiom.
- The speaker chose "timeworn" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

tinkles (noun)

A light clear metallic sound as of a small bell.

- In class, the teacher used "tinkles" to mean a light clear metallic sound as of a small bell.
- He looked up "tinkles" because he had never seen it before.

---

tootle (noun)

The sound of casual playing on a musical instrument.

- He enjoyed hearing the tootles of their horns as the musicians warmed up.
- The article explained what "tootle" means with a simple example.

triggerfish (noun)

Any of numerous compressed deep-bodied tropical fishes with sandpapery skin and erectile spines in the first dorsal fin.

- In class, the teacher used "triggerfish" to mean any of numerous compressed deep-bodied tropical....
- He looked up "triggerfish" because he had never seen it before.

trimaran (noun)

A fast sailboat with 3 parallel hulls.

- He looked up "trimaran" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "trimaran" to mean a fast sailboat with 3 parallel hulls.

troopship (noun)

Ship for transporting troops.

- He looked up "troopship" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "troopship."

troubleshooters (noun)

A worker whose job is to locate and fix sources of trouble (especially in mechanical devices).

- Understanding "troubleshooters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "troubleshooters" during the group presentation.

tuberose (noun)

A tuberous Mexican herb having grasslike leaves and cultivated for its spikes of highly fragrant lily-like waxy white flowers.

- The article explained what "tuberose" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "tuberose" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

tugger (noun)

Someone who pulls or tugs or drags in an effort to move something.

- In class, the teacher used "tugger" to mean someone who pulls or tugs or drags in an effort to....
- The article explained what "tugger" means with a simple example.

turmoils (noun)

A violent disturbance.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "turmoils."
- He looked up "turmoils" because he had never seen it before.

ulmus laevis (noun)

Eurasian elm closely resembling the American elm; thrives in a moist environment.

- In class, the teacher used "ulmus laevis" to mean eurasian elm closely resembling the american elm;....
- He looked up "ulmus laevis" because he had never seen it before.

unalterably (adverb)

In an unalterable and unchangeable manner.

- The narrator describes the scene "unalterably" in the final chapter.
- She spoke "unalterably," and the audience immediately understood her point.

uncrossed (adjective)

(of a check) not crossed.

- Sitting primly with uncrossed legs.
- Students compared "uncrossed" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

underplaying (verb)

Play a card lower than (a held high card).

- She tried to use "underplaying" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "underplaying" when talking about this idea.

---

undervalues (verb)

Assign too low a value to.

- The coach explained when to use "undervalues" and when to wait.
- Can you use "undervalues" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

undisputable (adjective)

Not open to question; obviously true.

- It is useful to describe something as "undisputable" when it is not open to question; obviously true.
- The speaker chose "undisputable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

unexpurgated (adjective)

Not having material deleted; - Havelock Ellis.

- Volumes of the best plays, unexpurgated.
- It is useful to describe something as "unexpurgated" when it is not having material deleted; - havelock ellis.

---

unregenerate (adjective)

Unrepentant and incapable of being reformed.

- An unregenerate criminal.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unregenerate."

---

unspotted (adjective)

Without soil or spot or stain.

- Would you call this situation "unspotted"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "unspotted" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

unstrung (adjective)

Emotionally upset.

- The incident left him unstrung and incapable of rational effort.
- Would you call this situation "unstrung"? Explain why.

---

unswervingly (adverb)

Without swerving; in a direct and unswerving manner.

- The ship travelled unswervingly through the night.
- An unswervingly loyal man.

---

utilitarians (noun)

Someone who believes that the value of a thing depends on its utility.

- The article explained what "utilitarians" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "utilitarians" during the group presentation.

---

uzis (noun)

A type of submachine gun that is designed and manufactured in Israel.

- The article explained what "uzis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "uzis" to mean a type of submachine gun that is designed and....

---

varlet (noun)

A deceitful and unreliable scoundrel.

- In class, the teacher used "varlet" to mean a deceitful and unreliable scoundrel.
- The article explained what "varlet" means with a simple example.

---

vaulters (noun)

An athlete who jumps over a high crossbar with the aid of a long pole.

- He looked up "vaulters" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "vaulters" during the group presentation.

venerates (verb)

Regard with feelings of respect and reverence; consider hallowed or exalted or be in awe of.

- Can you use "venerates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "venerates" and when to wait.

verdure (noun)

The lush appearance of flourishing vegetation.

- The article explained what "verdure" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "verdure" during the group presentation.

visigoth (noun)

A member of the western group of Goths who sacked Rome and created a kingdom in present-day Spain and southern France.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "visigoth."
- The article explained what "visigoth" means with a simple example.

wagram (noun)

A battle in the Napoleonic campaigns (1809); Napoleon defeated the Austrians.

- The article explained what "wagram" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wagram" to mean a battle in the napoleonic campaigns (1809);....

wanner (adjective)

(of light) lacking in intensity or brightness; dim or feeble.

- The speaker chose "wanner" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "wanner" when it is (of light) lacking in intensity or brightness; dim....

warmness (noun)

The quality of having a moderate degree of heat.

- The warmness of his welcome made us feel right at home.
- He looked up "warmness" because he had never seen it before.

western wood pewee (noun)

Small flycatcher of western North America.

- The article explained what "western wood pewee" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "western wood pewee" during the group presentation.

white dogtooth violet (noun)

North American dogtooth having solitary white flowers with yellow centers and blue or pink exteriors.

- He looked up "white dogtooth violet" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "white dogtooth violet."

whored (verb)

Compromise oneself for money or other gains.

- She whored herself to Hollywood.
- Can you use "whored" in a sentence that fits this situation?

william edward burghardt du bois (noun)

United States civil rights leader and political activist who campaigned for equality for Black Americans (1868-1963).

- They discussed "william edward burghardt du bois" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "william edward burghardt du bois."

wood pewee (noun)

Small olive-colored woodland flycatchers of eastern North America.

- They discussed "wood pewee" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "wood pewee" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

woodlice (noun)

Any of various small terrestrial isopods having a flat elliptical segmented body; found in damp habitats.

- Understanding "woodlice" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "woodlice" because he had never seen it before.

---

woodworm (noun)

A larva of a woodborer.

- In class, the teacher used "woodworm" to mean a larva of a woodborer.
- The article explained what "woodworm" means with a simple example.

---

abjured (verb)

Formally reject or disavow a formerly held belief, usually under pressure.

- She abjured her beliefs.
- Can you use "abjured" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

abrasiveness (noun)

The quality of being sharply disagreeable.

- Understanding "abrasiveness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "abrasiveness."

---

absolutists (noun)

One who advocates absolutism.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "absolutists."
- He looked up "absolutists" because he had never seen it before.

---

accretions (noun)

An increase by natural growth or addition.

- He scraped away the accretions of paint.
- The central city surrounded by recent accretions.

---

acquiescent (adjective)

Willing to carry out the orders or wishes of another without protest.

- Too acquiescent to challenge authority.
- The speaker chose "acquiescent" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

acquiesces (verb)

To agree or express agreement.

- Learners should practice how to use "acquiesces" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "acquiesces" and when to wait.

---

adulterate (verb)

Corrupt, debase, or make impure by adding a foreign or inferior substance; often by replacing valuable ingredients with inferior ones.

- Adulterate liquor.
- He did not know how to use "adulterate" until he saw an example.

---

alights (verb)

To come to rest, settle.

- The coach explained when to use "alights" and when to wait.
- Can you use "alights" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

alkalosis (noun)

Abnormally high alkalinity (low hydrogen-ion concentration) of the blood and other body tissues.

- The article explained what "alkalosis" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "alkalosis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

amah (noun)

A woman hired to suckle a child of someone else.

- They discussed "amah" during the group presentation.

- Understanding “amah” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

amoeboid (adjective)

Like an amoeba (especially in having a variable irregular shape).

- Students compared “amoeboid” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as “amoeboid” when it is like an amoeba (especially in having a variable....

---

anamnesis (noun)

The case history of a medical patient as recalled by the patient.

- They discussed “anamnesis” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “anamnesis.”

---

anaximander (noun)

A presocratic Greek philosopher and student of Thales who believed the universal substance to be infinity rather than something resembling ordinary objects (611-547 BC).

- Understanding “anaximander” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “anaximander” to mean a presocratic greek philosopher and student of....

---

anchorite (noun)

One retired from society for religious reasons.

- The article explained what “anchorite” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “anchorite.”

---

apiculture (noun)

The cultivation of bees on a commercial scale for the production of honey.

- In class, the teacher used “apiculture” to mean the cultivation of bees on a commercial scale for....
- The article explained what “apiculture” means with a simple example.

---

archpriest (noun)

A senior clergyman and dignitary.

- The article explained what “archpriest” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “archpriest.”

---

asclepias (noun)

Genus of chiefly North American perennial herbs: silkweed; milkweed.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “asclepias.”
- They discussed “asclepias” during the group presentation.

---

atelectasis (noun)

Collapse of an expanded lung (especially in infants); also failure of pulmonary alveoli to expand at birth.

- In class, the teacher used “atelectasis” to mean collapse of an expanded lung (especially in....
- Understanding “atelectasis” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

athwart (adverb)

At right angles to the center line of a ship.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include “athwart” naturally.
- Place “athwart” carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

autobus (noun)

A vehicle carrying many passengers; used for public transport.

- The article explained what “autobus” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “autobus” to mean a vehicle carrying many passengers; used for public....

---

aventurine (noun)

A translucent quartz spangled with bits of mica or other minerals.

- The article explained what “aventurine” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “aventurine” to mean a translucent quartz spangled with bits of mica or....

---

azolla (noun)

A genus of fern sometimes placed in its own family Azollaceae.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "azolla."
- He looked up "azolla" because he had never seen it before.

---

baksheesh (noun)

A relatively small amount of money given for services rendered (as by a waiter).

- In class, the teacher used "baksheesh" to mean a relatively small amount of money given for....
- He looked up "baksheesh" because he had never seen it before.

---

banquettes (noun)

An upholstered bench.

- He looked up "banquettes" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "banquettes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

barbwire (noun)

Strong wire with barbs at regular intervals used to prevent passage.

- In class, the teacher used "barbwire" to mean strong wire with barbs at regular intervals used to....
- The article explained what "barbwire" means with a simple example.

---

basophils (noun)

A leukocyte with basophilic granules easily stained by basic stains.

- They discussed "basophils" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "basophils" means with a simple example.

---

battle of plataea (noun)

A defeat of the Persian army by the Greeks at Plataea in 479 BC.

- The article explained what "battle of plataea" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "battle of plataea" to mean a defeat of the persian army by the greeks at....

---

bauhinia (noun)

Mountain ebony, orchid tree.

- They discussed "bauhinia" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "bauhinia" to mean mountain ebony, orchid tree.

---

bezoar goat (noun)

Wild goat of Iran and adjacent regions.

- He looked up "bezoar goat" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "bezoar goat" to mean wild goat of iran and adjacent regions.

---

bides (verb)

Make a serious effort to attain something.

- In everyday English, people use "bides" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "bides" in real sentences.

---

blahs (noun)

A general feeling of boredom and dissatisfaction.

- In class, the teacher used "blahs" to mean a general feeling of boredom and dissatisfaction.
- He looked up "blahs" because he had never seen it before.

---

bloviating (verb)

Orate verbosely and windily.

- In everyday English, people use "bloviating" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "bloviating" in real sentences.

---

blowy (adjective)

Abounding in or exposed to the wind or breezes.

- Blowy weather.
- A "blowy" approach may work better in this case.

---

boozers (noun)

A person who drinks alcohol to excess habitually.

- He looked up "boozers" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "boozers" to mean a person who drinks alcohol to excess habitually.

---

browbeaten (verb)

Discourage or frighten with threats or a domineering manner; intimidate.

- In everyday English, people use "browbeaten" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "browbeaten" until he saw an example.

---

bufo boreas (noun)

Of a great variety of habitats from southern Alaska to Baja California west of the Rockies.

- He looked up "bufo boreas" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "bufo boreas" during the group presentation.

---

bulrush (noun)

Tall rush with soft erect or arching stems found in Eurasia, Australia, New Zealand, and common in North America.

- They discussed "bulrush" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "bulrush" to mean tall rush with soft erect or arching stems found in....

---

bunged (verb)

Give a tip or gratuity to in return for a service, beyond the compensation agreed on.

- He did not know how to use "bunged" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "bunged" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

burgeon (verb)

Grow and flourish.

- The burgeoning administration.
- The burgeoning population.

---

burgeon forth (verb)

Produce buds, branches, or germinate.

- Can you use "burgeon forth" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "burgeon forth" and when to wait.

---

calcifying (verb)

Become inflexible and unchanging.

- He did not know how to use "calcifying" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "calcifying" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

canopic vase (noun)

A jar used in ancient Egypt to contain entrails of an embalmed body.

- Understanding "canopic vase" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "canopic vase."

---

canvasser (noun)

Someone who conducts surveys of public opinion.

- In class, the teacher used "canvasser" to mean someone who conducts surveys of public opinion.
- The article explained what "canvasser" means with a simple example.

---

carbureted (verb)

Combine with carbon.

- Can you use "carbureted" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "carbureted" when talking about this idea.

casque (noun)

(15-16th century) any armor for the head; usually ornate without a visor.

- In class, the teacher used "casque" to mean (15-16th century) any armor for the head; usually....
- He looked up "casque" because he had never seen it before.

catamount (noun)

Short-tailed wildcats with usually tufted ears; valued for their fur.

- In class, the teacher used "catamount" to mean short-tailed wildcats with usually tufted ears;....
- He looked up "catamount" because he had never seen it before.

caustically (adverb)

In a caustic vitriolic manner.

- He addressed her caustically.
- He answered "caustically," which changed the tone of the conversation.

cetacea (noun)

An order of Eutheria.

- Understanding "cetacea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "cetacea" to mean an order of eutheria.

chitinous (adjective)

Of or resembling chitin.

- Students compared "chitinous" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "chitinous" when it is of or resembling chitin.

chloris (noun)

Tufted or perennial or annual grasses having runners: finger grass; windmill grass.

- In class, the teacher used "chloris" to mean tufted or perennial or annual grasses having....
- The article explained what "chloris" means with a simple example.

cholestasis (noun)

A condition in which little or no bile is secreted or the flow of bile into the digestive tract is obstructed.

- He looked up "cholestasis" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "cholestasis" during the group presentation.

cinnabar chanterelle (noun)

Mushroom with a distinctive pink to vermillion fruiting body.

- They discussed "cinnabar chanterelle" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "cinnabar chanterelle" because he had never seen it before.

clamming (verb)

Gather clams, by digging in the sand by the ocean.

- Learners should practice how to use "clamming" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "clamming" carefully so everyone would understand.

clapboards (noun)

A long thin board with one edge thicker than the other; used as siding by lapping one board over the board below.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "clapboards."
- Understanding "clapboards" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

clatters (noun)

A rattling noise (often produced by rapid movement).

- Understanding "clatters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "clatters."

clavichord (noun)

An early stringed instrument like a piano but with more delicate sound.

- They discussed "clavichord" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "clavichord" means with a simple example.

---

coalface (noun)

The part of a coal seam that is being cut.

- He looked up "coalface" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "coalface" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cochon de lait (noun)

Whole young pig suitable for roasting.

- They discussed "cochon de lait" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "cochon de lait" means with a simple example.

---

cockneys (noun)

The nonstandard dialect of natives of the east end of London.

- They discussed "cockneys" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "cockneys" to mean the nonstandard dialect of natives of the east end....

---

collagens (noun)

A fibrous scleroprotein in bone and cartilage and tendon and other connective tissue; yields gelatin on boiling.

- He looked up "collagens" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "collagens" to mean a fibrous scleroprotein in bone and cartilage and....

---

columbarium (noun)

A niche for a funeral urn containing the ashes of the cremated dead.

- Understanding "columbarium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "columbarium" because he had never seen it before.

---

combustibles (noun)

A substance that can be burned to provide heat or power.

- Understanding "combustibles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "combustibles" during the group presentation.

---

commiserated (verb)

To feel or express sympathy or compassion.

- He did not know how to use "commiserated" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "commiserated" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

communicant (noun)

A person entitled to receive Communion.

- In class, the teacher used "communicant" to mean a person entitled to receive communion.
- He looked up "communicant" because he had never seen it before.

---

condole (verb)

Express one's sympathetic grief, on the occasion of someone's death.

- You must condole the widow.
- She tried to use "condole" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

condole with (verb)

Share the suffering of.

- The coach explained when to use "condole with" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "condole with" until he saw an example.

---

congress gaiter (noun)

An ankle high shoe with elastic gussets in the sides.

- In class, the teacher used "congress gaiter" to mean an ankle high shoe with elastic gussets in the sides.

- The article explained what "congress gaiter" means with a simple example.

---

connoisseurship (noun)

Love of or taste for fine objects of art.

- In class, the teacher used "connoisseurship" to mean love of or taste for fine objects of art.
- The article explained what "connoisseurship" means with a simple example.

---

consumptions (noun)

The process of taking food into the body through the mouth (as by eating).

- He looked up "consumptions" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "consumptions."

---

contrives (verb)

Come up with (an idea, plan, explanation, theory, or principle) after a mental effort.

- He did not know how to use "contrives" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "contrives" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

coriaceous (adjective)

Resembling or made to resemble leather; tough but pliable.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "coriaceous."
- A "coriaceous" approach may work better in this case.

---

corium (noun)

The deep vascular inner layer of the skin.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "corium."
- He looked up "corium" because he had never seen it before.

---

coronoid process of the mandible (noun)

The coronoid process that provides an attachment for the temporal muscle.

- He looked up "coronoid process of the mandible" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coronoid process of the mandible."

---

cowing (verb)

Subdue, restrain, or overcome by affecting with a feeling of awe; frighten (as with threats).

- He did not know how to use "cowing" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "cowing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

coyness (noun)

The affectation of being demure in a provocative way.

- He looked up "coyness" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "coyness" to mean the affectation of being demure in a provocative way.

---

cristoforo colombo (noun)

Italian navigator who discovered the New World in the service of Spain while looking for a route to China (1451-1506).

- They discussed "cristoforo colombo" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "cristoforo colombo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cuirassiers (noun)

A cavalryman equipped with a cuirass.

- The article explained what "cuirassiers" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cuirassiers."

---

curium (noun)

A radioactive transuranic metallic element; produced by bombarding plutonium with helium nuclei.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "curium."
- Understanding "curium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cutis (noun)

A natural protective body covering and site of the sense of touch.

- In class, the teacher used "cutis" to mean a natural protective body covering and site of the....
- He looked up "cutis" because he had never seen it before.

cyperus papyrus (noun)

Tall sedge of the Nile valley yielding fiber that served many purposes in historic times.

- The article explained what "cyperus papyrus" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "cyperus papyrus" to mean tall sedge of the nile valley yielding fiber that....

dame kiri te kanawa (noun)

New Zealand operatic soprano (born in 1944).

- Understanding "dame kiri te kanawa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "dame kiri te kanawa" means with a simple example.

dateable (adjective)

That can be given a date; - C.W.Shumaker.

- Would you call this situation "dateable"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "dateable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

deliverers (noun)

A person who rescues you from harm or danger.

- The article explained what "deliverers" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "deliverers."

demoiselles (noun)

Small brilliantly colored tropical marine fishes of coral reefs.

- He looked up "demoiselles" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "demoiselles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

denazification (noun)

Social process of removing Nazis from official positions and giving up any allegiance to Nazism.

- Denazification was a slow process.
- He looked up "denazification" because he had never seen it before.

diddled (verb)

Manipulate manually or in one's mind or imagination.

- Learners should practice how to use "diddled" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "diddled" when talking about this idea.

diming (verb)

Become vague or indistinct.

- She tried to use "diming" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "diming" until he saw an example.

dirties (verb)

Make soiled, filthy, or dirty.

- Learners should practice how to use "dirties" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "dirties" when talking about this idea.

disaccharide (noun)

Any of a variety of carbohydrates that yield two monosaccharide molecules on complete hydrolysis.

- In class, the teacher used "disaccharide" to mean any of a variety of carbohydrates that yield two....
- The article explained what "disaccharide" means with a simple example.

discrepant (adjective)

Not compatible with other facts.

- Widely discrepant statements.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "discrepant."

---

disfranchisement (noun)

The discontinuation of a franchise; especially the discontinuation of the right to vote.

- They discussed "disfranchisement" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "disfranchisement" to mean the discontinuation of a franchise; especially the....

---

disinflation (noun)

A reduction of prices intended to improve the balance of payments.

- In class, the teacher used "disinflation" to mean a reduction of prices intended to improve the....
- The article explained what "disinflation" means with a simple example.

---

distributary (noun)

A branch of a river that flows away from the main stream and does not rejoin it.

- He looked up "distributary" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "distributary."

---

diuresis (noun)

Increased secretion of urine; if not due to increased liquid intake or to the action of a diuretic drug it can be a symptom of diabetes mellitus.

- Understanding "diuresis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "diuresis" during the group presentation.

---

divinatory (adjective)

Resembling or characteristic of a prophet or prophecy.

- The high priest's divinatory pronouncement.
- A "divinatory" approach may work better in this case.

---

dixiecrats (noun)

A former political party in the United States; formed in 1948 by Democrats from southern states in order to oppose to the candidacy of Harry S Truman.

- He looked up "dixiecrats" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "dixiecrats" to mean a former political party in the united states;....

---

doxepin (noun)

A tricyclic antidepressant (trade names Adapin and Sinequan) with numerous side effects (dry mouth and sedation and gastrointestinal disturbances).

- The article explained what "doxepin" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "doxepin" to mean a tricyclic antidepressant (trade names adapin and....

---

dracaena (noun)

An agave that is often cultivated for its decorative foliage.

- They discussed "dracaena" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "dracaena" means with a simple example.

---

duder (adjective)

Failing to detonate; especially not charged with an active explosive.

- Students compared "duder" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "duder" when it is failing to detonate; especially not charged with an....

---

dyer's woad (noun)

European biennial formerly grown for the blue coloring matter yielded by its leaves.

- They discussed "dyer's woad" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dyer's woad."

---

eastern malayo-polynesian (noun)

An eastern subfamily of Malayo-Polynesian languages.

- Understanding "eastern malayo-polynesian" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "eastern malayo-polynesian" because he had never seen it before.

ectoparasites (noun)

Any external parasitic organism (as fleas).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ectoparasites."
- They discussed "ectoparasites" during the group presentation.

edible-podded pea (noun)

A variety of pea plant producing peas having soft thick edible pods lacking the fibrous inner lining of the common pea.

- He looked up "edible-podded pea" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "edible-podded pea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

emceed (verb)

Act as a master of ceremonies.

- He did not know how to use "emceed" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "emceed" and when to wait.

empathizes (verb)

Be understanding of.

- She tried to use "empathizes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "empathizes" until he saw an example.

enamelware (noun)

Cooking utensil of enameled iron.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "enamelware."
- The article explained what "enamelware" means with a simple example.

epicureanism (noun)

A doctrine of hedonism that was defended by several ancient Greek philosophers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "epicureanism."
- He looked up "epicureanism" because he had never seen it before.

equisetum (noun)

Horsetails; coextensive with the family Equisetaceae.

- He looked up "equisetum" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "equisetum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

estrous (adjective)

(of lower mammals) showing or in a state of estrus; in heat.

- The estrous state.
- The estrous cycle.

eudaimonia (noun)

A contented state of being happy and healthy and prosperous.

- Understanding "eudaimonia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "eudaimonia" during the group presentation.

everyplace (adverb)

To or in any or all places; ; ; ; ; ('everyplace' is used informally for 'everywhere').

- Place "everyplace" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- He answered "everyplace," which changed the tone of the conversation.

exculpate (verb)

Pronounce not guilty of criminal charges.

- He did not know how to use "exculpate" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "exculpate" and when to wait.

expedites (verb)

Process fast and efficiently.

- He did not know how to use “expedites” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “expedites” and when to wait.

---

extorts (verb)

Obtain by coercion or intimidation.

- Can you use “extorts” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use “extorts” and when to wait.

---

exulting (adjective)

Joyful and proud especially because of triumph or success.

- Students compared “exulting” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “exulting.”

---

falange (noun)

The Spanish Nazi party under Franco.

- He looked up “falange” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “falange.”

---

falco peregrinus (noun)

A widely distributed falcon formerly used in falconry.

- The article explained what “falco peregrinus” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “falco peregrinus” to mean a widely distributed falcon formerly used in falconry.

---

familiarisation (noun)

The experience of becoming familiar with something.

- In class, the teacher used “familiarisation” to mean the experience of becoming familiar with something.
- The article explained what “familiarisation” means with a simple example.

---

fantasised (verb)

Indulge in fantasies.

- She tried to use “fantasised” carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use “fantasised” when talking about this idea.

---

fearfulness (noun)

An emotion experienced in anticipation of some specific pain or danger (usually accompanied by a desire to flee or fight).

- In class, the teacher used “fearfulness” to mean an emotion experienced in anticipation of some....
- He looked up “fearfulness” because he had never seen it before.

---

feebleness (noun)

The quality of lacking intensity or substance; - Nathaniel Hawthorne.

- Understanding “feebleness” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “feebleness” during the group presentation.

---

ferrules (noun)

A metal cap or band placed on a wooden pole to prevent splitting.

- Understanding “ferrules” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “ferrules” during the group presentation.

---

flatcar (noun)

Freight car without permanent sides or roof.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “flatcar.”
- He looked up “flatcar” because he had never seen it before.

---

flexible sigmoidoscopy (noun)

Visual examination (with a sigmoidoscope) of the lower third of the colon in a search for polyps.

- In class, the teacher used “flexible sigmoidoscopy” to mean visual examination (with a sigmoidoscope) of the....

- He looked up "flexible sigmoidoscopy" because he had never seen it before.

---

flophouse (noun)

A cheap lodging house.

- The article explained what "flophouse" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "flophouse" to mean a cheap lodging house.

---

foaling (verb)

Give birth to a foal.

- The coach explained when to use "foaling" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "foaling" until he saw an example.

---

fondles (verb)

Touch or stroke lightly in a loving or endearing manner.

- In everyday English, people use "fondles" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "fondles" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

gading (verb)

Wander aimlessly in search of pleasure.

- Learners should practice how to use "gading" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "gading" until he saw an example.

---

gaiter (noun)

A shoe covering the ankle with elastic gores in the sides.

- In class, the teacher used "gaiter" to mean a shoe covering the ankle with elastic gores in the....
- The article explained what "gaiter" means with a simple example.

---

gaoler (noun)

Someone who guards prisoners.

- He looked up "gaoler" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "gaoler" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

garble (verb)

Make false by mutilation or addition; as of a message or story.

- In everyday English, people use "garble" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "garble" in real sentences.

---

gavage (noun)

Feeding that consists of the delivery of a nutrient solution (as through a nasal tube) to someone who cannot or will not eat.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gavage."
- They discussed "gavage" during the group presentation.

---

gay-lussac (noun)

French chemist and physicist who first isolated boron and who formulated the law describing the behavior of gases under constant pressure (1778-1850).

- The article explained what "gay-lussac" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gay-lussac."

---

genus asclepias (noun)

Genus of chiefly North American perennial herbs: silkweed; milkweed.

- The article explained what "genus asclepias" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus asclepias."

---

genus azolla (noun)

A genus of fern sometimes placed in its own family Azollaceae.

- The article explained what "genus azolla" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "genus azolla" to mean a genus of fern sometimes placed in its own family....

---

genus bauhinia (noun)

Mountain ebony, orchid tree.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus bauhinia."
- Understanding "genus bauhinia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus chloris (noun)

Tufted or perennial or annual grasses having runners: finger grass; windmill grass.

- Understanding "genus chloris" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "genus chloris" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus dracaena (noun)

Old World tropical plants with branches ending in tufts of sword-shaped leaves; in some classifications considered a genus of Liliaceae.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus dracaena."
- He looked up "genus dracaena" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus equisetum (noun)

Horsetails; coextensive with the family Equisetaceae.

- In class, the teacher used "genus equisetum" to mean horsetails; coextensive with the family equisetaceae.
- He looked up "genus equisetum" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus lepas (noun)

Type genus of the family Lepadidae.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus lepas."
- Understanding "genus lepas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus phaethon (noun)

Type genus of the Phaethontidae.

- They discussed "genus phaethon" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "genus phaethon" to mean type genus of the phaethontidae.

---

genus sciara (noun)

Type genus of the Sciaridae: fungus gnat.

- They discussed "genus sciara" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "genus sciara" means with a simple example.

---

genus syringa (noun)

Genus of Old World shrubs or low trees having fragrant flowers in showy panicles: lilacs.

- They discussed "genus syringa" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "genus syringa" to mean genus of old world shrubs or low trees having....

---

gomel (noun)

Industrial city of Belarus to the southeast of Minsk.

- He looked up "gomel" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "gomel" to mean industrial city of belarus to the southeast of minsk.

---

granduncle (noun)

An uncle of your father or mother.

- The article explained what "granduncle" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "granduncle" to mean an uncle of your father or mother.

---

greengrocers (noun)

A grocer who sells fresh fruits and vegetables.

- Understanding "greengrocers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "greengrocers."

---

greyness (noun)

A neutral achromatic color midway between white and black.

- He looked up "greyness" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "greyness."

---

grimer (adjective)

Not to be placated or appeased or moved by entreaty.

- Students compared "grimer" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "grimer" approach may work better in this case.

---

guibert of ravenna (noun)

Italian antipope from 1080 to 1100 who was installed as pope by the Holy Roman Emperor Henry IV who consistently opposed efforts at papal reform (died in 1100).

- Understanding "guibert of ravenna" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "guibert of ravenna" means with a simple example.

---

gunwale (noun)

Wale at the top of the side of boat; topmost planking of a wooden vessel.

- They discussed "gunwale" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "gunwale" means with a simple example.

---

haberdashers (noun)

A merchant who sells men's clothing.

- In class, the teacher used "haberdashers" to mean a merchant who sells men's clothing.
- Understanding "haberdashers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

handholds (noun)

An appendage to hold onto.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "handholds."
- They discussed "handholds" during the group presentation.

---

hangnail (noun)

A loose narrow strip of skin near the base of a fingernail; tearing it produces a painful sore that is easily infected.

- In class, the teacher used "hangnail" to mean a loose narrow strip of skin near the base of a....
- The article explained what "hangnail" means with a simple example.

---

hanoverians (noun)

A member (or supporter) of the house of Hanover.

- In class, the teacher used "hanoverians" to mean a member (or supporter) of the house of hanover.
- He looked up "hanoverians" because he had never seen it before.

---

harassments (noun)

A feeling of intense annoyance caused by being tormented.

- They discussed "harassments" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "harassments" to mean a feeling of intense annoyance caused by being....

---

hausen (noun)

Valuable source of caviar and isinglass; found in Black and Caspian seas.

- Understanding "hausen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "hausen" because he had never seen it before.

---

heartier (adjective)

Endowed with or exhibiting great bodily or mental health.

- It is useful to describe something as "heartier" when it is endowed with or exhibiting great bodily or mental....
- Students compared "heartier" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

herms (noun)

A statue consisting of a squared stone pillar with a carved head (usually a bearded Hermes) on top; used in ancient Greece as a boundary marker or signpost.

- The article explained what "herms" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "herms" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

hiatuses (noun)

A missing piece (as a gap in a manuscript).

- In class, the teacher used "hiatuses" to mean a missing piece (as a gap in a manuscript).
- Understanding "hiatuses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

hickock (noun)

Frontier marshal whose adventures have become legendary (1837-1876).

- In class, the teacher used "hickock" to mean frontier marshal whose adventures have become....
- He looked up "hickock" because he had never seen it before.

historiographer (noun)

A person who is an authority on history and who studies it and writes about it.

- In class, the teacher used "historiographer" to mean a person who is an authority on history and who....
- The article explained what "historiographer" means with a simple example.

hogback (noun)

A narrow ridge of hills.

- They discussed "hogback" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hogback."

holidaymaker (noun)

Someone who travels for pleasure.

- Understanding "holidaymaker" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "holidaymaker" because he had never seen it before.

horizontals (noun)

Something that is oriented horizontally.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "horizontals."
- He looked up "horizontals" because he had never seen it before.

housecoat (noun)

A loose dressing gown for women.

- They discussed "housecoat" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "housecoat" because he had never seen it before.

illuminance (noun)

The luminous flux incident on a unit area.

- They discussed "illuminance" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "illuminance."

immobilise (verb)

To hold fast or prevent from moving.

- The coach explained when to use "immobilise" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "immobilise" until he saw an example.

implosions (noun)

The initial occluded phase of a stop consonant.

- The article explained what "implosions" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "implosions" to mean the initial occluded phase of a stop consonant.

imprudently (adverb)

In an imprudent manner.

- Imprudently, he downed tools and ran home to make his wife happy.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "imprudently" naturally.

indubitable (adjective)

Too obvious to be doubted.

- The speaker chose "indubitable" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "indubitable" approach may work better in this case.

---

inflexion (noun)

A change in the form of a word (usually by adding a suffix) to indicate a change in its grammatical function.

- In class, the teacher used "inflexion" to mean a change in the form of a word (usually by adding a....
- He looked up "inflexion" because he had never seen it before.

---

insectivores (noun)

Any organism that feeds mainly on insects.

- Understanding "insectivores" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "insectivores" to mean any organism that feeds mainly on insects.

---

internationalize (verb)

Put under international control.

- Internationalize trade of certain drugs.
- We internationalized the committee.

---

isochronous (adjective)

Equal in duration or interval.

- It is useful to describe something as "isochronous" when it is equal in duration or interval.
- Students compared "isochronous" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

isocrates (noun)

Athenian rhetorician and orator (436-338 BC).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isocrates."
- He looked up "isocrates" because he had never seen it before.

---

jackboot (noun)

(19th century) a man's high tasseled boot.

- They discussed "jackboot" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "jackboot" means with a simple example.

---

jackknifed (verb)

Dive into the water bending the body at the waist at a right angle, like a jackknife.

- She tried to use "jackknifed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "jackknifed" and when to wait.

---

james butler hickock (noun)

Frontier marshal whose adventures have become legendary (1837-1876).

- He looked up "james butler hickock" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "james butler hickock."

---

jasons (noun)

(Greek mythology) the husband of Medea and leader of the Argonauts who sailed in quest of the Golden Fleece.

- In class, the teacher used "jasons" to mean (greek mythology) the husband of medea and leader....
- The article explained what "jasons" means with a simple example.

---

jean honore fragonard (noun)

French artist whose rococo paintings typified the frivolity of life in the royal court of France in the 18th century (1732-1806).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jean honore fragonard."
- The article explained what "jean honore fragonard" means with a simple example.

---

john ronald reuel tolkien (noun)

British philologist and writer of fantasies (born in South Africa) (1892-1973).

- In class, the teacher used "john ronald reuel tolkien" to mean british philologist and writer of fantasies (born....

- The article explained what "john ronald reuel tolkien" means with a simple example.

john van vleck (noun)

United States physicist (1899-1980).

- The article explained what "john van vleck" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "john van vleck" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

joseph louis gay-lussac (noun)

French chemist and physicist who first isolated boron and who formulated the law describing the behavior of gases under constant pressure (1778-1850).

- In class, the teacher used "joseph louis gay-lussac" to mean french chemist and physicist who first isolated....
- The article explained what "joseph louis gay-lussac" means with a simple example.

jugal bone (noun)

The arch of bone beneath the eye that forms the prominence of the cheek.

- They discussed "jugal bone" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "jugal bone" to mean the arch of bone beneath the eye that forms the....

jugal point (noun)

The craniometric point at the union of the frontal and temporal processes of the zygomatic bone.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jugal point."
- The article explained what "jugal point" means with a simple example.

junes (noun)

The month following May and preceding July.

- The article explained what "junes" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "junes" to mean the month following may and preceding july.

juster (adjective)

Fair to all parties as dictated by reason and conscience.

- The speaker chose "juster" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "juster" when it is fair to all parties as dictated by reason and....

keloids (noun)

Raised pinkish scar tissue at the site of an injury; results from excessive tissue repair.

- The article explained what "keloids" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "keloids."

khmers (noun)

The Mon-Khmer language spoken in Cambodia.

- Understanding "khmers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "khmers" to mean the mon-khmer language spoken in cambodia.

killingly (adverb)

In a very humorous manner.

- Using "killingly" can make your explanation more exact.
- The narrator describes the scene "killingly" in the final chapter.

kingmakers (noun)

An important person who can bring leaders to power through the exercise of political influence.

- In class, the teacher used "kingmakers" to mean an important person who can bring leaders to power....
- They discussed "kingmakers" during the group presentation.

klystron (noun)

An electron tube used to generate or amplify electromagnetic radiation in the microwave region by velocity modulation.

- Understanding "klystron" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "klystron" during the group presentation.

knackers (noun)

Someone who buys up old horses for slaughter.

- He looked up "knackers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "knackers."

krauts (noun)

Offensive term for a person of German descent.

- In class, the teacher used "krauts" to mean offensive term for a person of german descent.
- The article explained what "krauts" means with a simple example.

kyat (noun)

The basic unit of money in Myanmar.

- The article explained what "kyat" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "kyat" to mean the basic unit of money in myanmar.

labials (noun)

A consonant whose articulation involves movement of the lips.

- Understanding "labials" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "labials" means with a simple example.

langurs (noun)

Slender long-tailed monkey of Asia.

- Understanding "langurs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "langurs" because he had never seen it before.

lassoed (verb)

Catch with a lasso.

- In everyday English, people use "lassoed" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "lassoed" in a sentence that fits this situation?

laxness (noun)

The condition of being physiologically lax.

- Baths can help the laxness of the bowels.
- He looked up "laxness" because he had never seen it before.

leones (noun)

The basic unit of money in Sierra Leone; equal to 100 cents.

- He looked up "leones" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "leones" during the group presentation.

lepas (noun)

Type genus of the family Lepadidae.

- They discussed "lepas" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "lepas" to mean type genus of the family lepadidae.

librettos (noun)

The words of an opera or musical play.

- In class, the teacher used "librettos" to mean the words of an opera or musical play.
- The article explained what "librettos" means with a simple example.

likelihoods (noun)

The probability of a specified outcome.

- They discussed "likelihoods" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "likelihoods" means with a simple example.

lobotomies (noun)

Surgical interruption of nerve tracts to and from the frontal lobe of the brain; often results in marked cognitive and personality changes.

- They discussed “lobotomies” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “lobotomies” means with a simple example.

---

lycanthrope (noun)

A monster able to change appearance from human to wolf and back again.

- They discussed “lycanthrope” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “lycanthrope” to mean a monster able to change appearance from human to....

---

lychees (noun)

Chinese fruit having a thin brittle shell enclosing a sweet jellylike pulp and a single seed; often dried.

- They discussed “lychees” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “lychees.”

---

magnetos (noun)

A small dynamo with a secondary winding that produces a high voltage enabling a spark to jump between the poles of a spark plug in a gasoline engine.

- He looked up “magnetos” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “magnetos” to mean a small dynamo with a secondary winding that....

---

malayo-polynesian (noun)

The branch of the Austronesian languages spoken from Madagascar to the central Pacific.

- Understanding “malayo-polynesian” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “malayo-polynesian” means with a simple example.

---

mambas (noun)

Arboreal snake of central and southern Africa whose bite is often fatal.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “mambas.”
- He looked up “mambas” because he had never seen it before.

---

manges (noun)

A persistent and contagious disease of the skin causing inflammation and itching and loss of hair; affects domestic animals (and sometimes people).

- They discussed “manges” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “manges” means with a simple example.

---

maraca (noun)

A percussion instrument consisting of a hollow gourd containing pebbles or beans; often played in pairs.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “maraca.”
- He looked up “maraca” because he had never seen it before.

---

marginalise (verb)

Relegate to a lower or outer edge, as of specific groups of people.

- Learners should practice how to use “marginalise” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “marginalise” when talking about this idea.

---

measurer (noun)

A person who makes measurements.

- He looked up “measurer” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “measurer.”

---

memorizes (verb)

Commit to memory; learn by heart.

- In everyday English, people use “memorizes” when talking about this idea.
- Can you use “memorizes” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

metabolic alkalosis (noun)

Alkalosis resulting from hydrogen-ion loss or excessive intake of alkaline substances.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “metabolic alkalosis.”
- They discussed “metabolic alkalosis” during the group presentation.

micmac (noun)

A member of the Algonquian people inhabiting the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

- In class, the teacher used "micmac" to mean a member of the algonquian people inhabiting the....
- They discussed "micmac" during the group presentation.

mineralocorticoid (noun)

Hormone that is one of the steroids of the adrenal cortex that influences the metabolism of sodium and potassium.

- The article explained what "mineralocorticoid" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "mineralocorticoid" during the group presentation.

minicabs (noun)

A minicar used as a taxicab.

- He looked up "minicabs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "minicabs."

misremembered (verb)

Remember incorrectly.

- I misremembered the date.
- In everyday English, people use "misremembered" when talking about this idea.

mola lanceolata (noun)

Caudal fin has a central projection.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mola lanceolata."
- Understanding "mola lanceolata" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

molarity (noun)

Concentration measured by the number of moles of solute per liter of solution.

- They discussed "molarity" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "molarity" because he had never seen it before.

monosaccharide (noun)

A sugar (like sucrose or fructose) that does not hydrolyse to give other sugars; the simplest group of carbohydrates.

- Understanding "monosaccharide" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "monosaccharide" during the group presentation.

mount orizaba (noun)

An extinct volcano in southern Mexico between Mexico City and Veracruz; the highest peak in Mexico (18,695 feet).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mount orizaba."
- They discussed "mount orizaba" during the group presentation.

mt orizaba (noun)

An extinct volcano in southern Mexico between Mexico City and Veracruz; the highest peak in Mexico (18,695 feet).

- They discussed "mt orizaba" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "mt orizaba" because he had never seen it before.

multicolour (adjective)

Having sections or patches colored differently and usually brightly.

- The speaker chose "multicolour" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "multicolour" approach may work better in this case.

muntjac (noun)

Small Asian deer with small antlers and a cry like a bark.

- He looked up "muntjac" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "muntjac" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

musculus teres major (noun)

Teres muscle that moves the arm and rotates it medially.

- They discussed "musculus teres major" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "musculus teres major" means with a simple example.

---

musculus teres minor (noun)

Teres muscle that adducts the arm and rotates it laterally.

- They discussed "musculus teres minor" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "musculus teres minor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mytilene (noun)

An island of eastern Greece in the eastern Aegean Sea; in antiquity it was famous for lyric poetry.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mytilene."
- Understanding "mytilene" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nark (noun)

An informer or spy working for the police.

- Understanding "nark" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "nark" means with a simple example.

---

neckband (noun)

A band that fits around the neck and is usually folded over.

- In class, the teacher used "neckband" to mean a band that fits around the neck and is usually....
- He looked up "neckband" because he had never seen it before.

---

nephthys (noun)

Egyptian goddess associated with ritual of the dead; sister of Geb and Nut; wife of Set.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nephthys."
- He looked up "nephthys" because he had never seen it before.

---

neurasthenia (noun)

Nervous breakdown (not in technical use).

- The article explained what "neurasthenia" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "neurasthenia."

---

neurobiologist (noun)

A specialist in neurobiology.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "neurobiologist."
- He looked up "neurobiologist" because he had never seen it before.

---

newports (noun)

A resort city in southeastern Rhode Island; known for the summer homes of millionaires; important yachting center.

- He looked up "newports" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "newports."

---

noisemaker (noun)

A device (such as a clapper or bell or horn) used to make a loud noise at a celebration.

- Understanding "noisemaker" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "noisemaker" to mean a device (such as a clapper or bell or horn) used....

---

nonaligned (adjective)

Not affiliated with any faction, party, or cause.

- A "nonaligned" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "nonaligned" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

northern casque-headed frog (noun)

Terrestrial burrowing nocturnal frog of grassy terrain and scrub forests having very hard upper surface of head; of the United States southwest.

- In class, the teacher used "northern casque-headed frog" to mean terrestrial burrowing nocturnal frog of grassy....

- The article explained what “northern casque-headed frog” means with a simple example.

---

ntis (noun)

An agency in the Technology Administration that is a primary resource for government-funded scientific and technical and engineering and business related information.

- Understanding “ntis” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “ntis.”

---

nubby (adjective)

Of textiles; having a rough surface.

- Students compared “nubby” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation “nubby”? Explain why.

---

nucleosides (noun)

A glycoside formed by partial hydrolysis of a nucleic acid.

- In class, the teacher used “nucleosides” to mean a glycoside formed by partial hydrolysis of a....
- He looked up “nucleosides” because he had never seen it before.

---

obiter dictum (noun)

An opinion voiced by a judge on a point of law not directly bearing on the case in question and therefore not binding.

- The article explained what “obiter dictum” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “obiter dictum” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

order cetacea (noun)

An order of Eutheria.

- He looked up “order cetacea” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “order cetacea” to mean an order of eutheria.

---

orizaba (noun)

A city of east central Mexico (west of Veracruz); a popular resort.

- In class, the teacher used “orizaba” to mean a city of east central mexico (west of veracruz); a....
- The article explained what “orizaba” means with a simple example.

---

oropharynx (noun)

Cavity formed by the pharynx at the back of the mouth.

- He looked up “oropharynx” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “oropharynx” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

osteitis (noun)

Inflammation of a bone as a consequence of infection or trauma or degeneration.

- Understanding “osteitis” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “osteitis” because he had never seen it before.

---

outbidding (verb)

Bid over an opponent’s bid when one’s partner has not bid or doubled.

- In everyday English, people use “outbidding” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “outbidding” until he saw an example.

---

overfeed (verb)

Feed excessively.

- She tried to use “overfeed” carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use “overfeed” when talking about this idea.

---

oxidization (noun)

The process of oxidizing; the addition of oxygen to a compound with a loss of electrons; always occurs accompanied by reduction.

- Understanding “oxidization” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “oxidization” during the group presentation.

---

packings (noun)

Carrying something in a pack on the back.

- Understanding "packings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "packings" means with a simple example.

parboiled (verb)

Cook (vegetables) briefly.

- The coach explained when to use "parboiled" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "parboiled" until he saw an example.

partitive (adjective)

Indicating or characterized by or serving to create partition or division into parts.

- Partitive tendencies in education.
- A partitive construction.

pastorale (noun)

A musical composition that evokes rural life.

- They discussed "pastorale" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "pastorale" because he had never seen it before.

paterfamilias (noun)

The male head of family or tribe.

- He looked up "paterfamilias" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paterfamilias."

pates (verb)

Pat or squeeze fondly or playfully, especially under the chin.

- Can you use "pates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "pates" carefully so everyone would understand.

payslip (noun)

A slip of paper included with your pay that records how much money you have earned and how much tax or insurance etc. has been taken out.

- Understanding "payslip" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "payslip" to mean a slip of paper included with your pay that records....

pedalled (verb)

Operate the pedals on a keyboard instrument.

- He did not know how to use "pedalled" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "pedalled" carefully so everyone would understand.

penstock (noun)

Conduit that carries a rapid flow of water controlled by a sluicegate.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "penstock."
- Understanding "penstock" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

pergolas (noun)

A framework that supports climbing plants.

- The article explained what "pergolas" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "pergolas" to mean a framework that supports climbing plants.

pericarp (noun)

The ripened and variously modified walls of a plant ovary.

- Understanding "pericarp" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "pericarp" because he had never seen it before.

phaethon (noun)

(Greek mythology) son of Helios; killed when trying to drive his father's chariot and came too close to earth.

- The article explained what “phaethon” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “phaethon” during the group presentation.

---

phanerozoic aeon (noun)

The period from about 5,400 million years ago until the present.

- They discussed “phanerozoic aeon” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “phanerozoic aeon” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pharisaic (adjective)

Excessively or hypocritically pious.

- It is useful to describe something as “pharisaic” when it is excessively or hypocritically pious.
- A “pharisaic” approach may work better in this case.

---

phenergan (noun)

Antihistamine (trade name Phenergan) used to treat allergies; also an antiemetic used to treat motion sickness.

- He looked up “phenergan” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “phenergan” to mean antihistamine (trade name phenergan) used to treat....

---

phials (noun)

A small bottle that contains a drug (especially a sealed sterile container for injection by needle).

- They discussed “phials” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “phials” because he had never seen it before.

---

pistillate (adjective)

Having gynoecia, or pistils, the ovule-bearing organ of a seed plant.

- The speaker chose “pistillate” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation “pistillate”? Explain why.

---

pitocin (noun)

Hormone secreted by the posterior pituitary gland (trade name Pitocin); stimulates contractions of the uterus and ejection of milk.

- Understanding “pitocin” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “pitocin” means with a simple example.

---

plastron (noun)

The ornamental front of a woman’s bodice or shirt.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “plastron.”
- He looked up “plastron” because he had never seen it before.

---

plataea (noun)

A defeat of the Persian army by the Greeks at Plataea in 479 BC.

- Understanding “plataea” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “plataea” means with a simple example.

---

playacting (noun)

The performance of a part or role in a drama.

- In class, the teacher used “playacting” to mean the performance of a part or role in a drama.
- They discussed “playacting” during the group presentation.

---

pliability (noun)

The property of being easily bent without breaking.

- He was valued for his reliability and pliability.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “pliability.”

---

plosive consonant (noun)

A consonant produced by stopping the flow of air at some point and suddenly releasing it.

- His stop consonants are too aspirated.
- They discussed “plosive consonant” during the group presentation.

podgy (adjective)

Short and plump.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "podgy."
- The speaker chose "podgy" because it captured the feeling precisely.

poinciana (noun)

A tropical flowering shrub having bright orange or red flowers; sometimes placed in genus Poinciana.

- He looked up "poinciana" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "poinciana" during the group presentation.

polyphase (adjective)

Of an electrical system that uses or generates two or more alternating voltages of the same frequency but differing in phase angle.

- The speaker chose "polyphase" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "polyphase" when it is of an electrical system that uses or generates two....

porphyritic (adjective)

(of rocks) consisting of porphyry or containing large crystals in a fine groundmass of minerals.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "porphyritic."
- Students compared "porphyritic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

porphyritic rock (noun)

Any igneous rock with crystals embedded in a finer groundmass of minerals.

- Understanding "porphyritic rock" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "porphyritic rock."

post hoc ergo propter hoc (noun)

The logical fallacy of believing that temporal succession implies a causal relation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "post hoc ergo propter hoc."
- They discussed "post hoc ergo propter hoc" during the group presentation.

praetors (noun)

An annually elected magistrate of the ancient Roman Republic.

- He looked up "praetors" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "praetors."

pressurising (verb)

Maintain a certain pressure.

- Learners should practice how to use "pressurising" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "pressurising" when talking about this idea.

princeton wordnet (noun)

A machine-readable lexical database organized by meanings; developed at Princeton University.

- They discussed "princeton wordnet" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "princeton wordnet" because he had never seen it before.

prognosticators (noun)

Someone who makes predictions of the future (usually on the basis of special knowledge).

- They discussed "prognosticators" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prognosticators."

pulpwood (noun)

Softwood used to make paper.

- Understanding "pulpwood" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "pulpwood" to mean softwood used to make paper.

purgation (noun)

The act of clearing yourself (or another) from some stigma or charge.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "purgation."
- He looked up "purgation" because he had never seen it before.

---

pussys (noun)

Informal terms referring to a domestic cat.

- They discussed "pussys" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pussys" means with a simple example.

---

pyromania (noun)

An uncontrollable desire to set fire to things.

- He looked up "pyromania" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "pyromania" during the group presentation.

---

quadric (noun)

A curve or surface whose equation (in Cartesian coordinates) is of the second degree.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "quadric."
- He looked up "quadric" because he had never seen it before.

---

quadric surface (noun)

A curve or surface whose equation (in Cartesian coordinates) is of the second degree.

- He looked up "quadric surface" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "quadric surface" to mean a curve or surface whose equation (in cartesian....

---

quadrilaterals (noun)

A four-sided polygon.

- Understanding "quadrilaterals" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "quadrilaterals" during the group presentation.

---

quantum chromodynamics (noun)

A theory of strong interactions between elementary particles (including the interaction that binds protons and neutrons in the nucleus); it assumes that strongly interacting particles (hadrons) are made of quarks and that gluons bind the quarks together.

- They discussed "quantum chromodynamics" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "quantum chromodynamics" means with a simple example.

---

quoins (noun)

Expandable metal or wooden wedge used by printers to lock up a form within a chase.

- They discussed "quoins" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "quoins" because he had never seen it before.

---

rale (noun)

A rapid series of short loud sounds (as might be heard with a stethoscope in some types of respiratory disorders).

- In class, the teacher used "rale" to mean a rapid series of short loud sounds (as might be....
- Understanding "rale" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ramekin (noun)

A small fireproof dish used for baking and serving individual portions.

- They discussed "ramekin" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ramekin" to mean a small fireproof dish used for baking and serving....

---

raucously (adverb)

With a raucous sound.

- His voice rang raucously.
- Using "raucously" can make your explanation more exact.

---

reassessments (noun)

A new appraisal or evaluation.

- Understanding "reassessments" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- He looked up "reassessments" because he had never seen it before.

recitatives (noun)

A vocal passage of narrative text that a singer delivers with natural rhythms of speech.

- They discussed "recitatives" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "recitatives" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

red underwing (noun)

Moth having dull forewings and red-marked hind wings.

- In class, the teacher used "red underwing" to mean moth having dull forewings and red-marked hind wings.
- The article explained what "red underwing" means with a simple example.

redactor (noun)

Someone who puts text into appropriate form for publication.

- In class, the teacher used "redactor" to mean someone who puts text into appropriate form for....
- He looked up "redactor" because he had never seen it before.

refractometer (noun)

Measuring instrument for measuring the refractive index of a substance.

- The article explained what "refractometer" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "refractometer" during the group presentation.

regenerations (noun)

The activity of spiritual or physical renewal.

- In class, the teacher used "regenerations" to mean the activity of spiritual or physical renewal.
- They discussed "regenerations" during the group presentation.

rescaled (verb)

Establish on a new scale.

- Can you use "rescaled" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "rescaled" and when to wait.

respiratory alkalosis (noun)

Alkalosis resulting from increased gas exchange in the lungs (as in hyperventilation associated with extreme anxiety or aspirin intoxication or metabolic acidosis).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "respiratory alkalosis."
- He looked up "respiratory alkalosis" because he had never seen it before.

restrictively (adverb)

In a restrictive manner.

- This relative clause is used restrictively.
- The narrator describes the scene "restrictively" in the final chapter.

ringer's solution (noun)

An aqueous solution containing the chlorides of sodium and potassium and calcium that is isotonic to animal tissues; used to correct dehydration and (in physiological experiments) as a medium for in vitro preparations.

- He looked up "ringer's solution" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "ringer's solution" during the group presentation.

roleplays (verb)

Perform on a stage or theater.

- In everyday English, people use "roleplays" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "roleplays" in a sentence that fits this situation?

royal poinciana (noun)

Showy tropical tree or shrub native to Madagascar; widely planted in tropical regions for its immense racemes of scarlet and orange flowers; sometimes placed in genus Poinciana.

- They discussed "royal poinciana" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "royal poinciana."

salyut (noun)

Either of two Soviet space stations launched in the 1970s.

- Understanding "salyut" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "salyut" because he had never seen it before.

samnites (noun)

An Oscan-speaking member of an ancient people of Campania who clashed repeatedly with the early Romans.

- He looked up "samnites" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "samnites."

sapele mahogany (noun)

African tree having rather lightweight cedar-scented wood varying in color from pink to reddish brown.

- In class, the teacher used "sapele mahogany" to mean african tree having rather lightweight....
- They discussed "sapele mahogany" during the group presentation.

savarin (noun)

A sponge cake baked in a ring mold.

- In class, the teacher used "savarin" to mean a sponge cake baked in a ring mold.
- The article explained what "savarin" means with a simple example.

scandalize (verb)

Strike with disgust or revulsion.

- The coach explained when to use "scandalize" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "scandalize" carefully so everyone would understand.

sciara (noun)

Minute blackish gregarious flies destructive to mushrooms and seedlings.

- The article explained what "sciara" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sciara."

scramblers (noun)

A rapid mover; someone who scrambles.

- Scramblers can often unnerve a better tennis player.
- Understanding "scramblers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

seps (noun)

The month following August and preceding October.

- They discussed "seps" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "seps" to mean the month following august and preceding october.

shadiest (adjective)

Of questionable taste or morality.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "shadiest."
- Students compared "shadiest" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

shepards (noun)

United States author of surrealistic allegorical plays (born in 1943).

- In class, the teacher used "shepards" to mean united states author of surrealistic allegorical....
- They discussed "shepards" during the group presentation.

shewn (verb)

Establish the validity of something, as by an example, explanation or experiment.

- In everyday English, people use "shewn" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "shewn" in real sentences.

shingon (noun)

A form of Buddhism emphasizing mystical symbolism of mantras and mudras and the Buddha's ideal which is inexpressible.

- Understanding "shingon" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "shingon" means with a simple example.

---

shysters (noun)

A person (especially a lawyer or politician) who uses unscrupulous or unethical methods.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "shysters."
- Understanding "shysters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sigmoidoscopy (noun)

Visual examination (with a sigmoidoscope) of the lower third of the colon in a search for polyps.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sigmoidoscopy."
- The article explained what "sigmoidoscopy" means with a simple example.

---

sipper (noun)

A drinker who sips.

- They discussed "sipper" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sipper."

---

smelliest (adjective)

Offensively malodorous.

- It is useful to describe something as "smelliest" when it is offensively malodorous.
- A "smelliest" approach may work better in this case.

---

smolders (noun)

A fire that burns with thick smoke but no flame.

- The article explained what "smolders" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "smolders" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

snookered (verb)

Leave one's opponent unable to take a direct shot.

- He was snookered by the con-man's smooth talk.
- The coach explained when to use "snookered" and when to wait.

---

sodomize (verb)

Practice anal sex upon.

- The coach explained when to use "sodomize" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "sodomize" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

solidago canadensis (noun)

Large North American goldenrod having showy clusters of yellow flowers on arching branches; often a weed.

- They discussed "solidago canadensis" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "solidago canadensis" because he had never seen it before.

---

somnambulist (noun)

Someone who walks about in their sleep.

- Understanding "somnambulist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "somnambulist" to mean someone who walks about in their sleep.

---

sourly (adverb)

In a sour manner.

- He complained sourly that the new rules only benefitted the managers.
- She spoke "sourly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

spiffing (adjective)

Excellent or splendid.

- That's a perfectly spiffing idea.

- Would you call this situation "spiffing"? Explain why.

---

spitters (noun)

A person who spits (ejects saliva or phlegm from the mouth).

- In class, the teacher used "spitters" to mean a person who spits (ejects saliva or phlegm from....
- The article explained what "spitters" means with a simple example.

---

stigmatisation (noun)

The act of stigmatizing.

- Understanding "stigmatisation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "stigmatisation" to mean the act of stigmatizing.

---

sturgeons (noun)

Large primitive fishes valued for their flesh and roe; widely distributed in the North Temperate Zone.

- In class, the teacher used "sturgeons" to mean large primitive fishes valued for their flesh and....
- He looked up "sturgeons" because he had never seen it before.

---

subdivides (verb)

Divide into smaller and smaller pieces.

- Learners should practice how to use "subdivides" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "subdivides" when talking about this idea.

---

submersed (adjective)

Beneath the surface of the water.

- Students compared "submersed" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "submersed."

---

suckles (verb)

Suck milk from the mother's breasts.

- Learners should practice how to use "suckles" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "suckles" and when to wait.

---

suffusion (noun)

The process of permeating or infusing something with a substance.

- He looked up "suffusion" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "suffusion" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

superabundance (noun)

A quantity that is more than what is appropriate.

- In class, the teacher used "superabundance" to mean a quantity that is more than what is appropriate.
- They discussed "superabundance" during the group presentation.

---

supplicate (verb)

Ask for humbly or earnestly, as in prayer.

- Supplicate God's blessing.
- He supplicated the King for clemency.

---

swines (noun)

Stout-bodied short-legged omnivorous animals.

- They discussed "swines" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "swines" means with a simple example.

---

swivelled (verb)

Turn on a pivot.

- In everyday English, people use "swivelled" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "swivelled" until he saw an example.

---

symbolists (noun)

A member of an artistic movement that expressed ideas indirectly via symbols.

- The article explained what "symbolists" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "symbolists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

synthesisers (noun)

An intellectual who synthesizes or uses synthetic methods.

- In class, the teacher used "synthesisers" to mean an intellectual who synthesizes or uses synthetic....
- He looked up "synthesisers" because he had never seen it before.

---

syringa (noun)

Genus of Old World shrubs or low trees having fragrant flowers in showy panicles: lilacs.

- The article explained what "syringa" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "syringa" during the group presentation.

---

tarahumara (noun)

A member of the Taracahitian people of north central Mexico.

- In class, the teacher used "tarahumara" to mean a member of the taracahitian people of north....
- He looked up "tarahumara" because he had never seen it before.

---

tarahumara frog (noun)

Mexican frog found within a jump or two of water.

- In class, the teacher used "tarahumara frog" to mean mexican frog found within a jump or two of water.
- The article explained what "tarahumara frog" means with a simple example.

---

taxidermists (noun)

A craftsman who stuffs and mounts the skins of animals for display.

- They discussed "taxidermists" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "taxidermists" to mean a craftsman who stuffs and mounts the skins of....

---

tchotchkes (noun)

(Yiddish) an attractive, unconventional woman.

- He looked up "tchotchkes" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "tchotchkes" to mean (yiddish) an attractive, unconventional woman.

---

terbium (noun)

A metallic element of the rare earth group; used in lasers; occurs in apatite and monazite and xenotime and ytterbite.

- He looked up "terbium" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "terbium."

---

terbium metal (noun)

A separate group of related lanthanides, including terbium, europium, gadolinium, and sometimes dysprosium.

- The article explained what "terbium metal" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "terbium metal" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tercel (noun)

Male hawk especially male peregrine or gyrfalcon.

- The article explained what "tercel" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tercel" to mean male hawk especially male peregrine or gyrfalcon.

---

tesserae (noun)

A small square tile of stone or glass used in making mosaics.

- Understanding "tesserae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tesserae" to mean a small square tile of stone or glass used in....

---

tetrads (noun)

The cardinal number that is the sum of three and one.

- The article explained what "tetrads" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tetrads" to mean the cardinal number that is the sum of three and one.

---

thirsted (verb)

Have a craving, appetite, or great desire for.

- Can you use "thirsted" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "thirsted" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

throwaways (noun)

An advertisement (usually printed on a page or in a leaflet) intended for wide distribution.

- The article explained what "throwaways" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "throwaways" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tideway (noun)

A channel in which a tidal current runs.

- The article explained what "tideway" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tideway" to mean a channel in which a tidal current runs.

---

tinea corporis (noun)

Fungal infection of nonhairy parts of the skin.

- Understanding "tinea corporis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "tinea corporis" during the group presentation.

---

tinkerers (noun)

An unskilled person who tries to fix or mend.

- They discussed "tinkerers" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "tinkerers" to mean an unskilled person who tries to fix or mend.

---

tinning (noun)

The application of a thin layer of soft solder to the ends of wires before soldering them.

- Careful tinning of the ends of wires results in a better joint when you solder them.
- The article explained what "tinning" means with a simple example.

---

titbits (noun)

A small tasty bit of food.

- The article explained what "titbits" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "titbits" to mean a small tasty bit of food.

---

tittering (adjective)

Being or sounding of nervous or suppressed laughter.

- Would you call this situation "tittering"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "tittering."

---

tragedian (noun)

An actor who specializes in tragic roles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tragedian."
- He looked up "tragedian" because he had never seen it before.

---

traipsed (verb)

Walk or tramp about.

- She tried to use "traipsed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "traipsed" in real sentences.

---

tranquilizing (adjective)

Tending to soothe or tranquilize.

- Valium has a tranquilizing effect.
- The speaker chose "tranquilizing" because it captured the feeling precisely.

transferor (noun)

(law) someone who conveys a title or property to another.

- Understanding "transferor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "transferor" because he had never seen it before.

tristan tzara (noun)

French poet (born in Romania) who was one of the cofounders of the dada movement (1896-1963).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tristan tzara."
- Understanding "tristan tzara" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

truants (noun)

One who is absent from school without permission.

- They discussed "truants" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "truants" means with a simple example.

underclassman (noun)

An undergraduate who is not yet a senior.

- In class, the teacher used "underclassman" to mean an undergraduate who is not yet a senior.
- He looked up "underclassman" because he had never seen it before.

underpopulated (adjective)

Having a lower population density than normal or desirable.

- The richly endowed but underpopulated Ivory Coast.
- Students compared "underpopulated" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

undershoot (verb)

Fall short of (the runway) in a landing.

- Can you use "undershoot" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "undershoot" until he saw an example.

underwing (noun)

Moth having dull forewings and brightly colored hind wings.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "underwing."
- They discussed "underwing" during the group presentation.

undescended (adjective)

(of the testis) remaining in the abdomen instead of descending into the scrotum.

- Would you call this situation "undescended"? Explain why.
- Students compared "undescended" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

unowned (adjective)

Having no owner.

- It is useful to describe something as "unowned" when it is having no owner.
- A "unowned" approach may work better in this case.

unprintable (adjective)

Unfit for print because morally or legally objectionable or offensive to good taste.

- An unprintable epithet.
- Unprintable pictures.

unresolvable (adjective)

Not capable of being resolved.

- Unresolvable confusion.
- Would you call this situation "unresolvable"? Explain why.

untrammeled (adjective)

Not confined or limited; - Russell Lord; - Farley Mowat.

- The gift of a fresh eye and an untrammeled curiosity.
- The untrammeled rush that the snows had shown in the first spring sun.

---

ursine (adjective)

Of or relating to or similar to bears.

- Would you call this situation "ursine"? Explain why.
- A "ursine" approach may work better in this case.

---

van vleck (noun)

United States physicist (1899-1980).

- Understanding "van vleck" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "van vleck" to mean united states physicist (1899-1980).

---

vasodilators (noun)

A drug that causes dilation of blood vessels.

- They discussed "vasodilators" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "vasodilators" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vaudois (noun)

A Christian sect of dissenters that originated in southern France in the late 12th century adopted Calvinist doctrines in the 16th century.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "vaudois."
- He looked up "vaudois" because he had never seen it before.

---

vermonter (noun)

A native or resident of Vermont.

- He looked up "vermonter" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "vermonter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vervet (noun)

South African monkey with black face and hands.

- Understanding "vervet" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "vervet" means with a simple example.

---

vervet monkey (noun)

South African monkey with black face and hands.

- The article explained what "vervet monkey" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "vervet monkey" to mean south african monkey with black face and hands.

---

viborg (noun)

A town of Denmark in north central Jutland.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "viborg."
- They discussed "viborg" during the group presentation.

---

vilely (adverb)

In a vile manner.

- His vilely spelt and illiterate letters.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "vilely" naturally.

---

wallaces (noun)

English writer noted for his crime novels (1875-1932).

- He looked up "wallaces" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "wallaces" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

weltanschauung (noun)

A comprehensive view of the world and human life.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "weltanschauung."

- He looked up "weltanschauung" because he had never seen it before.

---

western malayo-polynesian (noun)

A western subfamily of Malayo-Polynesian languages.

- In class, the teacher used "western malayo-polynesian" to mean a western subfamily of malayo-polynesian languages.
- The article explained what "western malayo-polynesian" means with a simple example.

---

wheatear (noun)

Small songbird of northern America and Eurasia having a distinctive white rump.

- The article explained what "wheatear" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wheatear" to mean small songbird of northern america and eurasia....

---

wholesales (noun)

The selling of goods to merchants; usually in large quantities for resale to consumers.

- They discussed "wholesales" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wholesales."

---

wild bill hickock (noun)

Frontier marshal whose adventures have become legendary (1837-1876).

- The article explained what "wild bill hickock" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wild bill hickock."

---

wogs (noun)

(offensive British slang) term used by the British to refer to people of color from Africa or Asia.

- He looked up "wogs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wogs."

---

woodcarver (noun)

Makes decorative wooden panels.

- He looked up "woodcarver" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "woodcarver" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

wordnet (noun)

A machine-readable lexical database organized by meanings; developed at Princeton University.

- The article explained what "wordnet" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wordnet" to mean a machine-readable lexical database organized by....

---

wriggly (adjective)

Moving in a twisting or snake-like or wormlike fashion.

- A "wriggly" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "wriggly" when it is moving in a twisting or snake-like or wormlike fashion.

---

xeric (adjective)

Being deficient in moisture.

- Deserts provide xeric environments.
- A "xeric" approach may work better in this case.

---

yakking (verb)

Talk profusely.

- She was yakking away about her grandchildren.
- Learners should practice how to use "yakking" in real sentences.

---

zea mays rugosa (noun)

A corn plant developed in order to have young ears that are sweet and suitable for eating.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "zea mays rugosa."
- He looked up "zea mays rugosa" because he had never seen it before.

---

zoophilia (noun)

A sexual attraction to animals.

- The article explained what "zoophilia" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "zoophilia" during the group presentation.

---

abkhazian (noun)

A Circassian language spoken by the Abkhaz.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "abkhazian."
- The article explained what "abkhazian" means with a simple example.

---

aboveboard (adjective)

Without concealment or deception; honest.

- Their business was open and aboveboard.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "aboveboard."

---

absconds (verb)

Run away; usually includes taking something or somebody along.

- He did not know how to use "absconds" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "absconds" when talking about this idea.

---

absentminded (adjective)

Lost in thought; showing preoccupation.

- An absentminded professor.
- Would you call this situation "absentminded"? Explain why.

---

acinar (adjective)

Pertaining to one of the small sacs (as in a compound gland).

- Students compared "acinar" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "acinar" when it is pertaining to one of the small sacs (as in a....

---

acnes (noun)

An inflammatory disease involving the sebaceous glands of the skin; characterized by papules or pustules or comedones.

- In class, the teacher used "acnes" to mean an inflammatory disease involving the sebaceous....
- He looked up "acnes" because he had never seen it before.

---

adenosine deaminase (noun)

An enzyme found in mammals that can catalyze the deamination of adenosine into inosine and ammonia.

- The article explained what "adenosine deaminase" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "adenosine deaminase."

---

aesthetician (noun)

A philosopher who specializes in the nature of beauty.

- In class, the teacher used "aesthetician" to mean a philosopher who specializes in the nature of beauty.
- The article explained what "aesthetician" means with a simple example.

---

agnatic (adjective)

Related on the father's side.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "agnatic."
- The speaker chose "agnatic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

aleksandr sergeyevich pushkin (noun)

Russian poet (1799-1837).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aleksandr sergeyevich pushkin."
- He looked up "aleksandr sergeyevich pushkin" because he had never seen it before.

---

alpinist (noun)

A mountain climber who specializes in difficult climbs.

- He looked up "alpinist" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "alpinist."

---

altay mountains (noun)

A mountain range in central Asia that extends a thousand miles from Kazakhstan eastward into western Mongolia and northern China.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "altay mountains."
- Understanding "altay mountains" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ambles (noun)

A leisurely walk (usually in some public place).

- He looked up "ambles" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ambles."

---

ambrosian (adjective)

Of or by or relating to Saint Ambrose.

- Ambrosian chants.
- Would you call this situation "ambrosian"? Explain why.

---

amphibolite (noun)

A metamorphic rock composed chiefly of amphibole and plagioclase.

- Understanding "amphibolite" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "amphibolite."

---

analecta (noun)

A collection of excerpts from a literary work.

- The article explained what "analecta" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "analecta" during the group presentation.

---

antiferromagnetic (adjective)

Relating to antiferromagnetism.

- Students compared "antiferromagnetic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "antiferromagnetic."

---

apostleship (noun)

The position of apostle.

- Understanding "apostleship" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "apostleship."

---

aramean (noun)

A member of one of a group of Semitic peoples inhabiting Aram and parts of Mesopotamia from the 11th to the 8th century BC.

- They discussed "aramean" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "aramean" means with a simple example.

---

arcadians (noun)

An inhabitant of Arcadia.

- He looked up "arcadians" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "arcadians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

archly (adverb)

In_an_arch_manner; with playful slyness or roguishness.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "archly" naturally.
- Place "archly" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

armata corsa (noun)

A terrorist organization founded in 1999 to oppose the link between nationalists and the Corsican mafia.

- The attacks of Armata Corsa are aimed at symbolic targets of colonialism in Corsica.
- He looked up "armata corsa" because he had never seen it before.

aspirating (verb)

Pronounce with aspiration; of stop sounds.

- Learners should practice how to use "aspirating" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "aspirating" when talking about this idea.

atrophies (noun)

A decrease in size of an organ caused by disease or disuse.

- The article explained what "atrophies" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "atrophies" during the group presentation.

avons (noun)

A river in central England that flows through Stratford-on-Avon and empties into the Severn.

- They discussed "avons" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "avons" because he had never seen it before.

bacteroides (noun)

Type genus of Bacteroidaceae; genus of Gram-negative rodlike anaerobic bacteria producing no endospores and no pigment and living in the gut of man and animals.

- They discussed "bacteroides" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "bacteroides" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

ballasted (verb)

Make steady with a ballast.

- The coach explained when to use "ballasted" and when to wait.
- Can you use "ballasted" in a sentence that fits this situation?

baltic-finnic (noun)

A group of Finnic languages including Finnish and Estonian.

- The article explained what "baltic-finnic" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "baltic-finnic" to mean a group of finnic languages including finnish and....

barbet (noun)

Small brightly colored stout-billed tropical bird having short weak wings.

- In class, the teacher used "barbet" to mean small brightly colored stout-billed tropical bird....
- The article explained what "barbet" means with a simple example.

baronets (noun)

A member of the British order of honor; ranks below a baron but above a knight.

- He looked up "baronets" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "baronets" to mean a member of the british order of honor; ranks below....

barong (noun)

A knife resembling a cleaver; used in the Philippines.

- The article explained what "barong" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "barong" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

begrudged (verb)

Wish ill or allow unwillingly.

- Can you use "begrudged" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "begrudged" when talking about this idea.

benefaction (noun)

An act intending or showing kindness and good will.

- He looked up "benefaction" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "benefaction."

benefactions (noun)

An act intending or showing kindness and good will.

- They discussed "benefactions" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "benefactions" means with a simple example.

---

bequeaths (verb)

Leave or give by will after one's death.

- She tried to use "bequeaths" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "bequeaths" until he saw an example.

---

besought (verb)

Ask for or request earnestly.

- Can you use "besought" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "besought" and when to wait.

---

bigeye (noun)

Red fishes of American coastal tropical waters having very large eyes and rough scales.

- They discussed "bigeye" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bigeye."

---

blears (verb)

Make dim or indistinct.

- In everyday English, people use "blears" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "blears" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

bleeders (noun)

Someone who has hemophilia and is subject to uncontrollable bleeding.

- He looked up "bleeders" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bleeders."

---

bluebottle (noun)

An annual Eurasian plant cultivated in North America having showy heads of blue or purple or pink or white flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "bluebottle" to mean an annual eurasian plant cultivated in north....
- The article explained what "bluebottle" means with a simple example.

---

blunter (adjective)

Used of a knife or other blade; not sharp.

- Would you call this situation "blunter"? Explain why.
- Students compared "blunter" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

blurriness (noun)

The quality of being indistinct and without sharp outlines.

- They discussed "blurriness" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "blurriness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

boardings (noun)

The act of passengers and crew getting aboard a ship or aircraft.

- They discussed "boardings" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "boardings" to mean the act of passengers and crew getting aboard a....

---

boeotian (adjective)

Of or relating to ancient Boeotia or its people or to the dialect spoken there in classical times.

- Boeotian dialects.
- The speaker chose "boeotian" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

bogeyed (verb)

To shoot in one stroke over par.

- In everyday English, people use "bogeyed" when talking about this idea.

- He did not know how to use "bogeyed" until he saw an example.

---

bohemian waxwing (noun)

Large waxwing of northern North America; similar to but larger than the cedar waxwing.

- Understanding "bohemian waxwing" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "bohemian waxwing" to mean large waxwing of northern north america; similar to....

---

bolshevist (noun)

A Russian member of the left-wing majority group that followed Lenin and eventually became the Russian communist party.

- They discussed "bolshevist" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "bolshevist" because he had never seen it before.

---

borzoi (noun)

Tall fast-moving dog breed.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "borzoi."
- Understanding "borzoi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

broadcloth (noun)

A densely textured woolen fabric with a lustrous finish.

- Understanding "broadcloth" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "broadcloth" means with a simple example.

---

bureaucratically (adverb)

With respect to bureaucracy.

- It's bureaucratically complicated.
- His bureaucratically petty behavior annoyed her.

---

byelorussia (noun)

A landlocked republic in eastern Europe; formerly a European soviet.

- Understanding "byelorussia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "byelorussia" during the group presentation.

---

caciques (noun)

Black-and-red or black-and-yellow orioles of the American tropics.

- In class, the teacher used "caciques" to mean black-and-red or black-and-yellow orioles of the....
- The article explained what "caciques" means with a simple example.

---

cains (noun)

(Old Testament) Cain and Abel were the first children of Adam and Eve born after the Fall of Man; Cain killed Abel out of jealousy and was exiled by God.

- He looked up "cains" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "cains" during the group presentation.

---

camouflages (noun)

An outward semblance that misrepresents the true nature of something.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "camouflages."
- They discussed "camouflages" during the group presentation.

---

canonic (adjective)

Of or relating to or required by canon law.

- A canonical book of the Christian New Testament.
- A "canonic" approach may work better in this case.

---

canopic jar (noun)

A jar used in ancient Egypt to contain entrails of an embalmed body.

- Understanding "canopic jar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "canopic jar" during the group presentation.

---

cantabrian mountains (noun)

A range of mountains in northern Spain along the coast of the Bay of Biscay.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cantabrian mountains."
- He looked up "cantabrian mountains" because he had never seen it before.

---

cape verde escudo (noun)

The basic unit of money on Cape Verde; equal to 100 centavos.

- In class, the teacher used "cape verde escudo" to mean the basic unit of money on cape verde; equal to 100....
- Understanding "cape verde escudo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

carcases (noun)

The dead body of an animal especially one slaughtered and dressed for food.

- The article explained what "carcases" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carcases."

---

careworn (adjective)

Showing the wearing effects of overwork or care or suffering; ; ; ; - Charles Dickens.

- Looking careworn as she bent over her mending.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "careworn."

---

cassia marginata (noun)

East Indian tree having long pods containing a black cathartic pulp used as a horse medicine.

- In class, the teacher used "cassia marginata" to mean east indian tree having long pods containing a....
- They discussed "cassia marginata" during the group presentation.

---

cauterizing (verb)

Burn, sear, or freeze (tissue) using a hot iron or electric current or a caustic agent.

- Can you use "cauterizing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "cauterizing" until he saw an example.

---

celecoxib (noun)

A Cox-2 inhibitor (trade name Celebrex) that relieves pain and inflammation without harming the digestive tract.

- In class, the teacher used "celecoxib" to mean a cox-2 inhibitor (trade name celebrex) that....
- He looked up "celecoxib" because he had never seen it before.

---

celesta (noun)

A musical instrument consisting of graduated steel plates that are struck by hammers activated by a keyboard.

- They discussed "celesta" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "celesta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cementum (noun)

A specialized bony substance covering the root of a tooth.

- He looked up "cementum" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "cementum" to mean a specialized bony substance covering the root of a....

---

ceremonials (noun)

A formal event performed on a special occasion.

- In class, the teacher used "ceremonials" to mean a formal event performed on a special occasion.
- Understanding "ceremonials" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

chabad-lubavitch (noun)

A large missionary Hasidic movement known for their hospitality, technological expertise, optimism and emphasis on religious study.

- In class, the teacher used "chabad-lubavitch" to mean a large missionary hasidic movement known for their....
- He looked up "chabad-lubavitch" because he had never seen it before.

---

changjiang (noun)

The longest river of Asia; flows eastward from Tibet into the East China Sea near Shanghai.

- Understanding "changjiang" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "changjiang" because he had never seen it before.

---

charles camille saint-saens (noun)

French pianist and composer (1835-1921).

- The article explained what "charles camille saint-saens" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "charles camille saint-saens" during the group presentation.

---

cheyennes (noun)

The Algonquian language spoken by the Cheyenne.

- Understanding "cheyennes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "cheyennes" during the group presentation.

---

chromophores (noun)

The chemical group that gives color to a molecule.

- The article explained what "chromophores" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "chromophores" during the group presentation.

---

cisalpine (adjective)

On the Italian or Roman side of the Alps.

- Ancient cisalpine Gaul included an area south and east of the Alps.
- Students compared "cisalpine" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

cobalamin (noun)

A B vitamin that is used to treat pernicious anemia.

- He looked up "cobalamin" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "cobalamin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

colchicum (noun)

Chiefly fall-blooming perennial cormous herbs; sometimes placed in family Colchicaceae.

- The article explained what "colchicum" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "colchicum" to mean chiefly fall-blooming perennial cormous herbs;....

---

collectivisation (noun)

The organization of a nation or economy on the basis of collectivism.

- Understanding "collectivisation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "collectivisation" because he had never seen it before.

---

collectivists (noun)

A person who belongs to the political left.

- In class, the teacher used "collectivists" to mean a person who belongs to the political left.
- The article explained what "collectivists" means with a simple example.

---

colorados (noun)

A river in Texas; flows southeast into the Gulf of Mexico.

- In class, the teacher used "colorados" to mean a river in texas; flows southeast into the gulf of....
- The article explained what "colorados" means with a simple example.

---

commissaire maigret (noun)

A fictional detective in novels by Georges Simenon.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "commissaire maigret."
- The article explained what "commissaire maigret" means with a simple example.

---

companionway (noun)

A stairway or ladder that leads from one deck to another on a ship.

- They discussed "companionway" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "companionway" because he had never seen it before.

compendiums (noun)

A publication containing a variety of works.

- In class, the teacher used "compendiums" to mean a publication containing a variety of works.
- They discussed "compendiums" during the group presentation.

compliances (noun)

Acting according to certain accepted standards.

- Understanding "compliances" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "compliances."

conniption (noun)

A display of bad temper.

- The article explained what "conniption" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "conniption" to mean a display of bad temper.

considerately (adverb)

In a considerate manner.

- They considerately withdrew.
- He answered "considerately," which changed the tone of the conversation.

constantin brancusi (noun)

Romanian sculptor noted for abstractions of animal forms (1876-1957).

- Understanding "constantin brancusi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "constantin brancusi."

coppersmith (noun)

Someone who makes articles from copper.

- He looked up "coppersmith" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coppersmith."

coreopsis (noun)

Any of numerous plants of the genus Coreopsis having a profusion of showy usually yellow daisylike flowers over long periods; North and South America.

- They discussed "coreopsis" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "coreopsis" to mean any of numerous plants of the genus coreopsis....

corollaries (noun)

A practical consequence that follows naturally.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "corollaries."
- He looked up "corollaries" because he had never seen it before.

cosiness (noun)

A state of warm snug comfort.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cosiness."
- Understanding "cosiness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

coville (noun)

Desert shrub of southwestern United States and New Mexico having persistent resinous aromatic foliage and small yellow flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "coville" to mean desert shrub of southwestern united states and new....
- Understanding "coville" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cowtown (noun)

A small town in a cattle-raising area of western North America.

- They discussed "cowtown" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "cowtown" means with a simple example.

crotchet (noun)

A sharp curve or crook; a shape resembling a hook.

- Understanding "crotchet" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "crotchet" to mean a sharp curve or crook; a shape resembling a hook.

---

cubas (noun)

A communist state in the Caribbean on the island of Cuba.

- He looked up "cubas" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "cubas" during the group presentation.

---

culms (noun)

Stem of plants of the Gramineae.

- Understanding "culms" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "culms" means with a simple example.

---

curies (noun)

A unit of radioactivity equal to the amount of a radioactive isotope that decays at the rate of 37,000,000,000 disintegrations per second.

- The article explained what "curies" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "curies" to mean a unit of radioactivity equal to the amount of a....

---

cyclopes (noun)

Only the silky anteater.

- Understanding "cyclopes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cyclopes."

---

dairyman (noun)

A man who works in a dairy.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dairyman."
- He looked up "dairyman" because he had never seen it before.

---

daming (verb)

Obstruct with, or as if with, a dam.

- Learners should practice how to use "daming" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "daming" when talking about this idea.

---

deadliness (noun)

The quality of being deadly.

- Understanding "deadliness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "deadliness" during the group presentation.

---

deckhands (noun)

A member of a ship's crew who performs manual labor.

- The article explained what "deckhands" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "deckhands" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

delicatessens (noun)

A shop selling ready-to-eat food products.

- The article explained what "delicatessens" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "delicatessens" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

demobilize (verb)

Release from military service or remove from the active list of military service.

- The coach explained when to use "demobilize" and when to wait.
- Can you use "demobilize" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

demurs (noun)

(law) a formal objection to an opponent's pleadings.

- Understanding "demurs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "demurs."

---

dewdrops (noun)

A drop of dew.

- Understanding "dewdrops" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "dewdrops" during the group presentation.

---

dhaulagiri (noun)

A mountain in the Himalayas in Nepal (26,820 feet high).

- In class, the teacher used "dhaulagiri" to mean a mountain in the himalayas in nepal (26,820 feet high).
- Understanding "dhaulagiri" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dhobi itch (noun)

Fungal infection attacking moist parts of the body.

- Understanding "dhobi itch" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dhobi itch" because he had never seen it before.

---

diminuendo (noun)

(music) a gradual decrease in loudness.

- In class, the teacher used "diminuendo" to mean (music) a gradual decrease in loudness.
- They discussed "diminuendo" during the group presentation.

---

diovan (noun)

An angiotensin II inhibitor that is used to treat high blood pressure.

- They discussed "diovan" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "diovan" because he had never seen it before.

---

disembowelled (verb)

Remove the entrails of.

- She tried to use "disembowelled" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "disembowelled" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

dismounts (noun)

The act of dismounting (a horse or bike etc.).

- Understanding "dismounts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "dismounts" means with a simple example.

---

dispassion (noun)

Objectivity and detachment.

- Her manner assumed a dispassion and dryness very unlike her usual tone.
- They discussed "dispassion" during the group presentation.

---

dols (noun)

The federal department responsible for promoting the working conditions of wage earners in the United States; created in 1913.

- Understanding "dols" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dols" because he had never seen it before.

---

donets basin (noun)

An industrial region in the Ukraine.

- He looked up "donets basin" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "donets basin."

---

draggers (noun)

A fishing boat that uses a trawl net or dragnet to catch fish.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "draggers."
- The article explained what "draggers" means with a simple example.

---

droops (verb)

Droop, sink, or settle from or as if from pressure or loss of tautness.

- In everyday English, people use "droops" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "droops" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

dunkers (noun)

A Baptist denomination founded in 1708 by Americans of German descent; opposed to military service and taking legal oaths; practiced trine immersion.

- Understanding "dunkers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dunkers" because he had never seen it before.

---

dysplastic (adjective)

Relating to or evidencing dysplasia.

- Would you call this situation "dysplastic"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "dysplastic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

dysprosium (noun)

A trivalent metallic element of the rare earth group; forms compounds that are highly magnetic.

- The article explained what "dysprosium" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "dysprosium" to mean a trivalent metallic element of the rare earth....

---

ecgs (noun)

A graphical recording of the cardiac cycle produced by an electrocardiograph.

- He looked up "ecgs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ecgs."

---

eclogues (noun)

A short poem descriptive of rural or pastoral life.

- The article explained what "eclogues" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "eclogues" during the group presentation.

---

egeria (noun)

Small genus of dioecious tropical aquatic plants.

- The article explained what "egeria" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "egeria" to mean small genus of dioecious tropical aquatic plants.

---

embroiderers (noun)

Someone who ornaments with needlework.

- They discussed "embroiderers" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "embroiderers" to mean someone who ornaments with needlework.

---

eminences (noun)

High status importance owing to marked superiority.

- The article explained what "eminences" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "eminences" to mean high status importance owing to marked superiority.

---

empiricists (noun)

A philosopher who subscribes to empiricism.

- Understanding "empiricists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "empiricists."

---

encyclicals (noun)

A letter from the pope sent to all Roman Catholic bishops throughout the world.

- He looked up "encyclicals" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "encyclicals" to mean a letter from the pope sent to all roman catholic....

---

endemism (noun)

Nativeness by virtue of originating or occurring naturally (as in a particular place).

- He looked up “endemism” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “endemism.”

---

entomb (verb)

Place in a grave or tomb.

- The pharaohs were entombed in the pyramids.
- In everyday English, people use “entomb” when talking about this idea.

---

entrain (verb)

Board a train.

- In everyday English, people use “entrain” when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use “entrain” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

entreating (verb)

Ask for or request earnestly.

- He did not know how to use “entreating” until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use “entreating” in real sentences.

---

epigraphs (noun)

A quotation at the beginning of some piece of writing.

- The article explained what “epigraphs” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “epigraphs” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

erysipelas (noun)

An acute streptococcal infection characterized by deep-red inflammation of the skin and mucous membranes.

- The article explained what “erysipelas” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “erysipelas” to mean an acute streptococcal infection characterized by....

---

euclid’s postulate (noun)

(mathematics) any of five axioms that are generally recognized as the basis for Euclidean geometry.

- The article explained what “euclid’s postulate” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “euclid’s postulate” to mean (mathematics) any of five axioms that are generally....

---

eulogizing (verb)

Praise formally and eloquently.

- He did not know how to use “eulogizing” until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use “eulogizing” when talking about this idea.

---

everlastingly (adverb)

For a limitless time; ; - P.P.Bliss.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include “everlastingly” naturally.
- Using “everlastingly” can make your explanation more exact.

---

eviscerates (verb)

Take away a vital or essential part of.

- Learners should practice how to use “eviscerates” in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use “eviscerates” and when to wait.

---

exegete (noun)

A person skilled in exegesis (especially of religious texts).

- They discussed “exegete” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “exegete” to mean a person skilled in exegesis (especially of....

---

externalization (noun)

Embodying in an outward form.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “externalization.”
- He looked up “externalization” because he had never seen it before.

extortions (noun)

Unjust exaction (as by the misuse of authority).

- The article explained what "extortions" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "extortions" to mean unjust exaction (as by the misuse of authority).

fabaceae (noun)

A large family of trees, shrubs, vines, and herbs bearing bean pods; divided for convenience into the subfamilies Caesalpiniaceae; Mimosaceae; Papilionaceae.

- In class, the teacher used "fabaceae" to mean a large family of trees, shrubs, vines, and herbs....
- He looked up "fabaceae" because he had never seen it before.

facer (noun)

(a dated Briticism) a serious difficulty with which one is suddenly faced.

- The article explained what "facer" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "facer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

falsettos (noun)

A male singing voice with artificially high tones in an upper register.

- The article explained what "falsettos" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "falsettos" to mean a male singing voice with artificially high tones....

family fabaceae (noun)

A large family of trees, shrubs, vines, and herbs bearing bean pods; divided for convenience into the subfamilies Caesalpiniaceae; Mimosaceae; Papilionaceae.

- Understanding "family fabaceae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "family fabaceae."

fauns (noun)

Ancient Italian deity in human shape, with horns, pointed ears and a goat's tail; equivalent to Greek satyr.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fauns."
- Understanding "fauns" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

finnic (noun)

One of two branches of the Finno-Ugric languages; a family of languages including Finnish and Estonian (but not Hungarian).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "finnic."
- Understanding "finnic" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

firebreak (noun)

A narrow field that has been cleared to check the spread of a prairie fire or forest fire.

- The article explained what "firebreak" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "firebreak" to mean a narrow field that has been cleared to check the....

five-petalled (adjective)

(of flowers) having five petals.

- It is useful to describe something as "five-petalled" when it is (of flowers) having five petals.
- The speaker chose "five-petalled" because it captured the feeling precisely.

flays (verb)

Strip the skin off.

- In everyday English, people use "flays" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "flays" carefully so everyone would understand.

fluorescein isocyanate (noun)

A fluorochrome commonly conjugated with antibodies for use in indirect immunofluorescence.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fluorescein isocyanate."
- The article explained what "fluorescein isocyanate" means with a simple example.

fogey (noun)

Someone whose style is out of fashion.

- He looked up "fogey" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fogey."

---

formularies (noun)

(pharmacology) a book containing a compilation of pharmaceutical products with their formulas and methods of preparation.

- They discussed "formularies" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "formularies" to mean (pharmacology) a book containing a compilation of....

---

foundlings (noun)

A child who has been abandoned and whose parents are unknown.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "foundlings."
- Understanding "foundlings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

four-petalled (adjective)

(of flowers) having four petals.

- It is useful to describe something as "four-petalled" when it is (of flowers) having four petals.
- Students compared "four-petalled" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

fraxinus nigra (noun)

Vigorous spreading North American tree having dark brown heavy wood; leaves turn gold in autumn.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fraxinus nigra."
- Understanding "fraxinus nigra" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

frothed (verb)

Become bubbly or frothy or foaming.

- The coach explained when to use "frothed" and when to wait.
- Can you use "frothed" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

fugal (adjective)

Of or relating to or in the style of a musical fugue.

- A "fugal" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "fugal"? Explain why.

---

fusty (adjective)

Stale and unclean smelling.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "fusty."
- Would you call this situation "fusty"? Explain why.

---

gandhis (noun)

Daughter of Nehru who served as prime minister of India from 1966 to 1977 (1917-1984).

- Understanding "gandhis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "gandhis" because he had never seen it before.

---

gasometer (noun)

A meter for measuring the amount of gas flowing through a particular pipe.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gasometer."
- The article explained what "gasometer" means with a simple example.

---

gazillions (noun)

A very large indefinite number (usually hyperbole).

- He looked up "gazillions" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "gazillions" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus bacteroides (noun)

Type genus of Bacteroidaceae; genus of Gram-negative rodlike anaerobic bacteria producing no endospores and no pigment and living in the gut of man and animals.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus bacteroides."

- He looked up “genus bacteroides” because he had never seen it before.

---

genus colchicum (noun)

Chiefly fall-blooming perennial cormous herbs; sometimes placed in family Colchicaceae.

- They discussed “genus colchicum” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus colchicum.”

---

genus coreopsis (noun)

Genus of American plants widely cultivated for their flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus coreopsis.”
- Understanding “genus coreopsis” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus cyclopes (noun)

Only the silky anteater.

- He looked up “genus cyclopes” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “genus cyclopes” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus egeria (noun)

Small genus of dioecious tropical aquatic plants.

- They discussed “genus egeria” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus egeria.”

---

genus laminaria (noun)

Type genus of the family Laminariaceae: perennial brown kelps.

- Understanding “genus laminaria” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “genus laminaria” to mean type genus of the family laminariaceae: perennial....

---

genus linum (noun)

A herbaceous plant genus of the family Linaceae with small sessile leaves.

- They discussed “genus linum” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “genus linum” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus mytilus (noun)

Type genus of the family Mytilidae: smooth-shelled marine mussels.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus mytilus.”
- They discussed “genus mytilus” during the group presentation.

---

genus prosopis (noun)

Genus of tropical or subtropical branching shrubs or trees: mesquite.

- The article explained what “genus prosopis” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “genus prosopis” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus pythium (noun)

Destructive root-parasitic fungi.

- In class, the teacher used “genus pythium” to mean destructive root-parasitic fungi.
- He looked up “genus pythium” because he had never seen it before.

---

giant coreopsis (noun)

Large treelike shrub having feathery leaves and clusters of large yellow flower heads; coastal southern California.

- He looked up “giant coreopsis” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “giant coreopsis” during the group presentation.

---

gingery (adjective)

(used especially of hair or fur) having a bright orange-brown color.

- A man with gingery hair and bright blue eyes.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “gingery.”

---

glinted (verb)

Throw a glance at; take a brief look at.

- He did not know how to use "glinted" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "glinted" in real sentences.

---

goitre (noun)

Abnormally enlarged thyroid gland; can result from underproduction or overproduction of hormone or from a deficiency of iodine in the diet.

- Understanding "goitre" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "goitre" to mean abnormally enlarged thyroid gland; can result from....

---

gooks (noun)

(slang) a disparaging term for an Asian person (especially for North Vietnamese soldiers in the Vietnam War).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gooks."
- The article explained what "gooks" means with a simple example.

---

goosed (verb)

Pinch in the buttocks.

- He goosed the unsuspecting girl.
- He did not know how to use "goosed" until he saw an example.

---

gracefulness (noun)

Beautiful carriage.

- He looked up "gracefulness" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "gracefulness" to mean beautiful carriage.

---

graining (noun)

A texture like that of wood.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "graining."
- The article explained what "graining" means with a simple example.

---

gravelled (verb)

Cause annoyance in; disturb, especially by minor irritations.

- We gravelled the driveway.
- She tried to use "gravelled" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

gravitons (noun)

A gauge boson that mediates the (extremely weak) gravitational interactions between particles.

- They discussed "gravitons" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gravitons."

---

griffons (noun)

Winged monster with the head of an eagle and the body of a lion.

- He looked up "griffons" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "griffons" to mean winged monster with the head of an eagle and the....

---

guardroom (noun)

A cell in which soldiers who are prisoners are confined.

- He looked up "guardroom" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "guardroom" during the group presentation.

---

guidepost (noun)

A post bearing a sign that gives directions or shows the way.

- Understanding "guidepost" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "guidepost" to mean a post bearing a sign that gives directions or....

---

harangues (noun)

A loud bombastic declamation expressed with strong emotion.

- He looked up “harangues” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “harangues.”

---

headways (noun)

Vertical space available to allow easy passage under something.

- Understanding “headways” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “headways” because he had never seen it before.

---

hemodynamics (noun)

The branch of physiology that studies the circulation of the blood and the forces involved.

- The article explained what “hemodynamics” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “hemodynamics” to mean the branch of physiology that studies the....

---

heptane (noun)

A colorless volatile highly flammable liquid obtained from petroleum and used as an anesthetic or a solvent or in determining octane ratings.

- The article explained what “heptane” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “heptane” to mean a colorless volatile highly flammable liquid....

---

high-spiritedness (noun)

Exuberant liveliness.

- In class, the teacher used “high-spiritedness” to mean exuberant liveliness.
- Understanding “high-spiritedness” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hill myna (noun)

Glossy black Asiatic starling often taught to mimic speech.

- In class, the teacher used “hill myna” to mean glossy black asiatic starling often taught to mimic....
- The article explained what “hill myna” means with a simple example.

---

hilum (noun)

The scar on certain seeds marking its point of attachment to the funicle.

- The article explained what “hilum” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “hilum” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

homiletics (noun)

The branch of theology that deals with sermons and homilies.

- They discussed “homiletics” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “homiletics” to mean the branch of theology that deals with sermons and....

---

horsed (verb)

Provide with a horse or horses.

- In everyday English, people use “horsed” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “horsed” until he saw an example.

---

horsehead (noun)

Any of several silvery marine fishes with very flat bodies.

- They discussed “horsehead” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “horsehead” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

humanise (verb)

Make more humane.

- Learners should practice how to use “humanise” in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use “humanise” until he saw an example.

---

hydrolysed (verb)

Undergo hydrolysis; decompose by reacting with water.

- In everyday English, people use “hydrolysed” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “hydrolysed” until he saw an example.

hysteroscopy (noun)

Visual examination of the uterus and uterine lining using an endoscope inserted through the vagina.

- Understanding "hysteroscopy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "hysteroscopy" to mean visual examination of the uterus and uterine lining....

immodesty (noun)

The perverse act of exposing and attracting attention to your own genitals.

- The article explained what "immodesty" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "immodesty."

imponderable (noun)

A factor whose effects cannot be accurately assessed.

- Human behavior depends on many imponderables.
- In class, the teacher used "imponderable" to mean a factor whose effects cannot be accurately assessed.

imputing (verb)

Attribute (responsibility or fault) to a cause or source.

- Can you use "imputing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "imputing" when talking about this idea.

inattentiveness (noun)

A lack of attentiveness (as to children or helpless people).

- He looked up "inattentiveness" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "inattentiveness" during the group presentation.

inconclusively (adverb)

Not conclusively.

- The meeting ended inconclusively.
- Using "inconclusively" can make your explanation more exact.

inderal (noun)

The first beta blocker (trade name Inderal) used in treating hypertension and angina pectoris and essential tremor.

- The article explained what "inderal" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "inderal" during the group presentation.

industriously (adverb)

In an industrious manner.

- They hoed up weeds industriously all morning.
- She spoke "industriously," and the audience immediately understood her point.

inflect (verb)

Change the form of a word in accordance as required by the grammatical rules of the language.

- In everyday English, people use "inflect" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "inflect" in real sentences.

injudicious (adjective)

Lacking or showing lack of judgment or discretion; unwise.

- An injudicious measure.
- The result of an injudicious decision.

inspirer (noun)

A leader who stimulates and excites people to action.

- In class, the teacher used "inspirer" to mean a leader who stimulates and excites people to action.
- The article explained what "inspirer" means with a simple example.

internalisation (noun)

Learning (of values or attitudes etc.) that is incorporated within yourself.

- In class, the teacher used "internalisation" to mean learning (of values or attitudes etc.) that is....
- Understanding "internalisation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

iris germanica (noun)

A large iris with purple or white flowers, native to central and southern Europe.

- Understanding "iris germanica" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "iris germanica."

---

isere (noun)

A river in southeastern France; a tributary of the Rhone.

- Understanding "isere" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isere."

---

isere river (noun)

A river in southeastern France; a tributary of the Rhone.

- He looked up "isere river" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isere river."

---

jeweler's loupe (noun)

Small magnifying glass (usually set in an eyepiece) used by jewelers and horologists.

- The article explained what "jeweler's loupe" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "jeweler's loupe" during the group presentation.

---

jimmys (verb)

To move or force, especially in an effort to get something open; :.

- He did not know how to use "jimmys" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "jimmys" when talking about this idea.

---

jimson weed (noun)

Intensely poisonous tall coarse annual tropical weed having rank-smelling foliage, large white or violet trumpet-shaped flowers and prickly fruits.

- They discussed "jimson weed" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jimson weed."

---

jinni (noun)

(Islam) an invisible spirit mentioned in the Koran and believed by Muslims to inhabit the earth and influence mankind by appearing in the form of humans or animals.

- Understanding "jinni" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jinni."

---

jockstraps (noun)

A support for the genitals worn by men engaging in strenuous exercise.

- In class, the teacher used "jockstraps" to mean a support for the genitals worn by men engaging in....
- He looked up "jockstraps" because he had never seen it before.

---

joyfulness (noun)

The emotion of great happiness.

- Understanding "joyfulness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "joyfulness."

---

judgement in personam (noun)

A judgment rendered against an individual (or corporation) for the payment of money damages.

- They discussed "judgement in personam" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "judgement in personam" because he had never seen it before.

---

judgment in personam (noun)

A judgment rendered against an individual (or corporation) for the payment of money damages.

- In class, the teacher used "judgment in personam" to mean a judgment rendered against an individual (or....

- Understanding "judgment in personam" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

julienned (verb)

Cut into long thin strips.

- The coach explained when to use "julienned" and when to wait.
- Can you use "julienned" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

jumbles (noun)

A theory or argument made up of miscellaneous or incongruous ideas.

- He looked up "jumbles" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "jumbles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kabbalists (noun)

An expert who is highly skilled in obscure or difficult or esoteric matters.

- In class, the teacher used "kabbalists" to mean an expert who is highly skilled in obscure or....
- The article explained what "kabbalists" means with a simple example.

---

karel capek (noun)

Czech writer who introduced the word 'robot' into the English language (1890-1938).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "karel capek."
- He looked up "karel capek" because he had never seen it before.

---

kedgeree (noun)

A dish of rice and hard-boiled eggs and cooked flaked fish.

- In class, the teacher used "kedgeree" to mean a dish of rice and hard-boiled eggs and cooked....
- They discussed "kedgeree" during the group presentation.

---

kenzo tange (noun)

Japanese architect (born in 1913).

- In class, the teacher used "kenzo tange" to mean japanese architect (born in 1913).
- Understanding "kenzo tange" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kinkiest (adjective)

(used of sexual behavior) showing or appealing to bizarre or deviant tastes.

- Would you call this situation "kinkiest"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "kinkiest."

---

kirpan (noun)

A ceremonial four-inch curved dagger that Sikh men and women are obliged to wear at all times.

- The article explained what "kirpan" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "kirpan" during the group presentation.

---

koopmans (noun)

United States economist (born in the Netherlands) (1910-1985).

- Understanding "koopmans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "koopmans" during the group presentation.

---

lacquerware (noun)

A decorative work made of wood and covered with lacquer and often inlaid with ivory or precious metals.

- He looked up "lacquerware" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lacquerware."

---

lambaste (verb)

Censure severely or angrily.

- Can you use "lambaste" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "lambaste" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

lambchop (noun)

Chop cut from a lamb.

- He looked up "lambchop" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lambchop."

laminaria (noun)

Type genus of the family Laminariaceae: perennial brown kelps.

- In class, the teacher used "laminaria" to mean type genus of the family laminariaceae: perennial....
- He looked up "laminaria" because he had never seen it before.

lascars (noun)

A volcano in the Andes in Chile.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lascars."
- He looked up "lascars" because he had never seen it before.

legerdemain (noun)

An illusory feat; considered magical by naive observers.

- The article explained what "legerdemain" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "legerdemain" to mean an illusory feat; considered magical by naive observers.

lenience (noun)

A disposition to yield to the wishes of someone.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lenience."
- He looked up "lenience" because he had never seen it before.

lignum (noun)

Woody tissue.

- He looked up "lignum" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "lignum" to mean woody tissue.

linalool (noun)

A colorless fragrant liquid found in many essential oils.

- In class, the teacher used "linalool" to mean a colorless fragrant liquid found in many essential....
- They discussed "linalool" during the group presentation.

lineament (noun)

The characteristic parts of a person's face: eyes and nose and mouth and chin.

- His lineaments were very regular.
- The article explained what "lineament" means with a simple example.

linum (noun)

A herbaceous plant genus of the family Linaceae with small sessile leaves.

- The article explained what "linum" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "linum" to mean a herbaceous plant genus of the family linaceae....

lividity (noun)

A state of fury so great the face becomes discolored.

- Understanding "lividity" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "lividity" means with a simple example.

lobectomy (noun)

Surgical removal of a lobe from any organ of the body (as the lung or brain).

- Understanding "lobectomy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "lobectomy" because he had never seen it before.

locums (noun)

Someone (physician or clergyman) who substitutes temporarily for another member of the same profession.

- They discussed “locums” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “locums.”

---

lops (verb)

Cultivate, tend, and cut back the growth of.

- She tried to use “lops” carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use “lops” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

low-spiritedness (noun)

A feeling of low spirits.

- In class, the teacher used “low-spiritedness” to mean a feeling of low spirits.
- He looked up “low-spiritedness” because he had never seen it before.

---

luxuriating (verb)

Thrive profusely or flourish extensively.

- Learners should practice how to use “luxuriating” in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use “luxuriating” and when to wait.

---

mainlining (verb)

Inject into the vein.

- She is mainlining heroin.
- Learners should practice how to use “mainlining” in real sentences.

---

maliciousness (noun)

Feeling a need to see others suffer.

- The article explained what “maliciousness” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “maliciousness.”

---

mammas (noun)

Informal terms for a mother.

- In class, the teacher used “mammas” to mean informal terms for a mother.
- The article explained what “mammas” means with a simple example.

---

mavin (noun)

Someone who is dazzlingly skilled in any field.

- They discussed “mavin” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “mavin.”

---

maximisation (noun)

The act of raising to the highest possible point or condition or position.

- The article explained what “maximisation” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “maximisation” to mean the act of raising to the highest possible point or....

---

mayenne (noun)

A department of northwestern France in the Pays de la Loire region.

- They discussed “mayenne” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “mayenne.”

---

medicament (noun)

(medicine) something that treats or prevents or alleviates the symptoms of disease.

- The article explained what “medicament” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “medicament.”

---

memorialised (verb)

Be or provide a memorial to a person or an event.

- In everyday English, people use “memorialised” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “memorialised” until he saw an example.

menthols (noun)

A lotion containing menthol which gives it the smell of mint.

- He looked up "menthols" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "menthols" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

merlins (noun)

(Arthurian legend) the magician who acted as King Arthur's advisor.

- In class, the teacher used "merlins" to mean (arthurian legend) the magician who acted as king....
- He looked up "merlins" because he had never seen it before.

micks (noun)

(ethnic slur) offensive term for a person of Irish descent.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "micks."
- He looked up "micks" because he had never seen it before.

microsomal (adjective)

Of or relating to microsomes.

- Students compared "microsomal" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "microsomal."

miscarrying (verb)

Suffer a miscarriage.

- The coach explained when to use "miscarrying" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "miscarrying" in real sentences.

misguide (verb)

Lead someone in the wrong direction or give someone wrong directions.

- In everyday English, people use "misguide" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "misguide" until he saw an example.

momos (noun)

God of blame and mockery.

- The article explained what "momos" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "momos" during the group presentation.

moonflower (noun)

Pantropical climber having white fragrant nocturnal flowers.

- He looked up "moonflower" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "moonflower" during the group presentation.

morus nigra (noun)

European mulberry having dark foliage and fruit.

- They discussed "morus nigra" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "morus nigra" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

mosaicism (noun)

The condition in which an organism has two or more cell populations that differ in genetic makeup.

- They discussed "mosaicism" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "mosaicism" means with a simple example.

moster (adjective)

The superlative of 'much' that can be used with mass nouns and is usually preceded by 'the'; a quantifier meaning the greatest in amount or extent or degree.

- It is useful to describe something as "moster" when it is the superlative of 'much' that can be used with....
- The speaker chose "moster" because it captured the feeling precisely.

mostest (adjective)

The superlative of 'much' that can be used with mass nouns and is usually preceded by 'the'; a quantifier meaning the greatest in amount or extent or degree.

- The speaker chose "mostest" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "mostest"? Explain why.

---

mousing (verb)

To go stealthily or furtively.

- She tried to use "mousing" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "mousing" in real sentences.

---

mug's game (noun)

A futile or unprofitable endeavor.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mug's game."
- He looked up "mug's game" because he had never seen it before.

---

multiplicities (noun)

The property of being multiple.

- The article explained what "multiplicities" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "multiplicities" to mean the property of being multiple.

---

myna (noun)

Tropical Asian starlings.

- They discussed "myna" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "myna" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

myna bird (noun)

Tropical Asian starlings.

- He looked up "myna bird" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "myna bird" during the group presentation.

---

mytilus (noun)

Type genus of the family Mytilidae: smooth-shelled marine mussels.

- They discussed "mytilus" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "mytilus" because he had never seen it before.

---

nativists (noun)

A philosopher who subscribes to nativism.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nativists."
- The article explained what "nativists" means with a simple example.

---

naturopaths (noun)

A therapist who practices naturopathy.

- The article explained what "naturopaths" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "naturopaths" to mean a therapist who practices naturopathy.

---

naughtier (adjective)

Suggestive of sexual impropriety.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "naughtier."
- The speaker chose "naughtier" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

necrotizing enteritis (noun)

Enteritis characterized by bloody diarrhea and severe abdominal pain.

- The article explained what "necrotizing enteritis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "necrotizing enteritis" to mean enteritis characterized by bloody diarrhea and....

---

nenets (noun)

A Uralic language spoken by a Samoyed of northern Siberia.

- They discussed "nenets" during the group presentation.

- In class, the teacher used “nenets” to mean a uralic language spoken by a samoyed of northern....

---

neuroanatomical (adjective)

Of or relating to neural tissue or the nervous system.

- It is useful to describe something as “neuroanatomical” when it is of or relating to neural tissue or the nervous system.
- Students compared “neuroanatomical” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

nicholas vachel lindsay (noun)

United States poet who traveled the country trading his poems for room and board (1879-1931).

- He looked up “nicholas vachel lindsay” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “nicholas vachel lindsay” during the group presentation.

---

nigerien (adjective)

Of or relating to the people of Nigeria.

- The speaker chose “nigerien” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as “nigerien” when it is of or relating to the people of nigeria.

---

nighties (noun)

Lingerie consisting of a loose dress designed to be worn in bed by women.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “nighties.”
- They discussed “nighties” during the group presentation.

---

noiselessly (adverb)

Without a sound.

- Place “noiselessly” carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include “noiselessly” naturally.

---

nonphysical (adjective)

Lacking substance or reality; incapable of being touched or seen.

- Students compared “nonphysical” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as “nonphysical” when it is lacking substance or reality; incapable of being....

---

nonsuch (noun)

Model of excellence or perfection of a kind; one having no equal.

- He looked up “nonsuch” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “nonsuch” during the group presentation.

---

nras (noun)

A powerful lobby that advocates the right to own and bear arms and rejects any gun regulation by the government.

- He looked up “nras” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “nras” during the group presentation.

---

nscs (noun)

A committee in the executive branch of government that advises the president on foreign and military and national security; supervises the Central Intelligence Agency.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “nscs.”
- They discussed “nscs” during the group presentation.

---

nudibranch (noun)

Any of various marine gastropods of the suborder Nudibranchia having a shell-less and often beautifully colored body.

- He looked up “nudibranch” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “nudibranch” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

o’briens (noun)

Irish writer (born in 1932).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “o’briens.”
- He looked up “o’briens” because he had never seen it before.

---

obscurantism (noun)

A deliberate act intended to make something obscure.

- He looked up "obscurantism" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "obscurantism" during the group presentation.

---

obsessives (noun)

A person who has obsessions.

- Understanding "obsessives" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "obsessives" because he had never seen it before.

---

occultations (noun)

One celestial body obscures another.

- Understanding "occultations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "occultations" because he had never seen it before.

---

ocelots (noun)

Nocturnal wildcat of Central America and South America having a dark-spotted buff-brown coat.

- They discussed "ocelots" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "ocelots" because he had never seen it before.

---

odysseys (noun)

A Greek epic poem (attributed to Homer) describing the journey of Odysseus after the fall of Troy.

- They discussed "odysseys" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "odysseys."

---

ojos del salado (noun)

A mountain in the Andes on the border between Argentina and Chile (22,572 feet high).

- He looked up "ojos del salado" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "ojos del salado" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

oldsters (noun)

An elderly person.

- He looked up "oldsters" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oldsters."

---

opacities (noun)

The phenomenon of not permitting the passage of electromagnetic radiation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "opacities."
- Understanding "opacities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

opposers (noun)

Someone who offers opposition.

- The article explained what "opposers" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "opposers" to mean someone who offers opposition.

---

order rodentia (noun)

Small gnawing animals: porcupines; rats; mice; squirrels; marmots; beavers; gophers; voles; hamsters; guinea pigs; agoutis.

- He looked up "order rodentia" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "order rodentia" during the group presentation.

---

ortolan (noun)

Brownish Old World bunting often eaten as a delicacy.

- They discussed "ortolan" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "ortolan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

oxime (noun)

Any compound containing the group -C=NOH.

- In class, the teacher used "oxime" to mean any compound containing the group -c=noh.
- The article explained what "oxime" means with a simple example.

---

oystercatcher (noun)

Black-and-white shorebird with stout legs and bill; feed on oysters etc.

- He looked up "oystercatcher" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oystercatcher."

---

paeans (noun)

A formal expression of praise.

- Understanding "paeans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "paeans" during the group presentation.

---

papain (noun)

A proteolytic enzyme obtained from the unripe papaya; used as a meat tenderizer.

- The article explained what "papain" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "papain" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

paraboloid reflector (noun)

A concave reflector used to produce a parallel beam when the source is placed at its focus or to focus an incoming parallel beam.

- They discussed "paraboloid reflector" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "paraboloid reflector" because he had never seen it before.

---

paraquat (noun)

A poisonous yellow solid used in solution as a herbicide.

- They discussed "paraquat" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "paraquat" to mean a poisonous yellow solid used in solution as a....

---

paraquat poisoning (noun)

Poisoning caused by ingestion of paraquat; characterized by progressive damage to the esophagus and liver and kidneys.

- They discussed "paraquat poisoning" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "paraquat poisoning" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

partings (noun)

A line of scalp that can be seen when sections of hair are combed in opposite directions.

- Understanding "partings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "partings" during the group presentation.

---

paunchy (adjective)

Having a large belly.

- Students compared "paunchy" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "paunchy."

---

pcts (noun)

A proportion in relation to a whole (which is usually the amount per hundred).

- He looked up "pcts" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "pcts" to mean a proportion in relation to a whole (which is....

---

pea-souper (noun)

A heavy thick yellow fog.

- They discussed "pea-souper" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pea-souper" means with a simple example.

---

pearled (verb)

Gather pearls, from oysters in the ocean.

- Can you use "pearled" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "pearled" and when to wait.

penciling (verb)

Write, draw, or trace with a pencil.

- He did not know how to use "penciling" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "penciling" in real sentences.

perjurer (noun)

A person who deliberately gives false testimony.

- The article explained what "perjurer" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "perjurer" to mean a person who deliberately gives false testimony.

permuted (verb)

Change the order or arrangement of.

- Learners should practice how to use "permuted" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "permuted" carefully so everyone would understand.

pestilential (adjective)

Likely to spread and cause an epidemic disease; - Jonathan Swift.

- A pestilential malignancy in the air.
- Students compared "pestilential" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

petalled (adjective)

(of flowers) having petals.

- The speaker chose "petalled" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "petalled"? Explain why.

phanerozoic eon (noun)

The period from about 5,400 million years ago until the present.

- He looked up "phanerozoic eon" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "phanerozoic eon."

pids (noun)

Inflammation of the female pelvic organs (especially the Fallopian tubes) caused by infection by any of several microorganisms (chiefly gonococci and chlamydia); symptoms are abdominal pain and fever and foul-smelling vaginal discharge.

- In class, the teacher used "pids" to mean inflammation of the female pelvic organs....
- He looked up "pids" because he had never seen it before.

pieties (noun)

Righteousness by virtue of being pious.

- They discussed "pieties" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pieties" means with a simple example.

pine siskin (noun)

Small finch of North American coniferous forests.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pine siskin."
- The article explained what "pine siskin" means with a simple example.

planck's constant (noun)

The constant of proportionality relating the energy of a photon to its frequency; approximately 6.626 x 10^-34 joule-second.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "planck's constant."
- He looked up "planck's constant" because he had never seen it before.

planck's radiation law (noun)

(physics) an equation that expresses the distribution of energy in the radiated spectrum of an ideal black body.

- In class, the teacher used "planck's radiation law" to mean (physics) an equation that expresses the....
- Understanding "planck's radiation law" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

plavix (noun)

A blood thinner (trade name Plavix) approved for the treatment of mild heart attacks; works by preventing blood platelets from sticking together to form clots that would restrict blood flow.

- In class, the teacher used "plavix" to mean a blood thinner (trade name plavix) approved for....
- Understanding "plavix" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

plier (noun)

Someone who plies a trade.

- In class, the teacher used "plier" to mean someone who plies a trade.
- Understanding "plier" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

plumps (verb)

Set (something or oneself) down with or as if with a noise.

- Can you use "plumps" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "plumps" and when to wait.

---

pluralities (noun)

The state of being plural.

- He looked up "pluralities" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pluralities."

---

podded (verb)

Take something out of its shell or pod.

- Learners should practice how to use "podded" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "podded" when talking about this idea.

---

poesy (noun)

Literature in metrical form.

- Understanding "poesy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "poesy" to mean literature in metrical form.

---

polarizes (verb)

Cause to vibrate in a definite pattern.

- Can you use "polarizes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "polarizes" and when to wait.

---

polyelectrolyte (noun)

An electrolyte of high molecular weight.

- He looked up "polyelectrolyte" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polyelectrolyte."

---

potshot (noun)

A shot taken at an easy or casual target (as by a pothunter).

- Reporters took potshots at the mayor.
- They discussed "potshot" during the group presentation.

---

pretentiously (adverb)

In a pretentious manner.

- This author writes pretentiously.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "pretentiously" naturally.

---

priapus (noun)

(classical mythology) god of male procreative power and guardian of gardens and vineyards.

- He looked up "priapus" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "priapus" to mean (classical mythology) god of male procreative power....

---

probenecid (noun)

A uricosuric drug that reduces the level of uric acid in the blood; used to treat gout.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "probenecid."
- Understanding "probenecid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

prosopis (noun)

Genus of tropical or subtropical branching shrubs or trees: mesquite.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prosopis."
- He looked up "prosopis" because he had never seen it before.

---

provisos (noun)

A stipulated condition.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "provisos."
- Understanding "provisos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

prunus pumila (noun)

Small straggling American cherry growing on sandy soil and having minute scarcely edible purplish-black fruit.

- The article explained what "prunus pumila" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "prunus pumila" during the group presentation.

---

psalmody (noun)

The act of singing psalms or hymns.

- The article explained what "psalmody" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "psalmody" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

psychotherapies (noun)

The branch of psychiatry concerned with psychological methods.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "psychotherapies."
- The article explained what "psychotherapies" means with a simple example.

---

pythium (noun)

Any fungus of the genus Pythium.

- He looked up "pythium" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pythium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

qatari riyal (noun)

The basic unit of money in Qatar.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "qatari riyal."
- They discussed "qatari riyal" during the group presentation.

---

quadrupedal (adjective)

Having four feet.

- It is useful to describe something as "quadrupedal" when it is having four feet.
- The speaker chose "quadrupedal" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

rachels (noun)

(Old Testament) the second wife of Jacob and mother of Joseph and Benjamin.

- In class, the teacher used "rachels" to mean (old testament) the second wife of jacob and mother....
- They discussed "rachels" during the group presentation.

---

radiobiology (noun)

The branch of biology that studies the effects of radiation on living organisms.

- In class, the teacher used "radiobiology" to mean the branch of biology that studies the effects of....
- The article explained what "radiobiology" means with a simple example.

---

red siskin (noun)

South American species of scarlet finch with black head and wings and tail.

- Understanding "red siskin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "red siskin" because he had never seen it before.

redes (verb)

Give an interpretation or explanation to.

- In everyday English, people use "redes" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "redes" in real sentences.

reformations (noun)

Rescuing from error and returning to a rightful course.

- The article explained what "reformations" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "reformations" during the group presentation.

rejuvenates (verb)

Return to life; get or give new life or energy.

- She tried to use "rejuvenates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "rejuvenates" in a sentence that fits this situation?

reliquaries (noun)

A container where religious relics are stored or displayed (especially relics of saints).

- Understanding "reliquaries" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "reliquaries" to mean a container where religious relics are stored or....

repossessing (verb)

Regain possession of something.

- In everyday English, people use "repossessing" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "repossessing" in a sentence that fits this situation?

reproaching (verb)

Express criticism towards.

- Learners should practice how to use "reproaching" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "reproaching" carefully so everyone would understand.

requited (verb)

Make repayment for or return something.

- In everyday English, people use "requited" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "requited" in a sentence that fits this situation?

revocations (noun)

The act (by someone having the authority) of annulling something previously done.

- The article explained what "revocations" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "revocations."

rinderpest (noun)

An acute infectious viral disease of cattle (usually fatal); characterized by fever and diarrhea and inflammation of mucous membranes.

- Understanding "rinderpest" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "rinderpest" means with a simple example.

rodentia (noun)

Small gnawing animals: porcupines; rats; mice; squirrels; marmots; beavers; gophers; voles; hamsters; guinea pigs; agoutis.

- Understanding "rodentia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "rodentia" because he had never seen it before.

ruanda (noun)

A landlocked republic in central Africa; formerly a German colony.

- They discussed "ruanda" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "ruanda" means with a simple example.

sabines (noun)

A river in eastern Texas that flows south into the Gulf of Mexico.

- The article explained what "sabines" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "sabines" to mean a river in eastern texas that flows south into the....

---

safecracker (noun)

A thief who breaks open safes to steal valuable contents.

- In class, the teacher used "safecracker" to mean a thief who breaks open safes to steal valuable....
- The article explained what "safecracker" means with a simple example.

---

saliency (noun)

The state of being salient.

- He looked up "saliency" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "saliency" during the group presentation.

---

sames (noun)

The language of nomadic Lapps in northern Scandinavia and the Kola Peninsula.

- The article explained what "sames" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sames."

---

sangay (noun)

An inactive volcano in the Andes in central Ecuador; last erupted in 1946.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sangay."
- He looked up "sangay" because he had never seen it before.

---

saxes (noun)

A single-reed woodwind with a conical bore.

- Understanding "saxes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "saxes" means with a simple example.

---

scabbards (noun)

A sheath for a sword or dagger or bayonet.

- The article explained what "scabbards" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "scabbards" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scourging (verb)

Cause extensive destruction or ruin utterly.

- He did not know how to use "scourging" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "scourging" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

septate (adjective)

Of or relating to a septum.

- Would you call this situation "septate"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "septate" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

serviette (noun)

A small piece of table linen that is used to wipe the mouth and to cover the lap in order to protect clothing.

- The article explained what "serviette" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "serviette."

---

shaaban (noun)

The eighth month of the Islamic calendar.

- He looked up "shaaban" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "shaaban."

---

shakier (adjective)

Inclined to shake as from weakness or defect.

- A "shakier" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "shakier" when it is inclined to shake as from weakness or defect.

shiism (noun)

The branch of Islam that regards Ali as the legitimate successor to Mohammed and rejects the first three caliphs.

- They discussed "shiism" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "shiism" to mean the branch of islam that regards ali as the....

shintoism (noun)

The ancient indigenous religion of Japan lacking formal dogma; characterized by a veneration of nature spirits and of ancestors.

- In class, the teacher used "shintoism" to mean the ancient indigenous religion of japan lacking....
- Understanding "shintoism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

siberians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Siberia.

- In class, the teacher used "siberians" to mean a native or inhabitant of siberia.
- Understanding "siberians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

sigmoid flexure (noun)

The s-shaped curve between the descending colon and the rectum.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sigmoid flexure."
- He looked up "sigmoid flexure" because he had never seen it before.

silvas (noun)

The forest trees growing in a country or region.

- He looked up "silvas" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "silvas."

siskin (noun)

Small yellow-and-black Eurasian finch with a sharp beak.

- The article explained what "siskin" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "siskin."

skywriting (noun)

Writing formed in the sky by smoke released from an airplane.

- They discussed "skywriting" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "skywriting" means with a simple example.

snoozed (verb)

Sleep lightly or for a short period of time.

- She tried to use "snoozed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "snoozed" in real sentences.

snowfield (noun)

A permanent wide expanse of snow.

- They discussed "snowfield" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "snowfield" because he had never seen it before.

solomonic (adjective)

Exhibiting or requiring the wisdom of Solomon in making difficult decisions.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "solomonic."
- A "solomonic" approach may work better in this case.

solubilities (noun)

The quality of being soluble and easily dissolved in liquid.

- Understanding "solubilities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "solubilities" because he had never seen it before.

somalians (noun)

A member of a tall dark (mostly Muslim) people inhabiting Somalia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "somalians."
- The article explained what "somalians" means with a simple example.

---

soms (noun)

The basic unit of money in Uzbekistan.

- In class, the teacher used "soms" to mean the basic unit of money in uzbekistan.
- Understanding "soms" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sorcerous (adjective)

Possessing or using or characteristic of or appropriate to supernatural powers; ; ; ; - Shakespeare.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "sorcerous."
- The speaker chose "sorcerous" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

spiritedness (noun)

Quality of being active or spirited or alive and vigorous.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "spiritedness."
- They discussed "spiritedness" during the group presentation.

---

squealer (noun)

One who reveals confidential information in return for money.

- Understanding "squealer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "squealer."

---

stickle (verb)

Dispute or argue stubbornly (especially minor points).

- Can you use "stickle" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "stickle" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

streamliner (noun)

A streamlined train.

- Understanding "streamliner" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "streamliner" to mean a streamlined train.

---

striked (verb)

Drive something violently into a location.

- She tried to use "striked" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "striked" when talking about this idea.

---

supercedes (verb)

Take the place or move into the position of.

- Can you use "supercedes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "supercedes" and when to wait.

---

superhighways (noun)

A broad highway designed for high-speed traffic.

- They discussed "superhighways" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "superhighways" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

supraorbital torus (noun)

A ridge on the frontal bone above the eye socket.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "supraorbital torus."
- They discussed "supraorbital torus" during the group presentation.

---

surmountable (adjective)

Capable of being surmounted or overcome.

- Situations of measurable and surmountable danger.

- A "surmountable" approach may work better in this case.

---

susceptibilities (noun)

The state of being susceptible; easily affected.

- They discussed "susceptibilities" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "susceptibilities" to mean the state of being susceptible; easily affected.

---

tailwinds (noun)

Wind blowing in the same direction as the path of a ship or aircraft.

- The article explained what "tailwinds" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "tailwinds" during the group presentation.

---

tamarins (noun)

Small South American marmoset with silky fur and long nonprehensile tail.

- They discussed "tamarins" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "tamarins" to mean small south american marmoset with silky fur and....

---

thalli (noun)

A plant body without true stems or roots or leaves or vascular system; characteristic of the thallophytes.

- Understanding "thalli" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "thalli" means with a simple example.

---

thessalian (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Thessaly.

- In class, the teacher used "thessalian" to mean a native or inhabitant of thessaly.
- They discussed "thessalian" during the group presentation.

---

thieve (verb)

Take by theft.

- In everyday English, people use "thieve" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "thieve" until he saw an example.

---

three-petalled (adjective)

(of flowers) having three petals.

- Would you call this situation "three-petalled"? Explain why.
- Students compared "three-petalled" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

tobacconists (noun)

A retail dealer in tobacco and tobacco-related articles.

- Understanding "tobacconists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "tobacconists" during the group presentation.

---

tomatillo (noun)

Small edible yellow to purple tomato-like fruit enclosed in a bladderlike husk.

- The article explained what "tomatillo" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tomatillo" to mean small edible yellow to purple tomato-like fruit....

---

toradol (noun)

Nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drug (trade names Acular and Toradol) that is administered only intramuscularly.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "toradol."
- The article explained what "toradol" means with a simple example.

---

totalizing (verb)

Make into a total.

- Can you use "totalizing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "totalizing" and when to wait.

---

tourers (noun)

Large open car seating four with folding top.

- Understanding "tourers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "tourers" means with a simple example.

---

transcaucasia (noun)

A geographical region to the south of the Caucasus Mountains and to the north of Turkey that comprises Georgia and Armenia and Azerbaijan.

- He looked up "transcaucasia" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "transcaucasia."

---

trematodes (noun)

Parasitic flatworms having external suckers for attaching to a host.

- In class, the teacher used "trematodes" to mean parasitic flatworms having external suckers for....
- Understanding "trematodes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

trichinosis (noun)

Infestation by trichina larvae that are transmitted by eating inadequately cooked meat (especially pork); larvae migrate from the intestinal tract to the muscles where they become encysted.

- They discussed "trichinosis" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "trichinosis."

---

trigrams (noun)

A word that is written with three letters in an alphabetic writing system.

- The article explained what "trigrams" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "trigrams" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

trowels (noun)

A small hand tool with a handle and flat metal blade; used for scooping or spreading plaster or similar materials.

- He looked up "trowels" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "trowels" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

trygve lie (noun)

Norwegian diplomat who was the first Secretary General of the United Nations (1896-1968).

- They discussed "trygve lie" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "trygve lie."

---

turboprops (noun)

An airplane with an external propeller that is driven by a turbojet engine.

- He looked up "turboprops" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "turboprops."

---

turnbuckles (noun)

An oblong metal coupling with a swivel at one end and an internal thread at the other into which a threaded rod can be screwed in order to form a unit that can be adjusted for length or tension.

- Understanding "turnbuckles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "turnbuckles" during the group presentation.

---

tzara (noun)

French poet (born in Romania) who was one of the cofounders of the dada movement (1896-1963).

- In class, the teacher used "tzara" to mean french poet (born in romania) who was one of the....
- The article explained what "tzara" means with a simple example.

---

umbers (noun)

A medium brown to dark-brown color.

- In class, the teacher used "umbers" to mean a medium brown to dark-brown color.
- The article explained what "umbers" means with a simple example.

---

underbid (verb)

Bid (a hand of cards) at less than the strength of the hand warrants.

- He did not know how to use "underbid" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "underbid" when talking about this idea.

---

unhappier (adjective)

Experiencing or marked by or causing sadness or sorrow or discontent.

- It is useful to describe something as "unhappier" when it is experiencing or marked by or causing sadness or....
- Students compared "unhappier" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

unitard (noun)

A tight-fitting garment of stretchy material that covers the body from the shoulders to the thighs (and may have long sleeves or legs reaching down to the ankles); worn by ballet dancers and acrobats for practice or performance.

- The article explained what "unitard" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "unitard" to mean a tight-fitting garment of stretchy material that....

---

unities (noun)

The smallest whole number or a numeral representing this number.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "unities."
- They discussed "unities" during the group presentation.

---

unresponsiveness (noun)

The quality of being unresponsive; not reacting; as a quality of people, it is marked by a failure to respond quickly or with emotion to people or events.

- She began to recover from her numb unresponsiveness after the accident.
- In class, the teacher used "unresponsiveness" to mean the quality of being unresponsive; not reacting; as....

---

utile (adjective)

Being of use or service.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "utile."
- The speaker chose "utile" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

valediction (noun)

A farewell oration (especially one delivered during graduation exercises by an outstanding member of a graduating class).

- In class, the teacher used "valediction" to mean a farewell oration (especially one delivered during....
- Understanding "valediction" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

velum (noun)

A muscular flap that closes off the nasopharynx during swallowing or speaking.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "velum."
- He looked up "velum" because he had never seen it before.

---

viols (noun)

Any of a family of bowed stringed instruments that preceded the violin family.

- They discussed "viols" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "viols" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

wagtails (noun)

Old World bird having a very long tail that jerks up and down as it walks.

- Understanding "wagtails" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "wagtails" to mean old world bird having a very long tail that jerks....

---

weeper (noun)

A hired mourner.

- In class, the teacher used "weeper" to mean a hired mourner.
- They discussed "weeper" during the group presentation.

---

whorled caraway (noun)

A caraway with whorled leaves.

- The article explained what "whorled caraway" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "whorled caraway" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

whorled milkweed (noun)

Milkweed of the eastern United States with narrow leaves in whorls and greenish-white flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whorled milkweed."
- They discussed "whorled milkweed" during the group presentation.

wilde dagga (noun)

Relatively nontoxic South African herb smoked like tobacco.

- The article explained what "wilde dagga" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "wilde dagga" during the group presentation.

wildebeests (noun)

Large African antelope having a head with horns like an ox and a long tufted tail.

- The article explained what "wildebeests" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wildebeests" to mean large african antelope having a head with horns....

winching (verb)

Pull or lift up with or as if with a winch.

- In everyday English, people use "winching" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "winching" until he saw an example.

windsurf (verb)

Ride standing on a surfboard with an attached sail, on water.

- You cannot windsurf when the air is completely still.
- Learners should practice how to use "windsurf" in real sentences.

womanising (verb)

Have amorous affairs; of men.

- The coach explained when to use "womanising" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "womanising" carefully so everyone would understand.

workbenches (noun)

A strong worktable for a carpenter or mechanic.

- The article explained what "workbenches" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "workbenches" to mean a strong worktable for a carpenter or mechanic.

wurzburg (noun)

A city of south central Germany.

- He looked up "wurzburg" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "wurzburg" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

yamani (noun)

Saudi Arabian minister of petroleum who was a central figure in the creation of OPEC (born in 1930).

- The article explained what "yamani" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "yamani" to mean saudi arabian minister of petroleum who was a....

zoospores (noun)

An asexual spore of some algae and fungi that moves by means of flagella.

- He looked up "zoospores" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "zoospores" to mean an asexual spore of some algae and fungi that moves....

adages (noun)

A condensed but memorable saying embodying some important fact of experience that is taken as true by many people.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "adages."
- He looked up "adages" because he had never seen it before.

adjournments (noun)

The act of postponing to another time or place.

- He looked up "adjournments" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "adjournments" during the group presentation.

---

aftereffect (noun)

A delayed effect of a drug or therapy.

- The drug had unexpected aftereffects.
- They discussed "aftereffect" during the group presentation.

---

aliveness (noun)

The condition of living or the state of being alive.

- He looked up "aliveness" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aliveness."

---

alkynes (noun)

A colorless flammable gas used chiefly in welding and in organic synthesis.

- The article explained what "alkynes" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "alkynes" to mean a colorless flammable gas used chiefly in welding....

---

allots (verb)

Administer or bestow, as in small portions.

- Can you use "allots" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "allots" and when to wait.

---

altarpieces (noun)

A painted or carved screen placed above and behind an altar or communion table.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "altarpieces."
- He looked up "altarpieces" because he had never seen it before.

---

altruistically (adverb)

In an altruistic manner.

- She spoke "altruistically," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "altruistically" naturally.

---

ambulation (noun)

Walking about.

- The hospital encouraged early ambulation.
- In class, the teacher used "ambulation" to mean walking about.

---

americanisms (noun)

A custom that is peculiar to the United States or its citizens.

- He looked up "americanisms" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "americanisms" during the group presentation.

---

amortizing (verb)

Liquidate gradually.

- Learners should practice how to use "amortizing" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "amortizing" and when to wait.

---

anatomies (noun)

Alternative names for the body of a human being.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anatomies."
- Understanding "anatomies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

anaxagoras (noun)

A presocratic Athenian philosopher who maintained that everything is composed of very small particles that were arranged by some eternal intelligence (500-428 BC).

- They discussed "anaxagoras" during the group presentation.

- He looked up "anaxagoras" because he had never seen it before.

---

antipode (noun)

Direct opposite.

- Quiet: an antipode to focused busyness.
- In class, the teacher used "antipode" to mean direct opposite.

---

antipyretic (noun)

Any medicine that lowers body temperature to prevent or alleviate fever.

- Understanding "antipyretic" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "antipyretic."

---

antispasmodic (noun)

A drug used to relieve or prevent spasms (especially of the smooth muscles).

- They discussed "antispasmodic" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "antispasmodic" because he had never seen it before.

---

antispasmodic agent (noun)

A drug used to relieve or prevent spasms (especially of the smooth muscles).

- In class, the teacher used "antispasmodic agent" to mean a drug used to relieve or prevent spasms....
- Understanding "antispasmodic agent" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

appeases (verb)

Cause to be more favorably inclined; gain the good will of.

- The coach explained when to use "appeases" and when to wait.
- Can you use "appeases" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

approver (noun)

An authority with power to approve.

- The article explained what "approver" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "approver" to mean an authority with power to approve.

---

aqualung (noun)

A device (trade name Aqua-Lung) that lets divers breathe under water; scuba is an acronym for self-contained underwater breathing apparatus.

- He looked up "aqualung" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "aqualung" to mean a device (trade name aqua-lung) that lets divers....

---

architraves (noun)

The lowest part of an entablature; rests immediately on the capitals of the columns.

- He looked up "architraves" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "architraves."

---

austenite (noun)

A solid solution of ferric carbide or carbon in iron; cools to form pearlite or martensite.

- In class, the teacher used "austenite" to mean a solid solution of ferric carbide or carbon in....
- They discussed "austenite" during the group presentation.

---

avow (verb)

To declare or affirm solemnly and formally as true.

- Can you use "avow" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "avow" and when to wait.

---

bacchanalia (noun)

A wild gathering involving excessive drinking and promiscuity.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bacchanalia."
- Understanding "bacchanalia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

belaying (verb)

Turn a rope round an object or person in order to secure it or him.

- In everyday English, people use "belaying" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "belaying" carefully so everyone would understand.

belaying pin (noun)

A wood or metal bar to which a rope can be secured (as on a ship or in mountain climbing).

- Understanding "belaying pin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "belaying pin" during the group presentation.

bespeaks (verb)

Be a signal for or a symptom of.

- Learners should practice how to use "bespeaks" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "bespeaks" when talking about this idea.

betted (verb)

Have faith or confidence in.

- She tried to use "betted" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "betted" until he saw an example.

bicyclic (adjective)

Having molecules consisting of two fused rings.

- It is useful to describe something as "bicyclic" when it is having molecules consisting of two fused rings.
- The speaker chose "bicyclic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

bidentate (adjective)

Having toothlike projections that are themselves toothed.

- Would you call this situation "bidentate"? Explain why.
- Students compared "bidentate" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

bifurcating (verb)

Divide into two branches.

- She tried to use "bifurcating" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "bifurcating" in a sentence that fits this situation?

biodegrade (verb)

Break down naturally through the action of biological agents.

- Plastic bottles do not biodegrade.
- The coach explained when to use "biodegrade" and when to wait.

bisection (noun)

Dividing into two equal parts.

- In class, the teacher used "bisection" to mean dividing into two equal parts.
- Understanding "bisection" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

bluestem wheatgrass (noun)

Valuable forage grass of western United States.

- He looked up "bluestem wheatgrass" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bluestem wheatgrass."

boding (noun)

A feeling of evil to come.

- A steadily escalating sense of foreboding.
- The article explained what "boding" means with a simple example.

bolos (noun)

A cord fastened around the neck with an ornamental clasp and worn as a necktie.

- The article explained what “bolos” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “bolos” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bootlicking (adjective)

Attempting to win favor from influential people by flattery.

- The speaker chose “bootlicking” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation “bootlicking”? Explain why.

---

bornean (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Borneo.

- The article explained what “bornean” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “bornean” to mean a native or inhabitant of borneo.

---

brewpubs (noun)

A combination brewery and restaurant; beer is brewed for consumption on the premises and served along with food.

- He looked up “brewpubs” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “brewpubs” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bulbar (adjective)

Involving the medulla oblongata.

- Bulbar paralysis.
- Would you call this situation “bulbar”? Explain why.

---

cadaverous (adjective)

Of or relating to a cadaver or corpse.

- We had long anticipated his cadaverous end.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “cadaverous.”

---

calendrical (adjective)

Relating to or characteristic of or used in a calendar or time measurement.

- Students compared “calendrical” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “calendrical.”

---

camarilla (noun)

A clique (often secret) that seeks power usually through intrigue.

- He looked up “camarilla” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “camarilla” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cankers (noun)

A pernicious and malign influence that is hard to get rid of.

- They discussed “cankers” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “cankers” to mean a pernicious and malign influence that is hard to....

---

cape dagga (noun)

Relatively nontoxic South African herb smoked like tobacco.

- They discussed “cape dagga” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “cape dagga” because he had never seen it before.

---

capitulates (verb)

Surrender under agreed conditions.

- Can you use “capitulates” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use “capitulates” and when to wait.

---

castanea sativa (noun)

Wild or cultivated throughout southern Europe, northwestern Africa and southwestern Asia.

- In class, the teacher used “castanea sativa” to mean wild or cultivated throughout southern europe,....
- He looked up “castanea sativa” because he had never seen it before.

castling (noun)

Interchanging the positions of the king and a rook.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "castling."
- He looked up "castling" because he had never seen it before.

catgut (noun)

A strong cord made from the intestines of sheep and used in surgery.

- In class, the teacher used "catgut" to mean a strong cord made from the intestines of sheep and....
- They discussed "catgut" during the group presentation.

catties (noun)

Any of various units of weight used in southeastern Asia (especially a Chinese measure equal to 500 grams).

- They discussed "catties" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "catties."

cedar waxwing (noun)

Widely distributed over temperate North America.

- Understanding "cedar waxwing" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cedar waxwing."

chairmanships (noun)

The position of chairman.

- In class, the teacher used "chairmanships" to mean the position of chairman.
- The article explained what "chairmanships" means with a simple example.

changeovers (noun)

An event that results in a transformation.

- The article explained what "changeovers" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "changeovers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

charwoman (noun)

A human female employed to do housework.

- In class, the teacher used "charwoman" to mean a human female employed to do housework.
- Understanding "charwoman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

chewer (noun)

Someone who chews (especially someone who chews tobacco).

- Understanding "chewer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "chewer" means with a simple example.

chieftainship (noun)

The position of chieftain.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chieftainship."
- He looked up "chieftainship" because he had never seen it before.

chlorosis (noun)

Iron deficiency anemia in young women; characterized by weakness and menstrual disturbances and a green color to the skin.

- He looked up "chlorosis" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "chlorosis" to mean iron deficiency anemia in young women;....

circumscription (noun)

The act of circumscribing.

- He looked up "circumscription" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "circumscription."

clangers (noun)

A conspicuous mistake whose effects seem to reverberate.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "clangers."
- The article explained what "clangers" means with a simple example.

---

clubrooms (noun)

A room used for the activities of a club.

- He looked up "clubrooms" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "clubrooms" to mean a room used for the activities of a club.

---

coalesces (verb)

Mix together different elements.

- The coach explained when to use "coalesces" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "coalesces" until he saw an example.

---

complexioned (verb)

Give a certain color to.

- The setting sun complexioned the hills.
- In everyday English, people use "complexioned" when talking about this idea.

---

conceptualism (noun)

The doctrine that the application of a general term to various objects indicates the existence of a mental entity that mediates the application.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "conceptualism."
- They discussed "conceptualism" during the group presentation.

---

congener (noun)

A whole (a thing or person) of the same kind or category as another.

- Lard was also used, though its congener, butter, was more frequently employed.
- The American shopkeeper differs from his European congener.

---

consecrates (verb)

Give entirely to a specific person, activity, or cause.

- She tried to use "consecrates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "consecrates" when talking about this idea.

---

controversialist (noun)

A person who disputes; who is good at or enjoys controversy.

- The article explained what "controversialist" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "controversialist" during the group presentation.

---

cornhusker (noun)

A native or resident of Nebraska.

- In class, the teacher used "cornhusker" to mean a native or resident of nebraska.
- He looked up "cornhusker" because he had never seen it before.

---

cornhusker state (noun)

A midwestern state on the Great Plains.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cornhusker state."
- They discussed "cornhusker state" during the group presentation.

---

corpuscular (adjective)

Of or relating to corpuscles.

- The speaker chose "corpuscular" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "corpuscular"? Explain why.

---

corpuscular radiation (noun)

A stream of atomic or subatomic particles that may be charged positively (e.g. alpha particles) or negatively (e.g. beta particles) or not at all (e.g. neutrons).

- In class, the teacher used "corpuscular radiation" to mean a stream of atomic or subatomic particles that may....

- Understanding "corpuscular radiation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

corpuscular theory (noun)

(physics) the theory that light is transmitted as a stream of particles.

- In class, the teacher used "corpuscular theory" to mean (physics) the theory that light is transmitted as a....
- He looked up "corpuscular theory" because he had never seen it before.

---

corpuscular theory of light (noun)

(physics) the theory that light is transmitted as a stream of particles.

- The article explained what "corpuscular theory of light" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "corpuscular theory of light" during the group presentation.

---

corpuscular-radiation pressure (noun)

The minute pressure exerted on a surface normal to the direction of propagation of a wave.

- He looked up "corpuscular-radiation pressure" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "corpuscular-radiation pressure" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

countersign (noun)

A secret word or phrase known only to a restricted group.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "countersign."
- Understanding "countersign" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

crans (noun)

A capacity unit used for measuring fresh herring.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "crans."
- He looked up "crans" because he had never seen it before.

---

creditably (adverb)

To a tolerably worthy extent.

- Using "creditably" can make your explanation more exact.
- He answered "creditably," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

crocket (noun)

An architectural ornament of curved foliage used at the edge of a spire or gable.

- The article explained what "crocket" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "crocket."

---

crusting (verb)

Form a crust or form into a crust.

- In everyday English, people use "crusting" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "crusting" in real sentences.

---

cuing (verb)

Assist (somebody acting or reciting) by suggesting the next words of something forgotten or imperfectly learned.

- Learners should practice how to use "cuing" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "cuing" when talking about this idea.

---

curcuma (noun)

Tropical Asiatic perennial herbs.

- Understanding "curcuma" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "curcuma" during the group presentation.

---

cyperus (noun)

Type genus of Cyperaceae; grasslike rhizomatous herbs; cosmopolitan except very cold regions.

- They discussed "cyperus" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cyperus."

---

dagda (noun)

Chief Celtic god of the Tuatha De Danann; father of Angus Og and Brigit.

- They discussed "dagda" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "dagda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

dagga (noun)

Relatively nontoxic South African herb smoked like tobacco.

- Understanding "dagga" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "dagga" to mean relatively nontoxic south african herb smoked like....

damselfly (noun)

Slender non-stinging insect similar to but smaller than the dragonfly but having wings folded when at rest.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "damselfly."
- Understanding "damselfly" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

dawsons (noun)

A town in northwestern Canada in the Yukon on the Yukon River; a boom town around 1900 when gold was discovered in the Klondike.

- They discussed "dawsons" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "dawsons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

deathblow (noun)

The blow that kills (usually mercifully).

- In class, the teacher used "deathblow" to mean the blow that kills (usually mercifully).
- The article explained what "deathblow" means with a simple example.

debuggers (noun)

A program that helps in locating and correcting programming errors.

- He looked up "debuggers" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "debuggers" to mean a program that helps in locating and correcting....

decelerates (verb)

Lose velocity; move more slowly.

- Can you use "decelerates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "decelerates" and when to wait.

decors (noun)

Decoration consisting of the layout and furnishings of a livable interior.

- He looked up "decors" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "decors."

defaulter (noun)

A contestant who forfeits a match.

- Understanding "defaulter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "defaulter."

delocalized (verb)

Remove from the proper or usual locality.

- Learners should practice how to use "delocalized" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "delocalized" and when to wait.

demonisation (noun)

To represent as diabolically evil.

- In class, the teacher used "demonisation" to mean to represent as diabolically evil.
- Understanding "demonisation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

depersonalized (verb)

Make impersonal or present as an object.

- In everyday English, people use "depersonalized" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "depersonalized" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

dionysia (noun)

An orgiastic festival in ancient Greece in honor of Dionysus (= Bacchus).

- In class, the teacher used "dionysia" to mean an orgiastic festival in ancient greece in honor of....
- The article explained what "dionysia" means with a simple example.

---

dissuades (verb)

Turn away from by persuasion.

- He did not know how to use "dissuades" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "dissuades" when talking about this idea.

---

divests (verb)

Reduce or dispose of; cease to hold (an investment).

- She tried to use "divests" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "divests" in real sentences.

---

doulas (noun)

An assistant (often the father of the soon-to-be-born child) who provides support for a woman in labor by encouraging her to use techniques learned in childbirth-preparation classes.

- In class, the teacher used "doulas" to mean an assistant (often the father of the....
- They discussed "doulas" during the group presentation.

---

dozes (verb)

Sleep lightly or for a short period of time.

- In everyday English, people use "dozes" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "dozes" in real sentences.

---

dragoman (noun)

An interpreter and guide in the Near East; in the Ottoman Empire in the 18th and 19th centuries a translator of European languages for the Turkish and Arab authorities and most dragomans were Greek (many reached high positions in the government).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dragoman."
- Understanding "dragoman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

druthers (noun)

The right or chance to choose.

- Given my druthers, I'd eat cake.
- They discussed "druthers" during the group presentation.

---

dunghill (noun)

A foul or degraded condition.

- The article explained what "dunghill" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "dunghill" during the group presentation.

---

durians (noun)

Tree of southeastern Asia having edible oval fruit with a hard spiny rind.

- Understanding "durians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "durians" means with a simple example.

---

dynamiting (verb)

Blow up with dynamite.

- She tried to use "dynamiting" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "dynamiting" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

dynes (noun)

A unit of force equal to the force that imparts an acceleration of 1 cm/sec/sec to a mass of 1 gram.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dynes."
- The article explained what "dynes" means with a simple example.

earthlike (adjective)

Earth colored; of something having a color of soil or earth.

- A range of earthlike colors.
- Earthlike atmosphere.

ebn (noun)

The compass point that is one point north of due east.

- The article explained what "ebn" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "ebn" to mean the compass point that is one point north of due east.

eclat (noun)

Brilliant or conspicuous success or effect.

- The eclat of a great achievement.
- They gave him more eclat than he really deserved.

el caudillo (noun)

Spanish general whose armies took control of Spain in 1939 and who ruled as a dictator until his death (1892-1975).

- In class, the teacher used "el caudillo" to mean spanish general whose armies took control of spain....
- The article explained what "el caudillo" means with a simple example.

electrotherapy (noun)

The therapeutic application of electricity to the body (as in the treatment of various forms of paralysis).

- The article explained what "electrotherapy" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "electrotherapy" during the group presentation.

elephantiasis (noun)

Hypertrophy of certain body parts (usually legs and scrotum); the end state of the disease filariasis.

- In class, the teacher used "elephantiasis" to mean hypertrophy of certain body parts (usually legs and....
- The article explained what "elephantiasis" means with a simple example.

emboss (verb)

Raise in a relief.

- Embossed stationery.
- Can you use "emboss" in a sentence that fits this situation?

emulations (noun)

(computer science) technique of one machine obtaining the same results as another.

- The article explained what "emulations" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "emulations" to mean (computer science) technique of one machine....

enuresis (noun)

Inability to control the flow of urine and involuntary urination.

- Understanding "enuresis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "enuresis" means with a simple example.

episteme (noun)

The body of ideas that determine the knowledge that is intellectually certain at any particular time.

- Understanding "episteme" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "episteme" to mean the body of ideas that determine the knowledge that....

erasures (noun)

A surface area where something has been erased.

- There were many erasures in the typescript.
- He looked up "erasures" because he had never seen it before.

erato (noun)

(Greek mythology) the Muse of lyric and love poetry.

- They discussed "erato" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "erato."

---

escudo (noun)

The basic unit of money on Cape Verde; equal to 100 centavos.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "escudo."
- He looked up "escudo" because he had never seen it before.

---

ethelred the unready (noun)

King of the English who succeeded to the throne after his half-brother Edward the Martyr was murdered; he struggled unsuccessfully against the invading Danes (969-1016).

- He looked up "ethelred the unready" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ethelred the unready."

---

euphonious (adjective)

(of speech or dialect) pleasing in sound; not harsh or strident.

- Her euphonious Southern speech.
- A "euphonious" approach may work better in this case.

---

euphony (noun)

Any agreeable (pleasing and harmonious) sounds.

- Understanding "euphony" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "euphony."

---

euphorbia litchi (noun)

Tree of southeastern Asia to Australia grown primarily for its sweet edible fruit resembling litchi nuts; sometimes placed in genera Euphorbia or Nephelium.

- Understanding "euphorbia litchi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "euphorbia litchi" means with a simple example.

---

extraditing (verb)

Hand over to the authorities of another country.

- He did not know how to use "extraditing" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "extraditing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

extraverted (adjective)

Being concerned with the social and physical environment.

- Students compared "extraverted" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "extraverted."

---

faas (noun)

An agency in the Department of Transportation that is responsible for the safety of civilian aviation.

- The article explained what "faas" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "faas" to mean an agency in the department of transportation that....

---

fallouts (noun)

Any adverse and unwanted secondary effect.

- He looked up "fallouts" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "fallouts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

felicitation (noun)

The act of acknowledging that someone has an occasion for celebration.

- The article explained what "felicitation" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "felicitation" during the group presentation.

---

fenestra of the cochlea (noun)

Fenestra leading into the cochlea.

- The article explained what "fenestra of the cochlea" means with a simple example.

- They discussed "fenestra of the cochlea" during the group presentation.

---

firehouses (noun)

A station housing fire apparatus and firemen.

- They discussed "firehouses" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "firehouses" means with a simple example.

---

fivers (noun)

A United States bill worth 5 dollars.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fivers."
- He looked up "fivers" because he had never seen it before.

---

flagellate protozoan (noun)

A usually nonphotosynthetic free-living protozoan with whiplike appendages; some are pathogens of humans and other animals.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "flagellate protozoan."
- The article explained what "flagellate protozoan" means with a simple example.

---

flugelhorn (noun)

A brass instrument resembling a cornet but with a wider bore.

- He looked up "flugelhorn" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "flugelhorn."

---

fluorescents (noun)

A lighting fixture that uses a fluorescent lamp.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fluorescents."
- They discussed "fluorescents" during the group presentation.

---

forecloses (verb)

Keep from happening or arising; make impossible.

- In everyday English, people use "forecloses" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "forecloses" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

fornicators (noun)

Someone who commits adultery or fornication.

- In class, the teacher used "fornicators" to mean someone who commits adultery or fornication.
- The article explained what "fornicators" means with a simple example.

---

foundress (noun)

A woman founder.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "foundress."
- He looked up "foundress" because he had never seen it before.

---

fundings (noun)

Financial resources provided to make some project possible.

- He looked up "fundings" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "fundings" to mean financial resources provided to make some project....

---

gaging (verb)

Struggle for breath; have insufficient oxygen intake.

- In everyday English, people use "gaging" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "gaging" in real sentences.

---

gastronomical (adjective)

Of or relating to gastronomy.

- The speaker chose "gastronomical" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "gastronomical" approach may work better in this case.

---

genus curcuma (noun)

Tropical Asiatic perennial herbs.

- He looked up "genus curcuma" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus curcuma."

genus cyperus (noun)

Type genus of Cyperaceae; grasslike rhizomatous herbs; cosmopolitan except very cold regions.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus cyperus."
- The article explained what "genus cyperus" means with a simple example.

genus lupinus (noun)

Herbs or shrubs: lupin.

- In class, the teacher used "genus lupinus" to mean herbs or shrubs: lupin.
- He looked up "genus lupinus" because he had never seen it before.

genus rumex (noun)

Docks: coarse herbs and shrubs mainly native to north temperate regions.

- They discussed "genus rumex" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus rumex."

genus sclerotinia (noun)

Large genus of ascomycetous fungi including various destructive plant pathogens.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus sclerotinia."
- They discussed "genus sclerotinia" during the group presentation.

genus termes (noun)

Type genus of the Termitidae.

- He looked up "genus termes" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus termes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

germ plasm (noun)

The protoplasm of the germ cells that contains chromosomes and genes.

- He looked up "germ plasm" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "germ plasm."

giuseppe balsamo (noun)

Italian who was famous as a magician and alchemist (1743-1795).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "giuseppe balsamo."
- He looked up "giuseppe balsamo" because he had never seen it before.

goldfinches (noun)

American finch whose male has yellow body plumage in summer.

- In class, the teacher used "goldfinches" to mean american finch whose male has yellow body plumage....
- They discussed "goldfinches" during the group presentation.

graphology (noun)

The study of handwriting (especially as an indicator of the writer's character or disposition).

- He looked up "graphology" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "graphology" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

groover (noun)

A device that makes grooves by cutting or punching.

- He looked up "groover" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "groover" to mean a device that makes grooves by cutting or punching.

grouted (verb)

Bind with grout.

- Learners should practice how to use "grouted" in real sentences.

- The coach explained when to use "grouted" and when to wait.

---

gunwales (noun)

Wale at the top of the side of boat; topmost planking of a wooden vessel.

- In class, the teacher used "gunwales" to mean wale at the top of the side of boat; topmost....
- Understanding "gunwales" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hemlocks (noun)

Poisonous drug derived from an Eurasian plant of the genus Conium.

- Understanding "hemlocks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "hemlocks" because he had never seen it before.

---

herd's grass (noun)

Grass with long cylindrical spikes grown in northern United States and Europe for hay.

- The article explained what "herd's grass" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "herd's grass" to mean grass with long cylindrical spikes grown in....

---

hobnobs (verb)

Rub elbows with.

- He hobnobs with the best of society.
- In everyday English, people use "hobnobs" when talking about this idea.

---

hollyhocks (noun)

Any of various plants of the genus Althaea; similar to but having smaller flowers than genus Alcea.

- Understanding "hollyhocks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "hollyhocks" means with a simple example.

---

homelike (adjective)

Having a feeling of home; cozy and comfortable.

- It is useful to describe something as "homelike" when it is having a feeling of home; cozy and comfortable.
- The speaker chose "homelike" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

hotfoot (noun)

A practical joke that involves inserting a match surreptitiously between the sole and upper of the victim's shoe and then lighting it.

- The article explained what "hotfoot" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "hotfoot" to mean a practical joke that involves inserting a match....

---

hushing (noun)

A fricative sound (especially as an expression of disapproval).

- Understanding "hushing" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "hushing" means with a simple example.

---

hydroxyzine hydrochloride (noun)

A drug (trade names Atarax and Vistaril) used as a tranquilizer to treat anxiety and motion sickness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hydroxyzine hydrochloride."
- He looked up "hydroxyzine hydrochloride" because he had never seen it before.

---

hypersomnia (noun)

An inability to stay awake.

- They discussed "hypersomnia" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hypersomnia."

---

hypochondriacs (noun)

A patient with imaginary symptoms and ailments.

- Understanding "hypochondriacs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "hypochondriacs" during the group presentation.

---

hypotonic (adjective)

(of living tissue) lacking normal tone or tension.

- A "hypotonic" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "hypotonic."

---

ichthyosaur (noun)

Any of several marine reptiles of the Mesozoic having a body like a porpoise with dorsal and tail fins and paddle-shaped limbs.

- The article explained what "ichthyosaur" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "ichthyosaur" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

imbecility (noun)

Retardation more severe than a moron but not as severe as an idiot.

- They discussed "imbecility" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "imbecility" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

immunoassays (noun)

Identification of a substance (especially a protein) by its action as an antigen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "immunoassays."
- Understanding "immunoassays" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

impetuously (adverb)

In an impulsive or impetuous way; without taking cautions.

- She spoke "impetuously," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- The narrator describes the scene "impetuously" in the final chapter.

---

inadmissibility (noun)

Unacceptability as a consequence of not being admissible.

- In class, the teacher used "inadmissibility" to mean unacceptability as a consequence of not being....
- The article explained what "inadmissibility" means with a simple example.

---

incongruities (noun)

The quality of disagreeing; being unsuitable and inappropriate.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "incongruities."
- Understanding "incongruities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

incriminates (verb)

Bring an accusation against; level a charge against.

- She tried to use "incriminates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "incriminates" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

incus (noun)

The ossicle between the malleus and the stapes.

- In class, the teacher used "incus" to mean the ossicle between the malleus and the stapes.
- The article explained what "incus" means with a simple example.

---

initialled (verb)

Mark with one's initials.

- He did not know how to use "initialled" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "initialled" when talking about this idea.

---

insurrectionist (noun)

A person who takes part in an armed rebellion against the constituted authority (especially in the hope of improving conditions).

- The article explained what "insurrectionist" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "insurrectionist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

interrelate (verb)

Be in a relationship with.

- I cannot interrelate these two events.
- Can you use "interrelate" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

intone (verb)

Utter monotonously and repetitively and rhythmically.

- He did not know how to use "intone" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "intone" in real sentences.

---

intrusiveness (noun)

Aggressiveness as evidenced by intruding; by advancing yourself or your ideas without invitation.

- Understanding "intrusiveness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "intrusiveness" during the group presentation.

---

intussusception (noun)

The folding in of an outer layer so as to form a pocket in the surface.

- Understanding "intussusception" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "intussusception" because he had never seen it before.

---

iroquoian (noun)

A family of North American Indian languages spoken by the Iroquois.

- They discussed "iroquoian" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "iroquoian" to mean a family of north american indian languages spoken....

---

iroquoian language (noun)

A family of North American Indian languages spoken by the Iroquois.

- The article explained what "iroquoian language" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "iroquoian language" to mean a family of north american indian languages spoken....

---

jailbreaks (noun)

An escape from jail.

- He looked up "jailbreaks" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jailbreaks."

---

japes (noun)

A humorous anecdote or remark intended to provoke laughter.

- The article explained what "japes" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "japes" to mean a humorous anecdote or remark intended to provoke....

---

johann joachim winckelmann (noun)

German archaeologist and art historian said to be the father of archaeology (1717-1768).

- He looked up "johann joachim winckelmann" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "johann joachim winckelmann."

---

jubilate (verb)

To express great joy.

- She tried to use "jubilate" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "jubilate" when talking about this idea.

---

juglans nigra (noun)

North American walnut tree with hard dark wood and edible nut.

- The article explained what "juglans nigra" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "juglans nigra."

---

kelt (noun)

A member of a European people who once occupied Britain and Spain and Gaul prior to Roman times.

- In class, the teacher used "kelt" to mean a member of a european people who once occupied....
- He looked up "kelt" because he had never seen it before.

kovno (noun)

A city in central Lithuania.

- They discussed "kovno" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "kovno" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

kumquats (noun)

Small oval citrus fruit with thin sweet rind and very acid pulp.

- The article explained what "kumquats" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "kumquats" to mean small oval citrus fruit with thin sweet rind and....

lascar (noun)

A volcano in the Andes in Chile.

- In class, the teacher used "lascar" to mean a volcano in the andes in chile.
- Understanding "lascar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

latinate (adjective)

Derived from or imitative of Latin.

- Students compared "latinate" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "latinate."

leaners (noun)

(horseshoes) the throw of a horseshoe so as to lean against (but not encircle) the stake.

- Understanding "leaners" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "leaners."

leered (verb)

Look suggestively or obliquely; look or gaze with a sly, immodest, or malign expression.

- The men leered at the young women on the beach.
- Can you use "leered" in a sentence that fits this situation?

levitra (noun)

Virility drug (trade name Levitra) used to treat erectile dysfunction in men.

- The article explained what "levitra" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "levitra" to mean virility drug (trade name levitra) used to treat....

limeade (noun)

Sweetened beverage of lime juice and water.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "limeade."
- Understanding "limeade" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

linnets (noun)

Small finch originally of the western United States and Mexico.

- The article explained what "linnets" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "linnets" during the group presentation.

lisinopril (noun)

An ACE inhibiting drug (trade names Prinival or Zestril) administered as an antihypertensive and after heart attacks.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lisinopril."
- He looked up "lisinopril" because he had never seen it before.

listlessness (noun)

A feeling of lack of interest or energy.

- He looked up "listlessness" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "listlessness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

lodes (noun)

A deposit of valuable ore occurring within definite boundaries separating it from surrounding rocks.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lodes."
- He looked up "lodes" because he had never seen it before.

---

lupinus (noun)

Herbs or shrubs: lupin.

- He looked up "lupinus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "lupinus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

malaysian mujahidin group (noun)

A clandestine group of southeast Asian terrorists organized in 1993 and trained by al-Qaeda; supports militant Muslims in Indonesia and the Philippines and has cells in Singapore and Malaysia and Indonesia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malaysian mujahidin group."
- He looked up "malaysian mujahidin group" because he had never seen it before.

---

maldivians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Maldives.

- Understanding "maldivians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "maldivians" because he had never seen it before.

---

malus angustifolia (noun)

Small tree or shrub of southeastern United States; cultivated as an ornamental for its rose-colored blossoms.

- He looked up "malus angustifolia" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "malus angustifolia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mandara (noun)

A Chadic language spoken in the Mandara mountains in Cameroon; has only two vowels.

- He looked up "mandara" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "mandara" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

marquise de maintenon (noun)

French consort of Louis XIV who secretly married the king after the death of his first wife (1635-1719).

- They discussed "marquise de maintenon" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "marquise de maintenon" means with a simple example.

---

meadow salsify (noun)

Weedy European annual with yellow flowers; naturalized in United States.

- He looked up "meadow salsify" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "meadow salsify" to mean weedy european annual with yellow flowers;....

---

medoc (noun)

Red Bordeaux wine from the Medoc district of southwestern France.

- He looked up "medoc" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "medoc."

---

metrological (adjective)

Of or relating to metrology.

- Students compared "metrological" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "metrological" when it is of or relating to metrology.

---

minibars (noun)

Sideboard with compartments for holding bottles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "minibars."
- He looked up "minibars" because he had never seen it before.

---

misspells (verb)

Spell incorrectly.

- The coach explained when to use "misspells" and when to wait.

- Can you use "misspells" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

molls (noun)

The girlfriend of a gangster.

- They discussed "molls" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "molls" because he had never seen it before.

---

moonies (noun)

An often derogatory term for a member of the Unification Church.

- In class, the teacher used "moonies" to mean an often derogatory term for a member of the....
- He looked up "moonies" because he had never seen it before.

---

mujahidin (noun)

A military force of Muslim guerilla warriors engaged in a jihad.

- Some call the mujahidin international warriors but others just call them terrorists.
- They discussed "mujahidin" during the group presentation.

---

multiversity (noun)

A university system having several separate campuses and colleges and research centers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "multiversity."
- He looked up "multiversity" because he had never seen it before.

---

musette (noun)

A small bagpipe formerly popular in France.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musette."
- He looked up "musette" because he had never seen it before.

---

musette pipe (noun)

A small simple oboe.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musette pipe."
- The article explained what "musette pipe" means with a simple example.

---

myoclonus epilepsy (noun)

Epilepsy characterized by clonus of muscle groups and progressive mental deterioration and genetic origin.

- In class, the teacher used "myoclonus epilepsy" to mean epilepsy characterized by clonus of muscle groups....
- They discussed "myoclonus epilepsy" during the group presentation.

---

nailers (noun)

A worker who attaches something by nailing it.

- In class, the teacher used "nailers" to mean a worker who attaches something by nailing it.
- Understanding "nailers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nasopharynx (noun)

Cavity forming the upper part of the pharynx.

- They discussed "nasopharynx" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "nasopharynx" because he had never seen it before.

---

negress (noun)

A Black woman or girl.

- The article explained what "negress" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "negress" to mean a black woman or girl.

---

nestorians (noun)

A follower of Nestorius.

- Understanding "nestorians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "nestorians" because he had never seen it before.

---

nicknaming (verb)

Give a nickname to.

- He did not know how to use "nicknaming" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "nicknaming" when talking about this idea.

---

nominalism (noun)

(philosophy) the doctrine that the various objects labeled by the same term have nothing in common but their name.

- They discussed "nominalism" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nominalism."

---

nonces (noun)

The present occasion.

- He looked up "nonces" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "nonces" during the group presentation.

---

nopal (noun)

Cactus having yellow flowers and purple fruits.

- He looked up "nopal" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nopal."

---

novocain (noun)

Procaine administered as a hydrochloride (trade name Novocain).

- The article explained what "novocain" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "novocain" to mean procaine administered as a hydrochloride (trade....

---

occiput (noun)

Back part of the head or skull.

- The article explained what "occiput" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "occiput" to mean back part of the head or skull.

---

oilmen (noun)

A worker who produces or sells petroleum.

- Understanding "oilmen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "oilmen" because he had never seen it before.

---

okefenokee swamp (noun)

A large swampy area of northeast Florida and southeast Georgia.

- He looked up "okefenokee swamp" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "okefenokee swamp" during the group presentation.

---

onomatopoeic (adjective)

Of or relating to or characterized by onomatopoeia.

- Onomatopoeic words are imitative of noises.
- The speaker chose "onomatopoeic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

opaline (adjective)

Having a play of lustrous rainbow colors.

- A milky opalescent (or opaline) luster.
- It is useful to describe something as "opaline" when it is having a play of lustrous rainbow colors.

---

optative (noun)

A mood (as in Greek or Sanskrit) that expresses a wish or hope; expressed in English by modal verbs.

- In class, the teacher used "optative" to mean a mood (as in greek or sanskrit) that expresses a....
- The article explained what "optative" means with a simple example.

---

optative mood (noun)

A mood (as in Greek or Sanskrit) that expresses a wish or hope; expressed in English by modal verbs.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “optative mood.”
- They discussed “optative mood” during the group presentation.

---

osteoblast (noun)

A cell from which bone develops.

- Understanding “osteoblast” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “osteoblast” means with a simple example.

---

osteogenesis imperfecta (noun)

Autosomal dominant disorder of connective tissue characterized by brittle bones that fracture easily.

- He looked up “osteogenesis imperfecta” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “osteogenesis imperfecta” to mean autosomal dominant disorder of connective tissue....

---

otis tarda (noun)

Largest European land bird.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “otis tarda.”
- He looked up “otis tarda” because he had never seen it before.

---

outlandishly (adverb)

In an outlandish manner.

- The Bavarian was outlandishly dressed in lederhosen.
- Place “outlandishly” carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

outpointed (verb)

Sail closer to the wind than.

- Can you use “outpointed” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use “outpointed” until he saw an example.

---

overcompensation (noun)

(psychiatry) an attempt to overcome a real or imagined defect or unwanted trait by overly exaggerating its opposite.

- In class, the teacher used “overcompensation” to mean (psychiatry) an attempt to overcome a real or....
- Understanding “overcompensation” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

oxaloacetate (noun)

A salt or ester of oxalacetic acid.

- Understanding “oxaloacetate” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “oxaloacetate” because he had never seen it before.

---

pageboy (noun)

A smooth hair style with the ends of the hair curled inward.

- They discussed “pageboy” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “pageboy” to mean a smooth hair style with the ends of the hair....

---

palindromes (noun)

A word or phrase that reads the same backward as forward.

- In class, the teacher used “palindromes” to mean a word or phrase that reads the same backward as....
- He looked up “palindromes” because he had never seen it before.

---

panfish (noun)

Any of numerous small food fishes; especially those caught with hook and line and not available on the market.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “panfish.”
- He looked up “panfish” because he had never seen it before.

---

patsies (noun)

A person who is gullible and easy to take advantage of.

- They discussed “patsies” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “patsies” because he had never seen it before.

pedagogically (adverb)

In a didactic manner.

- Using "pedagogically" can make your explanation more exact.
- The narrator describes the scene "pedagogically" in the final chapter.

pegmatite (noun)

A form of igneous rock consisting of extremely coarse granite resulting from the crystallization of magma rich in rare elements.

- In class, the teacher used "pegmatite" to mean a form of igneous rock consisting of extremely....
- Understanding "pegmatite" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

penumbral (adjective)

Of or pertaining to the region of partial shadow around an umbra.

- It is useful to describe something as "penumbral" when it is of or pertaining to the region of partial shadow....
- The speaker chose "penumbral" because it captured the feeling precisely.

petrify (verb)

Make rigid and set into a conventional pattern.

- Slogans petrify our thinking.
- In everyday English, people use "petrify" when talking about this idea.

petrolatum (noun)

A semisolid mixture of hydrocarbons obtained from petroleum; used in medicinal ointments and for lubrication.

- The article explained what "petrolatum" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "petrolatum" to mean a semisolid mixture of hydrocarbons obtained from....

phalanxes (noun)

A body of troops in close array.

- He looked up "phalanxes" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "phalanxes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

photoemission (noun)

An emission of photoelectrons (especially from a metallic surface).

- The article explained what "photoemission" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "photoemission" during the group presentation.

phreatic (adjective)

Of or relating to ground water.

- Would you call this situation "phreatic"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "phreatic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

piltdown hoax (noun)

A supposedly primitive man later proven to be a hoax.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "piltdown hoax."
- He looked up "piltdown hoax" because he had never seen it before.

pinochle (noun)

A card game played with a pack of forty-eight cards (two of each suit for high cards); play resembles whist.

- He looked up "pinochle" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pinochle."

pleomorphic (adjective)

Relating to or characterized by pleomorphism.

- Students compared "pleomorphic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "pleomorphic" approach may work better in this case.

plosive (noun)

A consonant produced by stopping the flow of air at some point and suddenly releasing it.

- Understanding "plosive" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "plosive" to mean a consonant produced by stopping the flow of air at....

---

plosive speech sound (noun)

A consonant produced by stopping the flow of air at some point and suddenly releasing it.

- The article explained what "plosive speech sound" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "plosive speech sound" to mean a consonant produced by stopping the flow of air at....

---

plutons (noun)

Large mass of intrusive igneous rock believed to have solidified deep within the earth.

- The article explained what "plutons" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "plutons" to mean large mass of intrusive igneous rock believed to....

---

pneumoconiosis (noun)

Chronic respiratory disease caused by inhaling metallic or mineral particles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pneumoconiosis."
- Understanding "pneumoconiosis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

politicise (verb)

Give a political character to.

- In everyday English, people use "politicise" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "politicise" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

polyatomic (adjective)

Of or relating to a molecule made up of more than two atoms.

- The speaker chose "polyatomic" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "polyatomic" when it is of or relating to a molecule made up of more than....

---

polymerize (verb)

Cause (a compound) to polymerize.

- Learners should practice how to use "polymerize" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "polymerize" when talking about this idea.

---

polyploid (adjective)

Of a cell or organism having more than twice the haploid number of chromosomes.

- A polyploid cell.
- A polyploid species.

---

portuguese escudo (noun)

Formerly the basic monetary unit of Portugal; equal to 100 centavo.

- In class, the teacher used "portuguese escudo" to mean formerly the basic monetary unit of portugal; equal....
- He looked up "portuguese escudo" because he had never seen it before.

---

poseurs (noun)

A person who habitually pretends to be something he is not.

- They discussed "poseurs" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "poseurs" means with a simple example.

---

postured (verb)

Assume a posture as for artistic purposes.

- She postured and made a total fool of herself.
- The coach explained when to use "postured" and when to wait.

---

potentiated (verb)

Increase the effect of or act synergistically with (a drug or a physiological or biochemical phenomenon).

- In everyday English, people use "potentiated" when talking about this idea.

- He did not know how to use "potentiated" until he saw an example.

---

pouched mammal (noun)

Mammals of which the females have a pouch (the marsupium) containing the teats where the young are fed and carried.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pouched mammal."
- He looked up "pouched mammal" because he had never seen it before.

---

poultices (noun)

A medical dressing consisting of a soft heated mass of meal or clay that is spread on a cloth and applied to the skin to treat inflamed areas or improve circulation etc.

- In class, the teacher used "poultices" to mean a medical dressing consisting of a soft heated mass....
- The article explained what "poultices" means with a simple example.

---

prances (verb)

To walk with a lofty proud gait, often in an attempt to impress others.

- The coach explained when to use "prances" and when to wait.
- Can you use "prances" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

prayerbook (noun)

A book containing prayers.

- In class, the teacher used "prayerbook" to mean a book containing prayers.
- The article explained what "prayerbook" means with a simple example.

---

primos (noun)

The principal part of a duet (especially a piano duet).

- In class, the teacher used "primos" to mean the principal part of a duet (especially a piano duet).
- The article explained what "primos" means with a simple example.

---

prodromal (adjective)

Symptomatic of the onset of an attack or a disease.

- Students compared "prodromal" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "prodromal" approach may work better in this case.

---

propagators (noun)

Someone who propagates plants (as under glass).

- Understanding "propagators" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "propagators" during the group presentation.

---

pterodactyls (noun)

Extinct flying reptile.

- Understanding "pterodactyls" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "pterodactyls" to mean extinct flying reptile.

---

purus (noun)

A Brazilian river; tributary of the Amazon River.

- They discussed "purus" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "purus" means with a simple example.

---

purus river (noun)

A Brazilian river; tributary of the Amazon River.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "purus river."
- They discussed "purus river" during the group presentation.

---

pyrus communis (noun)

Old World tree having sweet gritty-textured juicy fruit; widely cultivated in many varieties.

- He looked up "pyrus communis" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "pyrus communis" during the group presentation.

---

rampantly (adverb)

In an uncontrolled and rampant manner.

- Weeds grew rampantly around here.
- He answered "rampantly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

rasher (noun)

A commercially important fish of the Pacific coast of North America.

- The article explained what "rasher" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "rasher" during the group presentation.

---

receptiveness (noun)

Willingness or readiness to receive (especially impressions or ideas).

- He was testing the government's receptiveness to reform.
- This receptiveness is the key feature in oestral behavior, enabling natural mating to occur.

---

recompensed (verb)

Make payment to; compensate.

- In everyday English, people use "recompensed" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "recompensed" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

red dagga (noun)

Relatively nontoxic South African herb smoked like tobacco.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "red dagga."
- The article explained what "red dagga" means with a simple example.

---

referable (adjective)

Capable of being assigned or credited to.

- It is useful to describe something as "referable" when it is capable of being assigned or credited to.
- The speaker chose "referable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

refracts (verb)

Determine the refracting power of (a lens).

- Learners should practice how to use "refracts" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "refracts" until he saw an example.

---

regurgitates (verb)

Eject the contents of the stomach through the mouth.

- The blood regurgitates into the heart ventricle.
- Learners should practice how to use "regurgitates" in real sentences.

---

reimpose (verb)

Impose anew.

- The fine was reimposed.
- The coach explained when to use "reimpose" and when to wait.

---

remits (noun)

The topic that a person, committee, or piece of research is expected to deal with or has authority to deal with.

- In class, the teacher used "remits" to mean the topic that a person, committee, or piece of....
- Understanding "remits" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rescaling (verb)

Establish on a new scale.

- The coach explained when to use "rescaling" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "rescaling" in real sentences.

---

retinues (noun)

The group following and attending to some important person.

- The article explained what "retinues" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "retinues" to mean the group following and attending to some important....

---

retreads (noun)

A used automobile tire that has been remolded to give it new treads.

- In class, the teacher used "retreads" to mean a used automobile tire that has been remolded to....
- They discussed "retreads" during the group presentation.

---

ringtail (noun)

Monkey of Central America and South America having thick hair on the head that resembles a monk's cowl.

- In class, the teacher used "ringtail" to mean monkey of central america and south america having....
- They discussed "ringtail" during the group presentation.

---

ritualised (verb)

Make or evolve into a ritual.

- The coach explained when to use "ritualised" and when to wait.
- Can you use "ritualised" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

ritualist (noun)

An advocate of strict observance of ritualistic forms.

- The article explained what "ritualist" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "ritualist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

romanticist (noun)

An artist of the Romantic Movement or someone influenced by Romanticism.

- The article explained what "romanticist" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "romanticist."

---

rubberised (verb)

Coat or impregnate with rubber.

- Can you use "rubberised" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "rubberised" and when to wait.

---

rumex (noun)

Docks: coarse herbs and shrubs mainly native to north temperate regions.

- The article explained what "rumex" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "rumex" to mean docks: coarse herbs and shrubs mainly native to....

---

saint emilion (noun)

Full-bodied red wine from around the town of Saint Emilion in Bordeaux.

- He looked up "saint emilion" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "saint emilion" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

saint-saens (noun)

French pianist and composer (1835-1921).

- He looked up "saint-saens" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "saint-saens" during the group presentation.

---

sambas (noun)

A form of canasta using three decks of cards and six jokers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sambas."
- Understanding "sambas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

samian ware (noun)

Earthenware made from the reddish-brown clay found on the Aegean island of Lemnos.

- He looked up "samian ware" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "samian ware" during the group presentation.

scampers (verb)

To move about or proceed hurriedly.

- The coach explained when to use "scampers" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "scampers" in real sentences.

scapulae (noun)

Either of two flat triangular bones one on each side of the shoulder in human beings.

- In class, the teacher used "scapulae" to mean either of two flat triangular bones one on each....
- The article explained what "scapulae" means with a simple example.

sclerotinia (noun)

Any fungus of the genus Sclerotinia; some causing brown rot diseases in plants.

- They discussed "sclerotinia" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "sclerotinia" because he had never seen it before.

scuppers (verb)

Put in a dangerous, disadvantageous, or difficult position.

- In everyday English, people use "scuppers" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "scuppers" until he saw an example.

selvage (noun)

The edge of a fabric that is woven so that it will not ravel or fray.

- They discussed "selvage" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "selvage" to mean the edge of a fabric that is woven so that it will....

seminiferous (adjective)

Bearing or producing seed or semen.

- Seminiferous tubules.
- The speaker chose "seminiferous" because it captured the feeling precisely.

sextuplets (noun)

The cardinal number that is the sum of five and one.

- They discussed "sextuplets" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "sextuplets" because he had never seen it before.

shakespeares (noun)

English poet and dramatist considered one of the greatest English writers (1564-1616).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "shakespeares."
- They discussed "shakespeares" during the group presentation.

shanghaied (verb)

Take (someone) against his will for compulsory service, especially on board a ship.

- The men were shanghaied after being drugged.
- The coach explained when to use "shanghaied" and when to wait.

sheepfold (noun)

A pen for sheep.

- In class, the teacher used "sheepfold" to mean a pen for sheep.
- The article explained what "sheepfold" means with a simple example.

shf (noun)

3 to 30 gigahertz.

- The article explained what "shf" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "shf" to mean 3 to 30 gigahertz.

shoaling (verb)

Make shallow.

- Can you use “shoaling” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use “shoaling” and when to wait.

---

shortener (noun)

Any agent that shortens.

- Alcohol is a great shortener of life.
- Understanding “shortener” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

shrikes (noun)

Any of numerous Old World birds having a strong hooked bill that feed on smaller animals.

- They discussed “shrikes” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “shrikes” because he had never seen it before.

---

shuffler (noun)

The card player who shuffles the cards.

- They discussed “shuffler” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “shuffler” to mean the card player who shuffles the cards.

---

silicic acid (noun)

A jellylike substance (hydrated silica).

- They discussed “silicic acid” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “silicic acid.”

---

simas (noun)

Rock that form the continuous lower layer of the earth’s crust; rich in silicon and magnesium.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “simas.”
- Understanding “simas” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

smarted (verb)

Be the source of pain.

- She tried to use “smarted” carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use “smarted” until he saw an example.

---

snakebites (noun)

A bite inflicted by a (venomous) snake.

- The article explained what “snakebites” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “snakebites” during the group presentation.

---

sodalite (noun)

A vitreous mineral consisting of sodium aluminum silicate and sodium chloride in crystalline form; occurs in igneous rocks.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “sodalite.”
- He looked up “sodalite” because he had never seen it before.

---

soleus (noun)

A broad flat muscle in the calf of the leg under the gastrocnemius muscle.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “soleus.”
- The article explained what “soleus” means with a simple example.

---

soleus muscle (noun)

A broad flat muscle in the calf of the leg under the gastrocnemius muscle.

- He looked up “soleus muscle” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “soleus muscle.”

---

splenomegaly (noun)

An abnormal enlargement of the spleen.

- In class, the teacher used “splenomegaly” to mean an abnormal enlargement of the spleen.

- The article explained what "splenomegaly" means with a simple example.

---

spondylolisthesis (noun)

A forward dislocation of one vertebra over the one beneath it producing pressure on spinal nerves.

- In class, the teacher used "spondylolisthesis" to mean a forward dislocation of one vertebra over the one....
- He looked up "spondylolisthesis" because he had never seen it before.

---

spotlessly (adverb)

In a spotless manner.

- Spotlessly clean.
- He answered "spotlessly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

steerer (noun)

A beguiler who leads someone into danger (usually as part of a plot).

- In class, the teacher used "steerer" to mean a beguiler who leads someone into danger (usually....
- He looked up "steerer" because he had never seen it before.

---

stigmatizes (verb)

To accuse or condemn or openly or formally or brand as disgraceful.

- The coach explained when to use "stigmatizes" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "stigmatizes" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

stockinette (noun)

Knit used especially for infants' wear and undergarments.

- The article explained what "stockinette" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stockinette."

---

stockinette stitch (noun)

Knitting stitch having alternate rows of knit stitches and purl stitches, producing a fabric as for stockings.

- In class, the teacher used "stockinette stitch" to mean knitting stitch having alternate rows of knit....
- The article explained what "stockinette stitch" means with a simple example.

---

storekeepers (noun)

A merchant who owns or manages a shop.

- In class, the teacher used "storekeepers" to mean a merchant who owns or manages a shop.
- They discussed "storekeepers" during the group presentation.

---

stubbly (adjective)

Having a short growth of beard.

- A "stubbly" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "stubbly" when it is having a short growth of beard.

---

stuffiness (noun)

The quality of being close and poorly ventilated.

- In class, the teacher used "stuffiness" to mean the quality of being close and poorly ventilated.
- They discussed "stuffiness" during the group presentation.

---

stupefy (verb)

Make senseless or dizzy by or as if by a blow.

- The coach explained when to use "stupefy" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "stupefy" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

sudsy (adjective)

Resembling lather or covered with lather.

- Students compared "sudsy" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "sudsy."

---

superconducting supercollider (noun)

A collider that operates at very low temperatures.

- In class, the teacher used "superconducting supercollider" to mean a collider that operates at very low temperatures.
- The article explained what "superconducting supercollider" means with a simple example.

---

superlatively (adverb)

To a superlative degree.

- The narrator describes the scene "superlatively" in the final chapter.
- He answered "superlatively," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

supernaturals (noun)

Supernatural forces and events and beings collectively.

- They discussed "supernaturals" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "supernaturals" to mean supernatural forces and events and beings collectively.

---

supplants (verb)

Take the place or move into the position of.

- Learners should practice how to use "supplants" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "supplants" and when to wait.

---

swaggered (verb)

To walk with a lofty proud gait, often in an attempt to impress others.

- He did not know how to use "swaggered" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "swaggered" in real sentences.

---

sweetmeat (noun)

A sweetened delicacy (as a preserve or pastry).

- The article explained what "sweetmeat" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "sweetmeat" during the group presentation.

---

syndic (noun)

One appointed to represent a city or university or corporation in business transactions.

- Understanding "syndic" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "syndic" to mean one appointed to represent a city or university or....

---

synergetic (adjective)

Working together; used especially of groups, as subsidiaries of a corporation, cooperating for an enhanced effect.

- A "synergetic" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "synergetic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

tailgaters (noun)

A driver who follows too closely behind another motor vehicle.

- He looked up "tailgaters" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "tailgaters" to mean a driver who follows too closely behind another....

---

taus (noun)

The 19th letter of the Greek alphabet.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "taus."
- He looked up "taus" because he had never seen it before.

---

teju (noun)

Large (to 3 feet) blackish yellow-banded South American lizard; raid henhouses; used as food.

- Understanding "teju" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "teju" to mean large (to 3 feet) blackish yellow-banded south....

---

tenderer (adjective)

Given to sympathy or gentleness or sentimentality.

- A "tenderer" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "tenderer"? Explain why.

---

termes (noun)

Type genus of the Termitidae.

- Understanding "termes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "termes."

---

theogony (noun)

The study of the origins and genealogy of the gods.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "theogony."
- The article explained what "theogony" means with a simple example.

---

thomism (noun)

The comprehensive theological doctrine created by Saint Thomas Aquinas in the 13th century and still taught by the Dominicans.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thomism."
- They discussed "thomism" during the group presentation.

---

thrifts (noun)

Extreme care in spending money; reluctance to spend money unnecessarily.

- He looked up "thrifts" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "thrifts" to mean extreme care in spending money; reluctance to spend....

---

tiberius claudius drusus nero germanicus (noun)

Roman Emperor after his nephew Caligula was murdered; consolidated the Roman Empire and conquered southern Britain; was poisoned by his fourth wife Agrippina after her son Nero was named as Claudius' heir (10 BC to AD 54).

- The article explained what "tiberius claudius drusus nero germanicus" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tiberius claudius drusus nero germanicus" to mean roman emperor after his nephew caligula was....

---

tody (noun)

Tiny insectivorous West Indian bird having red-and-green plumage and a long straight bill.

- He looked up "tody" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tody."

---

tooted (verb)

Make a loud noise.

- Can you use "tooted" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "tooted" and when to wait.

---

tostadas (noun)

A flat tortilla with various fillings piled on it.

- The article explained what "tostadas" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tostadas."

---

transformable (adjective)

Capable of being changed in substance as if by alchemy.

- It is useful to describe something as "transformable" when it is capable of being changed in substance as if by alchemy.
- Students compared "transformable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

trireme (noun)

Ancient Greek or Roman galley or warship having three tiers of oars on each side.

- He looked up "trireme" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "trireme."

---

triremes (noun)

Ancient Greek or Roman galley or warship having three tiers of oars on each side.

- They discussed "triremes" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "triremes" means with a simple example.

turp (noun)

Removal of significant amounts of prostate tissue (as in cases of benign prostatic hyperplasia).

- The article explained what "turp" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "turp" to mean removal of significant amounts of prostate tissue....

turps (noun)

Volatile liquid distilled from turpentine oleoresin; used as paint thinner and solvent and medicinally.

- He looked up "turps" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "turps" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

tussled (verb)

Fight or struggle in a confused way at close quarters.

- The coach explained when to use "tussled" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "tussled" in real sentences.

ulmus rubra (noun)

North American elm having rough leaves that are red when opening; yields a hard wood.

- He looked up "ulmus rubra" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ulmus rubra."

uncomprehending (adjective)

Lacking understanding.

- Tried to explain to her uncomprehending husband.
- Students compared "uncomprehending" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

unforgettably (adverb)

In a memorable manner.

- Place "unforgettably" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- She spoke "unforgettably," and the audience immediately understood her point.

unmercifully (adverb)

Without pity; in a merciless manner.

- Using "unmercifully" can make your explanation more exact.
- He answered "unmercifully," which changed the tone of the conversation.

unobjectionable (adjective)

(of behavior or especially language) free from objectionable elements; fit for all observers.

- Students compared "unobjectionable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unobjectionable."

unreceptive (adjective)

Not receptive.

- It is useful to describe something as "unreceptive" when it is not receptive.
- The speaker chose "unreceptive" because it captured the feeling precisely.

unrelieved (adjective)

Not lessened or diminished.

- Unrelieved suffering.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unrelieved."

unselfconscious (adjective)

Not self-conscious.

- She grew up with him in unselfconscious friendship.
- The speaker chose "unselfconscious" because it captured the feeling precisely.

uremia (noun)

Accumulation in the blood of nitrogenous waste products (urea) that are usually excreted in the urine.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "uremia."
- He looked up "uremia" because he had never seen it before.

---

uvs (noun)

Radiation lying in the ultraviolet range; wave lengths shorter than light but longer than X rays.

- Understanding "uvs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "uvs" to mean radiation lying in the ultraviolet range; wave....

---

vachel lindsay (noun)

United States poet who traveled the country trading his poems for room and board (1879-1931).

- They discussed "vachel lindsay" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "vachel lindsay" means with a simple example.

---

voyaged (verb)

Travel on water propelled by wind or by other means.

- Can you use "voyaged" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "voyaged" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

vulgarly (adverb)

In a smutty manner.

- Place "vulgarly" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- The narrator describes the scene "vulgarly" in the final chapter.

---

wakening (noun)

The act of waking.

- It was an early awakening.
- In class, the teacher used "wakening" to mean the act of waking.

---

wallpapered (verb)

Cover with wallpaper.

- He did not know how to use "wallpapered" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "wallpapered" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

walther hermann nernst (noun)

German physicist and chemist who formulated the third law of thermodynamics (1864-1941).

- Understanding "walther hermann nernst" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "walther hermann nernst" because he had never seen it before.

---

waxwing (noun)

Brown velvety-plumaged songbirds of the northern hemisphere having crested heads and red waxy wing tips.

- They discussed "waxwing" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "waxwing" to mean brown velvety-plumaged songbirds of the northern....

---

weavings (noun)

Creating fabric.

- He looked up "weavings" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "weavings."

---

white-chinned petrel (noun)

Large black petrel of southern seas having a white mark on the chin.

- They discussed "white-chinned petrel" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "white-chinned petrel" to mean large black petrel of southern seas having a white....

---

whittles (verb)

Cut small bits or pare shavings from.

- She tried to use "whittles" carefully so everyone would understand.

- The coach explained when to use “whittles” and when to wait.

---

windjammer (noun)

A large sailing ship.

- Understanding “windjammer” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “windjammer” to mean a large sailing ship.

---

woks (noun)

Pan with a convex bottom; used for frying in Chinese cooking.

- Understanding “woks” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “woks” during the group presentation.

---

wops (noun)

(ethnic slur) offensive term for a person of Italian descent.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “wops.”
- The article explained what “wops” means with a simple example.

---

yhvh (noun)

A name for the God of the Old Testament as transliterated from the Hebrew consonants YHVH.

- The article explained what “yhvh” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “yhvh.”

---

aardvarks (noun)

Nocturnal burrowing mammal of the grasslands of Africa that feeds on termites; sole extant representative of the order Tubulidentata.

- They discussed “aardvarks” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “aardvarks.”

---

acetabular (adjective)

Of the cup-shaped socket that receives the head of the thigh bone.

- It is useful to describe something as “acetabular” when it is of the cup-shaped socket that receives the head of....
- The speaker chose “acetabular” because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

achondroplasia (noun)

An inherited skeletal disorder beginning before birth; cartilage is converted to bone resulting in dwarfism.

- He looked up “achondroplasia” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “achondroplasia.”

---

aconitum (noun)

Genus of poisonous plants of temperate regions of northern hemisphere with a vaulted and enlarged petal.

- In class, the teacher used “aconitum” to mean genus of poisonous plants of temperate regions of....
- The article explained what “aconitum” means with a simple example.

---

acrophobia (noun)

A morbid fear of great heights.

- He looked up “acrophobia” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “acrophobia.”

---

adduce (verb)

Advance evidence for.

- She tried to use “adduce” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “adduce” and when to wait.

---

adnate (adjective)

Of unlike parts or organs; growing closely attached.

- A calyx adnate to the ovary.
- The speaker chose “adnate” because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

adrenocortical (adjective)

Of or derived from the cortex of the adrenal glands.

- It is useful to describe something as "adrenocortical" when it is of or derived from the cortex of the adrenal glands.
- Students compared "adrenocortical" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

adsorbents (noun)

A material having capacity or tendency to adsorb another substance.

- The article explained what "adsorbents" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "adsorbents."

---

affably (adverb)

In an affable manner.

- The narrator describes the scene "affably" in the final chapter.
- Using "affably" can make your explanation more exact.

---

agapanthus (noun)

Any of various plants of the genus Agapanthus having umbels of showy blue to purple flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "agapanthus" to mean any of various plants of the genus agapanthus....
- They discussed "agapanthus" during the group presentation.

---

airlifting (verb)

Fly people or goods to or from places not accessible by other means.

- In everyday English, people use "airlifting" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "airlifting" until he saw an example.

---

aluminate (noun)

A compound of alumina and a metallic oxide.

- In class, the teacher used "aluminate" to mean a compound of alumina and a metallic oxide.
- Understanding "aluminate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

americanize (verb)

Make American in character.

- The year in the US has completely Americanized him.
- After a year in Iowa, he has totally Americanized.

---

anachronistically (adverb)

In an anachronistic manner.

- Let's look at this phenomenon anachronistically.
- Place "anachronistically" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

anaesthetised (verb)

Administer an anesthetic drug to.

- The coach explained when to use "anaesthetised" and when to wait.
- Can you use "anaesthetised" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

anosmia (noun)

Absence of the sense of smell (as by damage to olfactory nasal tissue or the olfactory nerve or by obstruction of the nasal passages).

- In class, the teacher used "anosmia" to mean absence of the sense of smell (as by damage to....
- The article explained what "anosmia" means with a simple example.

---

apparatchiks (noun)

A humorous but derogatory term for an official of a large organization (especially a political organization).

- Democratic apparatchiks.
- The article explained what "apparatchiks" means with a simple example.

---

approachability (noun)

The attribute of being easy to meet or deal with.

- In class, the teacher used "approachability" to mean the attribute of being easy to meet or deal with.
- The article explained what "approachability" means with a simple example.

---

aquae (noun)

A shade of blue tinged with green.

- The article explained what "aquae" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "aquae" during the group presentation.

---

armatures (noun)

Coil in which voltage is induced by motion through a magnetic field.

- Understanding "armatures" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "armatures" to mean coil in which voltage is induced by motion through....

---

arroyos (noun)

A stream or brook.

- The article explained what "arroyos" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "arroyos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

artemisia annua (noun)

Wormwood of southeastern Europe to Iran.

- He looked up "artemisia annua" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "artemisia annua" to mean wormwood of southeastern europe to iran.

---

aspirator (noun)

A pump that draws air or another gas through a liquid.

- The article explained what "aspirator" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "aspirator" to mean a pump that draws air or another gas through a liquid.

---

assignations (noun)

The act of distributing by allotting or apportioning; distribution according to a plan.

- The article explained what "assignations" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "assignations" to mean the act of distributing by allotting or....

---

atrial auricle (noun)

A small conical pouch projecting from the upper anterior part of each atrium of the heart.

- In class, the teacher used "atrial auricle" to mean a small conical pouch projecting from the upper....
- Understanding "atrial auricle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

attenders (noun)

A person who is present and participates in a meeting.

- He looked up "attenders" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "attenders."

---

auks (noun)

Black-and-white short-necked web-footed diving bird of northern seas.

- He looked up "auks" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "auks" during the group presentation.

---

auspiciously (adverb)

In an auspicious manner.

- He started his new job auspiciously on his birthday.
- She spoke "auspiciously," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

aweigh (adjective)

(used of an anchor) hanging clear of the bottom.

- Anchors aweigh.
- A "aweigh" approach may work better in this case.

awes (noun)

An overwhelming feeling of wonder or admiration.

- In class, the teacher used "awes" to mean an overwhelming feeling of wonder or admiration.
- He looked up "awes" because he had never seen it before.

balas (noun)

A pale rose-colored variety of the ruby spinel.

- They discussed "balas" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "balas" means with a simple example.

balas ruby (noun)

A pale rose-colored variety of the ruby spinel.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "balas ruby."
- The article explained what "balas ruby" means with a simple example.

batmen (noun)

An orderly assigned to serve a British military officer.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "batmen."
- Understanding "batmen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

baulked (verb)

Refuse to comply.

- She tried to use "baulked" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "baulked" when talking about this idea.

bermudians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Bermuda.

- He looked up "bermudians" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "bermudians" during the group presentation.

berried (adjective)

Producing or bearing berries.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "berried."
- Students compared "berried" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

besmirching (verb)

Charge falsely or with malicious intent; attack the good name and reputation of someone.

- He did not know how to use "besmirching" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "besmirching" in real sentences.

bevins (noun)

British labor leader and statesman who played an important role in diplomacy after World War II (1884-1951).

- They discussed "bevins" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "bevins" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

bewilders (verb)

Be a mystery or bewildering to.

- Can you use "bewilders" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "bewilders" carefully so everyone would understand.

beys (noun)

(formerly) a title of respect for a man in Turkey or Egypt.

- The article explained what "beys" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "beys" during the group presentation.

biharis (noun)

The Indic language spoken in Bihar (and by some people in Pakistan and Bangladesh).

- In class, the teacher used "biharis" to mean the indic language spoken in bihar (and by some....
- They discussed "biharis" during the group presentation.

---

bindweed (noun)

Any of several vines of the genera Convolvulus and Calystegia having a twining habit.

- In class, the teacher used "bindweed" to mean any of several vines of the genera convolvulus and....
- The article explained what "bindweed" means with a simple example.

---

black bindweed (noun)

Common European twining vine with tuberous roots and cordate leaves and red berries.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "black bindweed."
- He looked up "black bindweed" because he had never seen it before.

---

black salsify (noun)

Perennial south European herb having narrow entire leaves and solitary yellow flower heads and long black edible roots shaped like carrots.

- Understanding "black salsify" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "black salsify" because he had never seen it before.

---

blandishments (noun)

The act of urging by means of teasing or flattery.

- Understanding "blandishments" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "blandishments" means with a simple example.

---

bobwhite quail (noun)

A popular North American game bird; named for its call.

- Understanding "bobwhite quail" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "bobwhite quail" because he had never seen it before.

---

bootmaker (noun)

A maker of boots.

- He looked up "bootmaker" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "bootmaker" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

boutonniere (noun)

A flower that is worn in a buttonhole.

- In class, the teacher used "boutonniere" to mean a flower that is worn in a buttonhole.
- The article explained what "boutonniere" means with a simple example.

---

brassicas (noun)

Mustards: cabbages; cauliflowers; turnips; etc.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brassicas."
- He looked up "brassicas" because he had never seen it before.

---

breastfeeds (verb)

Give suck to.

- She tried to use "breastfeeds" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "breastfeeds" in real sentences.

---

breastworks (noun)

Fortification consisting of a low wall.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "breastworks."
- The article explained what "breastworks" means with a simple example.

---

brummies (noun)

A native or resident of Birmingham, England.

- He looked up "brummies" because he had never seen it before.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brummies."

---

bufo bufo (noun)

Common toad of Europe.

- In class, the teacher used "bufo bufo" to mean common toad of europe.
- They discussed "bufo bufo" during the group presentation.

---

bunkum (noun)

Unacceptable behavior (especially ludicrously false statements).

- He looked up "bunkum" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bunkum."

---

burnable (adjective)

Capable of burning.

- The speaker chose "burnable" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "burnable"? Explain why.

---

bvd (noun)

Trademark for men's underwear.

- He looked up "bvd" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "bvd" during the group presentation.

---

calcifications (noun)

An inflexible and unchanging state.

- He looked up "calcifications" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "calcifications."

---

cants (noun)

A characteristic language of a particular group (as among thieves).

- The article explained what "cants" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cants."

---

carborundum (noun)

An abrasive composed of silicon carbide crystals.

- He looked up "carborundum" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "carborundum" during the group presentation.

---

carboys (noun)

A large bottle for holding corrosive liquids; usually cushioned in a special container.

- They discussed "carboys" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "carboys" means with a simple example.

---

careerists (noun)

A professional who is intent on furthering his or her career by any possible means and often at the expense of their own integrity.

- The article explained what "careerists" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "careerists."

---

carline thistle (noun)

A thistle of the genus Carlina.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carline thistle."
- Understanding "carline thistle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

carnauba (noun)

Brazilian fan palm having an edible root; source of a useful leaf fiber and a brittle yellowish wax.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carnauba."
- They discussed "carnauba" during the group presentation.

---

carnauba palm (noun)

Brazilian fan palm having an edible root; source of a useful leaf fiber and a brittle yellowish wax.

- The article explained what "carnauba palm" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carnauba palm."

carnauba wax (noun)

Hard yellowish to brownish wax from leaves of the carnauba palm used especially in floor waxes and polishes.

- The article explained what "carnauba wax" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carnauba wax."

cartwheeling (verb)

Do cartwheels: perform an acrobatic movement using both hands and feet.

- He did not know how to use "cartwheeling" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "cartwheeling" carefully so everyone would understand.

caryatids (noun)

A supporting column carved in the shape of a person.

- He looked up "caryatids" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "caryatids" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cashbox (noun)

A strongbox for holding cash.

- In class, the teacher used "cashbox" to mean a strongbox for holding cash.
- The article explained what "cashbox" means with a simple example.

castrato (noun)

A male singer who was castrated before puberty and retains a soprano or alto voice.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "castrato."
- He looked up "castrato" because he had never seen it before.

castros (noun)

Cuban socialist leader who overthrew a dictator in 1959 and established a Marxist socialist state in Cuba (born in 1927).

- They discussed "castros" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "castros" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

catalyses (noun)

Acceleration of a chemical reaction induced the presence of material that is chemically unchanged at the end of the reaction.

- The article explained what "catalyses" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "catalyses" to mean acceleration of a chemical reaction induced the....

catholicity (noun)

The beliefs and practices of a Catholic Church.

- They discussed "catholicity" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "catholicity" because he had never seen it before.

chador (noun)

A cloth used as a head covering (and veil and shawl) by Muslim and Hindu women.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chador."
- He looked up "chador" because he had never seen it before.

champagne-ardenne (noun)

A region of northeastern France.

- In class, the teacher used "champagne-ardenne" to mean a region of northeastern france.
- Understanding "champagne-ardenne" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

changan (noun)

A city of central China; capital of ancient Chinese empire 221-206 BC.

- In class, the teacher used "changan" to mean a city of central china; capital of ancient chinese....
- Understanding "changan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

chiasm (noun)

An intersection or crossing of two tracts in the form of the letter X.

- They discussed "chiasm" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chiasm."

---

chickweed phlox (noun)

Low mat-forming herb of rocky places in United States.

- He looked up "chickweed phlox" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "chickweed phlox" to mean low mat-forming herb of rocky places in united states.

---

clammed (verb)

Gather clams, by digging in the sand by the ocean.

- In everyday English, people use "clammed" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "clammed" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

clines (noun)

American geneticist who succeeded in transferring a functioning gene from one mouse to another (born in 1934).

- Understanding "clines" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "clines" means with a simple example.

---

cloches (noun)

A woman's close-fitting hat that resembles a helmet.

- They discussed "cloches" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "cloches" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

coagulating (verb)

Change from a liquid to a thickened or solid state.

- She tried to use "coagulating" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "coagulating" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

coinages (noun)

A newly invented word or phrase.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coinages."
- Understanding "coinages" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

collaborationist (noun)

Someone who collaborates with an enemy occupying force.

- They discussed "collaborationist" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "collaborationist" because he had never seen it before.

---

comfortingly (adverb)

In a comforting or consoling manner.

- One part of a strange world should be given a comfortingly familiar form.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "comfortingly" naturally.

---

commencements (noun)

The time at which something is supposed to begin.

- He looked up "commencements" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "commencements."

---

common carline thistle (noun)

Eurasian thistle growing in sand dunes and dry chalky soils.

- He looked up "common carline thistle" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "common carline thistle" to mean eurasian thistle growing in sand dunes and dry....

common scoter (noun)

A variety of scoter.

- They discussed "common scoter" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "common scoter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

communed (verb)

Communicate intimately with; be in a state of heightened, intimate receptivity.

- The coach explained when to use "communed" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "communed" until he saw an example.

concerti (noun)

A composition for orchestra and a soloist.

- The article explained what "concerti" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "concerti" during the group presentation.

conjuror (noun)

A witch doctor who practices conjury.

- In class, the teacher used "conjuror" to mean a witch doctor who practices conjury.
- He looked up "conjuror" because he had never seen it before.

consignors (noun)

The person who delivers over or commits merchandise.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "consignors."
- He looked up "consignors" because he had never seen it before.

contrastingly (adverb)

In a contrasting manner.

- Contrastingly, both the rooms leading off it gave an immediate impression of being disgraced.
- Using "contrastingly" can make your explanation more exact.

conversationalists (noun)

Someone skilled at conversation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "conversationalists."
- He looked up "conversationalists" because he had never seen it before.

corrida (noun)

A Spanish or Portuguese or Latin American spectacle; a matador baits and (usually) kills a bull in an arena before many spectators.

- Understanding "corrida" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "corrida" to mean a spanish or portuguese or latin american....

cosier (adjective)

Enjoying or affording comforting warmth and shelter especially in a small space.

- The speaker chose "cosier" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "cosier" approach may work better in this case.

counterespionage (noun)

Spying on the spies.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "counterespionage."
- He looked up "counterespionage" because he had never seen it before.

creeping oxalis (noun)

Creeping much-branched mat-forming weed; cosmopolitan.

- The article explained what "creeping oxalis" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "creeping oxalis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cryptogram (noun)

A piece of writing in code or cipher.

- He looked up "cryptogram" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "cryptogram" during the group presentation.

---

culotte (noun)

A divided skirt.

- In class, the teacher used "culotte" to mean a divided skirt.
- They discussed "culotte" during the group presentation.

---

cynosure (noun)

Something that strongly attracts attention and admiration.

- If he was the cynosure of all eyes he didn't notice.
- Let faith be your cynosure to walk by.

---

czestochowa (noun)

A city of southern Poland whose church contains the statue of the black Madonna which attracts many pilgrims.

- In class, the teacher used "czestochowa" to mean a city of southern poland whose church contains the....
- The article explained what "czestochowa" means with a simple example.

---

dapsone (noun)

Antibacterial drug used to treat leprosy and some kinds of skin diseases.

- Understanding "dapsone" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dapsone."

---

debilitation (noun)

Serious weakening and loss of energy.

- In class, the teacher used "debilitation" to mean serious weakening and loss of energy.
- He looked up "debilitation" because he had never seen it before.

---

deltoids (noun)

A large triangular muscle covering the shoulder joint and serving to abduct and flex and extend and rotate the arm.

- He looked up "deltoids" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "deltoids" during the group presentation.

---

dermabrasion (noun)

Removal of scars or tattoos by anesthetizing the skin surface and then sanding or scraping off some of the outer skin layer.

- They discussed "dermabrasion" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "dermabrasion" because he had never seen it before.

---

desalinated (verb)

Remove salt from.

- The coach explained when to use "desalinated" and when to wait.
- Can you use "desalinated" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

desiderius erasmus (noun)

Dutch humanist and theologian who was the leading Renaissance scholar of northern Europe; although his criticisms of the Roman Catholic Church led to the Reformation, he opposed violence and condemned Martin Luther (1466-1536).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "desiderius erasmus."
- He looked up "desiderius erasmus" because he had never seen it before.

---

deviousness (noun)

The quality of being deceitful and underhanded.

- Understanding "deviousness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "deviousness" means with a simple example.

---

diastole (noun)

The widening of the chambers of the heart between two contractions when the chambers fill with blood.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "diastole."

- He looked up “diastole” because he had never seen it before.

---

digitalisation (noun)

The administration of digitalis for the treatment of certain heart disorders.

- They discussed “digitalisation” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “digitalisation” to mean the administration of digitalis for the treatment....

---

digitising (verb)

Put into digital form, as for use in a computer.

- He did not know how to use “digitising” until he saw an example.
- She tried to use “digitising” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

disbar (verb)

Remove from the bar; expel from the practice of law by official action.

- The corrupt lawyer was disbarred.
- He did not know how to use “disbar” until he saw an example.

---

discoid (adjective)

Having a flat circular shape.

- The speaker chose “discoid” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A “discoid” approach may work better in this case.

---

disestablished (verb)

Deprive (an established church) of its status.

- The coach explained when to use “disestablished” and when to wait.
- Can you use “disestablished” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

dishcloth gourd (noun)

Any of several tropical annual climbers having large yellow flowers and edible young fruits; grown commercially for the mature fruit’s dried fibrous interior that is used as a sponge.

- The article explained what “dishcloth gourd” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “dishcloth gourd” to mean any of several tropical annual climbers having....

---

diverticulum (noun)

A herniation through the muscular wall of a tubular organ (especially the colon).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “diverticulum.”
- They discussed “diverticulum” during the group presentation.

---

dodder (noun)

A leafless annual parasitic vine of the genus Cuscuta having whitish or yellow filamentous stems; obtain nourishment through haustoria.

- Understanding “dodder” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “dodder.”

---

dolmens (noun)

A prehistoric megalithic tomb typically having two large upright stones and a capstone.

- He looked up “dolmens” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “dolmens” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dorsiflexion (noun)

The act of bending backward (of the body or a body part).

- In class, the teacher used “dorsiflexion” to mean the act of bending backward (of the body or a body....
- He looked up “dorsiflexion” because he had never seen it before.

---

doubloon (noun)

A former Spanish gold coin.

- Understanding “doubloon” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “doubloon.”

---

doyenne (noun)

A woman who is the senior member of a group.

- He looked up "doyenne" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "doyenne" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

drawbridges (noun)

A bridge that can be raised to block passage or to allow boats or ships to pass beneath it.

- Understanding "drawbridges" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "drawbridges."

dugs (noun)

An udder or breast or teat.

- The article explained what "dugs" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "dugs" during the group presentation.

eaglet (noun)

A young eagle.

- Understanding "eaglet" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "eaglet."

edmond rostand (noun)

French dramatist and poet whose play immortalized Cyrano de Bergerac (1868-1918).

- He looked up "edmond rostand" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "edmond rostand" during the group presentation.

egalitarians (noun)

A person who believes in the equality of all people.

- Understanding "egalitarians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "egalitarians" means with a simple example.

eicosapentaenoic acid (noun)

An omega-3 fatty acid with 20 carbon atoms; found in fish (especially tuna and bluefish).

- They discussed "eicosapentaenoic acid" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "eicosapentaenoic acid" to mean an omega-3 fatty acid with 20 carbon atoms; found....

elasticities (noun)

The tendency of a body to return to its original shape after it has been stretched or compressed.

- They discussed "elasticities" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "elasticities" to mean the tendency of a body to return to its original....

enameling (verb)

Coat, inlay, or surface with enamel.

- She tried to use "enameling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "enameling" and when to wait.

encrusting (verb)

Decorate or cover lavishly (as with gems).

- The coach explained when to use "encrusting" and when to wait.
- Can you use "encrusting" in a sentence that fits this situation?

enfolded (verb)

Enclose or enfold completely with or as if with a covering.

- He did not know how to use "enfolded" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "enfolded" in real sentences.

ennoble (verb)

Confer dignity or honor upon.

- Can you use “ennoble” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use “ennoble” until he saw an example.

---

entailment (noun)

Something that is inferred (deduced or entailed or implied).

- They discussed “entailment” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “entailment” to mean something that is inferred (deduced or entailed or....

---

eulogize (verb)

Praise formally and eloquently.

- The dead woman was eulogized at the funeral.
- The coach explained when to use “eulogize” and when to wait.

---

eumenes (noun)

Mason wasps.

- He looked up “eumenes” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “eumenes” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

exactions (noun)

Act of demanding or levying by force or authority.

- Understanding “exactions” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “exactions” because he had never seen it before.

---

exonerations (noun)

The act of vindicating or defending against criticism or censure etc.

- The article explained what “exonerations” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “exonerations” to mean the act of vindicating or defending against....

---

explicated (verb)

Elaborate, as of theories and hypotheses.

- In everyday English, people use “explicated” when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use “explicated” in real sentences.

---

exponentiation (noun)

The process of raising a quantity to some assigned power.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “exponentiation.”
- He looked up “exponentiation” because he had never seen it before.

---

family poaceae (noun)

The grasses: chiefly herbaceous but some woody plants including cereals; bamboo; reeds; sugar cane.

- In class, the teacher used “family poaceae” to mean the grasses: chiefly herbaceous but some woody....
- He looked up “family poaceae” because he had never seen it before.

---

fatback (noun)

Salt pork from the back of a hog carcass.

- Understanding “fatback” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “fatback.”

---

fiducial (adjective)

Used as a fixed standard of reference for comparison or measurement.

- A fiducial point.
- Fiducial power.

---

field bindweed (noun)

Weakly climbing European perennial with white or pink flowers; naturalized in North America and an invasive weed.

- Understanding “field bindweed” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “field bindweed” during the group presentation.

flairs (noun)

A shape that spreads outward.

- They discussed "flairs" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "flairs" because he had never seen it before.

frigidity (noun)

A lack of affection or enthusiasm.

- They discussed "frigidity" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "frigidity" because he had never seen it before.

frisia (noun)

An ancient region of northwestern Europe including the Frisian Islands.

- Understanding "frisia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "frisia" means with a simple example.

frisians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Friesland or Frisia.

- They discussed "frisians" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "frisians" to mean a native or inhabitant of friesland or frisia.

fula (noun)

A member of a pastoral and nomadic people of western Africa; they are traditionally cattle herders of Muslim faith.

- He looked up "fula" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "fula" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

furl (verb)

Form into a cylinder by rolling.

- In everyday English, people use "furl" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "furl" in real sentences.

futons (noun)

Mattress consisting of a pad of cotton batting that is used for sleeping on the floor or on a raised frame.

- They discussed "futons" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "futons" because he had never seen it before.

gangers (noun)

The foreman of a work gang.

- They discussed "gangers" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "gangers" to mean the foreman of a work gang.

gangways (noun)

A temporary bridge for getting on and off a vessel at dockside.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gangways."
- He looked up "gangways" because he had never seen it before.

gastroenterologists (noun)

A physician who specializes in diseases of the gastrointestinal tract.

- In class, the teacher used "gastroenterologists" to mean a physician who specializes in diseases of the....
- He looked up "gastroenterologists" because he had never seen it before.

gazetteers (noun)

A geographical dictionary (as at the back of an atlas).

- In class, the teacher used "gazetteers" to mean a geographical dictionary (as at the back of an atlas).
- The article explained what "gazetteers" means with a simple example.

gefilte fish (noun)

Well-seasoned balls of ground fish and eggs and crushed crumbs simmered in fish stock.

- In class, the teacher used "gefilte fish" to mean well-seasoned balls of ground fish and eggs and....
- The article explained what "gefilte fish" means with a simple example.

---

genetical (adjective)

Of or relating to the science of genetics.

- Students compared "genetical" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "genetical."

---

genus aconitum (noun)

Genus of poisonous plants of temperate regions of northern hemisphere with a vaulted and enlarged petal.

- Understanding "genus aconitum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "genus aconitum" during the group presentation.

---

genus agapanthus (noun)

Small genus of South African evergreen or deciduous plants; sometimes placed in the family or subfamily Alliaceae.

- Understanding "genus agapanthus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus agapanthus."

---

genus eumenes (noun)

Mason wasps.

- In class, the teacher used "genus eumenes" to mean mason wasps.
- He looked up "genus eumenes" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus hyla (noun)

The type genus of the Hylidae; tree toads.

- In class, the teacher used "genus hyla" to mean the type genus of the hylidae; tree toads.
- They discussed "genus hyla" during the group presentation.

---

genus indri (noun)

Type genus of the Indriidae.

- Understanding "genus indri" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "genus indri" during the group presentation.

---

genus mustela (noun)

Type genus of the family Mustelidae: minks and weasels.

- The article explained what "genus mustela" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "genus mustela" to mean type genus of the family mustelidae: minks and weasels.

---

genus sitta (noun)

Type genus of the Sittidae.

- They discussed "genus sitta" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "genus sitta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

geomancy (noun)

Divination by means of signs connected with the earth (as points taken at random or the arrangement of particles thrown down at random or from the configuration of a region and its relation to another).

- They discussed "geomancy" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "geomancy" because he had never seen it before.

---

germicidal (adjective)

Preventing infection by inhibiting the growth or action of microorganisms.

- The speaker chose "germicidal" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "germicidal" when it is preventing infection by inhibiting the growth or....

---

glenoid fossa (noun)

The concavity in the head of the scapula that receives the head of the humerus to form the shoulder joint.

- Understanding "glenoid fossa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- In class, the teacher used "glenoid fossa" to mean the concavity in the head of the scapula that....

---

gloried (verb)

Rejoice proudly.

- The coach explained when to use "gloried" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "gloried" in real sentences.

---

gluey (adjective)

Having the sticky properties of an adhesive.

- Students compared "gluey" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "gluey."

---

gneisses (noun)

A laminated metamorphic rock similar to granite.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gneisses."
- He looked up "gneisses" because he had never seen it before.

---

golfo de campeche (noun)

A part of the Gulf of Mexico to the west of Yucatan.

- Understanding "golfo de campeche" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "golfo de campeche" during the group presentation.

---

goofiest (adjective)

Ludicrous, foolish.

- It is useful to describe something as "goofiest" when it is ludicrous, foolish.
- The speaker chose "goofiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

goshawks (noun)

Large hawk of Eurasia and North America used in falconry.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "goshawks."
- Understanding "goshawks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

goulds (noun)

United States paleontologist and popularizer of science (1941-2002).

- In class, the teacher used "goulds" to mean united states paleontologist and popularizer of....
- The article explained what "goulds" means with a simple example.

---

grans (noun)

The mother of your father or mother.

- They discussed "grans" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "grans."

---

grimoires (noun)

A manual of black magic (for invoking spirits and demons).

- They discussed "grimoires" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "grimoires" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hamsun (noun)

Norwegian writer of novels (1859-1952).

- He looked up "hamsun" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "hamsun" to mean norwegian writer of novels (1859-1952).

---

handballs (noun)

A small rubber ball used in playing the game of handball.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "handballs."
- The article explained what "handballs" means with a simple example.

---

headboards (noun)

A vertical board or panel forming the head of a bedstead.

- They discussed "headboards" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "headboards" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

hedge bindweed (noun)

Common Eurasian and American wild climber with pink flowers; sometimes placed in genus Convolvulus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hedge bindweed."
- He looked up "hedge bindweed" because he had never seen it before.

homophonic (adjective)

Having a single melodic line with accompaniment.

- Would you call this situation "homophonic"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "homophonic."

homunculi (noun)

A person who is very small but who is not otherwise deformed or abnormal.

- Understanding "homunculi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "homunculi" to mean a person who is very small but who is not otherwise....

honore daumier (noun)

French painter best known for his satirical lithographs of bourgeois society (1808-1879).

- He looked up "honore daumier" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "honore daumier" during the group presentation.

humanising (verb)

Make more humane.

- Can you use "humanising" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "humanising" and when to wait.

hurdlers (noun)

An athlete who runs the hurdles.

- The article explained what "hurdlers" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "hurdlers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

hyla (noun)

The type genus of the Hylidae; tree toads.

- He looked up "hyla" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hyla."

ilx (adjective)

Being nine more than fifty.

- The speaker chose "ilx" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "ilx"? Explain why.

incapacitates (verb)

Make unable to perform a certain action.

- Can you use "incapacitates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "incapacitates" until he saw an example.

incubates (verb)

Grow under conditions that promote development.

- The coach explained when to use "incubates" and when to wait.
- Can you use "incubates" in a sentence that fits this situation?

indri (noun)

Large short-tailed lemur of Madagascar having thick silky fur in black and white and fawn.

- In class, the teacher used “indri” to mean large short-tailed lemur of madagascar having thick....
- The article explained what “indri” means with a simple example.

---

interspersing (verb)

Place at intervals in or among.

- He did not know how to use “interspersing” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “interspersing” and when to wait.

---

ipomoea alba (noun)

Pantropical climber having white fragrant nocturnal flowers.

- Understanding “ipomoea alba” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “ipomoea alba” means with a simple example.

---

ipomoea nil (noun)

Annual Old World tropical climbing herb distinguished by wide color range and frilled or double flowers.

- The article explained what “ipomoea nil” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “ipomoea nil” to mean annual old world tropical climbing herb....

---

irking (verb)

Irritate or vex.

- She tried to use “irking” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “irking” and when to wait.

---

ironworker (noun)

A person who makes articles of iron.

- Understanding “ironworker” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “ironworker.”

---

jabiru (noun)

Large white stork of warm regions of the world especially America.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “jabiru.”
- The article explained what “jabiru” means with a simple example.

---

jauntily (adverb)

In a jaunty fashionable manner.

- His hat sat jauntily on his full brown hair.
- Place “jauntily” carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

jawans (noun)

(India) a private soldier or male constable.

- Understanding “jawans” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “jawans” because he had never seen it before.

---

jives (noun)

A style of jazz played by big bands popular in the 1930s; flowing rhythms but less complex than later styles of jazz.

- They discussed “jives” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “jives” means with a simple example.

---

johann winckelmann (noun)

German archaeologist and art historian said to be the father of archaeology (1717-1768).

- The article explained what “johann winckelmann” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “johann winckelmann” during the group presentation.

---

jook (noun)

A Chinese rice gruel eaten for breakfast.

- The article explained what “jook” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “jook” during the group presentation.

jook house (noun)

A small roadside establishment in the southeastern United States where you can eat and drink and dance to music provided by a jukebox.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jook house."
- He looked up "jook house" because he had never seen it before.

jook joint (noun)

A small roadside establishment in the southeastern United States where you can eat and drink and dance to music provided by a jukebox.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jook joint."
- He looked up "jook joint" because he had never seen it before.

jottings (noun)

A brief (and hurriedly handwritten) note.

- In class, the teacher used "jottings" to mean a brief (and hurriedly handwritten) note.
- He looked up "jottings" because he had never seen it before.

juncos (noun)

Small North American finch seen chiefly in winter.

- He looked up "juncos" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "juncos."

kach (noun)

A terrorist organization founded for Jewish defense; fights antisemitism and hopes to restore the biblical state of Israel.

- They discussed "kach" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "kach" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

kelpies (noun)

An Australian sheepdog with pointed ears.

- They discussed "kelpies" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kelpies."

kittiwake (noun)

Small pearl-grey gull of northern regions; nests on cliffs and has a rudimentary hind toe.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kittiwake."
- He looked up "kittiwake" because he had never seen it before.

kshatriyas (noun)

A member of the royal or warrior Hindu caste.

- They discussed "kshatriyas" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "kshatriyas" because he had never seen it before.

lambdas (noun)

The craniometric point at the junction of the sagittal and lamboid sutures of the skull.

- He looked up "lambdas" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "lambdas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

laxer (adjective)

Lacking in strength or firmness or resilience.

- It is useful to describe something as "laxer" when it is lacking in strength or firmness or resilience.
- Would you call this situation "laxer"? Explain why.

leanness (noun)

The quality of being meager; -George Eliot.

- They discussed "leanness" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "leanness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

legislates (verb)

Make laws, bills, etc. or bring into effect by legislation.

- Can you use "legislates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "legislates" until he saw an example.

---

lesvos (noun)

An island of eastern Greece in the eastern Aegean Sea; in antiquity it was famous for lyric poetry.

- Understanding "lesvos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "lesvos" means with a simple example.

---

levitates (verb)

Be suspended in the air, as if in defiance of gravity.

- He did not know how to use "levitates" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "levitates" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

lexicographical (adjective)

Of or relating to lexicography.

- A "lexicographical" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "lexicographical" when it is of or relating to lexicography.

---

leydig cell (noun)

A cell in the testes that secretes the hormone testosterone.

- In class, the teacher used "leydig cell" to mean a cell in the testes that secretes the hormone....
- The article explained what "leydig cell" means with a simple example.

---

lianas (noun)

A woody climbing usually tropical plant.

- Understanding "lianas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "lianas" during the group presentation.

---

liberalising (verb)

Make liberal or more liberal, of laws and rules.

- In everyday English, people use "liberalising" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "liberalising" in real sentences.

---

libration (noun)

(astronomy) a real or apparent slow oscillation of a moon or satellite.

- The libration of the moon.
- He looked up "libration" because he had never seen it before.

---

lunate (adjective)

Resembling the new moon in shape.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "lunate."
- A "lunate" approach may work better in this case.

---

lunate bone (noun)

One of the eight small wrist bones.

- The article explained what "lunate bone" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lunate bone" to mean one of the eight small wrist bones.

---

madame tussaud (noun)

French modeler (resident in England after 1802) who made wax death masks of prominent victims of the French Revolution and toured Britain with her wax models; in 1835 she opened a permanent waxworks exhibition in London (1761-1850).

- In class, the teacher used "madame tussaud" to mean french modeler (resident in england after 1802) who....
- He looked up "madame tussaud" because he had never seen it before.

---

malignant pustule (noun)

A form of anthrax infection that begins as papule that becomes a vesicle and breaks with a discharge of toxins; symptoms of septicemia are severe with vomiting and high fever and profuse sweating; the infection is often fatal.

- The article explained what "malignant pustule" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "malignant pustule" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

malus fusca (noun)

Small tree or shrub of western United States having white blossoms and tiny yellow or red fruit.

- He looked up "malus fusca" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malus fusca."

---

manipulable (adjective)

Easily managed (controlled or taught or molded); ; - Samuel Butler.

- Students compared "manipulable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "manipulable" when it is easily managed (controlled or taught or molded); ;....

---

marie tussaud (noun)

French modeler (resident in England after 1802) who made wax death masks of prominent victims of the French Revolution and toured Britain with her wax models; in 1835 she opened a permanent waxworks exhibition in London (1761-1850).

- The article explained what "marie tussaud" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "marie tussaud" during the group presentation.

---

matricide (noun)

The murder of your mother.

- He looked up "matricide" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "matricide" during the group presentation.

---

mcguffey eclectic readers (noun)

Readers that combined lessons in reading with moralistic messages.

- He looked up "mcguffey eclectic readers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mcguffey eclectic readers."

---

medial geniculate (noun)

A neural structure that serves as the last of a series of processing centers along the auditory pathway from the cochlea to the temporal lobe of the cerebral cortex.

- They discussed "medial geniculate" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "medial geniculate."

---

medial geniculate body (noun)

A neural structure that serves as the last of a series of processing centers along the auditory pathway from the cochlea to the temporal lobe of the cerebral cortex.

- They discussed "medial geniculate body" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "medial geniculate body" because he had never seen it before.

---

megalith (noun)

Memorial consisting of a very large stone forming part of a prehistoric structure (especially in western Europe).

- The article explained what "megalith" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "megalith" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mermen (noun)

Half man and half fish; lives in the sea.

- Understanding "mermen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "mermen" because he had never seen it before.

---

metazoan (noun)

Any animal of the subkingdom Metazoa; all animals except protozoans and sponges.

- They discussed "metazoan" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "metazoan" to mean any animal of the subkingdom metazoa; all animals....

---

mewes (verb)

Utter a high-pitched cry, as of seagulls.

- He did not know how to use "mewes" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "mewes" when talking about this idea.

mikvah (noun)

(Hebrew) a ritual purification and cleansing bath that Orthodox Jews take on certain occasions (as before Sabbath or after menstruation).

- He looked up "mikvah" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mikvah."

miscalculate (verb)

Calculate incorrectly.

- I miscalculated the number of guests at the wedding.
- He did not know how to use "miscalculate" until he saw an example.

misreads (verb)

Read or interpret wrongly.

- The coach explained when to use "misreads" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "misreads" until he saw an example.

mmpi (noun)

A self-report personality inventory consisting of 550 items that describe feelings or actions which the person is asked to agree with or disagree with; many scales estimating traits and qualities of personality have been developed using MMPI items.

- The article explained what "mmpi" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "mmpi" during the group presentation.

modals (noun)

An auxiliary verb (such as 'can' or 'will') that is used to express modality.

- He looked up "modals" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "modals."

modest mussorgsky (noun)

Russian composer of operas and orchestral works (1839-1881).

- They discussed "modest mussorgsky" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "modest mussorgsky" because he had never seen it before.

molted (verb)

Cast off hair, skin, horn, or feathers.

- In everyday English, people use "molted" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "molted" until he saw an example.

monos (noun)

An acute disease characterized by fever and swollen lymph nodes and an abnormal increase of mononuclear leucocytes or monocytes in the bloodstream; not highly contagious; some believe it can be transmitted by kissing.

- He looked up "monos" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "monos" during the group presentation.

mountebank (noun)

A flamboyant deceiver; one who attracts customers with tricks or jokes.

- Understanding "mountebank" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mountebank."

mousepads (noun)

A small portable pad that provides traction for the ball of a computer mouse.

- They discussed "mousepads" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "mousepads" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

mulligans (noun)

Irish version of burgoo.

- In class, the teacher used "mulligans" to mean irish version of burgoo.
- He looked up "mulligans" because he had never seen it before.

mullioned (adjective)

Of windows; divided by vertical bars or piers usually of stone.

- Mullioned windows.
- The speaker chose "mullioned" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

musculus pectoralis (noun)

Either of two large muscles of the chest.

- The article explained what "musculus pectoralis" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musculus pectoralis."

---

musculus pectoralis major (noun)

A skeletal muscle that adducts and rotates the arm.

- Understanding "musculus pectoralis major" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musculus pectoralis major."

---

musculus pectoralis minor (noun)

A skeletal muscle that draws down the scapula or raises the ribs.

- Understanding "musculus pectoralis minor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "musculus pectoralis minor" means with a simple example.

---

mussorgsky (noun)

Russian composer of operas and orchestral works (1839-1881).

- They discussed "mussorgsky" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "mussorgsky" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mustela (noun)

Type genus of the family Mustelidae: minks and weasels.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mustela."
- He looked up "mustela" because he had never seen it before.

---

myoclonus (noun)

A clonic spasm of a muscle or muscle group.

- They discussed "myoclonus" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "myoclonus" because he had never seen it before.

---

nabob (noun)

A governor in India during the Mogul empire.

- He looked up "nabob" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "nabob" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nacre (noun)

The iridescent internal layer of a mollusk shell.

- They discussed "nacre" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "nacre" because he had never seen it before.

---

namer (noun)

A person who gives a name or names.

- The owner is usually the namer of a boat.
- The article explained what "namer" means with a simple example.

---

nibelung (noun)

(German mythology) a companion or follower of Siegfried.

- In class, the teacher used "nibelung" to mean (german mythology) a companion or follower of siegfried.
- He looked up "nibelung" because he had never seen it before.

---

noisome (adjective)

Causing or able to cause nausea.

- It is useful to describe something as "noisome" when it is causing or able to cause nausea.
- Students compared "noisome" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

norns (noun)

(Norse mythology) any of the three goddesses of destiny; identified with Anglo-Saxon Wyrd; similar to Greek Moirae and Roman Parcae.

- Understanding "norns" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "norns" to mean (norse mythology) any of the three goddesses of....

---

notate (verb)

Put into notation, as of music or choreography.

- Nowadays, you can notate an entire ballet; in the old days, the steps had to be memorized.
- In everyday English, people use "notate" when talking about this idea.

---

nunneries (noun)

The convent of a community of nuns.

- They discussed "nunneries" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "nunneries" to mean the convent of a community of nuns.

---

obligating (verb)

Commit in order to fulfill an obligation.

- Learners should practice how to use "obligating" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "obligating" when talking about this idea.

---

old-womanish (adjective)

Primly fastidious.

- Students compared "old-womanish" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "old-womanish"? Explain why.

---

optic chiasm (noun)

The crossing of the optic nerves from the two eyes at the base of the brain.

- He looked up "optic chiasm" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "optic chiasm" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

opuntia cholla (noun)

Arborescent cacti having very spiny cylindrical stem segments; southwestern United States and Mexico.

- They discussed "opuntia cholla" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "opuntia cholla" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

outfox (verb)

Beat through cleverness and wit.

- She outfoxed her competitors.
- He did not know how to use "outfox" until he saw an example.

---

overenthusiastic (adjective)

Unduly enthusiastic.

- Students compared "overenthusiastic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "overenthusiastic"? Explain why.

---

ovine (adjective)

Of or pertaining to or of the nature of or characteristic of a sheep or sheep.

- A "ovine" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "ovine" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

palatines (noun)

The most important of the Seven Hills of Rome; supposedly the location of the first settlement and the site of many imperial palaces.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "palatines."
- Understanding "palatines" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

paraboloid (noun)

A surface having parabolic sections parallel to a single coordinate axis and elliptic sections perpendicular to that axis.

- The article explained what "paraboloid" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "paraboloid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

paraprofessionals (noun)

A trained worker who is not a member of a profession but who assists a professional.

- In class, the teacher used "paraprofessionals" to mean a trained worker who is not a member of a....
- The article explained what "paraprofessionals" means with a simple example.

parfaits (noun)

Layers of ice cream and syrup and whipped cream.

- In class, the teacher used "parfaits" to mean layers of ice cream and syrup and whipped cream.
- They discussed "parfaits" during the group presentation.

parky (adjective)

Appreciably or disagreeably cold.

- A "parky" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "parky" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

pashas (noun)

A civil or military authority in Turkey or Egypt.

- He looked up "pashas" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pashas."

paternally (adverb)

In a paternal manner.

- He behaves very paternally toward his young bride.
- Place "paternally" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

penology (noun)

The branch of criminology concerned with prison management and prisoner rehabilitation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "penology."
- The article explained what "penology" means with a simple example.

persnickety (adjective)

(used colloquially) overly conceited or arrogant; -Laurent Le Sage.

- They're snobs--stuck-up and uppity and persnickety.
- A persnickety job.

phenylketonuria (noun)

A genetic disorder of metabolism; lack of the enzyme needed to turn phenylalanine into tyrosine results in an accumulation of phenylalanine in the body fluids which causes various degrees of mental deficiency.

- Understanding "phenylketonuria" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "phenylketonuria" because he had never seen it before.

pick's disease (noun)

A progressive form of presenile dementia found most often in middle-aged and elderly women and characterized by degeneration of the frontal and temporal lobes with loss of intellectual ability and transitory aphasia.

- They discussed "pick's disease" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "pick's disease" to mean a progressive form of presenile dementia found most....

pictorially (adverb)

In a pictorial manner.

- Depth is established pictorially.
- She spoke "pictorially," and the audience immediately understood her point.

pieris japonica (noun)

Broad-leaved evergreen Asiatic shrub with glossy leaves and drooping clusters of white flowers.

- The article explained what "pieris japonica" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "pieris japonica" to mean broad-leaved evergreen asiatic shrub with glossy....

pierre teilhard de chardin (noun)

French paleontologist and philosopher (1881-1955).

- He looked up "pierre teilhard de chardin" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pierre teilhard de chardin."

piltdown man (noun)

A supposedly primitive man later proven to be a hoax.

- They discussed "piltdown man" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "piltdown man."

plasm (noun)

The protoplasm of the germ cells that contains chromosomes and genes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "plasm."
- Understanding "plasm" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

poaceae (noun)

The grasses: chiefly herbaceous but some woody plants including cereals; bamboo; reeds; sugar cane.

- He looked up "poaceae" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "poaceae."

polders (noun)

Low-lying land that has been reclaimed and is protected by dikes (especially in the Netherlands).

- They discussed "polders" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "polders" because he had never seen it before.

politicising (verb)

Give a political character to.

- The coach explained when to use "politicising" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "politicising" carefully so everyone would understand.

polychaetes (noun)

Chiefly marine annelids possessing both sexes and having paired appendages (parapodia) bearing bristles.

- The article explained what "polychaetes" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "polychaetes" during the group presentation.

pouched (adjective)

Having a pouch.

- It is useful to describe something as "pouched" when it is having a pouch.
- The speaker chose "pouched" because it captured the feeling precisely.

pouched mole (noun)

Small burrowing Australian marsupial that resembles a mole.

- They discussed "pouched mole" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pouched mole" means with a simple example.

pouched mouse (noun)

Any of numerous small sharp-nosed insectivorous marsupials superficially resembling mice or rats.

- The article explained what "pouched mouse" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "pouched mouse" to mean any of numerous small sharp-nosed insectivorous....

pouched rat (noun)

Burrowing rodent of the family Geomyidae having large external cheek pouches; of Central America and southwestern North America.

- They discussed "pouched rat" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "pouched rat" to mean burrowing rodent of the family geomyidae having....

---

practicability (noun)

The quality of being usable.

- He looked up "practicability" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "practicability" to mean the quality of being usable.

---

precipices (noun)

A very steep cliff.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "precipices."
- He looked up "precipices" because he had never seen it before.

---

predetermine (verb)

Determine beforehand.

- Learners should practice how to use "predetermine" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "predetermine" when talking about this idea.

---

priggish (adjective)

Exaggeratedly proper.

- The speaker chose "priggish" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "priggish" when it is exaggeratedly proper.

---

probabilistically (adverb)

By the use of probability theory.

- We can calculate the position of the particles probabilistically.
- The narrator describes the scene "probabilistically" in the final chapter.

---

professionalisation (noun)

The social process whereby people come to engage in an activity for pay or as a means of livelihood.

- Understanding "professionalisation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "professionalisation" to mean the social process whereby people come to engage in....

---

prohibitory (adjective)

Tending to discourage (especially of prices).

- A "prohibitory" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "prohibitory" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

promethium (noun)

A soft silvery metallic element of the rare earth group having no stable isotope; was discovered in radioactive form as a fission product of uranium.

- In class, the teacher used "promethium" to mean a soft silvery metallic element of the rare earth....
- They discussed "promethium" during the group presentation.

---

proneness (noun)

Being disposed to do something.

- Accident proneness.
- They discussed "proneness" during the group presentation.

---

proscriptions (noun)

A decree that prohibits something.

- They discussed "proscriptions" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "proscriptions."

---

pulitzers (noun)

United States newspaper publisher (born in Hungary) who established the Pulitzer prizes (1847-1911).

- Understanding "pulitzers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "pulitzers" to mean united states newspaper publisher (born in hungary)....

punctum (noun)

(anatomy) a point or small area.

- In class, the teacher used "punctum" to mean (anatomy) a point or small area.
- Understanding "punctum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

purulent pleurisy (noun)

A collection of pus in the lung cavity.

- Understanding "purulent pleurisy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "purulent pleurisy" to mean a collection of pus in the lung cavity.

pushchairs (noun)

A small vehicle with four wheels in which a baby or child is pushed around.

- Understanding "pushchairs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "pushchairs" during the group presentation.

queering (verb)

Hinder or prevent (the efforts, plans, or desires) of.

- Learners should practice how to use "queering" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "queering" when talking about this idea.

radome (noun)

A housing for a radar antenna; transparent to radio waves.

- Understanding "radome" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "radome" during the group presentation.

reabsorb (verb)

Undergo resorption.

- She tried to use "reabsorb" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "reabsorb" when talking about this idea.

rebated (verb)

Give a reduction in the price during a sale.

- Can you use "rebated" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "rebated" when talking about this idea.

rebirths (noun)

A spiritual enlightenment causing a person to lead a new life.

- The article explained what "rebirths" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rebirths."

reciprocals (noun)

Something (a term or expression or concept) that has a reciprocal relation to something else.

- They discussed "reciprocals" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "reciprocals" means with a simple example.

red-berried elder (noun)

Common North American shrub or small tree.

- They discussed "red-berried elder" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "red-berried elder."

reshuffles (noun)

A redistribution of something.

- They discussed "reshuffles" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "reshuffles."

retched (verb)

Eject the contents of the stomach through the mouth.

- In everyday English, people use "retched" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "retched" until he saw an example.

---

retrievals (noun)

The cognitive operation of accessing information in memory.

- The article explained what "retrievals" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "retrievals" to mean the cognitive operation of accessing information in....

---

richard trevithick (noun)

English engineer who built the first railway locomotive (1771-1833).

- Understanding "richard trevithick" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "richard trevithick" to mean english engineer who built the first railway....

---

robitussin (noun)

Trade name of an expectorant that loosens phlegm and makes it easier to cough up.

- Understanding "robitussin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "robitussin."

---

ropers (noun)

A cowboy who uses a lasso to rope cattle or horses.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ropers."
- The article explained what "ropers" means with a simple example.

---

rough bindweed (noun)

Creeping or climbing evergreen having spiny zigzag stems with shiny leaves and racemes of pale-green flowers; Canary Islands to southern Europe and Ethiopia and India.

- They discussed "rough bindweed" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "rough bindweed" means with a simple example.

---

roustabout (noun)

A member of a ship's crew who performs manual labor.

- Understanding "roustabout" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "roustabout" during the group presentation.

---

saccades (noun)

A rapid, jerky movement of the eyes between positions of rest.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "saccades."
- He looked up "saccades" because he had never seen it before.

---

saleslady (noun)

A woman salesperson.

- Understanding "saleslady" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "saleslady" during the group presentation.

---

salsify (noun)

Mediterranean biennial herb with long-stemmed heads of purple ray flowers and milky sap and long edible root; naturalized throughout United States.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "salsify."
- He looked up "salsify" because he had never seen it before.

---

sanatoriums (noun)

A hospital for recuperation or for the treatment of chronic diseases.

- In class, the teacher used "sanatoriums" to mean a hospital for recuperation or for the treatment of....
- The article explained what "sanatoriums" means with a simple example.

---

sanely (adverb)

With good sense or in a reasonable or intelligent manner.

- Speak more sanely about these affairs.

- She is behaving rather sanely these days even though we know she is schizophrenic.

---

saponification (noun)

A chemical reaction in which an ester is heated with an alkali (especially the alkaline hydrolysis of a fat or oil to make soap).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "saponification."
- He looked up "saponification" because he had never seen it before.

---

saudi arabian riyal (noun)

The basic unit of money in Saudi Arabia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "saudi arabian riyal."
- Understanding "saudi arabian riyal" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

savaging (verb)

Criticize harshly or violently.

- She tried to use "savaging" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "savaging" when talking about this idea.

---

sawfish (noun)

Primitive ray with sharp teeth on each edge of a long flattened snout.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sawfish."
- The article explained what "sawfish" means with a simple example.

---

scamps (verb)

Perform hastily and carelessly.

- He did not know how to use "scamps" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "scamps" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

schoolbook (noun)

A book prepared for use in schools or colleges.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "schoolbook."
- He looked up "schoolbook" because he had never seen it before.

---

sclerites (noun)

Hard plate or element of the exoskeleton of some arthropods.

- Understanding "sclerites" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "sclerites" because he had never seen it before.

---

scoter (noun)

Large black diving duck of northern parts of the northern hemisphere.

- Understanding "scoter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "scoter."

---

sculptress (noun)

A woman sculptor.

- Understanding "sculptress" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "sculptress" during the group presentation.

---

scutes (noun)

Large bony or horny plate as on an armadillo or turtle or the underside of a snake.

- The article explained what "scutes" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "scutes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

seamans (noun)

A man who serves as a sailor.

- In class, the teacher used "seamans" to mean a man who serves as a sailor.
- The article explained what "seamans" means with a simple example.

---

sensate (adjective)

Having physical sensation.

- Sensate creatures.
- A "sensate" approach may work better in this case.

---

sensitisation (noun)

The state of being sensitive (as to an antigen).

- They discussed "sensitisation" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "sensitisation" because he had never seen it before.

---

sergei pavlovich diaghilev (noun)

Russian ballet impresario who founded the Russian ballet and later introduced it to the West (1872-1929).

- In class, the teacher used "sergei pavlovich diaghilev" to mean russian ballet impresario who founded the russian....
- The article explained what "sergei pavlovich diaghilev" means with a simple example.

---

sheens (noun)

The visual property of something that shines with reflected light.

- He looked up "sheens" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "sheens" during the group presentation.

---

shewing (verb)

Establish the validity of something, as by an example, explanation or experiment.

- Can you use "shewing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "shewing" when talking about this idea.

---

shinned (verb)

Climb awkwardly, as if by scrambling.

- Can you use "shinned" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "shinned" and when to wait.

---

shirty (adjective)

(British informal) ill-tempered or annoyed.

- The speaker chose "shirty" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "shirty" approach may work better in this case.

---

sholem asch (noun)

United States writer (born in Poland) who wrote in Yiddish (1880-1957).

- The article explained what "sholem asch" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "sholem asch" during the group presentation.

---

sitta (noun)

Type genus of the Sittidae.

- The article explained what "sitta" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "sitta" to mean type genus of the sittidae.

---

slewing (verb)

Move obliquely or sideways, usually in an uncontrolled manner.

- He did not know how to use "slewing" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "slewing" and when to wait.

---

slithery (adjective)

Having a slippery surface or quality.

- Slithery mud.
- Slithery eels.

---

snafus (noun)

An acronym often used by soldiers in World War II: situation normal all fucked up.

- Understanding “snafus” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “snafus.”

---

snake’s head fritillary (noun)

Eurasian checkered lily with pendant flowers usually veined and checkered with purple or maroon on a pale ground and shaped like the bells carried by lepers in medieval times; widely grown as an ornamental.

- Understanding “snake’s head fritillary” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “snake’s head fritillary” to mean eurasian checkered lily with pendant flowers....

---

snooper (noun)

A spy who makes uninvited inquiries into the private affairs of others.

- In class, the teacher used “snooper” to mean a spy who makes uninvited inquiries into the....
- The article explained what “snooper” means with a simple example.

---

sodality (noun)

People engaged in a particular occupation.

- The article explained what “sodality” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “sodality” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

solemnize (verb)

Observe or perform with dignity or gravity.

- The King solemnized this day of morning.
- This ceremony solemnized our hearts.

---

solitudes (noun)

A state of social isolation.

- He looked up “solitudes” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “solitudes.”

---

sorceresses (noun)

A woman sorcerer.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “sorceresses.”
- Understanding “sorceresses” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sorceries (noun)

The belief in magical spells that harness occult forces or evil spirits to produce unnatural effects in the world.

- The article explained what “sorceries” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “sorceries” during the group presentation.

---

spandrel (noun)

An approximately triangular surface area between two adjacent arches and the horizontal plane above them.

- They discussed “spandrel” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “spandrel” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

spooled (verb)

Transfer data intended for a peripheral device (usually a printer) into temporary storage.

- She tried to use “spooled” carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use “spooled” when talking about this idea.

---

spoonbill catfish (noun)

Large catfish of central United States having a flattened head and projecting jaw.

- Understanding “spoonbill catfish” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “spoonbill catfish” means with a simple example.

---

stag’s garlic (noun)

Pungent Old World wild onion.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “stag’s garlic.”
- He looked up “stag’s garlic” because he had never seen it before.

stag's-horn coral (noun)

Large branching coral resembling antlers.

- He looked up "stag's-horn coral" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stag's-horn coral."

staphylococci (noun)

Spherical Gram-positive parasitic bacteria that tend to form irregular colonies; some cause boils or septicemia or infections.

- They discussed "staphylococci" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "staphylococci" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

stepmothers (noun)

The wife of your father by a subsequent marriage.

- Understanding "stepmothers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "stepmothers" because he had never seen it before.

stifler (noun)

A person who stifles or smothers or suppresses.

- He is a real conversation stifler.
- They discussed "stifler" during the group presentation.

stogie (noun)

A cheap cigar.

- The article explained what "stogie" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "stogie" to mean a cheap cigar.

stouter (adjective)

Having rugged physical strength; inured to fatigue or hardships.

- Students compared "stouter" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "stouter."

stows (verb)

Fill by packing tightly.

- Learners should practice how to use "stows" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "stows" when talking about this idea.

straitjackets (noun)

Anything immaterial that severely hinders or confines.

- In class, the teacher used "straitjackets" to mean anything immaterial that severely hinders or confines.
- The article explained what "straitjackets" means with a simple example.

striped killifish (noun)

Black-barred fish of bays and coastal marshes of the Atlantic and Gulf Coast of the United States.

- Understanding "striped killifish" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "striped killifish" because he had never seen it before.

subjectivities (noun)

Judgment based on individual personal impressions and feelings and opinions rather than external facts.

- They discussed "subjectivities" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "subjectivities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

submandibular gland (noun)

A salivary gland inside the lower jaw on either side that produces most of the nocturnal saliva; discharges saliva into the mouth under the tongue.

- The article explained what "submandibular gland" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "submandibular gland" during the group presentation.

sulfamethoxazole (noun)

A sulfonamide (trade name Gantanol) used to treat infections (especially infections of the urinary tract).

- They discussed "sulfamethoxazole" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sulfamethoxazole."

---

sulfonamide (noun)

Antibacterial consisting of any of several synthetic organic compounds capable of inhibiting the growth of bacteria that require PABA.

- They discussed "sulfonamide" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "sulfonamide" means with a simple example.

---

tabes (noun)

Wasting of the body during a chronic disease.

- They discussed "tabes" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "tabes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tackiness (noun)

The property of being cohesive and sticky.

- They discussed "tackiness" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "tackiness" means with a simple example.

---

tardigrades (noun)

An arthropod of the division Tardigrada.

- He looked up "tardigrades" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "tardigrades" to mean an arthropod of the division tardigrada.

---

tartlets (noun)

A small tart usually used as a canape.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tartlets."
- He looked up "tartlets" because he had never seen it before.

---

tartly (adverb)

In a tart manner.

- 'Never mind your immortal soul,' she said tartly.
- He answered "tartly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

teilhard de chardin (noun)

French paleontologist and philosopher (1881-1955).

- The article explained what "teilhard de chardin" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "teilhard de chardin" to mean french paleontologist and philosopher (1881-1955).

---

tenderhearted (adjective)

Easily moved by another's distress; - W.M.Thackeray.

- A noble tenderhearted creature who sympathizes with all the human race.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "tenderhearted."

---

tetrapod (noun)

A vertebrate animal having four feet or legs or leglike appendages.

- The article explained what "tetrapod" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tetrapod."

---

theophany (noun)

A visible (but not necessarily material) manifestation of a deity to a human person.

- He looked up "theophany" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "theophany" during the group presentation.

---

thick-skulled (adjective)

(used informally) stupid.

- It is useful to describe something as "thick-skulled" when it is (used informally) stupid.

- Students compared "thick-skulled" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

tilia americana (noun)

Large American shade tree with large dark green leaves and rounded crown.

- He looked up "tilia americana" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "tilia americana" to mean large american shade tree with large dark green....

---

titus lucretius carus (noun)

Roman philosopher and poet; in a long didactic poem he tried to provide a scientific explanation of the universe (96-55 BC).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "titus lucretius carus."
- The article explained what "titus lucretius carus" means with a simple example.

---

tomatos (noun)

Mildly acid red or yellow pulpy fruit eaten as a vegetable.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tomatos."
- He looked up "tomatos" because he had never seen it before.

---

tomentose (adjective)

Densely covered with short matted woolly hairs.

- A tomentose leaf.
- It is useful to describe something as "tomentose" when it is densely covered with short matted woolly hairs.

---

transfuse (verb)

Treat by applying evacuated cups to the patient's skin.

- Transfuse love of music into the students.
- In everyday English, people use "transfuse" when talking about this idea.

---

treater (noun)

Someone who negotiates (confers with others in order to reach a settlement).

- The article explained what "treater" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "treater" to mean someone who negotiates (confers with others in....

---

trentino-alto adige (noun)

A region of northeastern Italy bordering Austria.

- Understanding "trentino-alto adige" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "trentino-alto adige" means with a simple example.

---

trevithick (noun)

English engineer who built the first railway locomotive (1771-1833).

- They discussed "trevithick" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "trevithick" means with a simple example.

---

tsuga canadensis (noun)

Common forest tree of the eastern United States and Canada; used especially for pulpwood.

- The article explained what "tsuga canadensis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tsuga canadensis" to mean common forest tree of the eastern united states and....

---

tussaud (noun)

French modeler (resident in England after 1802) who made wax death masks of prominent victims of the French Revolution and toured Britain with her wax models; in 1835 she opened a permanent waxworks exhibition in London (1761-1850).

- The article explained what "tussaud" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tussaud."

---

tussles (verb)

Fight or struggle in a confused way at close quarters.

- Can you use "tussles" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "tussles" when talking about this idea.

---

txs (noun)

The second largest state; located in southwestern United States on the Gulf of Mexico.

- The article explained what "txs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "txs" to mean the second largest state; located in southwestern....

---

tyramine (noun)

Amino acid derived from tyrosine; has a sympathomimetic action; found in chocolate and cola drinks and ripe cheese and beer.

- Patients taking MAOIs should avoid foods containing tyramine.
- The article explained what "tyramine" means with a simple example.

---

underactive (adjective)

Abnormally inactive.

- Would you call this situation "underactive"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "underactive" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

undergird (verb)

Make secure underneath.

- Undergird the ship.
- The coach explained when to use "undergird" and when to wait.

---

unfasten (verb)

Cause to become undone.

- Unfasten your belt.
- The shoelaces unfastened.

---

unisexual (adjective)

Relating to only one sex or having only one type of sexual organ; not hermaphroditic.

- It is useful to describe something as "unisexual" when it is relating to only one sex or having only one type of....
- Would you call this situation "unisexual"? Explain why.

---

unmindful (adjective)

(followed by 'to' or 'of') lacking conscious awareness of.

- Not unmindful of the heavy responsibility.
- It is useful to describe something as "unmindful" when it is (followed by 'to' or 'of') lacking conscious....

---

uveal (adjective)

Of or relating to the uvea of the eye.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "uveal."
- Would you call this situation "uveal"? Explain why.

---

vacantly (adverb)

In a vacant manner.

- She was staring vacantly into the room.
- She spoke "vacantly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

vasoconstrictor (noun)

Any agent that causes a narrowing of an opening of a blood vessel: cold or stress or nicotine or epinephrine or norepinephrine or angiotensin or vasopressin or certain drugs; maintains or increases blood pressure.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "vasoconstrictor."
- Understanding "vasoconstrictor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

veau (noun)

Meat from a calf.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "veau."
- He looked up "veau" because he had never seen it before.

---

vena hepatica (noun)

A vein that drains the liver; empties into the vena cava.

- They discussed “vena hepatica” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “vena hepatica.”

---

venders (noun)

Someone who promotes or exchanges goods or services for money.

- The article explained what “venders” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “venders” to mean someone who promotes or exchanges goods or services....

---

ventriloquists (noun)

A performer who projects the voice into a wooden dummy.

- He looked up “ventriloquists” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “ventriloquists” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vilifies (verb)

Spread negative information about.

- Can you use “vilifies” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use “vilifies” until he saw an example.

---

vinca rosea (noun)

Commonly cultivated Old World woody herb having large pinkish to red flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “vinca rosea.”
- They discussed “vinca rosea” during the group presentation.

---

volcanically (adverb)

By or like volcanoes.

- Volcanically created landscape.
- Using “volcanically” can make your explanation more exact.

---

wailer (noun)

A mourner who utters long loud high-pitched cries.

- Understanding “wailer” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “wailer” because he had never seen it before.

---

wangle (noun)

An instance of accomplishing something by scheming or trickery.

- Understanding “wangle” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “wangle” means with a simple example.

---

weepers (noun)

A hired mourner.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “weepers.”
- He looked up “weepers” because he had never seen it before.

---

weil’s disease (noun)

A severe form of leptospirosis in human beings.

- The article explained what “weil’s disease” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “weil’s disease” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

whippersnappers (noun)

Someone who is unimportant but cheeky and presumptuous.

- They discussed “whippersnappers” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “whippersnappers” to mean someone who is unimportant but cheeky and presumptuous.

---

white-rumped shrike (noun)

A butcherbird of western North America; grey with white underparts.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “white-rumped shrike.”
- Understanding “white-rumped shrike” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

whooshed (verb)

Move with a sibilant sound.

- He whooshed the doors open.
- Oil whooshed up when the drill hit the well.

windbreakers (noun)

A kind of heavy jacket (‘windcheater’ is a British term).

- The article explained what “windbreakers” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “windbreakers” to mean a kind of heavy jacket (‘windcheater’ is a british....

windier (adjective)

Not practical or realizable; speculative.

- Students compared “windier” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation “windier”? Explain why.

winker (noun)

Blind consisting of a leather eyepatch sewn to the side of the halter that prevents a horse from seeing something on either side.

- Understanding “winker” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “winker.”

wisconsinites (noun)

A native or resident of Wisconsin.

- He looked up “wisconsinites” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “wisconsinites” during the group presentation.

womanish (adjective)

Having characteristics associated with women and considered undesirable in men.

- Womanish tears.
- It is useful to describe something as “womanish” when it is having characteristics associated with women and....

xenograft (noun)

Tissue from an animal of one species used as a temporary graft (as in cases of severe burns) on an individual of another species.

- Understanding “xenograft” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “xenograft” because he had never seen it before.

yellow salsify (noun)

European perennial naturalized throughout United States having hollow stems with a few long narrow tapered leaves and each bearing a solitary pale yellow flower.

- They discussed “yellow salsify” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “yellow salsify” to mean european perennial naturalized throughout united....

zinnia grandiflora (noun)

Subshrub having short leafy stems and numerous small flower heads with nearly round yellow-orange rays; Arizona south to Mexico and east to Kansas.

- In class, the teacher used “zinnia grandiflora” to mean subshrub having short leafy stems and numerous....
- He looked up “zinnia grandiflora” because he had never seen it before.

aahs (verb)

Express admiration and pleasure by uttering ‘ooh’ or ‘aah’.

- He did not know how to use “aahs” until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use “aahs” in real sentences.

abadan (noun)

A port city in southwestern Iran.

- They discussed “abadan” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “abadan.”

abrade (verb)

Rub hard or scrub.

- Can you use "abrade" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "abrade" when talking about this idea.

---

abutted (verb)

Lie adjacent to another or share a boundary.

- Can you use "abutted" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "abutted" and when to wait.

---

acetylsalicylic acid (noun)

The acetylated derivative of salicylic acid; used as an analgesic anti-inflammatory drug (trade names Bayer, Empirin, and St. Joseph) usually taken in tablet form; used as an antipyretic; slows clotting of the blood by poisoning platelets.

- He looked up "acetylsalicylic acid" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "acetylsalicylic acid" to mean the acetylated derivative of salicylic acid; used....

---

acrolein (noun)

A pungent colorless unsaturated liquid aldehyde made from propene.

- They discussed "acrolein" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "acrolein" means with a simple example.

---

addle (verb)

Become rotten.

- Addled eggs.
- She tried to use "addle" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

addle-head (noun)

A person with confused ideas; incapable of serious thought.

- They discussed "addle-head" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "addle-head" to mean a person with confused ideas; incapable of serious....

---

adjudications (noun)

The final judgment in a legal proceeding; the act of pronouncing judgment based on the evidence presented.

- He looked up "adjudications" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "adjudications."

---

aerialist (noun)

An acrobat who performs in the air (as on a rope or trapeze).

- He looked up "aerialist" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aerialist."

---

agribusinesses (noun)

A large-scale farming enterprise.

- They discussed "agribusinesses" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "agribusinesses" because he had never seen it before.

---

airburst (noun)

An explosion in the atmosphere.

- In class, the teacher used "airburst" to mean an explosion in the atmosphere.
- The article explained what "airburst" means with a simple example.

---

airguns (noun)

A gun that propels a projectile by compressed air.

- They discussed "airguns" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "airguns" because he had never seen it before.

---

aksa martyrs brigades (noun)

A militant offshoot of al-Fatah that is the newest and strongest and best equipped faction active in the West Bank; responsible for many deadly attacks in Israel in 2002.

- They discussed "aksa martyrs brigades" during the group presentation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aksa martyrs brigades."

al-aksa martyrs brigades (noun)

A militant offshoot of al-Fatah that is the newest and strongest and best equipped faction active in the West Bank; responsible for many deadly attacks in Israel in 2002.

- The article explained what "al-aksa martyrs brigades" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "al-aksa martyrs brigades" to mean a militant offshoot of al-fatah that is the newest....

alexandrians (noun)

A resident or native of Alexandria (especially Alexandria in Egypt).

- Understanding "alexandrians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "alexandrians" because he had never seen it before.

alnico (noun)

Trade name for an alloy used to make high-energy permanent magnets; contains aluminum and iron and nickel plus cobalt or copper or titanium.

- In class, the teacher used "alnico" to mean trade name for an alloy used to make high-energy....
- Understanding "alnico" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

american bog asphodel (noun)

Of the eastern United States: New Jersey to South Carolina.

- He looked up "american bog asphodel" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "american bog asphodel" during the group presentation.

anoints (verb)

Choose by or as if by divine intervention.

- She tried to use "anoints" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "anoints" and when to wait.

anthropometry (noun)

Measurement and study of the human body and its parts and capacities.

- Understanding "anthropometry" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anthropometry."

anticyclone (noun)

(meteorology) winds spiraling outward from a high pressure center; circling clockwise in the northern hemisphere and counterclockwise in the southern.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anticyclone."
- The article explained what "anticyclone" means with a simple example.

anton pavlovich chekov (noun)

Russian dramatist whose plays are concerned with the difficulty of communication between people (1860-1904).

- In class, the teacher used "anton pavlovich chekov" to mean russian dramatist whose plays are concerned with....
- Understanding "anton pavlovich chekov" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

aquitania (noun)

A region of southwestern France between Bordeaux and the Pyrenees.

- The article explained what "aquitania" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aquitania."

armiger (noun)

A nobleman entitled to bear heraldic arms.

- They discussed "armiger" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "armiger" to mean a nobleman entitled to bear heraldic arms.

arrogate (verb)

Demand as being one's due or property; assert one's right or title to.

- Can you use "arrogate" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "arrogate" and when to wait.

assayer (noun)

An analyst who assays (performs chemical tests on) metals.

- He looked up "assayer" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "assayer."

---

auctioneering (verb)

Sell at an auction.

- In everyday English, people use "auctioneering" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "auctioneering" in real sentences.

---

babas (noun)

A small cake leavened with yeast.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "babas."
- He looked up "babas" because he had never seen it before.

---

bachelorhood (noun)

The time of a man's life prior to marriage.

- He looked up "bachelorhood" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bachelorhood."

---

bacillus anthracis (noun)

A species of bacillus that causes anthrax in humans and in animals (cattle and swine and sheep and rabbits and mice and guinea pigs); can be used a bioweapon.

- In class, the teacher used "bacillus anthracis" to mean a species of bacillus that causes anthrax in humans....
- The article explained what "bacillus anthracis" means with a simple example.

---

backings (noun)

The act of providing approval and support.

- In class, the teacher used "backings" to mean the act of providing approval and support.
- The article explained what "backings" means with a simple example.

---

bagful (noun)

The quantity that a bag will hold.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bagful."
- He looked up "bagful" because he had never seen it before.

---

ballgames (noun)

A particular situation that is radically different from the preceding situation.

- In class, the teacher used "ballgames" to mean a particular situation that is radically different....
- The article explained what "ballgames" means with a simple example.

---

barbadians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Barbados.

- They discussed "barbadians" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "barbadians" because he had never seen it before.

---

baseness (noun)

Unworthiness by virtue of lacking higher values.

- In class, the teacher used "baseness" to mean unworthiness by virtue of lacking higher values.
- He looked up "baseness" because he had never seen it before.

---

battle of ivry (noun)

A battle (1590) in which the Huguenots under Henry IV defeated the Catholics under the duke of Mayenne.

- The article explained what "battle of ivry" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "battle of ivry" to mean a battle (1590) in which the huguenots under henry....

---

berberis canadensis (noun)

Deciduous shrub of eastern North America whose leaves turn scarlet in autumn and having racemes of yellow flowers followed by ellipsoid glossy red berries.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “berberis canadensis.”
- The article explained what “berberis canadensis” means with a simple example.

---

bines (noun)

European twining plant whose flowers are used chiefly to flavor malt liquors; cultivated in America.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “bines.”
- They discussed “bines” during the group presentation.

---

bitingly (adverb)

Extremely and sharply.

- She spoke “bitingly,” and the audience immediately understood her point.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include “bitingly” naturally.

---

blackcap raspberry (noun)

Raspberry native to eastern North America having black thimble-shaped fruit.

- They discussed “blackcap raspberry” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “blackcap raspberry” means with a simple example.

---

blackleg (verb)

Take the place of work of someone on strike.

- He did not know how to use “blackleg” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “blackleg” and when to wait.

---

bludgeons (verb)

Overcome or coerce as if by using a heavy club.

- In everyday English, people use “bludgeons” when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use “bludgeons” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

bog asphodel (noun)

Either of two herbaceous rushlike bog plants having small yellow flowers and grasslike leaves; north temperate regions.

- He looked up “bog asphodel” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “bog asphodel” to mean either of two herbaceous rushlike bog plants having....

---

bonks (verb)

Have sexual intercourse with.

- Can you use “bonks” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use “bonks” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

bookclub (noun)

A club that people join in order to buy selected books at reduced prices.

- The article explained what “bookclub” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “bookclub” to mean a club that people join in order to buy selected....

---

bostons (noun)

State capital and largest city of Massachusetts; a major center for banking and financial services.

- Understanding “bostons” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “bostons.”

---

browbeating (verb)

Discourage or frighten with threats or a domineering manner; intimidate.

- She tried to use “browbeating” carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use “browbeating” until he saw an example.

---

brownouts (noun)

Darkness resulting from the extinction of lights (as in a city invisible to enemy aircraft).

- The article explained what “brownouts” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “brownouts” to mean darkness resulting from the extinction of lights....

brumaire (noun)

Second month of the Revolutionary calendar (October and November); the month of mist.

- The article explained what "brumaire" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "brumaire" during the group presentation.

bugbears (noun)

An object of dread or apprehension; ; –Ralph Waldo Emerson.

- The article explained what "bugbears" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "bugbears" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

bullshits (verb)

Speak insincerely or without regard for facts or truths.

- She tried to use "bullshits" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "bullshits" in a sentence that fits this situation?

caboodle (noun)

Any collection in its entirety.

- She bought the whole caboodle.
- The article explained what "caboodle" means with a simple example.

callused (verb)

Cause a callus to form on.

- The long march had callused his feet.
- His foot callused.

canape (noun)

An appetizer consisting usually of a thin slice of bread or toast spread with caviar or cheese or other savory food.

- He looked up "canape" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "canape" during the group presentation.

candelabras (noun)

Branched candlestick; ornamental; has several lights.

- Understanding "candelabras" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "candelabras."

candelabrum (noun)

Branched candlestick; ornamental; has several lights.

- He looked up "candelabrum" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "candelabrum."

capybaras (noun)

Pig-sized tailless South American amphibious rodent with partly webbed feet; largest living rodent.

- Understanding "capybaras" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "capybaras" to mean pig-sized tailless south american amphibious rodent....

caryatid (noun)

A supporting column carved in the shape of a person.

- The article explained what "caryatid" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "caryatid" to mean a supporting column carved in the shape of a person.

cautiousness (noun)

The trait of being cautious; being attentive to possible danger.

- He looked up "cautiousness" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cautiousness."

centrex (noun)

(CENTRal EXchange) a kind of telephone exchange.

- They discussed "centrex" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "centrex" because he had never seen it before.

---

chapmans (noun)

United States pioneer who planted apple trees as he traveled (1774-1845).

- The article explained what "chapmans" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "chapmans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

checkmated (verb)

Place an opponent's king under an attack from which it cannot escape and thus ending the game.

- Kasparov checkmated his opponent after only a few moves.
- Can you use "checkmated" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

chicot (noun)

Handsome tree of central and eastern North America having large bipinnate leaves and green-white flowers followed by large woody brown pods whose seeds are used as a coffee substitute.

- He looked up "chicot" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "chicot" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

chiggers (noun)

Small tropical flea; the fertile female burrows under the skin of the host including humans.

- He looked up "chiggers" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "chiggers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ciliated protozoan (noun)

A protozoan with a microscopic appendage extending from the surface of the cell.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ciliated protozoan."
- The article explained what "ciliated protozoan" means with a simple example.

---

circumcising (verb)

Cut the foreskin off male babies or teenage boys.

- She tried to use "circumcising" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "circumcising" in real sentences.

---

circumstantially (adverb)

Insofar as the circumstances are concerned.

- The account was circumstantially accurate.
- He was convicted circumstantially.

---

clathrate (adjective)

Having a latticelike structure pierced with holes or windows.

- Students compared "clathrate" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "clathrate" when it is having a latticelike structure pierced with holes....

---

claver (verb)

Talk socially without exchanging too much information.

- Can you use "claver" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "claver" when talking about this idea.

---

clomipramine (noun)

A tricyclic antidepressant drug.

- Understanding "clomipramine" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "clomipramine" to mean a tricyclic antidepressant drug.

---

clothings (noun)

A covering designed to be worn on a person's body.

- They discussed "clothings" during the group presentation.

- He looked up “clothings” because he had never seen it before.

---

clubroom (noun)

A room used for the activities of a club.

- The article explained what “clubroom” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “clubroom.”

---

collagenase (noun)

Any enzyme that catalyzes the hydrolysis of collagen and gelatin.

- He looked up “collagenase” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “collagenase.”

---

common spoonbill (noun)

Pure white crested spoonbill of southern Eurasia and northeastern Africa.

- The article explained what “common spoonbill” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “common spoonbill” to mean pure white crested spoonbill of southern eurasia....

---

concatenate (verb)

Add by linking or joining so as to form a chain or series.

- Concatenate terms.
- Concatenate characters.

---

consanguineous (adjective)

Related by blood.

- The speaker chose “consanguineous” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as “consanguineous” when it is related by blood.

---

contrariwise (adverb)

With the order reversed.

- Place “contrariwise” carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- The narrator describes the scene “contrariwise” in the final chapter.

---

conventionality (noun)

Orthodoxy as a consequence of being conventional.

- In class, the teacher used “conventionality” to mean orthodoxy as a consequence of being conventional.
- They discussed “conventionality” during the group presentation.

---

corduroys (noun)

Cotton trousers made of corduroy cloth.

- In class, the teacher used “corduroys” to mean cotton trousers made of corduroy cloth.
- He looked up “corduroys” because he had never seen it before.

---

coronoid process (noun)

A sharp triangular process projecting from a bone.

- He looked up “coronoid process” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “coronoid process.”

---

countercurrent (noun)

Actions counter to the main group activity.

- The article explained what “countercurrent” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “countercurrent” to mean actions counter to the main group activity.

---

coursers (noun)

A huntsman who hunts small animals with fast dogs that use sight rather than scent to follow their prey.

- He looked up “coursers” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “coursers” during the group presentation.

---

cowbird (noun)

North American blackbird that follows cattle and lays eggs in other birds' nests.

- Understanding "cowbird" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cowbird."

---

cowslip (noun)

Swamp plant of Europe and North America having bright yellow flowers resembling buttercups.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cowslip."
- They discussed "cowslip" during the group presentation.

---

cravats (noun)

Neckwear worn in a slipknot with long ends overlapping vertically in front.

- In class, the teacher used "cravats" to mean neckwear worn in a slipknot with long ends....
- The article explained what "cravats" means with a simple example.

---

crucifixions (noun)

The infliction of extremely painful punishment or suffering.

- In class, the teacher used "crucifixions" to mean the infliction of extremely painful punishment or....
- He looked up "crucifixions" because he had never seen it before.

---

cufflink (noun)

Jewelry consisting of one of a pair of linked buttons used to fasten the cuffs of a shirt.

- He looked up "cufflink" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cufflink."

---

curate cycloid (noun)

A cycloid generated by a point inside the rolling circle.

- The article explained what "curate cycloid" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "curate cycloid" to mean a cycloid generated by a point inside the rolling....

---

cygnets (noun)

A young swan.

- The article explained what "cygnets" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "cygnets" during the group presentation.

---

dadaism (noun)

A nihilistic art movement (especially in painting) that flourished in Europe early in the 20th century; based on irrationality and negation of the accepted laws of beauty.

- The article explained what "dadaism" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "dadaism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

daguerreotypes (noun)

A photograph made by an early photographic process; the image was produced on a silver plate sensitized to iodine and developed in mercury vapor.

- They discussed "daguerreotypes" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "daguerreotypes" to mean a photograph made by an early photographic process;....

---

decapitations (noun)

Execution by cutting off the victim's head.

- He looked up "decapitations" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "decapitations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

decidua (noun)

The epithelial tissue of the endometrium.

- They discussed "decidua" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "decidua."

---

declamatory (adjective)

Ostentatiously lofty in style.

- The speaker chose "declamatory" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "declamatory"? Explain why.

---

defroster (noun)

Heater that removes ice or frost (as from a windshield or a refrigerator or the wings of an airplane).

- Understanding "defroster" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "defroster" because he had never seen it before.

---

delineations (noun)

A graphic or vivid verbal description.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "delineations."
- They discussed "delineations" during the group presentation.

---

demobbed (verb)

Retire from military service.

- She tried to use "demobbed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "demobbed" when talking about this idea.

---

desalinization (noun)

The removal of salt (especially from sea water).

- Understanding "desalinization" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "desalinization" during the group presentation.

---

descender (noun)

A lowercase letter that has a part extending below other lowercase letters.

- They discussed "descender" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "descender" because he had never seen it before.

---

devilry (noun)

Reckless or malicious behavior that causes discomfort or annoyance in others.

- They discussed "devilry" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "devilry" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dextral (adjective)

Preferring to use right foot or hand or eye.

- Dextral individuals exhibit dominance of the right hand and eye.
- It is useful to describe something as "dextral" when it is preferring to use right foot or hand or eye.

---

dextroamphetamine sulphate (noun)

An isomer of amphetamine (trade name Dexedrine) used as a central nervous system stimulant.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dextroamphetamine sulphate."
- He looked up "dextroamphetamine sulphate" because he had never seen it before.

---

dilettantes (noun)

An amateur who engages in an activity without serious intentions and who pretends to have knowledge.

- The article explained what "dilettantes" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "dilettantes" during the group presentation.

---

dimity (noun)

A strong cotton fabric with a raised pattern; used for bedcovers and curtains.

- Understanding "dimity" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dimity."

---

dins (verb)

Instill (into a person) by constant repetition.

- The coach explained when to use "dins" and when to wait.
- Can you use "dins" in a sentence that fits this situation?

diplopia (noun)

Visual impairment in which an object is seen as two objects.

- Diplopia often disappears when one eye is covered.
- He looked up "diplopia" because he had never seen it before.

discreditable (adjective)

Tending to bring discredit or disrepute; blameworthy.

- His marks were not at all discreditable.
- The speaker chose "discreditable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

disillusioning (adjective)

Freeing from illusion or false belief.

- A "disillusioning" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "disillusioning"? Explain why.

diskettes (noun)

A small plastic magnetic disk enclosed in a stiff envelope with a radial slit; used to store data or programs for a microcomputer.

- He looked up "diskettes" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "diskettes" during the group presentation.

dislocates (verb)

Put out of its usual place, position, or relationship.

- He did not know how to use "dislocates" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "dislocates" carefully so everyone would understand.

disorganisation (noun)

The disturbance of a systematic arrangement causing disorder and confusion.

- In class, the teacher used "disorganisation" to mean the disturbance of a systematic arrangement causing....
- The article explained what "disorganisation" means with a simple example.

drosera (noun)

The type genus of Droseraceae including many low bog-inhabiting insectivorous plants.

- Understanding "drosera" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "drosera" during the group presentation.

drupe (noun)

Fleshy indehiscent fruit with a single seed: e.g. almond; peach; plum; cherry; elderberry; olive; jujube.

- He looked up "drupe" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "drupe" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

duckbill (noun)

Primitive fish of the Mississippi valley having a long paddle-shaped snout.

- Understanding "duckbill" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "duckbill" during the group presentation.

duple (adjective)

Consisting of or involving two parts or components usually in pairs.

- Duple (or double) time consists of two (or a multiple of two) beats to a measure.
- Students compared "duple" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

duple time (noun)

Musical time with two beats in each bar.

- They discussed "duple time" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "duple time" because he had never seen it before.

ebonite (noun)

A hard nonresilient rubber formed by vulcanizing natural rubber.

- He looked up "ebonite" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "ebonite" to mean a hard nonresilient rubber formed by vulcanizing....

---

echidnas (noun)

A burrowing monotreme mammal covered with spines and having a long snout and claws for hunting ants and termites; native to Australia.

- The article explained what "echidnas" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "echidnas" to mean a burrowing monotreme mammal covered with spines....

---

enchanters (noun)

A sorcerer or magician.

- They discussed "enchanters" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "enchanters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

endogamy (noun)

Marriage within one's own tribe or group as required by custom or law.

- In class, the teacher used "endogamy" to mean marriage within one's own tribe or group as....
- He looked up "endogamy" because he had never seen it before.

---

endogenously (adverb)

In an endogenous manner.

- He answered "endogenously," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- The narrator describes the scene "endogenously" in the final chapter.

---

enteroviruses (noun)

Any of a group of picornaviruses that infect the gastrointestinal tract and can spread to other areas (especially the nervous system).

- He looked up "enteroviruses" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "enteroviruses."

---

epilator (noun)

A cosmetic for temporary removal of undesired hair.

- In class, the teacher used "epilator" to mean a cosmetic for temporary removal of undesired hair.
- The article explained what "epilator" means with a simple example.

---

eschaton (noun)

(New Testament) day at the end of time following Armageddon when God will decree the fates of all individual humans according to the good and evil of their earthly lives.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "eschaton."
- He looked up "eschaton" because he had never seen it before.

---

euclid's axiom (noun)

(mathematics) any of five axioms that are generally recognized as the basis for Euclidean geometry.

- Understanding "euclid's axiom" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "euclid's axiom" means with a simple example.

---

euclid's fifth axiom (noun)

Only one line can be drawn through a point parallel to another line.

- They discussed "euclid's fifth axiom" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "euclid's fifth axiom."

---

euclid's first axiom (noun)

A straight line can be drawn between any two points.

- He looked up "euclid's first axiom" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "euclid's first axiom" to mean a straight line can be drawn between any two points.

---

euclid's fourth axiom (noun)

All right angles are equal.

- Understanding "euclid's fourth axiom" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- He looked up "euclid's fourth axiom" because he had never seen it before.

---

euclid's second axiom (noun)

Any terminated straight line can be projected indefinitely.

- He looked up "euclid's second axiom" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "euclid's second axiom" during the group presentation.

---

euclid's third axiom (noun)

A circle with any radius can be drawn around any point.

- The article explained what "euclid's third axiom" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "euclid's third axiom" to mean a circle with any radius can be drawn around any point.

---

european bog asphodel (noun)

Of western Europe: Scandinavia to northern Spain and Portugal.

- They discussed "european bog asphodel" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "european bog asphodel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

excepts (verb)

Prevent from being included or considered or accepted.

- She tried to use "excepts" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "excepts" and when to wait.

---

fames (noun)

The state or quality of being widely honored and acclaimed.

- Understanding "fames" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "fames" because he had never seen it before.

---

family rosaceae (noun)

A large family of dicotyledonous plants of order Rosales; have alternate leaves and five-petaled flowers with numerous stamens.

- The article explained what "family rosaceae" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "family rosaceae" to mean a large family of dicotyledonous plants of order....

---

fast of gedaliah (noun)

(Judaism) a minor fast day on Tishri 3 that commemorates the killing of the Jewish governor of Judah.

- He looked up "fast of gedaliah" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "fast of gedaliah" to mean (judaism) a minor fast day on tishri 3 that....

---

fast of tammuz (noun)

(Judaism) a minor fast day on Tammuz 17 when the walls of Jerusalem were breached.

- The article explained what "fast of tammuz" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fast of tammuz."

---

fibular vein (noun)

Accompany the peroneal arteries; arising in the heel and running up the back of the leg to join the posterior tibial veins of the popliteal vein.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fibular vein."
- The article explained what "fibular vein" means with a simple example.

---

finitude (noun)

The quality of being finite.

- He looked up "finitude" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "finitude" during the group presentation.

---

floatplane (noun)

A seaplane equipped with pontoons for landing or taking off from water.

- In class, the teacher used "floatplane" to mean a seaplane equipped with pontoons for landing or....
- He looked up "floatplane" because he had never seen it before.

---

footnoted (verb)

Add explanatory notes to or supply with critical comments.

- Learners should practice how to use "footnoted" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "footnoted" until he saw an example.

---

footpads (noun)

A highwayman who robs on foot.

- In class, the teacher used "footpads" to mean a highwayman who robs on foot.
- The article explained what "footpads" means with a simple example.

---

footplate (noun)

The platform in the cab of a locomotive on which the engineer stands to operate the controls.

- Understanding "footplate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "footplate" because he had never seen it before.

---

forbears (noun)

A person from whom you are descended.

- In class, the teacher used "forbears" to mean a person from whom you are descended.
- He looked up "forbears" because he had never seen it before.

---

fores (noun)

Front part of a vessel or aircraft.

- The article explained what "fores" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "fores" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

forewarn (verb)

Warn in advance or beforehand; give an early warning.

- I forewarned him of the trouble that would arise if he showed up at his ex-wife's house.
- The coach explained when to use "forewarn" and when to wait.

---

formalising (verb)

Make formal or official.

- In everyday English, people use "formalising" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "formalising" in real sentences.

---

foxgloves (noun)

Any of several plants of the genus Digitalis.

- They discussed "foxgloves" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "foxgloves."

---

foxhunting (verb)

Hunt foxes, on horseback and with dogs.

- Learners should practice how to use "foxhunting" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "foxhunting" until he saw an example.

---

freemans (noun)

A person who is not a serf or a slave.

- The article explained what "freemans" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "freemans" to mean a person who is not a serf or a slave.

---

fringilla (noun)

Type genus of the Fringillidae: chaffinch, brambling.

- He looked up "fringilla" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "fringilla" to mean type genus of the fringillidae: chaffinch, brambling.

---

frolicked (verb)

Play boisterously.

- The children frolicked in the garden.
- He did not know how to use "frolicked" until he saw an example.

---

funkiest (adjective)

Stylish and modern in an unconventional way.

- The speaker chose "funkiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "funkiest"? Explain why.

---

fusses (noun)

An excited state of agitation.

- They discussed "fusses" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "fusses" means with a simple example.

---

gamow (noun)

United States physicist (born in Russia) who was a proponent of the big-bang theory and who did research in radioactivity and suggested the triplet code for DNA (1904-1968).

- They discussed "gamow" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gamow."

---

gatecrasher (noun)

Someone who gets in (to a party) without an invitation or without paying.

- The article explained what "gatecrasher" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gatecrasher" to mean someone who gets in (to a party) without an....

---

geniculate (adjective)

Bent at a sharp angle.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "geniculate."
- The speaker chose "geniculate" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

geniculate body (noun)

One of four small oval masses that protrude slightly from the underside of the thalamus and function as synaptic centers on the way to the cerebral cortex.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "geniculate body."
- They discussed "geniculate body" during the group presentation.

---

genus drosera (noun)

The type genus of Droseraceae including many low bog-inhabiting insectivorous plants.

- He looked up "genus drosera" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus drosera."

---

genus fringilla (noun)

Type genus of the Fringillidae: chaffinch, brambling.

- In class, the teacher used "genus fringilla" to mean type genus of the fringillidae: chaffinch, brambling.
- Understanding "genus fringilla" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus ipomoea (noun)

Morning glory.

- He looked up "genus ipomoea" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus ipomoea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus juncus (noun)

Type genus of the Juncaceae; perennial tufted glabrous marsh plants of temperate regions: rushes.

- In class, the teacher used "genus juncus" to mean type genus of the juncaceae; perennial tufted....
- He looked up "genus juncus" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus oxalis (noun)

Type genus of the Oxalidaceae; large genus of plants having leaves that resemble clover and variously colored flowers usually clustered in umbels.

- He looked up "genus oxalis" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus oxalis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

genus papaver (noun)

Type genus of the Papaveraceae; chiefly bristly hairy herbs with usually showy flowers.

- The article explained what "genus papaver" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "genus papaver" to mean type genus of the papaveraceae; chiefly bristly....

genus phragmites (noun)

Reeds of marshes and riversides in tropical or temperate regions.

- He looked up "genus phragmites" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus phragmites" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

genus scilla (noun)

Sometimes placed in subfamily Hyacinthaceae.

- He looked up "genus scilla" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus scilla."

genus spartina (noun)

Grass of freshwater swamps and salt marshes of Europe, Africa, America, and South Atlantic islands.

- He looked up "genus spartina" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus spartina" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

genus tilia (noun)

Deciduous trees with smooth usually silver-grey bark of North America and Europe and Asia: lime trees; lindens; basswood.

- They discussed "genus tilia" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus tilia."

george gamow (noun)

United States physicist (born in Russia) who was a proponent of the big-bang theory and who did research in radioactivity and suggested the triplet code for DNA (1904-1968).

- He looked up "george gamow" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "george gamow" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

gerontologist (noun)

A specialist in gerontology.

- Understanding "gerontologist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "gerontologist" because he had never seen it before.

gigabits (noun)

A unit of information equal to 1000 megabits or 10^9 (1,000,000,000) bits.

- Understanding "gigabits" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "gigabits" during the group presentation.

gofer (noun)

An employee whose duties include running errands.

- The article explained what "gofer" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gofer" to mean an employee whose duties include running errands.

gondoliers (noun)

A (Venetian) boatman who propels a gondola.

- He looked up "gondoliers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gondoliers."

greenroom (noun)

A backstage room in a theater where performers rest or have visitors.

- Understanding "greenroom" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "greenroom" because he had never seen it before.

guernseys (noun)

A Channel Island to the northwest of Jersey.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "guernseys."
- The article explained what "guernseys" means with a simple example.

---

halothane (noun)

A nonflammable inhalation anesthetic that produces general anesthesia; used along with analgesics and muscle relaxants for many types of surgical procedures.

- In class, the teacher used "halothane" to mean a nonflammable inhalation anesthetic that produces....
- They discussed "halothane" during the group presentation.

---

harakiri (noun)

Ritual suicide by self-disembowelment on a sword; practiced by samurai in the traditional Japanese society.

- The article explained what "harakiri" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "harakiri" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

harridan (noun)

A scolding (even vicious) old woman.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "harridan."
- Understanding "harridan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

heartthrobs (noun)

An object of infatuation.

- Understanding "heartthrobs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "heartthrobs" to mean an object of infatuation.

---

heterozygotes (noun)

(genetics) an organism having two different alleles of a particular gene and so giving rise to varying offspring.

- Understanding "heterozygotes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "heterozygotes."

---

hindlimb (noun)

A posterior appendage such as a leg or the homologous structure in other animals.

- They discussed "hindlimb" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hindlimb."

---

hogans (noun)

A Navajo lodge covered with earth; traditionally built with the entrance facing east.

- He looked up "hogans" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hogans."

---

homecomings (noun)

A coming to or returning home.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "homecomings."
- The article explained what "homecomings" means with a simple example.

---

homoeroticism (noun)

A sexual attraction to (or sexual relations with) persons of the same sex.

- In class, the teacher used "homoeroticism" to mean a sexual attraction to (or sexual relations with)....
- Understanding "homoeroticism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

horseflesh (noun)

The flesh of horses as food.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "horseflesh."
- He looked up "horseflesh" because he had never seen it before.

---

hungriest (adjective)

Feeling hunger; feeling a need or desire to eat food.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "hungriest."

- Students compared "hungriest" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

hurdled (verb)

Jump a hurdle.

- Learners should practice how to use "hurdled" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "hurdled" when talking about this idea.

---

hydrofoils (noun)

A speedboat that is equipped with winglike structures that lift it so that it skims the water at high speeds.

- The fins of a fish act as hydrofoils.
- They discussed "hydrofoils" during the group presentation.

---

hydrophobia (noun)

A symptom of rabies in humans consisting of an aversion to swallowing liquids.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hydrophobia."
- The article explained what "hydrophobia" means with a simple example.

---

hypoplastic anaemia (noun)

Anemia resulting from inadequately functioning bone marrow; can develop into aplastic anemia.

- He looked up "hypoplastic anaemia" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hypoplastic anaemia."

---

ibises (noun)

Wading birds of warm regions having long slender down-curved bills.

- The article explained what "ibises" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "ibises" to mean wading birds of warm regions having long slender....

---

ilex glabra (noun)

Evergreen holly of eastern North America with oblong leathery leaves and small black berries.

- The article explained what "ilex glabra" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "ilex glabra" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

incontrovertibly (adverb)

In an obvious and provable manner.

- The narrator describes the scene "incontrovertibly" in the final chapter.
- She spoke "incontrovertibly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

innervates (verb)

Supply nerves to (some organ or body part).

- Can you use "innervates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "innervates" when talking about this idea.

---

intensions (noun)

What you must know in order to determine the reference of an expression.

- In class, the teacher used "intensions" to mean what you must know in order to determine the....
- They discussed "intensions" during the group presentation.

---

inter vivos trust (noun)

A trust created and operating during the grantor's lifetime.

- The article explained what "inter vivos trust" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "inter vivos trust" during the group presentation.

---

interes (verb)

Place in a grave or tomb.

- Learners should practice how to use "interes" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "interes" and when to wait.

---

internodes (noun)

A segment of a stem between two nodes.

- The article explained what "internodes" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "internodes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

interposing (verb)

To insert between other elements.

- An interposing thicket blocked their way.
- She tried to use "interposing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

introit (noun)

A composition of vocal music that is appropriate for opening church services.

- The article explained what "introit" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "introit."

---

ipomoea (noun)

Morning glory.

- Understanding "ipomoea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ipomoea."

---

iris persica (noun)

Bulbous iris native to Asia Minor cultivated for its pale lilac-colored flowers.

- Understanding "iris persica" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "iris persica" because he had never seen it before.

---

irredentist (noun)

An advocate of irredentism.

- The article explained what "irredentist" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "irredentist."

---

irremediable (adjective)

Impossible to remedy or correct or redress.

- An irremediable error.
- Irremediable defects of character.

---

irreversibility (noun)

The quality of being irreversible (once done it cannot be changed).

- Understanding "irreversibility" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "irreversibility" to mean the quality of being irreversible (once done it....

---

isinglass (noun)

Any of various minerals consisting of hydrous silicates of aluminum or potassium etc. that crystallize in forms that allow perfect cleavage into very thin leaves; used as dielectrics because of their resistance to electricity.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isinglass."
- He looked up "isinglass" because he had never seen it before.

---

ivry (noun)

A battle (1590) in which the Huguenots under Henry IV defeated the Catholics under the duke of Mayenne.

- Understanding "ivry" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "ivry" means with a simple example.

---

jotun (noun)

(Norse mythology) one of a race of giants often in conflict with the Aesir.

- Understanding "jotun" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "jotun" to mean (norse mythology) one of a race of giants often in....

---

juncus (noun)

Type genus of the Juncaceae; perennial tufted glabrous marsh plants of temperate regions: rushes.

- He looked up "juncus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "juncus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

keratinized (verb)

Become horny and impregnated with keratin.

- She tried to use "keratinized" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "keratinized" when talking about this idea.

---

khalifah (noun)

The civil and religious leader of a Muslim state considered to be a representative of Allah on earth.

- Many radical Muslims believe a Khalifah will unite all Islamic lands and people and subjugate the rest of the world.
- Understanding "khalifah" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

killifish (noun)

Small mostly marine warm-water carp-like schooling fishes; used as bait or aquarium fishes or in mosquito control.

- They discussed "killifish" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "killifish."

---

kit and caboodle (noun)

Everything available; usually preceded by 'the'.

- We took on the whole caboodle.
- In class, the teacher used "kit and caboodle" to mean everything available; usually preceded by 'the'.

---

konrad von gesner (noun)

Swiss naturalist who was one of the founders of modern zoology (1516-1565).

- In class, the teacher used "konrad von gesner" to mean swiss naturalist who was one of the founders of....
- The article explained what "konrad von gesner" means with a simple example.

---

lamarckian (adjective)

Of or relating to Lamarckism.

- Lamarckian theories.
- A "lamarckian" approach may work better in this case.

---

lateral geniculate (noun)

A neural structure that serves as a processing station on the way from the retina to the occipital lobe of the cerebral cortex.

- In class, the teacher used "lateral geniculate" to mean a neural structure that serves as a processing....
- Understanding "lateral geniculate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lateral geniculate body (noun)

A neural structure that serves as a processing station on the way from the retina to the occipital lobe of the cerebral cortex.

- In class, the teacher used "lateral geniculate body" to mean a neural structure that serves as a processing....
- He looked up "lateral geniculate body" because he had never seen it before.

---

layabout (noun)

Person who does no work.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "layabout."
- He looked up "layabout" because he had never seen it before.

---

leopold antoni stanislaw stokowski (noun)

United States conductor (born in Britain) (1882-1977).

- He looked up "leopold antoni stanislaw stokowski" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "leopold antoni stanislaw stokowski" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lieutenancy (noun)

The position of a lieutenant.

- The article explained what "lieutenancy" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "lieutenancy" during the group presentation.

limburger (noun)

A soft white cheese with a very strong pungent odor and flavor.

- The article explained what "limburger" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "limburger" to mean a soft white cheese with a very strong pungent odor....

limbus (noun)

A border or edge of any of various body parts distinguished by color or structure.

- He looked up "limbus" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "limbus" to mean a border or edge of any of various body parts....

liposome (noun)

An artificially made microscopic vesicle into which nucleic acids can be packaged; used in molecular biology as a transducing vector.

- Understanding "liposome" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "liposome" during the group presentation.

liquefying (verb)

Make (a solid substance) liquid, as by heating.

- He did not know how to use "liquefying" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "liquefying" when talking about this idea.

lise meitner (noun)

Swedish physicist (born in Austria) who worked in the field of radiochemistry with Otto Hahn and formulated the concept of nuclear fission with Otto Frisch (1878-1968).

- They discussed "lise meitner" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "lise meitner" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

logans (noun)

A mountain peak in the St. Elias Range in the southwestern Yukon Territory in Canada (19,850 feet high).

- Understanding "logans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "logans" because he had never seen it before.

loincloths (noun)

A garment that provides covering for the loins.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "loincloths."
- The article explained what "loincloths" means with a simple example.

longbows (noun)

A powerful wooden bow drawn by hand; usually 5-6 feet long; used in medieval England.

- They discussed "longbows" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "longbows" means with a simple example.

longtail weasel (noun)

The common American weasel distinguished by large size and black-tipped tail.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "longtail weasel."
- Understanding "longtail weasel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

lordosis (noun)

An abnormal inward (forward) curvature of the vertebral column.

- The article explained what "lordosis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lordosis" to mean an abnormal inward (forward) curvature of the....

lucius licinius lucullus (noun)

Roman general famous for self-indulgence and giving lavish banquets (circa 110-57 BC).

- In class, the teacher used "lucius licinius lucullus" to mean roman general famous for self-indulgence and giving....
- They discussed "lucius licinius lucullus" during the group presentation.

luthiers (noun)

A craftsman who makes stringed instruments (as lutes or guitars or violins).

- He looked up "luthiers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "luthiers."

---

mackenzies (noun)

A Canadian river; flows into the Beaufort Sea.

- He looked up "mackenzies" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "mackenzies" during the group presentation.

---

madrona (noun)

Evergreen tree of the Pacific coast of North America having glossy leathery leaves and orange-red edible berries; wood used for furniture and bark for tanning.

- In class, the teacher used "madrona" to mean evergreen tree of the pacific coast of north....
- They discussed "madrona" during the group presentation.

---

major tranquilliser (noun)

Tranquilizer used to treat psychotic conditions when a calming effect is desired.

- In class, the teacher used "major tranquilliser" to mean tranquilizer used to treat psychotic conditions....
- He looked up "major tranquilliser" because he had never seen it before.

---

manacled (verb)

Confine or restrain with or as if with manacles or handcuffs.

- He did not know how to use "manacled" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "manacled" and when to wait.

---

mandatorily (adverb)

In a manner that cannot be evaded.

- He answered "mandatorily," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- The narrator describes the scene "mandatorily" in the final chapter.

---

manganese tetroxide (noun)

An oxide of manganese found naturally as hausmannite.

- The article explained what "manganese tetroxide" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "manganese tetroxide" to mean an oxide of manganese found naturally as hausmannite.

---

manures (noun)

Any animal or plant material used to fertilize land especially animal excreta usually with litter material.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "manures."
- He looked up "manures" because he had never seen it before.

---

mapmaking (noun)

The making of maps and charts.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mapmaking."
- They discussed "mapmaking" during the group presentation.

---

masculinization (noun)

The abnormal development of male sexual characteristics in a female (usually as the result of hormone therapies or adrenal malfunction).

- In class, the teacher used "masculinization" to mean the abnormal development of male sexual....
- The article explained what "masculinization" means with a simple example.

---

mastectomies (noun)

Surgical removal of a breast to remove a malignant tumor.

- He looked up "mastectomies" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "mastectomies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mcguffey (noun)

United States educator who compiled the McGuffey Eclectic Readers (1800-1873).

- Understanding "mcguffey" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- He looked up "mcguffey" because he had never seen it before.

---

meerschaum (noun)

A pipe having a bowl made of meerschaum.

- He looked up "meerschaum" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "meerschaum" during the group presentation.

---

melanocyte-stimulating hormone (noun)

A hormone secreted by the anterior pituitary gland that controls the degree of pigmentation in melanocytes.

- The article explained what "melanocyte-stimulating hormone" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "melanocyte-stimulating hormone" to mean a hormone secreted by the anterior pituitary gland....

---

mellons (noun)

United States financier and philanthropist (1855-1937).

- In class, the teacher used "mellons" to mean united states financier and philanthropist (1855-1937).
- He looked up "mellons" because he had never seen it before.

---

menotti (noun)

United States composer (born in Italy) of operas (born in 1911).

- In class, the teacher used "menotti" to mean united states composer (born in italy) of operas....
- They discussed "menotti" during the group presentation.

---

menshevik (noun)

A Russian member of the liberal minority group that advocated gradual reform and opposed the Bolsheviks before and during the Russian Revolution.

- He looked up "menshevik" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "menshevik."

---

microcosmic (adjective)

Relating to or characteristic of a microcosm.

- The microcosmic world of business.
- It is useful to describe something as "microcosmic" when it is relating to or characteristic of a microcosm.

---

microcosmic salt (noun)

A white salt present in urine and used to test for metal oxides.

- In class, the teacher used "microcosmic salt" to mean a white salt present in urine and used to test for....
- The article explained what "microcosmic salt" means with a simple example.

---

microfilmed (verb)

Record on microfilm.

- He did not know how to use "microfilmed" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "microfilmed" in real sentences.

---

middleweights (noun)

An amateur boxer who weighs no more than 165 pounds.

- In class, the teacher used "middleweights" to mean an amateur boxer who weighs no more than 165 pounds.
- The article explained what "middleweights" means with a simple example.

---

midwesterner (adjective)

Of a region of the United States generally including Ohio; Indiana; Illinois; Iowa; Missouri; Kansas; Nebraska; and sometimes Michigan; Wisconsin; Minnesota.

- The speaker chose "midwesterner" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "midwesterner" approach may work better in this case.

---

mineralogists (noun)

A scientist trained in mineralogy.

- They discussed "mineralogists" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mineralogists."

---

miniaturised (verb)

Design or construct on a smaller scale.

- The coach explained when to use "miniaturised" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "miniaturised" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

minor tranquilliser (noun)

A tranquilizer used to relieve anxiety and reduce tension and irritability.

- In class, the teacher used "minor tranquilliser" to mean a tranquilizer used to relieve anxiety and reduce....
- The article explained what "minor tranquilliser" means with a simple example.

---

miscounted (verb)

Count wrongly.

- In everyday English, people use "miscounted" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "miscounted" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

mochas (noun)

A flavoring made from coffee mixed with chocolate.

- They discussed "mochas" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "mochas" means with a simple example.

---

monoecious (adjective)

Having male and female reproductive organs in the same plant or animal.

- The speaker chose "monoecious" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "monoecious" when it is having male and female reproductive organs in the....

---

monthlong (adjective)

Last through a month.

- A monthlong stay in the hospital.
- Students compared "monthlong" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

multiprocessing (noun)

Simultaneous processing by two or more processing units.

- Understanding "multiprocessing" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "multiprocessing" to mean simultaneous processing by two or more processing units.

---

munchers (noun)

A chewer who makes a munching noise.

- They discussed "munchers" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "munchers."

---

mya arenaria (noun)

An edible clam with thin oval-shaped shell found in coastal regions of the United States and Europe.

- In class, the teacher used "mya arenaria" to mean an edible clam with thin oval-shaped shell found in....
- The article explained what "mya arenaria" means with a simple example.

---

myrmidons (noun)

A follower who carries out orders without question.

- He looked up "myrmidons" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "myrmidons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nasturtiums (noun)

Flowers and seeds and leaves all used as flavorings.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nasturtiums."
- Understanding "nasturtiums" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

neo-lamarckian (adjective)

Of or relating to a modern version of Lamarckism.

- Neo-Lamarckian theories.
- It is useful to describe something as "neo-lamarckian" when it is of or relating to a modern version of lamarckism.

---

nephron (noun)

Any of the small tubules that are the excretory units of the vertebrate kidney.

- In class, the teacher used "nephron" to mean any of the small tubules that are the excretory....
- He looked up "nephron" because he had never seen it before.

---

nero claudius caesar drusus germanicus (noun)

Roman Emperor notorious for his monstrous vice and fantastic luxury (was said to have started a fire that destroyed much of Rome in 64) but the Roman Empire remained prosperous during his rule (37-68).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nero claudius caesar drusus germanicus."
- He looked up "nero claudius caesar drusus germanicus" because he had never seen it before.

---

neutralisation (noun)

Action intended to keep a country politically neutral or exclude it from a possible war.

- He looked up "neutralisation" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "neutralisation" to mean action intended to keep a country politically....

---

neutralisation reaction (noun)

A chemical reaction in which an acid and a base interact with the formation of a salt; with strong acids and bases the essential reaction is the combination of hydrogen ions with hydroxyl ions to form water.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "neutralisation reaction."
- The article explained what "neutralisation reaction" means with a simple example.

---

ngb (noun)

The agency that administers the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard; provides liaison between the Army and the Air Force and various National Guard units.

- They discussed "ngb" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "ngb" because he had never seen it before.

---

nilotic (adjective)

Of or relating to or constituting the Nilotic group of languages.

- Nilotic syntax.
- Students compared "nilotic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

nilotic language (noun)

A group of languages of East Africa belonging to the Chari-Nile group.

- Understanding "nilotic language" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "nilotic language" during the group presentation.

---

nixes (noun)

A quantity of no importance.

- They discussed "nixes" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "nixes" because he had never seen it before.

---

nonviable (adjective)

Not capable of living or developing successfully.

- Students compared "nonviable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "nonviable."

---

numidian (adjective)

Of or relating to ancient Numidia or its people or culture.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "numidian."
- Students compared "numidian" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

nusa tenggara (noun)

A chain of islands forming a province of Indonesia to the east of Java; includes Bali and Timor.

- He looked up "nusa tenggara" because he had never seen it before.

- In class, the teacher used "nusa tenggara" to mean a chain of islands forming a province of indonesia....

---

oafish (adjective)

Ill-mannered and coarse and contemptible in behavior or appearance.

- Her stupid oafish husband.
- Students compared "oafish" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

oatcakes (noun)

Thin flat unleavened cake of baked oatmeal.

- The article explained what "oatcakes" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "oatcakes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

obscurities (noun)

An obscure and unimportant standing; not well known.

- Understanding "obscurities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "obscurities."

---

obsessiveness (noun)

Extreme compulsiveness.

- He looked up "obsessiveness" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "obsessiveness."

---

ohioan (noun)

A native or resident of Ohio.

- Understanding "ohioan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "ohioan" means with a simple example.

---

oiliness (noun)

Smug self-serving earnestness.

- In class, the teacher used "oiliness" to mean smug self-serving earnestness.
- Understanding "oiliness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

orals (noun)

An examination conducted by spoken communication.

- They discussed "orals" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "orals" means with a simple example.

---

otolaryngologist (noun)

A specialist in the disorders of the ear or nose or throat.

- Understanding "otolaryngologist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "otolaryngologist" to mean a specialist in the disorders of the ear or nose or....

---

overexertion (noun)

Excessive exertion; so much exertion that discomfort or injury results.

- Understanding "overexertion" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "overexertion" during the group presentation.

---

oxalis (noun)

Any plant or flower of the genus Oxalis.

- Understanding "oxalis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oxalis."

---

papaver (noun)

Type genus of the Papaveraceae; chiefly bristly hairy herbs with usually showy flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "papaver."
- Understanding "papaver" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pappi (noun)

Calyx composed of scales or bristles or featherlike hairs in plants of the Compositae such as thistles and dandelions.

- He looked up "pappi" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pappi."

parabolas (noun)

A plane curve formed by the intersection of a right circular cone and a plane parallel to an element of the curve.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "parabolas."
- They discussed "parabolas" during the group presentation.

patroller (noun)

Someone on patrol duty; an individual or a member of a group that patrols an area.

- The article explained what "patroller" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "patroller" to mean someone on patrol duty; an individual or a member....

pentose (noun)

Any monosaccharide sugar containing five atoms of carbon per molecule.

- He looked up "pentose" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "pentose" during the group presentation.

periodontics (noun)

The branch of dentistry dealing with diseases of the gums and other structures around the teeth.

- The article explained what "periodontics" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "periodontics" to mean the branch of dentistry dealing with diseases of....

pharmacologists (noun)

Someone trained in the science of drugs (their composition and uses and effects).

- Understanding "pharmacologists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pharmacologists."

phragmites (noun)

Reeds of marshes and riversides in tropical or temperate regions.

- Understanding "phragmites" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "phragmites."

phyllo (noun)

Tissue thin sheets of pastry used especially in Greek dishes.

- He looked up "phyllo" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "phyllo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

pictographic (adjective)

Consisting of or characterized by the use of pictographs.

- A pictographic script.
- Pictographic stage in the development of writing.

pilothouse (noun)

An enclosed compartment from which a vessel can be navigated.

- Understanding "pilothouse" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "pilothouse" to mean an enclosed compartment from which a vessel can be....

pinking (verb)

Sound like a car engine that is firing too early.

- She tried to use "pinking" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "pinking" until he saw an example.

pisang wax (noun)

A wax obtained from the leaves of a plantain.

- Understanding "pisang wax" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "pisang wax" to mean a wax obtained from the leaves of a plantain.

---

pneumocystis pneumonia (noun)

Pneumonia occurring in infants or in persons with impaired immune systems (as AIDS victims).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pneumocystis pneumonia."
- He looked up "pneumocystis pneumonia" because he had never seen it before.

---

polychaete (noun)

Chiefly marine annelids possessing both sexes and having paired appendages (parapodia) bearing bristles.

- Understanding "polychaete" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "polychaete" to mean chiefly marine annelids possessing both sexes and....

---

polychaete worm (noun)

Chiefly marine annelids possessing both sexes and having paired appendages (parapodia) bearing bristles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polychaete worm."
- He looked up "polychaete worm" because he had never seen it before.

---

pomeranians (noun)

Breed of very small compact long-haired dogs of the spitz type.

- They discussed "pomeranians" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "pomeranians" because he had never seen it before.

---

prancer (noun)

A mettlesome or fiery horse.

- The article explained what "prancer" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prancer."

---

propositioning (verb)

Suggest sex to.

- The coach explained when to use "propositioning" and when to wait.
- Can you use "propositioning" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

proselyte (noun)

A new convert; especially a gentile converted to Judaism.

- The article explained what "proselyte" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "proselyte" to mean a new convert; especially a gentile converted to....

---

proselytising (verb)

Convert to another faith or religion.

- She tried to use "proselytising" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "proselytising" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

prosthodontics (noun)

The branch of dentistry dealing with the replacement of teeth and related mouth or jaw structures by artificial devices.

- The article explained what "prosthodontics" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "prosthodontics" to mean the branch of dentistry dealing with the....

---

protegee (noun)

A woman protege.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "protegee."
- They discussed "protegee" during the group presentation.

---

pulmonic (adjective)

Relating to or affecting the lungs.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "pulmonic."
- Would you call this situation "pulmonic"? Explain why.

pulmonic plague (noun)

A rapidly progressive and frequently fatal form of the plague that can spread through the air from person to person; characterized by lung involvement with chill, bloody expectoration and high fever.

- They discussed "pulmonic plague" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "pulmonic plague" because he had never seen it before.

pulsates (verb)

Expand and contract rhythmically; beat rhythmically.

- He did not know how to use "pulsates" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "pulsates" and when to wait.

pustule (noun)

A small inflamed elevation of skin containing pus; a blister filled with pus.

- In class, the teacher used "pustule" to mean a small inflamed elevation of skin containing pus;....
- The article explained what "pustule" means with a simple example.

quat (noun)

The leaves of the shrub Catha edulis which are chewed like tobacco or used to make tea; has the effect of a euphoric stimulant.

- They discussed "quat" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "quat" to mean the leaves of the shrub catha edulis which are....

quattrocento (noun)

The 15th century in Italian art and literature.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "quattrocento."
- Understanding "quattrocento" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

queenly (adjective)

Having the rank of or resembling or befitting a queen.

- Queenly propriety.
- Clad in her queenly raiment.

raceways (noun)

A canal for a current of water.

- They discussed "raceways" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "raceways" to mean a canal for a current of water.

raynaud's sign (noun)

Cyanosis of the extremities; can occur when a spasm of the blood vessels is caused by exposure to cold or by strong emotion.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "raynaud's sign."
- He looked up "raynaud's sign" because he had never seen it before.

rearmost (adjective)

Located farthest to the rear.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "rearmost."
- The speaker chose "rearmost" because it captured the feeling precisely.

recourses (noun)

Something or someone turned to for assistance or security.

- The article explained what "recourses" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "recourses."

refits (noun)

Outfitting a ship again (by repairing or replacing parts).

- They discussed "refits" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "refits" to mean outfitting a ship again (by repairing or replacing....

refloat (verb)

Set afloat again.

- Refloat a grounded boat.
- He did not know how to use "refloat" until he saw an example.

---

rehear (verb)

Hear or try a court case anew.

- Can you use "rehear" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "rehear" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

reified (verb)

Consider an abstract concept to be real.

- She tried to use "reified" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "reified" when talking about this idea.

---

revolutionizes (verb)

Overthrow by a revolution, of governments.

- Learners should practice how to use "revolutionizes" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "revolutionizes" when talking about this idea.

---

riyal (noun)

The basic unit of money in Qatar.

- They discussed "riyal" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "riyal" means with a simple example.

---

rollings (noun)

The act of robbing a helpless person.

- He looked up "rollings" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "rollings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rosaceae (noun)

A large family of dicotyledonous plants of order Rosales; have alternate leaves and five-petaled flowers with numerous stamens.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rosaceae."
- He looked up "rosaceae" because he had never seen it before.

---

rosicrucians (noun)

A member of any of various organizations that subsequently derived from the 17th-century society.

- They discussed "rosicrucians" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "rosicrucians" because he had never seen it before.

---

rottenness (noun)

The quality of rotting and becoming putrid.

- They discussed "rottenness" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rottenness."

---

sackings (noun)

The termination of someone's employment (leaving them free to depart).

- They discussed "sackings" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "sackings" because he had never seen it before.

---

salvia pratensis (noun)

Tall perennial Old World salvia with violet-blue flowers; found in open grasslands.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "salvia pratensis."
- The article explained what "salvia pratensis" means with a simple example.

---

sangoma (noun)

A traditional Zulu healer and respected elder.

- He looked up "sangoma" because he had never seen it before.

- In class, the teacher used “sangoma” to mean a traditional zulu healer and respected elder.

---

sarongs (noun)

A loose skirt consisting of brightly colored fabric wrapped around the body; worn by both women and men in the South Pacific.

- The article explained what “sarongs” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “sarongs” during the group presentation.

---

scaramouche (noun)

A stock character in commedia dell’arte depicted as a boastful coward.

- They discussed “scaramouche” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “scaramouche” to mean a stock character in commedia dell’arte depicted as....

---

schoolchild (noun)

A young person attending school (up through senior high school).

- In class, the teacher used “schoolchild” to mean a young person attending school (up through senior....
- The article explained what “schoolchild” means with a simple example.

---

scilla (noun)

An Old World plant of the genus Scilla having narrow basal leaves and pink or blue or white racemose flowers.

- Understanding “scilla” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “scilla” during the group presentation.

---

seljuks (noun)

Any one of the Turkish dynasties that ruled Asia Minor from the 11th to the 13th centuries; they successfully invaded Byzantium and defended the Holy Land against Crusaders.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “seljuks.”
- They discussed “seljuks” during the group presentation.

---

senna alexandrina (noun)

Erect shrub having racemes of tawny yellow flowers; the dried leaves are used medicinally as a cathartic; sometimes placed in genus Cassia.

- Understanding “senna alexandrina” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “senna alexandrina” because he had never seen it before.

---

sesamoid (noun)

Any of several small round bones formed in a tendon where it passes over a joint.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “sesamoid.”
- He looked up “sesamoid” because he had never seen it before.

---

sesamoid bone (noun)

Any of several small round bones formed in a tendon where it passes over a joint.

- The article explained what “sesamoid bone” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “sesamoid bone” during the group presentation.

---

sevenths (noun)

The musical interval between one note and another seven notes away from it.

- He looked up “sevenths” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “sevenths.”

---

sexualising (verb)

Make sexual, endow with sex, attribute sex to.

- She tried to use “sexualising” carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use “sexualising” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

shako (noun)

Tall hat; worn by some British soldiers on ceremonial occasions.

- In class, the teacher used “shako” to mean tall hat; worn by some british soldiers on....
- The article explained what “shako” means with a simple example.

---

shamisen (noun)

A Japanese stringed instrument resembling a banjo with a long neck and three strings and a fretted fingerboard and a rectangular soundbox; played with a plectrum.

- He looked up "shamisen" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "shamisen" during the group presentation.

---

sibylline (adjective)

Resembling or characteristic of a prophet or prophecy.

- A kind of sibylline book with ready and infallible answers to questions.
- Thoroughly sibylline in most of his pronouncements.

---

sida spinosa (noun)

Tropical American weed having pale yellow or orange flowers naturalized in southern United States.

- Understanding "sida spinosa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "sida spinosa" because he had never seen it before.

---

sightsee (verb)

Visit famous or interesting sights.

- She tried to use "sightsee" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "sightsee" in real sentences.

---

sipes (verb)

Drink in sips.

- She tried to use "sipes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "sipes" when talking about this idea.

---

siwan (noun)

The ninth month of the civil year; the third month of the ecclesiastical year in the Jewish calendar (in May and June).

- In class, the teacher used "siwan" to mean the ninth month of the civil year; the third month....
- The article explained what "siwan" means with a simple example.

---

skys (noun)

The atmosphere and outer space as viewed from the earth.

- Understanding "skys" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "skys" means with a simple example.

---

sleights (noun)

Adroitness in using the hands.

- The article explained what "sleights" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sleights."

---

slimer (adjective)

Being of delicate or slender build; - Frank Norris.

- Students compared "slimer" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "slimer" when it is being of delicate or slender build; - frank norris.

---

snuffs (noun)

A pinch of smokeless tobacco inhaled at a single time.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "snuffs."
- Understanding "snuffs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

softwoods (noun)

Wood that is easy to saw (from conifers such as pine or fir).

- He looked up "softwoods" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "softwoods."

---

solanum nigrum (noun)

Eurasian herb naturalized in America having white flowers and poisonous hairy foliage and bearing black berries that are sometimes poisonous but sometimes edible.

- They discussed “solanum nigrum” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “solanum nigrum” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sorrowfully (adverb)

With sadness; in a sorrowful manner.

- Place “sorrowfully” carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include “sorrowfully” naturally.

---

sorrowing (adjective)

Sorrowful through loss or deprivation.

- It is useful to describe something as “sorrowing” when it is sorrowful through loss or deprivation.
- Students compared “sorrowing” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

spacefaring (noun)

A voyage outside the Earth’s atmosphere.

- The article explained what “spacefaring” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “spacefaring” during the group presentation.

---

spacy (adjective)

Stupefied by (or as if by) some narcotic drug.

- Students compared “spacy” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation “spacy”? Explain why.

---

spartina (noun)

Grass of freshwater swamps and salt marshes of Europe, Africa, America, and South Atlantic islands.

- Understanding “spartina” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “spartina.”

---

spasmodically (adverb)

With spasms.

- The mouth was slightly open, and jerked violently and spasmodically at one corner.
- I began to write intermittently and spasmodically.

---

spindrift (noun)

Spray blown up from the surface of the sea.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “spindrift.”
- They discussed “spindrift” during the group presentation.

---

spoonbill (noun)

Wading birds having a long flat bill with a tip like a spoon.

- In class, the teacher used “spoonbill” to mean wading birds having a long flat bill with a tip....
- They discussed “spoonbill” during the group presentation.

---

spraining (verb)

Twist suddenly so as to sprain.

- He did not know how to use “spraining” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “spraining” and when to wait.

---

stampers (noun)

A workman whose job is to form or cut out by applying a mold or die (either by hand or by operating a stamping machine).

- The article explained what “stampers” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “stampers” to mean a workman whose job is to form or cut out by....

---

star ipomoea (noun)

Annual herb having scarlet flowers; the eastern United States.

- Understanding “star ipomoea” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “star ipomoea” to mean annual herb having scarlet flowers; the eastern....

stepdaughters (noun)

A daughter of your spouse by a former marriage.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stepdaughters."
- Understanding "stepdaughters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

stippled (adjective)

Having a pattern of dots.

- A "stippled" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "stippled."

strophe (noun)

One section of a lyric poem or choral ode in classical Greek drama.

- They discussed "strophe" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "strophe" to mean one section of a lyric poem or choral ode in....

stuccoed (verb)

Decorate with stucco work.

- Stuccoed ceilings.
- Learners should practice how to use "stuccoed" in real sentences.

succinylcholine (noun)

A muscle relaxant for striated muscle that is used as an adjunct to anesthesia during certain surgical procedures.

- He looked up "succinylcholine" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "succinylcholine" to mean a muscle relaxant for striated muscle that is used....

sulfonylurea (noun)

Antidiabetic consisting of any of several drugs that reduce the level of glucose in the blood; used to treat diabetes mellitus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sulfonylurea."
- Understanding "sulfonylurea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

sullying (verb)

Place under suspicion or cast doubt upon.

- He did not know how to use "sullying" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "sullying" carefully so everyone would understand.

superceded (verb)

Take the place or move into the position of.

- The coach explained when to use "superceded" and when to wait.
- Can you use "superceded" in a sentence that fits this situation?

supremacism (noun)

The belief that some particular group or race is superior to all others.

- White supremacism.
- They discussed "supremacism" during the group presentation.

syzygy (noun)

The straight line configuration of 3 celestial bodies (as the sun and earth and moon) in a gravitational system.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "syzygy."
- He looked up "syzygy" because he had never seen it before.

talibans (noun)

A fundamentalist Islamic militia; in 1995 the Taliban militia took over Afghanistan and in 1996 took Kabul and set up an Islamic government.

- In class, the teacher used "talibans" to mean a fundamentalist islamic militia; in 1995 the....
- The article explained what "talibans" means with a simple example.

tammuz (noun)

The tenth month of the civil year; the fourth month of the ecclesiastic year (in June and July).

- He looked up "tammuz" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tammuz."

---

tarns (noun)

A mountain lake (especially one formed by glaciers).

- In class, the teacher used "tarns" to mean a mountain lake (especially one formed by glaciers).
- He looked up "tarns" because he had never seen it before.

---

temazepam (noun)

A frequently prescribed benzodiazepine (trade name Restoril); takes effect slowly and lasts long enough to help those people who wake up frequently during the night.

- He looked up "temazepam" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "temazepam" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

temporalities (noun)

The worldly possessions of a church.

- In class, the teacher used "temporalities" to mean the worldly possessions of a church.
- Understanding "temporalities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

theatergoers (noun)

Someone who attends the theater.

- The article explained what "theatergoers" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "theatergoers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

thebe (noun)

100 thebe equal 1 pula in Botswana.

- He looked up "thebe" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thebe."

---

thiefs (noun)

A criminal who takes property belonging to someone else with the intention of keeping it or selling it.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thiefs."
- He looked up "thiefs" because he had never seen it before.

---

thorntons (noun)

American architect (1759-1828).

- They discussed "thorntons" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "thorntons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

thyroidectomy (noun)

Surgical removal of the thyroid gland.

- In class, the teacher used "thyroidectomy" to mean surgical removal of the thyroid gland.
- They discussed "thyroidectomy" during the group presentation.

---

tilia (noun)

Deciduous trees with smooth usually silver-grey bark of North America and Europe and Asia: lime trees; lindens; basswood.

- The article explained what "tilia" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tilia" to mean deciduous trees with smooth usually silver-grey....

---

tiros (noun)

Someone new to a field or activity.

- The article explained what "tiros" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tiros" to mean someone new to a field or activity.

---

titillated (adjective)

Feeling mild pleasurable excitement.

- Students compared "titillated" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

- It is useful to describe something as “titillated” when it is feeling mild pleasurable excitement.

---

titos (noun)

Yugoslav statesman who led the resistance to German occupation during World War II and established a communist state after the war (1892-1980).

- They discussed “titos” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “titos” to mean yugoslav statesman who led the resistance to german....

---

tonalities (noun)

Any of 24 major or minor diatonic scales that provide the tonal framework for a piece of music.

- He looked up “tonalities” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “tonalities” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tranquilliser (noun)

A drug used to reduce stress or tension without reducing mental clarity.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “tranquilliser.”
- He looked up “tranquilliser” because he had never seen it before.

---

translocate (verb)

Move from one place to another, especially of wild animals.

- The endangered turtles were translocated to a safe environment.
- She tried to use “translocate” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

transoms (noun)

A horizontal crosspiece across a window or separating a door from a window over it.

- They discussed “transoms” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “transoms” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

transurethral resection of the prostate (noun)

Removal of significant amounts of prostate tissue (as in cases of benign prostatic hyperplasia).

- The article explained what “transurethral resection of the prostate” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “transurethral resection of the prostate” to mean removal of significant amounts of prostate tissue....

---

tropopause (noun)

The region of discontinuity between the troposphere and the stratosphere.

- Understanding “tropopause” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “tropopause.”

---

tuneless (adjective)

Not having a musical sound or pleasing tune.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “tuneless.”
- Students compared “tuneless” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

underachieved (verb)

Perform less well or with less success than expected.

- He did not know how to use “underachieved” until he saw an example.
- She tried to use “underachieved” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

undreamed (adjective)

Not imagined even in a dream.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “undreamed.”
- A “undreamed” approach may work better in this case.

---

undreamed of (adjective)

Not imagined even in a dream.

- It is useful to describe something as “undreamed of” when it is not imagined even in a dream.
- The speaker chose “undreamed of” because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

ungodliness (noun)

Impiety by virtue of not being a godly person.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ungodliness."
- He looked up "ungodliness" because he had never seen it before.

---

unimodal (adjective)

Having a single mode.

- A "unimodal" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "unimodal"? Explain why.

---

uninfluenced (adjective)

Not influenced or affected; - V.L.Parrington.

- Would you call this situation "uninfluenced"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "uninfluenced" when it is not influenced or affected; - v.l.parrington.

---

unreflective (adjective)

Not exhibiting or characterized by careful thought.

- Would you call this situation "unreflective"? Explain why.
- A "unreflective" approach may work better in this case.

---

unsurpassable (adjective)

Not to be exceeded.

- Unsurpassable skill.
- Unsurpassable standards of workmanship.

---

untrusting (adjective)

Openly distrustful and unwilling to confide.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "untrusting."
- Students compared "untrusting" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

unwraps (verb)

Make known to the public information that was previously known only to a few people or that was meant to be kept a secret.

- The coach explained when to use "unwraps" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "unwraps" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

vestries (noun)

A room in a church where sacred vessels and vestments are kept or meetings are held.

- The article explained what "vestries" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "vestries" during the group presentation.

---

vicariate (noun)

The religious institution under the authority of a vicar.

- He looked up "vicariate" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "vicariate" to mean the religious institution under the authority of a....

---

vioxx (noun)

A Cox-2 inhibitor (trade name Vioxx) that relieves pain and inflammation without harming the digestive tract; voluntarily withdrawn from the market in 2004.

- He looked up "vioxx" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "vioxx" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

virginia cowslip (noun)

Smooth erect herb of eastern North America having entire leaves and showy blue flowers that are pink in bud.

- Understanding "virginia cowslip" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "virginia cowslip" means with a simple example.

---

vocalic (adjective)

Relating to or associated with or containing a vowel.

- Vocalic segments.
- The vocalic ablaut.

---

voiceprint (noun)

Biometric identification by electronically recording and graphically representing a person's voice.

- Voiceprints are uniquely characteristic of individual speakers.
- They discussed "voiceprint" during the group presentation.

---

wasp's nest (noun)

Habitation for wasps or hornets.

- The article explained what "wasp's nest" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wasp's nest" to mean habitation for wasps or hornets.

---

waxen (adjective)

Having the paleness of wax; - Bram Stoker.

- The poor face with the same awful waxen pallor.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "waxen."

---

whets (verb)

Make keen or more acute.

- In everyday English, people use "whets" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "whets" until he saw an example.

---

whole caboodle (noun)

Everything available; usually preceded by 'the'.

- We saw the whole shebang.
- We took on the whole caboodle.

---

whole kit and caboodle (noun)

Everything available; usually preceded by 'the'.

- We saw the whole shebang.
- We took on the whole caboodle.

---

william holmes mcguffey (noun)

United States educator who compiled the McGuffey Eclectic Readers (1800-1873).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "william holmes mcguffey."
- The article explained what "william holmes mcguffey" means with a simple example.

---

wilson's blackcap (noun)

Yellow wood warbler with a black crown.

- The article explained what "wilson's blackcap" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wilson's blackcap" to mean yellow wood warbler with a black crown.

---

winckelmann (noun)

German archaeologist and art historian said to be the father of archaeology (1717-1768).

- They discussed "winckelmann" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "winckelmann" means with a simple example.

---

yeshivah (noun)

An academy for the advanced study of Jewish texts (primarily the Talmud).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "yeshivah."
- He looked up "yeshivah" because he had never seen it before.

---

ylang-ylang (noun)

Evergreen Asian tree with aromatic greenish-yellow flowers yielding a volatile oil; widely grown in the tropics as an ornamental.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ylang-ylang."
- He looked up "ylang-ylang" because he had never seen it before.

zukerman (noun)

Israeli violinist (born in 1948).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "zukerman."
- The article explained what "zukerman" means with a simple example.

acanthus mollis (noun)

Widely cultivated southern European acanthus with whitish purple-veined flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "acanthus mollis."
- He looked up "acanthus mollis" because he had never seen it before.

accreting (verb)

Grow together (of plants and organs).

- She tried to use "accreting" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "accreting" and when to wait.

achille ratti (noun)

Pope who signed a treaty with Mussolini recognizing the Vatican City as an independent state (1857-1939).

- In class, the teacher used "achille ratti" to mean pope who signed a treaty with mussolini recognizing....
- He looked up "achille ratti" because he had never seen it before.

acquirement (noun)

An ability that has been acquired by training.

- In class, the teacher used "acquirement" to mean an ability that has been acquired by training.
- He looked up "acquirement" because he had never seen it before.

aerators (noun)

An apparatus for exposing something to the air (as sewage).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aerators."
- He looked up "aerators" because he had never seen it before.

afferents (noun)

A nerve that passes impulses from receptors toward or to the central nervous system.

- He looked up "afferents" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "afferents."

agrigento (noun)

A town in Italy in southwestern Sicily near the coast; the site of six Greek temples.

- In class, the teacher used "agrigento" to mean a town in italy in southwestern sicily near the....
- Understanding "agrigento" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

aldol (noun)

An oily colorless liquid obtained by the condensation of two molecules of acetaldehyde; contains an alcohol group (-OH) and an aldehyde group (-CHO).

- Understanding "aldol" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "aldol" because he had never seen it before.

aldol reaction (noun)

A reaction of aldehydes resulting in an aldol.

- They discussed "aldol reaction" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aldol reaction."

alexander alexandrovich blok (noun)

Russian poet (1880-1921).

- In class, the teacher used "alexander alexandrovich blok" to mean russian poet (1880-1921).
- Understanding "alexander alexandrovich blok" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

ambulant (adjective)

Able to walk about.

- It is useful to describe something as "ambulant" when it is able to walk about.
- Students compared "ambulant" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

ambulant plague (noun)

A mild form of bubonic plague.

- He looked up "ambulant plague" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "ambulant plague" to mean a mild form of bubonic plague.

---

american widgeon (noun)

A widgeon the male of which has a white crown.

- They discussed "american widgeon" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "american widgeon" to mean a widgeon the male of which has a white crown.

---

anneal (verb)

Bring to a desired consistency, texture, or hardness by a process of gradually heating and cooling.

- He did not know how to use "anneal" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "anneal" in real sentences.

---

annuls (verb)

Declare invalid.

- In everyday English, people use "annuls" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "annuls" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

antabuse (noun)

A drug (trade name Antabuse) used in the treatment of alcoholism; causes nausea and vomiting if alcohol is ingested.

- They discussed "antabuse" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "antabuse" because he had never seen it before.

---

antagonising (verb)

Provoke the hostility of.

- The coach explained when to use "antagonising" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "antagonising" in real sentences.

---

antidiabetic (noun)

A drug used to treat diabetes mellitus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "antidiabetic."
- They discussed "antidiabetic" during the group presentation.

---

antidiabetic drug (noun)

A drug used to treat diabetes mellitus.

- They discussed "antidiabetic drug" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "antidiabetic drug" means with a simple example.

---

aplysia (noun)

Type genus of the family Aplysiidae.

- They discussed "aplysia" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "aplysia" means with a simple example.

---

ardea (noun)

Type genus of the Ardeidae: large New and Old World herons.

- They discussed "ardea" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ardea."

---

areolas (noun)

Small space in a tissue or body part such as the area between veins on a leaf or an insect's wing.

- They discussed "areolas" during the group presentation.

- In class, the teacher used “areolas” to mean small space in a tissue or body part such as the....

---

arikara (noun)

The Caddoan language spoken by the Arikara.

- They discussed “arikara” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “arikara” because he had never seen it before.

---

armstrongs (noun)

United States pioneering jazz trumpeter and bandleader (1900-1971).

- In class, the teacher used “armstrongs” to mean united states pioneering jazz trumpeter and....
- The article explained what “armstrongs” means with a simple example.

---

arnold schonberg (noun)

United States composer and musical theorist (born in Austria) who developed atonal composition (1874-1951).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “arnold schonberg.”
- The article explained what “arnold schonberg” means with a simple example.

---

asphodel (noun)

Any of various chiefly Mediterranean plants of the genera Asphodeline and Asphodelus having linear leaves and racemes of white or pink or yellow flowers.

- Understanding “asphodel” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “asphodel” means with a simple example.

---

audibles (noun)

A football play is changed orally after both teams have assumed their positions at the line of scrimmage.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “audibles.”
- Understanding “audibles” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

audubon’s warbler (noun)

Common warbler of western North America.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “audubon’s warbler.”
- The article explained what “audubon’s warbler” means with a simple example.

---

august friedrich leopold weismann (noun)

German biologist who was one of the founders of modern genetics; his theory of genetic transmission ruled out the possibility of transmitting acquired characteristics (1834-1914).

- He looked up “august friedrich leopold weismann” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “august friedrich leopold weismann” to mean german biologist who was one of the founders of....

---

auricle (noun)

The externally visible cartilaginous structure of the external ear.

- The article explained what “auricle” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “auricle” to mean the externally visible cartilaginous structure of....

---

auriga (noun)

A conspicuous constellation in the northern hemisphere; between Great Bear and Orion at edge of Milky Way.

- The article explained what “auriga” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “auriga” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

backhoes (noun)

An excavator whose shovel bucket is attached to a hinged boom and is drawn backward to move earth.

- He looked up “backhoes” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “backhoes” to mean an excavator whose shovel bucket is attached to a....

---

backstairs (noun)

A second staircase at the rear of a building.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “backstairs.”
- He looked up “backstairs” because he had never seen it before.

---

baron verulam (noun)

English statesman and philosopher; precursor of British empiricism; advocated inductive reasoning (1561-1626).

- In class, the teacher used "baron verulam" to mean english statesman and philosopher; precursor of....
- The article explained what "baron verulam" means with a simple example.

benzedrine (noun)

A form of amphetamine.

- In class, the teacher used "benzedrine" to mean a form of amphetamine.
- He looked up "benzedrine" because he had never seen it before.

bionomics (noun)

The branch of biology concerned with the relations between organisms and their environment.

- The article explained what "bionomics" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "bionomics" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

bivalent (adjective)

Having a valence of two or having two valences.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "bivalent."
- Students compared "bivalent" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

blackcap (noun)

Small brownish-grey warbler with a black crown.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "blackcap."
- The article explained what "blackcap" means with a simple example.

bobwhite (noun)

A popular North American game bird; named for its call.

- In class, the teacher used "bobwhite" to mean a popular north american game bird; named for its call.
- He looked up "bobwhite" because he had never seen it before.

bougainvillea glabra (noun)

Brazilian vine that tends to flower continuously.

- They discussed "bougainvillea glabra" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "bougainvillea glabra" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

brandy snifter (noun)

A globular glass with a small top; used for serving brandy.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brandy snifter."
- He looked up "brandy snifter" because he had never seen it before.

brazils (noun)

The largest Latin American country and the largest Portuguese speaking country in the world; located in the central and northeastern part of South America; world's leading coffee exporter.

- The article explained what "brazils" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "brazils" to mean the largest latin american country and the largest....

bromus (noun)

A genus of grasses of the family Gramineae.

- He looked up "bromus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "bromus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

bronchus (noun)

Either of the two main branches of the trachea.

- He looked up "bronchus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bronchus."

bufo viridis (noun)

Eurasian toad with variable chiefly green coloring.

- He looked up "bufo viridis" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "bufo viridis" to mean eurasian toad with variable chiefly green coloring.

---

burglarizing (verb)

Commit a burglary; enter and rob a dwelling.

- Learners should practice how to use "burglarizing" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "burglarizing" when talking about this idea.

---

busloads (noun)

The quantity of cargo or the number of passengers that a bus can carry.

- The article explained what "busloads" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "busloads" to mean the quantity of cargo or the number of passengers....

---

caddied (verb)

Act as a caddie and carry clubs for a player.

- Learners should practice how to use "caddied" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "caddied" and when to wait.

---

caddying (verb)

Act as a caddie and carry clubs for a player.

- Can you use "caddying" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "caddying" and when to wait.

---

caelum (noun)

A constellation in the southern hemisphere near Columba and Eridanus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "caelum."
- Understanding "caelum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

caesura (noun)

A pause or interruption (as in a conversation).

- After an ominous caesura the preacher continued.
- Understanding "caesura" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

caliphates (noun)

The era of Islam's ascendancy from the death of Mohammed until the 13th century; some Moslems still maintain that the Moslem world must always have a calif as head of the community.

- He looked up "caliphates" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "caliphates" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

camos (noun)

Fabric dyed with splotches of green and brown and black and tan; intended to make the wearer of a garment made of this fabric hard to distinguish from the background.

- The article explained what "camos" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "camos" to mean fabric dyed with splotches of green and brown and....

---

canticle of canticles (noun)

An Old Testament book consisting of a collection of love poems traditionally attributed to Solomon but actually written much later.

- He looked up "canticle of canticles" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "canticle of canticles" to mean an old testament book consisting of a collection of....

---

capercaillie (noun)

Large black Old World grouse.

- He looked up "capercaillie" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "capercaillie" during the group presentation.

---

capricorns (noun)

The tenth sign of the zodiac; the sun is in this sign from about December 22 to January 19.

- Understanding "capricorns" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "capricorns."

caracara (noun)

Any of various long-legged carrion-eating hawks of South America and Central America.

- He looked up "caracara" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "caracara" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

careerism (noun)

The practice of advancing your career at the expense of your personal integrity.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "careerism."
- He looked up "careerism" because he had never seen it before.

carsick (adjective)

Experiencing motion sickness.

- Students compared "carsick" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "carsick" approach may work better in this case.

cascara (noun)

Dried bark of the cascara buckthorn used as a laxative.

- He looked up "cascara" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cascara."

castanea (noun)

Chestnuts; chinkapins.

- He looked up "castanea" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "castanea" to mean chestnuts; chinkapins.

caterwauling (verb)

Utter shrieks, as of cats.

- She tried to use "caterwauling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "caterwauling" in a sentence that fits this situation?

cauterization (noun)

The act of coagulating blood and destroying tissue with a hot iron or caustic agent or by freezing.

- In class, the teacher used "cauterization" to mean the act of coagulating blood and destroying tissue....
- Understanding "cauterization" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cdcs (noun)

A federal agency in the Department of Health and Human Services; located in Atlanta; investigates and diagnoses and tries to control or prevent diseases (especially new and unusual diseases).

- They discussed "cdcs" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "cdcs" to mean a federal agency in the department of health and....

ceramicist (noun)

A craftsman who shapes pottery on a potter's wheel and bakes them it a kiln.

- He looked up "ceramicist" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ceramicist."

charlottes (noun)

The largest city in North Carolina; located in south central North Carolina.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "charlottes."
- Understanding "charlottes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

charolais (noun)

Large white or cream-colored breed from France.

- Understanding "charolais" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "charolais" to mean large white or cream-colored breed from france.

chippings (noun)

The act of chipping something.

- They discussed "chippings" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "chippings" means with a simple example.

---

chthonic (adjective)

Dwelling beneath the surface of the earth.

- Would you call this situation "chthonic"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "chthonic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

chubbier (adjective)

Sufficiently fat so as to have a pleasing fullness of figure.

- Would you call this situation "chubbier"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "chubbier."

---

cinchona officinalis (noun)

Peruvian shrub or small tree having large glossy leaves and cymes of fragrant yellow to green or red flowers; cultivated for its medicinal bark.

- He looked up "cinchona officinalis" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "cinchona officinalis" during the group presentation.

---

clavicles (noun)

Bone linking the scapula and sternum.

- Understanding "clavicles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "clavicles" to mean bone linking the scapula and sternum.

---

clubby (adjective)

Befitting or characteristic of those who incline to social exclusiveness and who rebuff the advances of people considered inferior.

- We got rather clubby.
- A "clubby" approach may work better in this case.

---

cockamamie (adjective)

Ludicrous, foolish.

- Gave me a cockamamie reason for not going.
- Would you call this situation "cockamamie"? Explain why.

---

coeducation (noun)

Education of men and women in the same institutions.

- Understanding "coeducation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coeducation."

---

coffea (noun)

Coffee trees.

- In class, the teacher used "coffea" to mean coffee trees.
- He looked up "coffea" because he had never seen it before.

---

composts (noun)

A mixture of decaying vegetation and manure; used as a fertilizer.

- In class, the teacher used "composts" to mean a mixture of decaying vegetation and manure; used....
- They discussed "composts" during the group presentation.

---

comradery (noun)

The quality of affording easy familiarity and sociability.

- In class, the teacher used "comradery" to mean the quality of affording easy familiarity and....
- The article explained what "comradery" means with a simple example.

---

concierges (noun)

A French caretaker of apartments or a hotel; lives on the premises and oversees people entering and leaving and handles mail and acts as janitor or porter.

- Understanding "concierges" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- The article explained what "concierges" means with a simple example.

---

concocts (verb)

Prepare or cook by mixing ingredients.

- She tried to use "concocts" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "concocts" in real sentences.

---

concupiscence (noun)

A desire for sexual intimacy.

- He looked up "concupiscence" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "concupiscence."

---

condemnatory (adjective)

Containing or imposing condemnation or censure.

- A condemnatory decree.
- The speaker chose "condemnatory" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

conics (noun)

(geometry) a curve generated by the intersection of a plane and a circular cone.

- The article explained what "conics" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "conics" to mean (geometry) a curve generated by the intersection of....

---

contradistinction (noun)

A distinction drawn on the basis of contrast.

- Sculpture in contradistinction to painting.
- The article explained what "contradistinction" means with a simple example.

---

copt (noun)

An Egyptian descended from the ancient Egyptians.

- In class, the teacher used "copt" to mean an egyptian descended from the ancient egyptians.
- They discussed "copt" during the group presentation.

---

cotyledon (noun)

Embryonic leaf in seed-bearing plants.

- They discussed "cotyledon" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "cotyledon" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

crazing (verb)

Develop a fine network of cracks.

- Learners should practice how to use "crazing" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "crazing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

crosscutting (verb)

Cut using a diagonal line.

- Learners should practice how to use "crosscutting" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "crosscutting" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

crudity (noun)

An impolite manner that is vulgar and lacking tact or refinement.

- He looked up "crudity" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "crudity" to mean an impolite manner that is vulgar and lacking tact....

---

cusses (noun)

Profane or obscene expression usually of surprise or anger.

- Understanding "cusses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "cusses" during the group presentation.

---

dabbler (noun)

An amateur who engages in an activity without serious intentions and who pretends to have knowledge.

- Understanding "dabbler" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dabbler."

---

dagestani (noun)

An ethnic minority living on the Caspian Sea in southwestern Russia and Azerbaijan.

- Understanding "dagestani" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dagestani" because he had never seen it before.

---

dame alicia markova (noun)

English ballet dancer (born in 1910).

- They discussed "dame alicia markova" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "dame alicia markova" means with a simple example.

---

dampeners (noun)

A device that dampens or moistens something.

- They discussed "dampeners" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dampeners."

---

damselflies (noun)

Slender non-stinging insect similar to but smaller than the dragonfly but having wings folded when at rest.

- The article explained what "damselflies" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "damselflies" to mean slender non-stinging insect similar to but smaller....

---

darius milhaud (noun)

French composer of works that combine jazz and polytonality and Brazilian music (1892-1974).

- He looked up "darius milhaud" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "darius milhaud."

---

deaconesses (noun)

A woman deacon.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "deaconesses."
- He looked up "deaconesses" because he had never seen it before.

---

debauch (verb)

Corrupt morally or by intemperance or sensuality.

- Debauch the young people with wine and women.
- She tried to use "debauch" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

decapod (noun)

Cephalopods having eight short tentacles plus two long ones.

- In class, the teacher used "decapod" to mean cephalopods having eight short tentacles plus two....
- Understanding "decapod" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

deciles (noun)

(statistics) any of nine points that divided a distribution of ranked scores into equal intervals where each interval contains one-tenth of the scores.

- The article explained what "deciles" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "deciles" to mean (statistics) any of nine points that divided a....

---

decimal numeration system (noun)

A positional system of numeration that uses decimal digits and a base of ten.

- In class, the teacher used "decimal numeration system" to mean a positional system of numeration that uses decimal....
- Understanding "decimal numeration system" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

decontaminating (verb)

Rid of contamination.

- He did not know how to use “decontaminating” until he saw an example.
- Can you use “decontaminating” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

decs (noun)

The last (12th) month of the year.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “decs.”
- He looked up “decs” because he had never seen it before.

---

dejectedly (adverb)

In a dejected manner.

- When she came back Sophie and Esther were sitting dejectedly in the kitchen.
- Using “dejectedly” can make your explanation more exact.

---

demonstratively (adverb)

In a demonstrative manner.

- He greeted her demonstratively.
- Place “demonstratively” carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

deportee (noun)

A person who is expelled from home or country by authority.

- He looked up “deportee” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “deportee” during the group presentation.

---

dhows (noun)

A lateen-rigged sailing vessel used by Arabs.

- The article explained what “dhows” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “dhows” to mean a lateen-rigged sailing vessel used by arabs.

---

dilators (noun)

A muscle or nerve that dilates or widens a body part.

- Understanding “dilators” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “dilators.”

---

diltiazem (noun)

A calcium blocker (trade name Cardizem) used in treating hypertension or angina or heart failure.

- The article explained what “diltiazem” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “diltiazem” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dimed (verb)

Become vague or indistinct.

- He did not know how to use “dimed” until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use “dimed” when talking about this idea.

---

disgorged (verb)

Eject the contents of the stomach through the mouth.

- The coach explained when to use “disgorged” and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use “disgorged” in real sentences.

---

dogwoods (noun)

A tree of shrub of the genus Cornus often having showy bracts resembling flowers.

- In class, the teacher used “dogwoods” to mean a tree of shrub of the genus cornus often having....
- Understanding “dogwoods” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dolorous (adjective)

Showing sorrow.

- A “dolorous” approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation “dolorous”? Explain why.

dragger (noun)

A fishing boat that uses a trawl net or dragnet to catch fish.

- In class, the teacher used "dragger" to mean a fishing boat that uses a trawl net or dragnet to....
- He looked up "dragger" because he had never seen it before.

dramatise (verb)

Represent something in a dramatic manner.

- Learners should practice how to use "dramatise" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "dramatise" when talking about this idea.

drawed (verb)

Remove (a commodity) from (a supply source).

- Can you use "drawed" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "drawed" carefully so everyone would understand.

drawled (verb)

Lengthen and slow down or draw out.

- Can you use "drawled" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "drawled" until he saw an example.

dreadlock (noun)

One of many long thin braids of hair radiating from the scalp; popularized by Rastafarians.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dreadlock."
- The article explained what "dreadlock" means with a simple example.

dreadnaught (noun)

Battleship that has big guns all of the same caliber.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dreadnaught."
- They discussed "dreadnaught" during the group presentation.

duffers (noun)

An incompetent or clumsy person.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "duffers."
- Understanding "duffers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

duncans (noun)

United States dancer and pioneer of modern dance (1878-1927).

- He looked up "duncans" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "duncans."

eaglets (noun)

A young eagle.

- The article explained what "eaglets" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "eaglets" to mean a young eagle.

elias canetti (noun)

English writer born in Germany (1905-1994).

- In class, the teacher used "elias canetti" to mean english writer born in germany (1905-1994).
- He looked up "elias canetti" because he had never seen it before.

embezzler (noun)

Someone who violates a trust by taking (money) for his own use.

- He looked up "embezzler" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "embezzler" during the group presentation.

empresses (noun)

A woman emperor or the wife of an emperor.

- They discussed "empresses" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "empresses" to mean a woman emperor or the wife of an emperor.

---

enceinte (adjective)

In an advanced stage of pregnancy.

- The speaker chose "enceinte" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "enceinte"? Explain why.

---

encryptions (noun)

The activity of converting data or information into code.

- Understanding "encryptions" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "encryptions" because he had never seen it before.

---

enlistees (noun)

Any new member or supporter (as in the armed forces).

- In class, the teacher used "enlistees" to mean any new member or supporter (as in the armed forces).
- He looked up "enlistees" because he had never seen it before.

---

enshrouded (verb)

Cover as if with a shroud.

- He did not know how to use "enshrouded" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "enshrouded" in real sentences.

---

epicenters (noun)

The point on the Earth's surface directly above the focus of an earthquake.

- In class, the teacher used "epicenters" to mean the point on the earth's surface directly above the....
- The article explained what "epicenters" means with a simple example.

---

epicyclic (adjective)

Of or relating to an epicycle.

- Epicyclic gear train.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "epicyclic."

---

epicyclic gear (noun)

An outer gear that revolves about a central sun gear of an epicyclic train.

- He looked up "epicyclic gear" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "epicyclic gear" during the group presentation.

---

epicyclic gear train (noun)

A system of epicyclic gears in which at least one wheel axis itself revolves about another fixed axis.

- Understanding "epicyclic gear train" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "epicyclic gear train" to mean a system of epicyclic gears in which at least one....

---

epicyclic train (noun)

A system of epicyclic gears in which at least one wheel axis itself revolves about another fixed axis.

- They discussed "epicyclic train" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "epicyclic train" to mean a system of epicyclic gears in which at least one....

---

equipage (noun)

A vehicle with wheels drawn by one or more horses.

- The article explained what "equipage" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "equipage" to mean a vehicle with wheels drawn by one or more horses.

---

eutrophic (adjective)

(ecology) of a lake or other body of water rich in nutrients and subject to eutrophication.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "eutrophic."

- A "eutrophic" approach may work better in this case.

---

evangelista torricelli (noun)

Italian physicist who invented the mercury barometer (1608-1647).

- He looked up "evangelista torricelli" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "evangelista torricelli" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

excommunicating (verb)

Exclude from a church or a religious community.

- In everyday English, people use "excommunicating" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "excommunicating" in real sentences.

---

expiate (verb)

Make amends for.

- Expiate one's sins.
- She tried to use "expiate" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

expropriations (noun)

Taking out of an owner's hands (especially taking property by public authority).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "expropriations."
- He looked up "expropriations" because he had never seen it before.

---

false asphodel (noun)

A plant of the genus Tofieldia having linear chiefly basal leaves and small spicate flowers.

- They discussed "false asphodel" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "false asphodel" to mean a plant of the genus tofieldia having linear....

---

farad (noun)

The capacitance of a capacitor that has an equal and opposite charge of 1 coulomb on each plate and a voltage difference of 1 volt between the plates.

- In class, the teacher used "farad" to mean the capacitance of a capacitor that has an equal....
- Understanding "farad" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fedayeen saddam (noun)

A feared paramilitary unit formed in 1995 by young soldiers to serve Saddam Hussein against domestic opponents.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fedayeen saddam."
- He looked up "fedayeen saddam" because he had never seen it before.

---

fiascos (noun)

A sudden and violent collapse.

- In class, the teacher used "fiascos" to mean a sudden and violent collapse.
- The article explained what "fiascos" means with a simple example.

---

fibrous astrocyte (noun)

Star-shaped cells with long processes; found in the white matter of the brain and spinal cord.

- Understanding "fibrous astrocyte" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "fibrous astrocyte" because he had never seen it before.

---

finiteness (noun)

The quality of being finite.

- In class, the teacher used "finiteness" to mean the quality of being finite.
- Understanding "finiteness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fireclay (noun)

A heat-resistant clay.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fireclay."
- The article explained what "fireclay" means with a simple example.

---

fletchers (noun)

Prolific English dramatist who collaborated with Francis Beaumont and many other dramatists (1579-1625).

- In class, the teacher used "fletchers" to mean prolific english dramatist who collaborated with....
- Understanding "fletchers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

flippancy (noun)

Inappropriate levity.

- In class, the teacher used "flippancy" to mean inappropriate levity.
- The article explained what "flippancy" means with a simple example.

forthrightness (noun)

The quality of being honest and straightforward in attitude and speech.

- In class, the teacher used "forthrightness" to mean the quality of being honest and straightforward in....
- Understanding "forthrightness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

francois couperin (noun)

French composer of music for organ and a member of a family of distinguished organists (1668-1733).

- Understanding "francois couperin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "francois couperin" because he had never seen it before.

fraxinus excelsior (noun)

Tall ash of Europe to the Caucasus having leaves shiny dark-green above and pale downy beneath.

- Understanding "fraxinus excelsior" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fraxinus excelsior."

frays (verb)

Wear away by rubbing.

- In everyday English, people use "frays" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "frays" in real sentences.

fulminant (adjective)

Sudden and severe.

- Fulminant pain.
- Fulminant fever.

galangal (noun)

Southeastern Asian perennial with aromatic roots.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "galangal."
- He looked up "galangal" because he had never seen it before.

gamin (noun)

(sometimes offensive) a homeless boy who has been abandoned and roams the streets.

- Understanding "gamin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "gamin" because he had never seen it before.

gastrin (noun)

Polypeptide hormone secreted by the mucous lining of the stomach; when peptides and amino acids are present in the small intestine the secretion of gastric acid is stimulated.

- He looked up "gastrin" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gastrin."

genu (noun)

Hinge joint in the human leg connecting the tibia and fibula with the femur and protected in front by the patella.

- They discussed "genu" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "genu" because he had never seen it before.

genus aplysia (noun)

Type genus of the family Aplysiidae.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus aplysia."
- He looked up "genus aplysia" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus ardea (noun)

Type genus of the Ardeidae: large New and Old World herons.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus ardea."
- The article explained what "genus ardea" means with a simple example.

---

genus bromus (noun)

A genus of grasses of the family Gramineae.

- In class, the teacher used "genus bromus" to mean a genus of grasses of the family gramineae.
- He looked up "genus bromus" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus castanea (noun)

Chestnuts; chinkapins.

- In class, the teacher used "genus castanea" to mean chestnuts; chinkapins.
- Understanding "genus castanea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus coffea (noun)

Coffee trees.

- Understanding "genus coffea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "genus coffea" to mean coffee trees.

---

genus unio (noun)

Type genus of the family Unionidae.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus unio."
- Understanding "genus unio" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

geodesics (noun)

(mathematics) the shortest line between two points on a mathematically defined surface (as a straight line on a plane or an arc of a great circle on a sphere).

- Understanding "geodesics" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "geodesics" to mean (mathematics) the shortest line between two points....

---

gestate (verb)

Be pregnant with.

- He did not know how to use "gestate" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "gestate" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

giulio natta (noun)

Italian chemist noted for work on polymers (1903-1979).

- They discussed "giulio natta" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "giulio natta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

glomeruli (noun)

A small intertwined group of capillaries in the malpighian body; it filters the blood during urine formation.

- He looked up "glomeruli" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "glomeruli" during the group presentation.

---

gluteus medius (noun)

The middle of the three gluteal muscles.

- He looked up "gluteus medius" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "gluteus medius" during the group presentation.

---

godlessness (noun)

The doctrine or belief that there is no God.

- In class, the teacher used "godlessness" to mean the doctrine or belief that there is no god.
- The article explained what "godlessness" means with a simple example.

gravities (noun)

(physics) the force of attraction between all masses in the universe; especially the attraction of the earth's mass for bodies near its surface; ; ; –Albert Einstein.

- Understanding "gravities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "gravities" because he had never seen it before.

griped (verb)

To grip or seize, as in a wrestling match.

- He did not know how to use "griped" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "griped" when talking about this idea.

guffawed (verb)

Laugh boisterously.

- Can you use "guffawed" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "guffawed" carefully so everyone would understand.

gurgled (verb)

Flow in an irregular current with a bubbling noise.

- The baby gurgled with satisfaction when the mother tickled it.
- 'Help,' the stabbing victim gurgled.

ha'penny (noun)

An English coin worth half a penny.

- Understanding "ha'penny" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "ha'penny" because he had never seen it before.

hargeisa (noun)

A city in northwestern Somalia.

- Understanding "hargeisa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hargeisa."

hassam (noun)

United States painter noted for brilliant colors and bold brushwork (1859-1935).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hassam."
- The article explained what "hassam" means with a simple example.

hauteur (noun)

Overbearing pride evidenced by a superior manner toward inferiors.

- He looked up "hauteur" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "hauteur" during the group presentation.

haycock (noun)

A small cone-shaped pile of hay that has been left in the field until it is dry enough to carry to the hayrick.

- In class, the teacher used "haycock" to mean a small cone-shaped pile of hay that has been left....
- They discussed "haycock" during the group presentation.

hectolitres (noun)

A metric unit of volume or capacity equal to 100 liters.

- Understanding "hectolitres" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "hectolitres" to mean a metric unit of volume or capacity equal to 100 liters.

heming (noun)

English actor who edited the first folio of Shakespeare's plays (1556-1630).

- Understanding "heming" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "heming" during the group presentation.

hesperides (noun)

(Greek mythology) group of 3 to 7 nymphs who guarded the golden apples that Gaea gave as a wedding gift to Hera.

- In class, the teacher used "hesperides" to mean (greek mythology) group of 3 to 7 nymphs who....
- They discussed "hesperides" during the group presentation.

---

heterodoxy (noun)

The quality of being unorthodox.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "heterodoxy."
- They discussed "heterodoxy" during the group presentation.

---

hindoo (adjective)

Of or relating to or supporting Hinduism.

- A "hindoo" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "hindoo" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

hollo (noun)

A very loud utterance (like the sound of an animal).

- Understanding "hollo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "hollo" during the group presentation.

---

homogenizing (verb)

Become homogeneous or similar, as by mixing.

- The coach explained when to use "homogenizing" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "homogenizing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

hornswoggle (verb)

Deprive of by deceit.

- He did not know how to use "hornswoggle" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "hornswoggle" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

hourlong (adjective)

Lasting for an hour.

- An hourlong examination.
- Would you call this situation "hourlong"? Explain why.

---

hudud (noun)

Islamic laws stating the limits ordained by Allah and including the deterrent punishments for serious crimes.

- He looked up "hudud" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hudud."

---

hussite (noun)

An adherent of the religious reforms of John Huss.

- They discussed "hussite" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "hussite" to mean an adherent of the religious reforms of john huss.

---

hutches (noun)

A cage (usually made of wood and wire mesh) for small animals.

- In class, the teacher used "hutches" to mean a cage (usually made of wood and wire mesh) for....
- The article explained what "hutches" means with a simple example.

---

hydroplaning (verb)

Glide on the water in a hydroplane.

- He did not know how to use "hydroplaning" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "hydroplaning" when talking about this idea.

---

hylas (noun)

The type genus of the Hylidae; tree toads.

- They discussed "hylas" during the group presentation.

- The article explained what "hylas" means with a simple example.

---

hyperextended (verb)

Extend a joint beyond its normal range.

- In everyday English, people use "hyperextended" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "hyperextended" in real sentences.

---

hyperkinetic syndrome (noun)

A condition (mostly in boys) characterized by behavioral and learning disorders.

- In class, the teacher used "hyperkinetic syndrome" to mean a condition (mostly in boys) characterized by....
- They discussed "hyperkinetic syndrome" during the group presentation.

---

ichor (noun)

A fluid product of inflammation.

- They discussed "ichor" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ichor" to mean a fluid product of inflammation.

---

immunologists (noun)

A medical scientist who specializes in immunology.

- In class, the teacher used "immunologists" to mean a medical scientist who specializes in immunology.
- The article explained what "immunologists" means with a simple example.

---

impeachments (noun)

A formal document charging a public official with misconduct in office.

- In class, the teacher used "impeachments" to mean a formal document charging a public official with....
- They discussed "impeachments" during the group presentation.

---

indemnifying (verb)

Secure against future loss, damage, or liability; give security for.

- In everyday English, people use "indemnifying" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "indemnifying" in real sentences.

---

inferior colliculus (noun)

An essential auditory center in the midbrain.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "inferior colliculus."
- Understanding "inferior colliculus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

initializes (verb)

Divide (a disk) into marked sectors so that it may store data.

- Can you use "initializes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "initializes" until he saw an example.

---

inosine (noun)

A nucleoside that is formed by the deamination of adenosine; used in kidney transplantation to provide a temporary source of sugar.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "inosine."
- The article explained what "inosine" means with a simple example.

---

jehovahs (noun)

A name for the God of the Old Testament as transliterated from the Hebrew consonants YHVH.

- He looked up "jehovahs" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "jehovahs" during the group presentation.

---

john heming (noun)

English actor who edited the first folio of Shakespeare's plays (1556-1630).

- The article explained what "john heming" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "john heming" during the group presentation.

---

kaffirs (noun)

An offensive and insulting term for any Black African.

- He looked up "kaffirs" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "kaffirs" to mean an offensive and insulting term for any black african.

karaites (noun)

A Jewish sect that recognizes only the Hebrew Scriptures as the source of divinely inspired legislation and denies the authority of the postbiblical tradition of the Talmud; the sect arose in Iraq in the eighth century.

- In class, the teacher used "karaites" to mean a jewish sect that recognizes only the hebrew....
- He looked up "karaites" because he had never seen it before.

khoisan (noun)

A family of languages spoken in southern Africa.

- They discussed "khoisan" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "khoisan."

khoisan language (noun)

A family of languages spoken in southern Africa.

- The article explained what "khoisan language" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "khoisan language."

killdeer (noun)

American plover of inland waters and fields having a distinctive cry.

- He looked up "killdeer" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "killdeer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

koinonia (noun)

Christian fellowship or communion with God or with fellow Christians; said in particular of the early Christian community.

- He looked up "koinonia" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "koinonia" during the group presentation.

kopecks (noun)

100 kopecks equal 1 ruble in Russia.

- Understanding "kopecks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "kopecks" during the group presentation.

kronen (noun)

The basic unit of money in Norway.

- They discussed "kronen" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "kronen" to mean the basic unit of money in norway.

lamed (verb)

Deprive of the use of a limb, especially a leg.

- He did not know how to use "lamed" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "lamed" when talking about this idea.

leers (noun)

A facial expression of contempt or scorn; the upper lip curls.

- They discussed "leers" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "leers."

lesser galangal (noun)

Chinese perennial with pyramidal racemes of white flowers and pungent aromatic roots used medicinally and as flavoring.

- The article explained what "lesser galangal" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lesser galangal" to mean chinese perennial with pyramidal racemes of white....

lexicographic (adjective)

Of or relating to lexicography.

- Students compared "lexicographic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "lexicographic."

---

licinius lucullus (noun)

Roman general famous for self-indulgence and giving lavish banquets (circa 110-57 BC).

- The article explained what "licinius lucullus" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "licinius lucullus" during the group presentation.

---

lifehack (verb)

Make one's day-to-day activities more efficient.

- Can you use "lifehack" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "lifehack" and when to wait.

---

lineaments (noun)

The characteristic parts of a person's face: eyes and nose and mouth and chin.

- His lineaments were very regular.
- He looked up "lineaments" because he had never seen it before.

---

liquefies (verb)

Make (a solid substance) liquid, as by heating.

- Can you use "liquefies" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "liquefies" when talking about this idea.

---

liverworts (noun)

Any of numerous small green nonvascular plants of the class Hepaticopsida growing in wet places and resembling green seaweeds or leafy mosses.

- They discussed "liverworts" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "liverworts" because he had never seen it before.

---

livest (adjective)

Actually being performed at the time of hearing or viewing.

- The speaker chose "livest" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "livest"? Explain why.

---

lour (verb)

Look angry or sullen, wrinkle one's forehead, as if to signal disapproval.

- Learners should practice how to use "lour" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "lour" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

macromolecule (noun)

Any very large complex molecule; found only in plants and animals.

- He looked up "macromolecule" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "macromolecule" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mah-jongg (noun)

Chinese game played by 4 people with 144 tiles.

- In class, the teacher used "mah-jongg" to mean chinese game played by 4 people with 144 tiles.
- They discussed "mah-jongg" during the group presentation.

---

maleic acid (noun)

A colorless crystalline compound found in unripe fruit (such as apples or tomatoes or cherries) and used mainly to make polyester resins.

- Understanding "maleic acid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "maleic acid" during the group presentation.

---

mandrill (noun)

Baboon of west Africa with a bright red and blue muzzle and blue hindquarters.

- They discussed "mandrill" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "mandrill" because he had never seen it before.

mefloquine hydrochloride (noun)

An antimalarial drug (trade name Larium and Mephaquine) that is effective in cases that do not respond to chloroquine; said to produce harmful neuropsychiatric effects on some people.

- They discussed "mefloquine hydrochloride" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "mefloquine hydrochloride" because he had never seen it before.

melanocyte (noun)

A cell in the basal layer of the epidermis that produces melanin under the control of the melanocyte-stimulating hormone.

- They discussed "melanocyte" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "melanocyte" to mean a cell in the basal layer of the epidermis that....

midpoints (noun)

A point equidistant from the ends of a line or the extremities of a figure.

- They discussed "midpoints" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "midpoints" to mean a point equidistant from the ends of a line or the....

militarizing (verb)

Lend a military character to (a country), as by building up a military force.

- In everyday English, people use "militarizing" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "militarizing" in real sentences.

milkers (noun)

Cattle that are reared for their milk.

- The article explained what "milkers" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "milkers" to mean cattle that are reared for their milk.

misinforming (verb)

Give false or misleading information to.

- She tried to use "misinforming" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "misinforming" when talking about this idea.

mistrusting (verb)

Regard as untrustworthy; regard with suspicion; have no faith or confidence in.

- Can you use "mistrusting" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "mistrusting" and when to wait.

modernizations (noun)

A modernized version (as of a play).

- Understanding "modernizations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "modernizations."

molts (verb)

Cast off hair, skin, horn, or feathers.

- Can you use "molts" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "molts" until he saw an example.

monell metal (noun)

An alloy of nickel and copper and other metals (such as iron and/or manganese and/or aluminum).

- He looked up "monell metal" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "monell metal."

monetarism (noun)

An economic theory holding that variations in unemployment and the rate of inflation are usually caused by changes in the supply of money.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "monetarism."
- The article explained what "monetarism" means with a simple example.

monistic (adjective)

Of or relating to the philosophical doctrine of monism; - J.S.Roucek.

- The monistic school would regard national law and international law as an integrated whole.
- It is useful to describe something as "monistic" when it is of or relating to the philosophical doctrine of....

---

moochers (noun)

Someone who mooches or cadges (tries to get something free).

- In class, the teacher used "moochers" to mean someone who mooches or cadges (tries to get....
- The article explained what "moochers" means with a simple example.

---

moralities (noun)

Motivation based on ideas of right and wrong.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "moralities."
- Understanding "moralities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

morticians (noun)

One whose business is the management of funerals.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "morticians."
- Understanding "morticians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

narrowboat (noun)

A long boat that carries freight and is narrow enough to be used in canals.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "narrowboat."
- The article explained what "narrowboat" means with a simple example.

---

naze (noun)

A cape at the southern tip of Norway.

- He looked up "naze" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "naze."

---

nearsightedness (noun)

(ophthalmology) eyesight abnormality resulting from the eye's faulty refractive ability; distant objects appear blurred.

- They discussed "nearsightedness" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "nearsightedness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nicety (noun)

A subtle difference in meaning or opinion or attitude.

- He looked up "nicety" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "nicety" to mean a subtle difference in meaning or opinion or attitude.

---

nikita sergeyevich khrushchev (noun)

Soviet statesman and premier who denounced Stalin (1894-1971).

- They discussed "nikita sergeyevich khrushchev" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nikita sergeyevich khrushchev."

---

nimbleness (noun)

Intelligence as revealed by quickness and alertness of mind.

- Nimbleness of wit and imagination.
- He looked up "nimbleness" because he had never seen it before.

---

nissans (noun)

The seventh month of the civil year; the first month of the ecclesiastic year (in March and April).

- They discussed "nissans" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "nissans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nitta tree (noun)

Any of several Old World tropical trees of the genus Parkia having heads of red or yellow flowers followed by pods usually containing edible seeds and pulp.

- In class, the teacher used "nitta tree" to mean any of several old world tropical trees of the....

- They discussed "nitta tree" during the group presentation.

---

nonrenewable (adjective)

That can not be renewed.

- Gas and oil are nonrenewable resources.
- Would you call this situation "nonrenewable"? Explain why.

---

northern bobwhite (noun)

A favorite game bird of eastern and central United States.

- In class, the teacher used "northern bobwhite" to mean a favorite game bird of eastern and central united....
- The article explained what "northern bobwhite" means with a simple example.

---

oarsman (noun)

Someone who rows a boat.

- The article explained what "oarsman" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "oarsman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

oast (noun)

A kiln for drying hops.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oast."
- They discussed "oast" during the group presentation.

---

oast house (noun)

A building containing an oast (a kiln for drying hops); usually has a conical or pyramidal roof.

- They discussed "oast house" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oast house."

---

okays (noun)

An endorsement.

- They discussed "okays" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "okays" because he had never seen it before.

---

oleoresin (noun)

A naturally occurring mixture of a resin and an essential oil; obtained from certain plants.

- He looked up "oleoresin" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "oleoresin" during the group presentation.

---

orchiectomy (noun)

Surgical removal of one or both testicles.

- Understanding "orchiectomy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "orchiectomy" to mean surgical removal of one or both testicles.

---

overhung (verb)

Be suspended over or hang over.

- She tried to use "overhung" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "overhung" when talking about this idea.

---

overleaf (adverb)

On or to the other side of a page.

- Data tabulated overleaf.
- He answered "overleaf," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

overprinted (verb)

Print (additional text or colors) onto an already imprinted paper.

- She tried to use "overprinted" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "overprinted" until he saw an example.

---

padrone (noun)

An owner or proprietor of an inn in Italy.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "padrone."
- He looked up "padrone" because he had never seen it before.

---

pan troglodytes verus (noun)

Masked or pale-faced chimpanzees of western Africa; distantly related to the eastern and central chimpanzees; possibly a distinct species.

- He looked up "pan troglodytes verus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pan troglodytes verus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

paninis (noun)

Indian grammarian whose grammatical rules for Sanskrit are the first known example of descriptive linguistics (circa 400 BC).

- He looked up "paninis" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "paninis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

parcelled (verb)

Cover with strips of canvas.

- The coach explained when to use "parcelled" and when to wait.
- Can you use "parcelled" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

pasch (noun)

The Jewish feast of the Passover.

- They discussed "pasch" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "pasch" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pemphigus (noun)

A skin disease characterized by large thin-walled blisters (bullae) arising from normal skin or mucous membrane.

- In class, the teacher used "pemphigus" to mean a skin disease characterized by large thin-walled....
- They discussed "pemphigus" during the group presentation.

---

penances (noun)

A Catholic sacrament; repentance and confession and atonement and absolution.

- They discussed "penances" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "penances" means with a simple example.

---

penetrable (adjective)

Admitting of penetration or passage into or through.

- A penetrable wall.
- Penetrable defenses.

---

peremptorily (adverb)

In an imperative and commanding manner.

- Place "peremptorily" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- She spoke "peremptorily," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

periphrastic (adjective)

Roundabout and unnecessarily wordy; ; -T.S.Eliot; ('ambagious' is archaic).

- A periphrastic study in a worn-out poetical fashion,/ Leaving one still with the intolerable wrestle/ With words and meanings.
- Students compared "periphrastic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

perspicacious (adjective)

Mentally acute or penetratingly discerning.

- Much too perspicacious to be taken in by so spurious an argument.
- Much too perspicacious to be taken in by such a spurious argument.

---

persuaders (noun)

Someone who tries to persuade or induce or lead on.

- In class, the teacher used "persuaders" to mean someone who tries to persuade or induce or lead on.
- The article explained what "persuaders" means with a simple example.

---

petechiae (noun)

A minute red or purple spot on the surface of the skin as the result of tiny hemorrhages of blood vessels in the skin (as in typhoid fever).

- In class, the teacher used "petechiae" to mean a minute red or purple spot on the surface of the....
- The article explained what "petechiae" means with a simple example.

---

petulantly (adverb)

In a petulant manner.

- She spoke "petulantly," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "petulantly" naturally.

---

phanerozoic (noun)

The period from about 5,400 million years ago until the present.

- He looked up "phanerozoic" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "phanerozoic" during the group presentation.

---

philatelist (noun)

A collector and student of postage stamps.

- They discussed "philatelist" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "philatelist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

photocell (noun)

A transducer used to detect and measure light and other radiations.

- He looked up "photocell" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "photocell."

---

pictograph (noun)

A graphic character used in picture writing.

- They discussed "pictograph" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "pictograph" to mean a graphic character used in picture writing.

---

pions (noun)

A meson involved in holding the nucleus together; produced as the result of high-energy particle collision.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pions."
- He looked up "pions" because he had never seen it before.

---

plasticized (verb)

Make plastic, as by the addition of a plasticizer.

- Plasticized PVC.
- The coach explained when to use "plasticized" and when to wait.

---

plods (noun)

The act of walking with a slow heavy gait.

- In class, the teacher used "plods" to mean the act of walking with a slow heavy gait.
- The article explained what "plods" means with a simple example.

---

poa pratensis (noun)

Valuable meadow and pasture grass in Europe and especially central United States having tall stalks and slender bright green leaves; a chief constituent in lawn grass mixtures.

- They discussed "poa pratensis" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "poa pratensis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pommy (noun)

A disparaging term for a British person.

- He looked up "pommy" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "pommy" to mean a disparaging term for a british person.

posher (adjective)

Elegant and fashionable; ; ; ; - Julia Child.

- The speaker chose "posher" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "posher."

positioner (noun)

(computer science) the actuator that moves a read/write head to the proper data track.

- Understanding "positioner" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "positioner" to mean (computer science) the actuator that moves a....

potbellied (adjective)

Having a large belly.

- Students compared "potbellied" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "potbellied."

powells (noun)

English physicist who discovered the pion (the first known meson) which is a subatomic particle involved in holding the nucleus together (1903-1969).

- In class, the teacher used "powells" to mean english physicist who discovered the pion (the....
- The article explained what "powells" means with a simple example.

preparative (adjective)

Preceding and preparing for something.

- A "preparative" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "preparative"? Explain why.

prickling (noun)

A somatic sensation as from many tiny prickles.

- The article explained what "prickling" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "prickling" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

progestins (noun)

Any of a group of steroid hormones that have the effect of progesterone.

- He looked up "progestins" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "progestins" to mean any of a group of steroid hormones that have the....

promiscuously (adverb)

In an indiscriminate manner.

- She reads promiscuously.
- This young girl has to share a room with her mother who lives promiscuously.

propagandized (verb)

Spread by propaganda.

- The coach explained when to use "propagandized" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "propagandized" carefully so everyone would understand.

prophylactics (noun)

Remedy that prevents or slows the course of an illness or disease.

- The article explained what "prophylactics" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "prophylactics" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

provosts (noun)

A high-ranking university administrator.

- In class, the teacher used "provosts" to mean a high-ranking university administrator.
- He looked up "provosts" because he had never seen it before.

prunus angustifolia (noun)

Small native American shrubby tree bearing small edible yellow to reddish fruit.

- They discussed "prunus angustifolia" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "prunus angustifolia" to mean small native american shrubby tree bearing small....

---

psychologies (noun)

The science of mental life.

- The article explained what "psychologies" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "psychologies" during the group presentation.

---

pudendal cleft (noun)

The fissure between the labia majora.

- They discussed "pudendal cleft" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "pudendal cleft" to mean the fissure between the labia majora.

---

purees (verb)

Rub through a strainer or process in an electric blender.

- Learners should practice how to use "purees" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "purees" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

rafted (verb)

Travel by raft in water.

- Learners should practice how to use "rafted" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "rafted" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

railroader (noun)

An employee of a railroad.

- They discussed "railroader" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "railroader" because he had never seen it before.

---

randomizing (verb)

Arrange in random order.

- The coach explained when to use "randomizing" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "randomizing" until he saw an example.

---

rapiers (noun)

A straight sword with a narrow blade and two edges.

- Understanding "rapiers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "rapiers" means with a simple example.

---

reactivates (verb)

Activate (an old file) anew.

- In everyday English, people use "reactivates" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "reactivates" in real sentences.

---

recusant (adjective)

Refusing to submit to authority; - Mary W.Williams.

- The recusant electors...cooperated in electing a new Senate.
- A "recusant" approach may work better in this case.

---

recusing (verb)

Disqualify oneself (as a judge) in a particular case.

- Learners should practice how to use "recusing" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "recusing" when talking about this idea.

---

redshank (noun)

A common Old World wading bird with long red legs.

- Understanding "redshank" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- The article explained what "redshank" means with a simple example.

---

reductio ad absurdum (noun)

(reduction to the absurd) a disproof by showing that the consequences of the proposition are absurd; or a proof of a proposition by showing that its negation leads to a contradiction.

- They discussed "reductio ad absurdum" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "reductio ad absurdum" because he had never seen it before.

---

reexamining (verb)

Look at again; examine again.

- He did not know how to use "reexamining" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "reexamining" when talking about this idea.

---

reflexed (adjective)

(of leaves) bent downward and outward more than 90 degrees.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "reflexed."
- The speaker chose "reflexed" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

restocks (verb)

Stock again.

- She tried to use "restocks" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "restocks" when talking about this idea.

---

retaliations (noun)

Action taken in return for an injury or offense.

- They discussed "retaliations" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "retaliations" means with a simple example.

---

retentions (noun)

The power of retaining and recalling past experience.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "retentions."
- They discussed "retentions" during the group presentation.

---

reverberant (adjective)

Having a tendency to reverberate or be repeatedly reflected.

- A reverberant room.
- The reverberant booms of cannon.

---

rootstocks (noun)

A horizontal plant stem with shoots above and roots below serving as a reproductive structure.

- They discussed "rootstocks" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "rootstocks" means with a simple example.

---

rostand (noun)

French dramatist and poet whose play immortalized Cyrano de Bergerac (1868-1918).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rostand."
- He looked up "rostand" because he had never seen it before.

---

rotenone (noun)

A white crystalline insecticide that has low toxicity for mammals; is used in home gardens; extracted from the roots of derris and cube.

- He looked up "rotenone" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "rotenone" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rued (verb)

Feel remorse for; feel sorry for; be contrite about.

- Learners should practice how to use "rued" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "rued" and when to wait.

---

sabaton (noun)

Armor plate that protects the foot; consists of mail with a solid toe and heel.

- In class, the teacher used "sabaton" to mean armor plate that protects the foot; consists of....
- The article explained what "sabaton" means with a simple example.

---

salesgirl (noun)

A woman salesperson.

- In class, the teacher used "salesgirl" to mean a woman salesperson.
- The article explained what "salesgirl" means with a simple example.

---

schonberg (noun)

United States composer and musical theorist (born in Austria) who developed atonal composition (1874-1951).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "schonberg."
- He looked up "schonberg" because he had never seen it before.

---

scimitars (noun)

A curved oriental saber; the edge is on the convex side of the blade.

- The article explained what "scimitars" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "scimitars" during the group presentation.

---

scotch asphodel (noun)

False asphodel having spikes of white flowers; of mountainous regions of Europe.

- In class, the teacher used "scotch asphodel" to mean false asphodel having spikes of white flowers; of....
- The article explained what "scotch asphodel" means with a simple example.

---

scotlands (noun)

One of the four countries that make up the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland; located on the northern part of the island of Great Britain; famous for bagpipes and plaids and kilts.

- They discussed "scotlands" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "scotlands" because he had never seen it before.

---

scrimping (verb)

Subsist on a meager allowance.

- Learners should practice how to use "scrimping" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "scrimping" and when to wait.

---

scuds (noun)

The act of moving along swiftly (as before a gale).

- In class, the teacher used "scuds" to mean the act of moving along swiftly (as before a gale).
- The article explained what "scuds" means with a simple example.

---

seagrasses (noun)

Any of various seaweeds that grow underwater in shallow beds.

- They discussed "seagrasses" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "seagrasses" to mean any of various seaweeds that grow underwater in....

---

seborrheic dermatitis (noun)

A chronic skin disease associated with seborrhea and greasy scales on the scalp or eyelids or other parts of the skin.

- In class, the teacher used "seborrheic dermatitis" to mean a chronic skin disease associated with seborrhea....
- He looked up "seborrheic dermatitis" because he had never seen it before.

---

seclude (verb)

Keep away from others.

- In everyday English, people use "seclude" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "seclude" in real sentences.

---

sensitised (adjective)

Having an allergy or peculiar or excessive susceptibility (especially to a specific factor).

- The speaker chose “sensitised” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation “sensitised”? Explain why.

---

settees (noun)

A long wooden bench with a back.

- The article explained what “settees” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “settees” during the group presentation.

---

sexpot (noun)

A young woman who is thought to have sex appeal.

- The article explained what “sexpot” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “sexpot” during the group presentation.

---

shove-ha'penny (noun)

A game in which coins or discs are slid by hand across a board toward a mark.

- Understanding “shove-ha'penny” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “shove-ha'penny” means with a simple example.

---

shoveler (noun)

A worker who shovels.

- A shoveler of coal.
- Understanding “shoveler” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

shrewdest (adjective)

Marked by practical hardheaded intelligence.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “shrewdest.”
- Students compared “shrewdest” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

shrimpers (noun)

A vessel engaged in shrimping.

- They discussed “shrimpers” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “shrimpers.”

---

silenus (noun)

The chief satyr in the service of Bacchus; father of Dionysus; usually depicted as drunk and jolly and riding a donkey.

- The article explained what “silenus” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “silenus” to mean the chief satyr in the service of bacchus; father....

---

sindhis (noun)

The Indic language of Sind which is spoken also in western India.

- He looked up “sindhis” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “sindhis” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sir yehudi menuhin (noun)

British violinist (born in the United States) who began his career as a child prodigy in the 1920s (1916-1999).

- Understanding “sir yehudi menuhin” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “sir yehudi menuhin” during the group presentation.

---

skanda (noun)

Hindu god of war.

- Understanding “skanda” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “skanda.”

---

sniggers (noun)

A disrespectful laugh.

- Understanding “sniggers” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “sniggers.”

sodomizing (verb)

Practice anal sex upon.

- He did not know how to use "sodomizing" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "sodomizing" and when to wait.

sourpuss (noun)

Someone with a habitually sullen or gloomy expression.

- He looked up "sourpuss" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "sourpuss" during the group presentation.

spallation (noun)

(physics) a nuclear reaction in which a bombarded nucleus breaks up into many particles.

- Some astronomers believe that the solar system was formed by spallation when the sun was a very young star.
- They discussed "spallation" during the group presentation.

spastics (noun)

A person suffering from spastic paralysis.

- He looked up "spastics" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "spastics" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

spatters (noun)

The noise of something spattering or sputtering explosively.

- He looked up "spatters" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "spatters" during the group presentation.

spillers (noun)

An attacker who sheds or spills blood.

- Understanding "spillers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "spillers" means with a simple example.

sporulation (noun)

Asexual reproduction by the production and release of spores.

- He looked up "sporulation" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "sporulation" during the group presentation.

squawked (verb)

Utter a harsh abrupt scream.

- He did not know how to use "squawked" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "squawked" in a sentence that fits this situation?

staleness (noun)

Unoriginality as a result of being dull and hackneyed.

- In class, the teacher used "staleness" to mean unoriginality as a result of being dull and hackneyed.
- They discussed "staleness" during the group presentation.

suasion (noun)

The act of persuading (or attempting to persuade); communication intended to induce belief or action.

- Understanding "suasion" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "suasion" to mean the act of persuading (or attempting to persuade);....

subsumes (verb)

Consider (an instance of something) as part of a general rule or principle.

- This new system subsumes the old one.
- He did not know how to use "subsumes" until he saw an example.

suburbanite (noun)

A resident of a suburb.

- In class, the teacher used "suburbanite" to mean a resident of a suburb.
- They discussed "suburbanite" during the group presentation.

---

succotash (noun)

Fresh corn and lima beans with butter or cream.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "succotash."
- He looked up "succotash" because he had never seen it before.

---

succubi (noun)

A female demon believed to have sexual intercourse with sleeping men.

- In class, the teacher used "succubi" to mean a female demon believed to have sexual intercourse....
- Understanding "succubi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sumptuary (adjective)

Regulating or controlling expenditure or personal behavior.

- Sumptuary laws discouraging construction of large houses on small plots.
- Sumptuary laws forbidding gambling.

---

sunrays (noun)

A ray of artificial ultraviolet light from a sunray lamp.

- The article explained what "sunrays" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "sunrays" to mean a ray of artificial ultraviolet light from a sunray....

---

superintended (verb)

Watch and direct.

- The coach explained when to use "superintended" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "superintended" in real sentences.

---

superior colliculus (noun)

An essential visual center between the retina and the striate cortex.

- He looked up "superior colliculus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "superior colliculus."

---

supped (verb)

Take solid or liquid food into the mouth a little at a time either by drinking or by eating with a spoon.

- In everyday English, people use "supped" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "supped" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

suras (noun)

One of the sections (or chapters) in the Koran.

- The Quran is divided in 114 suras.
- In class, the teacher used "suras" to mean one of the sections (or chapters) in the koran.

---

surmising (verb)

Imagine to be the case or true or probable.

- In everyday English, people use "surmising" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "surmising" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

sweatband (noun)

A band of fabric or leather sewn inside the crown of a hat.

- They discussed "sweatband" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "sweatband" to mean a band of fabric or leather sewn inside the crown....

---

tamarindo (noun)

Large tropical seed pod with very tangy pulp that is eaten fresh or cooked with rice and fish or preserved for curries and chutneys.

- They discussed "tamarindo" during the group presentation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “tamarindo.”

---

tenderest (adjective)

Given to sympathy or gentleness or sentimentality.

- Would you call this situation “tenderest”? Explain why.
- Students compared “tenderest” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

terete (adjective)

Especially of plant parts; cylindrical and tapering.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “terete.”
- A “terete” approach may work better in this case.

---

terrariums (noun)

A vivarium in which selected living plants are kept and observed.

- He looked up “terrariums” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “terrariums” to mean a vivarium in which selected living plants are kept....

---

threepence (noun)

Former cupronickel coin of the United Kingdom equal to three pennies.

- The article explained what “threepence” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “threepence” to mean former cupronickel coin of the united kingdom equal....

---

threescore (noun)

A set with 3 times 20 members.

- Understanding “threescore” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “threescore.”

---

thrombolytic (noun)

A kind of pharmaceutical that can break up clots blocking the flow of blood to the heart muscle.

- He looked up “thrombolytic” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “thrombolytic” to mean a kind of pharmaceutical that can break up clots....

---

thrombolytic agent (noun)

A kind of pharmaceutical that can break up clots blocking the flow of blood to the heart muscle.

- They discussed “thrombolytic agent” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “thrombolytic agent” because he had never seen it before.

---

thrombolytic therapy (noun)

Therapy consisting of the administration of a pharmacological agent to cause thrombolysis of an abnormal blood clot.

- The article explained what “thrombolytic therapy” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “thrombolytic therapy” to mean therapy consisting of the administration of a....

---

tike (noun)

A young person of either sex.

- The article explained what “tike” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “tike” to mean a young person of either sex.

---

tinges (noun)

A slight but appreciable amount.

- Understanding “tinges” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “tinges” to mean a slight but appreciable amount.

---

tinpot (adjective)

Inferior (especially of a country’s leadership).

- He’s a tinpot Hitler.
- Students compared “tinpot” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

toothaches (noun)

An ache localized in or around a tooth.

- In class, the teacher used "toothaches" to mean an ache localized in or around a tooth.
- The article explained what "toothaches" means with a simple example.

torchbearers (noun)

A leader in a campaign or movement.

- In class, the teacher used "torchbearers" to mean a leader in a campaign or movement.
- The article explained what "torchbearers" means with a simple example.

transposes (verb)

Transfer from one place or period to another.

- She tried to use "transposes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "transposes" in a sentence that fits this situation?

trifolium repens (noun)

Creeping European clover having white to pink flowers and bright green leaves; naturalized in United States; widely grown for forage.

- He looked up "trifolium repens" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "trifolium repens" to mean creeping european clover having white to pink....

tripolis (noun)

A port city and commercial center in northwestern Lebanon on the Mediterranean Sea.

- He looked up "tripolis" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "tripolis" during the group presentation.

triskelion (noun)

A figure consisting of three stylized human arms or legs (or three bent lines) radiating from a center.

- In class, the teacher used "triskelion" to mean a figure consisting of three stylized human arms or....
- He looked up "triskelion" because he had never seen it before.

turfing (verb)

Cover (the ground) with a surface layer of grass or grass roots.

- He did not know how to use "turfing" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "turfing" carefully so everyone would understand.

turfing daisy (noun)

Mat-forming perennial herb of Asia Minor; sometimes included in genus Matricaria.

- They discussed "turfing daisy" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "turfing daisy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

turfs (noun)

The territory claimed by a juvenile gang as its own.

- In class, the teacher used "turfs" to mean the territory claimed by a juvenile gang as its own.
- The article explained what "turfs" means with a simple example.

typewriting (noun)

Writing done with a typewriter.

- He looked up "typewriting" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "typewriting" to mean writing done with a typewriter.

ubiquinone (noun)

Any of several quinones found in living cells and that function as coenzymes that transfer electrons from one molecule to another in cell respiration.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ubiquinone."
- The article explained what "ubiquinone" means with a simple example.

umpired (verb)

Be a referee or umpire in a sports competition.

- She tried to use "umpired" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "umpired" when talking about this idea.

---

uncaused (adjective)

Having no cause or apparent cause.

- We cannot regard artistic invention as...uncaused and unrelated to the times.
- Students compared "uncaused" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

uncial (noun)

A style of orthography characterized by somewhat rounded capital letters; found especially in Greek and Latin manuscripts of the 4th to 8th centuries.

- In class, the teacher used "uncial" to mean a style of orthography characterized by somewhat....
- The article explained what "uncial" means with a simple example.

---

undependable (adjective)

Not worthy of reliance or trust.

- An undependable assistant.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "undependable."

---

undereducated (adjective)

Poorly or insufficiently educated.

- A "undereducated" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "undereducated" when it is poorly or insufficiently educated.

---

undershot (adjective)

Having a lower part projecting beyond the upper.

- Undershot bulldog.
- Students compared "undershot" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

unengaged (adjective)

Not busy or occupied; free.

- The cancellation left her unengaged a good part of the afternoon.
- Continued seeing him but on an unengaged basis.

---

unfreezing (verb)

Become or cause to become soft or liquid.

- He did not know how to use "unfreezing" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "unfreezing" when talking about this idea.

---

unio (noun)

Type genus of the family Unionidae.

- They discussed "unio" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "unio" to mean type genus of the family unionidae.

---

unnerves (verb)

Disturb the composure of.

- The coach explained when to use "unnerves" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "unnerves" until he saw an example.

---

unreasoning (adjective)

Not based on reason or evidence.

- Unreasoning panic.
- A "unreasoning" approach may work better in this case.

---

unremarked (adjective)

Not perceived or commented on.

- Would you call this situation "unremarked"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "unremarked" when it is not perceived or commented on.

untracked (adjective)

Lacking pathways.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "untracked."
- Would you call this situation "untracked"? Explain why.

untrammelled (adjective)

Not confined or limited; - Russell Lord; - Farley Mowat.

- It is useful to describe something as "untrammelled" when it is not confined or limited; - russell lord; - farley mowat.
- Would you call this situation "untrammelled"? Explain why.

upstaging (verb)

Steal the show, draw attention to oneself away from someone else.

- Learners should practice how to use "upstaging" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "upstaging" until he saw an example.

usurer (noun)

Someone who lends money at excessive rates of interest.

- In class, the teacher used "usurer" to mean someone who lends money at excessive rates of interest.
- They discussed "usurer" during the group presentation.

vaginitis (noun)

Inflammation of the vagina (usually associated with candidiasis).

- Understanding "vaginitis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "vaginitis" because he had never seen it before.

vaguer (adjective)

Not precisely limited, determined, or distinguished.

- Would you call this situation "vaguer"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "vaguer" when it is not precisely limited, determined, or distinguished.

variate (noun)

A variable quantity that is random.

- He looked up "variate" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "variate."

ventilatory (adjective)

Provided with ventilation or involving pulmonary ventilation.

- A "ventilatory" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "ventilatory"? Explain why.

vernaculars (noun)

A characteristic language of a particular group (as among thieves).

- Understanding "vernaculars" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "vernaculars" to mean a characteristic language of a particular group (as....

walloons (noun)

An ethnic group speaking a dialect of French and living in southern and eastern Belgium and neighboring parts of France.

- The article explained what "walloons" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "walloons" to mean an ethnic group speaking a dialect of french and....

washtub (noun)

A tub in which clothes or linens can be washed.

- He looked up "washtub" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "washtub" during the group presentation.

whorled aster (noun)

North American perennial with apparently whorled leaves and showy white purple-tinged flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "whorled aster" to mean north american perennial with apparently whorled....
- He looked up "whorled aster" because he had never seen it before.

---

widgeon (noun)

Freshwater duck of Eurasia and northern Africa related to mallards and teals.

- They discussed "widgeon" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "widgeon."

---

wimple (noun)

Headdress of cloth; worn over the head and around the neck and ears by medieval women.

- In class, the teacher used "wimple" to mean headdress of cloth; worn over the head and around....
- The article explained what "wimple" means with a simple example.

---

windbreaks (noun)

Hedge or fence of trees designed to lessen the force of the wind and reduce erosion.

- He looked up "windbreaks" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "windbreaks" during the group presentation.

---

windowpanes (noun)

A pane of glass in a window.

- They discussed "windowpanes" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "windowpanes."

---

wobblies (noun)

A member of the Industrial Workers of the World.

- The article explained what "wobblies" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "wobblies" during the group presentation.

---

wood widgeon (noun)

Showy North American duck that nests in hollow trees.

- He looked up "wood widgeon" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "wood widgeon" to mean showy north american duck that nests in hollow trees.

---

yakut (noun)

A member of a Turkic people of northeastern Siberia (mainly in the Lena river basin).

- In class, the teacher used "yakut" to mean a member of a turkic people of northeastern siberia....
- They discussed "yakut" during the group presentation.

---

yehudi menuhin (noun)

British violinist (born in the United States) who began his career as a child prodigy in the 1920s (1916-1999).

- Understanding "yehudi menuhin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "yehudi menuhin."

---

yellow asphodel (noun)

Asphodel with leafy stem and fragrant yellow flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "yellow asphodel" to mean asphodel with leafy stem and fragrant yellow flowers.
- They discussed "yellow asphodel" during the group presentation.

---

abasement (noun)

A low or downcast state; - H.L.Menchken.

- Each confession brought her into an attitude of abasement.
- Understanding "abasement" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ablated (adjective)

Made smaller or less by melting or erosion or vaporization.

- The rocket's ablated head shield.

- The speaker chose “ablated” because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

abruptness (noun)

The property possessed by a slope that is very steep.

- The article explained what “abruptness” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “abruptness” during the group presentation.

---

acetates (noun)

A fabric made from fibers of cellulose acetate.

- Understanding “acetates” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “acetates” during the group presentation.

---

advisability (noun)

The quality of being advisable.

- They questioned the advisability of our policy.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “advisability.”

---

aesthetical (adjective)

Concerning or characterized by an appreciation of beauty or good taste.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “aesthetical.”
- A “aesthetical” approach may work better in this case.

---

alleghenies (noun)

The western part of the Appalachian Mountains; extending from northern Pennsylvania to southwestern Virginia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “alleghenies.”
- He looked up “alleghenies” because he had never seen it before.

---

allium cepa (noun)

Bulbous plant having hollow leaves cultivated worldwide for its rounded edible bulb.

- They discussed “allium cepa” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “allium cepa” means with a simple example.

---

allografts (noun)

Tissue or organ transplanted from a donor of the same species but different genetic makeup; recipient’s immune system must be suppressed to prevent rejection of the graft.

- The article explained what “allografts” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “allografts” to mean tissue or organ transplanted from a donor of the....

---

almsgiving (noun)

Making voluntary contributions to aid the poor.

- They discussed “almsgiving” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “almsgiving” to mean making voluntary contributions to aid the poor.

---

aluminized (verb)

Cover with aluminum.

- Learners should practice how to use “aluminized” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “aluminized” when talking about this idea.

---

amiability (noun)

A disposition to be friendly and approachable (easy to talk to).

- They discussed “amiability” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “amiability” because he had never seen it before.

---

animalia (noun)

Taxonomic kingdom comprising all living or extinct animals.

- In class, the teacher used “animalia” to mean taxonomic kingdom comprising all living or extinct....
- They discussed “animalia” during the group presentation.

---

annulments (noun)

The state of being cancelled or annulled.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "annulments."
- He looked up "annulments" because he had never seen it before.

---

anthelmintic (noun)

A medication capable of causing the evacuation of parasitic intestinal worms.

- Understanding "anthelmintic" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "anthelmintic" to mean a medication capable of causing the evacuation of....

---

antiarrhythmic (noun)

A drug used to treat an abnormal heart rhythm.

- They discussed "antiarrhythmic" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "antiarrhythmic" because he had never seen it before.

---

antiarrhythmic drug (noun)

A drug used to treat an abnormal heart rhythm.

- The article explained what "antiarrhythmic drug" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "antiarrhythmic drug."

---

antiarrhythmic medication (noun)

A drug used to treat an abnormal heart rhythm.

- He looked up "antiarrhythmic medication" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "antiarrhythmic medication" during the group presentation.

---

antiguan (adjective)

Of or relating to or characteristic of Antigua or its people.

- Antiguan islands.
- The speaker chose "antiguan" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

antipersonnel (adjective)

Designed to inflict death or personal injury rather than material destruction.

- It is useful to describe something as "antipersonnel" when it is designed to inflict death or personal injury rather....
- Would you call this situation "antipersonnel"? Explain why.

---

antipersonnel bomb (noun)

A bomb with only 10 to 20 per cent explosive and the remainder consisting of casings designed to break into many small high-velocity fragments; most effective against troops and vehicles.

- He looked up "antipersonnel bomb" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "antipersonnel bomb."

---

antipodal (noun)

The relation of opposition along a diameter.

- Understanding "antipodal" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "antipodal."

---

antipodal opposition (noun)

The relation of opposition along a diameter.

- Understanding "antipodal opposition" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "antipodal opposition."

---

aped (verb)

Imitate uncritically and in every aspect.

- She tried to use "aped" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "aped" in real sentences.

---

apprehensively (adverb)

With anxiety or apprehension.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "apprehensively" naturally.
- The narrator describes the scene "apprehensively" in the final chapter.

---

aquavit (noun)

Scandinavian liquor usually flavored with caraway seeds.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aquavit."
- He looked up "aquavit" because he had never seen it before.

---

aquiline (adjective)

Curved down like an eagle's beak.

- Students compared "aquiline" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "aquiline" approach may work better in this case.

---

aril (noun)

Fleshy and usually brightly colored cover of some seeds that develops from the ovule stalk and partially or entirely envelopes the seed.

- He looked up "aril" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "aril" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

Politics & Diplomacy

rapprochement (noun)

The re-establishment of friendly relations between countries or groups after a period of hostility.

- The summit marked a historic rapprochement between the two former enemies.
- Trade agreements often pave the way for political rapprochement.

---

hegemony (noun)

Dominance or leadership of one country, group, or institution over others, especially in politics, economics, or culture.

- The nineteenth century saw the naval hegemony of the British Empire.
- Some economists worry about the hegemony of a few technology giants over the digital economy.

---

demagogue (noun)

A political leader who gains power by appealing to people's emotions, fears, and prejudices rather than by using rational argument.

- The historian warned that economic despair creates fertile ground for demagogues.
- Rather than address the facts, the demagogue blamed minorities for the nation's problems.

---

realpolitik (noun)

Politics based on practical and material factors rather than on moral or ideological principles.

- The alliance was a product of cold realpolitik, not shared values.
- Critics accused the government of ruthless realpolitik.

---

detente (noun)

An easing of strained relations, especially between countries.

- The 1970s saw a period of detente between the superpowers.
- Cultural exchanges helped promote detente.

---

irredentism (noun)

A policy of claiming territory that once belonged to one's country or is inhabited by people of the same ethnicity.

- Irredentism fueled border disputes in the region.
- Nationalist parties revived old irredentist claims.

---

plenipotentiary (noun / adjective)

A diplomat with full authority to represent a government; having such full powers.

- The ambassador acted as plenipotentiary at the peace talks.
- She was granted plenipotentiary powers to sign the treaty.

---

casus belli (noun)

An event or action that is used as a reason for declaring war.

- The sinking of the ship became the casus belli.

- Historians still debate the true casus belli of the conflict.

---

multipolar (adjective)

Having several centers of power rather than one or two dominant ones.

- Analysts describe today's world as increasingly multipolar.
- A multipolar order can be less predictable than a bipolar one.

---

envoy (noun)

A messenger or representative, especially one on a diplomatic mission.

- The special envoy met with both sides to seek a ceasefire.
- She served as an envoy for humanitarian talks.

---

appeasement (noun)

The policy of giving in to an aggressor's demands in the hope of avoiding conflict.

- Critics condemned the treaty as dangerous appeasement.
- History textbooks often discuss appeasement before the Second World War.

---

arminians (noun)

Adherent of Arminianism.

- Understanding "arminians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "arminians" during the group presentation.

---

aureole (noun)

An indication of radiant light drawn around the head of a saint.

- They discussed "aureole" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aureole."

---

autoclaves (noun)

A device for heating substances above their boiling point; used to manufacture chemicals or to sterilize surgical instruments.

- They discussed "autoclaves" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "autoclaves."

---

autocracies (noun)

A political system governed by a single individual.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "autocracies."
- Understanding "autocracies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

avogadro (noun)

Italian physicist noted for his work on gases; proposed what has come to be called Avogadro's law (1776-1856).

- They discussed "avogadro" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "avogadro" because he had never seen it before.

---

avogadro number (noun)

The number of molecules in a mole of a substance (approximately 602,250,000,000,000,000,000,000).

- Understanding "avogadro number" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "avogadro number" during the group presentation.

---

baboo (noun)

Used as a Hindi courtesy title; equivalent to English 'Mr'.

- They discussed "baboo" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "baboo" means with a simple example.

---

barbeques (noun)

A rack to hold meat for cooking over hot charcoal usually out of doors.

- In class, the teacher used "barbeques" to mean a rack to hold meat for cooking over hot charcoal....
- The article explained what "barbeques" means with a simple example.

---

baroness karen blixen (noun)

Danish writer who lived in Kenya for 19 years and is remembered for her writings about Africa (1885-1962).

- Understanding "baroness karen blixen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "baroness karen blixen."

---

barrelling (verb)

Put in barrels.

- She tried to use "barrelling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "barrelling" when talking about this idea.

---

barrow's goldeneye (noun)

North American goldeneye diving duck.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "barrow's goldeneye."
- He looked up "barrow's goldeneye" because he had never seen it before.

---

basilicata (noun)

A region of southern Italy (forming the instep of the Italian 'boot').

- They discussed "basilicata" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "basilicata" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bathos (noun)

A change from a serious subject to a disappointing one.

- They discussed "bathos" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "bathos" because he had never seen it before.

---

bayberry (noun)

Deciduous aromatic shrub of eastern North America with grey-green wax-coated berries.

- In class, the teacher used "bayberry" to mean deciduous aromatic shrub of eastern north america....
- The article explained what "bayberry" means with a simple example.

---

bayberry wax (noun)

A fragrant green wax obtained from the wax myrtle and used in making candles.

- Understanding "bayberry wax" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "bayberry wax" during the group presentation.

---

bedlington terrier (noun)

A light terrier groomed to resemble a lamb.

- They discussed "bedlington terrier" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bedlington terrier."

---

beholders (noun)

A person who becomes aware (of things or events) through the senses.

- He looked up "beholders" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "beholders" to mean a person who becomes aware (of things or events)....

---

beloveds (noun)

A beloved person; used as terms of endearment.

- In class, the teacher used "beloveds" to mean a beloved person; used as terms of endearment.
- He looked up "beloveds" because he had never seen it before.

---

benthos (noun)

A region including the bottom of the sea and the littoral zones.

- They discussed "benthos" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "benthos" means with a simple example.

---

bents (noun)

A relatively permanent inclination to react in a particular way.

- In class, the teacher used "bents" to mean a relatively permanent inclination to react in a....
- Understanding "bents" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

benzocaine (noun)

A white crystalline ester used as a local anesthetic.

- He looked up "benzocaine" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "benzocaine" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

berberis vulgaris (noun)

Upright deciduous European shrub widely naturalized in United States having clusters of juicy berries.

- The article explained what "berberis vulgaris" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "berberis vulgaris" during the group presentation.

---

beseeched (verb)

Ask for or request earnestly.

- She tried to use "beseeched" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "beseeched" in real sentences.

---

bifocal (adjective)

Having two foci.

- Bifocal eyeglasses.
- It is useful to describe something as "bifocal" when it is having two foci.

---

binary numeration system (noun)

A positional system of numeration that uses binary digits and a radix of two.

- He looked up "binary numeration system" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "binary numeration system" during the group presentation.

---

binnacle (noun)

A nonmagnetic housing for a ship's compass (usually in front of the helm).

- In class, the teacher used "binnacle" to mean a nonmagnetic housing for a ship's compass (usually....
- They discussed "binnacle" during the group presentation.

---

bloks (noun)

Russian poet (1880-1921).

- They discussed "bloks" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bloks."

---

blotters (noun)

The daily written record of events (as arrests) in a police station.

- The article explained what "blotters" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "blotters" to mean the daily written record of events (as arrests) in....

---

bobolink (noun)

Migratory American songbird.

- Understanding "bobolink" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "bobolink" means with a simple example.

---

boron trifluoride (noun)

A pungent colorless gas.

- They discussed "boron trifluoride" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "boron trifluoride."

---

brancusi (noun)

Romanian sculptor noted for abstractions of animal forms (1876-1957).

- The article explained what "brancusi" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "brancusi" during the group presentation.

brassieres (noun)

An undergarment worn by women to support their breasts.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brassieres."
- He looked up "brassieres" because he had never seen it before.

brimful (adjective)

Filled to capacity.

- A brimful cup.
- I am brimful of chowder.

brocades (noun)

Thick heavy expensive material with a raised pattern.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brocades."
- He looked up "brocades" because he had never seen it before.

brominated (verb)

React with bromine.

- He did not know how to use "brominated" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "brominated" and when to wait.

bronchodilators (noun)

A drug that relaxes and dilates the bronchial passageways and improves the passages of air into the lungs.

- They discussed "bronchodilators" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "bronchodilators" to mean a drug that relaxes and dilates the bronchial....

bronislaw kasper malinowski (noun)

British anthropologist (born in Poland) who introduced the technique of the participant observer (1884-1942).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bronislaw kasper malinowski."
- He looked up "bronislaw kasper malinowski" because he had never seen it before.

buggering (verb)

Practice anal sex upon.

- Learners should practice how to use "buggering" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "buggering" when talking about this idea.

busying (verb)

Keep busy with.

- Can you use "busying" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "busying" until he saw an example.

cabinetmakers (noun)

A woodworker who specializes in making furniture.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cabinetmakers."
- They discussed "cabinetmakers" during the group presentation.

calcination (noun)

The conversion of metals into their oxides as a result of heating to a high temperature.

- They discussed "calcination" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "calcination" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

calibres (noun)

A degree or grade of excellence or worth.

- The article explained what "calibres" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "calibres."

candlewick (noun)

Loops of soft yarn are cut to give a tufted pattern.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “candlewick.”
- He looked up “candlewick” because he had never seen it before.

---

canetti (noun)

English writer born in Germany (1905-1994).

- In class, the teacher used “canetti” to mean english writer born in germany (1905-1994).
- The article explained what “canetti” means with a simple example.

---

capek (noun)

Czech writer who introduced the word ‘robot’ into the English language (1890-1938).

- In class, the teacher used “capek” to mean czech writer who introduced the word ‘robot’ into....
- The article explained what “capek” means with a simple example.

---

capitation (noun)

A tax levied on the basis of a fixed amount per person.

- In class, the teacher used “capitation” to mean a tax levied on the basis of a fixed amount per person.
- They discussed “capitation” during the group presentation.

---

cashiered (verb)

Discard or do away with.

- Learners should practice how to use “cashiered” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “cashiered” when talking about this idea.

---

caulked (adjective)

Having cracks and crevices stopped up with a filler.

- The speaker chose “caulked” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as “caulked” when it is having cracks and crevices stopped up with a filler.

---

celebrex (noun)

A Cox-2 inhibitor (trade name Celebrex) that relieves pain and inflammation without harming the digestive tract.

- Understanding “celebrex” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “celebrex” during the group presentation.

---

cervix uteri (noun)

Necklike opening to the uterus.

- In class, the teacher used “cervix uteri” to mean necklike opening to the uterus.
- He looked up “cervix uteri” because he had never seen it before.

---

cervus (noun)

The type genus of the Cervidae.

- He looked up “cervus” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “cervus” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

channelized (verb)

Send from one person or place to another.

- He did not know how to use “channelized” until he saw an example.
- She tried to use “channelized” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

checksums (noun)

A digit representing the sum of the digits in an instance of digital data; used to check whether errors have occurred in transmission or storage.

- In class, the teacher used “checksums” to mean a digit representing the sum of the digits in an....
- The article explained what “checksums” means with a simple example.

---

chelated (adjective)

Relating to or characterized by chelation.

- Students compared “chelated” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

- A "chelated" approach may work better in this case.

---

chignon (noun)

A roll of hair worn at the nape of the neck.

- He looked up "chignon" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "chignon" to mean a roll of hair worn at the nape of the neck.

---

chimerical (adjective)

Being or relating to or like a chimera; - Douglas Bush.

- The speaker chose "chimerical" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "chimerical" when it is being or relating to or like a chimera; - douglas bush.

---

choosed (verb)

Pick out, select, or choose from a number of alternatives.

- In everyday English, people use "choosed" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "choosed" in real sentences.

---

christianize (verb)

Adapt in the name of Christianity.

- Some people want to Christianize ancient pagan sites.
- Missionaries have tried to Christianize native people all over the world.

---

chuff (verb)

Blow hard and loudly.

- She tried to use "chuff" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "chuff" and when to wait.

---

chunked (verb)

Put together indiscriminately.

- Learners should practice how to use "chunked" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "chunked" until he saw an example.

---

churchills (noun)

A Canadian town in northern Manitoba on Hudson Bay; important port for shipping grain.

- They discussed "churchills" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "churchills" to mean a canadian town in northern manitoba on hudson bay;....

---

cilium (noun)

A hairlike projection from the surface of a cell; provides locomotion in free-swimming unicellular organisms.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cilium."
- He looked up "cilium" because he had never seen it before.

---

clammy chickweed (noun)

Any of various plants related to the common chickweed.

- Understanding "clammy chickweed" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "clammy chickweed" to mean any of various plants related to the common chickweed.

---

coagulants (noun)

An agent that produces coagulation.

- They discussed "coagulants" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "coagulants" to mean an agent that produces coagulation.

---

collarless (adjective)

Without a collar.

- Would you call this situation "collarless"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "collarless."

---

collimation (noun)

The accurate adjustment of the line of sight of a telescope.

- The article explained what "collimation" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "collimation" to mean the accurate adjustment of the line of sight of a....

---

conferees (noun)

A person on whom something is bestowed.

- Six honorary were conferred; the conferees were...
- In class, the teacher used "conferees" to mean a person on whom something is bestowed.

---

conferral (noun)

The act of conferring an honor or presenting a gift.

- Understanding "conferral" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "conferral."

---

convalesce (verb)

Get over an illness or shock.

- In everyday English, people use "convalesce" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "convalesce" in real sentences.

---

costless (adjective)

Costing nothing.

- Students compared "costless" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "costless."

---

countrywoman (noun)

A woman who lives in the country and has country ways.

- Understanding "countrywoman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "countrywoman" because he had never seen it before.

---

couperin (noun)

French composer of music for organ and a member of a family of distinguished organists (1668-1733).

- They discussed "couperin" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "couperin."

---

crimper (noun)

A mechanical device consisting of a cylindrical tube around which the hair is wound to curl it.

- He looked up "crimper" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "crimper" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

crones (noun)

An ugly evil-looking old woman.

- Understanding "crones" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "crones" to mean an ugly evil-looking old woman.

---

crosier (noun)

A staff surmounted by a crook or cross carried by bishops as a symbol of pastoral office.

- The article explained what "crosier" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "crosier" to mean a staff surmounted by a crook or cross carried by....

---

cruet (noun)

Bottle that holds wine or oil or vinegar for the table.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cruet."
- The article explained what "cruet" means with a simple example.

---

cruet-stand (noun)

A stand for cruets containing various condiments.

- Understanding "cruet-stand" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "cruet-stand" to mean a stand for cruets containing various condiments.

---

culver's physic (noun)

A tall perennial herb having spikes of small white or purple flowers; common in eastern North America.

- They discussed "culver's physic" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "culver's physic."

---

cycloid (noun)

A line generated by a point on a circle rolling along a straight line.

- They discussed "cycloid" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "cycloid" to mean a line generated by a point on a circle rolling....

---

dacoit (noun)

A member of an armed gang of robbers.

- He looked up "dacoit" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dacoit."

---

dail eireann (noun)

The lower house of the parliament of the Irish Republic.

- He looked up "dail eireann" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dail eireann."

---

dallied (verb)

Talk or behave amorously, without serious intentions.

- He did not know how to use "dallied" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "dallied" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

damps (verb)

Make vague or obscure or make (an image) less visible.

- He did not know how to use "damps" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "damps" in real sentences.

---

deputising (verb)

Appoint as a substitute.

- The coach explained when to use "deputising" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "deputising" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

diacritic (noun)

A mark added to a letter to indicate a special pronunciation.

- He looked up "diacritic" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "diacritic."

---

diazo (adjective)

Relating to or containing diazonium.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "diazo."
- Students compared "diazo" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

dieses (noun)

A character used in printing to indicate a cross reference or footnote.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dieses."
- The article explained what "dieses" means with a simple example.

---

dishcloth (noun)

A cloth for washing dishes.

- Understanding "dishcloth" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "dishcloth" during the group presentation.

dolomitic (adjective)

Relating to or consisting of dolomite.

- Students compared "dolomitic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "dolomitic"? Explain why.

ductless gland (noun)

Any of the glands of the endocrine system that secrete hormones directly into the bloodstream.

- They discussed "ductless gland" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "ductless gland" because he had never seen it before.

duralumin (noun)

An aluminum-based alloy.

- They discussed "duralumin" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "duralumin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

duse (noun)

Italian actress best known for her performances in tragic roles (1858-1924).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "duse."
- He looked up "duse" because he had never seen it before.

dustman (noun)

Someone employed to collect and dispose of refuse.

- Understanding "dustman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dustman" because he had never seen it before.

dybbuk (noun)

(Jewish folklore) a demon that enters the body of a living person and controls that body's behavior.

- They discussed "dybbuk" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "dybbuk" because he had never seen it before.

effeminacy (noun)

The trait of being effeminate (derogatory of a man).

- The students associated science with masculinity and arts with effeminacy.
- The article explained what "effeminacy" means with a simple example.

eliminators (noun)

An agent that eliminates something.

- The article explained what "eliminators" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "eliminators" to mean an agent that eliminates something.

emanuel svedberg (noun)

Swedish theologian (1688-1772).

- They discussed "emanuel svedberg" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "emanuel svedberg" means with a simple example.

embrasures (noun)

An opening (in a wall or ship or armored vehicle) for firing through.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "embrasures."
- Understanding "embrasures" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

entente cordiale (noun)

A friendly understanding between political powers.

- Understanding "entente cordiale" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "entente cordiale" during the group presentation.

ephemerides (noun)

An annual publication containing astronomical tables that give the positions of the celestial bodies throughout the year.

- Today computers calculate the ephemerides.
- They discussed "ephemerides" during the group presentation.

---

episodically (adverb)

In an episodic manner.

- Place "episodically" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- He answered "episodically," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

erik adolf von willebrand (noun)

Finnish physician who first described vascular hemophilia (1870-1949).

- He looked up "erik adolf von willebrand" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "erik adolf von willebrand."

---

erratum (noun)

A mistake in printed matter resulting from mechanical failures of some kind.

- In class, the teacher used "erratum" to mean a mistake in printed matter resulting from....
- They discussed "erratum" during the group presentation.

---

eurocentrism (noun)

Belief in the preeminence of Europe and the Europeans.

- He looked up "eurocentrism" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "eurocentrism" to mean belief in the preeminence of europe and the europeans.

---

evicts (verb)

Expel or eject without recourse to legal process.

- Learners should practice how to use "evicts" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "evicts" when talking about this idea.

---

exulted (verb)

To express great joy.

- Can you use "exulted" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "exulted" and when to wait.

---

fainthearted (adjective)

Lacking conviction or boldness or courage.

- The speaker chose "fainthearted" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "fainthearted"? Explain why.

---

falsifications (noun)

The act of determining that something is false.

- They discussed "falsifications" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "falsifications" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

faultlessly (adverb)

Without a fault; in a faultless manner.

- He solved all the problems faultlessly.
- She spoke "faultlessly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

fedayeen (noun)

(plural) Arab guerrillas who operate mainly against Israel.

- They discussed "fedayeen" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "fedayeen" to mean (plural) arab guerrillas who operate mainly against....

---

fellah (noun)

An agricultural laborer in Arab countries.

- Understanding "fellah" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- In class, the teacher used "fellah" to mean an agricultural laborer in arab countries.

---

feodor dostoevsky (noun)

Russian novelist who wrote of human suffering with humor and psychological insight (1821-1881).

- He looked up "feodor dostoevsky" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "feodor dostoevsky" during the group presentation.

---

feodor dostoyevsky (noun)

Russian novelist who wrote of human suffering with humor and psychological insight (1821-1881).

- They discussed "feodor dostoyevsky" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "feodor dostoyevsky" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fermentations (noun)

A state of agitation or turbulent change or development.

- The article explained what "fermentations" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fermentations."

---

fiats (noun)

A legally binding command or decision entered on the court record (as if issued by a court or judge).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fiats."
- He looked up "fiats" because he had never seen it before.

---

filthiness (noun)

A state characterized by foul or disgusting dirt and refuse.

- This deformity and filthiness of sin.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "filthiness."

---

fistfuls (noun)

The quantity that can be held in the hand.

- He looked up "fistfuls" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fistfuls."

---

flacks (noun)

A slick spokesperson who can turn any criticism to the advantage of their employer.

- He looked up "flacks" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "flacks."

---

flatworm (noun)

Parasitic or free-living worms having a flattened body.

- In class, the teacher used "flatworm" to mean parasitic or free-living worms having a flattened body.
- The article explained what "flatworm" means with a simple example.

---

foreignness (noun)

The quality of being alien or not native.

- They discussed "foreignness" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "foreignness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

foreshortened (verb)

Reduce in scope while retaining essential elements.

- She tried to use "foreshortened" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "foreshortened" in real sentences.

---

fritz kreisler (noun)

United States violinist (born in Austria) (1875-1962).

- He looked up "fritz kreisler" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "fritz kreisler" during the group presentation.

---

fujiyama (noun)

An extinct volcano in south central Honshu that is the highest peak in Japan; last erupted in 1707; famous for its symmetrical snow-capped peak; a sacred mountain and site for pilgrimages.

- Understanding "fujiyama" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "fujiyama" because he had never seen it before.

---

fumigating (verb)

Treat with fumes, expose to fumes, especially with the aim of disinfecting or eradicating pests.

- He did not know how to use "fumigating" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "fumigating" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

gaffs (noun)

An iron hook with a handle; used for landing large fish.

- The article explained what "gaffs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gaffs" to mean an iron hook with a handle; used for landing large fish.

---

genuflect (verb)

Bend the knees and bow in a servile manner.

- In everyday English, people use "genuflect" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "genuflect" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

genus cervus (noun)

The type genus of the Cervidae.

- In class, the teacher used "genus cervus" to mean the type genus of the cervidae.
- He looked up "genus cervus" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus khaya (noun)

African mahogany trees.

- In class, the teacher used "genus khaya" to mean african mahogany trees.
- The article explained what "genus khaya" means with a simple example.

---

genus malva (noun)

Herbs and subshrubs: mallows.

- The article explained what "genus malva" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus malva."

---

genus philadelphus (noun)

Mock orange: type and sole genus of the subfamily Philadelphaceae; sometimes placed in family Saxifragaceae.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus philadelphus."
- Understanding "genus philadelphus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus ulva (noun)

Type genus of the family Ulvaceae; green seaweed having a thallus two cells thick: sea lettuce.

- He looked up "genus ulva" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus ulva."

---

george herbert hitchings (noun)

United States biochemist noted for developing drugs to treat leukemia and gout (1905-1998).

- In class, the teacher used "george herbert hitchings" to mean united states biochemist noted for developing drugs....
- The article explained what "george herbert hitchings" means with a simple example.

---

giovanni battista tiepolo (noun)

Italian painter (1696-1770).

- The article explained what "giovanni battista tiepolo" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "giovanni battista tiepolo."

---

gristmill (noun)

A mill for grinding grain (especially the customer's own grain).

- They discussed “gristmill” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “gristmill” to mean a mill for grinding grain (especially the....

---

groundcover (noun)

Small plants other than saplings growing on a forest floor.

- He looked up “groundcover” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “groundcover.”

---

gushers (noun)

An oil well with a strong natural flow so that pumping is not necessary.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “gushers.”
- They discussed “gushers” during the group presentation.

---

hagfish (noun)

Eellike cyclostome having a tongue with horny teeth in a round mouth surrounded by eight tentacles; feeds on dead or trapped fishes by boring into their bodies.

- He looked up “hagfish” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “hagfish.”

---

hairnet (noun)

A small net that some women wear over their hair to keep it in place.

- The article explained what “hairnet” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “hairnet.”

---

hallucinates (verb)

Perceive what is not there; have illusions.

- He did not know how to use “hallucinates” until he saw an example.
- She tried to use “hallucinates” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

handier (adjective)

Skillful with the hands.

- A “handier” approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared “handier” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

handoffs (noun)

(American football) a play in which one player hands the ball to a teammate.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “handoffs.”
- Understanding “handoffs” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

harpooned (verb)

Spear with a harpoon.

- Learners should practice how to use “harpooned” in real sentences.
- She tried to use “harpooned” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

hibernates (verb)

Be in an inactive or dormant state.

- He did not know how to use “hibernates” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “hibernates” and when to wait.

---

hitchings (noun)

United States biochemist noted for developing drugs to treat leukemia and gout (1905-1998).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “hitchings.”
- Understanding “hitchings” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hornbills (noun)

Bird of tropical Africa and Asia having a very large bill surmounted by a bony protuberance; related to kingfishers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “hornbills.”
- He looked up “hornbills” because he had never seen it before.

hottentots (noun)

Any of the Khoisan languages spoken by the pastoral people of Namibia and South Africa.

- In class, the teacher used "hottentots" to mean any of the khoisan languages spoken by the pastoral....
- The article explained what "hottentots" means with a simple example.

hypnotizes (verb)

Induce hypnosis in.

- Can you use "hypnotizes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "hypnotizes" when talking about this idea.

ichthyosaurs (noun)

Any of several marine reptiles of the Mesozoic having a body like a porpoise with dorsal and tail fins and paddle-shaped limbs.

- He looked up "ichthyosaurs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ichthyosaurs."

ideograms (noun)

A graphic character that indicates the meaning of a thing without indicating the sounds used to say it.

- Chinese characters are ideograms.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ideograms."

ideographic (adjective)

Of or relating to or consisting of ideograms.

- A "ideographic" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "ideographic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

iest (adjective)

Used of a single unit or thing; not two or more.

- A "iest" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "iest"? Explain why.

igbos (noun)

A member of the largest ethnic group in southeastern Nigeria.

- He looked up "igbos" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "igbos" to mean a member of the largest ethnic group in....

illest (adjective)

Affected by an impairment of normal physical or mental function.

- A "illest" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "illest" when it is affected by an impairment of normal physical or....

immunosuppressed (adjective)

Of persons whose immune response is inadequate.

- A "immunosuppressed" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "immunosuppressed" when it is of persons whose immune response is inadequate.

imposture (noun)

Pretending to be another person.

- He looked up "imposture" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "imposture."

incarcerations (noun)

The state of being imprisoned.

- They discussed "incarcerations" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "incarcerations" to mean the state of being imprisoned.

inhalations (noun)

The act of inhaling; the drawing in of air (or other gases) as in breathing.

- Understanding "inhalations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "inhalations" means with a simple example.

---

insanitary (adjective)

Not sanitary or healthful.

- Students compared "insanitary" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "insanitary."

---

insurgence (noun)

An organized rebellion aimed at overthrowing a constituted government through the use of subversion and armed conflict.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "insurgence."
- He looked up "insurgence" because he had never seen it before.

---

intermittency (noun)

The quality of being intermittent; subject to interruption or periodic stopping.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "intermittency."
- He looked up "intermittency" because he had never seen it before.

---

inters (verb)

Place in a grave or tomb.

- Can you use "inters" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "inters" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

intubate (verb)

Introduce a cannula or tube into.

- She tried to use "intubate" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "intubate" in real sentences.

---

invigorates (verb)

Impart vigor, strength, or vitality to.

- Can you use "invigorates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "invigorates" and when to wait.

---

ironmongery (noun)

The merchandise that is sold in an ironmonger's shop.

- The article explained what "ironmongery" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "ironmongery" to mean the merchandise that is sold in an ironmonger's shop.

---

isaac bashevis singer (noun)

United States writer (born in Poland) of Yiddish stories and novels (1904-1991).

- Understanding "isaac bashevis singer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "isaac bashevis singer" means with a simple example.

---

isolations (noun)

A country's withdrawal from international politics.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isolations."
- He looked up "isolations" because he had never seen it before.

---

isotherms (noun)

(meteorology) an isogram connecting points having the same temperature at a given time.

- In class, the teacher used "isotherms" to mean (meteorology) an isogram connecting points having....
- Understanding "isotherms" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

jamaica bayberry (noun)

West Indian tree; source of bay rum.

- He looked up "jamaica bayberry" because he had never seen it before.

- They discussed "jamaica bayberry" during the group presentation.

---

juiciness (noun)

A juicy appetizingness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "juiciness."
- He looked up "juiciness" because he had never seen it before.

---

juniperus communis (noun)

Densely branching shrub or small tree having pungent blue berries used to flavor gin; widespread in northern hemisphere; only conifer on coasts of Iceland and Greenland.

- Understanding "juniperus communis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "juniperus communis" because he had never seen it before.

---

justiciar (noun)

Formerly a high judicial officer.

- Understanding "justiciar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "justiciar" because he had never seen it before.

---

khaya (noun)

African mahogany trees.

- He looked up "khaya" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "khaya" during the group presentation.

---

kibbles (noun)

An iron bucket used for hoisting in wells or mining.

- In class, the teacher used "kibbles" to mean an iron bucket used for hoisting in wells or mining.
- He looked up "kibbles" because he had never seen it before.

---

kindreds (noun)

Group of people related by blood or marriage.

- In class, the teacher used "kindreds" to mean group of people related by blood or marriage.
- He looked up "kindreds" because he had never seen it before.

---

kingdom animalia (noun)

Taxonomic kingdom comprising all living or extinct animals.

- The article explained what "kingdom animalia" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "kingdom animalia" during the group presentation.

---

kiowas (noun)

A member of a Tanoan people living in the southwestern United States.

- In class, the teacher used "kiowas" to mean a member of a tanoan people living in the....
- The article explained what "kiowas" means with a simple example.

---

kuroshio (noun)

A warm ocean current that flows northeastwardly off the coast of Japan into the northern Pacific ocean.

- Understanding "kuroshio" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "kuroshio" because he had never seen it before.

---

kuroshio current (noun)

A warm ocean current that flows northeastwardly off the coast of Japan into the northern Pacific ocean.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kuroshio current."
- The article explained what "kuroshio current" means with a simple example.

---

lacerate (verb)

Deeply hurt the feelings of; distress.

- He did not know how to use "lacerate" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "lacerate" in real sentences.

---

lamivudine (noun)

A nucleoside reverse transcriptase inhibitor that is very effective in combination with zidovudine in treating AIDS and HIV.

- Understanding "lamivudine" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "lamivudine" to mean a nucleoside reverse transcriptase inhibitor that....

---

lassitude (noun)

A state of comatose torpor (as found in sleeping sickness).

- Understanding "lassitude" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "lassitude" because he had never seen it before.

---

leanest (adjective)

Lacking in mineral content or combustible material.

- Students compared "leanest" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "leanest."

---

likeliness (noun)

The probability of a specified outcome.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "likeliness."
- He looked up "likeliness" because he had never seen it before.

---

lumbers (noun)

An implement used in baseball by the batter.

- In class, the teacher used "lumbers" to mean an implement used in baseball by the batter.
- He looked up "lumbers" because he had never seen it before.

---

macroscopically (adverb)

Without using a microscope.

- The tubes were examined macroscopically.
- Using "macroscopically" can make your explanation more exact.

---

madame de maintenon (noun)

French consort of Louis XIV who secretly married the king after the death of his first wife (1635-1719).

- They discussed "madame de maintenon" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "madame de maintenon" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

maintenon (noun)

French consort of Louis XIV who secretly married the king after the death of his first wife (1635-1719).

- The article explained what "maintenon" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "maintenon" to mean french consort of louis xiv who secretly married....

---

malva (noun)

Herbs and subshrubs: mallows.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malva."
- They discussed "malva" during the group presentation.

---

marginality (noun)

The property of being marginal or on the fringes.

- The article explained what "marginality" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "marginality" during the group presentation.

---

marginalizes (verb)

Relegate to a lower or outer edge, as of specific groups of people.

- She tried to use "marginalizes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "marginalizes" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

mariachis (noun)

A group of street musicians in Mexico.

- The article explained what "mariachis" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "mariachis" during the group presentation.

---

markova (noun)

English ballet dancer (born in 1910).

- The article explained what "markova" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "markova" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

masseurs (noun)

A male massager.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "masseurs."
- He looked up "masseurs" because he had never seen it before.

---

mendel's law (noun)

(genetics) one of two principles of heredity formulated by Gregor Mendel on the basis of his experiments with plants; the principles were limited and modified by subsequent genetic research.

- They discussed "mendel's law" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mendel's law."

---

meowed (verb)

Cry like a cat.

- The cat meowed.
- He did not know how to use "meowed" until he saw an example.

---

mercuric chloride (noun)

A white poisonous soluble crystalline sublimate of mercury; used as a pesticide or antiseptic or wood preservative.

- He looked up "mercuric chloride" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "mercuric chloride" to mean a white poisonous soluble crystalline sublimate of....

---

meshwork (noun)

An open fabric of string or rope or wire woven together at regular intervals.

- He looked up "meshwork" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "meshwork."

---

mikhail glinka (noun)

Russian composer (1804-1857).

- They discussed "mikhail glinka" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "mikhail glinka" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mikhail sergeyevich gorbachev (noun)

Soviet statesman whose foreign policy brought an end to the Cold War and whose domestic policy introduced major reforms (born in 1931).

- He looked up "mikhail sergeyevich gorbachev" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "mikhail sergeyevich gorbachev" during the group presentation.

---

milhaud (noun)

French composer of works that combine jazz and polytonality and Brazilian music (1892-1974).

- Understanding "milhaud" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "milhaud" to mean french composer of works that combine jazz and....

---

milles (verb)

Produce a ridge around the edge of.

- The coach explained when to use "milles" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "milles" until he saw an example.

---

ministration (noun)

Assistance in time of difficulty.

- They discussed "ministration" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ministration" to mean assistance in time of difficulty.

mirabilis californica (noun)

California four o'clock with purple-red flowers.

- They discussed "mirabilis californica" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "mirabilis californica" means with a simple example.

mishandle (verb)

Manage badly or incompetently.

- Can you use "mishandle" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "mishandle" until he saw an example.

misplayed (verb)

Play incorrectly, e.g., play a wrong note.

- She tried to use "misplayed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "misplayed" when talking about this idea.

mixologists (noun)

An employee who mixes and serves alcoholic drinks at a bar.

- In class, the teacher used "mixologists" to mean an employee who mixes and serves alcoholic drinks....
- They discussed "mixologists" during the group presentation.

muffles (noun)

A kiln with an inner chamber for firing things at a low temperature.

- He looked up "muffles" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "muffles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

mycotoxin (noun)

A toxin produced by a fungus.

- In class, the teacher used "mycotoxin" to mean a toxin produced by a fungus.
- He looked up "mycotoxin" because he had never seen it before.

myrtles (noun)

Any evergreen shrub or tree of the genus Myrtus.

- He looked up "myrtles" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "myrtles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

negative reinforcer (noun)

A reinforcing stimulus whose removal serves to decrease the likelihood of the response that produced it.

- He looked up "negative reinforcer" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "negative reinforcer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

noons (noun)

The middle of the day.

- They discussed "noons" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "noons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

numeration (noun)

The act of counting; reciting numbers in ascending order.

- He looked up "numeration" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "numeration."

numeration system (noun)

Any notation for the representation of numbers.

- They discussed "numeration system" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "numeration system."

numismatist (noun)

A collector and student of money (and coins in particular).

- Understanding "numismatist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "numismatist" because he had never seen it before.

---

orange pekoe (noun)

A superior grade of black tea; grown in India and Sri Lanka and Java.

- In class, the teacher used "orange pekoe" to mean a superior grade of black tea; grown in india and....
- Understanding "orange pekoe" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ordinals (noun)

The number designating place in an ordered sequence.

- Understanding "ordinals" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "ordinals" to mean the number designating place in an ordered sequence.

---

outgrowths (noun)

A natural prolongation or projection from a part of an organism either animal or plant.

- He looked up "outgrowths" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "outgrowths" during the group presentation.

---

outsells (verb)

Be sold more often than other, similar products.

- The new Toyota outsells the Honda by a wide margin.
- This salesman outsells his colleagues.

---

overextend (verb)

Strain excessively.

- He overextended himself when he accepted the additional assignment.
- Learners should practice how to use "overextend" in real sentences.

---

overmuch (noun)

A quantity that is more than what is appropriate.

- The article explained what "overmuch" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "overmuch" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

panchen lama (noun)

The lama next in rank to the Dalai Lama.

- In class, the teacher used "panchen lama" to mean the lama next in rank to the dalai lama.
- The article explained what "panchen lama" means with a simple example.

---

paranasal sinus (noun)

Any of the paired sinuses in the bones of the face adjacent to the nasal cavity that are lined with mucous membrane that is continuous with the lining of the nasal cavities.

- They discussed "paranasal sinus" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "paranasal sinus" because he had never seen it before.

---

pasto (noun)

An active volcano in southeastern Colombia in the Andes.

- They discussed "pasto" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "pasto" because he had never seen it before.

---

pederast (noun)

A man who has sex (usually sodomy) with a boy as the passive partner.

- He looked up "pederast" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "pederast" during the group presentation.

---

pekoe (noun)

A superior grade of black tea; grown in India and Sri Lanka and Java.

- He looked up "pekoe" because he had never seen it before.

- In class, the teacher used “pekoe” to mean a superior grade of black tea; grown in india and....

---

peleus (noun)

A king of the Myrmidons and father of Achilles.

- In class, the teacher used “peleus” to mean a king of the myrmidons and father of achilles.
- The article explained what “peleus” means with a simple example.

---

pentacles (noun)

A star with 5 points; formed by 5 straight lines between the vertices of a pentagon and enclosing another pentagon.

- They discussed “pentacles” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “pentacles.”

---

percolates (noun)

The product of percolation.

- In class, the teacher used “percolates” to mean the product of percolation.
- The article explained what “percolates” means with a simple example.

---

peridotite (noun)

A dark coarse-grained igneous rock consisting principally of olivine.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “peridotite.”
- Understanding “peridotite” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pervasively (adverb)

In a pervasive manner.

- Place “pervasively” carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include “pervasively” naturally.

---

pettiest (adjective)

(informal) small and of little importance.

- It is useful to describe something as “pettiest” when it is (informal) small and of little importance.
- Students compared “pettiest” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

phaseolus vulgaris (noun)

The common annual twining or bushy bean plant grown for its edible seeds or pods.

- They discussed “phaseolus vulgaris” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “phaseolus vulgaris.”

---

philadelphus (noun)

Any of various chiefly deciduous ornamental shrubs of the genus Philadelphus having white sweet-scented flowers, single or in clusters; widely grown in temperate regions.

- They discussed “philadelphus” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “philadelphus” to mean any of various chiefly deciduous ornamental shrubs....

---

phlogiston (noun)

A hypothetical substance once believed to be present in all combustible materials and to be released during burning.

- The article explained what “phlogiston” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “phlogiston” during the group presentation.

---

photostat (noun)

A duplicating machine that makes quick positive or negative copies directly on the surface of prepared paper.

- Understanding “photostat” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “photostat” means with a simple example.

---

photostat machine (noun)

A duplicating machine that makes quick positive or negative copies directly on the surface of prepared paper.

- The article explained what “photostat machine” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “photostat machine” during the group presentation.

---

phrenic (adjective)

Of or relating to the diaphragm.

- Phrenic nerve.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "phrenic."

---

phrenic nerve (noun)

One of a pair of nerves that arises from cervical spinal roots and passes down the thorax to innervate the diaphragm and control breathing.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "phrenic nerve."
- Understanding "phrenic nerve" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

phrenic vein (noun)

Either of two veins that drain the diaphragm.

- They discussed "phrenic vein" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "phrenic vein" because he had never seen it before.

---

phytochemical (noun)

A chemical substance obtained from plants that is biologically active but not nutritive.

- In class, the teacher used "phytochemical" to mean a chemical substance obtained from plants that is....
- The article explained what "phytochemical" means with a simple example.

---

pieter brueghel (noun)

Flemish painter of landscapes (1525-1569).

- The article explained what "pieter brueghel" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pieter brueghel."

---

pieter brueghel the elder (noun)

Flemish painter of landscapes (1525-1569).

- In class, the teacher used "pieter brueghel the elder" to mean flemish painter of landscapes (1525-1569).
- The article explained what "pieter brueghel the elder" means with a simple example.

---

pigman (noun)

A herder or swine.

- In class, the teacher used "pigman" to mean a herder or swine.
- The article explained what "pigman" means with a simple example.

---

pinpricks (noun)

Small puncture (as if made by a pin).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pinpricks."
- They discussed "pinpricks" during the group presentation.

---

platy (noun)

Small stocky Mexican fish; popular aquarium fish.

- Understanding "platy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "platy" because he had never seen it before.

---

plummy (adjective)

(of a voice) affectedly mellow and rich.

- The radio announcer's plummy voice.
- A plummy leading role.

---

polymorphs (noun)

An organism that can assume more than one adult form as in the castes of ants or termites.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polymorphs."
- The article explained what "polymorphs" means with a simple example.

---

porns (noun)

Creative activity (writing or pictures or films etc.) of no literary or artistic value other than to stimulate sexual desire.

- He looked up “porns” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “porns” to mean creative activity (writing or pictures or films....

---

positive reinforcer (noun)

A reinforcing stimulus that serves to increase the likelihood of the response that produces it.

- In class, the teacher used “positive reinforcer” to mean a reinforcing stimulus that serves to increase the....
- The article explained what “positive reinforcer” means with a simple example.

---

profiteroles (noun)

A small hollow pastry that is typically filled with cream and covered with chocolate.

- Understanding “profiteroles” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “profiteroles” to mean a small hollow pastry that is typically filled with....

---

progestogen (noun)

Any of a group of steroid hormones that have the effect of progesterone.

- The article explained what “progestogen” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “progestogen.”

---

proofreaders (noun)

Someone who reads proof in order to find errors and mark corrections.

- Understanding “proofreaders” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “proofreaders” during the group presentation.

---

propagandize (verb)

Spread by propaganda.

- Learners should practice how to use “propagandize” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “propagandize” when talking about this idea.

---

prostrating (verb)

Render helpless or defenseless.

- Can you use “prostrating” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use “prostrating” and when to wait.

---

protozoans (noun)

Any of diverse minute acellular or unicellular organisms usually nonphotosynthetic.

- The article explained what “protozoans” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “protozoans” to mean any of diverse minute acellular or unicellular....

---

provincialism (noun)

A partiality for some particular place.

- He looked up “provincialism” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “provincialism.”

---

pubescence (noun)

The time of life when sex glands become functional.

- The article explained what “pubescence” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “pubescence” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

puckers (verb)

To gather something into small wrinkles or folds.

- In everyday English, people use “puckers” when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use “puckers” until he saw an example.

---

puds (noun)

(British) the dessert course of a meal (‘pud’ is used informally).

- In class, the teacher used “puds” to mean (british) the dessert course of a meal (‘pud’ is....
- The article explained what “puds” means with a simple example.

puka inti (noun)

A small but violent terrorist organization formed in Ecuador in the early 1990s; responsible for bombing several government buildings.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "puka inti."
- Understanding "puka inti" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

pure binary numeration system (noun)

A positional system of numeration that uses binary digits and a radix of two.

- In class, the teacher used "pure binary numeration system" to mean a positional system of numeration that uses binary....
- He looked up "pure binary numeration system" because he had never seen it before.

putamen (noun)

The outer reddish part of the lenticular nucleus.

- In class, the teacher used "putamen" to mean the outer reddish part of the lenticular nucleus.
- He looked up "putamen" because he had never seen it before.

queen regnant (noun)

A female sovereign ruler.

- They discussed "queen regnant" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "queen regnant" means with a simple example.

rashtriya swayamsevak sangh (noun)

An all-male organization begun in 1925 to foster nationalism in India's Hindus.

- In class, the teacher used "rashtriya swayamsevak sangh" to mean an all-male organization begun in 1925 to foster....
- He looked up "rashtriya swayamsevak sangh" because he had never seen it before.

rastafarians (noun)

(Ethiopia) adherents of an African religion that regards Ras Tafari as divine.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rastafarians."
- They discussed "rastafarians" during the group presentation.

reassertion (noun)

Renewed affirmation.

- They discussed "reassertion" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "reassertion."

reconcilable (adjective)

Capable of being reconciled.

- Her way of thinking is reconcilable with mine.
- The speaker chose "reconcilable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

recruitments (noun)

The act of getting recruits; enlisting people for the army (or for a job or a cause etc.).

- The article explained what "recruitments" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "recruitments."

reduplicated (verb)

Make or do or perform again.

- The morpheme can be reduplicated to emphasize the meaning of the word.
- The coach explained when to use "reduplicated" and when to wait.

regnant (adjective)

Exercising power or authority.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "regnant."
- Would you call this situation "regnant"? Explain why.

regrowing (verb)

Grow anew or continue growth after an injury or interruption.

- She tried to use "regrowing" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "regrowing" in real sentences.

---

reinforcer (noun)

(psychology) a stimulus that strengthens or weakens the behavior that produced it.

- The article explained what "reinforcer" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "reinforcer" to mean (psychology) a stimulus that strengthens or weakens....

---

relentlessness (noun)

Mercilessness characterized by an unwillingness to relent or let up.

- The relentlessness or their pursuit.
- In class, the teacher used "relentlessness" to mean mercilessness characterized by an unwillingness to....

---

retros (noun)

A fashion reminiscent of the past.

- They discussed "retros" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "retros" because he had never seen it before.

---

richard brinsley sheridan (noun)

Irish playwright remembered for his satirical comedies of manners (1751-1816).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "richard brinsley sheridan."
- He looked up "richard brinsley sheridan" because he had never seen it before.

---

rigidities (noun)

The quality of being rigid and rigorously severe.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rigidities."
- They discussed "rigidities" during the group presentation.

---

riotously (adverb)

In a tumultuous and riotous manner.

- Place "riotously" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "riotously" naturally.

---

riveters (noun)

A machine for driving rivets.

- Understanding "riveters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "riveters" because he had never seen it before.

---

roble beech (noun)

Tall deciduous South American tree.

- They discussed "roble beech" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "roble beech" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rumps (noun)

The fleshy part of the human body that you sit on.

- The article explained what "rumps" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rumps."

---

rusty grackle (noun)

North American blackbird whose bluish-black plumage is rusty-edged in the fall.

- In class, the teacher used "rusty grackle" to mean north american blackbird whose bluish-black plumage....
- The article explained what "rusty grackle" means with a simple example.

---

sabal palmetto (noun)

Low-growing fan-leaved palm of coastal southern United States having edible leaf buds.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sabal palmetto."

- The article explained what "sabal palmetto" means with a simple example.

---

saltbush (noun)

Any of various shrubby plants of the genus Atriplex that thrive in dry alkaline soil.

- In class, the teacher used "saltbush" to mean any of various shrubby plants of the genus atriplex....
- Understanding "saltbush" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

screechy (adjective)

Having or making a high-pitched sound such as that made by a mouse or a rusty hinge.

- Would you call this situation "screechy"? Explain why.
- Students compared "screechy" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

seborrheic eczema (noun)

A chronic skin disease associated with seborrhea and greasy scales on the scalp or eyelids or other parts of the skin.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "seborrheic eczema."
- He looked up "seborrheic eczema" because he had never seen it before.

---

seethes (verb)

Be in an agitated emotional state.

- In everyday English, people use "seethes" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "seethes" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

self-abasement (noun)

Voluntary self-punishment in order to atone for some wrongdoing.

- They discussed "self-abasement" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "self-abasement" means with a simple example.

---

seraglio (noun)

Living quarters reserved for wives and concubines and female relatives in a Muslim household.

- Understanding "seraglio" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "seraglio" because he had never seen it before.

---

sheller (noun)

A worker who removes shells (as of peas or oysters).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sheller."
- Understanding "sheller" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

shirer (noun)

United States broadcast journalist who was in Berlin at the outbreak of World War II (1904-1993).

- They discussed "shirer" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "shirer" to mean united states broadcast journalist who was in....

---

shirting (noun)

Any of various fabrics used to make men's shirts.

- Understanding "shirting" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "shirting" during the group presentation.

---

shirtwaist (noun)

A blouse with buttons down the front.

- In Britain they call a shirtwaist a shirtwaister.
- Understanding "shirtwaist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

shitters (noun)

A person who defecates.

- He looked up "shitters" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "shitters" during the group presentation.

---

shoemaker's last (noun)

Holding device shaped like a human foot that is used to fashion or repair shoes.

- The article explained what "shoemaker's last" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "shoemaker's last" to mean holding device shaped like a human foot that is....

---

shoguns (noun)

A hereditary military dictator of Japan; the shoguns ruled Japan until the revolution of 1867-68.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "shoguns."
- He looked up "shoguns" because he had never seen it before.

---

sidonie-gabrielle colette (noun)

French writer of novels about women (1873-1954).

- The article explained what "sidonie-gabrielle colette" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "sidonie-gabrielle colette" to mean french writer of novels about women (1873-1954).

---

signposting (verb)

Mark with a signpost, as of a path.

- He did not know how to use "signposting" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "signposting" when talking about this idea.

---

skiving (verb)

Remove the surface of.

- Can you use "skiving" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "skiving" and when to wait.

---

snapdragons (noun)

A garden plant of the genus Antirrhinum having showy white or yellow or crimson flowers resembling the face of a dragon.

- Understanding "snapdragons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "snapdragons" because he had never seen it before.

---

snick (noun)

A glancing contact with the ball off the edge of the cricket bat.

- Understanding "snick" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "snick."

---

snifter (noun)

A globular glass with a small top; used for serving brandy.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "snifter."
- He looked up "snifter" because he had never seen it before.

---

sorbets (noun)

An ice containing no milk but having a mushy consistency; usually made from fruit juice.

- Understanding "sorbets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "sorbets" to mean an ice containing no milk but having a mushy....

---

soundest (adjective)

In good condition; free from defect or damage or decay.

- The speaker chose "soundest" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "soundest" approach may work better in this case.

---

soundman (noun)

A technician in charge of amplifying sound or producing sound effects (as for a TV or radio broadcast).

- They discussed "soundman" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "soundman."

---

splurges (noun)

An ostentatious display (of effort or extravagance etc.).

- The article explained what "splurges" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "splurges" during the group presentation.

---

sporophyte (noun)

The spore-producing individual or phase in the life cycle of a plant having alternation of generations.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sporophyte."
- The article explained what "sporophyte" means with a simple example.

---

sprog (noun)

A new military recruit.

- The article explained what "sprog" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "sprog" during the group presentation.

---

squaws (noun)

An American Indian woman.

- He looked up "squaws" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "squaws" during the group presentation.

---

ssas (noun)

An independent government agency responsible for the Social Security system.

- He looked up "ssas" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "ssas" to mean an independent government agency responsible for....

---

steeles (verb)

Get ready for something difficult or unpleasant.

- Can you use "steeles" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "steeles" when talking about this idea.

---

stentorian (adjective)

Used of the voice.

- The speaker chose "stentorian" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "stentorian" approach may work better in this case.

---

stereoscope (noun)

An optical device for viewing stereoscopic photographs.

- Understanding "stereoscope" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stereoscope."

---

sticklebacks (noun)

Small (2-4 inches) pugnacious mostly scaleless spiny-backed fishes of northern fresh and littoral waters having elaborate courtship; subjects of much research.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sticklebacks."
- The article explained what "sticklebacks" means with a simple example.

---

stoles (noun)

A wide scarf worn about their shoulders by women.

- In class, the teacher used "stoles" to mean a wide scarf worn about their shoulders by women.
- The article explained what "stoles" means with a simple example.

---

strangulated (verb)

Kill by squeezing the throat of so as to cut off the air.

- The coach explained when to use "strangulated" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "strangulated" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

strikebreakers (noun)

Someone who works (or provides workers) during a strike.

- They discussed "strikebreakers" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "strikebreakers" means with a simple example.

submissively (adverb)

In a servile manner.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "submissively" naturally.
- Using "submissively" can make your explanation more exact.

surveyor's instrument (noun)

An instrument used by surveyors.

- Understanding "surveyor's instrument" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "surveyor's instrument" to mean an instrument used by surveyors.

surveyor's level (noun)

Surveying instrument consisting basically of a small telescope with an attached spirit level rotating around a vertical axis; for measuring relative heights of land.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "surveyor's level."
- He looked up "surveyor's level" because he had never seen it before.

swigging (verb)

To swallow hurriedly or greedily or in one draught.

- He did not know how to use "swigging" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "swigging" in real sentences.

sylvian aqueduct (noun)

A canal connecting the third and fourth ventricles.

- He looked up "sylvian aqueduct" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "sylvian aqueduct" during the group presentation.

sylvian fissure (noun)

The deepest and most prominent of the cortical fissures; separates the frontal lobes and temporal lobes in both hemispheres.

- The article explained what "sylvian fissure" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "sylvian fissure" during the group presentation.

system of numeration (noun)

Any notation for the representation of numbers.

- He looked up "system of numeration" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "system of numeration" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

tactile agnosia (noun)

A loss of the ability to recognize objects by handling them.

- In class, the teacher used "tactile agnosia" to mean a loss of the ability to recognize objects by....
- He looked up "tactile agnosia" because he had never seen it before.

tantras (noun)

Any of a fairly recent class of Hindu or Buddhist religious literature concerned with ritual acts of body and speech and mind.

- The article explained what "tantras" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "tantras" during the group presentation.

te kanawa (noun)

New Zealand operatic soprano (born in 1944).

- In class, the teacher used "te kanawa" to mean new zealand operatic soprano (born in 1944).
- The article explained what "te kanawa" means with a simple example.

teemed (verb)

Be teeming, be abuzz.

- The coach explained when to use "teemed" and when to wait.
- Can you use "teemed" in a sentence that fits this situation?

teepees (noun)

A Native American tent; usually of conical shape.

- The article explained what "teepees" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "teepees."

---

teleost (noun)

A bony fish of the subclass Teleostei.

- In class, the teacher used "teleost" to mean a bony fish of the subclass teleostei.
- They discussed "teleost" during the group presentation.

---

teleost fish (noun)

A bony fish of the subclass Teleostei.

- Understanding "teleost fish" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "teleost fish."

---

testings (noun)

An examination of the characteristics of something.

- They discussed "testings" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "testings" because he had never seen it before.

---

tetroxide (noun)

An oxide containing four atoms of oxygen in the molecule.

- In class, the teacher used "tetroxide" to mean an oxide containing four atoms of oxygen in the....
- The article explained what "tetroxide" means with a simple example.

---

thanes (noun)

A man ranking above an ordinary freeman and below a noble in Anglo-Saxon England (especially one who gave military service in exchange for land).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thanes."
- He looked up "thanes" because he had never seen it before.

---

ticktock (verb)

Make a sound like a clock or a timer.

- She tried to use "ticktock" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "ticktock" in real sentences.

---

toolmaker (noun)

Someone skilled in making or repairing tools.

- Understanding "toolmaker" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "toolmaker" because he had never seen it before.

---

toothsome (adjective)

Acceptable to the taste or mind.

- Students compared "toothsome" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "toothsome"? Explain why.

---

torreon (noun)

A city in northern Mexico to the west of Monterrey.

- The article explained what "torreon" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "torreon."

---

towelling (noun)

Any of various fabrics (linen or cotton) used to make towels.

- The article explained what "towelling" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "towelling" to mean any of various fabrics (linen or cotton) used to....

---

trademarking (verb)

Register the trademark of.

- Can you use "trademarking" in a sentence that fits this situation?

- The coach explained when to use “trademarking” and when to wait.

---

transmittable (adjective)

(of disease) capable of being transmitted by infection.

- Students compared “transmittable” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as “transmittable” when it is (of disease) capable of being transmitted by infection.

---

ulva (noun)

Type genus of the family Ulvaceae; green seaweed having a thallus two cells thick: sea lettuce.

- Understanding “ulva” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “ulva” to mean type genus of the family ulvaceae; green seaweed....

---

unbalancing (verb)

Derange mentally, throw out of mental balance; make insane.

- She tried to use “unbalancing” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “unbalancing” and when to wait.

---

unconvincingly (adverb)

In an unconvincing manner.

- He argued unconvincingly.
- She spoke “unconvincingly,” and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

undistorted (adjective)

Without alteration or misrepresentation.

- His judgment was undistorted by emotion.
- A “undistorted” approach may work better in this case.

---

undistributed (adjective)

(of investments) not distributed among a variety of securities.

- Students compared “undistributed” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation “undistributed”? Explain why.

---

unhooking (verb)

Take off a hook.

- Learners should practice how to use “unhooking” in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use “unhooking” until he saw an example.

---

unreached (adjective)

Inaccessibly located or situated.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned “unreached.”
- Students compared “unreached” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

untutored (adjective)

Lacking in schooling.

- An untutored genius.
- It is useful to describe something as “untutored” when it is lacking in schooling.

---

urease (noun)

An enzyme that catalyzes the hydrolysis of urea into carbon dioxide and ammonia; is present in intestinal bacteria.

- The article explained what “urease” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “urease” during the group presentation.

---

vacillation (noun)

Changing location by moving back and forth.

- He looked up “vacillation” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “vacillation” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vacuity (noun)

A region that is devoid of matter.

- They discussed "vacuity" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "vacuity" to mean a region that is devoid of matter.

---

valentina tereshkova (noun)

Soviet cosmonaut who was the first woman in space (born in 1937).

- Understanding "valentina tereshkova" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "valentina tereshkova" means with a simple example.

---

vandalise (verb)

Destroy wantonly, as through acts of vandalism.

- In everyday English, people use "vandalise" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "vandalise" in real sentences.

---

viceregal (adjective)

Of or relating to a viceroy.

- The viceregal visit.
- Students compared "viceregal" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

virtuously (adverb)

In a chaste and virtuous manner.

- She spoke "virtuously," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- The narrator describes the scene "virtuously" in the final chapter.

---

viscosities (noun)

Resistance of a liquid to shear forces (and hence to flow).

- They discussed "viscosities" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "viscosities" means with a simple example.

---

volleying (verb)

Hit before it touches the ground.

- Can you use "volleying" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "volleying" and when to wait.

---

walloping (adjective)

(used informally) very large.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "walloping."
- Students compared "walloping" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

warnes (verb)

Notify of danger, potential harm, or risk.

- She tried to use "warnes" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "warnes" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

watchwords (noun)

A slogan used to rally support for a cause.

- Understanding "watchwords" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "watchwords" because he had never seen it before.

---

wellborn (adjective)

Of good or upper-class lineage.

- A rich and wellborn husband.
- A "wellborn" approach may work better in this case.

---

wheezed (verb)

Breathe with difficulty.

- The coach explained when to use "wheezed" and when to wait.
- Can you use "wheezed" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

willa sibert cather (noun)

United States writer who wrote about frontier life (1873-1947).

- The article explained what "willa sibert cather" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "willa sibert cather" to mean united states writer who wrote about frontier life....

---

william lawrence shirer (noun)

United States broadcast journalist who was in Berlin at the outbreak of World War II (1904-1993).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "william lawrence shirer."
- The article explained what "william lawrence shirer" means with a simple example.

---

woolens (noun)

A fabric made from the hair of sheep.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "woolens."
- He looked up "woolens" because he had never seen it before.

---

yawing (verb)

Swerve off course momentarily.

- The yawing motion of the ship.
- Can you use "yawing" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

yorubas (noun)

A Kwa language spoken by the Yoruba in southwestern Nigeria.

- They discussed "yorubas" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "yorubas" to mean a kwa language spoken by the yoruba in southwestern....

---

zings (noun)

A brief high-pitched buzzing or humming sound.

- The article explained what "zings" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "zings" during the group presentation.

---

zona pellucida (noun)

Thick membrane around the mammalian ovum; can be penetrated by one sperm in the fertilization process; usually remains around the fertilized egg until it is implanted in the wall of the uterus.

- The article explained what "zona pellucida" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "zona pellucida" to mean thick membrane around the mammalian ovum; can be....

---

adz (noun)

An edge tool used to cut and shape wood.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "adz."
- They discussed "adz" during the group presentation.

---

aeronaut (noun)

Someone who operates an aircraft.

- They discussed "aeronaut" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "aeronaut" to mean someone who operates an aircraft.

---

aggrandisement (noun)

The act of increasing the wealth or prestige or power or scope of something.

- They discussed "aggrandisement" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "aggrandisement" because he had never seen it before.

---

alee (adverb)

On or toward the lee.

- Put the helm alee.
- The narrator describes the scene "alee" in the final chapter.

aliment (noun)

A source of materials to nourish the body.

- Understanding "aliment" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aliment."

alimentation (noun)

A source of materials to nourish the body.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "alimentation."
- He looked up "alimentation" because he had never seen it before.

amalgams (noun)

A combination or blend of diverse things.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "amalgams."
- He looked up "amalgams" because he had never seen it before.

amaranthus albus (noun)

Bushy plant of western United States.

- They discussed "amaranthus albus" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "amaranthus albus" to mean bushy plant of western united states.

ammeter (noun)

A meter that measures the flow of electrical current in amperes.

- The article explained what "ammeter" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ammeter."

amnesic aphasia (noun)

Inability to name objects or to recognize written or spoken names of objects.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "amnesic aphasia."
- He looked up "amnesic aphasia" because he had never seen it before.

amphipod (noun)

A kind of malacostracan crustacean.

- He looked up "amphipod" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "amphipod."

ananas (noun)

A genus of tropical American plants have sword-shaped leaves and a fleshy compound fruits composed of the fruits of several flowers (such as pineapples).

- Understanding "ananas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ananas."

anesthetists (noun)

A specialist who administers an anesthetic to a patient before he is treated.

- The article explained what "anesthetists" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "anesthetists" to mean a specialist who administers an anesthetic to a....

antifungals (noun)

Any agent that destroys or prevents the growth of fungi.

- He looked up "antifungals" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "antifungals."

apeldoorn (noun)

A city of east central Netherlands; a popular tourist center and site of the summer residence of the Dutch royal family.

- He looked up "apeldoorn" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "apeldoorn" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

armourer (noun)

A worker skilled in making armor or arms.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "armourer."
- The article explained what "armourer" means with a simple example.

---

armours (noun)

A military unit consisting of armored fighting vehicles.

- The article explained what "armours" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "armours."

---

ashrams (noun)

A place of religious retreat modeled after the Indian ashram.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ashrams."
- Understanding "ashrams" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

auditory agnosia (noun)

Inability to recognize or understand the meaning of spoken words.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "auditory agnosia."
- Understanding "auditory agnosia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

aurally (adverb)

With regard to sound or the ear.

- The new musical was visually and aurally appealing.
- He answered "aurally," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

bagpiper (noun)

Someone who plays the bagpipe.

- Understanding "bagpiper" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "bagpiper" during the group presentation.

---

balletic (adjective)

Characteristic of or resembling or suitable for ballet.

- Students compared "balletic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "balletic" when it is characteristic of or resembling or suitable for ballet.

---

ballistic galvanometer (noun)

A moving-coil galvanometer that measures electric charge.

- In class, the teacher used "ballistic galvanometer" to mean a moving-coil galvanometer that measures electric....
- They discussed "ballistic galvanometer" during the group presentation.

---

barehanded (adjective)

With bare hands.

- Fought barehanded.
- Would you call this situation "barehanded"? Explain why.

---

belike (adverb)

With considerable certainty; without much doubt.

- She spoke "belike," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- He answered "belike," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

berzelius (noun)

Swedish chemist who discovered three new elements and determined the atomic weights of many others (1779-1848).

- The article explained what "berzelius" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "berzelius" to mean swedish chemist who discovered three new elements....

---

bifurcate (adjective)

Resembling a fork; divided or separated into two branches.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "bifurcate."

- A "bifurcate" approach may work better in this case.

---

bircher (adjective)

Consisting of or made of wood of the birch tree.

- The speaker chose "bircher" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "bircher" approach may work better in this case.

---

bivouacked (verb)

Live in or as if in a tent.

- In everyday English, people use "bivouacked" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "bivouacked" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

blameworthy (adjective)

Deserving blame or censure as being wrong or evil or injurious.

- Blameworthy if not criminal behavior.
- Students compared "blameworthy" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

blixen (noun)

Danish writer who lived in Kenya for 19 years and is remembered for her writings about Africa (1885-1962).

- In class, the teacher used "blixen" to mean danish writer who lived in kenya for 19 years and....
- He looked up "blixen" because he had never seen it before.

---

blue peafowl (noun)

Peafowl of India and Ceylon.

- In class, the teacher used "blue peafowl" to mean peafowl of india and ceylon.
- The article explained what "blue peafowl" means with a simple example.

---

bluecoats (noun)

A person dressed all in blue (as a soldier or sailor).

- Understanding "bluecoats" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "bluecoats" during the group presentation.

---

bontemps (noun)

United States writer (1902-1973).

- Understanding "bontemps" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "bontemps" during the group presentation.

---

bookbinders (noun)

A worker whose trade is binding books.

- In class, the teacher used "bookbinders" to mean a worker whose trade is binding books.
- Understanding "bookbinders" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bookplates (noun)

A label identifying the owner of a book in which it is pasted.

- Understanding "bookplates" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bookplates."

---

bounder (noun)

Someone who is morally reprehensible.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bounder."
- Understanding "bounder" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

brassica oleracea (noun)

Wild original of cultivated cabbages; common in western coastal Europe.

- Understanding "brassica oleracea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "brassica oleracea" to mean wild original of cultivated cabbages; common in....

---

buckboard (noun)

An open horse-drawn carriage with four wheels; has a seat attached to a flexible board between the two axles.

- They discussed "buckboard" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "buckboard" because he had never seen it before.

---

bullae (noun)

The round leaden seal affixed to a papal bull.

- They discussed "bullae" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bullae."

---

bunkered (verb)

Transfer cargo from a ship to a warehouse.

- She tried to use "bunkered" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "bunkered" when talking about this idea.

---

burs (noun)

Seed vessel having hooks or prickles.

- In class, the teacher used "burs" to mean seed vessel having hooks or prickles.
- The article explained what "burs" means with a simple example.

---

callouses (verb)

Make insensitive or callous; deaden feelings or morals.

- He did not know how to use "callouses" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "callouses" and when to wait.

---

cardiogenic shock (noun)

Shock caused by cardiac arrest.

- Understanding "cardiogenic shock" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "cardiogenic shock" during the group presentation.

---

carducci (noun)

Italian poet considered the national poet of modern Italy (1835-1907).

- Understanding "carducci" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "carducci" to mean italian poet considered the national poet of modern....

---

carnality (noun)

Feeling morbid sexual desire or a propensity to lewdness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carnality."
- The article explained what "carnality" means with a simple example.

---

cartage (noun)

The work of taking something away in a cart or truck and disposing of it.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cartage."
- The article explained what "cartage" means with a simple example.

---

cartouches (noun)

A cartridge (usually with paper casing).

- They discussed "cartouches" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "cartouches" to mean a cartridge (usually with paper casing).

---

catechin (noun)

A tannic acid that is extracted from black catechu as a white crystalline substance.

- The article explained what "catechin" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "catechin" to mean a tannic acid that is extracted from black catechu....

---

cavort (verb)

Play boisterously.

- Can you use "cavort" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "cavort" and when to wait.

---

cebu maguey (noun)

Hard fiber used in making coarse twine; from Philippine agave plants.

- The article explained what "cebu maguey" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "cebu maguey" during the group presentation.

---

cedis (noun)

The basic unit of money in Ghana.

- He looked up "cedis" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cedis."

---

chasten (verb)

Correct by punishment or discipline.

- The coach explained when to use "chasten" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "chasten" in real sentences.

---

chorales (noun)

A stately Protestant (especially Lutheran) hymn tune.

- The article explained what "chorales" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "chorales" to mean a stately protestant (especially lutheran) hymn tune.

---

cisc (noun)

An agency of the Canadian government that unifies the intelligence units of Canadian law enforcement agencies.

- He looked up "cisc" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cisc."

---

class gastropoda (noun)

Snails and slugs and their relatives.

- He looked up "class gastropoda" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "class gastropoda" to mean snails and slugs and their relatives.

---

classifiable (adjective)

Capable of being classified.

- Would you call this situation "classifiable"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "classifiable" when it is capable of being classified.

---

cockatrice (noun)

Monster hatched by a reptile from a cock's egg; able to kill with a glance.

- He looked up "cockatrice" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cockatrice."

---

collectivized (adjective)

Subscribing to the socialistic doctrine of ownership by the people collectively.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "collectivized."
- Students compared "collectivized" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

compartmented (adjective)

Divided up or separated into compartments or isolated units; ; - John Mason Brown.

- A compartmented box.
- The protected and compartmented society of Beacon Hill.

---

congo peafowl (noun)

Both sexes are brightly colored.

- Understanding "congo peafowl" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "congo peafowl."

congresswomen (noun)

A member of the United States House of Representatives.

- Understanding "congresswomen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "congresswomen" means with a simple example.

conjuncture (noun)

A critical combination of events or circumstances.

- In class, the teacher used "conjuncture" to mean a critical combination of events or circumstances.
- Understanding "conjuncture" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

convolvulus (noun)

Any of numerous plants of the genus Convolvulus.

- Understanding "convolvulus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "convolvulus" during the group presentation.

corsages (noun)

An arrangement of flowers that is usually given as a present.

- The article explained what "corsages" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "corsages" during the group presentation.

cowpox (noun)

A viral disease of cattle causing a mild skin disease affecting the udder; formerly used to inoculate humans against smallpox.

- In class, the teacher used "cowpox" to mean a viral disease of cattle causing a mild skin....
- He looked up "cowpox" because he had never seen it before.

cowries (noun)

Any of numerous tropical marine gastropods of the genus Cypraea having highly polished usually brightly marked shells.

- Understanding "cowries" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "cowries" because he had never seen it before.

coxsackie virus (noun)

Enterovirus causing a disease resembling poliomyelitis but without paralysis.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coxsackie virus."
- He looked up "coxsackie virus" because he had never seen it before.

crawfords (noun)

United States neoclassical sculptor (1814-1857).

- They discussed "crawfords" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "crawfords" because he had never seen it before.

cruiserweights (noun)

A professional boxer who weighs between 169 and 175 pounds.

- He looked up "cruiserweights" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cruiserweights."

crystalized (adjective)

(used especially of fruits) preserved by coating with or allowing to absorb sugar.

- Students compared "crystalized" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "crystalized."

cummerbund (noun)

A broad pleated sash worn as formal dress with a tuxedo.

- In class, the teacher used "cummerbund" to mean a broad pleated sash worn as formal dress with a tuxedo.
- The article explained what "cummerbund" means with a simple example.

cymbidium (noun)

Any of various plants of the genus Cymbidium having narrow leaves and a long drooping cluster of numerous showy and variously colored boat-shaped flowers; extensively hybridized and cultivated as houseplants and important florists' flowers.

- The article explained what "cymbidium" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "cymbidium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cytological (adjective)

Of or relating to the science of cytology.

- Would you call this situation "cytological"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "cytological" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

dayspring (noun)

The first light of day.

- They discussed "dayspring" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "dayspring" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

decapitates (verb)

Cut the head of.

- Can you use "decapitates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "decapitates" until he saw an example.

---

defuses (verb)

Remove the triggering device from.

- Can you use "defuses" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "defuses" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

demoiselle (noun)

Small brilliantly colored tropical marine fishes of coral reefs.

- The article explained what "demoiselle" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "demoiselle" to mean small brilliantly colored tropical marine fishes of....

---

dependance (noun)

The state of relying on or being controlled by someone or something else.

- They discussed "dependance" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "dependance" because he had never seen it before.

---

depolarized (verb)

Eliminate the polarization of.

- Can you use "depolarized" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "depolarized" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

depopulate (verb)

Reduce in population.

- The epidemic depopulated the countryside.
- Can you use "depopulate" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

destine (verb)

Decree or designate beforehand.

- She was destined to become a great pianist.
- The coach explained when to use "destine" and when to wait.

---

diaphragmatic pleurisy (noun)

An acute infectious disease occurring in epidemic form and featuring paroxysms of pain (usually in the chest).

- The article explained what "diaphragmatic pleurisy" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "diaphragmatic pleurisy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dichloromethane (noun)

A nonflammable liquid used as a solvent and paint remover and refrigerant.

- In class, the teacher used "dichloromethane" to mean a nonflammable liquid used as a solvent and paint....

- Understanding "dichloromethane" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

didactics (noun)

The activities of educating or instructing; activities that impart knowledge or skill.

- In class, the teacher used "didactics" to mean the activities of educating or instructing;....
- The article explained what "didactics" means with a simple example.

---

digressing (verb)

Lose clarity or turn aside especially from the main subject of attention or course of argument in writing, thinking, or speaking.

- In everyday English, people use "digressing" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "digressing" in real sentences.

---

dirndl (noun)

A dress with a tight bodice and full skirt.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dirndl."
- The article explained what "dirndl" means with a simple example.

---

discoidal (adjective)

Having a flat circular shape.

- Students compared "discoidal" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "discoidal."

---

disfranchised (adjective)

Deprived of the rights of citizenship especially the right to vote.

- A "disfranchised" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "disfranchised"? Explain why.

---

distractedly (adverb)

In a distracted manner.

- 'Come in,' he said distractedly.
- She spoke "distractedly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

dodecanese (noun)

A group of islands in the southeast Aegean Sea.

- The article explained what "dodecanese" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "dodecanese" during the group presentation.

---

donato bramante (noun)

Great Italian architect of the High Renaissance in Italy (1444-1514).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "donato bramante."
- They discussed "donato bramante" during the group presentation.

---

doohickey (noun)

Something unspecified whose name is either forgotten or not known.

- They discussed "doohickey" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "doohickey."

---

doorjamb (noun)

A jamb for a door.

- In class, the teacher used "doorjamb" to mean a jamb for a door.
- The article explained what "doorjamb" means with a simple example.

---

douses (verb)

Immerse briefly into a liquid so as to wet, coat, or saturate.

- He did not know how to use "douses" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "douses" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

dovetailing (verb)

Fit together tightly, as if by means of a dovetail.

- The coach explained when to use "dovetailing" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "dovetailing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

drumbeats (noun)

A vehement and vociferous advocacy of a cause.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "drumbeats."
- The article explained what "drumbeats" means with a simple example.

---

dubliner (noun)

A resident of Dublin.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dubliner."
- He looked up "dubliner" because he had never seen it before.

---

ductless (adjective)

Not having a duct.

- Ductless glands.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "ductless."

---

educationalist (noun)

A specialist in the theory of education.

- The article explained what "educationalist" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "educationalist."

---

educationists (noun)

A specialist in the theory of education.

- The article explained what "educationists" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "educationists."

---

edward durell stone (noun)

United States architect (1902-1978).

- In class, the teacher used "edward durell stone" to mean united states architect (1902-1978).
- The article explained what "edward durell stone" means with a simple example.

---

elamite (noun)

An extinct ancient language of unknown affinities; spoken by the Elamites.

- They discussed "elamite" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "elamite" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

embroil (verb)

Force into some kind of situation, condition, or course of action.

- She tried to use "embroil" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "embroil" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

encasement (noun)

The act of enclosing something in a case.

- The article explained what "encasement" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "encasement" to mean the act of enclosing something in a case.

---

encases (verb)

Enclose in, or as if in, a case.

- Learners should practice how to use "encases" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "encases" until he saw an example.

---

enjoins (verb)

Give instructions to or direct somebody to do something with authority.

- She tried to use "enjoins" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "enjoins" when talking about this idea.

---

enthalpies (noun)

(thermodynamics) a thermodynamic quantity equal to the internal energy of a system plus the product of its volume and pressure.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "enthalpies."
- They discussed "enthalpies" during the group presentation.

---

enumerable (adjective)

That can be counted.

- It is useful to describe something as "enumerable" when it is that can be counted.
- The speaker chose "enumerable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

epona (noun)

(possibly Roman mythology) Celtic goddess of horses and mules and asses.

- The article explained what "epona" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "epona" to mean (possibly roman mythology) celtic goddess of horses....

---

equivocate (verb)

Be deliberately ambiguous or unclear in order to mislead or withhold information.

- The coach explained when to use "equivocate" and when to wait.
- Can you use "equivocate" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

erik von willebrand (noun)

Finnish physician who first described vascular hemophilia (1870-1949).

- In class, the teacher used "erik von willebrand" to mean finnish physician who first described vascular....
- Understanding "erik von willebrand" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

erosions (noun)

A gradual decline of something.

- In class, the teacher used "erosions" to mean a gradual decline of something.
- He looked up "erosions" because he had never seen it before.

---

etd (noun)

A system for screening luggage in airports; an agent passes a swab around or inside luggage and then runs the swab through a machine that can detect trace amounts of explosives.

- They discussed "etd" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "etd" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

eucalypt grandis (noun)

Very tall tree of Queensland and New South Wales.

- The article explained what "eucalypt grandis" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "eucalypt grandis."

---

evangelized (verb)

Convert to Christianity.

- The missionaries evangelized the Pacific Islanders.
- She tried to use "evangelized" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

evolutionism (noun)

(biology) a scientific theory of the origin of species of plants and animals.

- In class, the teacher used "evolutionism" to mean (biology) a scientific theory of the origin of....
- The article explained what "evolutionism" means with a simple example.

---

experimentalism (noun)

An orientation that favors experimentation and innovation.

- The children of psychologists are often raised in an atmosphere of experimentalism.
- The article explained what "experimentalism" means with a simple example.

eyesores (noun)

Something very ugly and offensive.

- The article explained what "eyesores" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "eyesores" to mean something very ugly and offensive.

fatiha (noun)

The first or opening sura of the Quran which is the central prayer of Islam and is used on all special occasions as well as during the five daily prayers.

- The article explained what "fatiha" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "fatiha" to mean the first or opening sura of the quran which is the....

felicitate (verb)

Express congratulations.

- Learners should practice how to use "felicitate" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "felicitate" carefully so everyone would understand.

festoons (noun)

A curtain of fabric draped and bound at intervals to form graceful curves.

- They discussed "festoons" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "festoons" because he had never seen it before.

fidgeted (verb)

Move restlessly.

- Learners should practice how to use "fidgeted" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "fidgeted" until he saw an example.

firebrick (noun)

Brick made of fire clay; used for lining e.g. furnaces and chimneys.

- The article explained what "firebrick" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "firebrick" during the group presentation.

florist's willow (noun)

Much-branched Old World willow having large catkins and relatively large broad leaves.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "florist's willow."
- The article explained what "florist's willow" means with a simple example.

flossed (verb)

Use dental floss to clean.

- She tried to use "flossed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "flossed" until he saw an example.

flounces (noun)

The act of walking with exaggerated jerky motions.

- They discussed "flounces" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "flounces" to mean the act of walking with exaggerated jerky motions.

flowage (noun)

A body of water that has been created by deliberately flooding an area.

- Many campsites were located near the flowage.
- Rock fracture and rock flowage are different types of geological deformation.

foldout (noun)

An oversize page that is folded in to a book or magazine.

- The article explained what "foldout" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "foldout" during the group presentation.

forded (verb)

Cross a river where it's shallow.

- The coach explained when to use "forded" and when to wait.
- Can you use "forded" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

forearmed (verb)

Arm in advance of a confrontation.

- Can you use "forearmed" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "forearmed" until he saw an example.

---

fraxinus americana (noun)

Spreading American ash with leaves pale green or silvery beneath and having hard brownish wood.

- They discussed "fraxinus americana" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "fraxinus americana" because he had never seen it before.

---

freyr (noun)

(Norse mythology) god of earth's fertility and peace and prosperity; son of Njorth and brother of Freya; originally of the Vanir; later with the Aesir.

- In class, the teacher used "freyr" to mean (norse mythology) god of earth's fertility and....
- He looked up "freyr" because he had never seen it before.

---

frigga (noun)

(Norse mythology) goddess of the heavens and married love; wife of Odin.

- In class, the teacher used "frigga" to mean (norse mythology) goddess of the heavens and....
- The article explained what "frigga" means with a simple example.

---

frivolities (noun)

The trait of being frivolous; not serious or sensible.

- In class, the teacher used "frivolities" to mean the trait of being frivolous; not serious or sensible.
- Understanding "frivolities" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

frizzled (verb)

Fry something until it curls and becomes crisp.

- The coach explained when to use "frizzled" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "frizzled" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

frogging (verb)

Hunt frogs for food.

- He did not know how to use "frogging" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "frogging" and when to wait.

---

frump (noun)

A dull unattractive unpleasant girl or woman.

- She got a reputation as a frump.
- Understanding "frump" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fuckheads (noun)

A stupid person; these words are used to express a low opinion of someone's intelligence.

- In class, the teacher used "fuckheads" to mean a stupid person; these words are used to express a....
- He looked up "fuckheads" because he had never seen it before.

---

funnelling (verb)

Move or pour through a funnel.

- Learners should practice how to use "funnelling" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "funnelling" when talking about this idea.

---

fyodor mikhailovich dostoyevsky (noun)

Russian novelist who wrote of human suffering with humor and psychological insight (1821-1881).

- The article explained what "fyodor mikhailovich dostoyevsky" means with a simple example.

- In class, the teacher used "fyodor mikhailovich dostoyevsky" to mean russian novelist who wrote of human suffering with....

---

gabriel tellez (noun)

Spanish dramatist who wrote the first dramatic treatment of the legend of Don Juan (1571-1648).

- He looked up "gabriel tellez" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "gabriel tellez" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gastropoda (noun)

Snails and slugs and their relatives.

- Understanding "gastropoda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gastropoda."

---

geminate (noun)

A doubled or long consonant.

- The 'n' in 'thinness' is a geminate.
- Understanding "geminate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus ananas (noun)

A genus of tropical American plants have sword-shaped leaves and a fleshy compound fruits composed of the fruits of several flowers (such as pineapples).

- He looked up "genus ananas" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus ananas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus convolvulus (noun)

Genus of mostly climbing or scrambling herbs and shrubs: bindweed.

- He looked up "genus convolvulus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus convolvulus."

---

genus cymbidium (noun)

Genus of tropical epiphytic or terrestrial Old World orchids; one of the most popular orchid genera.

- They discussed "genus cymbidium" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "genus cymbidium" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus rubia (noun)

Type genus of the Rubiaceae; Old World herbs and subshrubs grown for their medicinal properties and for dye substances extracted from their roots.

- They discussed "genus rubia" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus rubia."

---

genus taenia (noun)

Type genus of the family Taeniidae: tapeworms.

- He looked up "genus taenia" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus taenia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gesner (noun)

Swiss naturalist who was one of the founders of modern zoology (1516-1565).

- Understanding "gesner" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "gesner" because he had never seen it before.

---

ginned (verb)

Separate the seeds from (cotton) with a cotton gin.

- He did not know how to use "ginned" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "ginned" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

glaciations (noun)

The condition of being covered with glaciers or masses of ice; the result of glacial action.

- Understanding "glaciations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "glaciations."

---

gleaners (noun)

Someone who picks up grain left in the field by the harvesters.

- The article explained what "gleaners" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gleaners" to mean someone who picks up grain left in the field by the....

---

glenn theodore seaborg (noun)

United States chemist who was one of the discoverers of plutonium (1912-1999).

- The article explained what "glenn theodore seaborg" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "glenn theodore seaborg" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

glinka (noun)

Russian composer (1804-1857).

- In class, the teacher used "glinka" to mean russian composer (1804-1857).
- Understanding "glinka" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

glueing (verb)

Join or attach with or as if with glue.

- In everyday English, people use "glueing" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "glueing" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

goodest (adjective)

Having desirable or positive qualities especially those suitable for a thing specified.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "goodest."
- The speaker chose "goodest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

gourmands (noun)

A person who is devoted to eating and drinking to excess.

- He looked up "gourmands" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "gourmands" during the group presentation.

---

gracile (adjective)

Slender and graceful.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "gracile."
- The speaker chose "gracile" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

grackle (noun)

Glossy black Asiatic starling often taught to mimic speech.

- The article explained what "grackle" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "grackle" to mean glossy black asiatic starling often taught to mimic....

---

green peafowl (noun)

Peafowl of southeast Asia.

- The article explained what "green peafowl" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "green peafowl" to mean peafowl of southeast asia.

---

gres-gris (noun)

An African amulet.

- The article explained what "gres-gris" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "gres-gris" during the group presentation.

---

grindle (noun)

Primitive long-bodied carnivorous freshwater fish with a very long dorsal fin; found in sluggish waters of North America.

- The article explained what "grindle" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "grindle" to mean primitive long-bodied carnivorous freshwater fish....

---

groundskeepers (noun)

Someone who maintains the grounds (of an estate or park or athletic field).

- The article explained what "groundskeepers" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "groundskeepers" to mean someone who maintains the grounds (of an estate or....

---

gruffly (adverb)

In a gruff manner.

- 'No,' he replied gruffly.
- The narrator describes the scene "gruffly" in the final chapter.

---

gussy up (verb)

Put on special clothes to appear particularly appealing and attractive.

- The coach explained when to use "gussy up" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "gussy up" in real sentences.

---

gutta-percha (noun)

A whitish rubber derived from the coagulated milky latex of gutta-percha trees; used for insulation of electrical cables.

- The article explained what "gutta-percha" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gutta-percha" to mean a whitish rubber derived from the coagulated milky....

---

gutta-percha tree (noun)

One of several East Indian trees yielding gutta-percha.

- They discussed "gutta-percha tree" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "gutta-percha tree" means with a simple example.

---

hailstone (noun)

Small pellet of ice that falls during a hailstorm.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hailstone."
- The article explained what "hailstone" means with a simple example.

---

hairiest (adjective)

Having or covered with hair.

- A "hairiest" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "hairiest"? Explain why.

---

haredim (noun)

Any of several sects of Orthodox Judaism that reject modern secular culture and many of whom do not recognize the spiritual authority of the modern state of Israel.

- He looked up "haredim" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "haredim."

---

harkening (verb)

Listen; used mostly in the imperative.

- In everyday English, people use "harkening" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "harkening" in real sentences.

---

harriss (noun)

Publisher of the first newspaper printed in America (1673-1713).

- Understanding "harriss" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "harriss" because he had never seen it before.

---

hasidism (noun)

A sect of Orthodox Jews that arose out of a pietistic movement originating in eastern Europe in the second half of the 18th century; a sect that follows the Mosaic law strictly.

- He looked up "hasidism" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hasidism."

---

haversack (noun)

A bag carried by a strap on your back or shoulder.

- He looked up "haversack" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "haversack" to mean a bag carried by a strap on your back or shoulder.

hayseed (noun)

A person who is not very intelligent or interested in culture.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hayseed."
- They discussed "hayseed" during the group presentation.

heartlessly (adverb)

In a heartless manner.

- She behaves rather heartlessly toward her admirers.
- He answered "heartlessly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

heartlessness (noun)

An absence of concern for the welfare of others.

- Understanding "heartlessness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "heartlessness" during the group presentation.

heftier (adjective)

Of considerable weight and size.

- A "heftier" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "heftier" when it is of considerable weight and size.

helots (noun)

(Middle Ages) a person who is bound to the land and owned by the feudal lord.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "helots."
- He looked up "helots" because he had never seen it before.

homesteaded (verb)

Settle land given by the government and occupy it as a homestead.

- In everyday English, people use "homesteaded" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "homesteaded" until he saw an example.

hryvnia (noun)

The basic unit of money in Ukraine.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hryvnia."
- They discussed "hryvnia" during the group presentation.

hurdy gurdy (noun)

A musical instrument that makes music by rotation of a cylinder studded with pegs.

- The article explained what "hurdy gurdy" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "hurdy gurdy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

hurdy-gurdy (noun)

A musical instrument that makes music by rotation of a cylinder studded with pegs.

- He looked up "hurdy-gurdy" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "hurdy-gurdy" during the group presentation.

hydroxyzine (noun)

A drug (trade names Atarax and Vistaril) used as a tranquilizer to treat anxiety and motion sickness.

- They discussed "hydroxyzine" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hydroxyzine."

hyperextension (noun)

Greater than normal extension.

- They discussed "hyperextension" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "hyperextension" because he had never seen it before.

immiscible (adjective)

(chemistry, physics) incapable of mixing.

- Students compared "immiscible" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "immiscible"? Explain why.

---

indian grackle (noun)

Glossy black Asiatic starling often taught to mimic speech.

- Understanding "indian grackle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "indian grackle" means with a simple example.

---

ineffectually (adverb)

In an ineffectual manner.

- She tried ineffectually to light the primus, and Thomas came to help her.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "ineffectually" naturally.

---

intercalary (adjective)

Having a day or month inserted to make the calendar year correspond to the solar year:.

- Feb. 29 is an intercalary day.
- A leap year is an intercalary year.

---

intercalary year (noun)

In the Gregorian calendar: any year divisible by 4 except centenary years divisible by 400.

- The article explained what "intercalary year" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "intercalary year."

---

interpose (verb)

To insert between other elements.

- God interposed death.
- Can you use "interpose" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

jackboots (noun)

(19th century) a man's high tasseled boot.

- In class, the teacher used "jackboots" to mean (19th century) a man's high tasseled boot.
- Understanding "jackboots" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

jan tinbergen (noun)

Dutch economist noted for his work in econometrics (1903-1994).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jan tinbergen."
- He looked up "jan tinbergen" because he had never seen it before.

---

jaywalk (verb)

Cross the road at a red light.

- He did not know how to use "jaywalk" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "jaywalk" when talking about this idea.

---

jennet (noun)

Female donkey.

- Understanding "jennet" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "jennet" because he had never seen it before.

---

kapok (noun)

A plant fiber from the kapok tree; used for stuffing and insulation.

- In class, the teacher used "kapok" to mean a plant fiber from the kapok tree; used for....
- The article explained what "kapok" means with a simple example.

---

karen blixen (noun)

Danish writer who lived in Kenya for 19 years and is remembered for her writings about Africa (1885-1962).

- The article explained what "karen blixen" means with a simple example.

- Understanding "karen blixen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

keras (noun)

A Chadic language spoken in Chad.

- In class, the teacher used "keras" to mean a chadic language spoken in chad.
- The article explained what "keras" means with a simple example.

---

kitchenettes (noun)

Small kitchen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kitchenettes."
- Understanding "kitchenettes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kolam (noun)

A member of a formerly tribal people now living in south central India.

- He looked up "kolam" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "kolam" to mean a member of a formerly tribal people now living in....

---

kreisler (noun)

United States violinist (born in Austria) (1875-1962).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kreisler."
- He looked up "kreisler" because he had never seen it before.

---

kuznets (noun)

United States economist (born in Russia) who developed a method for using a country's gross national product to estimate its economic growth (1901-1985).

- Understanding "kuznets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "kuznets" means with a simple example.

---

lachrymose (adjective)

Showing sorrow.

- A "lachrymose" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "lachrymose."

---

lactobacilli (noun)

A Gram-positive rod-shaped bacterium that produces lactic acid (especially in milk).

- The article explained what "lactobacilli" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lactobacilli" to mean a gram-positive rod-shaped bacterium that produces....

---

largeness (noun)

The capacity to understand a broad range of topics.

- A man distinguished by the largeness and scope of his views.
- The might have repercussions of unimaginable largeness.

---

laryngoscope (noun)

A medical instrument for examining the larynx.

- In class, the teacher used "laryngoscope" to mean a medical instrument for examining the larynx.
- He looked up "laryngoscope" because he had never seen it before.

---

levator (noun)

A muscle that serves to lift some body part (as the eyelid or lip).

- The article explained what "levator" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "levator" during the group presentation.

---

libeled (verb)

Print slanderous statements against.

- Can you use "libeled" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "libeled" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

libidinal (adjective)

Belonging to the libido.

- Libidinal impulses.
- Libidinal gratification.

---

libidinal energy (noun)

(psychoanalysis) psychic energy produced by the libido.

- He looked up "libidinal energy" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "libidinal energy."

---

libras (noun)

A small faint zodiacal constellation in the southern hemisphere; between Virgo and Scorpius.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "libras."
- The article explained what "libras" means with a simple example.

---

liest (adjective)

Being one more than fifty.

- A "liest" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "liest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

likings (noun)

A feeling of pleasure and enjoyment.

- The article explained what "likings" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "likings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

limonite (noun)

A widely occurring iron oxide ore; a mixture of goethite and hematite and lepidocrocite.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "limonite."
- He looked up "limonite" because he had never seen it before.

---

linocut (noun)

A design carved in relief into a block of linoleum.

- He looked up "linocut" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "linocut" during the group presentation.

---

lombardia (noun)

A region of north central Italy bordering Switzerland.

- The article explained what "lombardia" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lombardia" to mean a region of north central italy bordering switzerland.

---

luigi cherubini (noun)

Italian composer of church music and operas (1760-1842).

- They discussed "luigi cherubini" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "luigi cherubini" to mean italian composer of church music and operas (1760-1842).

---

lupins (noun)

Any plant of the genus Lupinus; bearing erect spikes of usually purplish-blue flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lupins."
- The article explained what "lupins" means with a simple example.

---

madrasah (noun)

Muslim schools in Bangladesh and Pakistan.

- They discussed "madrasah" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "madrasah" to mean muslim schools in bangladesh and pakistan.

---

magnifications (noun)

A photographic print that has been enlarged.

- Understanding "magnifications" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "magnifications" because he had never seen it before.

---

malefactors (noun)

Someone who has committed a crime or has been legally convicted of a crime.

- They discussed "malefactors" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malefactors."

---

manlier (adjective)

Characteristic of a man.

- It is useful to describe something as "manlier" when it is characteristic of a man.
- The speaker chose "manlier" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

mantling (verb)

Spread over a surface, like a mantle.

- Learners should practice how to use "mantling" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "mantling" until he saw an example.

---

marta brigit nilsson (noun)

Swedish operatic soprano who played Wagnerian roles (born in 1918).

- Understanding "marta brigit nilsson" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "marta brigit nilsson" during the group presentation.

---

matcher (noun)

Someone who arranges (or tries to arrange) marriages for others.

- Understanding "matcher" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "matcher" to mean someone who arranges (or tries to arrange)....

---

meanly (adverb)

In a nasty ill-tempered manner.

- This new leader meanly threatens the deepest values of our society.
- Troops meanly equipped.

---

mechanistically (adverb)

In a mechanistic manner.

- Handel achieves a huge breadth of musical thought when composing almost mechanistically in the least weighty of styles.
- Place "mechanistically" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

menhaden (noun)

Shad-like North American marine fishes used for fish meal and oil and fertilizer.

- He looked up "menhaden" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "menhaden" to mean shad-like north american marine fishes used for....

---

menhaden oil (noun)

A fatty oil obtained from the menhaden fish and used in paint and ink and in treating leather.

- In class, the teacher used "menhaden oil" to mean a fatty oil obtained from the menhaden fish and....
- They discussed "menhaden oil" during the group presentation.

---

mercuric (adjective)

Of or containing mercury.

- It is useful to describe something as "mercuric" when it is of or containing mercury.
- A "mercuric" approach may work better in this case.

---

mesenchyme (noun)

Mesodermal tissue that forms connective tissue and blood and smooth muscles.

- Understanding "mesenchyme" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "mesenchyme" to mean mesodermal tissue that forms connective tissue and....

metastasizing (verb)

Spread throughout the body.

- Can you use "metastasizing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "metastasizing" carefully so everyone would understand.

methanogens (noun)

Archaebacteria found in anaerobic environments such as animal intestinal tracts or sediments or sewage and capable of producing methane; a source of natural gas.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "methanogens."
- The article explained what "methanogens" means with a simple example.

metonymy (noun)

Substituting the name of an attribute or feature for the name of the thing itself (as in 'they counted heads').

- He looked up "metonymy" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "metonymy."

midnights (noun)

12 o'clock at night; the middle of the night.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "midnights."
- The article explained what "midnights" means with a simple example.

miscellanies (noun)

A collection containing a variety of sorts of things.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "miscellanies."
- He looked up "miscellanies" because he had never seen it before.

molests (verb)

Annoy continually or chronically.

- Can you use "molests" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "molests" and when to wait.

mortared (verb)

Plaster with mortar.

- The coach explained when to use "mortared" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "mortared" in real sentences.

morus alba (noun)

Asiatic mulberry with white to pale red fruit; leaves used to feed silkworms.

- Understanding "morus alba" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "morus alba" means with a simple example.

msgs (noun)

White crystalline compound used as a food additive to enhance flavor; often used in Chinese cooking.

- He looked up "msgs" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "msgs" to mean white crystalline compound used as a food additive....

mucinous (adjective)

Relating to or containing mucin.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "mucinous."
- Students compared "mucinous" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

mujahedeen (noun)

A military force of Muslim guerilla warriors engaged in a jihad.

- Understanding "mujahedeen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mujahedeen."

mulattoes (noun)

An offspring of a black and a white parent.

- In class, the teacher used "mulattoes" to mean an offspring of a black and a white parent.
- Understanding "mulattoes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

multivalent (adjective)

Having many values, meanings, or appeals.

- Subtle, multivalent allegory.
- A "multivalent" approach may work better in this case.

---

muriatic acid (noun)

A former name for hydrochloric acid.

- They discussed "muriatic acid" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "muriatic acid" means with a simple example.

---

nanga parbat (noun)

A mountain in the Himalayas in Kashmir (26,660 feet high).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nanga parbat."
- He looked up "nanga parbat" because he had never seen it before.

---

nasogastric feeding (noun)

Feeding consisting of delivering liquid nutrients through a tube passing through the nose and into the stomach.

- He looked up "nasogastric feeding" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "nasogastric feeding" during the group presentation.

---

natriuretic (adjective)

Of or relating to natriuresis.

- It is useful to describe something as "natriuretic" when it is of or relating to natriuresis.
- The speaker chose "natriuretic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

navaho (noun)

The Athapaskan language spoken by the Navaho.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "navaho."
- The article explained what "navaho" means with a simple example.

---

naysayer (noun)

Someone with an aggressively negative attitude.

- In class, the teacher used "naysayer" to mean someone with an aggressively negative attitude.
- The article explained what "naysayer" means with a simple example.

---

nbe (noun)

The compass point that is one point east (clockwise) of due north.

- The article explained what "nbe" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "nbe" to mean the compass point that is one point east....

---

nebraskans (noun)

A native or resident of Nebraska.

- Understanding "nebraskans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "nebraskans" because he had never seen it before.

---

neocolonialism (noun)

Control by a powerful country of its former colonies (or other less developed countries) by economic pressures.

- In class, the teacher used "neocolonialism" to mean control by a powerful country of its former....
- Understanding "neocolonialism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nernst (noun)

German physicist and chemist who formulated the third law of thermodynamics (1864-1941).

- In class, the teacher used "nernst" to mean german physicist and chemist who formulated the....

- The article explained what "nernst" means with a simple example.

---

nifedipine (noun)

Calcium blocker (trade name Procardia); appears to increase the risk of recurrent heart attacks.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nifedipine."
- Understanding "nifedipine" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

niqabs (noun)

A face veil covering the lower part of the face (up to the eyes) worn by observant Muslim women.

- Understanding "niqabs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "niqabs" means with a simple example.

---

nitriles (noun)

Any of a class of organic compounds containing the cyano radical -CN.

- He looked up "nitriles" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "nitriles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nonprofessional (adjective)

Not professional; not engaged in a profession or engaging in as a profession or for gain.

- The nonprofessional wives of his male colleagues.
- Nonprofessional actors.

---

oblanceolate (adjective)

(of a leaf shape) having a broad rounded apex and a tapering base.

- The speaker chose "oblanceolate" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "oblanceolate."

---

oblanceolate leaf (noun)

A leaf having a rounded apex and tapering base.

- They discussed "oblanceolate leaf" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "oblanceolate leaf" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

occam (noun)

English scholastic philosopher and assumed author of Occam's Razor (1285-1349).

- They discussed "occam" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "occam" means with a simple example.

---

octets (noun)

A set of eight similar things considered as a unit.

- He looked up "octets" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "octets."

---

onsets (noun)

The beginning or early stages.

- Understanding "onsets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "onsets" means with a simple example.

---

outboards (noun)

A motorboat with an outboard motor.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "outboards."
- They discussed "outboards" during the group presentation.

---

outfoxed (verb)

Beat through cleverness and wit.

- She outfoxed her competitors.
- She tried to use "outfoxed" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

outruns (verb)

Run faster than.

- She tried to use "outruns" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "outruns" in real sentences.

---

outsole (noun)

The outer sole of a shoe or boot that is the bottom of the shoe and makes contact with the ground.

- They discussed "outsole" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "outsole."

---

overdriven (verb)

Make use of too often or too extensively.

- Learners should practice how to use "overdriven" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "overdriven" and when to wait.

---

overexploitation (noun)

Exploitation to the point of diminishing returns.

- He looked up "overexploitation" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "overexploitation" during the group presentation.

---

paleface (noun)

(slang) a derogatory term for a white person (supposedly used by North American Indians).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paleface."
- The article explained what "paleface" means with a simple example.

---

palpate (verb)

Examine (a body part) by palpation.

- The nurse palpated the patient's stomach.
- He did not know how to use "palpate" until he saw an example.

---

panchromatic film (noun)

Photographic film sensitive to light of all colors (including red).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "panchromatic film."
- They discussed "panchromatic film" during the group presentation.

---

paranasal (adjective)

Adjacent to the nasal cavities.

- Paranasal sinus.
- A "paranasal" approach may work better in this case.

---

passerine (noun)

Perching birds mostly small and living near the ground with feet having 4 toes arranged to allow for gripping the perch; most are songbirds; hatchlings are helpless.

- He looked up "passerine" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "passerine."

---

peafowl (noun)

Very large terrestrial southeast Asian pheasant often raised as an ornamental bird.

- In class, the teacher used "peafowl" to mean very large terrestrial southeast asian pheasant....
- Understanding "peafowl" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pectus (noun)

The part of the human torso between the neck and the diaphragm or the corresponding part in other vertebrates.

- In class, the teacher used "pectus" to mean the part of the human torso between the neck and....
- Understanding "pectus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

phaseolus aureus (noun)

Erect bushy annual widely cultivated in warm regions of India and Indonesia and United States for forage and especially its edible seeds; chief source of bean sprouts used in Chinese cookery; sometimes placed in genus Phaseolus.

- They discussed "phaseolus aureus" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "phaseolus aureus" to mean erect bushy annual widely cultivated in warm....

---

phimosis (noun)

An abnormal tightness of the foreskin preventing retraction over the glans.

- In class, the teacher used "phimosis" to mean an abnormal tightness of the foreskin preventing....
- The article explained what "phimosis" means with a simple example.

---

phylogenies (noun)

(biology) the sequence of events involved in the evolutionary development of a species or taxonomic group of organisms.

- The article explained what "phylogenies" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "phylogenies" to mean (biology) the sequence of events involved in the....

---

picassos (noun)

Prolific and influential Spanish artist who lived in France (1881-1973).

- They discussed "picassos" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "picassos."

---

pigmy (noun)

An unusually small individual.

- He looked up "pigmy" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pigmy."

---

plaint (noun)

A cry of sorrow and grief.

- In class, the teacher used "plaint" to mean a cry of sorrow and grief.
- They discussed "plaint" during the group presentation.

---

plebiscites (noun)

A vote by the electorate determining public opinion on a question of national importance.

- They discussed "plebiscites" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "plebiscites" means with a simple example.

---

plumeria alba (noun)

Tall sparingly branched conical tree having large fragrant yellow flowers with white centers.

- They discussed "plumeria alba" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "plumeria alba" means with a simple example.

---

pontes (noun)

A band of nerve fibers linking the medulla oblongata and the cerebellum with the midbrain.

- They discussed "pontes" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pontes" means with a simple example.

---

porticos (noun)

A porch or entrance to a building consisting of a covered and often columned area.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "porticos."
- He looked up "porticos" because he had never seen it before.

---

precociously (adverb)

In a precocious manner.

- Her child behaves precociously.
- The narrator describes the scene "precociously" in the final chapter.

---

preemies (noun)

An infant that is born prior to 37 weeks of gestation.

- In class, the teacher used "preemies" to mean an infant that is born prior to 37 weeks of gestation.
- They discussed "preemies" during the group presentation.

prefigures (verb)

Imagine or consider beforehand.

- The coach explained when to use "prefigures" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "prefigures" carefully so everyone would understand.

prepuce (noun)

A fold of skin covering the tip of the penis.

- In class, the teacher used "prepuce" to mean a fold of skin covering the tip of the penis.
- The article explained what "prepuce" means with a simple example.

prie-dieu (noun)

Low bench for kneeling on.

- In class, the teacher used "prie-dieu" to mean low bench for kneeling on.
- Understanding "prie-dieu" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

privies (noun)

A room or building equipped with one or more toilets.

- Understanding "privies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "privies" to mean a room or building equipped with one or more toilets.

proctologist (noun)

A doctor specializing in diseases of the rectum and anus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "proctologist."
- Understanding "proctologist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

propanol (noun)

A clear colorless volatile liquid (alcohol) used as a solvent and antiseptic.

- They discussed "propanol" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "propanol" means with a simple example.

propellor (noun)

A mechanical device that rotates to push against air or water.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "propellor."
- Understanding "propellor" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

prophase (noun)

The first stage of meiosis.

- Understanding "prophase" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prophase."

prosaically (adverb)

In a matter-of-fact manner.

- I applied my attention prosaically to my routine.
- The narrator describes the scene "prosaically" in the final chapter.

providentially (adverb)

In a providential manner; as determined by providence.

- His providentially destined role.
- Providentially the weather remained good.

psychokinesis (noun)

The power to move something by thinking about it without the application of physical force.

- He looked up "psychokinesis" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "psychokinesis."

pudendal cleavage (noun)

The fissure between the labia majora.

- The article explained what "pudendal cleavage" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "pudendal cleavage" to mean the fissure between the labia majora.

---

pudendal slit (noun)

The fissure between the labia majora.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pudendal slit."
- Understanding "pudendal slit" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

puffers (noun)

Delicacy that is highly dangerous because of a potent nerve poison in ovaries and liver.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "puffers."
- He looked up "puffers" because he had never seen it before.

---

purple grackle (noun)

Eastern United States grackle.

- The article explained what "purple grackle" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "purple grackle" during the group presentation.

---

quartermasters (noun)

An army officer who provides clothing and subsistence for troops.

- The article explained what "quartermasters" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "quartermasters" to mean an army officer who provides clothing and....

---

radiogram (noun)

A message transmitted by wireless telegraphy.

- Understanding "radiogram" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "radiogram" to mean a message transmitted by wireless telegraphy.

---

raffling (verb)

Dispose of in a lottery.

- Can you use "raffling" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "raffling" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

rankins (noun)

Leader in the women's suffrage movement in Montana; the first woman to serve in the United States House of Representatives (1880-1973).

- Understanding "rankins" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "rankins" means with a simple example.

---

recapitulated (verb)

Repeat an earlier theme of a composition.

- In everyday English, people use "recapitulated" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "recapitulated" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

recuperative (adjective)

Promoting recuperation.

- Recuperative powers.
- Strongly recuperative remedies.

---

reinterprets (verb)

Interpret from a different viewpoint.

- He did not know how to use "reinterprets" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "reinterprets" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

repulsing (verb)

Cause to move back by force or influence.

- Can you use "repulsing" in a sentence that fits this situation?

- The coach explained when to use "repulsing" and when to wait.

---

retractors (noun)

Surgical instrument that holds back the edges of a surgical incision.

- They discussed "retractors" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "retractors" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

retrogressive (adjective)

Going from better to worse.

- It is useful to describe something as "retrogressive" when it is going from better to worse.
- A "retrogressive" approach may work better in this case.

---

revering (verb)

Love unquestioningly and uncritically or to excess; venerate as an idol.

- She tried to use "revering" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "revering" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

richardsons (noun)

British stage and screen actor noted for playing classic roles (1902-1983).

- Understanding "richardsons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "richardsons" because he had never seen it before.

---

roble (noun)

Tall graceful deciduous California oak having leathery leaves and slender pointed acorns.

- He looked up "roble" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "roble" to mean tall graceful deciduous california oak having....

---

rotas (noun)

A roster of names showing the order in which people should perform certain duties.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rotas."
- He looked up "rotas" because he had never seen it before.

---

roulade (noun)

A dish consisting of a slice of meat that is rolled around a filling and cooked.

- He looked up "roulade" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "roulade."

---

rubia (noun)

Type genus of the Rubiaceae; Old World herbs and subshrubs grown for their medicinal properties and for dye substances extracted from their roots.

- The article explained what "rubia" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "rubia" to mean type genus of the rubiaceae; old world herbs and....

---

ruffs (noun)

An external body part consisting of feathers or hair about the neck of a bird or other animal.

- He looked up "ruffs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ruffs."

---

sacajawea (noun)

The Shoshone guide and interpreter who guided the Lewis and Clark expedition part of the way.

- He looked up "sacajawea" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sacajawea."

---

sacerdotal (adjective)

Of or relating to a belief in sacerdotalism.

- Sacerdotal emphasis on the authority of priests.
- Priestly (or sacerdotal) vestments.

---

salix blanda (noun)

Hybrid willow usually not strongly weeping in habit.

- They discussed "salix blanda" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "salix blanda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

salmonella typhimurium (noun)

A form of salmonella that causes food poisoning in humans.

- The article explained what "salmonella typhimurium" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "salmonella typhimurium" during the group presentation.

---

salvadorean (adjective)

Of or relating to or characteristic of El Salvador or its people.

- Students compared "salvadorean" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "salvadorean."

---

salver (noun)

A tray (or large plate) for serving food or drinks; usually made of silver.

- They discussed "salver" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "salver" to mean a tray (or large plate) for serving food or drinks;....

---

sanctimony (noun)

The quality of being hypocritically devout.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sanctimony."
- He looked up "sanctimony" because he had never seen it before.

---

sanguinary (adjective)

Marked by eagerness to resort to violence and bloodshed; ; ; -G.W.Johnson.

- Went after the collaborators with a sanguinary fury that drenched the land with blood.
- This bitter and sanguinary war.

---

sanguinary ant (noun)

Slave-making ant widely distributed over the northern hemisphere.

- He looked up "sanguinary ant" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "sanguinary ant" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

satirising (verb)

Ridicule with satire.

- He did not know how to use "satirising" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "satirising" when talking about this idea.

---

schoolmistress (noun)

A woman schoolteacher (especially one regarded as strict).

- Understanding "schoolmistress" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "schoolmistress" means with a simple example.

---

schoolwide (adjective)

Occurring or extending throughout a school.

- Schoolwide support for the team.
- A "schoolwide" approach may work better in this case.

---

sculpturing (verb)

Create by shaping stone or wood or any other hard material.

- The coach explained when to use "sculpturing" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "sculpturing" until he saw an example.

---

seasonable (adjective)

Done or happening at the appropriate or proper time.

- A seasonable time for discussion.
- The speaker chose "seasonable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

seculars (noun)

Someone who is not a clergyman or a professional person.

- Understanding "seculars" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "seculars."

---

sedum rosea (noun)

Eurasian mountain plant with fleshy pink-tipped leaves and a cluster of yellow flowers.

- Understanding "sedum rosea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "sedum rosea" during the group presentation.

---

self-aggrandisement (noun)

An act undertaken to increase your own power and influence or to draw attention to your own importance.

- Understanding "self-aggrandisement" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "self-aggrandisement" during the group presentation.

---

semaphores (noun)

An apparatus for visual signaling with lights or mechanically moving arms.

- They discussed "semaphores" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "semaphores."

---

semitrailer (noun)

A trailer having wheels only in the rear; the front is supported by the towing vehicle.

- The article explained what "semitrailer" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "semitrailer" during the group presentation.

---

separability (noun)

The capability of being separated.

- They discussed "separability" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "separability."

---

setswana (noun)

The dialect of Sotho spoken by the Tswana in Botswana.

- In class, the teacher used "setswana" to mean the dialect of sotho spoken by the tswana in botswana.
- Understanding "setswana" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sextuple (adjective)

Having six units or components.

- Would you call this situation "sextuple"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "sextuple" when it is having six units or components.

---

shyer (adjective)

Wary and distrustful; disposed to avoid persons or things.

- The speaker chose "shyer" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "shyer" approach may work better in this case.

---

simon kuznets (noun)

United States economist (born in Russia) who developed a method for using a country's gross national product to estimate its economic growth (1901-1985).

- Understanding "simon kuznets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "simon kuznets" to mean united states economist (born in russia) who....

---

siss (verb)

Make a sharp hissing sound, as if to show disapproval.

- Learners should practice how to use "siss" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "siss" carefully so everyone would understand.

slipperiness (noun)

A slippery smoothness.

- They discussed "slipperiness" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "slipperiness" to mean a slippery smoothness.

slivered (verb)

Break up into splinters or slivers.

- The coach explained when to use "slivered" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "slivered" in real sentences.

snaky (adjective)

Resembling a serpent in form.

- Snaky ridges in the sand.
- Students compared "snaky" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

snappier (adjective)

Marked by up-to-dateness in dress and manners.

- Would you call this situation "snappier"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "snappier."

soft-coated wheaten terrier (noun)

Irish breed of medium-sized terrier with an abundant coat any shade of wheat and very hairy head and muzzle.

- Understanding "soft-coated wheaten terrier" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "soft-coated wheaten terrier" to mean irish breed of medium-sized terrier with an....

somnolent (adjective)

Inclined to or marked by drowsiness.

- The sound had a somnolent effect.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "somnolent."

soulfully (adverb)

In a soulful manner.

- He looked at her soulfully.
- The narrator describes the scene "soulfully" in the final chapter.

southlands (noun)

Any region lying in or toward the south.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "southlands."
- He looked up "southlands" because he had never seen it before.

soyabean oil (noun)

Oil from soya beans.

- In class, the teacher used "soyabean oil" to mean oil from soya beans.
- The article explained what "soyabean oil" means with a simple example.

spangle (noun)

Adornment consisting of a small piece of shiny material used to decorate clothing.

- Understanding "spangle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "spangle."

speechwriters (noun)

A writer who composes speeches for others to deliver.

- In class, the teacher used "speechwriters" to mean a writer who composes speeches for others to deliver.
- The article explained what "speechwriters" means with a simple example.

spiritism (noun)

Concern with things of the spirit.

- In class, the teacher used "spiritism" to mean concern with things of the spirit.
- The article explained what "spiritism" means with a simple example.

---

squeamishness (noun)

The trait of being excessively fastidious and easily shocked.

- The program was withdrawn because of the squeamishness of some viewers.
- He refused to allow squeamishness to deter him from his duty.

---

standers (noun)

An organism (person or animal) that stands.

- A crowd of sitters and standers.
- He looked up "standers" because he had never seen it before.

---

stolons (noun)

A horizontal branch from the base of plant that produces new plants from buds at its tips.

- In class, the teacher used "stolons" to mean a horizontal branch from the base of plant that....
- The article explained what "stolons" means with a simple example.

---

sturdiest (adjective)

Having rugged physical strength; inured to fatigue or hardships.

- The speaker chose "sturdiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "sturdiest" when it is having rugged physical strength; inured to fatigue....

---

subconsciousness (noun)

A state of mind not immediately available to consciousness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "subconsciousness."
- He looked up "subconsciousness" because he had never seen it before.

---

subdirectories (noun)

(computer science) a directory that is listed in another directory.

- They discussed "subdirectories" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "subdirectories" because he had never seen it before.

---

subsuming (verb)

Consider (an instance of something) as part of a general rule or principle.

- He did not know how to use "subsuming" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "subsuming" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

subvention (noun)

The act or process of providing aid or help of any sort.

- The article explained what "subvention" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "subvention" to mean the act or process of providing aid or help of any sort.

---

sulfonamides (noun)

Antibacterial consisting of any of several synthetic organic compounds capable of inhibiting the growth of bacteria that require PABA.

- In class, the teacher used "sulfonamides" to mean antibacterial consisting of any of several....
- Understanding "sulfonamides" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

supercede (verb)

Take the place or move into the position of.

- Learners should practice how to use "supercede" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "supercede" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

supraorbital (adjective)

Located or occurring above the eye socket.

- Would you call this situation "supraorbital"? Explain why.

- Students compared "supraorbital" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

supraorbital ridge (noun)

A ridge on the frontal bone above the eye socket.

- They discussed "supraorbital ridge" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "supraorbital ridge."

---

supraorbital vein (noun)

Drains the front of the scalp; unites with the supratrochlear vein to form the angular vein.

- In class, the teacher used "supraorbital vein" to mean drains the front of the scalp; unites with the....
- Understanding "supraorbital vein" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

svedberg (noun)

Swedish theologian (1688-1772).

- He looked up "svedberg" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "svedberg."

---

swigs (verb)

To swallow hurriedly or greedily or in one draught.

- He did not know how to use "swigs" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "swigs" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

taenia (noun)

A narrow headband or strip of ribbon worn as a headband.

- Understanding "taenia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "taenia."

---

talas (noun)

The basic unit of money in Western Samoa.

- They discussed "talas" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "talas" to mean the basic unit of money in western samoa.

---

taleban (noun)

A fundamentalist Islamic militia; in 1995 the Taliban militia took over Afghanistan and in 1996 took Kabul and set up an Islamic government.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "taleban."
- The article explained what "taleban" means with a simple example.

---

tellings (noun)

Disclosing information or giving evidence about another.

- Understanding "tellings" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tellings."

---

terrasse (verb)

Provide (a house) with a terrace.

- We terrassed the country house.
- In everyday English, people use "terrasse" when talking about this idea.

---

theosophists (noun)

A believer in theosophy.

- They discussed "theosophists" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "theosophists" means with a simple example.

---

thundercloud (noun)

A dark cloud of great vertical extent charged with electricity; associated with thunderstorms.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thundercloud."
- The article explained what "thundercloud" means with a simple example.

---

tinbergen (noun)

Dutch economist noted for his work in econometrics (1903-1994).

- He looked up "tinbergen" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tinbergen."

toughens (verb)

Make tough or tougher.

- Can you use "toughens" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "toughens" when talking about this idea.

transduced (verb)

Cause transduction (of energy forms).

- Can you use "transduced" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "transduced" until he saw an example.

transvestism (noun)

The practice of adopting the clothes or the manner or the sexual role of the opposite sex.

- They discussed "transvestism" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "transvestism" because he had never seen it before.

trashiest (adjective)

Cheap and inferior; of no value.

- A "trashiest" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "trashiest" when it is cheap and inferior; of no value.

treaded (verb)

Put down or press the foot, place the foot.

- In everyday English, people use "treaded" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "treaded" in real sentences.

treys (noun)

The cardinal number that is the sum of one and one and one.

- The article explained what "treys" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "treys."

triploid (adjective)

Of a cell or organism having three complete sets of chromosomes.

- Human triploid fetuses are usually spontaneously aborted.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "triploid."

tuberosity (noun)

A protuberance on a bone especially for attachment of a muscle or ligament.

- He looked up "tuberosity" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "tuberosity" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

tupi (noun)

The language spoken by the Tupi of Brazil and Paraguay.

- In class, the teacher used "tupi" to mean the language spoken by the tupi of brazil and paraguay.
- Understanding "tupi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

turbaned (adjective)

Wearing a turban.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "turbaned."
- Students compared "turbaned" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

typographer (noun)

One who sets written material into type.

- They discussed "typographer" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "typographer" means with a simple example.

---

umbel (noun)

Flat-topped or rounded inflorescence characteristic of the family Umbelliferae in which the individual flower stalks arise from about the same point; youngest flowers are at the center.

- They discussed "umbel" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "umbel" to mean flat-topped or rounded inflorescence characteristic....

---

umbel-like (adjective)

Resembling an umbel in form.

- The speaker chose "umbel-like" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "umbel-like" when it is resembling an umbel in form.

---

uncolored (adjective)

Not artificially colored or bleached.

- Her hair is uncolored.
- A "uncolored" approach may work better in this case.

---

underpay (verb)

Pay too little.

- She tried to use "underpay" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "underpay" until he saw an example.

---

underwears (noun)

Undergarment worn next to the skin and under the outer garments.

- Understanding "underwears" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "underwears" means with a simple example.

---

undulated (verb)

Increase and decrease in volume or pitch, as if in waves.

- The singer's voice undulated.
- The curtains undulated.

---

undyed (adjective)

Not artificially colored or bleached.

- Undyed cotton.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "undyed."

---

unkept (adjective)

(especially of promises or contracts) having been violated or disregarded.

- Broken (or unkept) promises.
- The speaker chose "unkept" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

unmentionables (noun)

A garment worn under other garments.

- Understanding "unmentionables" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "unmentionables" means with a simple example.

---

unmerciful (adjective)

Having or showing no mercy.

- Would you call this situation "unmerciful"? Explain why.
- A "unmerciful" approach may work better in this case.

---

unvarying (adjective)

Always the same; showing a single form or character in all occurrences.

- A "unvarying" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "unvarying" because it captured the feeling precisely.

unwaveringly (adverb)

With resolute determination.

- Using "unwaveringly" can make your explanation more exact.
- She spoke "unwaveringly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

uprise (verb)

Come into existence; take on form or shape.

- It was a sight to make one's hair uprise!
- The dead are to uprise.

utu (noun)

Sun god; counterpart of Akkadian Shamash.

- Understanding "utu" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "utu" to mean sun god; counterpart of akkadian shamash.

valetta (noun)

The capital of Malta; located on the northeastern coast of the island.

- The article explained what "valetta" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "valetta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

veronica arvensis (noun)

Erect or procumbent blue-flowered annual found in waste places of Europe and America.

- He looked up "veronica arvensis" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "veronica arvensis" to mean erect or procumbent blue-flowered annual found in....

vesicular stomatitis (noun)

A disease of horses, cattle, swine, and occasionally human beings; caused by the vesiculovirus.

- They discussed "vesicular stomatitis" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "vesicular stomatitis" because he had never seen it before.

viola arvensis (noun)

Common Old World viola with creamy often violet-tinged flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "viola arvensis" to mean common old world viola with creamy often....
- The article explained what "viola arvensis" means with a simple example.

volvulus (noun)

Abnormal twisting of the intestines (usually in the area of the ileum or sigmoid colon) resulting in intestinal obstruction.

- In class, the teacher used "volvulus" to mean abnormal twisting of the intestines (usually in the....
- He looked up "volvulus" because he had never seen it before.

waffled (verb)

Pause or hold back in uncertainty or unwillingness.

- In everyday English, people use "waffled" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "waffled" in real sentences.

wapiti (noun)

Common deer of temperate Europe and Asia.

- In class, the teacher used "wapiti" to mean common deer of temperate europe and asia.
- The article explained what "wapiti" means with a simple example.

waxwings (noun)

Brown velvety-plumaged songbirds of the northern hemisphere having crested heads and red waxy wing tips.

- In class, the teacher used "waxwings" to mean brown velvety-plumaged songbirds of the northern....
- They discussed "waxwings" during the group presentation.

weismann (noun)

German biologist who was one of the founders of modern genetics; his theory of genetic transmission ruled out the possibility of transmitting acquired characteristics (1834-1914).

- Understanding "weismann" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "weismann."

---

wellpoint (noun)

A perforated tube driven into the ground to collect water from the surrounding area.

- In class, the teacher used "wellpoint" to mean a perforated tube driven into the ground to collect....
- Understanding "wellpoint" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

wending (verb)

Direct one's course or way.

- The coach explained when to use "wending" and when to wait.
- Can you use "wending" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

whelps (noun)

Young of any of various canines such as a dog or wolf.

- They discussed "whelps" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whelps."

---

wiggler (noun)

One who can't stay still (especially a child).

- The toddler was a real wiggler on plane trips.
- The article explained what "wiggler" means with a simple example.

---

william of occam (noun)

English scholastic philosopher and assumed author of Occam's Razor (1285-1349).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "william of occam."
- He looked up "william of occam" because he had never seen it before.

---

witting (adjective)

Intentionally conceived.

- It is useful to describe something as "witting" when it is intentionally conceived.
- The speaker chose "witting" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

woodcutters (noun)

Cuts down trees and chops wood as a job.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "woodcutters."
- They discussed "woodcutters" during the group presentation.

---

yobs (noun)

A cruel and brutal fellow.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "yobs."
- He looked up "yobs" because he had never seen it before.

---

yowling (verb)

Cry loudly, as of animals.

- In everyday English, people use "yowling" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "yowling" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

zombi (noun)

Someone who acts or responds in a mechanical or apathetic way.

- They discussed "zombi" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "zombi" means with a simple example.

---

zombi spirit (noun)

(voodooism) a spirit or supernatural force that reanimates a dead body.

- Understanding "zombi spirit" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- He looked up "zombi spirit" because he had never seen it before.

---

abatements (noun)

An interruption in the intensity or amount of something.

- He looked up "abatements" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "abatements."

---

abels (noun)

(Old Testament) Cain and Abel were the first children of Adam and Eve born after the Fall of Man; Abel was killed by Cain.

- The article explained what "abels" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "abels" to mean (old testament) cain and abel were the first....

---

abenaki (noun)

A member of the Algonquian people of Maine and southern Quebec.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "abenaki."
- He looked up "abenaki" because he had never seen it before.

---

abrogating (verb)

Revoke formally.

- The coach explained when to use "abrogating" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "abrogating" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

accretive (adjective)

Growing by accretion.

- Would you call this situation "accretive"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "accretive" when it is growing by accretion.

---

acer saccharum (noun)

Maple of eastern and central North America having three-lobed to five-lobed leaves and hard close-grained wood much used for cabinet work especially the curly-grained form; sap is chief source of maple syrup and maple sugar; many subspecies.

- Understanding "acer saccharum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "acer saccharum" because he had never seen it before.

---

acetal (noun)

Any organic compound formed by adding alcohol molecules to aldehyde molecules.

- In class, the teacher used "acetal" to mean any organic compound formed by adding alcohol....
- They discussed "acetal" during the group presentation.

---

acrylonitrile-butadiene-styrene (noun)

Any of a class of composite plastics used to make car bodies and cases for computers and other appliances.

- In class, the teacher used "acrylonitrile-butadiene-styrene" to mean any of a class of composite plastics used to make....
- He looked up "acrylonitrile-butadiene-styrene" because he had never seen it before.

---

addends (noun)

A number that is added to another number (the augend).

- The article explained what "addends" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "addends" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

adjutants (noun)

An officer who acts as military assistant to a more senior officer.

- Understanding "adjutants" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "adjutants" because he had never seen it before.

---

agates (noun)

An impure form of quartz consisting of banded chalcedony; used as a gemstone and for making mortars and pestles.

- They discussed "agates" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "agates."

agnosia (noun)

Inability to recognize objects by use of the senses.

- In class, the teacher used "agnosia" to mean inability to recognize objects by use of the senses.
- They discussed "agnosia" during the group presentation.

altimeters (noun)

An instrument that measures the height above ground; used in navigation.

- Understanding "altimeters" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "altimeters" during the group presentation.

amasses (verb)

Get or gather together.

- He did not know how to use "amasses" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "amasses" in a sentence that fits this situation?

anaerobes (noun)

An organism (especially a bacterium) that does not require air or free oxygen to live.

- Understanding "anaerobes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "anaerobes" because he had never seen it before.

apocrine gland (noun)

A large sweat gland that produces both a fluid and an apocrine secretion; in human beings located in hairy regions of the body.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "apocrine gland."
- They discussed "apocrine gland" during the group presentation.

areopagus (noun)

The highest governmental assembly in ancient Athens (later a judicial court).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "areopagus."
- The article explained what "areopagus" means with a simple example.

aristarchus of samos (noun)

An ancient Greek astronomer who was one of the first to propose a heliocentric theory of the universe (circa 270 BC).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aristarchus of samos."
- The article explained what "aristarchus of samos" means with a simple example.

arrivederci (noun)

A farewell remark.

- He looked up "arrivederci" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "arrivederci."

assaulter (noun)

Someone who attacks.

- Understanding "assaulter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "assaulter" to mean someone who attacks.

astrocyte (noun)

Comparatively large neuroglial cell.

- In class, the teacher used "astrocyte" to mean comparatively large neuroglial cell.
- Understanding "astrocyte" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

audiotapes (noun)

A tape recording of sound.

- The article explained what "audiotapes" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "audiotapes" to mean a tape recording of sound.

avifauna (noun)

The birds of a particular region or period.

- The article explained what "avifauna" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "avifauna" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

babbler (noun)

An obnoxious and foolish and loquacious talker.

- In class, the teacher used "babbler" to mean an obnoxious and foolish and loquacious talker.
- The article explained what "babbler" means with a simple example.

---

bacteriostatic (adjective)

Of or relating to or causing bacteriostasis.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "bacteriostatic."
- A "bacteriostatic" approach may work better in this case.

---

bandannas (noun)

Large and brightly colored handkerchief; often used as a neckerchief.

- He looked up "bandannas" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "bandannas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bandmaster (noun)

The conductor of a band.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bandmaster."
- The article explained what "bandmaster" means with a simple example.

---

barbels (noun)

Slender tactile process on the jaws of a fish.

- They discussed "barbels" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "barbels" because he had never seen it before.

---

beaus (noun)

A man who is the lover of a girl or young woman.

- In class, the teacher used "beaus" to mean a man who is the lover of a girl or young woman.
- They discussed "beaus" during the group presentation.

---

bejewelled (verb)

Adorn or decorate with precious stones.

- He did not know how to use "bejewelled" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "bejewelled" in real sentences.

---

bellyache (noun)

An ache localized in the stomach or abdominal region.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bellyache."
- The article explained what "bellyache" means with a simple example.

---

belshazzar (noun)

(Old Testament) Babylonian general and son of Nebuchadnezzar II; according to the Old Testament he was warned of his doom by divine handwriting on the wall that was interpreted by Daniel (6th century BC).

- He looked up "belshazzar" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "belshazzar."

---

bevels (noun)

A hand tool consisting of two rules that are hinged together so you can draw or measure angles of any size.

- They discussed "bevels" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "bevels" because he had never seen it before.

---

bickers (noun)

A quarrel about petty points.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bickers."

- They discussed "bickers" during the group presentation.

---

bifurcations (noun)

A bifurcating branch (one or both of them).

- They discussed "bifurcations" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bifurcations."

---

bilking (verb)

Hinder or prevent (the efforts, plans, or desires) of.

- The coach explained when to use "bilking" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "bilking" until he saw an example.

---

billfish (noun)

Slender long-beaked fish of temperate Atlantic waters.

- They discussed "billfish" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "billfish" means with a simple example.

---

billies (noun)

A short stout club used primarily by policemen.

- Understanding "billies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "billies" to mean a short stout club used primarily by policemen.

---

blabbermouth (noun)

Someone who gossips indiscreetly.

- They discussed "blabbermouth" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "blabbermouth" because he had never seen it before.

---

blackhearts (noun)

Heart cherry with dark flesh and skin cherry.

- He looked up "blackhearts" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "blackhearts" during the group presentation.

---

bluetongue (noun)

A viral disease of sheep and cattle that is transmitted by biting midges.

- Understanding "bluetongue" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "bluetongue" during the group presentation.

---

boisterously (adverb)

In a carefree manner.

- He answered "boisterously," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- Place "boisterously" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

bowdler (noun)

English editor who in 1818 published an expurgated edition of the works of Shakespeare (1754-1825).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bowdler."
- Understanding "bowdler" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

boysenberry (noun)

Large raspberry-flavored fruit; cross between blackberries and raspberries.

- He looked up "boysenberry" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "boysenberry" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

boysenberry bush (noun)

Cultivated hybrid bramble of California having large dark wine-red fruit with a flavor resembling raspberries.

- Understanding "boysenberry bush" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "boysenberry bush" to mean cultivated hybrid bramble of california having....

---

brahmanas (noun)

Prose works attached to the Samhitas instructing the bahmins to perform the very elaborate sacrificial rituals.

- They discussed "brahmanas" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "brahmanas" because he had never seen it before.

---

brainier (adjective)

Having or marked by unusual and impressive intelligence.

- Students compared "brainier" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "brainier"? Explain why.

---

branchial cleft (noun)

One of a series of slit openings in the pharynxes of fishes and aquatic amphibians through which water passes.

- Understanding "branchial cleft" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "branchial cleft" to mean one of a series of slit openings in the pharynxes....

---

brashness (noun)

The trait of being rash and hasty.

- The article explained what "brashness" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "brashness" to mean the trait of being rash and hasty.

---

bronzy (adjective)

Of the color of bronze.

- Students compared "bronzy" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "bronzy" approach may work better in this case.

---

burble (verb)

Flow in an irregular current with a bubbling noise.

- Learners should practice how to use "burble" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "burble" when talking about this idea.

---

cabdriver (noun)

Someone who drives a taxi for a living.

- He looked up "cabdriver" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "cabdriver" during the group presentation.

---

calamus penna (noun)

From Florida and Bahamas to Brazil.

- Understanding "calamus penna" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "calamus penna" because he had never seen it before.

---

calenders (verb)

Press between rollers or plates so as to smooth, glaze, or thin into sheets.

- In everyday English, people use "calenders" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "calenders" until he saw an example.

---

canids (noun)

Any of various fissiped mammals with nonretractile claws and typically long muzzles.

- Understanding "canids" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "canids."

---

canoeist (noun)

Someone paddling a canoe.

- Understanding "canoeist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "canoeist" because he had never seen it before.

---

capet (noun)

King of France elected in 987 and founding the Capetian dynasty (940-996).

- The article explained what "capet" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "capet" during the group presentation.

---

carburettors (noun)

Mixes air with gasoline vapor prior to explosion.

- He looked up "carburettors" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "carburettors" to mean mixes air with gasoline vapor prior to explosion.

---

carnally (adverb)

In a carnal manner.

- She spoke "carnally," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- Place "carnally" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

ccrc (noun)

An agency in the Department of Defense that is a national center for research on all aspects of injury control and casualty care.

- The article explained what "ccrc" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "ccrc" to mean an agency in the department of defense that is a....

---

ceca (noun)

The cavity in which the large intestine begins and into which the ileum opens.

- In class, the teacher used "ceca" to mean the cavity in which the large intestine begins and....
- The article explained what "ceca" means with a simple example.

---

centrosome (noun)

Small region of cytoplasm adjacent to the nucleus; contains the centrioles and serves to organize the microtubules.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "centrosome."
- The article explained what "centrosome" means with a simple example.

---

changs (noun)

The longest river of Asia; flows eastward from Tibet into the East China Sea near Shanghai.

- He looked up "changs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "changs."

---

chemiluminescence (noun)

Luminescence resulting from a chemical reaction as the oxidation of luciferin in fireflies.

- They discussed "chemiluminescence" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "chemiluminescence" to mean luminescence resulting from a chemical reaction as....

---

cherubini (noun)

Italian composer of church music and operas (1760-1842).

- They discussed "cherubini" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "cherubini" to mean italian composer of church music and operas (1760-1842).

---

chicos (noun)

United States comedian; one of four brothers who made motion pictures together (1891-1961).

- The article explained what "chicos" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "chicos" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

chieftaincy (noun)

The position of chieftain.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chieftaincy."
- They discussed "chieftaincy" during the group presentation.

---

choirboys (noun)

A boy who sings in a choir.

- In class, the teacher used "choirboys" to mean a boy who sings in a choir.
- They discussed "choirboys" during the group presentation.

clanger (noun)

A conspicuous mistake whose effects seem to reverberate.

- He dropped a clanger.
- In class, the teacher used "clanger" to mean a conspicuous mistake whose effects seem to reverberate.

clutters (noun)

A confused multitude of things.

- He looked up "clutters" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "clutters" during the group presentation.

codling moth (noun)

A small grey moth whose larvae live in apples and English walnuts.

- Understanding "codling moth" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "codling moth" means with a simple example.

collocations (noun)

The act of positioning close together (or side by side).

- In class, the teacher used "collocations" to mean the act of positioning close together (or side by side).
- Understanding "collocations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

common staghorn fern (noun)

Commonly cultivated fern of Australia and southeastern Asia and Polynesia.

- In class, the teacher used "common staghorn fern" to mean commonly cultivated fern of australia and....
- Understanding "common staghorn fern" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

compendious (adjective)

Briefly giving the gist of something.

- A short and compendious book.
- Would you call this situation "compendious"? Explain why.

condemnable (adjective)

Bringing or deserving severe rebuke or censure.

- Students compared "condemnable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "condemnable"? Explain why.

configurational (adjective)

Of or relating to or characterized by configuration.

- The speaker chose "configurational" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "configurational" approach may work better in this case.

conodont (noun)

The tiny fossil cone-shaped tooth of a primitive vertebrate of order Conodonta.

- He looked up "conodont" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "conodont."

copacetic (adjective)

Completely satisfactory; ; - John O'Hara.

- His smile said that everything was copacetic.
- You had to be a good judge of what a man was like, and the English was copacetic.

coracle (noun)

A small rounded boat made of hides stretched over a wicker frame; still used in some parts of Great Britain.

- The article explained what "coracle" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "coracle" to mean a small rounded boat made of hides stretched over a....

cosines (noun)

Ratio of the adjacent side to the hypotenuse of a right-angled triangle.

- In class, the teacher used "cosines" to mean ratio of the adjacent side to the hypotenuse of a....
- The article explained what "cosines" means with a simple example.

---

cosmologies (noun)

The metaphysical study of the origin and nature of the universe.

- In class, the teacher used "cosmologies" to mean the metaphysical study of the origin and nature of....
- They discussed "cosmologies" during the group presentation.

---

covenanted (verb)

Enter into a covenant or formal agreement.

- They covenanted with Judas for 30 pieces of silver.
- The nations covenanted to fight terrorism around the world.

---

cowpea (noun)

Sprawling Old World annual cultivated especially in southern United States for food and forage and green manure.

- The article explained what "cowpea" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "cowpea" to mean sprawling old world annual cultivated especially in....

---

cowpea plant (noun)

Sprawling Old World annual cultivated especially in southern United States for food and forage and green manure.

- Understanding "cowpea plant" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "cowpea plant" because he had never seen it before.

---

creamers (noun)

A small pitcher for serving cream.

- He looked up "creamers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "creamers."

---

creme de menthe (noun)

Sweet green or white mint-flavored liqueur.

- Understanding "creme de menthe" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "creme de menthe" to mean sweet green or white mint-flavored liqueur.

---

crinoid (adjective)

Of or relating to or belonging to the class Crinoidea.

- It is useful to describe something as "crinoid" when it is of or relating to or belonging to the class crinoidea.
- The speaker chose "crinoid" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

crofter (noun)

An owner or tenant of a small farm in Great Britain.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "crofter."
- The article explained what "crofter" means with a simple example.

---

curlews (noun)

Large migratory shorebirds of the sandpiper family; closely related to woodcocks but having a down-curved bill.

- They discussed "curlews" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "curlews" to mean large migratory shorebirds of the sandpiper family;....

---

cutlers (noun)

A dealer in cutlery.

- Understanding "cutlers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "cutlers" to mean a dealer in cutlery.

---

cycladic civilisation (noun)

The Bronze Age civilization on the Cyclades islands in the southern Aegean Sea that flourished 3000-1100 BC.

- In class, the teacher used "cycladic civilisation" to mean the bronze age civilization on the cyclades islands....

- The article explained what "cycladic civilisation" means with a simple example.

---

danker (adjective)

Unpleasantly cool and humid.

- A "danker" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "danker."

---

darky (noun)

(ethnic slur) offensive term for Black people.

- They discussed "darky" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "darky."

---

declensions (noun)

A class of nouns or pronouns or adjectives in Indo-European languages having the same (or very similar) inflectional forms.

- They discussed "declensions" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "declensions" means with a simple example.

---

deflator (noun)

A statistical factor designed to remove the effect of inflation; inflation adjusted variables are in constant dollars.

- The article explained what "deflator" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "deflator" to mean a statistical factor designed to remove the effect....

---

deliberates (verb)

Think about carefully; weigh.

- The coach explained when to use "deliberates" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "deliberates" until he saw an example.

---

dependably (adverb)

In a faithful manner.

- Place "dependably" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "dependably" naturally.

---

depolarizing (verb)

Eliminate the polarization of.

- The coach explained when to use "depolarizing" and when to wait.
- Can you use "depolarizing" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

deponent (noun)

A person who testifies or gives a deposition.

- The article explained what "deponent" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "deponent" to mean a person who testifies or gives a deposition.

---

dexedrine (noun)

An isomer of amphetamine (trade name Dexedrine) used as a central nervous system stimulant.

- He looked up "dexedrine" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "dexedrine" to mean an isomer of amphetamine (trade name dexedrine)....

---

dialectically (adverb)

In a dialectic manner.

- His religiousness is dialectically related to his sinfulness.
- She spoke "dialectically," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

dinesen (noun)

Danish writer who lived in Kenya for 19 years and is remembered for her writings about Africa (1885-1962).

- He looked up "dinesen" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "dinesen" to mean danish writer who lived in kenya for 19 years and....

---

dinoflagellate (noun)

Chiefly marine protozoa having two flagella; a chief constituent of plankton.

- The article explained what "dinoflagellate" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dinoflagellate."

---

dodoma (noun)

A city in the center of Tanzania that has been designated as the future capital.

- He looked up "dodoma" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dodoma."

---

dogsled (noun)

A sled pulled by dogs.

- In class, the teacher used "dogsled" to mean a sled pulled by dogs.
- They discussed "dogsled" during the group presentation.

---

doodlebug (noun)

A small jet-propelled winged missile that carries a bomb.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "doodlebug."
- They discussed "doodlebug" during the group presentation.

---

douay-rheims bible (noun)

An English translation of the Vulgate by Roman Catholic scholars.

- They discussed "douay-rheims bible" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "douay-rheims bible" because he had never seen it before.

---

dramatizations (noun)

A dramatic representation.

- Understanding "dramatizations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "dramatizations" because he had never seen it before.

---

driers (noun)

A substance that promotes drying (e.g., calcium oxide absorbs water and is used to remove moisture).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "driers."
- They discussed "driers" during the group presentation.

---

droped (verb)

Fall or descend to a lower place or level.

- She tried to use "droped" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "droped" when talking about this idea.

---

drum majorette (noun)

A female baton twirler who accompanies a marching band.

- The article explained what "drum majorette" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "drum majorette" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dullards (noun)

A person who is not very bright.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dullards."
- They discussed "dullards" during the group presentation.

---

dysthymia (noun)

Mild chronic depression.

- I thought she had just been in a bad mood for thirty years, but the doctor called it dysthymia.
- He looked up "dysthymia" because he had never seen it before.

---

eero saarinen (noun)

United States architect (born in Finland) (1910-1961).

- In class, the teacher used "eero saarinen" to mean united states architect (born in finland) (1910-1961).
- They discussed "eero saarinen" during the group presentation.

---

electrostatically (adverb)

In an electrostatic manner.

- The dust adhered electrostatically to the surface.
- She spoke "electrostatically," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

emulsify (verb)

Form into or become an emulsion.

- She tried to use "emulsify" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "emulsify" when talking about this idea.

---

endemics (noun)

A plant that is native to a certain limited area.

- In class, the teacher used "endemics" to mean a plant that is native to a certain limited area.
- Understanding "endemics" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

engorgement (noun)

Eating ravenously or voraciously to satiation.

- Engorgement of the breast.
- The article explained what "engorgement" means with a simple example.

---

epigastric fossa (noun)

A slight depression in the midline just below the sternum (where a blow can affect the solar plexus).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "epigastric fossa."
- They discussed "epigastric fossa" during the group presentation.

---

ergs (noun)

A cgs unit of work or energy; the work done by a force of one dyne acting over a distance of one centimeter.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ergs."
- He looked up "ergs" because he had never seen it before.

---

esker (noun)

(geology) a long winding ridge of post glacial gravel and other sediment; deposited by meltwater from glaciers or ice sheets.

- He looked up "esker" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "esker."

---

ethnos (noun)

People of the same race or nationality who share a distinctive culture.

- The article explained what "ethnos" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ethnos."

---

expensing (verb)

Reduce the estimated value of something.

- He did not know how to use "expensing" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "expensing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

experimentations (noun)

The act of conducting a controlled test or investigation.

- The article explained what "experimentations" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "experimentations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

expropriating (verb)

Deprive of possessions.

- The coach explained when to use "expropriating" and when to wait.
- Can you use "expropriating" in a sentence that fits this situation?

extrapolates (verb)

Draw from specific cases for more general cases.

- Learners should practice how to use "extrapolates" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "extrapolates" until he saw an example.

eyewash (noun)

Lotion consisting of a solution used as a cleanser for the eyes.

- Understanding "eyewash" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "eyewash" means with a simple example.

falsifies (verb)

Tamper, with the purpose of deception.

- She tried to use "falsifies" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "falsifies" in real sentences.

fasces (noun)

Bundle of rods containing an axe with the blade protruding; in ancient Rome it was a symbol of a magistrate's power; in modern Italy it is a symbol of fascism.

- They discussed "fasces" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fasces."

featherbed (verb)

Treat with excessive indulgence.

- She tried to use "featherbed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "featherbed" and when to wait.

femoris (noun)

The longest and thickest bone of the human skeleton; extends from the pelvis to the knee.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "femoris."
- The article explained what "femoris" means with a simple example.

fertilising (verb)

Provide with fertilizers or add nutrients to.

- She tried to use "fertilising" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "fertilising" and when to wait.

fiberoptic (adjective)

Of or relating to fiber optics.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "fiberoptic."
- Students compared "fiberoptic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

footboard (noun)

A narrow platform on which to stand or brace the feet.

- In class, the teacher used "footboard" to mean a narrow platform on which to stand or brace the feet.
- Understanding "footboard" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

footrace (noun)

A race run on foot.

- They discussed "footrace" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "footrace" because he had never seen it before.

forsooth (adverb)

An archaic word originally meaning 'in truth' but now usually used to express disbelief.

- She spoke "forsooth," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- Place "forsooth" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

forswear (verb)

Formally reject or disavow a formerly held belief, usually under pressure.

- In everyday English, people use "forswear" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "forswear" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

funs (noun)

A disposition to find (or make) causes for amusement.

- In class, the teacher used "funs" to mean a disposition to find (or make) causes for amusement.
- The article explained what "funs" means with a simple example.

---

furrowing (verb)

Hollow out in the form of a furrow or groove.

- He did not know how to use "furrowing" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "furrowing" when talking about this idea.

---

fuzzed (adjective)

Covering with fine light hairs.

- His head fuzzed like a dandelion gone to seed.
- Students compared "fuzzed" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

fuzzier (adjective)

Confused and not coherent; not clearly thought out.

- The speaker chose "fuzzier" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "fuzzier"? Explain why.

---

fyodor mikhailovich dostoevsky (noun)

Russian novelist who wrote of human suffering with humor and psychological insight (1821-1881).

- Understanding "fyodor mikhailovich dostoevsky" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "fyodor mikhailovich dostoevsky" to mean russian novelist who wrote of human suffering with....

---

gads (noun)

A sharp prod fixed to a rider's heel and used to urge a horse onward.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gads."
- He looked up "gads" because he had never seen it before.

---

gallina (noun)

Small Asiatic wild bird; believed to be ancestral to domestic fowl.

- Understanding "gallina" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "gallina" means with a simple example.

---

galvanometer (noun)

Meter for detecting or comparing or measuring small electric currents.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "galvanometer."
- He looked up "galvanometer" because he had never seen it before.

---

gardners (noun)

Writer of detective novels featuring Perry Mason (1889-1970).

- Understanding "gardners" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "gardners" because he had never seen it before.

---

gawping (verb)

Look with amazement; look stupidly.

- He did not know how to use "gawping" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "gawping" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

generales (verb)

Command as a general.

- She tried to use "generales" carefully so everyone would understand.

- Learners should practice how to use “generales” in real sentences.

---

gentles (verb)

Cause to be more favorably inclined; gain the good will of.

- The coach explained when to use “gentles” and when to wait.
- She tried to use “gentles” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

genus lepus (noun)

Type genus of the Leporidae: hares.

- The article explained what “genus lepus” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “genus lepus” to mean type genus of the leporidae: hares.

---

genus mandragora (noun)

A genus of stemless herbs of the family Solanaceae.

- He looked up “genus mandragora” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus mandragora.”

---

genus morus (noun)

Type genus of the Moraceae: mulberries.

- He looked up “genus morus” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “genus morus” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus plumeria (noun)

Deciduous shrubs and trees of tropical America having branches like candelabra and fragrant white or pink flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “genus plumeria.”
- Understanding “genus plumeria” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus rickettsia (noun)

Can cause typhus and Rocky Mountain spotted fever in humans.

- The article explained what “genus rickettsia” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “genus rickettsia” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gladioli (noun)

The large central part of the breastbone.

- The article explained what “gladioli” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “gladioli.”

---

glenoid cavity (noun)

The concavity in the head of the scapula that receives the head of the humerus to form the shoulder joint.

- He looked up “glenoid cavity” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “glenoid cavity” during the group presentation.

---

gloomier (adjective)

Filled with melancholy and despondency.

- Students compared “gloomier” with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as “gloomier” when it is filled with melancholy and despondency.

---

goldmark (noun)

United States inventor (born in Hungary) who made the first TV broadcast in 1940 and invented the long-playing record in 1948 and pioneered videocassette recording (1906-1977).

- The article explained what “goldmark” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “goldmark” to mean united states inventor (born in hungary) who made....

---

gorget (noun)

Armor plate that protects the neck.

- In class, the teacher used “gorget” to mean armor plate that protects the neck.
- They discussed “gorget” during the group presentation.

---

grackles (noun)

Glossy black Asiatic starling often taught to mimic speech.

- He looked up "grackles" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "grackles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gradings (noun)

The act of arranging in a graduated series.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gradings."
- The article explained what "gradings" means with a simple example.

---

grumpiness (noun)

A fussy and eccentric disposition.

- The article explained what "grumpiness" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "grumpiness" to mean a fussy and eccentric disposition.

---

hageman factor (noun)

Coagulation factor whose deficiency results in prolongation of clotting time of venous blood.

- In class, the teacher used "hageman factor" to mean coagulation factor whose deficiency results in....
- He looked up "hageman factor" because he had never seen it before.

---

hammed (verb)

Exaggerate one's acting.

- She tried to use "hammed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "hammed" in real sentences.

---

hdtvs (noun)

A television system that has more than the usual number of lines per frame so its pictures show more detail.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hdtvs."
- He looked up "hdtvs" because he had never seen it before.

---

hearkens (verb)

Listen; used mostly in the imperative.

- In everyday English, people use "hearkens" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "hearkens" in real sentences.

---

hematopoiesis (noun)

The formation of blood cells in the living body (especially in the bone marrow).

- He looked up "hematopoiesis" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "hematopoiesis" to mean the formation of blood cells in the living body....

---

hemostatic (adjective)

Tending to check bleeding by contracting the tissues or blood vessels.

- A "hemostatic" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "hemostatic" when it is tending to check bleeding by contracting the....

---

heterosexism (noun)

Discrimination in favor of heterosexual and against homosexual people.

- He looked up "heterosexism" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "heterosexism" to mean discrimination in favor of heterosexual and against....

---

highwater (noun)

The tide when the water is highest.

- The article explained what "highwater" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "highwater" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hoaxer (noun)

Someone who plays practical jokes on others.

- They discussed "hoaxer" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "hoaxer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

homeopath (noun)

A practitioner of homeopathy.

- They discussed "homeopath" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "homeopath" means with a simple example.

---

homepages (noun)

The opening page of a web site.

- They discussed "homepages" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "homepages" to mean the opening page of a web site.

---

hoopoe (noun)

Any of several crested Old World birds with a slender downward-curved bill.

- Understanding "hoopoe" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "hoopoe" to mean any of several crested old world birds with a....

---

hornpipe (noun)

A British solo dance performed by sailors.

- They discussed "hornpipe" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hornpipe."

---

hudsons (noun)

A New York river; flows southward into New York Bay; explored by Henry Hudson early in the 17th century.

- He looked up "hudsons" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "hudsons" to mean a new york river; flows southward into new york....

---

hugh capet (noun)

King of France elected in 987 and founding the Capetian dynasty (940-996).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hugh capet."
- He looked up "hugh capet" because he had never seen it before.

---

hydrologists (noun)

A geologist skilled in hydrology.

- The article explained what "hydrologists" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "hydrologists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hypervelocity (noun)

Excessive velocity.

- The meteorites struck the earth with hypervelocity impacts.
- The article explained what "hypervelocity" means with a simple example.

---

illumined (verb)

Make lighter or brighter.

- In everyday English, people use "illumined" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "illumined" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

immolate (verb)

Offer as a sacrifice by killing or by giving up to destruction.

- The Aztecs immolated human victims.
- Immolate the valuables at the temple.

---

immorally (adverb)

Without regard for morality.

- He acted immorally when his own interests were at stake.
- Place "immorally" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

impecunious (adjective)

Not having enough money to pay for necessities.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "impecunious."
- Would you call this situation "impecunious"? Explain why.

impoundments (noun)

Placing private property in the custody of an officer of the law.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "impoundments."
- He looked up "impoundments" because he had never seen it before.

inarguable (adjective)

Against which no argument can be made.

- It is useful to describe something as "inarguable" when it is against which no argument can be made.
- Would you call this situation "inarguable"? Explain why.

incandescence (noun)

The phenomenon of light emission by a body as its temperature is raised.

- The article explained what "incandescence" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "incandescence."

ingratiated (verb)

Gain favor with somebody by deliberate efforts.

- Learners should practice how to use "ingratiated" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "ingratiated" when talking about this idea.

inhalants (noun)

A medication to be taken by inhaling it.

- Understanding "inhalants" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "inhalants" during the group presentation.

internode (noun)

A segment of a stem between two nodes.

- Understanding "internode" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "internode" means with a simple example.

irrecoverable (adjective)

Incapable of being recovered or regained.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "irrecoverable."
- Would you call this situation "irrecoverable"? Explain why.

jaroslav hasek (noun)

Czech author of novels and short stories (1883-1923).

- In class, the teacher used "jaroslav hasek" to mean czech author of novels and short stories (1883-1923).
- He looked up "jaroslav hasek" because he had never seen it before.

jiggers (noun)

A small glass adequate to hold a single swallow of whiskey.

- The article explained what "jiggers" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jiggers."

joe bloggs (noun)

A hypothetical average man.

- He looked up "joe bloggs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "joe bloggs."

jubilantly (adverb)

In a joyous manner.

- He answered "jubilantly," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- Using "jubilantly" can make your explanation more exact.

---

kamba (noun)

A Bantu language spoken by the Kamba in Kenya.

- He looked up "kamba" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kamba."

---

kansa (noun)

A member of the Siouan people of the Kansas river valley in Kansas.

- He looked up "kansa" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "kansa" during the group presentation.

---

karol wojtyla (noun)

The first Pope born in Poland; the first Pope not born in Italy in 450 years (1920-2005).

- The article explained what "karol wojtyla" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "karol wojtyla."

---

lactobacillus acidophilus (noun)

A bacterium that is used to make yogurt and to supplement probiotics.

- The article explained what "lactobacillus acidophilus" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "lactobacillus acidophilus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

landside (noun)

Component consisting of a side piece opposite the moldboard.

- Understanding "landside" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "landside."

---

laparoscopic cholecystectomy (noun)

Removal of the gall bladder through small punctures in the abdomen to permit the insertion of a laparoscope and surgical instruments.

- The article explained what "laparoscopic cholecystectomy" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "laparoscopic cholecystectomy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

layabouts (noun)

Person who does no work.

- Understanding "layabouts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "layabouts" to mean person who does no work.

---

lecher (noun)

Man with strong sexual desires.

- The article explained what "lecher" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lecher."

---

lepus (noun)

A constellation in the southern hemisphere near Orion and Columba.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lepus."
- He looked up "lepus" because he had never seen it before.

---

lgv (noun)

Infectious disease caused by a species of chlamydia bacterium; transmitted by sexual contact; characterized by genital lesions and swelling of lymph nodes in the groin.

- They discussed "lgv" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lgv."

---

liaised (verb)

Act between parties with a view to reconciling differences.

- He did not know how to use "liaised" until he saw an example.

- The coach explained when to use “liaised” and when to wait.

---

liberalise (verb)

Make liberal or more liberal, of laws and rules.

- She tried to use “liberalise” carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use “liberalise” until he saw an example.

---

lunette (noun)

Temporary fortification like a detached bastion.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “lunette.”
- They discussed “lunette” during the group presentation.

---

lycian (noun)

An Anatolian language.

- He looked up “lycian” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “lycian.”

---

magnanimously (adverb)

In a magnanimous manner.

- Magnanimously, he forgave all those who had harmed him.
- She spoke “magnanimously,” and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

maguey (noun)

Philippine plant yielding a hard fibre used in making coarse twine.

- In class, the teacher used “maguey” to mean philippine plant yielding a hard fibre used in....
- They discussed “maguey” during the group presentation.

---

majorette (noun)

A female baton twirler who accompanies a marching band.

- They discussed “majorette” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “majorette” because he had never seen it before.

---

mammalogy (noun)

The branch of zoology that studies mammals.

- He looked up “mammalogy” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “mammalogy” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mandragora (noun)

A genus of stemless herbs of the family Solanaceae.

- Understanding “mandragora” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “mandragora” during the group presentation.

---

manila maguey (noun)

Hard fiber used in making coarse twine; from Philippine agave plants.

- He looked up “manila maguey” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “manila maguey” during the group presentation.

---

mantilla (noun)

A woman’s silk or lace scarf.

- He looked up “mantilla” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “mantilla.”

---

martes americana (noun)

Valued for its fur.

- They discussed “martes americana” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “martes americana” to mean valued for its fur.

---

masseuses (noun)

A female massager.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "masseuses."
- He looked up "masseuses" because he had never seen it before.

---

meitner (noun)

Swedish physicist (born in Austria) who worked in the field of radiochemistry with Otto Hahn and formulated the concept of nuclear fission with Otto Frisch (1878-1968).

- In class, the teacher used "meitner" to mean swedish physicist (born in austria) who worked in....
- The article explained what "meitner" means with a simple example.

---

melena (noun)

Abnormally dark tarry feces containing blood (usually from gastrointestinal bleeding).

- Understanding "melena" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "melena."

---

metes (noun)

A line that indicates a boundary.

- Understanding "metes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "metes" during the group presentation.

---

mignonette (noun)

Mediterranean woody annual widely cultivated for its dense terminal spikelike clusters greenish or yellowish white flowers having an intense spicy fragrance.

- Understanding "mignonette" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "mignonette" during the group presentation.

---

mignonette family (noun)

Mainly Mediterranean herbs: mignonette.

- He looked up "mignonette family" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "mignonette family" during the group presentation.

---

mikhail ivanovich kalinin (noun)

Soviet statesman and head of state of the USSR (1875-1946).

- In class, the teacher used "mikhail ivanovich kalinin" to mean soviet statesman and head of state of the ussr....
- They discussed "mikhail ivanovich kalinin" during the group presentation.

---

milage (noun)

Distance measured in miles.

- They discussed "milage" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "milage" to mean distance measured in miles.

---

minato ohashi bridge (noun)

Cantilever bridge at Osaka, Japan.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "minato ohashi bridge."
- They discussed "minato ohashi bridge" during the group presentation.

---

monopolists (noun)

Someone who monopolizes the means of producing or selling something.

- They discussed "monopolists" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "monopolists" to mean someone who monopolizes the means of producing or....

---

morganite (noun)

A kind of pink beryl used as a gemstone.

- In class, the teacher used "morganite" to mean a kind of pink beryl used as a gemstone.
- The article explained what "morganite" means with a simple example.

---

morus (noun)

Type genus of the Moraceae: mulberries.

- Understanding "morus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "morus."

---

moving-coil galvanometer (noun)

A galvanometer that is operated by the force exerted by an electric current flowing in a movable coil suspended in a magnetic field.

- They discussed "moving-coil galvanometer" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "moving-coil galvanometer" because he had never seen it before.

---

myelinated (adjective)

(of neurons) covered with a layer of myelin.

- It is useful to describe something as "myelinated" when it is (of neurons) covered with a layer of myelin.
- A "myelinated" approach may work better in this case.

---

myelinated nerve fiber (noun)

A nerve fiber encased in a sheath of myelin.

- In class, the teacher used "myelinated nerve fiber" to mean a nerve fiber encased in a sheath of myelin.
- The article explained what "myelinated nerve fiber" means with a simple example.

---

nandrolone (noun)

An androgen (trade names Durabolin or Kabolin) that is used to treat testosterone deficiency or breast cancer or osteoporosis.

- He looked up "nandrolone" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "nandrolone" to mean an androgen (trade names durabolin or kabolin) that....

---

nanograms (noun)

One billionth (1/1,000,000,000) gram.

- In class, the teacher used "nanograms" to mean one billionth (1/1,000,000,000) gram.
- The article explained what "nanograms" means with a simple example.

---

nattering (verb)

Talk socially without exchanging too much information.

- Learners should practice how to use "nattering" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "nattering" and when to wait.

---

navvies (noun)

A laborer who is obliged to do menial work.

- Understanding "navvies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "navvies" because he had never seen it before.

---

nightspot (noun)

A spot that is open late at night and that provides entertainment (as singers or dancers) as well as dancing and food and drink.

- Understanding "nightspot" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "nightspot" during the group presentation.

---

nightspots (noun)

A spot that is open late at night and that provides entertainment (as singers or dancers) as well as dancing and food and drink.

- The article explained what "nightspots" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nightspots."

---

nimbys (noun)

Someone who objects to siting something in their own neighborhood but does not object to it being sited elsewhere; an acronym for not in my backyard.

- He looked up "nimbys" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nimbys."

---

nontechnical (adjective)

Not characteristic of or skilled in applied arts and sciences.

- Nontechnical aspects of the job.
- Nontechnical training.

nucleases (noun)

General term for enzymes that catalyze the hydrolysis of nucleic acid by cleaving chains of nucleotides into smaller units.

- The article explained what "nucleases" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "nucleases" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

oculi (noun)

The organ of sight.

- In class, the teacher used "oculi" to mean the organ of sight.
- Understanding "oculi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

oleaginous (adjective)

Containing an unusual amount of grease or oil.

- Oleaginous seeds.
- Oleaginous hypocrisy.

olympiads (noun)

The modern revival of the ancient games held once every 4 years in a selected country.

- In class, the teacher used "olympiads" to mean the modern revival of the ancient games held once....
- They discussed "olympiads" during the group presentation.

omiya (noun)

A city of east central Honshu; a suburb of Tokyo.

- The article explained what "omiya" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "omiya" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

onslaughts (noun)

The rapid and continuous delivery of linguistic communication (spoken or written).

- He looked up "onslaughts" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "onslaughts" during the group presentation.

organon (noun)

A system of principles for philosophic or scientific investigations; an instrument for acquiring knowledge.

- In class, the teacher used "organon" to mean a system of principles for philosophic or....
- The article explained what "organon" means with a simple example.

orison (noun)

Reverent petition to a deity.

- In class, the teacher used "orison" to mean reverent petition to a deity.
- The article explained what "orison" means with a simple example.

outgrows (verb)

Grow too large or too mature for.

- Learners should practice how to use "outgrows" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "outgrows" when talking about this idea.

outlanders (noun)

A person who comes from a foreign country; someone who does not owe allegiance to your country.

- The article explained what "outlanders" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "outlanders" to mean a person who comes from a foreign country; someone....

overemphasize (verb)

Place special or excessive emphasis on.

- I cannot overemphasize the importance of this book.
- Learners should practice how to use "overemphasize" in real sentences.

oxidizers (noun)

A substance that oxidizes another substance.

- The article explained what "oxidizers" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "oxidizers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pablum (noun)

A soft form of cereal for infants.

- They discussed "pablum" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "pablum" because he had never seen it before.

---

pandoras (noun)

(Greek mythology) the first woman; created by Hephaestus on orders from Zeus who presented her to Epimetheus along with a box filled with evils.

- He looked up "pandoras" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "pandoras" during the group presentation.

---

panhandler (noun)

A beggar who approaches strangers asking for money.

- The article explained what "panhandler" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "panhandler" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

papaw (noun)

Fruit with yellow flesh; related to custard apples.

- The article explained what "papaw" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "papaw."

---

papaw tree (noun)

Small tree native to the eastern United States having oblong leaves and fleshy fruit.

- They discussed "papaw tree" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "papaw tree" because he had never seen it before.

---

pasang (noun)

Large African antelope with long straight nearly upright horns.

- He looked up "pasang" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pasang" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

patency (noun)

The property of being easy to see and understand.

- In class, the teacher used "patency" to mean the property of being easy to see and understand.
- The article explained what "patency" means with a simple example.

---

patrollers (noun)

Someone on patrol duty; an individual or a member of a group that patrols an area.

- He looked up "patrollers" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "patrollers" during the group presentation.

---

pectorals (noun)

An adornment worn on the chest or breast.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pectorals."
- He looked up "pectorals" because he had never seen it before.

---

personalty (noun)

Movable property (as distinguished from real estate).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "personalty."
- He looked up "personalty" because he had never seen it before.

---

perspicacity (noun)

The capacity to assess situations or circumstances shrewdly and to draw sound conclusions.

- In class, the teacher used "perspicacity" to mean the capacity to assess situations or circumstances....

- The article explained what "perspicacity" means with a simple example.

---

peter carl goldmark (noun)

United States inventor (born in Hungary) who made the first TV broadcast in 1940 and invented the long-playing record in 1948 and pioneered videocassette recording (1906-1977).

- The article explained what "peter carl goldmark" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "peter carl goldmark" during the group presentation.

---

peter goldmark (noun)

United States inventor (born in Hungary) who made the first TV broadcast in 1940 and invented the long-playing record in 1948 and pioneered videocassette recording (1906-1977).

- The article explained what "peter goldmark" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "peter goldmark" during the group presentation.

---

piastres (noun)

A fractional monetary unit in Egypt and Lebanon and Sudan and Syria.

- They discussed "piastres" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "piastres" means with a simple example.

---

pickier (adjective)

Exacting especially about details.

- A "pickier" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "pickier" when it is exacting especially about details.

---

pinnately (adverb)

Having a pinnate shape.

- A pinnately compound leaf.
- She spoke "pinnately," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

pinole (noun)

Meal made of finely ground corn mixed with sugar and spices.

- They discussed "pinole" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "pinole" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pipping (verb)

Hit with a missile from a weapon.

- In everyday English, people use "pipping" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "pipping" in real sentences.

---

platypuses (noun)

Small densely furred aquatic monotreme of Australia and Tasmania having a broad bill and tail and webbed feet; only species in the family Ornithorhynchidae.

- He looked up "platypuses" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "platypuses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pleader (noun)

A lawyer who pleads cases in court.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pleader."
- He looked up "pleader" because he had never seen it before.

---

plumeria (noun)

Deciduous shrubs and trees of tropical America having branches like candelabra and fragrant white or pink flowers.

- They discussed "plumeria" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "plumeria" to mean deciduous shrubs and trees of tropical america....

---

plunders (verb)

Take illegally; of intellectual property.

- Can you use "plunders" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "plunders" when talking about this idea.

---

poltergeists (noun)

A ghost that announces its presence with rapping and the creation of disorder.

- The article explained what "poltergeists" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "poltergeists."

polymerisation (noun)

A chemical process that combines several monomers to form a polymer or polymeric compound.

- They discussed "polymerisation" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "polymerisation" means with a simple example.

polyploidy (noun)

The condition of being polyploid.

- They discussed "polyploidy" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polyploidy."

polyurethanes (noun)

Any of various polymers containing the urethane radical; a wide variety of synthetic forms are made and used as adhesives or plastics or paints or rubber.

- They discussed "polyurethanes" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "polyurethanes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

positivists (noun)

Someone who emphasizes observable facts and excludes metaphysical speculation about origins or ultimate causes.

- The article explained what "positivists" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "positivists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

precentor (noun)

The musical director of a choir.

- In class, the teacher used "precentor" to mean the musical director of a choir.
- They discussed "precentor" during the group presentation.

preempts (verb)

Take the place of or have precedence over.

- Live broadcast of the presidential debate preempts the regular news hour.
- The coach explained when to use "preempts" and when to wait.

probated (verb)

Establish the legal validity of (wills and other documents).

- In everyday English, people use "probated" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "probated" in real sentences.

propagandizing (verb)

Spread by propaganda.

- Can you use "propagandizing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "propagandizing" carefully so everyone would understand.

prunus spinosa (noun)

A thorny Eurasian bush with plumlike fruits.

- In class, the teacher used "prunus spinosa" to mean a thorny eurasian bush with plumlike fruits.
- He looked up "prunus spinosa" because he had never seen it before.

pudendal (adjective)

Of or relating to or near the pudendum.

- Pudendal nerve.
- A "pudendal" approach may work better in this case.

pudendal artery (noun)

Arteries supplying the external genital organs of humans.

- He looked up “pudendal artery” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “pudendal artery.”

---

pudendal block (noun)

Regional anesthesia resulting from the use of a local anesthetic to deaden the pudendal nerves in the region of the vulva and labia majora; used to ease discomfort during childbirth.

- Understanding “pudendal block” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “pudendal block” to mean regional anesthesia resulting from the use of a....

---

pudendal vein (noun)

Vein of the pudendum.

- The article explained what “pudendal vein” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “pudendal vein” to mean vein of the pudendum.

---

pule (verb)

Cry weakly or softly.

- Learners should practice how to use “pule” in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use “pule” until he saw an example.

---

pyridoxal (noun)

A B vitamin that is essential for metabolism of amino acids and starch.

- He looked up “pyridoxal” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “pyridoxal.”

---

quietened (verb)

Cause to be quiet or not talk.

- The coach explained when to use “quietened” and when to wait.
- She tried to use “quietened” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

ranunculus repens (noun)

Perennial European herb with long creeping stolons.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “ranunculus repens.”
- They discussed “ranunculus repens” during the group presentation.

---

rarebit (noun)

Cheese melted with ale or beer served over toast.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “rarebit.”
- He looked up “rarebit” because he had never seen it before.

---

ravenously (adverb)

In the manner of someone who is very hungry.

- She spoke “ravenously,” and the audience immediately understood her point.
- The narrator describes the scene “ravenously” in the final chapter.

---

reciter (noun)

Someone who recites from memory.

- In class, the teacher used “reciter” to mean someone who recites from memory.
- Understanding “reciter” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

recurrently (adverb)

In a recurrent manner.

- Using “recurrently” can make your explanation more exact.
- The narrator describes the scene “recurrently” in the final chapter.

---

reefers (noun)

Marijuana leaves rolled into a cigarette for smoking.

- He looked up “reefers” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “reefers.”

reforged (verb)

Cast or model anew.

- Learners should practice how to use "reforged" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "reforged" when talking about this idea.

remanding (verb)

Lock up or confine, in or as in a jail.

- Can you use "remanding" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "remanding" until he saw an example.

remoter (adjective)

Far apart in relevance or relationship or kinship.

- Students compared "remoter" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "remoter" approach may work better in this case.

renovators (noun)

A skilled worker who is employed to restore or refinish buildings or antique furniture.

- The article explained what "renovators" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "renovators."

requite (verb)

Make repayment for or return something.

- He did not know how to use "requite" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "requite" carefully so everyone would understand.

rheims-douay bible (noun)

An English translation of the Vulgate by Roman Catholic scholars.

- They discussed "rheims-douay bible" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "rheims-douay bible" because he had never seen it before.

rickettsia (noun)

Any of a group of very small rod-shaped bacteria that live in biting arthropods (as ticks and mites) and cause disease in vertebrate hosts; they cause typhus and other febrile diseases in human beings.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rickettsia."
- He looked up "rickettsia" because he had never seen it before.

rimsky-korsakov (noun)

Russian composer of operas and orchestral works; often used themes from folk music (1844-1908).

- In class, the teacher used "rimsky-korsakov" to mean russian composer of operas and orchestral works;....
- The article explained what "rimsky-korsakov" means with a simple example.

roser (adjective)

Of something having a dusty purplish pink color.

- The speaker chose "roser" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "roser" approach may work better in this case.

rotarians (noun)

A member of a Rotary Club.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rotarians."
- They discussed "rotarians" during the group presentation.

roundels (noun)

(heraldry) a charge in the shape of a circle.

- In class, the teacher used "roundels" to mean (heraldry) a charge in the shape of a circle.
- The article explained what "roundels" means with a simple example.

rubbished (verb)

Attack strongly.

- The coach explained when to use "rubbished" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "rubbished" in real sentences.

---

rucking (verb)

Become wrinkled or drawn together.

- He did not know how to use "rucking" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "rucking" when talking about this idea.

---

rugose (adjective)

Of leaves; ridged or wrinkled.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "rugose."
- Would you call this situation "rugose"? Explain why.

---

saale glaciation (noun)

The next-to-last Pleistocene glaciation in northern Europe and the deposits laid down at that time.

- They discussed "saale glaciation" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "saale glaciation" because he had never seen it before.

---

saluki (noun)

Old breed of tall swift keen-eyed hunting dogs resembling greyhounds; from Egypt and southwestern Asia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "saluki."
- They discussed "saluki" during the group presentation.

---

santa gertrudis (noun)

Brahman and shorthorn crossbreed of red cattle; hardy in hot regions.

- He looked up "santa gertrudis" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "santa gertrudis" to mean brahman and shorthorn crossbreed of red cattle;....

---

sard (noun)

A deep orange-red variety of chalcedony.

- In class, the teacher used "sard" to mean a deep orange-red variety of chalcedony.
- The article explained what "sard" means with a simple example.

---

sartor (noun)

A person whose occupation is making and altering garments.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sartor."
- The article explained what "sartor" means with a simple example.

---

satchmo (noun)

United States pioneering jazz trumpeter and bandleader (1900-1971).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "satchmo."
- Understanding "satchmo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scrawling (verb)

Write carelessly.

- The coach explained when to use "scrawling" and when to wait.
- Can you use "scrawling" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

scriptorium (noun)

A room in a monastery that is set aside for writing or copying manuscripts.

- They discussed "scriptorium" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "scriptorium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

seaborg (noun)

United States chemist who was one of the discoverers of plutonium (1912-1999).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "seaborg."

- They discussed "seaborg" during the group presentation.

---

seales (verb)

Close with or as if with a seal.

- Can you use "seales" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "seales" when talking about this idea.

---

seigniorage (noun)

Charged by a government for coining bullion.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "seigniorage."
- He looked up "seigniorage" because he had never seen it before.

---

seines (noun)

A large fishnet that hangs vertically, with floats at the top and weights at the bottom.

- They discussed "seines" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "seines" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

seismographs (noun)

A measuring instrument for detecting and measuring the intensity and direction and duration of movements of the ground (as an earthquake).

- They discussed "seismographs" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "seismographs" because he had never seen it before.

---

shivery (adjective)

Cold enough to cause shivers.

- Felt all shivery.
- Shivery weather.

---

shorebird (noun)

Any of numerous wading birds that frequent mostly seashores and estuaries.

- Understanding "shorebird" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "shorebird" during the group presentation.

---

silky tamarin (noun)

Golden South American monkey with long soft hair forming a mane.

- He looked up "silky tamarin" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "silky tamarin" during the group presentation.

---

silts (noun)

Mud or clay or small rocks deposited by a river or lake.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "silts."
- They discussed "silts" during the group presentation.

---

sivas (noun)

The destroyer; one of the three major divinities in the later Hindu pantheon.

- He looked up "sivas" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sivas."

---

skedaddle (verb)

Run away, as if in a panic.

- He did not know how to use "skedaddle" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "skedaddle" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

slighting (adjective)

Tending to diminish or disparage.

- A slighting remark.
- The speaker chose "slighting" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

smallholdings (noun)

A piece of land under 50 acres that is sold or let to someone for cultivation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "smallholdings."
- He looked up "smallholdings" because he had never seen it before.

---

smoothbore (adjective)

Of a firearm; not having rifling or internal spiral grooves inside the barrel.

- Students compared "smoothbore" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "smoothbore."

---

smoulder (noun)

A fire that burns with thick smoke but no flame.

- The smoulder suddenly became a blaze.
- They discussed "smoulder" during the group presentation.

---

snowfields (noun)

A permanent wide expanse of snow.

- In class, the teacher used "snowfields" to mean a permanent wide expanse of snow.
- The article explained what "snowfields" means with a simple example.

---

souse (noun)

The act of making something completely wet.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "souse."
- They discussed "souse" during the group presentation.

---

sousse (noun)

A port city in eastern Tunisia on the Mediterranean.

- Understanding "sousse" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "sousse" because he had never seen it before.

---

spacecrafts (noun)

A craft capable of traveling in outer space; technically, a satellite around the sun.

- The article explained what "spacecrafts" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "spacecrafts."

---

spectaculars (noun)

A lavishly produced performance.

- In class, the teacher used "spectaculars" to mean a lavishly produced performance.
- Understanding "spectaculars" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

spectrogram (noun)

A photographic record of a spectrum.

- The article explained what "spectrogram" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "spectrogram" to mean a photographic record of a spectrum.

---

spoilsport (noun)

Someone who spoils the pleasure of others.

- The article explained what "spoilsport" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "spoilsport" to mean someone who spoils the pleasure of others.

---

staghorn fern (noun)

Any of various tropical ferns of the genus Platycerium having large flat lobed fronds often resembling the antlers of a stag.

- The article explained what "staghorn fern" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "staghorn fern" to mean any of various tropical ferns of the genus....

---

stepbrothers (noun)

A brother who has only one parent in common with you.

- The article explained what "stepbrothers" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stepbrothers."

---

stob (noun)

A short straight stick of wood.

- Understanding "stob" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "stob" to mean a short straight stick of wood.

---

stockades (noun)

A penal camp where political prisoners or prisoners of war are confined (usually under harsh conditions).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stockades."
- Understanding "stockades" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

submerges (verb)

Cover completely or make imperceptible.

- Can you use "submerges" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "submerges" and when to wait.

---

subtended (verb)

Be opposite to; of angles and sides, in geometry.

- The coach explained when to use "subtended" and when to wait.
- Can you use "subtended" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

summerset (noun)

An acrobatic feat in which the feet roll over the head (either forward or backward) and return.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "summerset."
- The article explained what "summerset" means with a simple example.

---

sunbathers (noun)

Someone who basks in the sunshine in order to get a suntan.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sunbathers."
- The article explained what "sunbathers" means with a simple example.

---

swishes (verb)

Move with or cause to move with a whistling or hissing sound.

- Learners should practice how to use "swishes" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "swishes" when talking about this idea.

---

tallboy (noun)

A tall chest of drawers divided into two sections and supported on four legs.

- The article explained what "tallboy" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tallboy" to mean a tall chest of drawers divided into two sections....

---

tereshkova (noun)

Soviet cosmonaut who was the first woman in space (born in 1937).

- He looked up "tereshkova" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "tereshkova" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

teutons (noun)

A member of the ancient Germanic people who migrated from Jutland to southern Gaul and were annihilated by the Romans.

- In class, the teacher used "teutons" to mean a member of the ancient germanic people who....
- The article explained what "teutons" means with a simple example.

---

thatchers (noun)

Someone skilled in making a roof from plant stalks or foliage.

- In class, the teacher used "thatchers" to mean someone skilled in making a roof from plant stalks....
- The article explained what "thatchers" means with a simple example.

thiocyanate (noun)

A salt of thiocyanic acid; formed when alkaline cyanides are fused with sulfur.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thiocyanate."
- The article explained what "thiocyanate" means with a simple example.

thomas bowdler (noun)

English editor who in 1818 published an expurgated edition of the works of Shakespeare (1754-1825).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thomas bowdler."
- He looked up "thomas bowdler" because he had never seen it before.

tiredly (adverb)

In a weary manner.

- He walked around tiredly.
- Using "tiredly" can make your explanation more exact.

tods (noun)

A unit of weight for wool equal to about 28 pounds.

- He looked up "tods" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "tods" to mean a unit of weight for wool equal to about 28 pounds.

topsails (noun)

A sail (or either of a pair of sails) immediately above the lowermost sail of a mast and supported by a topmast.

- The article explained what "topsails" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "topsails" to mean a sail (or either of a pair of sails) immediately....

torpid (adjective)

In a condition of biological rest or suspended animation.

- Torpid frogs.
- A mind grown torpid in old age.

tragi (noun)

A small cartilaginous flap in front of the external opening of the ear.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tragi."
- He looked up "tragi" because he had never seen it before.

trendier (adjective)

In accord with the latest fad.

- The speaker chose "trendier" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "trendier" when it is in accord with the latest fad.

tricot (noun)

A knitted fabric or one resembling knitting.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tricot."
- Understanding "tricot" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

trollop (noun)

A dirty untidy woman.

- In class, the teacher used "trollop" to mean a dirty untidy woman.
- Understanding "trollop" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

twined (verb)

Make by twisting together or intertwining.

- Intertwined hearts.
- In everyday English, people use "twined" when talking about this idea.

undulation (noun)

(physics) a movement up and down or back and forth.

- They discussed "undulation" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "undulation" because he had never seen it before.

---

unplaced (adjective)

Not one of the first three in a race or competition.

- Students compared "unplaced" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "unplaced"? Explain why.

---

unpredicted (adjective)

Without warning or announcement; ; - M.A.D.Howe.

- A "unpredicted" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "unpredicted" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

urbanizing (verb)

Impart urban habits, ways of life, or responsibilities upon.

- Can you use "urbanizing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "urbanizing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

uteri (noun)

A hollow muscular organ in the pelvic cavity of females; contains the developing fetus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "uteri."
- He looked up "uteri" because he had never seen it before.

---

uteruses (noun)

A hollow muscular organ in the pelvic cavity of females; contains the developing fetus.

- Understanding "uteruses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "uteruses."

---

vanderbilts (noun)

United States financier who accumulated great wealth from railroad and shipping businesses (1794-1877).

- In class, the teacher used "vanderbilts" to mean united states financier who accumulated great....
- He looked up "vanderbilts" because he had never seen it before.

---

vascularized (verb)

Become vascular and have vessels that circulate fluids.

- The egg yolk vascularized.
- The yolk sac is gradually vascularized.

---

virtuosi (noun)

A musician who is a consummate master of technique and artistry.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "virtuosi."
- Understanding "virtuosi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

visual agnosia (noun)

Inability to recognize or interpret objects in the visual field.

- Understanding "visual agnosia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "visual agnosia" to mean inability to recognize or interpret objects in the....

---

vitelli (noun)

Nutritive material of an ovum stored for the nutrition of an embryo (especially the yellow mass of a bird or reptile egg).

- They discussed "vitelli" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "vitelli" because he had never seen it before.

---

vituperative (adjective)

Marked by harshly abusive criticism.

- Her vituperative railing.

- It is useful to describe something as "vituperative" when it is marked by harshly abusive criticism.

---

von willebrand (noun)

Finnish physician who first described vascular hemophilia (1870-1949).

- The article explained what "von willebrand" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "von willebrand" to mean finnish physician who first described vascular....

---

vouchsafe (verb)

Grant in a condescending manner.

- The coach explained when to use "vouchsafe" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "vouchsafe" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

warbles (verb)

Sing by changing register; sing by yodeling.

- She tried to use "warbles" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "warbles" until he saw an example.

---

waterbirds (noun)

Freshwater aquatic bird.

- They discussed "waterbirds" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "waterbirds."

---

weans (verb)

Gradually deprive (infants and young mammals) of mother's milk.

- She tried to use "weans" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "weans" until he saw an example.

---

weka (noun)

Flightless New Zealand rail of thievish disposition having short wings each with a spur used in fighting.

- He looked up "weka" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "weka" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

welsh rarebit (noun)

Cheese melted with ale or beer served over toast.

- He looked up "welsh rarebit" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "welsh rarebit" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

wigeon (noun)

Freshwater duck of Eurasia and northern Africa related to mallards and teals.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wigeon."
- They discussed "wigeon" during the group presentation.

---

willebrand (noun)

Finnish physician who first described vascular hemophilia (1870-1949).

- He looked up "willebrand" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "willebrand."

---

wood hoopoe (noun)

Tropical African bird having metallic blackish plumage but no crest.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wood hoopoe."
- He looked up "wood hoopoe" because he had never seen it before.

---

yersinia pestis (noun)

A bacillus bacterium that causes the plague; aerosolized bacteria can be used as a bioweapon.

- He looked up "yersinia pestis" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "yersinia pestis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

yoghurts (noun)

A custard-like food made from curdled milk.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "yoghurts."
- Understanding "yoghurts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

zanzibar copal (noun)

A hard copal derived from an African tree.

- Understanding "zanzibar copal" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "zanzibar copal" because he had never seen it before.

---

zonal pelargonium (noun)

An upright geranium having scalloped leaves with a broad color zone inside the margin and white or pink or red flowers.

- The article explained what "zonal pelargonium" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "zonal pelargonium."

---

abstemious (adjective)

Sparing in consumption of especially food and drink; - John Galsworthy.

- The pleasures of the table, never of much consequence to one naturally abstemious.
- Students compared "abstemious" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

acclimatised (verb)

Get used to a certain climate.

- In everyday English, people use "acclimatised" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "acclimatised" in real sentences.

---

acreages (noun)

An area of ground used for some particular purpose (such as building or farming).

- They discussed "acreages" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "acreages" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

adonis annua (noun)

Eurasian herb cultivated for its deep red flowers with dark centers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "adonis annua."
- Understanding "adonis annua" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

affiant (noun)

A person who makes an affidavit.

- The article explained what "affiant" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "affiant" to mean a person who makes an affidavit.

---

albrecht eusebius wenzel von wallenstein (noun)

Austrian general who fought for the Hapsburgs during the Thirty Years' War (1583-1634).

- He looked up "albrecht eusebius wenzel von wallenstein" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "albrecht eusebius wenzel von wallenstein" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

aliquots (noun)

An integer that is an exact divisor of some quantity.

- In class, the teacher used "aliquots" to mean an integer that is an exact divisor of some quantity.
- He looked up "aliquots" because he had never seen it before.

---

altruist (noun)

Someone who makes charitable donations intended to increase human well-being.

- In class, the teacher used "altruist" to mean someone who makes charitable donations intended to....
- They discussed "altruist" during the group presentation.

---

alveolar rhabdomyosarcoma (noun)

Form of rhabdomyosarcoma occurring mainly in adolescents and young adults.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "alveolar rhabdomyosarcoma."
- He looked up "alveolar rhabdomyosarcoma" because he had never seen it before.

---

amerigo vespucci (noun)

Florentine navigator who explored the coast of South America; America was named in his honor (1454-1512).

- In class, the teacher used "amerigo vespucci" to mean florentine navigator who explored the coast of....
- They discussed "amerigo vespucci" during the group presentation.

---

ammonium carbamate (noun)

A salt of carbamic acid that is used as a nitrogen fertilizer.

- The article explained what "ammonium carbamate" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ammonium carbamate."

---

ancestries (noun)

The descendants of one individual.

- They discussed "ancestries" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ancestries" to mean the descendants of one individual.

---

angulation (noun)

The act of making angulate (having corners).

- In class, the teacher used "angulation" to mean the act of making angulate (having corners).
- The article explained what "angulation" means with a simple example.

---

antinomian (noun)

A follower of the doctrine of antinomianism.

- Understanding "antinomian" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "antinomian" to mean a follower of the doctrine of antinomianism.

---

apocrine (adjective)

(of exocrine glands) producing a secretion in which part of the secreting cell is released with the secretion.

- Mother's milk is one apocrine secretion.
- The speaker chose "apocrine" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

appends (verb)

State or say further.

- In everyday English, people use "appends" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "appends" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

archiepiscopal (adjective)

Of or associated with an archbishop.

- An archiepiscopal see.
- The speaker chose "archiepiscopal" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

armadas (noun)

A large fleet.

- The article explained what "armadas" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "armadas" to mean a large fleet.

---

armoring (verb)

Equip with armor.

- He did not know how to use "armoring" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "armoring" in real sentences.

---

arnolds (noun)

English poet and literary critic (1822-1888).

- They discussed "arnolds" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "arnolds" means with a simple example.

asat (adjective)

Of or relating to a system to destroy satellites in orbit.

- A "asat" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "asat" because it captured the feeling precisely.

ascription (noun)

Assigning some quality or character to a person or thing.

- The ascription to me of honors I had not earned.
- He looked up "ascription" because he had never seen it before.

aspherical (adjective)

Varying slightly from a perfectly spherical shape.

- Would you call this situation "aspherical"? Explain why.
- A "aspherical" approach may work better in this case.

assassinates (verb)

Murder; especially of socially prominent persons.

- She tried to use "assassinates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "assassinates" when talking about this idea.

assaying (verb)

Make an effort or attempt.

- He did not know how to use "assaying" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "assaying" in real sentences.

astuteness (noun)

The intellectual ability to penetrate deeply into ideas.

- They discussed "astuteness" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "astuteness" to mean the intellectual ability to penetrate deeply into ideas.

atharva-veda (noun)

A collection of mantras and formulas.

- He looked up "atharva-veda" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "atharva-veda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

australian lungfish (noun)

An endangered species of lungfish found in rivers in Queensland.

- He looked up "australian lungfish" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "australian lungfish" to mean an endangered species of lungfish found in rivers....

axilla (noun)

The hollow under the arm where it is joined to the shoulder.

- They discussed "axilla" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "axilla" means with a simple example.

babka (noun)

A coffee cake flavored with orange rind and raisins and almonds.

- They discussed "babka" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "babka" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

backhands (noun)

A return made with the back of the hand facing the direction of the stroke.

- The article explained what "backhands" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "backhands."

balladeer (noun)

A singer of popular ballads.

- In class, the teacher used "balladeer" to mean a singer of popular ballads.
- The article explained what "balladeer" means with a simple example.

---

bardeen (noun)

United States physicist who won the Nobel prize for physics twice (1908-1991).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bardeen."
- Understanding "bardeen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

battle of crecy (noun)

The first decisive battle of the Hundred Years' War; in 1346 the English under Edward III defeated the French under Philip of Valois.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "battle of crecy."
- The article explained what "battle of crecy" means with a simple example.

---

bayoneted (verb)

Stab or kill someone with a bayonet.

- Can you use "bayoneted" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "bayoneted" and when to wait.

---

beefier (adjective)

Muscular and heavily built.

- Would you call this situation "beefier"? Explain why.
- A "beefier" approach may work better in this case.

---

bewilder (verb)

Be a mystery or bewildering to.

- Learners should practice how to use "bewilder" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "bewilder" when talking about this idea.

---

bickered (verb)

Argue over petty things.

- In everyday English, people use "bickered" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "bickered" until he saw an example.

---

bilked (verb)

Hinder or prevent (the efforts, plans, or desires) of.

- He bilked his creditors.
- Can you use "bilked" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

birdbath (noun)

An ornamental basin (usually in a garden) for birds to bathe in.

- He looked up "birdbath" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "birdbath" to mean an ornamental basin (usually in a garden) for birds....

---

blabbed (verb)

Divulge confidential information or secrets.

- The coach explained when to use "blabbed" and when to wait.
- Can you use "blabbed" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

bluecoat (noun)

A person dressed all in blue (as a soldier or sailor).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bluecoat."
- The article explained what "bluecoat" means with a simple example.

---

bonked (verb)

Have sexual intercourse with.

- In everyday English, people use "bonked" when talking about this idea.

- Can you use "bonked" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

brainwashes (verb)

Persuade completely, often through coercion.

- He did not know how to use "brainwashes" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "brainwashes" when talking about this idea.

---

brigit nilsson (noun)

Swedish operatic soprano who played Wagnerian roles (born in 1918).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brigit nilsson."
- The article explained what "brigit nilsson" means with a simple example.

---

brisker (adjective)

Imparting vitality and energy.

- Students compared "brisker" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "brisker"? Explain why.

---

bronchospasm (noun)

A spasm of the bronchi that makes exhalation difficult and noisy; associated with asthma and bronchitis.

- They discussed "bronchospasm" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "bronchospasm" means with a simple example.

---

brucella (noun)

An aerobic Gram-negative coccobacillus that causes brucellosis; can be used as a bioweapon.

- Understanding "brucella" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "brucella" during the group presentation.

---

bruit (verb)

Tell or spread rumors.

- The coach explained when to use "bruit" and when to wait.
- Can you use "bruit" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

bryozoans (noun)

Sessile aquatic animal forming mossy colonies of small polyps each having a curved or circular ridge bearing tentacles; attach to stones or seaweed and reproduce by budding.

- The article explained what "bryozoans" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "bryozoans" to mean sessile aquatic animal forming mossy colonies of....

---

buckaroos (noun)

Local names for a cowboy ('vaquero' is used especially in southwestern and central Texas and 'buckaroo' is used especially in California).

- The article explained what "buckaroos" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "buckaroos" to mean local names for a cowboy ('vaquero' is used....

---

buckram (noun)

A coarse cotton fabric stiffened with glue; used in bookbinding and to stiffen clothing.

- The article explained what "buckram" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "buckram" to mean a coarse cotton fabric stiffened with glue; used in....

---

bufo marinus (noun)

Largest known toad species; native to Central America; valuable destroyer of insect pests.

- The article explained what "bufo marinus" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bufo marinus."

---

burgeoned (verb)

Grow and flourish.

- Can you use "burgeoned" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "burgeoned" and when to wait.

---

cambered (verb)

Curve upward in the middle.

- In everyday English, people use "cambered" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "cambered" in real sentences.

---

canid (noun)

Any of various fissiped mammals with nonretractile claws and typically long muzzles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "canid."
- Understanding "canid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

caramelize (verb)

Be converted into caramel.

- The sugar caramelized.
- In everyday English, people use "caramelize" when talking about this idea.

---

catechumens (noun)

A new convert being taught the principles of Christianity by a catechist.

- He looked up "catechumens" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "catechumens."

---

caucasoid (adjective)

Of or relating to Caucasian people.

- Students compared "caucasoid" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "caucasoid."

---

caucasoid race (noun)

A light-skinned race.

- The article explained what "caucasoid race" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "caucasoid race" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cavalierly (adverb)

In a proud and domineering manner.

- He treated his staff cavalierly.
- He answered "cavalierly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

cawing (verb)

Utter a cry, characteristic of crows, rooks, or ravens.

- In everyday English, people use "cawing" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "cawing" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

chalcopyrite (noun)

A yellow copper ore (CuFeS2) made up of copper and iron sulfide.

- The article explained what "chalcopyrite" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chalcopyrite."

---

chippendales (noun)

A British cabinetmaker remembered for his graceful designs (especially of chairs) which influenced his contemporaries (1718-1779).

- He looked up "chippendales" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "chippendales" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

chondrite (noun)

A rock of meteoric origin containing chondrules.

- In class, the teacher used "chondrite" to mean a rock of meteoric origin containing chondrules.
- Understanding "chondrite" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

christophers (noun)

Christian martyr and patron saint of travellers (3rd century).

- Understanding "christophers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "christophers" to mean christian martyr and patron saint of travellers....

---

citrus whitefly (noun)

Whitefly that attacks citrus trees.

- Understanding "citrus whitefly" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "citrus whitefly" because he had never seen it before.

---

clairvoyants (noun)

Someone who has the power of clairvoyance.

- The article explained what "clairvoyants" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "clairvoyants" to mean someone who has the power of clairvoyance.

---

coagulates (verb)

Change from a liquid to a thickened or solid state.

- She tried to use "coagulates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "coagulates" and when to wait.

---

codling (noun)

Young codfish.

- He looked up "codling" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "codling" during the group presentation.

---

collimator (noun)

A small telescope attached to a large telescope to use in setting the line of the larger one.

- He looked up "collimator" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "collimator."

---

comfier (adjective)

Providing or experiencing physical well-being or relief ('comfy' is informal).

- The speaker chose "comfier" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "comfier" when it is providing or experiencing physical well-being or....

---

commentates (verb)

Serve as a commentator, as in sportscasting.

- She tried to use "commentates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "commentates" and when to wait.

---

comportment (noun)

Dignified manner or conduct.

- Understanding "comportment" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "comportment" means with a simple example.

---

coning (verb)

Commit to memory; learn by heart.

- She tried to use "coning" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "coning" when talking about this idea.

---

conodonts (noun)

The tiny fossil cone-shaped tooth of a primitive vertebrate of order Conodonta.

- They discussed "conodonts" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "conodonts" to mean the tiny fossil cone-shaped tooth of a primitive....

---

convergences (noun)

A representation of common ground between theories or phenomena.

- He looked up "convergences" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "convergences" to mean a representation of common ground between theories....

coronations (noun)

The ceremony of installing a new monarch.

- They discussed "coronations" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coronations."

corvus corax (noun)

Large black bird with a straight bill and long wedge-shaped tail.

- They discussed "corvus corax" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "corvus corax" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cottoned (verb)

Take a liking to.

- Learners should practice how to use "cottoned" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "cottoned" when talking about this idea.

cottony (adjective)

Resembling cotton; as soft as cotton.

- Students compared "cottony" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "cottony"? Explain why.

cottony-white (adjective)

Of something as white as cotton.

- Cottony-white clouds.
- It is useful to describe something as "cottony-white" when it is of something as white as cotton.

countersigned (verb)

Add one's signature to after another's to attest authenticity.

- The coach explained when to use "countersigned" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "countersigned" in real sentences.

counterterrorist (noun)

Someone who attempts to prevent terrorism.

- He looked up "counterterrorist" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "counterterrorist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

counterterrorist center (noun)

An agency that helps the Director of Central Intelligence coordinate counterterrorist efforts in order to preempt and disrupt and defeat terrorist activities at the earliest possible stage.

- They discussed "counterterrorist center" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "counterterrorist center" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

crecy (noun)

The first decisive battle of the Hundred Years' War; in 1346 the English under Edward III defeated the French under Philip of Valois.

- In class, the teacher used "crecy" to mean the first decisive battle of the hundred years'....
- The article explained what "crecy" means with a simple example.

cretinous (adjective)

Afflicted with cretinism.

- Students compared "cretinous" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "cretinous."

cromwellian (adjective)

Of or relating to or in the manner of Oliver Cromwell.

- A "cromwellian" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "cromwellian" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

croquette (noun)

Minced cooked meats (or vegetables) in thick white sauce; breaded and deep-fried.

- He looked up "croquette" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "croquette."

---

cutlasses (noun)

A short heavy curved sword with one edge; formerly used by sailors.

- They discussed "cutlasses" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "cutlasses" to mean a short heavy curved sword with one edge; formerly....

---

cycladic civilization (noun)

The Bronze Age civilization on the Cyclades islands in the southern Aegean Sea that flourished 3000-1100 BC.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cycladic civilization."
- Understanding "cycladic civilization" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cycladic culture (noun)

The Bronze Age civilization on the Cyclades islands in the southern Aegean Sea that flourished 3000-1100 BC.

- In class, the teacher used "cycladic culture" to mean the bronze age civilization on the cyclades islands....
- He looked up "cycladic culture" because he had never seen it before.

---

dacite (noun)

A grey volcanic rock containing plagioclase and quartz and other crystalline minerals.

- In class, the teacher used "dacite" to mean a grey volcanic rock containing plagioclase and....
- They discussed "dacite" during the group presentation.

---

dirtiness (noun)

The state of containing dirty impurities.

- The article explained what "dirtiness" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "dirtiness" to mean the state of containing dirty impurities.

---

dirtying (noun)

The act of soiling something.

- He looked up "dirtying" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "dirtying" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

disbeliever (noun)

Someone who refuses to believe (as in a divinity).

- Understanding "disbeliever" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "disbeliever."

---

dishonors (noun)

A state of shame or disgrace.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dishonors."
- He looked up "dishonors" because he had never seen it before.

---

disputations (noun)

A contentious speech act; a dispute where there is strong disagreement.

- They discussed "disputations" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "disputations."

---

distributer (noun)

Electrical device that distributes voltage to the spark plugs of a gasoline engine in the order of the firing sequence.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "distributer."
- Understanding "distributer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dnas (noun)

(biochemistry) a long linear polymer found in the nucleus of a cell and formed from nucleotides and shaped like a double helix; associated with the transmission of genetic information.

- Understanding "dnas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- They discussed "dnas" during the group presentation.

---

docosahexaenoic acid (noun)

An omega-3 fatty acid with 22 carbon atoms; found in fish (especially tuna and bluefish).

- He looked up "docosahexaenoic acid" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "docosahexaenoic acid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

douay-rheims version (noun)

An English translation of the Vulgate by Roman Catholic scholars.

- They discussed "douay-rheims version" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "douay-rheims version" means with a simple example.

---

dugongs (noun)

Sirenian tusked mammal found from eastern Africa to Australia; the flat tail is bilobate.

- The article explained what "dugongs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "dugongs" to mean sirenian tusked mammal found from eastern africa to....

---

dyspeptic (noun)

A person suffering from indigestion.

- The article explained what "dyspeptic" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "dyspeptic" to mean a person suffering from indigestion.

---

eleuthera bark (noun)

Aromatic bark of cascarilla; used as a tonic and for making incense.

- The article explained what "eleuthera bark" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "eleuthera bark."

---

emancipating (verb)

Give equal rights to; of women and minorities.

- The coach explained when to use "emancipating" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "emancipating" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

encyclopaedias (noun)

A reference work (often in several volumes) containing articles on various topics (often arranged in alphabetical order) dealing with the entire range of human knowledge or with some particular specialty.

- In class, the teacher used "encyclopaedias" to mean a reference work (often in several volumes)....
- The article explained what "encyclopaedias" means with a simple example.

---

ennobling (adjective)

Investing with dignity or honor.

- The ennobling influence of cultural surroundings.
- Ennobling thoughts.

---

enthrall (verb)

Hold spellbound.

- Learners should practice how to use "enthrall" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "enthrall" until he saw an example.

---

epidemic myalgia (noun)

An acute infectious disease occurring in epidemic form and featuring paroxysms of pain (usually in the chest).

- Understanding "epidemic myalgia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "epidemic myalgia" because he had never seen it before.

---

ethnologists (noun)

An anthropologist who studies ethnology.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ethnologists."
- He looked up "ethnologists" because he had never seen it before.

examinee (noun)

Someone who is tested (as by an intelligence test or an academic examination).

- He looked up "examinee" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "examinee" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

exocet (noun)

A guided missile developed by the French government for use against ships.

- In class, the teacher used "exocet" to mean a guided missile developed by the french government....
- They discussed "exocet" during the group presentation.

expressible (adjective)

Capable of being expressed.

- An expressible emotion.
- Would you call this situation "expressible"? Explain why.

facia (noun)

A sheet or band of fibrous connective tissue separating or binding together muscles and organs etc.

- Understanding "facia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "facia" to mean a sheet or band of fibrous connective tissue....

femaleness (noun)

The properties characteristic of the female sex.

- The article explained what "femaleness" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "femaleness" to mean the properties characteristic of the female sex.

fenestra of the vestibule (noun)

Fenestra that has the base of the stapes attached to it.

- They discussed "fenestra of the vestibule" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "fenestra of the vestibule" means with a simple example.

ferdinand joseph la menthe morton (noun)

United States jazz musician who moved from ragtime to New Orleans jazz (1885-1941).

- They discussed "ferdinand joseph la menthe morton" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ferdinand joseph la menthe morton" to mean united states jazz musician who moved from ragtime....

filiation (noun)

The kinship relation between an individual and the individual's progenitors.

- They discussed "filiation" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "filiation."

fitzgeralds (noun)

United States author whose novels characterized the Jazz Age in the United States (1896-1940).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fitzgeralds."
- He looked up "fitzgeralds" because he had never seen it before.

flimsiest (adjective)

Lacking substance or significance; ; ; ; a fragile claim to fame".

- Students compared "flimsiest" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "flimsiest" approach may work better in this case.

flotillas (noun)

A United States Navy fleet consisting of two or more squadrons of small warships.

- He looked up "flotillas" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "flotillas."

formica fusca (noun)

An ant frequently enslaved.

- The article explained what "formica fusca" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "formica fusca" to mean an ant frequently enslaved.

---

fossilization (noun)

The process of fossilizing a plant or animal that existed in some earlier age; the process of being turned to stone.

- In class, the teacher used "fossilization" to mean the process of fossilizing a plant or animal that....
- He looked up "fossilization" because he had never seen it before.

---

furled (adjective)

Rolled up and secured.

- Furled sails bound securely to the spar.
- A furled flag.

---

gantries (noun)

A framework of steel bars raised on side supports to bridge over or around something; can display railway signals above several tracks or can support a traveling crane etc.

- The article explained what "gantries" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gantries" to mean a framework of steel bars raised on side supports....

---

gargles (verb)

Rinse one's mouth and throat with mouthwash.

- In everyday English, people use "gargles" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "gargles" in real sentences.

---

gavotte (noun)

An old formal French dance in quadruple time.

- In class, the teacher used "gavotte" to mean an old formal french dance in quadruple time.
- He looked up "gavotte" because he had never seen it before.

---

geishas (noun)

A Japanese woman trained to entertain men with conversation and singing and dancing.

- Understanding "geishas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "geishas" to mean a japanese woman trained to entertain men with....

---

genevan (noun)

An adherent of the theological doctrines of John Calvin.

- Understanding "genevan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "genevan" to mean an adherent of the theological doctrines of john calvin.

---

genus hosta (noun)

Robust east Asian clump-forming perennial herbs having racemose flowers: plantain lilies; sometimes placed in family Hostaceae.

- They discussed "genus hosta" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "genus hosta" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus juglans (noun)

Type genus of the Juglandaceae.

- Understanding "genus juglans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "genus juglans" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus philodendron (noun)

Any of several tropical American climbing plants with smooth shiny evergreen leaves.

- He looked up "genus philodendron" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus philodendron" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

george dibdin pitt (noun)

A British playwright who created the fictional character Sweeney Todd (1799-1855).

- In class, the teacher used "george dibdin pitt" to mean a british playwright who created the fictional....

- The article explained what "george dibdin pitt" means with a simple example.

---

george dibdin-pitt (noun)

A British playwright who created the fictional character Sweeney Todd (1799-1855).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "george dibdin-pitt."
- The article explained what "george dibdin-pitt" means with a simple example.

---

ghettoes (noun)

Any segregated mode of living or working that results from bias or stereotyping.

- The article explained what "ghettoes" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ghettoes."

---

giddily (adverb)

In a giddy light-headed manner.

- Place "giddily" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- He answered "giddily," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

glower (verb)

Look at with a fixed gaze.

- She tried to use "glower" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "glower" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

gond (noun)

A member of a formerly tribal people in south central India.

- He looked up "gond" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "gond" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

greater scaup (noun)

Large scaup of North America having a greenish iridescence on the head of the male.

- He looked up "greater scaup" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "greater scaup."

---

gunsmiths (noun)

Someone who makes or repairs guns.

- He looked up "gunsmiths" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "gunsmiths" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

halite (noun)

Naturally occurring crystalline sodium chloride.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "halite."
- Understanding "halite" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

harrys (verb)

Annoy continually or chronically.

- He did not know how to use "harrys" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "harrys" when talking about this idea.

---

hawing (verb)

Utter 'haw'.

- She tried to use "hawing" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "hawing" when talking about this idea.

---

hellhounds (noun)

(Greek mythology) the three-headed dog guarding the entrance to Hades; son of Typhon.

- He looked up "hellhounds" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hellhounds."

---

hierarchal (adjective)

Classified according to various criteria into successive levels or layers.

- A "hierarchal" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "hierarchal" when it is classified according to various criteria into....

---

hierarchs (noun)

A person who holds a high position in a hierarchy.

- They discussed "hierarchs" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "hierarchs" to mean a person who holds a high position in a hierarchy.

---

highfalutin (adjective)

Affectedly genteel.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "highfalutin."
- Would you call this situation "highfalutin"? Explain why.

---

holograph (noun)

The intermediate photograph (or photographic record) that contains information for reproducing a three-dimensional image by holography.

- He looked up "holograph" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "holograph" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

honeycombed (adjective)

Pitted with cell-like cavities (as a honeycomb).

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "honeycombed."
- Students compared "honeycombed" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

horner's syndrome (noun)

A pattern of symptoms occurring as a result of damage to nerves in the cervical region of the spine (drooping eyelids and constricted pupils and absence of facial sweating).

- They discussed "horner's syndrome" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "horner's syndrome" because he had never seen it before.

---

hosta (noun)

Robust east Asian clump-forming perennial herbs having racemose flowers: plantain lilies; sometimes placed in family Hostaceae.

- The article explained what "hosta" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "hosta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hundred-and-ninetieth (adjective)

The ordinal number of one hundred eighty-five in counting order.

- A "hundred-and-ninetieth" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "hundred-and-ninetieth" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

huntington's chorea (noun)

Hereditary disease; develops in adulthood and ends in dementia.

- In class, the teacher used "huntington's chorea" to mean hereditary disease; develops in adulthood and ends....
- The article explained what "huntington's chorea" means with a simple example.

---

hydrosphere (noun)

The watery layer of the earth's surface; includes water vapor.

- The article explained what "hydrosphere" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hydrosphere."

---

hypoplastic anemia (noun)

Anemia resulting from inadequately functioning bone marrow; can develop into aplastic anemia.

- The article explained what "hypoplastic anemia" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "hypoplastic anemia" to mean anemia resulting from inadequately functioning bone....

---

hypovolemic (adjective)

Of or relating to a decrease in the volume of circulating blood.

- A "hypovolemic" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "hypovolemic."

---

hypovolemic shock (noun)

Shock caused by severe blood or fluid loss.

- The article explained what "hypovolemic shock" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hypovolemic shock."

---

icecap (noun)

A mass of ice and snow that permanently covers a large area of land (e.g., the polar regions or a mountain peak).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "icecap."
- He looked up "icecap" because he had never seen it before.

---

ignoramuses (noun)

An ignorant person.

- The article explained what "ignoramuses" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ignoramuses."

---

ilion (noun)

An ancient city in Asia Minor that was the site of the Trojan War.

- They discussed "ilion" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ilion."

---

illegalities (noun)

Unlawfulness by virtue of violating some legal statute.

- In class, the teacher used "illegalities" to mean unlawfulness by virtue of violating some legal statute.
- He looked up "illegalities" because he had never seen it before.

---

immunologically (adverb)

From the point of view of immunology.

- Try rewriting the sentence and include "immunologically" naturally.
- She spoke "immunologically," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

inactivates (verb)

Release from military service or remove from the active list of military service.

- In everyday English, people use "inactivates" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "inactivates" in real sentences.

---

inaugurations (noun)

The ceremonial induction into a position.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "inaugurations."
- The article explained what "inaugurations" means with a simple example.

---

industriousness (noun)

Persevering determination to perform a task.

- He looked up "industriousness" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "industriousness" during the group presentation.

---

infliximab (noun)

A monoclonal antibody (trade name Remicade) used to treat Crohn's disease and rheumatoid arthritis; administered by infusion; use and dosage must be determined by a physician.

- The article explained what "infliximab" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "infliximab" to mean a monoclonal antibody (trade name remicade) used to....

---

innovativeness (noun)

Originality by virtue of introducing new ideas.

- Understanding "innovativeness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "innovativeness" during the group presentation.

instrumentalities (noun)

A subsidiary organ of government created for a special purpose.

- Are the judicial instrumentalities of local governments adequate?
- He studied the French instrumentalities for law enforcement.

intercessions (noun)

The act of intervening (as to mediate a dispute, etc.).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "intercessions."
- The article explained what "intercessions" means with a simple example.

intradermal (adjective)

Relating to areas between the layers of the skin.

- An intradermal injection.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "intradermal."

intradermal injection (noun)

An injection into the skin.

- In class, the teacher used "intradermal injection" to mean an injection into the skin.
- The article explained what "intradermal injection" means with a simple example.

intradermal test (noun)

A form of skin test in which the suspected allergen is injected into the skin.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "intradermal test."
- Understanding "intradermal test" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

iris virginica (noun)

Similar to blue flag; the eastern United States.

- They discussed "iris virginica" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "iris virginica" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

isoflurane (noun)

A widely used inhalation anesthetic.

- In class, the teacher used "isoflurane" to mean a widely used inhalation anesthetic.
- Understanding "isoflurane" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

izanagi (noun)

The god who fathered the islands and gods of Japan with his sister Izanami.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "izanagi."
- They discussed "izanagi" during the group presentation.

james mckeen cattell (noun)

American psychologist and editor (1860-1944).

- Understanding "james mckeen cattell" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "james mckeen cattell" because he had never seen it before.

jarringly (adverb)

In a manner that jars and irritates.

- The piano was jarringly out of tune.
- He answered "jarringly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

jazzman (noun)

A musician who plays or composes jazz music.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jazzman."
- He looked up "jazzman" because he had never seen it before.

jejunum (noun)

The part of the small intestine between the duodenum and the ileum.

- He looked up "jejunum" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "jejunum" during the group presentation.

---

jens otto harry jespersen (noun)

Danish linguist (1860-1943).

- They discussed "jens otto harry jespersen" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "jens otto harry jespersen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

john bardeen (noun)

United States physicist who won the Nobel prize for physics twice (1908-1991).

- Understanding "john bardeen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "john bardeen" because he had never seen it before.

---

john roderigo dos passos (noun)

United States novelist remembered for his portrayal of life in the United States (1896-1970).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "john roderigo dos passos."
- The article explained what "john roderigo dos passos" means with a simple example.

---

juglans (noun)

Type genus of the Juglandaceae.

- In class, the teacher used "juglans" to mean type genus of the juglandaceae.
- The article explained what "juglans" means with a simple example.

---

jyllands (noun)

Peninsula in northern Europe that forms the continental part of Denmark and a northern part of Germany.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jyllands."
- He looked up "jyllands" because he had never seen it before.

---

kempt (adjective)

(of hair) neat and tidy.

- A nicely kempt beard.
- A "kempt" approach may work better in this case.

---

kislev (noun)

The third month of the civil year; the ninth month of the ecclesiastical year in the Jewish calendar (in November and December).

- In class, the teacher used "kislev" to mean the third month of the civil year; the ninth month....
- The article explained what "kislev" means with a simple example.

---

lancets (noun)

An acutely pointed Gothic arch, like a lance.

- Understanding "lancets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lancets."

---

lavishes (verb)

Expend profusely; also used with abstract nouns.

- He did not know how to use "lavishes" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "lavishes" in real sentences.

---

leafhopper (noun)

Small leaping insect that sucks the juices of plants.

- In class, the teacher used "leafhopper" to mean small leaping insect that sucks the juices of plants.
- He looked up "leafhopper" because he had never seen it before.

---

lemmas (noun)

A subsidiary proposition that is assumed to be true in order to prove another proposition.

- The article explained what "lemmas" means with a simple example.

- In class, the teacher used "lemmas" to mean a subsidiary proposition that is assumed to be true....

---

lesser scaup (noun)

Common scaup of North America; males have purplish heads.

- Understanding "lesser scaup" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lesser scaup."

---

lesser scaup duck (noun)

Common scaup of North America; males have purplish heads.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lesser scaup duck."
- Understanding "lesser scaup duck" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lifo (noun)

Inventory accounting in which the most recently acquired items are assumed to be the first sold.

- In class, the teacher used "lifo" to mean inventory accounting in which the most recently....
- The article explained what "lifo" means with a simple example.

---

lithographer (noun)

A printmaker who uses lithography.

- They discussed "lithographer" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lithographer."

---

loafs (noun)

A quantity of food (other than bread) formed in a particular shape.

- They discussed "loafs" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "loafs" to mean a quantity of food (other than bread) formed in a....

---

lobular (adjective)

Of or relating to or resembling a lobule.

- The speaker chose "lobular" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "lobular"? Explain why.

---

lockups (noun)

The act of locking something up to protect it.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lockups."
- They discussed "lockups" during the group presentation.

---

lolled (verb)

Hang loosely or laxly.

- His tongue lolled.
- Learners should practice how to use "lolled" in real sentences.

---

lovells (noun)

English astronomer who pioneered radio astronomy (born in 1913).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lovells."
- They discussed "lovells" during the group presentation.

---

lungfish (noun)

Air-breathing fish having an elongated body and fleshy paired fins; certain species construct mucus-lined mud coverings in which to survive drought.

- In class, the teacher used "lungfish" to mean air-breathing fish having an elongated body and....
- The article explained what "lungfish" means with a simple example.

---

lviii (adjective)

Being eight more than fifty.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "lviii."
- Would you call this situation "lviii"? Explain why.

---

macks (noun)

A waterproof raincoat made of rubberized fabric.

- They discussed "macks" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "macks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

makeing (verb)

Create or manufacture a man-made product.

- Learners should practice how to use "makeing" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "makeing" and when to wait.

manageability (noun)

Capable of being managed or controlled.

- They discussed "manageability" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "manageability" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

mandelstam (noun)

Russian poet who died in a prison camp (1891-1938).

- In class, the teacher used "mandelstam" to mean russian poet who died in a prison camp (1891-1938).
- He looked up "mandelstam" because he had never seen it before.

massifs (noun)

A block of the earth's crust bounded by faults and shifted to form peaks of a mountain range.

- Understanding "massifs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "massifs" means with a simple example.

matabele (noun)

A Bantu language sometimes considered a dialect of Zulu.

- They discussed "matabele" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "matabele" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

matriculating (verb)

Enroll as a student.

- The coach explained when to use "matriculating" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "matriculating" until he saw an example.

meddles (verb)

Intrude in other people's affairs or business; interfere unwantedly.

- She tried to use "meddles" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "meddles" and when to wait.

medusae (noun)

(Greek mythology) a woman transformed into a Gorgon by Athena; she was slain by Perseus.

- Understanding "medusae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "medusae" to mean (greek mythology) a woman transformed into a gorgon....

mesial (adjective)

Being in or directed toward the midline or mesial plane of the body.

- A "mesial" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "mesial" because it captured the feeling precisely.

metrication (noun)

The act of changing from imperial units of measurement to metric units: meters, grams, seconds.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "metrication."
- He looked up "metrication" because he had never seen it before.

midships (adverb)

At or near or toward the center of a ship.

- In the late 19th century, engines were placed in front, amidships, and at the rear.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "midships" naturally.

---

milliners (noun)

Someone who makes and sells hats.

- The article explained what "milliners" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "milliners" during the group presentation.

---

millionths (noun)

Position 1,000,000 in a countable series of things.

- They discussed "millionths" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "millionths" because he had never seen it before.

---

mockingbirds (noun)

Long-tailed grey-and-white songbird of the southern United States able to mimic songs of other birds.

- He looked up "mockingbirds" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "mockingbirds" during the group presentation.

---

monetarist (noun)

An advocate of the theory that economic fluctuations are caused by increases or decreases in the supply of money.

- Understanding "monetarist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "monetarist" because he had never seen it before.

---

mongooses (noun)

Agile grizzled Old World viverrine; preys on snakes and rodents.

- Understanding "mongooses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mongooses."

---

monotypic (adjective)

Consisting of only one type.

- Students compared "monotypic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "monotypic"? Explain why.

---

moralize (verb)

Speak as if delivering a sermon; express moral judgements.

- Moralize a story.
- In everyday English, people use "moralize" when talking about this idea.

---

mottoes (noun)

A favorite saying of a sect or political group.

- They discussed "mottoes" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mottoes."

---

myalgia (noun)

Pain in a muscle or group of muscles.

- Understanding "myalgia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "myalgia" to mean pain in a muscle or group of muscles.

---

myelofibrosis (noun)

Fibrosis of the bone marrow.

- They discussed "myelofibrosis" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "myelofibrosis" means with a simple example.

---

nebulas (noun)

A medicinal liquid preparation intended for use in an atomizer.

- Understanding "nebulas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nebulas."

ninetieth (noun)

Position 90 in a countable series of things.

- Understanding "ninetieth" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "ninetieth" means with a simple example.

nonfinancial (adjective)

Not involving financial matters.

- Students compared "nonfinancial" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "nonfinancial"? Explain why.

notochord (noun)

A flexible rodlike structure that forms the supporting axis of the body in the lowest chordates and lowest vertebrates and in embryos of higher vertebrates.

- He looked up "notochord" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "notochord" during the group presentation.

oboist (noun)

A musician who plays the oboe.

- Understanding "oboist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oboist."

omerta (noun)

A code of silence practiced by the Mafia; a refusal to give evidence to the police about criminal activities.

- In class, the teacher used "omerta" to mean a code of silence practiced by the mafia; a refusal....
- They discussed "omerta" during the group presentation.

ormolu (noun)

Brass that looks like gold; used to decorate furniture.

- He looked up "ormolu" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ormolu."

osteopaths (noun)

A therapist who manipulates the skeleton and muscles.

- In class, the teacher used "osteopaths" to mean a therapist who manipulates the skeleton and muscles.
- They discussed "osteopaths" during the group presentation.

overshoots (noun)

An approach that fails and gives way to another attempt.

- In class, the teacher used "overshoots" to mean an approach that fails and gives way to another attempt.
- The article explained what "overshoots" means with a simple example.

oxygenase (noun)

An oxidoreductase that catalyzes the incorporation of molecular oxygen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oxygenase."
- They discussed "oxygenase" during the group presentation.

packhorse (noun)

A workhorse used as a pack animal.

- In class, the teacher used "packhorse" to mean a workhorse used as a pack animal.
- Understanding "packhorse" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

paleoecology (noun)

The branch of ecology that studies ancient ecology.

- They discussed "paleoecology" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "paleoecology" to mean the branch of ecology that studies ancient ecology.

pantothenic acid (noun)

A vitamin of the vitamin B complex that performs an important role in the oxidation of fats and carbohydrates and certain amino acids; occurs in many foods.

- In class, the teacher used "pantothenic acid" to mean a vitamin of the vitamin b complex that performs an....
- The article explained what "pantothenic acid" means with a simple example.

---

paraphilia (noun)

Abnormal sexual activity.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paraphilia."
- Understanding "paraphilia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

penicillins (noun)

Any of various antibiotics obtained from Penicillium molds (or produced synthetically) and used in the treatment of various infections and diseases.

- Understanding "penicillins" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "penicillins" means with a simple example.

---

pentagons (noun)

The United States military establishment.

- The article explained what "pentagons" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "pentagons" during the group presentation.

---

peppermints (noun)

A candy flavored with peppermint oil.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "peppermints."
- The article explained what "peppermints" means with a simple example.

---

perceiver (noun)

A person who becomes aware (of things or events) through the senses.

- They discussed "perceiver" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "perceiver" means with a simple example.

---

perceptively (adverb)

In a perceptive manner.

- He answered "perceptively," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- The narrator describes the scene "perceptively" in the final chapter.

---

pergamum (noun)

An ancient Greek city located in the western part of what is now modern Turkey; the technique of preparing sheepskins as parchment was developed here.

- He looked up "pergamum" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "pergamum" to mean an ancient greek city located in the western part....

---

peristyle (noun)

A colonnade surrounding a building or enclosing a court.

- The article explained what "peristyle" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "peristyle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

permissibility (noun)

Admissibility as a consequence of being permitted.

- They discussed "permissibility" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "permissibility."

---

perrys (noun)

A fermented and often effervescent beverage made from juice of pears; similar in taste to hard cider.

- They discussed "perrys" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "perrys" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pertinence (noun)

Relevance by virtue of being applicable to the matter at hand.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pertinence."

- They discussed “pertinence” during the group presentation.

phenomenons (noun)

Any state or process known through the senses rather than by intuition or reasoning.

- In class, the teacher used “phenomenons” to mean any state or process known through the senses....
- The article explained what “phenomenons” means with a simple example.

philodendron (noun)

Often grown as a houseplant.

- Understanding “philodendron” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “philodendron.”

pilotless (adjective)

Lacking a pilot.

- A drone is a pilotless aircraft.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned “pilotless.”

pilotless aircraft (noun)

An aircraft without a pilot that is operated by remote control.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “pilotless aircraft.”
- The article explained what “pilotless aircraft” means with a simple example.

pistils (noun)

The female ovule-bearing part of a flower composed of ovary and style and stigma.

- Understanding “pistils” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “pistils.”

plaiting (verb)

Make by braiding or interlacing.

- The coach explained when to use “plaiting” and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use “plaiting” until he saw an example.

platonist (noun)

An advocate of Platonism.

- In class, the teacher used “platonist” to mean an advocate of platonism.
- Understanding “platonist” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

pleating (noun)

The act of folding in parallel folds.

- In class, the teacher used “pleating” to mean the act of folding in parallel folds.
- He looked up “pleating” because he had never seen it before.

plentifully (adverb)

In a bountiful manner.

- She spoke “plentifully,” and the audience immediately understood her point.
- Using “plentifully” can make your explanation more exact.

plugger (noun)

Someone who is an active supporter and advocate.

- Understanding “plugger” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “plugger” means with a simple example.

pointes (verb)

Intend (something) to move towards a certain goal.

- She tried to use “pointes” carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use “pointes” in real sentences.

polemicist (noun)

A writer who argues in opposition to others (especially in theology).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polemicist."
- Understanding "polemicist" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

prairie white-fringed orchis (noun)

Orchid of boggy or wet lands of north central United States having racemes of very fragrant creamy or greenish white flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prairie white-fringed orchis."
- He looked up "prairie white-fringed orchis" because he had never seen it before.

---

prejudicing (verb)

Influence (somebody's) opinion in advance.

- She tried to use "prejudicing" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "prejudicing" until he saw an example.

---

prizing (verb)

To move or force, especially in an effort to get something open; :.

- In everyday English, people use "prizing" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "prizing" in real sentences.

---

promptings (noun)

A cue given to a performer (usually the beginning of the next line to be spoken).

- The article explained what "promptings" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "promptings."

---

prostates (noun)

A firm partly muscular chestnut sized gland in males at the neck of the urethra; produces a viscid secretion that is the fluid part of semen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prostates."
- The article explained what "prostates" means with a simple example.

---

proximo (adjective)

In or of the next month after the present.

- Would you call this situation "proximo"? Explain why.
- A "proximo" approach may work better in this case.

---

purebreds (noun)

A pedigreed animal of unmixed lineage; used especially of horses.

- In class, the teacher used "purebreds" to mean a pedigreed animal of unmixed lineage; used....
- He looked up "purebreds" because he had never seen it before.

---

purple-fringed orchis (noun)

North American orchid with clusters of fragrant purple fringed flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "purple-fringed orchis" to mean north american orchid with clusters of fragrant....
- The article explained what "purple-fringed orchis" means with a simple example.

---

pyloric sphincter (noun)

The sphincter muscle of the pylorus that separates the stomach from the duodenum.

- Understanding "pyloric sphincter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "pyloric sphincter" means with a simple example.

---

pyloric stenosis (noun)

Narrowing of the pyloric sphincter that blocks the passage of food from the stomach into the duodenum.

- He looked up "pyloric stenosis" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pyloric stenosis."

---

quartiles (noun)

(statistics) any of three points that divide an ordered distribution into four parts each containing one quarter of the scores.

- Understanding "quartiles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "quartiles."

---

quaver (noun)

A musical note having the time value of an eighth of a whole note.

- In class, the teacher used "quaver" to mean a musical note having the time value of an eighth....
- Understanding "quaver" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

queensland lungfish (noun)

An endangered species of lungfish found in rivers in Queensland.

- In class, the teacher used "queensland lungfish" to mean an endangered species of lungfish found in rivers....
- They discussed "queensland lungfish" during the group presentation.

---

radiopharmaceuticals (noun)

Pharmaceutical consisting of a radioactive compound used in radiation therapy.

- They discussed "radiopharmaceuticals" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "radiopharmaceuticals" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

raffia vinifera (noun)

A palm of the genus Raffia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "raffia vinifera."
- Understanding "raffia vinifera" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rangpur (noun)

Hybrid between mandarin orange and lemon having very acid fruit with orange peel.

- They discussed "rangpur" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "rangpur" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rangpur lime (noun)

Hybrid between mandarin orange and lemon having very acid fruit with orange peel.

- He looked up "rangpur lime" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "rangpur lime" to mean hybrid between mandarin orange and lemon having....

---

rankle (verb)

Gnaw into; make resentful or angry.

- The injustice rankled her.
- Can you use "rankle" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

rashers (noun)

A commercially important fish of the Pacific coast of North America.

- He looked up "rashers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rashers."

---

recalcitrance (noun)

The trait of being unmanageable.

- He looked up "recalcitrance" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "recalcitrance."

---

recta (noun)

The terminal section of the alimentary canal; from the sigmoid flexure to the anus.

- They discussed "recta" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "recta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

reefing (verb)

Lower and bring partially inboard.

- The coach explained when to use "reefing" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "reefing" until he saw an example.

reformulating (verb)

Formulate or develop again, of an improved theory or hypothesis.

- In everyday English, people use "reformulating" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "reformulating" in a sentence that fits this situation?

refreshers (noun)

A course that reviews and updates a topic for those who have not kept abreast of developments.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "refreshers."
- Understanding "refreshers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

rheims-douay version (noun)

An English translation of the Vulgate by Roman Catholic scholars.

- They discussed "rheims-douay version" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "rheims-douay version" means with a simple example.

rhetoricians (noun)

A person who delivers a speech or oration.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "rhetoricians."
- Understanding "rhetoricians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

robert jemison van de graaff (noun)

United States physicist (1901-1967).

- He looked up "robert jemison van de graaff" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "robert jemison van de graaff."

rockslide (noun)

A landslide of rocks.

- In class, the teacher used "rockslide" to mean a landslide of rocks.
- Understanding "rockslide" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

salespersons (noun)

A person employed to represent a business and to sell its merchandise (as to customers in a store or to customers who are visited).

- In class, the teacher used "salespersons" to mean a person employed to represent a business and to....
- The article explained what "salespersons" means with a simple example.

saturnine (adjective)

Showing a brooding ill humor; ; ; ; ; - Bruce Bliven.

- A saturnine, almost misanthropic young genius.
- The face was saturnine and swarthy, and the sensual lips...twisted with disdain.

savoyard (noun)

A person who performs in the operettas of Gilbert and Sullivan.

- The article explained what "savoyard" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "savoyard" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

scallywag (noun)

A white Southerner who supported Reconstruction policies after the American Civil War (usually for self-interest).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "scallywag."
- The article explained what "scallywag" means with a simple example.

scarlet fritillary (noun)

Western United States herb with scarlet and yellow narrow bell-shaped flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "scarlet fritillary" to mean western united states herb with scarlet and yellow....
- He looked up "scarlet fritillary" because he had never seen it before.

scattergood (noun)

Someone who spends money prodigally.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "scattergood."
- He looked up "scattergood" because he had never seen it before.

---

scaup (noun)

Diving ducks of North America having a bluish-grey bill.

- In class, the teacher used "scaup" to mean diving ducks of north america having a bluish-grey bill.
- Understanding "scaup" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scaup duck (noun)

Diving ducks of North America having a bluish-grey bill.

- They discussed "scaup duck" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "scaup duck" means with a simple example.

---

schmaltzy (adjective)

Effusively or insincerely emotional.

- A schmaltzy song.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "schmaltzy."

---

scraggy (adjective)

Having a sharply uneven surface or outline.

- Scraggy cliffs.
- Would you call this situation "scraggy"? Explain why.

---

seedbed (noun)

A bed where seedlings are grown before transplanting.

- Understanding "seedbed" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "seedbed."

---

senates (noun)

The upper house of the United States Congress.

- They discussed "senates" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "senates" means with a simple example.

---

sente (noun)

100 lisente equal 1 loti in Lesotho; one sente is worth one-hundredth of a loti.

- The article explained what "sente" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "sente" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

severo ochoa (noun)

United States biochemist (born in Spain) who studied the biological synthesis of nucleic acids (1905-1993).

- Understanding "severo ochoa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "severo ochoa" because he had never seen it before.

---

shantytowns (noun)

A city district inhabited by people living in huts and shanties.

- He looked up "shantytowns" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "shantytowns" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

shellacking (verb)

Cover with shellac.

- He did not know how to use "shellacking" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "shellacking" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

shellfire (noun)

Shooting artillery shells.

- He looked up "shellfire" because he had never seen it before.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "shellfire."

---

shimmying (verb)

Tremble or shake.

- In everyday English, people use "shimmying" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "shimmying" in real sentences.

---

shirtsleeves (noun)

Not wearing a jacket; means you are not wearing anything over your shirt.

- In your shirtsleeves.
- In hot weather they dined in their shirtsleeves.

---

shoddily (adverb)

In a shoddy manner.

- A shoddily built house.
- He treated her shoddily.

---

shuter (adjective)

Used especially of mouth or eyes.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "shuter."
- The speaker chose "shuter" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

signior (noun)

Used as an Italian courtesy title; can be prefixed to the name or used separately.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "signior."
- He looked up "signior" because he had never seen it before.

---

signorina (noun)

An Italian title or form of address for an unmarried woman.

- He looked up "signorina" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "signorina."

---

sirrah (noun)

Formerly a contemptuous term of address to an inferior man or boy; often used in anger.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sirrah."
- They discussed "sirrah" during the group presentation.

---

skylarks (noun)

Brown-speckled European lark noted for singing while hovering at a great height.

- Understanding "skylarks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "skylarks" because he had never seen it before.

---

smilingly (adverb)

With smiles; in a smiling manner.

- The girl reminded her smilingly of their childhood spent together.
- He answered "smilingly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

smites (verb)

Affect suddenly with deep feeling.

- Can you use "smites" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "smites" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

snuffles (noun)

The act of breathing heavily through the nose (as when the nose is congested).

- In class, the teacher used "snuffles" to mean the act of breathing heavily through the nose (as....
- Understanding "snuffles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

snuffling (adjective)

Liable to sniffle.

- It is useful to describe something as "snuffling" when it is liable to sniffle.
- Students compared "snuffling" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

soaping (verb)

Rub soap all over, usually with the purpose of cleaning.

- In everyday English, people use "soaping" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "soaping" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

soave (noun)

Dry white Italian wine from Verona.

- Understanding "soave" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "soave" during the group presentation.

---

solemnized (verb)

Observe or perform with dignity or gravity.

- The King solemnized this day of morning.
- This ceremony solemnized our hearts.

---

soteriology (noun)

The branch of Christian theology that deals with salvation as the effect of a divine agency.

- He looked up "soteriology" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "soteriology" during the group presentation.

---

south american staghorn (noun)

Fern of Peru and Bolivia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "south american staghorn."
- They discussed "south american staghorn" during the group presentation.

---

sphalerite (noun)

An ore that is the chief source of zinc; consists largely of zinc sulfide in crystalline form.

- They discussed "sphalerite" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "sphalerite" to mean an ore that is the chief source of zinc; consists....

---

spirometry (noun)

The use of a spirometer to measure vital capacity.

- Understanding "spirometry" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "spirometry" means with a simple example.

---

stablemates (noun)

A horse stabled with another or one of several horses owned by the same person.

- The article explained what "stablemates" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "stablemates" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

staghorn coral (noun)

Large branching coral resembling antlers.

- The article explained what "staghorn coral" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "staghorn coral" to mean large branching coral resembling antlers.

---

staghorn moss (noun)

A variety of club moss.

- Understanding "staghorn moss" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "staghorn moss" during the group presentation.

---

starrs (noun)

Rock star and drummer for the Beatles (born in 1940).

- They discussed “starrs” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “starrs” because he had never seen it before.

---

stationer (noun)

A merchant who sells writing materials and office supplies.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “stationer.”
- He looked up “stationer” because he had never seen it before.

---

status epilepticus (noun)

A condition in which there are continuing attacks of epilepsy without intervals of consciousness; can lead to brain damage and death.

- The article explained what “status epilepticus” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “status epilepticus” to mean a condition in which there are continuing attacks....

---

stemless (adjective)

(of plants) having no apparent stem above ground.

- Stemless glassware.
- Students compared “stemless” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

stemless daisy (noun)

Dwarf tufted nearly stemless herb having a rosette of woolly leaves and large white-rayed flower heads and bristly achenes; central Canada and United States west to Arizona.

- He looked up “stemless daisy” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “stemless daisy.”

---

stemless golden weed (noun)

Dark green erect herb of northwestern United States and southwestern Canada having stiff leaves in dense tufts and yellow flower heads; sometimes placed in genus Haplopappus.

- In class, the teacher used “stemless golden weed” to mean dark green erect herb of northwestern united states....
- They discussed “stemless golden weed” during the group presentation.

---

stipes (noun)

Supporting stalk or stem-like structure especially of a pistil or fern frond or supporting a mushroom cap.

- He looked up “stipes” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “stipes” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

studding (verb)

Scatter or intersperse like dots or studs.

- She tried to use “studding” carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use “studding” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

subjectivism (noun)

The quality of being subjective.

- Understanding “subjectivism” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “subjectivism” because he had never seen it before.

---

substructures (noun)

The basic structure or features of a system or organization.

- Understanding “substructures” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “substructures” because he had never seen it before.

---

sugarcoating (verb)

Cause to appear more pleasant or appealing.

- In everyday English, people use “sugarcoating” when talking about this idea.
- Can you use “sugarcoating” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

summations (noun)

The arithmetic operation of summing; calculating the sum of two or more numbers.

- In class, the teacher used “summations” to mean the arithmetic operation of summing; calculating....
- The article explained what “summations” means with a simple example.

sundering (verb)

Break apart or in two, using violence.

- In everyday English, people use "sundering" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "sundering" until he saw an example.

sundowners (noun)

A tramp who habitually arrives at sundown.

- Understanding "sundowners" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "sundowners" during the group presentation.

supergiants (noun)

An extremely bright star of very large diameter and low density.

- They discussed "supergiants" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "supergiants" means with a simple example.

syllabary (noun)

A writing system whose characters represent syllables.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "syllabary."
- They discussed "syllabary" during the group presentation.

synthesising (verb)

Combine so as to form a more complex, product.

- Learners should practice how to use "synthesising" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "synthesising" carefully so everyone would understand.

szechwan (noun)

A populous province of south central China.

- The article explained what "szechwan" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "szechwan."

szechwan province (noun)

A populous province of south central China.

- They discussed "szechwan province" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "szechwan province."

tamarin (noun)

Small South American marmoset with silky fur and long nonprehensile tail.

- He looked up "tamarin" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tamarin."

tange (noun)

Japanese architect (born in 1913).

- They discussed "tange" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "tange" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

tankards (noun)

Large drinking vessel with one handle.

- He looked up "tankards" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "tankards" during the group presentation.

tartary (noun)

The vast geographical region of Europe and Asia that was controlled by the Mongols in the 13th and 14th centuries.

- Under Genghis Khan Tartary extended as far east as the Pacific Ocean.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tartary."

tearooms (noun)

A restaurant where tea and light meals are available.

- He looked up "tearooms" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "tearooms" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

teetotaller (noun)

A total abstainer.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "teetotaller."
- They discussed "teetotaller" during the group presentation.

---

tenser (adjective)

Taut or rigid; stretched tight.

- The speaker chose "tenser" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "tenser."

---

tessellated (adjective)

Decorated with small pieces of colored glass or stone fitted together in a mosaic.

- A tessellated pavement.
- Would you call this situation "tessellated"? Explain why.

---

theosophist (noun)

A believer in theosophy.

- He looked up "theosophist" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "theosophist."

---

tombigbee (noun)

A river that rises in northeastern Mississippi and flows southward through western Alabama to join the Alabama River and form the Mobile River.

- In class, the teacher used "tombigbee" to mean a river that rises in northeastern mississippi and....
- He looked up "tombigbee" because he had never seen it before.

---

tombigbee river (noun)

A river that rises in northeastern Mississippi and flows southward through western Alabama to join the Alabama River and form the Mobile River.

- Understanding "tombigbee river" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tombigbee river."

---

toucher (noun)

A person who causes or allows a part of the body to come in contact with someone or something.

- In class, the teacher used "toucher" to mean a person who causes or allows a part of the body to....
- He looked up "toucher" because he had never seen it before.

---

touchwood (noun)

Material for starting a fire.

- He looked up "touchwood" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "touchwood."

---

toxicologists (noun)

One who studies the nature and effects of poisons and their treatment.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "toxicologists."
- He looked up "toxicologists" because he had never seen it before.

---

tragical (adjective)

Very sad; especially involving grief or death or destruction.

- A "tragical" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "tragical."

---

trainload (noun)

Quantity that can be carried by a train.

- He looked up "trainload" because he had never seen it before.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "trainload."

---

transects (verb)

Cut across or divide transversely.

- He did not know how to use "transects" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "transects" in real sentences.

---

transgresses (verb)

Act in disregard of laws, rules, contracts, or promises.

- The sea transgresses along the West coast of the island.
- She tried to use "transgresses" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

troller (noun)

A fisherman who uses a hook and line.

- He looked up "troller" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "troller" to mean a fisherman who uses a hook and line.

---

tuberculin (noun)

A sterile liquid containing a purified protein derivative of the tuberculosis bacterium; used in the diagnosis of tuberculosis.

- They discussed "tuberculin" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "tuberculin" means with a simple example.

---

tuberculin skin test (noun)

A skin test to determine past or present infection with the tuberculosis bacterium; based on hypersensitivity of the skin to tuberculin.

- In class, the teacher used "tuberculin skin test" to mean a skin test to determine past or present infection....
- The article explained what "tuberculin skin test" means with a simple example.

---

tuberculin test (noun)

A skin test to determine past or present infection with the tuberculosis bacterium; based on hypersensitivity of the skin to tuberculin.

- They discussed "tuberculin test" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "tuberculin test" means with a simple example.

---

turncoats (noun)

A disloyal person who betrays or deserts his cause or religion or political party or friend etc.

- They discussed "turncoats" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "turncoats" means with a simple example.

---

twyla tharp (noun)

Innovative United States dancer and choreographer (born in 1941).

- Understanding "twyla tharp" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "twyla tharp."

---

tyrannosaurs (noun)

Large carnivorous bipedal dinosaur having enormous teeth with knifelike serrations; may have been a scavenger rather than an active predator; later Cretaceous period in North America.

- They discussed "tyrannosaurs" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "tyrannosaurs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

unclassifiable (adjective)

Not possible to classify.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unclassifiable."
- The speaker chose "unclassifiable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

unpersuasive (adjective)

Not capable of persuading.

- Would you call this situation "unpersuasive"? Explain why.
- A "unpersuasive" approach may work better in this case.

---

unsystematic (adjective)

Lacking systematic arrangement or method or organization.

- Unsystematic and fragmentary records.
- He works in an unsystematic manner.

---

unties (verb)

Cause to become loose.

- The coach explained when to use "unties" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "unties" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

upholder (noun)

Someone who upholds or maintains.

- Firm upholders of tradition.
- The article explained what "upholder" means with a simple example.

---

uranyl oxalate (noun)

A salt obtained by the reaction of uranium salts with oxalic acid.

- The article explained what "uranyl oxalate" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "uranyl oxalate" to mean a salt obtained by the reaction of uranium salts....

---

veal parmigiana (noun)

Sauteed veal cutlet in a breadcrumb-and-cheese coating served with tomato sauce.

- They discussed "veal parmigiana" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "veal parmigiana" means with a simple example.

---

vigna caracalla (noun)

Perennial tropical American vine cultivated for its racemes of showy yellow and purple flowers having the corolla keel coiled like a snail shell; sometimes placed in genus Phaseolus.

- They discussed "vigna caracalla" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "vigna caracalla" because he had never seen it before.

---

vyacheslav mikhailovich molotov (noun)

Soviet statesman (1890-1986).

- In class, the teacher used "vyacheslav mikhailovich molotov" to mean soviet statesman (1890-1986).
- They discussed "vyacheslav mikhailovich molotov" during the group presentation.

---

wheaten (adjective)

Of or relating to or derived from wheat.

- Wheaten bread.
- Students compared "wheaten" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

whicker (noun)

The characteristic sounds made by a horse.

- They discussed "whicker" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whicker."

---

whippoorwill (noun)

American nocturnal goatsucker with grey-and-white plumage.

- Understanding "whippoorwill" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "whippoorwill" means with a simple example.

---

whorled (adjective)

Forming one or more whorls (especially a whorl of leaves around a stem).

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "whorled."
- The speaker chose "whorled" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

windstorms (noun)

A storm consisting of violent winds.

- He looked up "windstorms" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "windstorms" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

wolfhounds (noun)

The largest breed of dogs; formerly used to hunt wolves.

- They discussed "wolfhounds" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "wolfhounds" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

workingman (noun)

An employee who performs manual or industrial labor.

- They discussed "workingman" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "workingman" means with a simple example.

---

wyrd (noun)

Fate personified; any one of the three Weird Sisters.

- He looked up "wyrd" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "wyrd" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

zend-avesta (noun)

A collection of Zoroastrian texts gathered during the 4th or 6th centuries.

- In class, the teacher used "zend-avesta" to mean a collection of zoroastrian texts gathered during....
- He looked up "zend-avesta" because he had never seen it before.

---

abates (verb)

Become less in amount or intensity.

- Learners should practice how to use "abates" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "abates" when talking about this idea.

---

abeam (adverb)

At right angles to the length of a ship or airplane.

- Place "abeam" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- He answered "abeam," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

accusingly (adverb)

In an accusing manner.

- He looked at her accusingly.
- He answered "accusingly," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

acellular slime mold (noun)

A slime mold of the class Myxomycetes.

- They discussed "acellular slime mold" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "acellular slime mold."

---

adduction (noun)

(physiology) moving of a body part toward the central axis of the body.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "adduction."
- He looked up "adduction" because he had never seen it before.

---

aden-abyan islamic army (noun)

Yemen-based terrorist group that supports al-Qaeda's goals; seeks to overthrow the Yemeni government and eliminate United States interests; responsible for bombings and kidnappings and killing western tourists in Yemen.

- They discussed "aden-abyan islamic army" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "aden-abyan islamic army."

---

advertorial (noun)

An advertisement that is written and presented in the style of an editorial or journalistic report.

- They discussed "advertorial" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "advertorial" because he had never seen it before.

airwave (noun)

Medium for radio and television broadcasting.

- The president used the airwaves to take his message to the people.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "airwave."

alnus vulgaris (noun)

Medium-sized tree with brown-black bark and woody fruiting catkins; leaves are hairy beneath.

- He looked up "alnus vulgaris" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "alnus vulgaris" during the group presentation.

american redstart (noun)

Flycatching warbler of eastern North America the male having bright orange on sides and wings and tail.

- The article explained what "american redstart" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "american redstart."

amoebic dysentery (noun)

Inflammation of the intestines caused by Endamoeba histolytica; usually acquired by ingesting food or water contaminated with feces; characterized by severe diarrhea.

- They discussed "amoebic dysentery" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "amoebic dysentery" because he had never seen it before.

anesthetize (verb)

Administer an anesthetic drug to.

- The patient must be anesthetized before the operation.
- Anesthetize the gum before extracting the teeth.

angolans (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Angola.

- They discussed "angolans" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "angolans" because he had never seen it before.

appressed (adjective)

Pressed close to or lying flat against something; ; -L.V.Pirsson.

- Igneous rocks...closely appressed by this force.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "appressed."

arborists (noun)

A specialist in treating damaged trees.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "arborists."
- He looked up "arborists" because he had never seen it before.

ascensions (noun)

The act of changing location in an upward direction.

- He looked up "ascensions" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ascensions."

associational (adjective)

Of or relating to associations or associationism.

- It is useful to describe something as "associational" when it is of or relating to associations or associationism.
- The speaker chose "associational" because it captured the feeling precisely.

assonance (noun)

The repetition of similar vowels in the stressed syllables of successive words.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "assonance."
- He looked up "assonance" because he had never seen it before.

attenuators (noun)

An electrical device for attenuating the strength of an electrical signal.

- He looked up "attenuators" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "attenuators."

---

auditory meatus (noun)

Either of the passages in the outer ear from the auricle to the tympanic membrane.

- Understanding "auditory meatus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "auditory meatus" means with a simple example.

---

avenges (verb)

Take revenge for a perceived wrong.

- Can you use "avenges" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "avenges" and when to wait.

---

bandolier (noun)

A broad cartridge belt worn over the shoulder by soldiers.

- Understanding "bandolier" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "bandolier" because he had never seen it before.

---

barmaids (noun)

A female bartender.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "barmaids."
- He looked up "barmaids" because he had never seen it before.

---

barraged (verb)

Address with continuously or persistently, as if with a barrage.

- The speaker was barraged by an angry audience.
- She tried to use "barraged" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

bascule (noun)

A structure or device in which one end is counterbalanced by the other (on the principle of the seesaw).

- The article explained what "bascule" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "bascule" during the group presentation.

---

bedevilled (verb)

Be confusing or perplexing to; cause to be unable to think clearly.

- She tried to use "bedevilled" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "bedevilled" in real sentences.

---

bedfellow (noun)

A temporary associate.

- Politics makes strange bedfellows.
- In class, the teacher used "bedfellow" to mean a temporary associate.

---

bedroll (noun)

Bedding rolled up for carrying.

- Understanding "bedroll" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "bedroll" to mean bedding rolled up for carrying.

---

bedstead (noun)

The framework of a bed.

- In class, the teacher used "bedstead" to mean the framework of a bed.
- They discussed "bedstead" during the group presentation.

---

beholds (verb)

See with attention.

- He did not know how to use "beholds" until he saw an example.

- She tried to use “beholds” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

bespeak (verb)

Be a signal for or a symptom of.

- He did not know how to use “bespeak” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “bespeak” and when to wait.

---

bibliophiles (noun)

Someone who loves (and usually collects) books.

- He looked up “bibliophiles” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “bibliophiles.”

---

black fritillary (noun)

Herb of southwestern United States having dark purple bell-shaped flowers mottled with green.

- They discussed “black fritillary” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “black fritillary” because he had never seen it before.

---

blazoned (verb)

Decorate with heraldic arms.

- Can you use “blazoned” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use “blazoned” when talking about this idea.

---

bodices (noun)

Part of a dress above the waist.

- The article explained what “bodices” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “bodices” to mean part of a dress above the waist.

---

boulle (noun)

An inlaid furniture decoration; tortoiseshell and yellow and white metal form scrolls in cabinetwork.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “boulle.”
- He looked up “boulle” because he had never seen it before.

---

bovines (noun)

Any of various members of the genus Bos.

- Understanding “bovines” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “bovines” means with a simple example.

---

brueghel (noun)

Flemish painter of landscapes (1525-1569).

- In class, the teacher used “brueghel” to mean flemish painter of landscapes (1525-1569).
- The article explained what “brueghel” means with a simple example.

---

brunn (noun)

An industrial city in Moravia in Czech Republic to the southeast of Prague.

- The article explained what “brunn” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “brunn” to mean an industrial city in moravia in czech republic to....

---

bruno of toul (noun)

German pope from 1049 to 1054 whose papacy was the beginning of papal reforms in the 11th century (1002-1054).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “bruno of toul.”
- They discussed “bruno of toul” during the group presentation.

---

bufo americanus (noun)

Common toad of America.

- In class, the teacher used “bufo americanus” to mean common toad of america.
- The article explained what “bufo americanus” means with a simple example.

---

calcaneus (noun)

The largest tarsal bone; forms the human heel.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "calcaneus."
- He looked up "calcaneus" because he had never seen it before.

---

campanula americana (noun)

Annual or perennial of eastern North America with long spikes of blue or white flowers.

- They discussed "campanula americana" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "campanula americana" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

candyfloss (noun)

A candy made by spinning sugar that has been boiled to a high temperature.

- He looked up "candyfloss" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "candyfloss."

---

capitulations (noun)

The act of surrendering (usually under agreed conditions).

- He looked up "capitulations" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "capitulations."

---

carabiners (noun)

An oblong metal ring with a spring clip; used in mountaineering to attach a rope to a piton or to connect two ropes.

- In class, the teacher used "carabiners" to mean an oblong metal ring with a spring clip; used in....
- Understanding "carabiners" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

carcase (noun)

The dead body of an animal especially one slaughtered and dressed for food.

- Understanding "carcase" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "carcase" during the group presentation.

---

cardioid (noun)

An epicycloid in which the rolling circle equals the fixed circle.

- The article explained what "cardioid" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "cardioid" to mean an epicycloid in which the rolling circle equals....

---

cardioid microphone (noun)

A directional microphone with a cardioid pattern of sensitivity.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cardioid microphone."
- They discussed "cardioid microphone" during the group presentation.

---

cellists (noun)

Someone who plays a violoncello.

- The article explained what "cellists" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cellists."

---

centromere (noun)

A specialized condensed region of each chromosome that appears during mitosis where the chromatids are held together to form an X shape.

- The centromere is difficult to sequence.
- Understanding "centromere" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

choroidal artery (noun)

An artery that supplies the choroid plexus.

- In class, the teacher used "choroidal artery" to mean an artery that supplies the choroid plexus.
- The article explained what "choroidal artery" means with a simple example.

---

cigarillos (noun)

Small cigar or cigarette wrapped in tobacco instead of paper.

- The article explained what "cigarillos" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "cigarillos" during the group presentation.

---

ciliates (noun)

A protozoan with a microscopic appendage extending from the surface of the cell.

- In class, the teacher used "ciliates" to mean a protozoan with a microscopic appendage extending....
- The article explained what "ciliates" means with a simple example.

---

circumscribe (verb)

To draw a geometric figure around another figure so that the two are in contact but do not intersect.

- In everyday English, people use "circumscribe" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "circumscribe" until he saw an example.

---

coelacanth (noun)

Fish thought to have been extinct since the Cretaceous period but found in 1938 off the coast of Africa.

- He looked up "coelacanth" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "coelacanth" to mean fish thought to have been extinct since the....

---

collocated (verb)

Have a strong tendency to occur side by side.

- Learners should practice how to use "collocated" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "collocated" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

colloquia (noun)

An address to an academic meeting or seminar.

- The article explained what "colloquia" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "colloquia" to mean an address to an academic meeting or seminar.

---

colorists (noun)

A painter able to achieve special effects with color.

- He looked up "colorists" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "colorists" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

commercialise (verb)

Make commercial.

- He did not know how to use "commercialise" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "commercialise" in real sentences.

---

communicants (noun)

A person entitled to receive Communion.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "communicants."
- The article explained what "communicants" means with a simple example.

---

communiques (noun)

An official report (usually sent in haste).

- In class, the teacher used "communiques" to mean an official report (usually sent in haste).
- The article explained what "communiques" means with a simple example.

---

compartmentalizing (verb)

Separate into isolated compartments or categories.

- Learners should practice how to use "compartmentalizing" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "compartmentalizing" when talking about this idea.

---

conceptualise (verb)

Have the idea for.

- He did not know how to use "conceptualise" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "conceptualise" and when to wait.

conciliate (verb)

Make (one thing) compatible with (another).

- Can you use "conciliate" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "conciliate" carefully so everyone would understand.

confabulation (noun)

(psychiatry) a plausible but imagined memory that fills in gaps in what is remembered.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "confabulation."
- Understanding "confabulation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

conked (verb)

Pass from physical life and lose all bodily attributes and functions necessary to sustain life.

- The stranger conked him and he fainted.
- The coach explained when to use "conked" and when to wait.

contretemps (noun)

An awkward clash.

- He tried to smooth over his contretemps with the policeman.
- He looked up "contretemps" because he had never seen it before.

convolution of broca (noun)

The motor speech center in the left hemisphere of the brain in most people.

- Understanding "convolution of broca" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "convolution of broca" during the group presentation.

cooperations (noun)

The practice of cooperating.

- In class, the teacher used "cooperations" to mean the practice of cooperating.
- He looked up "cooperations" because he had never seen it before.

cowman (noun)

A hired hand who tends cattle and performs other duties on horseback.

- The article explained what "cowman" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "cowman" during the group presentation.

criers (noun)

A peddler who shouts to advertise the goods he sells.

- In class, the teacher used "criers" to mean a peddler who shouts to advertise the goods he sells.
- They discussed "criers" during the group presentation.

crocodilians (noun)

Extant archosaurian reptile.

- Understanding "crocodilians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "crocodilians" because he had never seen it before.

culiacan (noun)

A city in northwestern Mexico.

- He looked up "culiacan" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "culiacan" to mean a city in northwestern mexico.

cupbearer (noun)

The attendant (usually an officer of a nobleman's household) whose duty is to fill and serve cups of wine.

- They discussed "cupbearer" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "cupbearer" to mean the attendant (usually an officer of a nobleman's....

curtilage (noun)

The enclosed land around a house or other building.

- In class, the teacher used "curtilage" to mean the enclosed land around a house or other building.
- Understanding "curtilage" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cxl (adjective)

Being ten more than one hundred thirty.

- The speaker chose "cxl" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "cxl."

---

dalmatian laburnum (noun)

Erect shrub having large trifoliate leaves and dense clusters of yellow flowers followed by poisonous seeds; Yugoslavia; sometimes placed in genus Cytisus.

- They discussed "dalmatian laburnum" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "dalmatian laburnum" because he had never seen it before.

---

dankest (adjective)

Unpleasantly cool and humid.

- Would you call this situation "dankest"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "dankest."

---

dashiki (noun)

A loose and brightly colored African shirt.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dashiki."
- He looked up "dashiki" because he had never seen it before.

---

debugged (verb)

Locate and correct errors in a computer program code.

- Can you use "debugged" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "debugged" and when to wait.

---

deceitfulness (noun)

The quality of being crafty.

- He looked up "deceitfulness" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "deceitfulness."

---

dehydrates (verb)

Preserve by removing all water and liquids from.

- Can you use "dehydrates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "dehydrates" until he saw an example.

---

deports (verb)

Hand over to the authorities of another country.

- Can you use "deports" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "deports" until he saw an example.

---

deviously (adverb)

In a devious manner.

- He got the promotion by behaving deviously.
- He answered "deviously," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

diagnostician (noun)

A doctor who specializes in medical diagnosis.

- They discussed "diagnostician" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "diagnostician" to mean a doctor who specializes in medical diagnosis.

---

dichroism (noun)

Pleochroism of a crystal so that it exhibits two different colors when viewed from two different directions.

- Understanding "dichroism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- They discussed "dichroism" during the group presentation.

---

dimmest (adjective)

Offering little or no hope; ; ; - J.M.Synge.

- A "dimmest" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "dimmest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

dingbats (noun)

A silly empty-headed person.

- He looked up "dingbats" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "dingbats" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

disfavour (noun)

The state of being out of favor.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "disfavour."
- They discussed "disfavour" during the group presentation.

---

disorientating (verb)

Cause to be lost or disoriented.

- She tried to use "disorientating" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "disorientating" when talking about this idea.

---

dobrich (noun)

A city in northeastern Bulgaria (north of Varna) that is the commercial center of an agricultural region.

- They discussed "dobrich" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "dobrich" because he had never seen it before.

---

doddering (adjective)

Mentally or physically infirm with age.

- His mother was doddering and frail.
- Would you call this situation "doddering"? Explain why.

---

dorians (noun)

A member of one of four linguistic divisions of the prehistoric Greeks.

- Understanding "dorians" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "dorians" during the group presentation.

---

drumlin (noun)

A mound of glacial drift.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "drumlin."
- He looked up "drumlin" because he had never seen it before.

---

drunkest (adjective)

Stupefied or excited by a chemical substance (especially alcohol).

- Students compared "drunkest" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "drunkest."

---

dysmenorrhea (noun)

Painful menstruation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dysmenorrhea."
- The article explained what "dysmenorrhea" means with a simple example.

---

edirne (noun)

A city in northwestern Turkey; a Thracian town that was rebuilt and renamed by the Roman Emperor Hadrian.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "edirne."
- Understanding "edirne" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

elide (verb)

Leave or strike out.

- This vowel is usually elided before a single consonant.
- He did not know how to use "elide" until he saw an example.

---

emancipator (noun)

Someone who frees others from bondage.

- Lincoln is known as the Great Emancipator.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "emancipator."

---

emmental (noun)

Swiss cheese with large holes.

- They discussed "emmental" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "emmental" because he had never seen it before.

---

empathized (verb)

Be understanding of.

- He did not know how to use "empathized" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "empathized" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

encamp (verb)

Live in or as if in a tent.

- The coach explained when to use "encamp" and when to wait.
- Can you use "encamp" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

enchiridion (noun)

A concise reference book providing specific information about a subject or location.

- In class, the teacher used "enchiridion" to mean a concise reference book providing specific....
- The article explained what "enchiridion" means with a simple example.

---

endgames (noun)

The final stages of an extended process of negotiation.

- Understanding "endgames" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "endgames."

---

engelbert humperdinck (noun)

German composer of six operas and other incidental music (1854-1921).

- Understanding "engelbert humperdinck" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "engelbert humperdinck" during the group presentation.

---

enjoyments (noun)

The pleasure felt when having a good time.

- Understanding "enjoyments" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "enjoyments" to mean the pleasure felt when having a good time.

---

entryways (noun)

Something that provides access (to get in or get out).

- In class, the teacher used "entryways" to mean something that provides access (to get in or get out).
- The article explained what "entryways" means with a simple example.

---

eosinophil (noun)

A leukocyte readily stained with eosin.

- Understanding "eosinophil" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "eosinophil" during the group presentation.

---

epicureans (noun)

A person devoted to refined sensuous enjoyment (especially good food and drink).

- The article explained what "epicureans" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "epicureans" to mean a person devoted to refined sensuous enjoyment....

---

equus quagga (noun)

Mammal of South Africa that resembled a zebra; extinct since late 19th century.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "equus quagga."
- He looked up "equus quagga" because he had never seen it before.

---

exfiltration operation (noun)

A clandestine rescue operation to bring a defector or refugee or an operative and family out of danger.

- He looked up "exfiltration operation" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "exfiltration operation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

expansiveness (noun)

A quality characterized by magnificence of scale or the tendency to expand.

- The expansiveness of their extravagant life style was soon curtailed.
- He looked up "expansiveness" because he had never seen it before.

---

exponentials (noun)

A function in which an independent variable appears as an exponent.

- He looked up "exponentials" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "exponentials" during the group presentation.

---

extempore (adjective)

With little or no preparation or forethought.

- An extempore skit.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "extempore."

---

fabulist (noun)

A person who tells or invents fables.

- In class, the teacher used "fabulist" to mean a person who tells or invents fables.
- They discussed "fabulist" during the group presentation.

---

fadeout (noun)

A gradual temporary loss of a transmitted signal due to electrical disturbances.

- In class, the teacher used "fadeout" to mean a gradual temporary loss of a transmitted signal....
- The article explained what "fadeout" means with a simple example.

---

faintness (noun)

The trait of lacking boldness and courage.

- Faintness of heart and infirmity of purpose.
- The faintness or potency of the feeling.

---

fanfares (noun)

(music) a short lively tune played on brass instruments.

- He looked up "fanfares" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fanfares."

---

faulds (noun)

A piece of armor plate below the breastplate.

- The article explained what "faulds" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "faulds" to mean a piece of armor plate below the breastplate.

---

fen orchis (noun)

Small terrestrial orchid of eastern North America and Europe having two nearly basal leaves and dull yellow-green racemose flowers.

- The article explained what "fen orchis" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "fen orchis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

fenestra rotunda (noun)

Fenestra leading into the cochlea.

- The article explained what "fenestra rotunda" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "fenestra rotunda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

fin de siecle (adjective)

Relating to or characteristic of the end of a century (especially the end of the 19th century).

- Fin de siecle art.
- A "fin de siecle" approach may work better in this case.

fines herbes (noun)

A mixture of finely chopped fresh herbs.

- An omelet flavored with fines herbes.
- He looked up "fines herbes" because he had never seen it before.

fingerlings (noun)

A young or small fish.

- In class, the teacher used "fingerlings" to mean a young or small fish.
- The article explained what "fingerlings" means with a simple example.

fleshes (noun)

Alternative names for the body of a human being.

- Understanding "fleshes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fleshes."

floc (noun)

A small loosely aggregated mass of flocculent material suspended in or precipitated from a liquid.

- In class, the teacher used "floc" to mean a small loosely aggregated mass of flocculent....
- Understanding "floc" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

folliculitis (noun)

Inflammation of a hair follicle.

- The article explained what "folliculitis" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "folliculitis" to mean inflammation of a hair follicle.

foregrounds (noun)

The part of a scene that is near the viewer.

- He looked up "foregrounds" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "foregrounds."

forestalling (noun)

The act of preventing something by anticipating and disposing of it effectively.

- In class, the teacher used "forestalling" to mean the act of preventing something by anticipating and....
- Understanding "forestalling" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

formalizes (verb)

Make formal or official.

- The coach explained when to use "formalizes" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "formalizes" carefully so everyone would understand.

fringed orchis (noun)

Any of several summer-flowering American orchids distinguished by a fringed or lacerated lip.

- They discussed "fringed orchis" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "fringed orchis" means with a simple example.

fritillary (noun)

Butterfly with brownish wings marked with black and silver.

- He looked up "fritillary" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fritillary."

---

frontals (noun)

A drapery that covers the front of an altar.

- The article explained what "frontals" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "frontals" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

fuzes (noun)

Any igniter that is used to initiate the burning of a propellant.

- They discussed "fuzes" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "fuzes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gallinger (adjective)

Causing irritation or annoyance.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "gallinger."
- A "gallinger" approach may work better in this case.

---

galvanising (adjective)

Affected by emotion as if by electricity; thrilling.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "galvanising."
- Would you call this situation "galvanising"? Explain why.

---

gamma hydroxybutyrate (noun)

A club drug available in liquid or powder form is taken orally (frequently combined with alcohol); used to incapacitate individuals for the commission of sexual assault and rape.

- He looked up "gamma hydroxybutyrate" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gamma hydroxybutyrate."

---

gaston lachaise (noun)

United States sculptor (born in France) noted for his large nude figures (1882-1935).

- He looked up "gaston lachaise" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gaston lachaise."

---

genus hepatica (noun)

Small genus of perennial herbs of north temperate regions; allied to genus Anemone.

- They discussed "genus hepatica" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus hepatica."

---

genus ixodes (noun)

Type genus of the family Ixodidae.

- In class, the teacher used "genus ixodes" to mean type genus of the family ixodidae.
- Understanding "genus ixodes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus microtus (noun)

Voles of the northern hemisphere.

- In class, the teacher used "genus microtus" to mean voles of the northern hemisphere.
- The article explained what "genus microtus" means with a simple example.

---

genus peromyscus (noun)

New World wood mice.

- In class, the teacher used "genus peromyscus" to mean new world wood mice.
- He looked up "genus peromyscus" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus sabal (noun)

American dwarf fan palms.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus sabal."

- He looked up "genus sabal" because he had never seen it before.

---

genus saccharum (noun)

Tall perennial reedlike grass originally of southeastern Asia: sugarcane.

- They discussed "genus saccharum" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus saccharum."

---

genus schistosoma (noun)

Type genus of the family Schistosomatidae: blood flukes.

- They discussed "genus schistosoma" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "genus schistosoma" means with a simple example.

---

genus testudo (noun)

Type genus of the Testudinidae.

- He looked up "genus testudo" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus testudo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

geodes (noun)

(mineralogy) a hollow rock or nodule with the cavity usually lined with crystals.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "geodes."
- Understanding "geodes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gibber (verb)

Speak (about unimportant matters) rapidly and incessantly.

- Can you use "gibber" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "gibber" until he saw an example.

---

globus pallidus (noun)

The inner pale yellow part of the lenticular nucleus.

- He looked up "globus pallidus" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "globus pallidus" during the group presentation.

---

glyceraldehyde (noun)

A sweet crystalline aldehyde formed by the breakdown of sugars.

- Understanding "glyceraldehyde" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "glyceraldehyde" means with a simple example.

---

goest (adjective)

Functioning correctly and ready for action.

- It is useful to describe something as "goest" when it is functioning correctly and ready for action.
- The speaker chose "goest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

golden ragwort (noun)

Weedy herb of the eastern United States to Texas having golden-yellow flowers; sometimes becomes invasive; sometimes placed in genus Senecio.

- They discussed "golden ragwort" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "golden ragwort."

---

gottfried wilhelm leibnitz (noun)

German philosopher and mathematician who thought of the universe as consisting of independent monads and who devised a system of the calculus independent of Newton (1646-1716).

- They discussed "gottfried wilhelm leibnitz" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "gottfried wilhelm leibnitz" because he had never seen it before.

---

granulocytes (noun)

A leukocyte that has granules in its cytoplasm.

- He looked up "granulocytes" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "granulocytes" to mean a leukocyte that has granules in its cytoplasm.

---

green fringed orchis (noun)

Fringed orchid of the eastern United States having a greenish flower with the lip deeply lacerated.

- Understanding "green fringed orchis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "green fringed orchis."

---

greenhouse whitefly (noun)

Whitefly that inhabits greenhouses.

- They discussed "greenhouse whitefly" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "greenhouse whitefly" means with a simple example.

---

griot (noun)

A storyteller in West Africa; perpetuates the oral traditions of a family or village.

- The article explained what "griot" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "griot" to mean a storyteller in west africa; perpetuates the oral....

---

guzzled (verb)

Drink greedily or as if with great thirst.

- The boys guzzled the cheap vodka.
- He did not know how to use "guzzled" until he saw an example.

---

gyri (noun)

A convex fold or elevation in the surface of the brain.

- They discussed "gyri" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "gyri" to mean a convex fold or elevation in the surface of the brain.

---

halberds (noun)

A pike fitted with an ax head.

- The article explained what "halberds" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "halberds."

---

handbasket (noun)

A container that is usually woven and has handles.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "handbasket."
- He looked up "handbasket" because he had never seen it before.

---

hearkened (verb)

Listen; used mostly in the imperative.

- He did not know how to use "hearkened" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "hearkened" when talking about this idea.

---

heavenward (adjective)

Directed toward heaven or the sky.

- The soul in its heavenward flight.
- A "heavenward" approach may work better in this case.

---

helpmate (noun)

A helpful partner.

- Understanding "helpmate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "helpmate" means with a simple example.

---

hemangioma simplex (noun)

A soft red birthmark.

- In class, the teacher used "hemangioma simplex" to mean a soft red birthmark.
- They discussed "hemangioma simplex" during the group presentation.

---

hepatica (noun)

Any of several plants of the genus Hepatica having three-lobed leaves and white or pinkish flowers in early spring; of moist and mossy subalpine woodland areas of north temperate regions.

- The article explained what "hepatica" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "hepatica" to mean any of several plants of the genus hepatica having....

---

highchair (noun)

A chair for feeding a very young child; has four long legs and a footrest and a detachable tray.

- They discussed "highchair" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "highchair" means with a simple example.

---

hightail (verb)

Leave as fast as possible.

- We hightailed it when we saw the police walking in.
- She tried to use "hightail" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

hightail it (verb)

Flee; take to one's heels; cut and run.

- In everyday English, people use "hightail it" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "hightail it" until he saw an example.

---

hipparchus (noun)

Greek astronomer and mathematician who discovered the precession of the equinoxes and made the first known star chart and is said to have invented trigonometry (second century BC).

- They discussed "hipparchus" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hipparchus."

---

humidified (verb)

Make (more) humid.

- The coach explained when to use "humidified" and when to wait.
- Can you use "humidified" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

idempotent (adjective)

Unchanged in value following multiplication by itself.

- This matrix is idempotent.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "idempotent."

---

immunotherapies (noun)

Therapy designed to produce immunity to a disease or to enhance resistance by the immune system.

- In class, the teacher used "immunotherapies" to mean therapy designed to produce immunity to a disease....
- The article explained what "immunotherapies" means with a simple example.

---

impermissibly (adverb)

Not permissibly.

- The radon level in the basement was impermissibly high.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "impermissibly" naturally.

---

impotently (adverb)

In a helpless manner.

- The narrator describes the scene "impotently" in the final chapter.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "impotently" naturally.

---

in loco parentis (adverb)

In place of the parents.

- We had to punish this child in loco parentis.
- He answered "in loco parentis," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

incarnates (verb)

Represent in bodily form.

- She tried to use "incarnates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "incarnates" and when to wait.

inclosure (noun)

The act of enclosing something inside something else.

- Understanding "inclosure" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "inclosure" to mean the act of enclosing something inside something else.

ineluctable (adjective)

Impossible to avoid or evade:.

- An ineluctable destiny.
- Would you call this situation "ineluctable"? Explain why.

inessential (noun)

Anything that is not essential.

- They discarded all their inessentials.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "inessential."

infix notation (noun)

A notation for forming mathematical expressions using parentheses and governed by rules of operator precedence; operators are dispersed among the operands.

- He looked up "infix notation" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "infix notation."

innuendoes (noun)

An indirect (and usually malicious) implication.

- In class, the teacher used "innuendoes" to mean an indirect (and usually malicious) implication.
- Understanding "innuendoes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

interactional (adjective)

Capable of acting on or influencing each other.

- The speaker chose "interactional" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "interactional" when it is capable of acting on or influencing each other.

intuited (verb)

Know or grasp by intuition or feeling.

- Learners should practice how to use "intuited" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "intuited" carefully so everyone would understand.

ischium (noun)

One of the three sections of the hipbone; situated below the ilium.

- He looked up "ischium" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "ischium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

islamic army of aden-abyan (noun)

Yemen-based terrorist group that supports al-Qaeda's goals; seeks to overthrow the Yemeni government and eliminate United States interests; responsible for bombings and kidnappings and killing western tourists in Yemen.

- He looked up "islamic army of aden-abyan" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "islamic army of aden-abyan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

ixodes (noun)

Type genus of the family Ixodidae.

- He looked up "ixodes" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "ixodes" to mean type genus of the family ixodidae.

jvs (noun)

A college or university team that competes at a level below the varsity team.

- The article explained what "jvs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "jvs" to mean a college or university team that competes at a....

kaluga (noun)

A city of central Russia to the south of Moscow.

- They discussed "kaluga" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kaluga."

---

kaon (noun)

An unstable meson produced as the result of a high-energy particle collision.

- They discussed "kaon" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "kaon" means with a simple example.

---

karl rudolf gerd von rundstedt (noun)

German field marshal in World War II who directed the conquest of Poland and led the Ardennes counteroffensive (1875-1953).

- In class, the teacher used "karl rudolf gerd von rundstedt" to mean german field marshal in world war ii who directed....
- He looked up "karl rudolf gerd von rundstedt" because he had never seen it before.

---

kelloggs (noun)

United States food manufacturer who (with his brother) developed a breakfast cereal of crisp flakes of rolled and toasted wheat and corn; he established a company to manufacture the cereal (1860-1951).

- He looked up "kelloggs" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "kelloggs" during the group presentation.

---

kidded (verb)

Be silly or tease one another.

- After we relaxed, we just kidded around.
- Can you use "kidded" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

laius (noun)

(Greek mythology) king of Thebes who was unwittingly killed by his son Oedipus.

- Understanding "laius" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "laius" during the group presentation.

---

lamina arcus vertebrae (noun)

Lamina of the vertebral arch; the flattened posterior part of the vertebral arch from which the spinous process extends.

- Understanding "lamina arcus vertebrae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "lamina arcus vertebrae" during the group presentation.

---

lap-strake (adjective)

Having overlapping hull planks.

- Students compared "lap-strake" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "lap-strake" when it is having overlapping hull planks.

---

latu (noun)

A broad flat muscle on either side of the back.

- In class, the teacher used "latu" to mean a broad flat muscle on either side of the back.
- They discussed "latu" during the group presentation.

---

lawbreaker (noun)

Someone who violates the law.

- In class, the teacher used "lawbreaker" to mean someone who violates the law.
- The article explained what "lawbreaker" means with a simple example.

---

leatherwood (noun)

Deciduous shrub of eastern North America having tough flexible branches and pliable bark and small yellow flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "leatherwood" to mean deciduous shrub of eastern north america having....
- He looked up "leatherwood" because he had never seen it before.

---

leo szilard (noun)

United States physicist and molecular biologist who helped develop the first atom bomb and later opposed the use of all nuclear weapons (1898-1964).

- The article explained what "leo szilard" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "leo szilard" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

loftiest (adjective)

Of imposing height; especially standing out above others.

- Students compared "loftiest" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "loftiest"? Explain why.

---

loftily (adverb)

In a lofty manner.

- She bore herself loftily.
- Using "loftily" can make your explanation more exact.

---

lubumbashi (noun)

A city in southeastern Congo near the border with Zambia; a copper mining center; former name (until 1966) was Elisabethville.

- In class, the teacher used "lubumbashi" to mean a city in southeastern congo near the border with....
- They discussed "lubumbashi" during the group presentation.

---

lunchtimes (noun)

The customary or habitual hour for eating lunch.

- He looked up "lunchtimes" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "lunchtimes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

magna charta (noun)

The royal charter of political rights given to rebellious English barons by King John in 1215.

- They discussed "magna charta" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "magna charta" means with a simple example.

---

mahout (noun)

The driver and keeper of an elephant.

- In class, the teacher used "mahout" to mean the driver and keeper of an elephant.
- The article explained what "mahout" means with a simple example.

---

mahratta (noun)

A member of a people of India living in Maharashtra.

- He looked up "mahratta" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mahratta."

---

malathion (noun)

A yellow insecticide used as a dust or spray to control garden pests and house flies and mites.

- The article explained what "malathion" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malathion."

---

malathion poisoning (noun)

A toxic condition caused by inhaling or ingesting the insecticide Malathion.

- The article explained what "malathion poisoning" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "malathion poisoning" to mean a toxic condition caused by inhaling or ingesting....

---

malus sylvestris (noun)

Wild crab apple native to Europe; a chief ancestor of cultivated apples.

- Understanding "malus sylvestris" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malus sylvestris."

---

mangler (noun)

A person who mutilates or destroys or disfigures or cripples.

- He looked up "mangler" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "mangler" to mean a person who mutilates or destroys or disfigures or....

manichean (noun)

An adherent of Manichaeism.

- Understanding "manichean" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "manichean" during the group presentation.

mappers (noun)

A clerk who marks data on a chart.

- He looked up "mappers" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mappers."

markovian (adjective)

Relating to or generated by a Markov process.

- Would you call this situation "markovian"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "markovian" because it captured the feeling precisely.

masker (noun)

A participant in a masquerade.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "masker."
- He looked up "masker" because he had never seen it before.

mcguffin (noun)

(film) a plot element that catches the viewers' attention or drives the plot.

- The McGuffin was a key element of Alfred Hitchcock's films.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mcguffin."

medicago sativa (noun)

Important European leguminous forage plant with trifoliate leaves and blue-violet flowers grown widely as a pasture and hay crop.

- They discussed "medicago sativa" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "medicago sativa" means with a simple example.

medicaments (noun)

(medicine) something that treats or prevents or alleviates the symptoms of disease.

- He looked up "medicaments" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "medicaments" to mean (medicine) something that treats or prevents or....

medleys (noun)

A musical composition consisting of a series of songs or other musical pieces from various sources.

- They discussed "medleys" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "medleys" means with a simple example.

melpomene (noun)

(Greek mythology) the Muse of tragedy.

- Understanding "melpomene" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "melpomene" during the group presentation.

merchandises (noun)

Commodities offered for sale.

- He looked up "merchandises" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "merchandises."

metacarpals (noun)

Any bone of the hand between the wrist and fingers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "metacarpals."
- He looked up "metacarpals" because he had never seen it before.

micelle (noun)

An electrically charged particle built up from polymeric molecules or ions and occurring in certain colloidal electrolytic solutions like soaps and detergents.

- They discussed "micelle" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "micelle" because he had never seen it before.

---

mickeys (noun)

(ethnic slur) offensive term for a person of Irish descent.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mickeys."
- The article explained what "mickeys" means with a simple example.

---

microtus (noun)

Voles of the northern hemisphere.

- He looked up "microtus" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "microtus" during the group presentation.

---

millibars (noun)

A unit of atmospheric pressure equal to one thousandth of a bar.

- Atmospheric pressure at sea level is 1013 millibars.
- They discussed "millibars" during the group presentation.

---

misers (noun)

A stingy hoarder of money and possessions (often living miserably).

- They discussed "misers" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "misers."

---

misprinted (verb)

Print incorrectly.

- Can you use "misprinted" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "misprinted" when talking about this idea.

---

moistening (noun)

The act of making something slightly wet.

- They discussed "moistening" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "moistening" means with a simple example.

---

molehills (noun)

A mound of earth made by moles while burrowing.

- The article explained what "molehills" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "molehills" to mean a mound of earth made by moles while burrowing.

---

moleskin (noun)

A durable cotton fabric with a velvety nap.

- Understanding "moleskin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "moleskin."

---

monopsony (noun)

(economics) a market in which goods or services are offered by several sellers but there is only one buyer.

- Understanding "monopsony" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "monopsony" to mean (economics) a market in which goods or services are....

---

moonshiners (noun)

Someone who makes or sells illegal liquor.

- They discussed "moonshiners" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "moonshiners" means with a simple example.

---

moots (noun)

A hypothetical case that law students argue as an exercise.

- He looked up "moots" because he had never seen it before.

- In class, the teacher used "moots" to mean a hypothetical case that law students argue as an....

---

morrow's honeysuckle (noun)

A grey deciduous honeysuckle shrub paired white flowers turning yellow; Japan.

- In class, the teacher used "morrow's honeysuckle" to mean a grey deciduous honeysuckle shrub paired white....
- They discussed "morrow's honeysuckle" during the group presentation.

---

mottle (noun)

An irregular arrangement of patches of color.

- It was not dull grey as distance had suggested, but a mottle of khaki and black and olive-green.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mottle."

---

mouse eared chickweed (noun)

Any of various plants related to the common chickweed.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mouse eared chickweed."
- He looked up "mouse eared chickweed" because he had never seen it before.

---

munificence (noun)

Liberality in bestowing gifts; extremely liberal and generous of spirit.

- In class, the teacher used "munificence" to mean liberality in bestowing gifts; extremely liberal....
- They discussed "munificence" during the group presentation.

---

musculus sphincter pylori (noun)

The sphincter muscle of the pylorus that separates the stomach from the duodenum.

- He looked up "musculus sphincter pylori" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musculus sphincter pylori."

---

mutagens (noun)

Any agent (physical or environmental) that can induce a genetic mutation or can increase the rate of mutation.

- He looked up "mutagens" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mutagens."

---

mwanza (noun)

A city in northern Tanzania on Lake Victoria.

- In class, the teacher used "mwanza" to mean a city in northern tanzania on lake victoria.
- The article explained what "mwanza" means with a simple example.

---

nacs (noun)

A council consisting of permanent representatives of all the member countries of NATO; has political authority and powers of decision.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nacs."
- Understanding "nacs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nasal meatus (noun)

The passages in the nasal cavity formed by the projections of the nasal conchae.

- Understanding "nasal meatus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "nasal meatus" because he had never seen it before.

---

nationalising (verb)

Make national in character or scope.

- Learners should practice how to use "nationalising" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "nationalising" and when to wait.

---

natta (noun)

Italian chemist noted for work on polymers (1903-1979).

- Understanding "natta" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "natta."

---

nemeses (noun)

Something causing misery or death.

- Understanding "nemeses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "nemeses" during the group presentation.

---

nerveless (adjective)

Marked by calm self-control (especially in trying circumstances); unemotional.

- The most nerveless winner in the history of the tournament.
- A weak, nerveless fool, devoid of energy and promptitude.

---

neuroleptic (noun)

Tranquilizer used to treat psychotic conditions when a calming effect is desired.

- In class, the teacher used "neuroleptic" to mean tranquilizer used to treat psychotic conditions....
- The article explained what "neuroleptic" means with a simple example.

---

neuroleptic agent (noun)

Tranquilizer used to treat psychotic conditions when a calming effect is desired.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "neuroleptic agent."
- He looked up "neuroleptic agent" because he had never seen it before.

---

neuroleptic drug (noun)

Tranquilizer used to treat psychotic conditions when a calming effect is desired.

- He looked up "neuroleptic drug" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "neuroleptic drug."

---

neuters (noun)

A gender that refers chiefly (but not exclusively) to inanimate objects (neither masculine nor feminine).

- In class, the teacher used "neuters" to mean a gender that refers chiefly (but not exclusively)....
- The article explained what "neuters" means with a simple example.

---

ninon (noun)

A fine strong sheer silky fabric made of silk or rayon or nylon.

- In class, the teacher used "ninon" to mean a fine strong sheer silky fabric made of silk or....
- The article explained what "ninon" means with a simple example.

---

nitrification (noun)

The chemical process in which a nitro group is added to an organic compound (or substituted for another group in an organic compound).

- The article explained what "nitrification" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "nitrification" during the group presentation.

---

noetic (adjective)

Of or associated with or requiring the use of the mind.

- It is useful to describe something as "noetic" when it is of or associated with or requiring the use of the mind.
- Students compared "noetic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

nominals (noun)

A phrase that can function as the subject or object of a verb.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nominals."
- He looked up "nominals" because he had never seen it before.

---

noncombatant (noun)

A member of the armed forces who does not participate in combat (e.g. a chaplain or surgeon).

- In class, the teacher used "noncombatant" to mean a member of the armed forces who does not....
- The article explained what "noncombatant" means with a simple example.

---

nonliving (adjective)

Not endowed with life.

- Would you call this situation "nonliving"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "nonliving" when it is not endowed with life.

---

northman (noun)

An inhabitant of Scandinavia.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "northman."
- Understanding "northman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

offhandedly (adverb)

In a casually inconsiderate manner.

- She threw him over offhandedly without even a Dear-John letter.
- She had made these remarks offhandedly.

---

ojibway (noun)

The Algonquian language spoken by the Ojibwa.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ojibway."
- The article explained what "ojibway" means with a simple example.

---

oligarchies (noun)

A political system governed by a few people.

- He looked up "oligarchies" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "oligarchies" to mean a political system governed by a few people.

---

oncological (adjective)

Of or relating to or practicing oncology.

- Oncological nurse.
- Students compared "oncological" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

ostracods (noun)

Tiny marine and freshwater crustaceans with a shrimp-like body enclosed in a bivalve shell.

- In class, the teacher used "ostracods" to mean tiny marine and freshwater crustaceans with a....
- They discussed "ostracods" during the group presentation.

---

ostrogoths (noun)

A member of the eastern group of Goths who created a kingdom in northern Italy around 500 AD.

- In class, the teacher used "ostrogoths" to mean a member of the eastern group of goths who created....
- The article explained what "ostrogoths" means with a simple example.

---

overlordship (noun)

The position of overlord.

- They discussed "overlordship" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "overlordship" to mean the position of overlord.

---

oversleeping (verb)

Sleep longer than intended.

- In everyday English, people use "oversleeping" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "oversleeping" in real sentences.

---

ovulated (verb)

Produce and discharge eggs.

- The coach explained when to use "ovulated" and when to wait.
- Can you use "ovulated" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

pantheist (noun)

Someone who believes that God and the universe are the same.

- He looked up "pantheist" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "pantheist" during the group presentation.

paresthesia (noun)

Abnormal skin sensations (as tingling or tickling or itching or burning) usually associated with peripheral nerve damage.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paresthesia."
- The article explained what "paresthesia" means with a simple example.

paroxysm (noun)

A sudden uncontrollable attack.

- A paroxysm of giggling.
- They discussed "paroxysm" during the group presentation.

paroxysms (noun)

A sudden uncontrollable attack.

- In class, the teacher used "paroxysms" to mean a sudden uncontrollable attack.
- The article explained what "paroxysms" means with a simple example.

pastilles (noun)

A medicated lozenge used to soothe the throat.

- They discussed "pastilles" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "pastilles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

pasturage (noun)

Succulent herbaceous vegetation of pasture land.

- In class, the teacher used "pasturage" to mean succulent herbaceous vegetation of pasture land.
- He looked up "pasturage" because he had never seen it before.

patricide (noun)

The murder of your father.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "patricide."
- They discussed "patricide" during the group presentation.

pcps (noun)

A person who helps in identifying or preventing or treating illness or disability.

- In class, the teacher used "pcps" to mean a person who helps in identifying or preventing or....
- They discussed "pcps" during the group presentation.

pelage (noun)

Growth of hair or wool or fur covering the body of an animal.

- He looked up "pelage" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "pelage" to mean growth of hair or wool or fur covering the body of....

pellicle (noun)

Thin protective membrane in some protozoa.

- Understanding "pellicle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "pellicle" during the group presentation.

periosteum (noun)

A dense fibrous membrane covering the surface of bones (except at their extremities) and serving as an attachment for tendons and muscles; contains nerves and blood vessels that nourish the enclosed bone.

- The article explained what "periosteum" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "periosteum" to mean a dense fibrous membrane covering the surface of....

peromyscus (noun)

New World wood mice.

- He looked up "peromyscus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "peromyscus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

persuasiveness (noun)

The power to induce the taking of a course of action or the embracing of a point of view by means of argument or entreaty.

- In class, the teacher used "persuasiveness" to mean the power to induce the taking of a course of....
- The article explained what "persuasiveness" means with a simple example.

---

photometer (noun)

Photographic equipment that measures the intensity of light.

- The article explained what "photometer" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "photometer" during the group presentation.

---

picnickers (noun)

A person who is picnicking.

- They discussed "picnickers" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "picnickers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pictorials (noun)

A periodical (magazine or newspaper) containing many pictures.

- Understanding "pictorials" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "pictorials" during the group presentation.

---

pinchbeck (noun)

An alloy of copper and zinc that is used in cheap jewelry to imitate gold.

- They discussed "pinchbeck" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "pinchbeck" means with a simple example.

---

pinions (noun)

A gear with a small number of teeth designed to mesh with a larger wheel or rack.

- In class, the teacher used "pinions" to mean a gear with a small number of teeth designed to....
- They discussed "pinions" during the group presentation.

---

pink fritillary (noun)

California herb with pinkish purple flowers.

- Understanding "pink fritillary" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pink fritillary."

---

plagiarising (verb)

Take without referencing from someone else's writing or speech; of intellectual property.

- She tried to use "plagiarising" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "plagiarising" and when to wait.

---

plainsong (noun)

A liturgical chant of the Roman Catholic Church.

- They discussed "plainsong" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "plainsong" because he had never seen it before.

---

platting (verb)

Make a plat of.

- In everyday English, people use "platting" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "platting" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

plott hound (noun)

A brindle-coated American hound used in hunting bears and wild boars.

- The article explained what "plott hound" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "plott hound."

---

polycythemia (noun)

A disorder characterized by an abnormal increase in the number of red blood cells in the blood.

- Understanding "polycythemia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- He looked up "polycythemia" because he had never seen it before.

---

potlucks (noun)

Whatever happens to be available especially when offered to an unexpected guest or when brought by guests and shared by all.

- The article explained what "potlucks" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "potlucks" during the group presentation.

---

presbyopia (noun)

A reduced ability to focus on near objects caused by loss of elasticity of the crystalline lens after age 45.

- In class, the teacher used "presbyopia" to mean a reduced ability to focus on near objects caused....
- The article explained what "presbyopia" means with a simple example.

---

primary dysmenorrhea (noun)

Painful menstruation that is intrinsic to menstruation and not the result of a disease.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "primary dysmenorrhea."
- Understanding "primary dysmenorrhea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

privatizations (noun)

Changing something from state to private ownership or control.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "privatizations."
- He looked up "privatizations" because he had never seen it before.

---

puffery (noun)

A flattering commendation (especially when used for promotional purposes).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "puffery."
- They discussed "puffery" during the group presentation.

---

pussyfoot (verb)

To go stealthily or furtively.

- Learners should practice how to use "pussyfoot" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "pussyfoot" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

pussyfooting (verb)

To go stealthily or furtively.

- Learners should practice how to use "pussyfooting" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "pussyfooting" until he saw an example.

---

quintupled (verb)

Increase fivefold.

- The population of China quintupled.
- Can you use "quintupled" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

radioactively (adverb)

In a radioactive manner.

- Radioactively labeled.
- He answered "radioactively," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

ragwort (noun)

Widespread European weed having yellow daisylike flowers; sometimes an obnoxious weed and toxic to cattle if consumed in quantity.

- In class, the teacher used "ragwort" to mean widespread european weed having yellow daisylike....
- The article explained what "ragwort" means with a simple example.

---

railroaders (noun)

An employee of a railroad.

- In class, the teacher used "railroaders" to mean an employee of a railroad.
- The article explained what "railroaders" means with a simple example.

---

ransoming (verb)

Exchange or buy back for money; under threat.

- She tried to use "ransoming" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "ransoming" and when to wait.

---

reasserts (verb)

Strengthen or make more firm.

- The coach explained when to use "reasserts" and when to wait.
- Can you use "reasserts" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

recantation (noun)

A disavowal or taking back of a previous assertion.

- In class, the teacher used "recantation" to mean a disavowal or taking back of a previous assertion.
- The article explained what "recantation" means with a simple example.

---

recapitulates (verb)

Repeat an earlier theme of a composition.

- Learners should practice how to use "recapitulates" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "recapitulates" until he saw an example.

---

recco (noun)

Reconnaissance (by shortening).

- Understanding "recco" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "recco" because he had never seen it before.

---

red-breasted merganser (noun)

Widely distributed merganser of America and Europe.

- Understanding "red-breasted merganser" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "red-breasted merganser" means with a simple example.

---

redfin pickerel (noun)

Small but gamy pickerel of Atlantic coastal states.

- They discussed "redfin pickerel" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "redfin pickerel" because he had never seen it before.

---

redstart (noun)

European songbird with a reddish breast and tail; related to Old World robins.

- The article explained what "redstart" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "redstart" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

regally (adverb)

In a regal manner.

- A regally appropriate representative.
- She spoke "regally," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

regimentation (noun)

The imposition of order or discipline.

- In class, the teacher used "regimentation" to mean the imposition of order or discipline.
- They discussed "regimentation" during the group presentation.

---

rendezvoused (verb)

Meet at a rendezvous.

- She tried to use "rendezvoused" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "rendezvoused" in real sentences.

---

repatriates (noun)

A person who has returned to the country of origin or whose citizenship has been restored.

- In class, the teacher used “repatriates” to mean a person who has returned to the country of origin....
- They discussed “repatriates” during the group presentation.

---

respirations (noun)

A single complete act of breathing in and out.

- Thirty respirations per minute.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “respirations.”

---

rhinovirus (noun)

Any of a group of picornaviruses that are responsible for many upper respiratory infections.

- The article explained what “rhinovirus” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “rhinovirus” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

rhos (noun)

The 17th letter of the Greek alphabet.

- In class, the teacher used “rhos” to mean the 17th letter of the greek alphabet.
- The article explained what “rhos” means with a simple example.

---

rice-grain fritillary (noun)

Herb of northwestern America having green-and-purple bell-shaped flowers.

- The article explained what “rice-grain fritillary” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “rice-grain fritillary” during the group presentation.

---

riverbeds (noun)

A channel occupied (or formerly occupied) by a river.

- In class, the teacher used “riverbeds” to mean a channel occupied (or formerly occupied) by a river.
- The article explained what “riverbeds” means with a simple example.

---

sabal (noun)

American dwarf fan palms.

- They discussed “sabal” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “sabal” means with a simple example.

---

saccade (noun)

A rapid, jerky movement of the eyes between positions of rest.

- In class, the teacher used “saccade” to mean a rapid, jerky movement of the eyes between....
- They discussed “saccade” during the group presentation.

---

saccharum (noun)

Tall perennial reedlike grass originally of southeastern Asia: sugarcane.

- The article explained what “saccharum” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “saccharum” to mean tall perennial reedlike grass originally of....

---

saint eustatius (noun)

An island in the Netherlands Antilles.

- Understanding “saint eustatius” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up “saint eustatius” because he had never seen it before.

---

saintes (verb)

Declare (a dead person) to be a saint.

- In everyday English, people use “saintes” when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use “saintes” in real sentences.

---

salix fragilis (noun)

Large willow tree with stiff branches that are easily broken.

- He looked up “salix fragilis” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “salix fragilis” during the group presentation.

salters (noun)

Someone who uses salt to preserve meat or fish or other foods.

- He looked up "salters" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "salters" during the group presentation.

sanctifies (verb)

Make pure or free from sin or guilt.

- In everyday English, people use "sanctifies" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "sanctifies" until he saw an example.

schistosoma (noun)

Type genus of the family Schistosomatidae: blood flukes.

- The article explained what "schistosoma" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "schistosoma."

schists (noun)

Any metamorphic rock that can be split into thin layers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "schists."
- They discussed "schists" during the group presentation.

schoolbag (noun)

A bag for carrying school books and supplies.

- Found just the right dictionary to fit into his schoolbag.
- He looked up "schoolbag" because he had never seen it before.

scut (noun)

A short erect tail.

- The article explained what "scut" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "scut."

scut work (noun)

Trivial, unrewarding, tedious, dirty, and disagreeable chores.

- The hospital hired him to do scut work.
- In class, the teacher used "scut work" to mean trivial, unrewarding, tedious, dirty, and....

secondary dysmenorrhea (noun)

Painful menstruation that is caused by some specific disorder (as endometriosis).

- They discussed "secondary dysmenorrhea" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "secondary dysmenorrhea" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

serialisation (noun)

Publication in serial form.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "serialisation."
- They discussed "serialisation" during the group presentation.

shimmied (verb)

Tremble or shake.

- She tried to use "shimmied" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "shimmied" when talking about this idea.

showy orchis (noun)

North American orchid having a spike of violet-purple flowers mixed with white; sepals and petals form a hood.

- Understanding "showy orchis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "showy orchis" to mean north american orchid having a spike of....

shrilly (adverb)

In a shrill voice.

- She sang rather shrilly.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "shrilly" naturally.

---

shriveling (verb)

Wither, as with a loss of moisture.

- In everyday English, people use "shriveling" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "shriveling" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

silene vulgaris (noun)

Perennial of Arctic Europe having large white flowers with inflated calyx.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "silene vulgaris."
- They discussed "silene vulgaris" during the group presentation.

---

silents (noun)

A movie without a soundtrack.

- Understanding "silents" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "silents" to mean a movie without a soundtrack.

---

silviculture (noun)

The branch of forestry dealing with the development and care of forests.

- The article explained what "silviculture" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "silviculture" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

sirach (noun)

An Apocryphal book mainly of maxims (resembling Proverbs in that respect).

- He looked up "sirach" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "sirach" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

siring (verb)

Make children.

- The coach explained when to use "siring" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "siring" in real sentences.

---

sisyphean (adjective)

Of or relating to Sisyphus.

- Would you call this situation "sisyphean"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "sisyphean" when it is of or relating to sisyphus.

---

sitz bath (noun)

A bathtub in which your buttocks and hips are immersed as if you were sitting in a chair and you bathe in a sitting position.

- They discussed "sitz bath" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "sitz bath" means with a simple example.

---

skunked (verb)

Defeat by a lurch.

- Can you use "skunked" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "skunked" when talking about this idea.

---

slaters (noun)

Any of various small terrestrial isopods having a flat elliptical segmented body; found in damp habitats.

- He looked up "slaters" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "slaters" during the group presentation.

---

snowplows (noun)

A vehicle used to push snow from roads.

- In class, the teacher used "snowplows" to mean a vehicle used to push snow from roads.

- Understanding "snowplows" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

spectacled caiman (noun)

Caiman with bony ridges about the eyes; found from southern Mexico to Argentina.

- They discussed "spectacled caiman" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "spectacled caiman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

spillways (noun)

A channel that carries excess water over or around a dam or other obstruction.

- He looked up "spillways" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "spillways."

---

stalked puffball (noun)

Mushroom of the genus Tulostoma that resembles a puffball.

- In class, the teacher used "stalked puffball" to mean mushroom of the genus tulostoma that resembles a....
- Understanding "stalked puffball" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

stepparent (noun)

The spouse of your parent by a subsequent marriage.

- Understanding "stepparent" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "stepparent" because he had never seen it before.

---

stiffeners (noun)

Material used for stiffening something.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stiffeners."
- Understanding "stiffeners" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

stonecutter (noun)

Someone who cuts or carves stone.

- He looked up "stonecutter" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "stonecutter" during the group presentation.

---

strake (noun)

Thick plank forming a ridge along the side of a wooden ship.

- Understanding "strake" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "strake" to mean thick plank forming a ridge along the side of a....

---

struma (noun)

A form of tuberculosis characterized by swellings of the lymphatic glands.

- Understanding "struma" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "struma" means with a simple example.

---

sturdily (adverb)

In a sturdy manner.

- Feet sturdily apart.
- She spoke "sturdily," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

subdominant (noun)

(music) the fourth note of the diatonic scale.

- In class, the teacher used "subdominant" to mean (music) the fourth note of the diatonic scale.
- They discussed "subdominant" during the group presentation.

---

suborder lari (noun)

Gulls; terns; jaegers; skimmers.

- In class, the teacher used "suborder lari" to mean gulls; terns; jaegers; skimmers.
- The article explained what "suborder lari" means with a simple example.

---

sudafed (noun)

Vasoconstrictor (trade names Privine and Sudafed) used in nasal sprays to treat symptoms of nasal congestion and in eyedrops to treat eye irritation.

- In class, the teacher used "sudafed" to mean vasoconstrictor (trade names privine and sudafed)....
- He looked up "sudafed" because he had never seen it before.

---

suffixed (verb)

Attach a suffix to.

- The coach explained when to use "suffixed" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "suffixed" in real sentences.

---

sullenly (adverb)

In a sullen manner.

- He answered "sullenly," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- The narrator describes the scene "sullenly" in the final chapter.

---

supplicants (noun)

One praying humbly for something.

- In class, the teacher used "supplicants" to mean one praying humbly for something.
- The article explained what "supplicants" means with a simple example.

---

supplicating (verb)

Ask for humbly or earnestly, as in prayer.

- In everyday English, people use "supplicating" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "supplicating" in real sentences.

---

sweet-potato whitefly (noun)

A variety of whitefly.

- Understanding "sweet-potato whitefly" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "sweet-potato whitefly" means with a simple example.

---

synaesthesia (noun)

A sensation that normally occurs in one sense modality occurs when another modality is stimulated.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "synaesthesia."
- The article explained what "synaesthesia" means with a simple example.

---

synchronising (noun)

An adjustment that causes something to occur or recur in unison.

- In class, the teacher used "synchronising" to mean an adjustment that causes something to occur or....
- He looked up "synchronising" because he had never seen it before.

---

szilard (noun)

United States physicist and molecular biologist who helped develop the first atom bomb and later opposed the use of all nuclear weapons (1898-1964).

- They discussed "szilard" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "szilard" because he had never seen it before.

---

tallapoosa (noun)

River that rises in northwestern Georgia and flows southwest through central Alabama to join the Coosa River near Montgomery and form the Alabama River.

- He looked up "tallapoosa" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "tallapoosa" to mean river that rises in northwestern georgia and flows....

---

tallapoosa river (noun)

River that rises in northwestern Georgia and flows southwest through central Alabama to join the Coosa River near Montgomery and form the Alabama River.

- In class, the teacher used "tallapoosa river" to mean river that rises in northwestern georgia and flows....
- The article explained what "tallapoosa river" means with a simple example.

---

tambour (noun)

A frame made of two hoops; used for embroidering.

- In class, the teacher used "tambour" to mean a frame made of two hoops; used for embroidering.
- He looked up "tambour" because he had never seen it before.

---

tdt (noun)

(astronomy) a measure of time defined by Earth's orbital motion; terrestrial time is mean solar time corrected for the irregularities of the Earth's motions.

- Understanding "tdt" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "tdt" during the group presentation.

---

tempest-tost (adjective)

Pounded or hit repeatedly by storms or adversities.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "tempest-tost."
- Students compared "tempest-tost" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

testudo (noun)

A movable protective covering that provided protection from above; used by Roman troops when approaching the walls of a besieged fortification.

- Understanding "testudo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "testudo."

---

tetras (noun)

Brightly colored tropical freshwater fishes.

- They discussed "tetras" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tetras."

---

theodolite (noun)

A surveying instrument for measuring horizontal and vertical angles, consisting of a small telescope mounted on a tripod.

- They discussed "theodolite" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "theodolite" to mean a surveying instrument for measuring horizontal and....

---

thorstein veblen (noun)

United States economist who wrote about conspicuous consumption (1857-1929).

- He looked up "thorstein veblen" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thorstein veblen."

---

tipis (noun)

A Native American tent; usually of conical shape.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tipis."
- He looked up "tipis" because he had never seen it before.

---

tokes (noun)

A puff of a marijuana or hashish cigarette.

- The boys took a few tokes on a joint.
- He looked up "tokes" because he had never seen it before.

---

tolbooth (noun)

A booth at a tollgate where the toll collector collects tolls.

- They discussed "tolbooth" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "tolbooth" means with a simple example.

---

tollgate (noun)

A gate or bar across a toll bridge or toll road which is lifted when the toll is paid.

- Understanding "tollgate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tollgate" to mean a gate or bar across a toll bridge or toll road....

---

toted (verb)

Determine the sum of.

- The coach explained when to use "toted" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "toted" carefully so everyone would understand.

traversable (adjective)

Capable of being traversed.

- The speaker chose "traversable" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "traversable" when it is capable of being traversed.

trichloroethylene (noun)

A heavy colorless highly toxic liquid used as a solvent to clean electronic components and for dry cleaning and as a fumigant; causes cancer and liver and lung damage.

- Understanding "trichloroethylene" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "trichloroethylene" because he had never seen it before.

umbels (noun)

Flat-topped or rounded inflorescence characteristic of the family Umbelliferae in which the individual flower stalks arise from about the same point; youngest flowers are at the center.

- In class, the teacher used "umbels" to mean flat-topped or rounded inflorescence characteristic....
- They discussed "umbels" during the group presentation.

underwoods (noun)

The brush (small trees and bushes and ferns etc.) growing beneath taller trees in a wood or forest.

- In class, the teacher used "underwoods" to mean the brush (small trees and bushes and ferns etc.)....
- They discussed "underwoods" during the group presentation.

unfaltering (adjective)

Marked by firm determination or resolution; not shakable.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unfaltering."
- Students compared "unfaltering" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

unlovely (adjective)

Without beauty or charm.

- It is useful to describe something as "unlovely" when it is without beauty or charm.
- The speaker chose "unlovely" because it captured the feeling precisely.

unrepaired (adjective)

Unserviceable because necessary repairs have not been made.

- The speaker chose "unrepaired" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "unrepaired" when it is unserviceable because necessary repairs have not....

unthreatening (adjective)

Not unfriendly or threatening.

- It is useful to describe something as "unthreatening" when it is not unfriendly or threatening.
- The speaker chose "unthreatening" because it captured the feeling precisely.

upends (verb)

Set, turn, or stand on end.

- Can you use "upends" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "upends" and when to wait.

ural-altaic (noun)

A (postulated) group of languages including many of the indigenous languages of Russia (but not Russian).

- They discussed "ural-altaic" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "ural-altaic" to mean a (postulated) group of languages including many of....

uralic (noun)

A family of Ural-Altaic languages.

- He looked up "uralic" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "uralic."

uralic language (noun)

A family of Ural-Altaic languages.

- Understanding "uralic language" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "uralic language" means with a simple example.

---

ureters (noun)

Either of a pair of thick-walled tubes that carry urine from the kidney to the urinary bladder.

- He looked up "ureters" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ureters."

---

usurious (adjective)

Greatly exceeding bounds of reason or moderation.

- Usurious interest rate.
- A "usurious" approach may work better in this case.

---

vaginismus (noun)

Muscular contraction that causes the vagina to close; usually an anxiety reaction before coitus or pelvic examination.

- Understanding "vaginismus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "vaginismus" because he had never seen it before.

---

vascularization (noun)

The organic process whereby body tissue becomes vascular and develops capillaries.

- They discussed "vascularization" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "vascularization" because he had never seen it before.

---

vaster (adjective)

Unusually great in size or amount or degree or especially extent or scope; ; ; ; ; ; ; ; ; - W.R.Inge.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "vaster."
- Would you call this situation "vaster"? Explain why.

---

venerating (adjective)

Feeling or manifesting veneration.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "venerating."
- Students compared "venerating" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

verities (noun)

An enduring or necessary ethical or religious or aesthetic truth.

- He turned to religion in his search for eternal verities.
- They discussed "verities" during the group presentation.

---

victoriana (noun)

Collection of materials of or characteristic of the Victorian era.

- He looked up "victoriana" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "victoriana" to mean collection of materials of or characteristic of the....

---

vinegary (adjective)

Tasting or smelling like vinegar.

- A "vinegary" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "vinegary."

---

violative (adjective)

Violating or tending to violate or offend against.

- Violative of the principles of liberty.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "violative."

---

virologists (noun)

A specialist in virology.

- The article explained what "virologists" means with a simple example.

- In class, the teacher used "virologists" to mean a specialist in virology.

---

vitiated (adjective)

Ruined in character or quality.

- It is useful to describe something as "vitiated" when it is ruined in character or quality.
- A "vitiated" approach may work better in this case.

---

vivas (noun)

An examination conducted by spoken communication.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "vivas."
- He looked up "vivas" because he had never seen it before.

---

walhalla (noun)

(Norse mythology) the hall in which the souls of heros slain in battle were received by Odin.

- He looked up "walhalla" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "walhalla."

---

webbs (noun)

English writer and a central member of the Fabian Society (1858-1943).

- The article explained what "webbs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "webbs" to mean english writer and a central member of the fabian....

---

weedkiller (noun)

A chemical agent that destroys plants or inhibits their growth.

- Understanding "weedkiller" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "weedkiller" because he had never seen it before.

---

weimaraner (noun)

Large breed of hound having a smooth greyish coat; originated in Germany.

- They discussed "weimaraner" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "weimaraner" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

whistlers (noun)

Large-headed swift-flying diving duck of Arctic regions.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whistlers."
- The article explained what "whistlers" means with a simple example.

---

white fringed orchis (noun)

Bog orchid of eastern North America with a spike of pure white fringed flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "white fringed orchis" to mean bog orchid of eastern north america with a spike of....
- He looked up "white fringed orchis" because he had never seen it before.

---

white fritillary (noun)

California herb with white conic or bell-shaped flowers usually tinged with green.

- They discussed "white fritillary" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "white fritillary" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

whitefly (noun)

Minute insect that feeds on plant juices; related to scale insects.

- In class, the teacher used "whitefly" to mean minute insect that feeds on plant juices; related....
- The article explained what "whitefly" means with a simple example.

---

wights (noun)

A human being; 'wight' is an archaic term.

- Understanding "wights" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "wights" during the group presentation.

---

wisdom of jesus the son of sirach (noun)

An Apocryphal book mainly of maxims (resembling Proverbs in that respect).

- Understanding "wisdom of jesus the son of sirach" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "wisdom of jesus the son of sirach" during the group presentation.

---

witticism (noun)

A message whose ingenuity or verbal skill or incongruity has the power to evoke laughter.

- They discussed "witticism" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "witticism."

---

wive (verb)

Provide with a wife; marry (someone) to a wife.

- He did not know how to use "wive" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "wive" in real sentences.

---

wobbler (noun)

Something that wobbles.

- They discussed "wobbler" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wobbler."

---

workmen's compensation (noun)

Compensation for death or injury suffered by a worker in the course of his employment.

- The article explained what "workmen's compensation" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "workmen's compensation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

worriedly (adverb)

In a worried manner.

- 'I wonder what to do,' she said worriedly.
- He paused worriedly before calling the bank.

---

wrings (verb)

Twist and compress, as if in pain or anguish.

- Learners should practice how to use "wrings" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "wrings" when talking about this idea.

---

zeaxanthin (noun)

Yellow carotenoid (isomeric with lutein and occurs widely with it) that is the main pigment in yellow Indian corn.

- Understanding "zeaxanthin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "zeaxanthin" during the group presentation.

---

zoonoses (noun)

An animal disease that can be transmitted to humans.

- Understanding "zoonoses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "zoonoses."

---

acclimatise (verb)

Get used to a certain climate.

- He did not know how to use "acclimatise" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "acclimatise" and when to wait.

---

acellular (adjective)

Not made up of or divided into cells.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "acellular."
- A "acellular" approach may work better in this case.

---

acoustic meatus (noun)

Either of the passages in the outer ear from the auricle to the tympanic membrane.

- He looked up “acoustic meatus” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “acoustic meatus” during the group presentation.

---

actioned (verb)

Institute legal proceedings against; file a suit against.

- She actioned the company for discrimination.
- He actioned the operation.

---

affronts (noun)

A deliberately offensive act or something producing the effect of deliberate disrespect.

- The article explained what “affronts” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “affronts.”

---

agaricus (noun)

Type genus of Agaricaceae; gill fungi having brown spores and including several edible species.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “agaricus.”
- The article explained what “agaricus” means with a simple example.

---

agrobacterium (noun)

Small motile bacterial rods that can reduce nitrates and cause galls on plant stems.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “agrobacterium.”
- Understanding “agrobacterium” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

airfoils (noun)

A device that provides reactive force when in motion relative to the surrounding air; can lift or control a plane in flight.

- They discussed “airfoils” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “airfoils” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

airlocks (noun)

A chamber that provides access to space where air is under pressure.

- He looked up “airlocks” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “airlocks” during the group presentation.

---

alkyd resin (noun)

A durable synthetic resin widely used in adhesives and paints.

- In class, the teacher used “alkyd resin” to mean a durable synthetic resin widely used in adhesives....
- Understanding “alkyd resin” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

aloe ferox (noun)

Much-branched South African plant with reddish prickly succulent leaves.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “aloe ferox.”
- The article explained what “aloe ferox” means with a simple example.

---

angiosperm (noun)

Plants having seeds in a closed ovary.

- The article explained what “angiosperm” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “angiosperm.”

---

anorexics (noun)

A person suffering from anorexia nervosa.

- In class, the teacher used “anorexics” to mean a person suffering from anorexia nervosa.
- He looked up “anorexics” because he had never seen it before.

---

anton van leeuwenhoek (noun)

Dutch pioneer microscopist who was among the first to recognize cells in animals and who gave the first accurate descriptions of microbes and spermatozoa and blood corpuscles (1632-1723).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “anton van leeuwenhoek.”
- He looked up “anton van leeuwenhoek” because he had never seen it before.

archduchess (noun)

A wife or widow of an archduke or a princess of the former ruling house of Austria.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "archduchess."
- He looked up "archduchess" because he had never seen it before.

artificers (noun)

A skilled worker who practices some trade or handicraft.

- In class, the teacher used "artificers" to mean a skilled worker who practices some trade or handicraft.
- They discussed "artificers" during the group presentation.

asio otus (noun)

Slender European owl of coniferous forests with long ear tufts.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "asio otus."
- They discussed "asio otus" during the group presentation.

assuaging (verb)

Cause to be more favorably inclined; gain the good will of.

- She tried to use "assuaging" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "assuaging" until he saw an example.

athene noctua (noun)

Small European owl.

- The article explained what "athene noctua" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "athene noctua" to mean small european owl.

atomism (noun)

(chemistry) any theory in which all matter is composed of tiny discrete finite indivisible indestructible particles.

- In class, the teacher used "atomism" to mean (chemistry) any theory in which all matter is....
- He looked up "atomism" because he had never seen it before.

aviaries (noun)

A building where birds are kept.

- In class, the teacher used "aviaries" to mean a building where birds are kept.
- He looked up "aviaries" because he had never seen it before.

bankrolls (noun)

A roll of currency notes (often taken as the resources of a person or business etc.).

- Understanding "bankrolls" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "bankrolls" means with a simple example.

baritones (noun)

The second lowest adult male singing voice.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "baritones."
- The article explained what "baritones" means with a simple example.

baronetcy (noun)

The rank or dignity or position of a baronet or baroness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "baronetcy."
- The article explained what "baronetcy" means with a simple example.

basileus (noun)

A ruler of the eastern Roman Empire.

- He looked up "basileus" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "basileus" during the group presentation.

beany (noun)

A small skullcap; formerly worn by schoolboys and college freshmen.

- They discussed "beany" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "beany" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bedevil (verb)

Be confusing or perplexing to; cause to be unable to think clearly.

- He did not know how to use "bedevil" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "bedevil" and when to wait.

---

belorussia (noun)

A landlocked republic in eastern Europe; formerly a European soviet.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "belorussia."
- Understanding "belorussia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bhumi devi (noun)

Hindu earth goddess; one of the two wives of Vishnu.

- They discussed "bhumi devi" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bhumi devi."

---

biaxial (adjective)

Having two axes.

- Biaxial crystals.
- Students compared "biaxial" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

blankness (noun)

The state of being blank; void; emptiness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "blankness."
- Understanding "blankness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

blood extravasation (noun)

The leakage of blood from a vessel into tissues surrounding it; can occur in injuries or burns or allergic reactions.

- The article explained what "blood extravasation" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "blood extravasation."

---

boucle (noun)

A fabric of uneven yarn that has an uneven knobby effect.

- He looked up "boucle" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "boucle" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

branchial (adjective)

Of or relating to gills (or to parts of the body derived from embryonic gills).

- Would you call this situation "branchial"? Explain why.
- A "branchial" approach may work better in this case.

---

branchial arch (noun)

One of the bony or cartilaginous arches on each side of the pharynx that support the gills of fishes and aquatic amphibians.

- He looked up "branchial arch" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "branchial arch."

---

breadline (noun)

A queue of people waiting for free food.

- He looked up "breadline" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "breadline" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

breastplates (noun)

Armor plate that protects the chest; the front part of a cuirass.

- In class, the teacher used "breastplates" to mean armor plate that protects the chest; the front part....

- Understanding "breastplates" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

brocket (noun)

Small South American deer with unbranched antlers.

- Understanding "brocket" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brocket."

---

bronislaw malinowski (noun)

British anthropologist (born in Poland) who introduced the technique of the participant observer (1884-1942).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bronislaw malinowski."
- He looked up "bronislaw malinowski" because he had never seen it before.

---

bunco (noun)

A swindle in which you cheat at gambling or persuade a person to buy worthless property.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bunco."
- He looked up "bunco" because he had never seen it before.

---

bunco game (noun)

A swindle in which you cheat at gambling or persuade a person to buy worthless property.

- They discussed "bunco game" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "bunco game" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bunko (noun)

A swindle in which you cheat at gambling or persuade a person to buy worthless property.

- The article explained what "bunko" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "bunko" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bunko game (noun)

A swindle in which you cheat at gambling or persuade a person to buy worthless property.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bunko game."
- He looked up "bunko game" because he had never seen it before.

---

burbling (adjective)

Uttered with unrestrained enthusiasm.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "burbling."
- Students compared "burbling" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

bushwhackers (noun)

A disparaging term for an unsophisticated person.

- In class, the teacher used "bushwhackers" to mean a disparaging term for an unsophisticated person.
- Understanding "bushwhackers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

caldron (noun)

A very large pot that is used for boiling.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "caldron."
- They discussed "caldron" during the group presentation.

---

carbamate (noun)

A salt (or ester) of carbamic acid.

- He looked up "carbamate" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "carbamate."

---

cardia (noun)

The opening into the stomach and that part of the stomach connected to the esophagus.

- In class, the teacher used "cardia" to mean the opening into the stomach and that part of the....
- He looked up "cardia" because he had never seen it before.

---

cardinal grosbeak (noun)

Crested thick-billed North American finch having bright red plumage in the male.

- He looked up "cardinal grosbeak" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cardinal grosbeak."

---

caricaturing (verb)

Represent in or produce a caricature of.

- The coach explained when to use "caricaturing" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "caricaturing" until he saw an example.

---

caroli (noun)

King of the Franks and Holy Roman Emperor; conqueror of the Lombards and Saxons (742-814).

- He looked up "caroli" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "caroli" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

censuring (verb)

Rebuke formally.

- She tried to use "censuring" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "censuring" and when to wait.

---

chambering (verb)

Place in a chamber.

- She tried to use "chambering" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "chambering" in real sentences.

---

changeless (adjective)

Not subject or susceptible to change or variation in form or quality or nature.

- The speaker chose "changeless" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "changeless"? Explain why.

---

chanterelles (noun)

Widely distributed edible mushroom rich yellow in color with a smooth cap and a pleasant apricot aroma.

- Understanding "chanterelles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "chanterelles" because he had never seen it before.

---

cheerier (adjective)

Bright and pleasant; promoting a feeling of cheer.

- A "cheerier" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "cheerier."

---

cheerless (adjective)

Causing sad feelings of gloom and inadequacy.

- Something cheerless about the room.
- Students compared "cheerless" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

chickasaws (noun)

The Muskhogean language of the Chickasaw.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chickasaws."
- The article explained what "chickasaws" means with a simple example.

---

chromaticity (noun)

The quality of a color as determined by its dominant wavelength.

- In class, the teacher used "chromaticity" to mean the quality of a color as determined by its....
- The article explained what "chromaticity" means with a simple example.

---

chromatids (noun)

One of two identical strands into which a chromosome splits during mitosis.

- Understanding "chromatids" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "chromatids" to mean one of two identical strands into which a....

---

clomiphene citrate (noun)

A fertility drug (trade name Clomid) that is used to stimulate ovulation and that has been associated with multiple births.

- He looked up "clomiphene citrate" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "clomiphene citrate."

---

clothespins (noun)

Wood or plastic fastener; for holding clothes on a clothesline.

- Understanding "clothespins" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "clothespins."

---

coastguards (noun)

A military service responsible for the safety of maritime traffic in coastal waters.

- Understanding "coastguards" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "coastguards" because he had never seen it before.

---

cockade (noun)

An ornament (such as a knot of ribbon or a rosette) usually worn on the hat.

- In class, the teacher used "cockade" to mean an ornament (such as a knot of ribbon or a rosette)....
- The article explained what "cockade" means with a simple example.

---

commedia dell'arte (noun)

Italian comedy of the 16th to 18th centuries improvised from standardized situations and stock characters.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "commedia dell'arte."
- The article explained what "commedia dell'arte" means with a simple example.

---

complexly (adverb)

In a complex manner.

- The narrator describes the scene "complexly" in the final chapter.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "complexly" naturally.

---

concretes (noun)

A strong hard building material composed of sand and gravel and cement and water.

- In class, the teacher used "concretes" to mean a strong hard building material composed of sand....
- The article explained what "concretes" means with a simple example.

---

concubinage (noun)

Cohabitation without being legally married.

- He looked up "concubinage" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "concubinage."

---

confusedly (adverb)

In a confused manner.

- Queen Augusta wrote him an hysterical letter in which she confusedly sympathised with him.
- Place "confusedly" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

---

congo copal (noun)

Copal found usually as a fossil.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "congo copal."
- He looked up "congo copal" because he had never seen it before.

---

cooperator (noun)

An associate in an activity or endeavor or sphere of common interest.

- In class, the teacher used "cooperator" to mean an associate in an activity or endeavor or sphere....
- The article explained what "cooperator" means with a simple example.

copal (noun)

A brittle aromatic resin used in varnishes.

- They discussed "copal" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "copal" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

copybook (noun)

A book containing models of good penmanship; used in teaching penmanship.

- In class, the teacher used "copybook" to mean a book containing models of good penmanship; used....
- Understanding "copybook" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cordwood (noun)

Firewood cut and stacked in cords; wood sold by the cord.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cordwood."
- He looked up "cordwood" because he had never seen it before.

cotopaxi (noun)

The world's largest active volcano; located in the Andes in north central Ecuador.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cotopaxi."
- Understanding "cotopaxi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

countersunk (verb)

Insert (a nail or screw below the surface, as into a countersink).

- He did not know how to use "countersunk" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "countersunk" carefully so everyone would understand.

cowrie (noun)

Any of numerous tropical marine gastropods of the genus Cypraea having highly polished usually brightly marked shells.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cowrie."
- They discussed "cowrie" during the group presentation.

crossway (noun)

A junction where one street or road crosses another.

- The article explained what "crossway" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "crossway" to mean a junction where one street or road crosses another.

cyanobacterial (adjective)

Relating to or caused by photosynthetic bacteria of the class Cyanobacteria.

- The speaker chose "cyanobacterial" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Would you call this situation "cyanobacterial"? Explain why.

daydreamed (verb)

Have dreamlike musings or fantasies while awake.

- She tried to use "daydreamed" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "daydreamed" in real sentences.

deigns (verb)

Do something that one considers to be below one's dignity.

- The coach explained when to use "deigns" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "deigns" carefully so everyone would understand.

delmonico steak (noun)

Small steak from the front of the short loin of beef.

- He looked up "delmonico steak" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "delmonico steak" to mean small steak from the front of the short loin of beef.

demobilised (verb)

Release from military service or remove from the active list of military service.

- Can you use “demobilised” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use “demobilised” and when to wait.

---

demonstratives (noun)

A pronoun that points out an intended referent.

- He looked up “demonstratives” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “demonstratives.”

---

descant (verb)

Sing by changing register; sing by yodeling.

- Learners should practice how to use “descant” in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use “descant” until he saw an example.

---

descant on (verb)

Sing a descant on a main tune or melody.

- Can you use “descant on” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use “descant on” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

determinist (noun)

Anyone who submits to the belief that they are powerless to change their destiny.

- He looked up “determinist” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “determinist” to mean anyone who submits to the belief that they are....

---

digitalis glycoside (noun)

A powerful cardiac stimulant obtained from foxglove.

- They discussed “digitalis glycoside” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “digitalis glycoside.”

---

digitise (verb)

Put into digital form, as for use in a computer.

- The coach explained when to use “digitise” and when to wait.
- Can you use “digitise” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

directivity (noun)

The property of a microphone or antenna of being more sensitive in one direction than in another.

- The antenna received signals with no directivity.
- In class, the teacher used “directivity” to mean the property of a microphone or antenna of being....

---

disfunction (noun)

(medicine) any disturbance in the functioning of an organ or body part or a disturbance in the functioning of a social group.

- Understanding “disfunction” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “disfunction” to mean (medicine) any disturbance in the functioning of an....

---

distinctness (noun)

The quality of being not alike; being distinct or different from that otherwise experienced or known.

- They discussed “distinctness” during the group presentation.
- Understanding “distinctness” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

disturber (noun)

A troubler who interrupts or interferes with peace and quiet; someone who causes disorder and commotion.

- Understanding “disturber” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “disturber” to mean a troubler who interrupts or interferes with peace....

---

diversifies (verb)

Vary in order to spread risk or to expand.

- He did not know how to use “diversifies” until he saw an example.

- The coach explained when to use "diversifies" and when to wait.

---

doodads (noun)

Something unspecified whose name is either forgotten or not known.

- Understanding "doodads" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "doodads" because he had never seen it before.

---

dorothy mary crowfoot hodgkin (noun)

English chemist (born in Egypt) who used crystallography to study the structure of organic compounds (1910-1994).

- The article explained what "dorothy mary crowfoot hodgkin" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dorothy mary crowfoot hodgkin."

---

dosimeters (noun)

A measuring instrument for measuring doses of ionizing radiation (X-rays or radioactivity).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dosimeters."
- The article explained what "dosimeters" means with a simple example.

---

doublethink (noun)

Believing two contradictory ideas at the same time.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "doublethink."
- The article explained what "doublethink" means with a simple example.

---

drabs (noun)

A dull greyish to yellowish or light olive brown.

- Understanding "drabs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "drabs" because he had never seen it before.

---

draftsmen (noun)

A skilled worker who draws plans of buildings or machines.

- He looked up "draftsmen" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "draftsmen" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dragunov (noun)

A sniper rifle with a telescopic sight.

- In class, the teacher used "dragunov" to mean a sniper rifle with a telescopic sight.
- Understanding "dragunov" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dystopias (noun)

A work of fiction describing an imaginary place where life is extremely bad because of deprivation or oppression or terror.

- Understanding "dystopias" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "dystopias" during the group presentation.

---

eduard buchner (noun)

German organic chemist who studied alcoholic fermentation and discovered zymase (1860-1917).

- In class, the teacher used "eduard buchner" to mean german organic chemist who studied alcoholic....
- The article explained what "eduard buchner" means with a simple example.

---

effectivity (noun)

Power to be effective; the quality of being able to bring about an effect.

- He looked up "effectivity" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "effectivity" during the group presentation.

---

electronegative (adjective)

Having a negative charge.

- A "electronegative" approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared "electronegative" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

esquires (noun)

A title of respect for a member of the English gentry ranking just below a knight; placed after the name.

- They discussed "esquires" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "esquires" because he had never seen it before.

---

estragon (noun)

Aromatic perennial of southeastern Russia.

- The article explained what "estragon" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "estragon."

---

ests (noun)

Standard time in the 5th time zone west of Greenwich, reckoned at the 75th meridian; used in the eastern United States.

- The article explained what "ests" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ests."

---

etiologies (noun)

The philosophical study of causation.

- Understanding "etiologies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "etiologies."

---

eugene ormandy (noun)

United States conductor (born in Hungary) (1899-1985).

- They discussed "eugene ormandy" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "eugene ormandy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

evasiveness (noun)

Intentionally vague or ambiguous.

- Understanding "evasiveness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "evasiveness."

---

evening grosbeak (noun)

North American grosbeak.

- In class, the teacher used "evening grosbeak" to mean north american grosbeak.
- The article explained what "evening grosbeak" means with a simple example.

---

exemplification (noun)

A representational or typifying form or model.

- They discussed "exemplification" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "exemplification" because he had never seen it before.

---

extravasation (noun)

An extravasated liquid (blood or lymph or urine); the product of extravasation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "extravasation."
- The article explained what "extravasation" means with a simple example.

---

factitious (adjective)

Not produced by natural forces.

- Brokers created a factitious demand for stocks.
- The speaker chose "factitious" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

fallers (noun)

A person who fells trees.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fallers."
- He looked up "fallers" because he had never seen it before.

---

femora (noun)

The longest and thickest bone of the human skeleton; extends from the pelvis to the knee.

- He looked up "femora" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "femora" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

finagle (verb)

Achieve something by means of trickery or devious methods.

- Learners should practice how to use "finagle" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "finagle" when talking about this idea.

---

flagellated (adjective)

Having or resembling a lash or whip (as does a flagellum).

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "flagellated."
- Would you call this situation "flagellated"? Explain why.

---

flagellated cell (noun)

Any cell or one-celled organism equipped with a flagellum.

- They discussed "flagellated cell" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "flagellated cell."

---

floret (noun)

A diminutive flower (especially one that is part of a composite flower).

- He looked up "floret" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "floret" to mean a diminutive flower (especially one that is part of....

---

foisting (verb)

To force onto another.

- In everyday English, people use "foisting" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "foisting" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

foredeck (noun)

The deck between the bridge and the forecastle.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "foredeck."
- He looked up "foredeck" because he had never seen it before.

---

forenoon (noun)

The time period between dawn and noon.

- In class, the teacher used "forenoon" to mean the time period between dawn and noon.
- Understanding "forenoon" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

formalisms (noun)

The practice of scrupulous adherence to prescribed or external forms.

- They discussed "formalisms" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "formalisms" means with a simple example.

---

formals (noun)

A lavish dance requiring formal attire.

- In class, the teacher used "formals" to mean a lavish dance requiring formal attire.
- The article explained what "formals" means with a simple example.

---

fossil copal (noun)

Partly mineralized copal dug from the ground.

- The article explained what "fossil copal" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "fossil copal" during the group presentation.

---

frangible (adjective)

Capable of being broken.

- The museum stored all frangible articles in locked showcases.
- Would you call this situation "frangible"? Explain why.

frangipane (noun)

Pastry with a creamy almond-flavored filling.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "frangipane."
- Understanding "frangipane" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

frederick soddy (noun)

English chemist whose work on radioactive disintegration led to the discovery of isotopes (1877-1956).

- He looked up "frederick soddy" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "frederick soddy" to mean english chemist whose work on radioactive....

freighting (verb)

Transport commercially as cargo.

- Can you use "freighting" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "freighting" and when to wait.

frier (noun)

Flesh of a medium-sized young chicken suitable for frying.

- Understanding "frier" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "frier."

fuckups (noun)

Someone who makes mistakes because of incompetence.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fuckups."
- They discussed "fuckups" during the group presentation.

furan (noun)

A colorless toxic flammable liquid used in the synthesis of nylon.

- In class, the teacher used "furan" to mean a colorless toxic flammable liquid used in the....
- Understanding "furan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

genus agaricus (noun)

Type genus of Agaricaceae; gill fungi having brown spores and including several edible species.

- The article explained what "genus agaricus" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "genus agaricus" during the group presentation.

genus agrobacterium (noun)

Small motile bacterial rods that can reduce nitrates and cause galls on plant stems.

- The article explained what "genus agrobacterium" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "genus agrobacterium" to mean small motile bacterial rods that can reduce....

genus berberis (noun)

Large genus of shrubs of temperate zones of New and Old Worlds.

- Understanding "genus berberis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "genus berberis" because he had never seen it before.

genus campanula (noun)

Large genus of herbs grown for their blossoms: bellflowers.

- In class, the teacher used "genus campanula" to mean large genus of herbs grown for their blossoms:....
- The article explained what "genus campanula" means with a simple example.

genus gerbera (noun)

Genus of South African or Asiatic herbs: African daisies.

- He looked up "genus gerbera" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "genus gerbera" during the group presentation.

genus musca (noun)

Type genus of the Muscidae: houseflies.

- They discussed "genus musca" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "genus musca" means with a simple example.

---

genus phaseolus (noun)

Herbs of warm regions including most American beans.

- He looked up "genus phaseolus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus phaseolus."

---

genus pieris (noun)

Decorative evergreen shrubs of woody vines.

- In class, the teacher used "genus pieris" to mean decorative evergreen shrubs of woody vines.
- Understanding "genus pieris" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus plantago (noun)

Type genus of the family Plantaginaceae; large cosmopolitan genus of mostly small herbs.

- He looked up "genus plantago" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "genus plantago" to mean type genus of the family plantaginaceae; large....

---

genus procyon (noun)

The type genus of the family Procyonidae: raccoons.

- In class, the teacher used "genus procyon" to mean the type genus of the family procyonidae: raccoons.
- The article explained what "genus procyon" means with a simple example.

---

genus strymon (noun)

Large and widely distributed genus of hairstreak butterflies.

- In class, the teacher used "genus strymon" to mean large and widely distributed genus of hairstreak....
- The article explained what "genus strymon" means with a simple example.

---

genus triticum (noun)

Annual cereal grasses from Mediterranean area; widely cultivated in temperate regions.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus triticum."
- They discussed "genus triticum" during the group presentation.

---

genus tsuga (noun)

Hemlock; hemlock fir; hemlock spruce.

- He looked up "genus tsuga" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "genus tsuga" during the group presentation.

---

gerbera (noun)

Genus of South African or Asiatic herbs: African daisies.

- Understanding "gerbera" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "gerbera" means with a simple example.

---

gimbals (noun)

An appliance that allows an object (such as a ship's compass) to remain horizontal even as its support tips.

- The article explained what "gimbals" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "gimbals" during the group presentation.

---

girdled (verb)

Cut a girdle around so as to kill by interrupting the circulation of water and nutrients.

- He did not know how to use "girdled" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "girdled" and when to wait.

---

glendower (noun)

Welsh chieftain who led a revolt against Henry IV's rule in Wales (1359-1416).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "glendower."

- The article explained what "glendower" means with a simple example.

---

godel (noun)

United States mathematician (born in Austria) who is remembered principally for demonstrating the limitations of axiomatic systems (1906-1978).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "godel."
- He looked up "godel" because he had never seen it before.

---

gouty arthritis (noun)

A painful inflammation of the big toe and foot caused by defects in uric acid metabolism resulting in deposits of the acid and its salts in the blood and joints.

- Understanding "gouty arthritis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gouty arthritis."

---

graving (verb)

Carve, cut, or etch into a material or surface.

- Learners should practice how to use "graving" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "graving" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

graving dock (noun)

A large dock from which water can be pumped out; used for building ships or for repairing a ship below its waterline.

- They discussed "graving dock" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "graving dock."

---

graving tool (noun)

A tool used by an engraver.

- He looked up "graving tool" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "graving tool."

---

grimness (noun)

The quality of being ghastly.

- Understanding "grimness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "grimness" during the group presentation.

---

grosbeak (noun)

Any of various finches of Europe or America having a massive and powerful bill.

- In class, the teacher used "grosbeak" to mean any of various finches of europe or america having....
- The article explained what "grosbeak" means with a simple example.

---

guavas (noun)

Small tropical shrubby tree bearing small yellowish fruit.

- They discussed "guavas" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "guavas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gyration (noun)

A single complete turn (axial or orbital).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gyration."
- The article explained what "gyration" means with a simple example.

---

hard-skinned puffball (noun)

Any of various fungi of the genus Scleroderma having hard-skinned subterranean fruiting bodies resembling truffles.

- Understanding "hard-skinned puffball" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "hard-skinned puffball" because he had never seen it before.

---

hardtack (noun)

Very hard unsalted biscuit or bread; a former ship's staple.

- In class, the teacher used "hardtack" to mean very hard unsalted biscuit or bread; a former....
- The article explained what "hardtack" means with a simple example.

---

harmonicas (noun)

A small rectangular free-reed instrument having a row of free reeds set back in air holes and played by blowing into the desired hole.

- They discussed "harmonicas" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "harmonicas" because he had never seen it before.

---

hebraic alphabet (noun)

A Semitic alphabet used since the 5th century BC for writing the Hebrew language (and later for writing Yiddish and Ladino).

- They discussed "hebraic alphabet" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "hebraic alphabet" to mean a semitic alphabet used since the 5th century bc....

---

helsingfors (noun)

The capital and largest city of Finland; located in southern Finland; a major port and commercial and cultural center.

- In class, the teacher used "helsingfors" to mean the capital and largest city of finland; located in....
- They discussed "helsingfors" during the group presentation.

---

hexameter (noun)

A verse line having six metrical feet.

- The article explained what "hexameter" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "hexameter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hinderance (noun)

The act of hindering or obstructing or impeding.

- The article explained what "hinderance" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "hinderance" to mean the act of hindering or obstructing or impeding.

---

hirelings (noun)

A person who works only for money.

- They discussed "hirelings" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "hirelings" means with a simple example.

---

hooded merganser (noun)

Small North American duck with a high circular crest on the male's head.

- The article explained what "hooded merganser" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "hooded merganser" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hornblende (noun)

A green to black mineral of the amphibole group; consists of silicates of calcium and sodium and magnesium and iron.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hornblende."
- The article explained what "hornblende" means with a simple example.

---

hyman george rickover (noun)

United States admiral who advocated the development of nuclear submarines (1900-1986).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hyman george rickover."
- The article explained what "hyman george rickover" means with a simple example.

---

hyman rickover (noun)

United States admiral who advocated the development of nuclear submarines (1900-1986).

- Understanding "hyman rickover" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "hyman rickover" during the group presentation.

---

hypercritical (adjective)

Inclined to judge too severely.

- Hypercritical of colloquial speech.
- The speaker chose "hypercritical" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

hypokalemia (noun)

Abnormally low level of potassium in the circulating blood leading to weakness and heart abnormalities; associated with adrenal tumors or starvation or taking diuretics.

- Understanding "hypokalemia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "hypokalemia" during the group presentation.

---

hypoplastic dwarf (noun)

An achondroplastic dwarf whose small size is the result of a genetic defect; body parts and mental and sexual development are normal.

- In class, the teacher used "hypoplastic dwarf" to mean an achondroplastic dwarf whose small size is the....
- The article explained what "hypoplastic dwarf" means with a simple example.

---

imipramine (noun)

A tricyclic antidepressant (trade names Imavate and Tofranil) used to treat clinical depression.

- They discussed "imipramine" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "imipramine" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

impalas (noun)

African antelope with ridged curved horns; moves with enormous leaps.

- They discussed "impalas" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "impalas" to mean african antelope with ridged curved horns; moves....

---

impalement (noun)

The act of piercing with a sharpened stake as a form of punishment or torture.

- In class, the teacher used "impalement" to mean the act of piercing with a sharpened stake as a....
- They discussed "impalement" during the group presentation.

---

imperiously (adverb)

In an imperious manner.

- Imperiously he cut her short.
- He answered "imperiously," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

implausibility (noun)

The quality of provoking disbelief.

- The article explained what "implausibility" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "implausibility" to mean the quality of provoking disbelief.

---

impressment (noun)

The act of coercing someone into government service.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "impressment."
- The article explained what "impressment" means with a simple example.

---

inconel (noun)

A nickel-base alloy with chromium and iron; used in gas-turbine blades.

- In class, the teacher used "inconel" to mean a nickel-base alloy with chromium and iron; used in....
- The article explained what "inconel" means with a simple example.

---

incorporations (noun)

Consolidating two or more things; union in (or into) one body.

- In class, the teacher used "incorporations" to mean consolidating two or more things; union in (or....
- Understanding "incorporations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ineptly (adverb)

With ineptitude; in an incompetent manner.

- He performed his functions ineptly.
- This function is ineptly left to a small voice.

---

infectiously (adverb)

In a contagious manner.

- She spoke "infectiously," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- He answered "infectiously," which changed the tone of the conversation.

infix (noun)

An affix that is inserted inside the word.

- Understanding "infix" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "infix" during the group presentation.

inquisitively (adverb)

With curiosity.

- The narrator describes the scene "inquisitively" in the final chapter.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "inquisitively" naturally.

insignificantly (adverb)

In an insignificant manner.

- Some people living insignificantly among us.
- Our budget will only be insignificantly affected by these new cuts.

insupportable (adjective)

Incapable of being justified or explained.

- It is useful to describe something as "insupportable" when it is incapable of being justified or explained.
- The speaker chose "insupportable" because it captured the feeling precisely.

isopods (noun)

Any of various small terrestrial or aquatic crustaceans with seven pairs of legs adapted for crawling.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "isopods."
- They discussed "isopods" during the group presentation.

jibs (verb)

Shift from one side of the ship to the other.

- The coach explained when to use "jibs" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "jibs" carefully so everyone would understand.

judes (noun)

A New Testament book attributed to Saint Jude.

- They discussed "judes" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "judes."

klaxons (noun)

A kind of loud horn formerly used on motor vehicles.

- In class, the teacher used "klaxons" to mean a kind of loud horn formerly used on motor vehicles.
- They discussed "klaxons" during the group presentation.

kurt godel (noun)

United States mathematician (born in Austria) who is remembered principally for demonstrating the limitations of axiomatic systems (1906-1978).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kurt godel."
- They discussed "kurt godel" during the group presentation.

laminations (noun)

Bonding thin sheets together.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "laminations."
- He looked up "laminations" because he had never seen it before.

lascaux (noun)

A cave in southwestern France that contains Paleolithic paintings.

- The article explained what "lascaux" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "lascaux" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

leafhoppers (noun)

Small leaping insect that sucks the juices of plants.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "leafhoppers."
- The article explained what "leafhoppers" means with a simple example.

---

leguminous (adjective)

Relating to or consisting of legumes.

- Students compared "leguminous" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "leguminous" approach may work better in this case.

---

leguminous plant (noun)

An erect or climbing bean or pea plant of the family Leguminosae.

- The article explained what "leguminous plant" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "leguminous plant" to mean an erect or climbing bean or pea plant of the....

---

lemonades (noun)

Sweetened beverage of diluted lemon juice.

- He looked up "lemonades" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "lemonades" to mean sweetened beverage of diluted lemon juice.

---

lipoma (noun)

A tumor consisting of fatty tissue.

- In class, the teacher used "lipoma" to mean a tumor consisting of fatty tissue.
- He looked up "lipoma" because he had never seen it before.

---

lits (noun)

The humanistic study of a body of literature.

- In class, the teacher used "lits" to mean the humanistic study of a body of literature.
- The article explained what "lits" means with a simple example.

---

lubavitch (noun)

A town in Belarus that was the center of the Chabad movement for a brief period during the 19th century.

- Understanding "lubavitch" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "lubavitch" during the group presentation.

---

lubavitch movement (noun)

A large missionary Hasidic movement known for their hospitality, technological expertise, optimism and emphasis on religious study.

- The article explained what "lubavitch movement" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "lubavitch movement" to mean a large missionary hasidic movement known for their....

---

lugh (noun)

Ancient Celtic god.

- In class, the teacher used "lugh" to mean ancient celtic god.
- He looked up "lugh" because he had never seen it before.

---

madagascan (adjective)

Of or relating to Madagascar or its people.

- Madagascan pepper.
- Students compared "madagascan" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

maddens (verb)

Drive up the wall; go on someone's nerves.

- Learners should practice how to use "maddens" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "maddens" and when to wait.

---

madonna louise ciccone (noun)

United States pop singer and sex symbol during the 1980s (born in 1958).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "madonna louise ciccone."

- They discussed "madonna louise ciccone" during the group presentation.

---

maharajas (noun)

A great raja; a Hindu prince or king in India ranking above a raja.

- In class, the teacher used "maharajas" to mean a great raja; a hindu prince or king in india....
- The article explained what "maharajas" means with a simple example.

---

malawians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Malawi.

- The article explained what "malawians" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "malawians."

---

manzanilla (noun)

Very dry pale sherry from Spain.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "manzanilla."
- He looked up "manzanilla" because he had never seen it before.

---

maoi (noun)

Any of a group of antidepressant drugs that inhibit the action of monoamine oxidase in the brain and so allow monoamines to accumulate.

- Understanding "maoi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "maoi" during the group presentation.

---

masqueraded (verb)

Pretend to be someone or something that you are not.

- Learners should practice how to use "masqueraded" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "masqueraded" when talking about this idea.

---

meatus (noun)

A natural body passageway.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "meatus."
- He looked up "meatus" because he had never seen it before.

---

mefloquine (noun)

An antimalarial drug (trade name Larium and Mephaquine) that is effective in cases that do not respond to chloroquine; said to produce harmful neuropsychiatric effects on some people.

- The article explained what "mefloquine" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mefloquine."

---

megabit (noun)

A unit of information equal to 1000 kilobits or 10^6 (1,000,000) bits.

- The article explained what "megabit" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "megabit" to mean a unit of information equal to 1000 kilobits or....

---

megaliths (noun)

Memorial consisting of a very large stone forming part of a prehistoric structure (especially in western Europe).

- He looked up "megaliths" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "megaliths."

---

meteoroids (noun)

(astronomy) any of the small solid extraterrestrial bodies that hits the earth's atmosphere.

- The article explained what "meteoroids" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "meteoroids" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

michiganders (noun)

A native or resident of Michigan.

- Understanding "michiganders" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "michiganders" during the group presentation.

---

mildness (noun)

Acting in a manner that is gentle and mild and even-tempered.

- Even in the pulpit there are moments when mildness of manner is not enough.
- They discussed "mildness" during the group presentation.

---

minamata bay (noun)

A bay on the west coast of Kyushu; in the 1950s industrial wastes caused mercury poisoning among the Japanese people who ate fish from Minamata Bay.

- In class, the teacher used "minamata bay" to mean a bay on the west coast of kyushu; in the 1950s....
- They discussed "minamata bay" during the group presentation.

---

minamata disease (noun)

A form of mercury poisoning among people who ate fish from mercury-contaminated waters of Minamata Bay off Japan in the 1950s; characterized by severe neurological degeneration.

- He looked up "minamata disease" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "minamata disease" during the group presentation.

---

minutest (adjective)

Characterized by painstaking care and detailed examination.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "minutest."
- A "minutest" approach may work better in this case.

---

misch metal (noun)

A pyrophoric alloy made from a mixture of rare-earth metals.

- The article explained what "misch metal" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "misch metal" during the group presentation.

---

monel metal (noun)

An alloy of nickel and copper and other metals (such as iron and/or manganese and/or aluminum).

- He looked up "monel metal" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "monel metal" to mean an alloy of nickel and copper and other metals....

---

money cowrie (noun)

Cowrie whose shell is used for money in parts of the southern Pacific and in parts of Africa.

- The article explained what "money cowrie" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "money cowrie" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

monozygotic (adjective)

Derived from a single fertilized egg.

- Monozygotic twins.
- It is useful to describe something as "monozygotic" when it is derived from a single fertilized egg.

---

monozygotic twin (noun)

Either of two twins developed from the same fertilized ovum (having the same genetic material).

- Understanding "monozygotic twin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "monozygotic twin" to mean either of two twins developed from the same....

---

montanans (noun)

A native or resident of Montana.

- The article explained what "montanans" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "montanans" during the group presentation.

---

morrison remick waite (noun)

United States jurist who was appointed chief justice of the United States Supreme Court in 1874 by President Grant (1816-1888).

- Understanding "morrison remick waite" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "morrison remick waite."

---

mortgagor (noun)

The person who gives a mortgage in return for money to be repaid.

- We became mortgagors when the bank accepted our mortgage and loaned us the money to buy our new home.
- In class, the teacher used "mortgagor" to mean the person who gives a mortgage in return for money....

---

msec (noun)

One thousandth (10^-3) of a second.

- He looked up "msec" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "msec" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

munificent (adjective)

Very generous.

- A munificent gift.
- His father gave him a half-dollar and his mother a quarter and he thought them munificent.

---

musca (noun)

A small constellation in the polar region of the southern hemisphere near the Southern Cross and Chamaeleon.

- The article explained what "musca" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musca."

---

musculus adductor magnus (noun)

The muscle that adducts and extends the thigh.

- In class, the teacher used "musculus adductor magnus" to mean the muscle that adducts and extends the thigh.
- The article explained what "musculus adductor magnus" means with a simple example.

---

mushers (noun)

A traveler who drives (or travels with) a dog team.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mushers."
- He looked up "mushers" because he had never seen it before.

---

musicologists (noun)

A student of musicology.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musicologists."
- They discussed "musicologists" during the group presentation.

---

nailer (noun)

A worker who attaches something by nailing it.

- They discussed "nailer" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "nailer" means with a simple example.

---

narthex (noun)

A vestibule leading to the nave of a church.

- In class, the teacher used "narthex" to mean a vestibule leading to the nave of a church.
- He looked up "narthex" because he had never seen it before.

---

nasopharyngeal leishmaniasis (noun)

A form of leishmaniasis endemic in Mexico and Central American and South America; sores are limited to the skin and mucosa.

- Understanding "nasopharyngeal leishmaniasis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "nasopharyngeal leishmaniasis" means with a simple example.

---

neoclassicism (noun)

Revival of a classical style (in art or literature or architecture or music) but from a new perspective or with a new motivation.

- The article explained what "neoclassicism" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "neoclassicism" to mean revival of a classical style (in art or literature....

---

nocs (noun)

An undercover agent who is given no official cover.

- The article explained what "nocs" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "nocs" during the group presentation.

nutria (noun)

Aquatic South American rodent resembling a small beaver; bred for its fur.

- They discussed "nutria" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nutria."

obstructionists (noun)

Someone who systematically obstructs some action that others want to take.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "obstructionists."
- He looked up "obstructionists" because he had never seen it before.

obtusely (adverb)

In a stupid manner.

- He had so rapaciously desired and so obtusely expected to find her alone.
- The narrator describes the scene "obtusely" in the final chapter.

obviates (verb)

Prevent the occurrence of; prevent from happening.

- In everyday English, people use "obviates" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "obviates" in real sentences.

odonata (noun)

Dragonflies and damselflies.

- He looked up "odonata" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "odonata" to mean dragonflies and damselflies.

ohm's law (noun)

Electric current is directly proportional to voltage and inversely proportional to resistance; I = E/R.

- In class, the teacher used "ohm's law" to mean electric current is directly proportional to....
- The article explained what "ohm's law" means with a simple example.

order odonata (noun)

Dragonflies and damselflies.

- In class, the teacher used "order odonata" to mean dragonflies and damselflies.
- The article explained what "order odonata" means with a simple example.

originalism (noun)

The belief that the United States Constitution should be interpreted in the way the authors originally intended it.

- In class, the teacher used "originalism" to mean the belief that the united states constitution....
- He looked up "originalism" because he had never seen it before.

ormandy (noun)

United States conductor (born in Hungary) (1899-1985).

- In class, the teacher used "ormandy" to mean united states conductor (born in hungary) (1899-1985).
- He looked up "ormandy" because he had never seen it before.

ossicles (noun)

A small bone; especially one in the middle ear.

- They discussed "ossicles" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ossicles."

osteology (noun)

The branch of anatomy that studies the bones of the vertebrate skeleton.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "osteology."
- The article explained what "osteology" means with a simple example.

otto jespersen (noun)

Danish linguist (1860-1943).

- The article explained what "otto jespersen" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "otto jespersen" to mean danish linguist (1860-1943).

---

otus asio (noun)

Small North American owl having hornlike tufts of feathers whose call sounds like a quavering whistle.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "otus asio."
- They discussed "otus asio" during the group presentation.

---

outlives (verb)

Live longer than.

- In everyday English, people use "outlives" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "outlives" in real sentences.

---

outrider (noun)

An escort who rides ahead (as a member of the vanguard).

- Understanding "outrider" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "outrider" means with a simple example.

---

outwear (verb)

Exhaust or get tired through overuse or great strain or stress.

- This material outwears all others.
- Can you use "outwear" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

ovis ammon (noun)

Wild sheep of semidesert regions in central Asia.

- The article explained what "ovis ammon" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ovis ammon."

---

ovis canadensis (noun)

Wild sheep of mountainous regions of western North America having massive curled horns.

- In class, the teacher used "ovis canadensis" to mean wild sheep of mountainous regions of western north....
- Understanding "ovis canadensis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

ovule (noun)

A small body that contains the female germ cell of a plant; develops into a seed after fertilization.

- The article explained what "ovule" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "ovule" during the group presentation.

---

owen glendower (noun)

Welsh chieftain who led a revolt against Henry IV's rule in Wales (1359-1416).

- In class, the teacher used "owen glendower" to mean welsh chieftain who led a revolt against henry iv's....
- Understanding "owen glendower" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

oxidising (verb)

Enter into a combination with oxygen or become converted into an oxide.

- She tried to use "oxidising" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "oxidising" and when to wait.

---

paranoiac (noun)

A person afflicted with paranoia.

- In class, the teacher used "paranoiac" to mean a person afflicted with paranoia.
- He looked up "paranoiac" because he had never seen it before.

---

paresis (noun)

A slight or partial paralysis.

- The article explained what "paresis" means with a simple example.

- In class, the teacher used "paresis" to mean a slight or partial paralysis.

---

parlays (noun)

A series of wagers in which the winnings from one wager are used as a stake for the subsequent wagers.

- Understanding "parlays" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "parlays" because he had never seen it before.

---

passer montanus (noun)

Eurasian sparrow smaller than the house sparrow.

- They discussed "passer montanus" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "passer montanus" because he had never seen it before.

---

pedagogues (noun)

Someone who educates young people.

- He looked up "pedagogues" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pedagogues."

---

pentode (noun)

A thermionic tube having five electrodes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pentode."
- Understanding "pentode" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

peregrines (noun)

A widely distributed falcon formerly used in falconry.

- Understanding "peregrines" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "peregrines."

---

peroneal (adjective)

Of or relating to the fibula or the outer part of the leg below the knee.

- Would you call this situation "peroneal"? Explain why.
- Students compared "peroneal" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

peroneal vein (noun)

Accompany the peroneal arteries; arising in the heel and running up the back of the leg to join the posterior tibial veins of the popliteal vein.

- In class, the teacher used "peroneal vein" to mean accompany the peroneal arteries; arising in the....
- Understanding "peroneal vein" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

phagocytic (adjective)

Capable of functioning as a phagocyte.

- A "phagocytic" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "phagocytic"? Explain why.

---

phaseolus (noun)

Herbs of warm regions including most American beans.

- Understanding "phaseolus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "phaseolus" to mean herbs of warm regions including most american beans.

---

phenylephrine (noun)

A powerful vasoconstrictor used to dilate the pupils and relieve nasal congestion.

- They discussed "phenylephrine" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "phenylephrine" to mean a powerful vasoconstrictor used to dilate the....

---

picea glauca (noun)

Medium-sized spruce of northeastern North America having short blue-green leaves and slender cones.

- The article explained what "picea glauca" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "picea glauca."

---

piggybacked (verb)

Bring into alignment with.

- He piggybacked her child so she could see the show.
- Learners should practice how to use "piggybacked" in real sentences.

---

pilchards (noun)

Small fishes found in great schools along coasts of Europe; smaller and rounder than herring.

- In class, the teacher used "pilchards" to mean small fishes found in great schools along coasts of....
- The article explained what "pilchards" means with a simple example.

---

pine grosbeak (noun)

Large grosbeak of coniferous forests of Old and New Worlds.

- He looked up "pine grosbeak" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "pine grosbeak" during the group presentation.

---

pintos (noun)

A spotted or calico horse or pony.

- The article explained what "pintos" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "pintos" to mean a spotted or calico horse or pony.

---

pisser (noun)

A very disagreeable difficulty.

- Understanding "pisser" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "pisser" during the group presentation.

---

plainest (adjective)

Lacking in physical beauty or proportion.

- It is useful to describe something as "plainest" when it is lacking in physical beauty or proportion.
- The speaker chose "plainest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

plebes (noun)

A military trainee (as at a military academy).

- They discussed "plebes" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "plebes" means with a simple example.

---

plonked (verb)

Set (something or oneself) down with or as if with a noise.

- He did not know how to use "plonked" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "plonked" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

poinsettias (noun)

Tropical American plant having poisonous milk and showy tapering usually scarlet petallike leaves surrounding small yellow flowers.

- The article explained what "poinsettias" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "poinsettias" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

potassium dichromate (noun)

An orange-red salt used in making dyes and in photography.

- The article explained what "potassium dichromate" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "potassium dichromate" during the group presentation.

---

prefabs (noun)

A prefabricated structure.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prefabs."
- They discussed "prefabs" during the group presentation.

---

prejudging (verb)

Judge beforehand, especially without sufficient evidence.

- In everyday English, people use "prejudging" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "prejudging" in real sentences.

---

presaging (verb)

Indicate by signs.

- Learners should practice how to use "presaging" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "presaging" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

presumable (adjective)

Capable of being inferred on slight grounds.

- Students compared "presumable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- It is useful to describe something as "presumable" when it is capable of being inferred on slight grounds.

---

prilosec (noun)

Antacid (trade name Prilosec) that suppresses acid secretion in the stomach.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prilosec."
- He looked up "prilosec" because he had never seen it before.

---

primi (noun)

The principal part of a duet (especially a piano duet).

- They discussed "primi" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "primi" means with a simple example.

---

primitively (adverb)

In a primitive style or manner.

- Rather primitively operated foundries.
- She spoke "primitively," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

procurators (noun)

A person authorized to act for another.

- Understanding "procurators" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "procurators" to mean a person authorized to act for another.

---

procyon (noun)

The type genus of the family Procyonidae: raccoons.

- He looked up "procyon" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "procyon."

---

proffers (noun)

A proposal offered for acceptance or rejection.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "proffers."
- Understanding "proffers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

promulgates (verb)

Put a law into effect by formal declaration.

- In everyday English, people use "promulgates" when talking about this idea.
- She tried to use "promulgates" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

propionic acid (noun)

A liquid fatty acid found in milk and sweat and in fuel distillates.

- Understanding "propionic acid" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "propionic acid" during the group presentation.

---

ptolemies (noun)

An ancient dynasty of Macedonian kings who ruled Egypt from 323 BC to 30 BC; founded by Ptolemy I and ended with Cleopatra.

- In class, the teacher used "ptolemies" to mean an ancient dynasty of macedonian kings who ruled....
- They discussed "ptolemies" during the group presentation.

punctilious (adjective)

Marked by precise accordance with details.

- Punctilious in his attention to rules of etiquette.
- The speaker chose "punctilious" because it captured the feeling precisely.

pureness (noun)

The state of being unsullied by sin or moral wrong; lacking a knowledge of evil.

- The article explained what "pureness" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "pureness" during the group presentation.

qataris (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Qatar.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "qataris."
- The article explained what "qataris" means with a simple example.

rapporteurs (noun)

A recorder appointed by a committee to prepare reports of the meetings.

- They discussed "rapporteurs" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "rapporteurs" to mean a recorder appointed by a committee to prepare....

ray floret (noun)

Small flower with a flat strap-shaped corolla usually occupying the peripheral rings of a composite flower.

- Understanding "ray floret" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ray floret."

recents (noun)

Approximately the last 10,000 years.

- In class, the teacher used "recents" to mean approximately the last 10,000 years.
- The article explained what "recents" means with a simple example.

reconverted (verb)

Convert back.

- In everyday English, people use "reconverted" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "reconverted" until he saw an example.

refractories (noun)

Lining consisting of material with a high melting point; used to line the inside walls of a furnace.

- They discussed "refractories" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "refractories."

rehousing (verb)

Put up in a new or different housing.

- She tried to use "rehousing" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "rehousing" in real sentences.

resuspended (verb)

Put back into suspension.

- The coach explained when to use "resuspended" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "resuspended" until he saw an example.

retransmitted (verb)

Transmit again.

- The coach explained when to use "retransmitted" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "retransmitted" carefully so everyone would understand.

rhapsodies (noun)

An epic poem adapted for recitation.

- In class, the teacher used "rhapsodies" to mean an epic poem adapted for recitation.
- The article explained what "rhapsodies" means with a simple example.

---

rhumba (noun)

A ballroom dance based on the Cuban folk dance.

- The article explained what "rhumba" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "rhumba" to mean a ballroom dance based on the cuban folk dance.

---

riskiness (noun)

A state of danger involving risk.

- The article explained what "riskiness" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "riskiness."

---

ropeway (noun)

A conveyance that transports passengers or freight in carriers suspended from cables and supported by a series of towers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ropeway."
- He looked up "ropeway" because he had never seen it before.

---

salmonid (noun)

Soft-finned fishes of cold and temperate waters.

- The article explained what "salmonid" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "salmonid" during the group presentation.

---

sanitization (noun)

Making something sanitary (free of germs) as by sterilizing.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sanitization."
- They discussed "sanitization" during the group presentation.

---

satraps (noun)

A governor of a province in ancient Persia.

- He looked up "satraps" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "satraps" during the group presentation.

---

savours (noun)

The taste experience when a savoury condiment is taken into the mouth.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "savours."
- The article explained what "savours" means with a simple example.

---

sceneries (noun)

The painted structures of a stage set that are intended to suggest a particular locale.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sceneries."
- Understanding "sceneries" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

scorning (verb)

Look down on with disdain.

- In everyday English, people use "scorning" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "scorning" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

scrapple (noun)

Scraps of meat (usually pork) boiled with cornmeal and shaped into loaves for slicing and frying.

- In class, the teacher used "scrapple" to mean scraps of meat (usually pork) boiled with cornmeal....
- They discussed "scrapple" during the group presentation.

---

semiprecious (adjective)

Used of gemstones having less commercial value than precious stones.

- Such semiprecious stones as amethyst, garnet, jade, and tourmaline.

- Would you call this situation "semiprecious"? Explain why.

---

senselessness (noun)

Total lack of meaning or ideas.

- In class, the teacher used "senselessness" to mean total lack of meaning or ideas.
- He looked up "senselessness" because he had never seen it before.

---

seraphs (noun)

An angel of the first order; usually portrayed as the winged head of a child.

- Understanding "seraphs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "seraphs" means with a simple example.

---

sergei mikhailovich eisenstein (noun)

Russian film maker who pioneered the use of montage and is considered among the most influential film makers in the history of motion pictures (1898-1948).

- In class, the teacher used "sergei mikhailovich eisenstein" to mean russian film maker who pioneered the use of montage....
- The article explained what "sergei mikhailovich eisenstein" means with a simple example.

---

shadier (adjective)

Of questionable taste or morality.

- Students compared "shadier" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "shadier" approach may work better in this case.

---

shrimping (verb)

Fish for shrimp.

- He did not know how to use "shrimping" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "shrimping" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

slicers (noun)

A machine for cutting; usually with a revolving blade.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "slicers."
- The article explained what "slicers" means with a simple example.

---

soddy (noun)

A house built of sod or adobe laid in horizontal courses.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "soddy."
- The article explained what "soddy" means with a simple example.

---

sodium lauryl sulphate (noun)

A caustic detergent useful for removing grease; although commonly included in personal care items (shampoos and toothpastes etc.) it can irritate skin and should not be swallowed.

- In class, the teacher used "sodium lauryl sulphate" to mean a caustic detergent useful for removing grease;....
- The article explained what "sodium lauryl sulphate" means with a simple example.

---

splinting (verb)

Support with a splint.

- Learners should practice how to use "splinting" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "splinting" when talking about this idea.

---

stagecoaches (noun)

A large coach-and-four formerly used to carry passengers and mail on regular routes between towns.

- He looked up "stagecoaches" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "stagecoaches."

---

steelmakers (noun)

A worker engaged in making steel.

- Understanding "steelmakers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "steelmakers" because he had never seen it before.

---

steeps (verb)

Let sit in a liquid to extract a flavor or to cleanse.

- Learners should practice how to use “steeps” in real sentences.
- She tried to use “steeps” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

stinginess (noun)

A lack of generosity; a general unwillingness to part with money.

- The article explained what “stinginess” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “stinginess” during the group presentation.

---

strad (noun)

A violin made by Antonio Stradivari or a member of his family.

- Understanding “strad” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed “strad” during the group presentation.

---

streambed (noun)

A channel occupied (or formerly occupied) by a stream.

- The article explained what “streambed” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “streambed” to mean a channel occupied (or formerly occupied) by a stream.

---

stupids (noun)

A person who is not very bright.

- In class, the teacher used “stupids” to mean a person who is not very bright.
- Understanding “stupids” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

suctioning (verb)

Remove or draw away by the force of suction.

- He did not know how to use “suctioning” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “suctioning” and when to wait.

---

sulci (noun)

(anatomy) any of the narrow grooves in an organ or tissue especially those that mark the convolutions on the surface of the brain.

- He looked up “sulci” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “sulci” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

superintend (verb)

Watch and direct.

- Can you use “superintend” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use “superintend” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

supertanker (noun)

The largest class of oil tankers.

- He looked up “supertanker” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “supertanker” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

surinamese monetary unit (noun)

Monetary unit in Suriname.

- The article explained what “surinamese monetary unit” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “surinamese monetary unit” during the group presentation.

---

sweetpea (noun)

Climbing garden plant having fragrant pastel-colored flowers.

- He looked up “sweetpea” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “sweetpea” to mean climbing garden plant having fragrant....

---

swoopes (verb)

Move down on as if in an attack.

- The coach explained when to use “swoopes” and when to wait.
- She tried to use “swoopes” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

tammy wynette (noun)

United States country singer (1942-1998).

- In class, the teacher used “tammy wynette” to mean united states country singer (1942-1998).
- They discussed “tammy wynette” during the group presentation.

---

teakettle (noun)

Kettle for boiling water to make tea.

- The article explained what “teakettle” means with a simple example.
- Understanding “teakettle” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tetracyclines (noun)

An antibiotic (trade name Achromycin) derived from microorganisms of the genus Streptomyces and used broadly to treat infections.

- He looked up “tetracyclines” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “tetracyclines” to mean an antibiotic (trade name achromycin) derived from....

---

thematic apperception test (noun)

A projective technique using black-and-white pictures; subjects tell a story about each picture.

- The article explained what “thematic apperception test” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “thematic apperception test” to mean a projective technique using black-and-white....

---

thickeners (noun)

Any material used to thicken.

- He looked up “thickeners” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “thickeners” to mean any material used to thicken.

---

tibiae (noun)

The inner and thicker of the two bones of the human leg between the knee and ankle.

- He looked up “tibiae” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “tibiae” to mean the inner and thicker of the two bones of the human....

---

tiger cowrie (noun)

Cowrie whose shell is used for ornament.

- Understanding “tiger cowrie” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “tiger cowrie” to mean cowrie whose shell is used for ornament.

---

toles (noun)

Enameled or lacquered metalware (usually gilded and elaborately painted); popular in the 18th century.

- They discussed “toles” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “toles” because he had never seen it before.

---

tontine (noun)

A form of life insurance whereby on the death or default of a participant his share is distributed to the remaining members.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “tontine.”
- They discussed “tontine” during the group presentation.

---

tontine insurance (noun)

A form of life insurance whereby on the death or default of a participant his share is distributed to the remaining members.

- They discussed “tontine insurance” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “tontine insurance.”

---

tragicomic (adjective)

Of or relating to or characteristic of tragicomedy.

- A playwright specializing in tragicomic drama.
- Would you call this situation “tragicomic”? Explain why.

tramlines (noun)

The track on which trams or streetcars run.

- The article explained what "tramlines" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "tramlines" during the group presentation.

transposons (noun)

A segment of DNA that can become integrated at many different sites along a chromosome (especially a segment of bacterial DNA that can be translocated as a whole).

- Understanding "transposons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "transposons."

trencher (noun)

A wooden board or platter on which food is served or carved.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "trencher."
- They discussed "trencher" during the group presentation.

triamcinolone (noun)

A synthetic corticosteroid (trade names Aristocort or Aristopak or Kenalog) used as an anti-inflammatory agent.

- He looked up "triamcinolone" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "triamcinolone" during the group presentation.

trichotillomania (noun)

An irresistible urge to pull out your own hair.

- They discussed "trichotillomania" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "trichotillomania" means with a simple example.

triticum (noun)

Annual cereal grasses from Mediterranean area; widely cultivated in temperate regions.

- They discussed "triticum" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "triticum" because he had never seen it before.

tsuga (noun)

Hemlock; hemlock fir; hemlock spruce.

- Understanding "tsuga" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "tsuga" means with a simple example.

tuaregs (noun)

The dialect of Berber spoken by the Tuareg.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "tuaregs."
- He looked up "tuaregs" because he had never seen it before.

turkoman (noun)

The Turkic language spoken by the Turkoman.

- They discussed "turkoman" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "turkoman" because he had never seen it before.

twelves (noun)

The cardinal number that is the sum of eleven and one.

- He looked up "twelves" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "twelves."

underclothes (noun)

Undergarment worn next to the skin and under the outer garments.

- In class, the teacher used "underclothes" to mean undergarment worn next to the skin and under the....
- The article explained what "underclothes" means with a simple example.

unenforced (adjective)

Not enforced; not compelled especially by legal or police action.

- Too many unenforced laws can breed contempt for law.
- The speaker chose "unenforced" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

unreconstructed (adjective)

Adhering to an attitude or position widely held to be outmoded.

- Peasants are still unreconstructed small capitalists at heart.
- There are probably more unreconstructed Southerners than one would like to admit.

---

unredeemed (adjective)

In danger of the eternal punishment of Hell.

- Students compared "unredeemed" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Would you call this situation "unredeemed"? Explain why.

---

variorum (noun)

An edition containing various versions of a text or notes by various scholars or editors.

- The article explained what "variorum" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "variorum" during the group presentation.

---

variorum edition (noun)

An edition containing various versions of a text or notes by various scholars or editors.

- The article explained what "variorum edition" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "variorum edition" during the group presentation.

---

vasomotor (adjective)

Relating to the nerves and muscles that cause the blood vessels to constrict or dilate.

- It is useful to describe something as "vasomotor" when it is relating to the nerves and muscles that cause the....
- Students compared "vasomotor" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

viburnum lantana (noun)

Vigorous deciduous European treelike shrub common along waysides; red berries turn black.

- They discussed "viburnum lantana" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "viburnum lantana" means with a simple example.

---

virgos (noun)

A large zodiacal constellation on the equator; between Leo and Libra.

- In class, the teacher used "virgos" to mean a large zodiacal constellation on the equator;....
- The article explained what "virgos" means with a simple example.

---

visualisations (noun)

A mental image that is similar to a visual perception.

- He looked up "visualisations" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "visualisations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vitalism (noun)

(philosophy) a doctrine that life is a vital principle distinct from physics and chemistry.

- The article explained what "vitalism" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "vitalism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vitiate (verb)

Corrupt morally or by intemperance or sensuality.

- She tried to use "vitiate" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "vitiate" when talking about this idea.

---

vocalise (verb)

Sing (each note a scale or in a melody) with the same vowel.

- She tried to use "vocalise" carefully so everyone would understand.

- The coach explained when to use "vocalise" and when to wait.

---

waggons (noun)

A car that has a long body and rear door with space behind rear seat.

- Understanding "waggons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "waggons" means with a simple example.

---

wankel rotary engine (noun)

A rotary engine that is a four-stroke internal-combustion engine without reciprocating parts.

- They discussed "wankel rotary engine" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wankel rotary engine."

---

warhols (noun)

United States artist who was a leader of the Pop Art movement (1930-1987).

- In class, the teacher used "warhols" to mean united states artist who was a leader of the pop....
- They discussed "warhols" during the group presentation.

---

wastrel (noun)

Someone who dissipates resources self-indulgently.

- Understanding "wastrel" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "wastrel" to mean someone who dissipates resources self-indulgently.

---

weighbridge (noun)

Platform scale flush with a roadway for weighing vehicles and cattle etc.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "weighbridge."
- He looked up "weighbridge" because he had never seen it before.

---

wharfs (noun)

A platform built out from the shore into the water and supported by piles; provides access to ships and boats.

- The article explained what "wharfs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "wharfs" to mean a platform built out from the shore into the water....

---

whitebait (noun)

The edible young of especially herrings and sprats and smelts.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whitebait."
- Understanding "whitebait" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

whiteys (noun)

(slang) offensive names for a White man.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whiteys."
- Understanding "whiteys" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

wildes (noun)

Irish writer and wit (1854-1900).

- In class, the teacher used "wildes" to mean irish writer and wit (1854-1900).
- They discussed "wildes" during the group presentation.

---

windsors (noun)

A city in southeastern Ontario on the Detroit River opposite Detroit.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "windsors."
- They discussed "windsors" during the group presentation.

---

wrangles (verb)

To quarrel noisily, angrily or disruptively.

- In everyday English, people use "wrangles" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "wrangles" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

yaps (verb)

Bark in a high-pitched tone.

- Can you use "yaps" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "yaps" and when to wait.

---

yobo (noun)

A cruel and brutal fellow.

- The article explained what "yobo" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "yobo" to mean a cruel and brutal fellow.

---

abaca (noun)

A kind of hemp obtained from the abaca plant in the Philippines.

- Understanding "abaca" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "abaca" means with a simple example.

---

abas (noun)

A fabric woven from goat hair and camel hair.

- They discussed "abas" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "abas" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

abbreviating (verb)

Reduce in scope while retaining essential elements.

- She tried to use "abbreviating" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "abbreviating" until he saw an example.

---

abele (noun)

A poplar that is widely cultivated in the United States; has white bark and leaves with whitish undersurfaces.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "abele."
- He looked up "abele" because he had never seen it before.

---

abruption (noun)

An instance of sudden interruption.

- Understanding "abruption" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "abruption" to mean an instance of sudden interruption.

---

abusively (adverb)

In an abusive manner.

- He behaved abusively toward his children.
- She spoke "abusively," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

achaean (noun)

A member of one of four linguistic divisions of the prehistoric Greeks.

- The article explained what "achaean" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "achaean" during the group presentation.

---

adad (noun)

Babylonian god of storms and wind.

- He looked up "adad" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "adad" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

aerofoil (noun)

A device that provides reactive force when in motion relative to the surrounding air; can lift or control a plane in flight.

- The article explained what "aerofoil" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "aerofoil" to mean a device that provides reactive force when in....

---

aesir (noun)

(Norse mythology) the chief race of gods living at Asgard.

- He looked up “aesir” because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used “aesir” to mean (norse mythology) the chief race of gods living at....

---

alembic (noun)

An obsolete kind of container used for distillation; two retorts connected by a tube.

- The article explained what “alembic” means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “alembic.”

---

alkyd (noun)

A durable synthetic resin widely used in adhesives and paints.

- They discussed “alkyd” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “alkyd” to mean a durable synthetic resin widely used in adhesives....

---

american merganser (noun)

Common North American diving duck considered a variety of the European goosander.

- He looked up “american merganser” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “american merganser.”

---

anencephaly (noun)

A defect in brain development resulting in small or missing brain hemispheres.

- Understanding “anencephaly” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “anencephaly” to mean a defect in brain development resulting in small or....

---

angulated (verb)

Make or become angular.

- Can you use “angulated” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use “angulated” until he saw an example.

---

anthologized (verb)

Compile an anthology.

- The coach explained when to use “anthologized” and when to wait.
- Can you use “anthologized” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

anunnaki (noun)

Any of a group of powerful Babylonian earth spirits or genii; servitors of the gods.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “anunnaki.”
- He looked up “anunnaki” because he had never seen it before.

---

anuses (noun)

The excretory opening at the end of the alimentary canal.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “anuses.”
- He looked up “anuses” because he had never seen it before.

---

apperception (noun)

The process whereby perceived qualities of an object are related to past experience.

- In class, the teacher used “apperception” to mean the process whereby perceived qualities of an....
- Understanding “apperception” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

arbs (noun)

Someone who engages in arbitrage (who purchases securities in one market for immediate resale in another in the hope of profiting from the price differential).

- He looked up “arbs” because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding “arbs” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

arraign (verb)

Call before a court to answer an indictment.

- She tried to use “arraign” carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use “arraign” in real sentences.

articulately (adverb)

In an articulate manner.

- He argued articulately for his plan.
- Using "articulately" can make your explanation more exact.

ashkenazim (noun)

A Jew of eastern European or German descent.

- They discussed "ashkenazim" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "ashkenazim" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

asystole (noun)

Absence of systole; failure of the ventricles of the heart to contract (usually caused by ventricular fibrillation) with consequent absence of the heart beat leading to oxygen lack and eventually to death.

- Understanding "asystole" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "asystole" because he had never seen it before.

atrioventricular nodal rhythm (noun)

The normal cardiac rhythm when the heart is controlled by the atrioventricular node.

- In class, the teacher used "atrioventricular nodal rhythm" to mean the normal cardiac rhythm when the heart is....
- Understanding "atrioventricular nodal rhythm" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

attributive genitive (noun)

A word in the genitive case that is used as an attributive adjective.

- An example of the attributive genetive is 'John's' in 'John's mother'.
- In class, the teacher used "attributive genitive" to mean a word in the genitive case that is used as an....

attributive genitive case (noun)

A word in the genitive case that is used as an attributive adjective.

- An example of the attributive genetive is 'John's' in 'John's mother'.
- In class, the teacher used "attributive genitive case" to mean a word in the genitive case that is used as an....

augers (noun)

A long flexible steel coil for dislodging stoppages in curved pipes.

- They discussed "augers" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "augers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

autoerotic (adjective)

Sexually satisfying yourself (as by masturbation).

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "autoerotic."
- The speaker chose "autoerotic" because it captured the feeling precisely.

availabilities (noun)

The quality of being at hand when needed.

- They discussed "availabilities" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "availabilities" means with a simple example.

avascular (adjective)

Without blood vessels.

- Would you call this situation "avascular"? Explain why.
- A "avascular" approach may work better in this case.

avena sativa (noun)

Widely cultivated in temperate regions for its edible grains.

- The article explained what "avena sativa" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "avena sativa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

avidity (noun)

A positive feeling of wanting to push ahead with something.

- In class, the teacher used "avidity" to mean a positive feeling of wanting to push ahead with....
- He looked up "avidity" because he had never seen it before.

---

backdating (verb)

Make effective from an earlier date.

- Learners should practice how to use "backdating" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "backdating" and when to wait.

---

barrettes (noun)

A pin for holding women's hair in place.

- In class, the teacher used "barrettes" to mean a pin for holding women's hair in place.
- He looked up "barrettes" because he had never seen it before.

---

battle of fontenoy (noun)

A battle in 1745 in which the French army under Marshal Saxe defeated the English army and their allies under the duke of Cumberland.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "battle of fontenoy."
- He looked up "battle of fontenoy" because he had never seen it before.

---

battlement (noun)

A rampart built around the top of a castle with regular gaps for firing arrows or guns.

- He looked up "battlement" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "battlement" to mean a rampart built around the top of a castle with....

---

bean tostada (noun)

A flat tortilla topped with refried beans.

- Understanding "bean tostada" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "bean tostada" to mean a flat tortilla topped with refried beans.

---

bedsores (noun)

A chronic ulcer of the skin caused by prolonged pressure on it (as in bedridden patients).

- The article explained what "bedsores" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "bedsores" during the group presentation.

---

belying (verb)

Be in contradiction with.

- She tried to use "belying" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "belying" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

benni (noun)

East Indian annual erect herb; source of sesame seed or benniseed and sesame oil.

- Understanding "benni" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "benni" because he had never seen it before.

---

berberis (noun)

Large genus of shrubs of temperate zones of New and Old Worlds.

- In class, the teacher used "berberis" to mean large genus of shrubs of temperate zones of new and....
- The article explained what "berberis" means with a simple example.

---

bernard mannes baruch (noun)

Economic advisor to United States Presidents (1870-1965).

- They discussed "bernard mannes baruch" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bernard mannes baruch."

---

betsy griscom ross (noun)

American seamstress said to have made the first American flag at the request of George Washington (1752-1836).

- Understanding "betsy griscom ross" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "betsy griscom ross."

---

bhang (noun)

A preparation of the leaves and flowers of the hemp plant; much used in India.

- Understanding "bhang" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "bhang" during the group presentation.

---

bioassay (noun)

Appraisal of the biological activity of a substance by testing its effect on an organism and comparing the result with some agreed standard.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bioassay."
- They discussed "bioassay" during the group presentation.

---

bioweapons (noun)

Any weapon usable in biological warfare.

- They discussed "bioweapons" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bioweapons."

---

bitmaps (noun)

An image represented as a two dimensional array of brightness values for pixels.

- Understanding "bitmaps" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "bitmaps" during the group presentation.

---

bloodily (adverb)

Involving a great bloodshed.

- Place "bloodily" carefully so the meaning stays clear.
- He answered "bloodily," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

blowfly (noun)

Large usually hairy metallic blue or green fly; lays eggs in carrion or dung or wounds.

- They discussed "blowfly" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "blowfly" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

blowhards (noun)

A very boastful and talkative person.

- In class, the teacher used "blowhards" to mean a very boastful and talkative person.
- The article explained what "blowhards" means with a simple example.

---

brilliancy (noun)

A quality that outshines the usual.

- The article explained what "brilliancy" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "brilliancy" during the group presentation.

---

brooder (noun)

Apparatus consisting of a box designed to maintain a constant temperature by the use of a thermostat; used for chicks or premature infants.

- They discussed "brooder" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brooder."

---

brooder pneumonia (noun)

Severe respiratory disease of birds that takes the form of an acute rapidly fatal pneumonia in young chickens and turkeys.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brooder pneumonia."
- He looked up "brooder pneumonia" because he had never seen it before.

---

brownout (noun)

Darkness resulting from the extinction of lights (as in a city invisible to enemy aircraft).

- Understanding "brownout" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "brownout."

---

bruneian (adjective)

Of or relating to or characteristic of Brunei or its people.

- Bruneian oil production.
- It is useful to describe something as "bruneian" when it is of or relating to or characteristic of brunei or....

---

bullfinch (noun)

Common European finch mostly black and white with red throat and breast.

- The article explained what "bullfinch" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "bullfinch" to mean common european finch mostly black and white with....

---

bungles (verb)

Make a mess of, destroy or ruin.

- She tried to use "bungles" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "bungles" until he saw an example.

---

butterfat (noun)

The fatty substance of milk from which butter is made.

- They discussed "butterfat" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "butterfat" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

calligraphers (noun)

Someone skilled in penmanship.

- The article explained what "calligraphers" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "calligraphers."

---

campanula (noun)

Any of various plants of the genus Campanula having blue or white bell-shaped flowers.

- He looked up "campanula" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "campanula" during the group presentation.

---

campanula medium (noun)

European biennial widely cultivated for its blue or violet or white flowers.

- They discussed "campanula medium" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "campanula medium."

---

capriccio (noun)

An instrumental composition that doesn't adhere to rules for any specific musical form and is played with improvisation.

- They discussed "capriccio" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "capriccio" because he had never seen it before.

---

catechisms (noun)

A series of question put to an individual (such as a political candidate) to elicit their views.

- He looked up "catechisms" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "catechisms."

---

chao phraya (noun)

A river in Thailand formed by the confluence of the Nan and Ping Rivers; flows southward past Bangkok and empties into the Gulf of Thailand.

- Understanding "chao phraya" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "chao phraya" means with a simple example.

---

charles bullfinch (noun)

United States architect who designed the Capitol Building in Washington which served as a model for state capitols throughout the United States (1763-1844).

- They discussed "charles bullfinch" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "charles bullfinch" because he had never seen it before.

---

chattered (verb)

Talk socially without exchanging too much information.

- Learners should practice how to use "chattered" in real sentences.
- He did not know how to use "chattered" until he saw an example.

---

chipewyan (noun)

A member of the Athapaskan people living in western Canada between Great Slave Lake and Hudson Bay.

- Understanding "chipewyan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "chipewyan" means with a simple example.

---

chucker-out (noun)

A person whose duty is to throw troublemakers out of a bar or public meeting.

- Understanding "chucker-out" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "chucker-out" to mean a person whose duty is to throw troublemakers out....

---

circumspection (noun)

The trait of being circumspect and prudent.

- In class, the teacher used "circumspection" to mean the trait of being circumspect and prudent.
- He looked up "circumspection" because he had never seen it before.

---

clawback (noun)

Finding a way to take money back from people that they were given in another way.

- The Treasury will find some clawback for the extra benefits members received.
- Understanding "clawback" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cloisonne (noun)

Enamelware in which colored areas are separated by thin metal strips.

- He looked up "cloisonne" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cloisonne."

---

clv (adjective)

Being five more than one hundred fifty.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "clv."
- Students compared "clv" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

cocci (noun)

Any spherical or nearly spherical bacteria.

- The article explained what "cocci" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "cocci" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cockfight (noun)

A match in a cockpit between two fighting cocks heeled with metal gaffs.

- He looked up "cockfight" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "cockfight" during the group presentation.

---

coffeepot (noun)

Tall pot in which coffee is brewed.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "coffeepot."
- He looked up "coffeepot" because he had never seen it before.

---

coitus interruptus (noun)

A method of birth control in which coitus is initiated but the penis is deliberately withdrawn before ejaculation.

- In class, the teacher used "coitus interruptus" to mean a method of birth control in which coitus is....
- He looked up "coitus interruptus" because he had never seen it before.

---

compline (noun)

Last of the seven canonical hours just before retiring.

- The article explained what "compline" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "compline" during the group presentation.

conceptualisation (noun)

Inventing or contriving an idea or explanation and formulating it mentally.

- They discussed "conceptualisation" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "conceptualisation."

concision (noun)

Terseness and economy in writing and speaking achieved by expressing a great deal in just a few words.

- They discussed "concision" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "concision" means with a simple example.

consignee (noun)

The person to whom merchandise is delivered over.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "consignee."
- He looked up "consignee" because he had never seen it before.

contriving (verb)

Come up with (an idea, plan, explanation, theory, or principle) after a mental effort.

- He did not know how to use "contriving" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "contriving" and when to wait.

controling (verb)

Exercise authoritative control or power over.

- Can you use "controling" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "controling" when talking about this idea.

cordovan (noun)

A fine leather originally made in Cordoba, Spain.

- Understanding "cordovan" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "cordovan" to mean a fine leather originally made in cordoba, spain.

cornus canadensis (noun)

Creeping perennial herb distinguished by red berries and clustered leaf whorls at the tips of shoots; Greenland to Alaska.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cornus canadensis."
- The article explained what "cornus canadensis" means with a simple example.

cottonwoods (noun)

American basswood of the Allegheny region.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cottonwoods."
- They discussed "cottonwoods" during the group presentation.

creameries (noun)

A workplace where dairy products (butter and cheese etc.) are produced or sold.

- In class, the teacher used "creameries" to mean a workplace where dairy products (butter and cheese....
- The article explained what "creameries" means with a simple example.

creditworthy (adjective)

Having an acceptable credit rating.

- It is useful to describe something as "creditworthy" when it is having an acceptable credit rating.
- Would you call this situation "creditworthy"? Explain why.

crooners (noun)

A singer of popular ballads.

- They discussed "crooners" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "crooners" means with a simple example.

ctcs (noun)

An agency that helps the Director of Central Intelligence coordinate counterterrorist efforts in order to preempt and disrupt and defeat terrorist activities at the earliest possible stage.

- The article explained what "ctcs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "ctcs" to mean an agency that helps the director of central....

---

cyano group (noun)

The monovalent group -CN in a chemical compound.

- They discussed "cyano group" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "cyano group" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cyano radical (noun)

The monovalent group -CN in a chemical compound.

- In class, the teacher used "cyano radical" to mean the monovalent group -cn in a chemical compound.
- Understanding "cyano radical" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cycads (noun)

Any tropical gymnosperm of the order Cycadales; having unbranched stems with a crown of fernlike leaves.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cycads."
- Understanding "cycads" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

dacoits (noun)

A member of an armed gang of robbers.

- They discussed "dacoits" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "dacoits" to mean a member of an armed gang of robbers.

---

davits (noun)

A crane-like device (usually one of a pair) for suspending or lowering equipment (as a lifeboat).

- The article explained what "davits" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "davits" to mean a crane-like device (usually one of a pair) for....

---

daybed (noun)

An armless couch; a seat by day and a bed by night.

- They discussed "daybed" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "daybed" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

deadened (adjective)

Made or become less intense.

- The deadened pangs of hunger.
- She felt no discomfort as the dentist drilled her deadened tooth.

---

decipherment (noun)

The activity of making clear or converting from code into plain text.

- In class, the teacher used "decipherment" to mean the activity of making clear or converting from....
- He looked up "decipherment" because he had never seen it before.

---

decolonizing (verb)

Grant independence to (a former colony).

- Can you use "decolonizing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "decolonizing" and when to wait.

---

decrypts (verb)

Convert code into ordinary language.

- She tried to use "decrypts" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "decrypts" when talking about this idea.

---

deglaze (verb)

Dissolve cooking juices or solid food in (a pan) by adding liquid and stirring.

- Learners should practice how to use "deglaze" in real sentences.

- The coach explained when to use “deglaze” and when to wait.

---

degreasing (verb)

Remove grease or oil from (a pan).

- He did not know how to use “degreasing” until he saw an example.
- Can you use “degreasing” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

demarcating (verb)

Set, mark, or draw the boundaries of something.

- He did not know how to use “demarcating” until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use “demarcating” and when to wait.

---

demotions (noun)

Act of lowering in rank or position.

- In class, the teacher used “demotions” to mean act of lowering in rank or position.
- They discussed “demotions” during the group presentation.

---

derisory (adjective)

Incongruous;inviting ridicule.

- A “derisory” approach may work better in this case.
- Students compared “derisory” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

desensitised (verb)

Cause not to be sensitive.

- Learners should practice how to use “desensitised” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “desensitised” when talking about this idea.

---

destabilised (verb)

Make unstable.

- Can you use “destabilised” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use “destabilised” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

destress (verb)

Reduce the emphasis.

- Can you use “destress” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use “destress” when talking about this idea.

---

dewdrop (noun)

A drop of dew.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “dewdrop.”
- The article explained what “dewdrop” means with a simple example.

---

dichromate (noun)

A salt of the hypothetical dichromic acid.

- In class, the teacher used “dichromate” to mean a salt of the hypothetical dichromic acid.
- The article explained what “dichromate” means with a simple example.

---

dilantin (noun)

An anticonvulsant drug (trade name Dilantin) used to treat epilepsy and that is not a sedative.

- They discussed “dilantin” during the group presentation.
- He looked up “dilantin” because he had never seen it before.

---

dimensioning (adjective)

Indicating or determining size and position in space.

- The ultrasonic dimensioning measurement.
- An ultrasonic dimensioning arrangement of the heart.

---

direst (adjective)

Fraught with extreme danger; nearly hopeless; ; - G.C.Marshall.

- The speaker chose "direst" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "direst" when it is fraught with extreme danger; nearly hopeless; ; -....

---

disabused (adjective)

Freed of a mistaken or misguided notion.

- Some people are still not disabused of the old idea that the universe revolves around the Earth.
- It is useful to describe something as "disabused" when it is freed of a mistaken or misguided notion.

---

discomfited (noun)

People who are defeated.

- They discussed "discomfited" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "discomfited" to mean people who are defeated.

---

dissensions (noun)

A conflict of people's opinions or actions or characters.

- Understanding "dissensions" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "dissensions" during the group presentation.

---

documentations (noun)

Program listings or technical manuals describing the operation and use of programs.

- They discussed "documentations" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "documentations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

donatus (noun)

Roman grammarian whose textbook on Latin grammar was used throughout the Middle Ages (fourth century).

- He looked up "donatus" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "donatus" during the group presentation.

---

donjon (noun)

The main tower within the walls of a medieval castle or fortress.

- In class, the teacher used "donjon" to mean the main tower within the walls of a medieval....
- They discussed "donjon" during the group presentation.

---

dormice (noun)

Small furry-tailed squirrel-like Old World rodent that becomes torpid in cold weather.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dormice."
- They discussed "dormice" during the group presentation.

---

douching (verb)

Direct a spray of water into a bodily cavity, for cleaning.

- In everyday English, people use "douching" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "douching" in real sentences.

---

downhills (noun)

The downward slope of a hill.

- Understanding "downhills" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "downhills" to mean the downward slope of a hill.

---

dphil (noun)

A British doctorate.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dphil."
- They discussed "dphil" during the group presentation.

---

drome (noun)

An airfield equipped with control tower and hangars as well as accommodations for passengers and cargo.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "drome."
- He looked up "drome" because he had never seen it before.

---

dryads (noun)

A deity or nymph of the woods.

- They discussed "dryads" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "dryads" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

duelists (noun)

A person who fights duels.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "duelists."
- The article explained what "duelists" means with a simple example.

---

dumbly (adverb)

In an inarticulate manner.

- I nodded dumbly and he slit the envelope.
- The narrator describes the scene "dumbly" in the final chapter.

---

eagled (verb)

Shoot two strokes under par.

- She eagled the hole.
- The coach explained when to use "eagled" and when to wait.

---

easterner (noun)

An inhabitant of an eastern area; especially of the U.S.

- The article explained what "easterner" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "easterner" to mean an inhabitant of an eastern area; especially of the u.s.

---

ecstasies (noun)

A state of being carried away by overwhelming emotion; - Charles Dickens.

- He looked up "ecstasies" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "ecstasies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

effacement (noun)

Withdrawing into the background; making yourself inconspicuous.

- In class, the teacher used "effacement" to mean withdrawing into the background; making yourself....
- They discussed "effacement" during the group presentation.

---

elizabeth cleghorn stevenson gaskell (noun)

English writer who is remembered for her biography of Charlotte Bronte (1810-1865).

- He looked up "elizabeth cleghorn stevenson gaskell" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "elizabeth cleghorn stevenson gaskell" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

elongates (verb)

Make long or longer by pulling and stretching.

- She tried to use "elongates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "elongates" until he saw an example.

---

embellishes (verb)

Make more attractive by adding ornament, colour, etc.

- Can you use "embellishes" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "embellishes" and when to wait.

---

encouragements (noun)

The act of giving hope or support to someone.

- He looked up "encouragements" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "encouragements" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

endoskeleton (noun)

The internal skeleton; bony and cartilaginous structure (especially of vertebrates).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "endoskeleton."
- Understanding "endoskeleton" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

epidurals (noun)

Regional anesthesia resulting from injection of an anesthetic into the epidural space of the spinal cord; sensation is lost in the abdominal and genital and pelvic areas; used in childbirth and gynecological surgery.

- The article explained what "epidurals" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "epidurals" to mean regional anesthesia resulting from injection of an....

epoxies (noun)

A thermosetting resin; used chiefly in strong adhesives and coatings and laminates.

- The article explained what "epoxies" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "epoxies" during the group presentation.

eradicates (verb)

Destroy completely, as if down to the roots.

- Can you use "eradicates" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "eradicates" and when to wait.

erythema multiforme (noun)

A red rash caused by hypersensitivity to a drug or disease or other allergen.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "erythema multiforme."
- The article explained what "erythema multiforme" means with a simple example.

esterified (verb)

Change (a compound) into an ester.

- The coach explained when to use "esterified" and when to wait.
- Can you use "esterified" in a sentence that fits this situation?

ethnographical (adjective)

Of or relating to ethnography.

- Ethnographical data.
- A "ethnographical" approach may work better in this case.

everts (verb)

Turn inside out; turn the inner surface of outward.

- He did not know how to use "everts" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "everts" when talking about this idea.

excises (verb)

Remove by erasing or crossing out or as if by drawing a line.

- Learners should practice how to use "excises" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "excises" when talking about this idea.

expirations (noun)

A coming to an end of a contract period.

- In class, the teacher used "expirations" to mean a coming to an end of a contract period.
- The article explained what "expirations" means with a simple example.

fakest (adjective)

Not genuine or real; being an imitation of the genuine article.

- Would you call this situation "fakest"? Explain why.
- The speaker chose "fakest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

fathomed (verb)

Measure the depth of (a body of water) with a sounding line.

- Learners should practice how to use "fathomed" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "fathomed" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

felis serval (noun)

Slender long-legged African wildcat having large untufted ears and tawny black-spotted coat.

- He looked up "felis serval" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "felis serval" during the group presentation.

---

fervid (adjective)

Extremely hot; - Nathaniel Hawthorne; - Frances Trollope.

- Set out...when the fervid heat subsides.
- Students compared "fervid" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

fickleness (noun)

Unfaithfulness by virtue of being unreliable or treacherous.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "fickleness."
- He looked up "fickleness" because he had never seen it before.

---

filiform (adjective)

Thin in diameter; resembling a thread.

- Students compared "filiform" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "filiform" approach may work better in this case.

---

firkin (noun)

A British unit of capacity equal to 9 imperial gallons.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "firkin."
- He looked up "firkin" because he had never seen it before.

---

fissionable (adjective)

Capable of undergoing nuclear fission.

- A fissionable nucleous.
- Fissionable material.

---

flexibilities (noun)

The quality of being adaptable or variable.

- The article explained what "flexibilities" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "flexibilities" to mean the quality of being adaptable or variable.

---

flighted (adjective)

Having feathers.

- Arrows flighted argent.
- A "flighted" approach may work better in this case.

---

flitter (verb)

Move back and forth very rapidly.

- Learners should practice how to use "flitter" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "flitter" and when to wait.

---

flogger (noun)

A torturer who flogs or scourges (especially an official whose duty is to whip offenders).

- He looked up "flogger" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "flogger" to mean a torturer who flogs or scourges (especially an....

---

fontenoy (noun)

A battle in 1745 in which the French army under Marshal Saxe defeated the English army and their allies under the duke of Cumberland.

- In class, the teacher used "fontenoy" to mean a battle in 1745 in which the french army under....

- He looked up "fontenoy" because he had never seen it before.

---

fraps (verb)

Take up the slack of.

- Learners should practice how to use "fraps" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "fraps" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

fraternize (verb)

Be on friendly terms with someone, as if with a brother, especially with an enemy.

- She tried to use "fraternize" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "fraternize" until he saw an example.

---

fraud in the factum (noun)

Fraud that arises from a disparity between the instrument intended to be executed and the instrument actually executed; e.g., leading someone to sign the wrong contract.

- Understanding "fraud in the factum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "fraud in the factum" during the group presentation.

---

frederic goudy (noun)

United States printer noted for designing typefaces (1865-1947).

- He looked up "frederic goudy" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "frederic goudy."

---

frederic william goudy (noun)

United States printer noted for designing typefaces (1865-1947).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "frederic william goudy."
- He looked up "frederic william goudy" because he had never seen it before.

---

freights (noun)

The charge for transporting something by common carrier.

- Understanding "freights" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "freights" to mean the charge for transporting something by common carrier.

---

frenzies (noun)

State of violent mental agitation.

- In class, the teacher used "frenzies" to mean state of violent mental agitation.
- Understanding "frenzies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gammons (noun)

Meat cut from the thigh of a hog (usually smoked).

- He looked up "gammons" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "gammons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gastrulation (noun)

The process in which a gastrula develops from a blastula by the inward migration of cells.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gastrulation."
- They discussed "gastrulation" during the group presentation.

---

gelt (noun)

Informal terms for money.

- Understanding "gelt" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "gelt" means with a simple example.

---

geordies (noun)

The nonstandard dialect of natives of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

- He looked up "geordies" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "geordies."

---

giant puffball (noun)

Huge edible puffball up to 2 feet diameter and 25 pounds in weight.

- The article explained what "giant puffball" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "giant puffball."

gimps (verb)

Walk impeded by some physical limitation or injury.

- The coach explained when to use "gimps" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "gimps" carefully so everyone would understand.

glamorizing (verb)

Make glamorous and attractive.

- He did not know how to use "glamorizing" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "glamorizing" carefully so everyone would understand.

godparent (noun)

A person who sponsors someone (the godchild) at baptism.

- He looked up "godparent" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "godparent" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

gouty (adjective)

Suffering from gout.

- Students compared "gouty" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "gouty."

grenadian (adjective)

Of or relating to or characteristic of Grenada or its inhabitants.

- The Grenadian capital.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "grenadian."

grosgrain (noun)

A silk or silklike fabric with crosswise ribs.

- In class, the teacher used "grosgrain" to mean a silk or silklike fabric with crosswise ribs.
- He looked up "grosgrain" because he had never seen it before.

gyres (noun)

A round shape formed by a series of concentric circles (as formed by leaves or flower petals).

- Understanding "gyres" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "gyres" because he had never seen it before.

haemorrhages (noun)

The flow of blood from a ruptured blood vessel.

- He looked up "haemorrhages" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "haemorrhages."

halicarnassus (noun)

An ancient Greek city on the southwestern coast of Asia Minor in what is now Turkey; site of the mausoleum at Halicarnassus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "halicarnassus."
- He looked up "halicarnassus" because he had never seen it before.

hans jurgen eysenck (noun)

A British psychologist (born in Germany) noted for his theories of intelligence and personality and for his strong criticism of Freudian psychoanalysis.

- They discussed "hans jurgen eysenck" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "hans jurgen eysenck" means with a simple example.

hasp (noun)

A fastener for a door or lid; a hinged metal plate is fitted over a staple and is locked with a pin or padlock.

- Understanding "hasp" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "hasp" means with a simple example.

---

haughtiness (noun)

Overbearing pride evidenced by a superior manner toward inferiors.

- They discussed "haughtiness" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "haughtiness" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

heaviside (noun)

English physicist and electrical engineer who helped develop telegraphic and telephonic communications; in 1902 (independent of A. E. Kennelly) he suggested the existence of an atmospheric layer that reflects radio waves back to earth (1850-1925).

- He looked up "heaviside" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "heaviside" during the group presentation.

---

heaviside layer (noun)

A region of the ionosphere (from 50 to 90 miles up) that reflects radio waves of medium length.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "heaviside layer."
- They discussed "heaviside layer" during the group presentation.

---

hebraic (adjective)

Of or relating to the language of the Hebrews.

- Students compared "hebraic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "hebraic."

---

hedger (noun)

A gardener who takes care of and trims hedges.

- They discussed "hedger" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "hedger" to mean a gardener who takes care of and trims hedges.

---

heinrich engelhard steinway (noun)

United States piano maker (born in Germany) who founded a famous piano manufacturing firm in New York (1797-1871).

- He looked up "heinrich engelhard steinway" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "heinrich engelhard steinway."

---

helminths (noun)

Worm that is parasitic on the intestines of vertebrates especially roundworms and tapeworms and flukes.

- In class, the teacher used "helminths" to mean worm that is parasitic on the intestines of....
- He looked up "helminths" because he had never seen it before.

---

herpetologist (noun)

A zoologist who studies reptiles and amphibians.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "herpetologist."
- The article explained what "herpetologist" means with a simple example.

---

hidebound (adjective)

Stubbornly conservative and narrow-minded.

- Students compared "hidebound" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "hidebound" approach may work better in this case.

---

hijaz (noun)

A coastal region of the western Arabian Peninsula bordering on the Red Sea; includes both Mecca and Medina; formerly an independent kingdom until it united with Nejd to form the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

- In class, the teacher used "hijaz" to mean a coastal region of the western arabian peninsula....
- The article explained what "hijaz" means with a simple example.

---

horology (noun)

The art of designing and making clocks.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "horology."

- He looked up "horology" because he had never seen it before.

---

hosepipe (noun)

A flexible pipe for conveying a liquid or gas.

- The article explained what "hosepipe" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "hosepipe" to mean a flexible pipe for conveying a liquid or gas.

---

hospitalize (verb)

Admit into a hospital.

- Mother had to be hospitalized because her blood pressure was too high.
- She tried to use "hospitalize" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

hugo alvar henrik aalto (noun)

Finnish architect and designer of furniture (1898-1976).

- The article explained what "hugo alvar henrik aalto" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "hugo alvar henrik aalto" during the group presentation.

---

humdinger (noun)

Someone of remarkable excellence.

- A humdinger of a secretary.
- The article explained what "humdinger" means with a simple example.

---

hypnagogic (adjective)

Sleep inducing.

- The speaker chose "hypnagogic" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "hypnagogic" approach may work better in this case.

---

hypnotists (noun)

A person who induces hypnosis.

- The article explained what "hypnotists" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "hypnotists" during the group presentation.

---

identikit (noun)

A likeness of a person's face constructed from descriptions given to police; uses a set of transparencies of various facial features that can be combined to build up a picture of the person sought.

- They discussed "identikit" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "identikit" means with a simple example.

---

identikit picture (noun)

A likeness of a person's face constructed from descriptions given to police; uses a set of transparencies of various facial features that can be combined to build up a picture of the person sought.

- The article explained what "identikit picture" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "identikit picture" to mean a likeness of a person's face constructed from....

---

imperfective (noun)

Aspect without regard to the beginning or completion of the action of the verb.

- They discussed "imperfective" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "imperfective" to mean aspect without regard to the beginning or....

---

imperfective aspect (noun)

Aspect without regard to the beginning or completion of the action of the verb.

- They discussed "imperfective aspect" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "imperfective aspect" means with a simple example.

---

imperforate hymen (noun)

Hymen that is completely closed so that menstrual blood cannot flow out.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "imperforate hymen."
- They discussed "imperforate hymen" during the group presentation.

---

imperia (noun)

The domain ruled by an emperor or empress; the region over which imperial dominion is exercised.

- They discussed “imperia” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “imperia” to mean the domain ruled by an emperor or empress; the....

---

impolitic (adjective)

Not politic.

- An impolitic approach to a sensitive issue.
- Students compared “impolitic” with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

impugning (verb)

Attack as false or wrong.

- She tried to use “impugning” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “impugning” and when to wait.

---

incompetently (adverb)

In an incompetent manner.

- He did the job rather incompetently.
- Using “incompetently” can make your explanation more exact.

---

indisposition (noun)

A certain degree of unwillingness.

- His hesitancy revealed his basic indisposition.
- He looked up “indisposition” because he had never seen it before.

---

inkblot (noun)

A blot made with ink.

- They discussed “inkblot” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “inkblot” means with a simple example.

---

inkblot test (noun)

A projective tests using bilaterally symmetrical inkblots; subjects state what they see in the inkblot.

- They discussed “inkblot test” during the group presentation.
- The article explained what “inkblot test” means with a simple example.

---

intermixing (verb)

Combine into one.

- The coach explained when to use “intermixing” and when to wait.
- Can you use “intermixing” in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

intertwines (verb)

Spin,wind, or twist together.

- Learners should practice how to use “intertwines” in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use “intertwines” and when to wait.

---

irritably (adverb)

In a petulant manner.

- She had become irritably exact.
- He answered “irritably,” which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

isentropic (adjective)

With unchanging entropy; at constant entropy.

- Would you call this situation “isentropic”? Explain why.
- The speaker chose “isentropic” because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

jangled (verb)

Make a sound typical of metallic objects.

- He did not know how to use "jangled" until he saw an example.
- In everyday English, people use "jangled" when talking about this idea.

---

jespersen (noun)

Danish linguist (1860-1943).

- The article explained what "jespersen" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "jespersen" during the group presentation.

---

jiggled (verb)

Move to and fro.

- Learners should practice how to use "jiggled" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "jiggled" when talking about this idea.

---

jodhpurs (noun)

Flared trousers ending at the calves; worn with riding boots.

- The article explained what "jodhpurs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "jodhpurs" to mean flared trousers ending at the calves; worn with....

---

keb (noun)

Egyptian god of the earth; father of Osiris and Isis.

- In class, the teacher used "keb" to mean egyptian god of the earth; father of osiris and isis.
- The article explained what "keb" means with a simple example.

---

kikes (noun)

(ethnic slur) offensive term for a Jew.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kikes."
- He looked up "kikes" because he had never seen it before.

---

kirghiz (noun)

The Turkic language spoken by the Kirghiz.

- He looked up "kirghiz" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "kirghiz."

---

knockabout (noun)

A sloop with a simplified rig and no bowsprit.

- They discussed "knockabout" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "knockabout" to mean a sloop with a simplified rig and no bowsprit.

---

kookaburras (noun)

Australian kingfisher having a loud cackling cry.

- In class, the teacher used "kookaburras" to mean australian kingfisher having a loud cackling cry.
- They discussed "kookaburras" during the group presentation.

---

lachaise (noun)

United States sculptor (born in France) noted for his large nude figures (1882-1935).

- He looked up "lachaise" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "lachaise" during the group presentation.

---

laconically (adverb)

In a dry laconic manner; he said dryly.

- The narrator describes the scene "laconically" in the final chapter.
- He answered "laconically," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

lake urmia (noun)

A shallow saline lake in northwestern Iran between Tabriz and the western border of Turkey.

- The article explained what "lake urmia" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lake urmia."

lamella (noun)

A thin membrane that is one of the calcified layers that form bones.

- Understanding "lamella" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "lamella" means with a simple example.

laskar jihad (noun)

A paramilitary terrorist organization of militant Muslims in Indonesia; wages a jihad against Christians in Indonesia; subscribes to the Wahhabi creed of Islam.

- In class, the teacher used "laskar jihad" to mean a paramilitary terrorist organization of militant....
- He looked up "laskar jihad" because he had never seen it before.

laster (adjective)

Coming after all others in time or space or degree or being the only one remaining.

- The speaker chose "laster" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as "laster" when it is coming after all others in time or space or degree....

leeuwenhoek (noun)

Dutch pioneer microscopist who was among the first to recognize cells in animals and who gave the first accurate descriptions of microbes and spermatozoa and blood corpuscles (1632-1723).

- He looked up "leeuwenhoek" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "leeuwenhoek."

leopold kronecker (noun)

German mathematician (1823-1891).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "leopold kronecker."
- The article explained what "leopold kronecker" means with a simple example.

liker (adjective)

Having the same or similar characteristics.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "liker."
- Students compared "liker" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

liquify (verb)

Make (a solid substance) liquid, as by heating.

- In everyday English, people use "liquify" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "liquify" in real sentences.

listlessly (adverb)

In a listless manner.

- They shook hands rather listlessly.
- She spoke "listlessly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

logy (adjective)

Stunned or confused and slow to react (as from blows or drunkenness or exhaustion).

- A "logy" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "logy" when it is stunned or confused and slow to react (as from....

lorded (verb)

Make a lord of someone.

- The coach explained when to use "lorded" and when to wait.
- She tried to use "lorded" carefully so everyone would understand.

lubber (noun)

An inexperienced sailor; a sailor on the first voyage.

- In class, the teacher used "lubber" to mean an inexperienced sailor; a sailor on the first voyage.
- The article explained what "lubber" means with a simple example.

lubber line (noun)

A fixed line on a ship's compass indicating its heading.

- In class, the teacher used "lubber line" to mean a fixed line on a ship's compass indicating its heading.
- He looked up "lubber line" because he had never seen it before.

---

malabo (noun)

The capital and largest city of Equatorial Guinea on the island of Bioko in the Gulf of Guinea.

- Understanding "malabo" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "malabo" to mean the capital and largest city of equatorial guinea....

---

manageress (noun)

A woman manager.

- In class, the teacher used "manageress" to mean a woman manager.
- He looked up "manageress" because he had never seen it before.

---

meres (noun)

A small pond of standing water.

- In class, the teacher used "meres" to mean a small pond of standing water.
- Understanding "meres" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

merganser (noun)

Large crested fish-eating diving duck having a slender hooked bill with serrated edges.

- He looked up "merganser" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "merganser" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

mesabi range (noun)

A range of hills in northeastern Minnesota where rich iron ore deposits were discovered in 1887.

- In class, the teacher used "mesabi range" to mean a range of hills in northeastern minnesota where....
- He looked up "mesabi range" because he had never seen it before.

---

michael ondaatje (noun)

Canadian writer (born in Sri Lanka in 1943).

- The article explained what "michael ondaatje" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "michael ondaatje" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

milking shorthorn (noun)

Breed evolved from shorthorn beef cattle.

- Understanding "milking shorthorn" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "milking shorthorn" means with a simple example.

---

mirabilis laevis (noun)

California four o'clock with purple-red flowers.

- In class, the teacher used "mirabilis laevis" to mean california four o'clock with purple-red flowers.
- He looked up "mirabilis laevis" because he had never seen it before.

---

mols (noun)

The molecular weight of a substance expressed in grams; the basic unit of amount of substance adopted under the Systeme International d'Unites.

- They discussed "mols" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "mols" to mean the molecular weight of a substance expressed in....

---

monarchic (adjective)

Ruled by or having the supreme power resting with a monarch.

- Monarchical systems.
- It is useful to describe something as "monarchic" when it is ruled by or having the supreme power resting with a....

---

monotonously (adverb)

In a monotonous manner.

- The history of the play throughout the latter part of the eighteenth century is monotonously uneventful.
- He answered "monotonously," which changed the tone of the conversation.

montrachet (noun)

A white Burgundy wine.

- The article explained what "montrachet" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "montrachet."

mucilage (noun)

A gelatinous substance secreted by plants.

- They discussed "mucilage" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mucilage."

mucks (verb)

Soil with mud, muck, or mire.

- Can you use "mucks" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "mucks" when talking about this idea.

muhammadan (adjective)

Of or relating to the Arabian prophet Muhammad or to the religion he founded.

- A "muhammadan" approach may work better in this case.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "muhammadan."

muhammadan calendar (noun)

The lunar calendar used by Muslims; dates from 622 AD (the year of the Hegira); the beginning of the Muslim year retrogresses through the solar year completing the cycle every 32 years.

- They discussed "muhammadan calendar" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "muhammadan calendar" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

murdochs (noun)

United States publisher (born in Australia in 1931).

- They discussed "murdochs" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "murdochs."

mutilates (verb)

Destroy or injure severely.

- The madman mutilates art work.
- Learners should practice how to use "mutilates" in real sentences.

naiad (noun)

(Greek mythology) a nymph of lakes and springs and rivers and fountains.

- They discussed "naiad" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "naiad."

naiad family (noun)

Monotypic family of aquatic plants having narrow leaves and small flowers.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "naiad family."
- He looked up "naiad family" because he had never seen it before.

neptunium (noun)

A radioactive transuranic metallic element; found in trace amounts in uranium ores; a by-product of the production of plutonium.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "neptunium."
- The article explained what "neptunium" means with a simple example.

nibbler (noun)

A biter who takes dainty repeated bites.

- Understanding "nibbler" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "nibbler" because he had never seen it before.

nicolas leonard sadi carnot (noun)

French physicist who founded thermodynamics (1796-1832).

- In class, the teacher used "nicolas leonard sadi carnot" to mean french physicist who founded thermodynamics (1796-1832).
- The article explained what "nicolas leonard sadi carnot" means with a simple example.

---

nilgiri hills (noun)

Hills in southern India.

- Understanding "nilgiri hills" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "nilgiri hills" during the group presentation.

---

nixing (verb)

Command against.

- He did not know how to use "nixing" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "nixing" in real sentences.

---

non-ugric (noun)

One of two branches of the Finno-Ugric languages; a family of languages including Finnish and Estonian (but not Hungarian).

- Understanding "non-ugric" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "non-ugric" because he had never seen it before.

---

numidia (noun)

An ancient kingdom (later a Roman province) in North Africa in an area corresponding roughly to present-day Algeria.

- They discussed "numidia" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "numidia" to mean an ancient kingdom (later a roman province) in....

---

nutcrackers (noun)

A compound lever used to crack nuts open.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nutcrackers."
- They discussed "nutcrackers" during the group presentation.

---

nyssa aquatica (noun)

Columnar swamp tree of southeastern to midwestern North America yielding pale soft easily worked wood.

- The article explained what "nyssa aquatica" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "nyssa aquatica" to mean columnar swamp tree of southeastern to midwestern....

---

officeholder (noun)

Someone who is appointed or elected to an office and who holds a position of trust.

- He looked up "officeholder" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "officeholder."

---

okeh (noun)

An endorsement.

- The article explained what "okeh" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "okeh" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

oligopolies (noun)

(economics) a market in which control over the supply of a commodity is in the hands of a small number of producers and each one can influence prices and affect competitors.

- Understanding "oligopolies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "oligopolies" to mean (economics) a market in which control over the....

---

oliver heaviside (noun)

English physicist and electrical engineer who helped develop telegraphic and telephonic communications; in 1902 (independent of A. E. Kennelly) he suggested the existence of an atmospheric layer that reflects radio waves back to earth (1850-1925).

- The article explained what "oliver heaviside" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "oliver heaviside" during the group presentation.

---

olm (noun)

European aquatic salamander with permanent external gills that lives in caves.

- He looked up "olm" because he had never seen it before.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “olm.”

---

ondaatje (noun)

Canadian writer (born in Sri Lanka in 1943).

- He looked up “ondaatje” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “ondaatje.”

---

oophorectomy (noun)

Surgical removal of one of both ovaries.

- In class, the teacher used “oophorectomy” to mean surgical removal of one of both ovaries.
- Understanding “oophorectomy” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

orzo (noun)

Pasta shaped like pearls of barley; frequently prepared with lamb in Greek cuisine.

- Understanding “orzo” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what “orzo” means with a simple example.

---

otitis interna (noun)

Inflammation of the inner ear; can cause vertigo and vomiting.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “otitis interna.”
- He looked up “otitis interna” because he had never seen it before.

---

outshining (verb)

Attract more attention and praise than others.

- The coach explained when to use “outshining” and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use “outshining” until he saw an example.

---

overfill (verb)

Fill beyond capacity.

- Overfill the baskets.
- In everyday English, people use “overfill” when talking about this idea.

---

overreacts (verb)

Show an exaggerated response to something.

- Learners should practice how to use “overreacts” in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use “overreacts” when talking about this idea.

---

oversexed (adjective)

Having excessive sexual desire or appeal.

- The speaker chose “oversexed” because it captured the feeling precisely.
- It is useful to describe something as “oversexed” when it is having excessive sexual desire or appeal.

---

overstressed (verb)

Place special or excessive emphasis on.

- Can you use “overstressed” in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use “overstressed” carefully so everyone would understand.

---

pallium (noun)

The layer of unmyelinated neurons (the grey matter) forming the cortex of the cerebrum.

- In class, the teacher used “pallium” to mean the layer of unmyelinated neurons (the grey matter)....
- The article explained what “pallium” means with a simple example.

---

pantheons (noun)

A monument commemorating a nation’s dead heroes.

- He looked up “pantheons” because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed “pantheons” during the group presentation.

---

particularized (adjective)

Directed toward a specific object.

- Particularized thinking as distinct from stereotyped sloganeering.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "particularized."

pemmican (noun)

Lean dried meat pounded fine and mixed with melted fat; used especially by North American Indians.

- Understanding "pemmican" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "pemmican" during the group presentation.

penalising (verb)

Impose a penalty on; inflict punishment on.

- The coach explained when to use "penalising" and when to wait.
- He did not know how to use "penalising" until he saw an example.

pharyngitis (noun)

Inflammation of the fauces and pharynx.

- Understanding "pharyngitis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "pharyngitis" during the group presentation.

phenolics (noun)

A thermosetting resin.

- They discussed "phenolics" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "phenolics" means with a simple example.

philibert de l'orme (noun)

French royal architect who built the Tuileries Palace and Gardens in Paris for Catherine de Medicis (1515-1570).

- He looked up "philibert de l'orme" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "philibert de l'orme."

philip michael ondaatje (noun)

Canadian writer (born in Sri Lanka in 1943).

- The article explained what "philip michael ondaatje" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "philip michael ondaatje" to mean canadian writer (born in sri lanka in 1943).

phonographs (noun)

Machine in which rotating records cause a stylus to vibrate and the vibrations are amplified acoustically or electronically.

- They discussed "phonographs" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "phonographs" to mean machine in which rotating records cause a stylus to....

pieris (noun)

Decorative evergreen shrubs of woody vines.

- He looked up "pieris" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "pieris" to mean decorative evergreen shrubs of woody vines.

plainness (noun)

The state of being unmixed with other material.

- The plainness of vanilla ice cream.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "plainness."

plantago (noun)

Type genus of the family Plantaginaceae; large cosmopolitan genus of mostly small herbs.

- Understanding "plantago" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "plantago" because he had never seen it before.

plantago major (noun)

Common European perennial naturalized worldwide; a troublesome weed.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “plantago major.”
- He looked up “plantago major” because he had never seen it before.

---

plantago media (noun)

Widely distributed Old World perennial naturalized in North America having finely hairy leaves and inconspicuous white fragrant flowers.

- In class, the teacher used “plantago media” to mean widely distributed old world perennial naturalized....
- They discussed “plantago media” during the group presentation.

---

plateful (noun)

The quantity contained in a plate.

- The article explained what “plateful” means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used “plateful” to mean the quantity contained in a plate.

---

plumed tussock (noun)

Tall grass of New Zealand grown for plumelike flower heads.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “plumed tussock.”
- They discussed “plumed tussock” during the group presentation.

---

pokers (noun)

Fire iron consisting of a metal rod with a handle; used to stir a fire.

- In class, the teacher used “pokers” to mean fire iron consisting of a metal rod with a handle;....
- Understanding “pokers” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

polkas (noun)

A Bohemian dance with 3 steps and a hop in fast time.

- Understanding “polkas” helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used “polkas” to mean a bohemian dance with 3 steps and a hop in fast time.

---

porker (noun)

A pig fattened to provide meat.

- They discussed “porker” during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “porker.”

---

postmistress (noun)

A woman postmaster.

- In class, the teacher used “postmistress” to mean a woman postmaster.
- The article explained what “postmistress” means with a simple example.

---

potentates (noun)

A ruler who is unconstrained by law.

- The article explained what “potentates” means with a simple example.
- They discussed “potentates” during the group presentation.

---

potsherds (noun)

A shard of pottery.

- He looked up “potsherds” because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included “potsherds.”

---

procreating (verb)

Have offspring or produce more individuals of a given animal or plant.

- Learners should practice how to use “procreating” in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use “procreating” and when to wait.

---

professionalize (verb)

Make professional or give a professional character to.

- Philosophy has not always been professionalized and used to be a subject pursued only by amateurs.
- In everyday English, people use “professionalize” when talking about this idea.

proliferates (verb)

Cause to grow or increase rapidly.

- Learners should practice how to use "proliferates" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "proliferates" when talking about this idea.

prominences (noun)

The state of being prominent: widely known or eminent.

- They discussed "prominences" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "prominences" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

proverbially (adverb)

In the manner of something that has become a byword.

- This proverbially bitter plant, wormwood.
- The narrator describes the scene "proverbially" in the final chapter.

psychophysiology (noun)

The branch of psychology that is concerned with the physiological bases of psychological processes.

- The article explained what "psychophysiology" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "psychophysiology" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

puffball (noun)

Any of various fungi of the genus Scleroderma having hard-skinned subterranean fruiting bodies resembling truffles.

- He looked up "puffball" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "puffball" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

pyxis (noun)

A small box used by ancient Greeks to hold medicines.

- The article explained what "pyxis" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "pyxis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

quantic (noun)

A homogeneous polynomial having at least two variables.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "quantic."
- The article explained what "quantic" means with a simple example.

quints (noun)

The cardinal number that is the sum of four and one.

- He looked up "quints" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "quints" during the group presentation.

quitclaim (noun)

Document transferring title or right or claim to another.

- The article explained what "quitclaim" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "quitclaim" to mean document transferring title or right or claim to....

quitclaim deed (noun)

Document transferring title or right or claim to another.

- They discussed "quitclaim deed" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "quitclaim deed" to mean document transferring title or right or claim to....

raffled (verb)

Dispose of in a lottery.

- We raffled off a trip to the Bahamas.
- The coach explained when to use "raffled" and when to wait.

ragged orchis (noun)

Fringed orchid of the eastern United States having a greenish flower with the lip deeply lacerated.

- Understanding "ragged orchis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "ragged orchis" means with a simple example.

---

rambutan (noun)

Pleasantly acid bright red oval Malayan fruit covered with soft spines.

- In class, the teacher used "rambutan" to mean pleasantly acid bright red oval malayan fruit....
- They discussed "rambutan" during the group presentation.

---

rambutan tree (noun)

Malayan tree bearing spiny red fruit.

- Understanding "rambutan tree" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "rambutan tree" during the group presentation.

---

rankles (verb)

Gnaw into; make resentful or angry.

- She tried to use "rankles" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "rankles" until he saw an example.

---

rasht (noun)

City in northwestern Iran near the Caspian Sea.

- In class, the teacher used "rasht" to mean city in northwestern iran near the caspian sea.
- The article explained what "rasht" means with a simple example.

---

reagans (noun)

40th President of the United States (1911-2004).

- They discussed "reagans" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "reagans" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

realer (adjective)

No less than what is stated; worthy of the name.

- A "realer" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "realer" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

recanting (verb)

Formally reject or disavow a formerly held belief, usually under pressure.

- Can you use "recanting" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "recanting" and when to wait.

---

recluses (noun)

One who lives in solitude.

- In class, the teacher used "recluses" to mean one who lives in solitude.
- Understanding "recluses" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

recombining (verb)

Cause genetic recombination.

- Can you use "recombining" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "recombining" and when to wait.

---

reconquered (verb)

Conquer anew.

- The country reconquered the territory lost in the previous war.
- He did not know how to use "reconquered" until he saw an example.

---

redcap (noun)

A member of the military police in Britain.

- They discussed "redcap" during the group presentation.

- In class, the teacher used "redcap" to mean a member of the military police in britain.

---

reticule (noun)

A woman's drawstring handbag; usually made of net or beading or brocade; used in 18th and 19th centuries.

- The article explained what "reticule" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "reticule" to mean a woman's drawstring handbag; usually made of net....

---

rosebush (noun)

Any of many shrubs of the genus Rosa that bear roses.

- They discussed "rosebush" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "rosebush" means with a simple example.

---

rubato (noun)

A flexible tempo; not strictly on the beat.

- They discussed "rubato" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "rubato" to mean a flexible tempo; not strictly on the beat.

---

samuel rosenstock (noun)

French poet (born in Romania) who was one of the cofounders of the dada movement (1896-1963).

- Understanding "samuel rosenstock" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "samuel rosenstock" means with a simple example.

---

scrapheap (noun)

An accumulation of refuse and discarded matter.

- The article explained what "scrapheap" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "scrapheap" to mean an accumulation of refuse and discarded matter.

---

sectorial (adjective)

Relating to or resembling a sector.

- A sectorial box.
- It is useful to describe something as "sectorial" when it is relating to or resembling a sector.

---

seedsman (noun)

A dealer in seeds.

- Understanding "seedsman" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "seedsman" means with a simple example.

---

self-effacement (noun)

Withdrawing into the background; making yourself inconspicuous.

- The article explained what "self-effacement" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "self-effacement" to mean withdrawing into the background; making yourself....

---

servility (noun)

Abject or cringing submissiveness.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "servility."
- He looked up "servility" because he had never seen it before.

---

sidled (verb)

Move unobtrusively or furtively.

- He did not know how to use "sidled" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "sidled" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

slaking (verb)

Cause to heat and crumble by treatment with water.

- Can you use "slaking" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "slaking" and when to wait.

---

sloughed (verb)

Cast off hair, skin, horn, or feathers.

- Can you use "sloughed" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- He did not know how to use "sloughed" until he saw an example.

---

snacked (verb)

Eat a snack; eat lightly.

- In everyday English, people use "snacked" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "snacked" in real sentences.

---

snooks (noun)

Large tropical American food and game fishes of coastal and brackish waters; resemble pike.

- The article explained what "snooks" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "snooks" to mean large tropical american food and game fishes of....

---

sodium dichromate (noun)

A red-orange salt used as a mordant.

- They discussed "sodium dichromate" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "sodium dichromate" means with a simple example.

---

somberly (adverb)

In a somber manner.

- 'That's sure bad news,' said Dowd, somberly.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "somberly" naturally.

---

sonars (noun)

A measuring instrument that sends out an acoustic pulse in water and measures distances in terms of the time for the echo of the pulse to return.

- Understanding "sonars" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "sonars" during the group presentation.

---

sonorities (noun)

Having the character of a loud deep sound; the quality of being resonant.

- They discussed "sonorities" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "sonorities" to mean having the character of a loud deep sound; the....

---

sophisticate (verb)

Alter and make impure, as with the intention to deceive.

- Sophisticate rose water with geraniol.
- Their manners had sophisticated the young girls.

---

sparkplug wrench (noun)

A wrench for removing or tightening spark plugs into the cylinder head of an internal combustion engine.

- Understanding "sparkplug wrench" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "sparkplug wrench" because he had never seen it before.

---

spheroids (noun)

A shape that is generated by rotating an ellipse around one of its axes.

- They discussed "spheroids" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "spheroids" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

spiciest (adjective)

Producing a burning sensation on the taste nerves.

- Students compared "spiciest" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "spiciest."

---

spinous (adjective)

Shaped like a spine or thorn.

- A "spinous" approach may work better in this case.
- The speaker chose "spinous" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

splendours (noun)

The quality of being magnificent or splendid or grand.

- They discussed "splendours" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "splendours" to mean the quality of being magnificent or splendid or grand.

---

spliffs (noun)

Marijuana leaves rolled into a cigarette for smoking.

- The article explained what "spliffs" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "spliffs" to mean marijuana leaves rolled into a cigarette for smoking.

---

stenography (noun)

The act or art of writing in shorthand.

- Stenography is no longer a marketable skill.
- He looked up "stenography" because he had never seen it before.

---

sterilising (verb)

Make free from bacteria.

- In everyday English, people use "sterilising" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "sterilising" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

stonecutters (noun)

Someone who cuts or carves stone.

- They discussed "stonecutters" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "stonecutters" because he had never seen it before.

---

stratum corneum (noun)

The outermost layer of the epidermis consisting of dead cells that slough off.

- They discussed "stratum corneum" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "stratum corneum" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

strucker (adjective)

(used in combination) affected by something overwhelming.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "strucker."
- Students compared "strucker" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

strymon (noun)

Large and widely distributed genus of hairstreak butterflies.

- He looked up "strymon" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "strymon" during the group presentation.

---

stutterer (noun)

Someone who speaks with involuntary pauses and repetitions.

- Understanding "stutterer" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "stutterer" to mean someone who speaks with involuntary pauses and....

---

submenu (noun)

A secondary menu that appears while you are holding the cursor over an item on the primary menu.

- They discussed "submenu" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "submenu" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

suction curettage (noun)

A method of induced abortion; prior to the 14th week of gestation the embryo and placenta are removed by applying suction to the dilated cervix.

- They discussed "suction curettage" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "suction curettage."

sulfonic acid (noun)

An acid derived from sulphuric acid.

- He looked up "sulfonic acid" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "sulfonic acid."

superordinate (noun)

A word that is more generic than a given word.

- The article explained what "superordinate" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "superordinate" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

superordinate word (noun)

A word that is more generic than a given word.

- They discussed "superordinate word" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "superordinate word."

swiveled (verb)

Turn on a pivot.

- In everyday English, people use "swiveled" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "swiveled" in a sentence that fits this situation?

synodic month (noun)

The period between successive new moons (29.531 days).

- They discussed "synodic month" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "synodic month" to mean the period between successive new moons (29.531 days).

systole (noun)

The contraction of the chambers of the heart (especially the ventricles) to drive blood into the aorta and pulmonary artery.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "systole."
- The article explained what "systole" means with a simple example.

tabulations (noun)

The act of putting into tabular form.

- Understanding "tabulations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "tabulations" to mean the act of putting into tabular form.

tael (noun)

A unit of weight used in east Asia approximately equal to 1.3 ounces.

- Understanding "tael" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "tael" during the group presentation.

tamarisk gerbil (noun)

A gerbil that is popular as a pet.

- The article explained what "tamarisk gerbil" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "tamarisk gerbil" to mean a gerbil that is popular as a pet.

tantalize (verb)

Harass with persistent criticism or carping.

- Learners should practice how to use "tantalize" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "tantalize" and when to wait.

temporal arteritis (noun)

Inflammation of the temporal arteries; characterized by headaches and difficulty chewing and (sometimes) visual impairment.

- They discussed "temporal arteritis" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "temporal arteritis" to mean inflammation of the temporal arteries;....

thermic (adjective)

Relating to or associated with heat.

- Thermic energy.
- Students compared "thermic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

thermic fever (noun)

Sudden prostration due to exposure to the sun or excessive heat.

- Understanding "thermic fever" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "thermic fever."

---

thinkable (adjective)

Capable of being conceived or imagined or considered.

- Students compared "thinkable" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "thinkable" approach may work better in this case.

---

toadstools (noun)

Common name for an inedible or poisonous agaric (contrasting with the edible mushroom).

- Understanding "toadstools" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "toadstools" to mean common name for an inedible or poisonous agaric....

---

toilers (noun)

One who works strenuously.

- Understanding "toilers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "toilers" to mean one who works strenuously.

---

tostada (noun)

A flat tortilla with various fillings piled on it.

- Understanding "tostada" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "tostada" during the group presentation.

---

tramped (verb)

Travel on foot, especially on a walking expedition.

- He did not know how to use "tramped" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "tramped" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

treasons (noun)

A crime that undermines the offender's government.

- The article explained what "treasons" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "treasons" to mean a crime that undermines the offender's government.

---

trotskyite (noun)

Radicals who support Trotsky's theory that socialism must be established throughout the world by continuing revolution.

- In class, the teacher used "trotskyite" to mean radicals who support trotsky's theory that....
- He looked up "trotskyite" because he had never seen it before.

---

true puffball (noun)

Any of various fungi of the family Lycoperdaceae whose round fruiting body discharges a cloud of spores when mature.

- He looked up "true puffball" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "true puffball" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

tsimshian (noun)

A Penutian language spoken by the Tsimshian.

- He looked up "tsimshian" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "tsimshian" during the group presentation.

---

tunnelled (verb)

Move through by or as by digging.

- He did not know how to use "tunnelled" until he saw an example.

- The coach explained when to use "tunnelled" and when to wait.

---

turkmens (noun)

The Turkic language spoken by the Turkoman.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "turkmens."
- They discussed "turkmens" during the group presentation.

---

tylers (noun)

A town in northeast Texas.

- The article explained what "tylers" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "tylers" during the group presentation.

---

ugric (noun)

One of the two branches of the Finno-Ugric family of languages; spoken in Hungary and northwestern Siberia.

- He looked up "ugric" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "ugric."

---

umayyads (noun)

The first dynasty of Arab caliphs whose capital was Damascus.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "umayyads."
- The article explained what "umayyads" means with a simple example.

---

unbridgeable (adjective)

Not bridgeable.

- A wide unbridgeable river.
- Unbridgeable generation gap.

---

underplay (verb)

Play a card lower than (a held high card).

- She tried to use "underplay" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "underplay" in real sentences.

---

underselling (verb)

Sell cheaper than one's competition.

- She tried to use "underselling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "underselling" until he saw an example.

---

unfitness (noun)

The quality of not being suitable.

- The judges agreed on his unfitness for the appointment.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "unfitness."

---

unhinge (verb)

Disturb in mind or make uneasy or cause to be worried or alarmed.

- Unhinge the door.
- Learners should practice how to use "unhinge" in real sentences.

---

unschooled (adjective)

Lacking in schooling.

- Would you call this situation "unschooled"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "unschooled."

---

unsent (adjective)

Not dispatched or transmitted.

- The letter remained unwritten and unsent.
- The speaker chose "unsent" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

uplinks (noun)

A transmission from Earth to a spacecraft or the path of such a transmission.

- In class, the teacher used "uplinks" to mean a transmission from earth to a spacecraft or the....
- The article explained what "uplinks" means with a simple example.

---

urmia (noun)

A city on the western side of Lake Urmia in northwestern Iran.

- Understanding "urmia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "urmia" during the group presentation.

---

utopians (noun)

An idealistic (but usually impractical) social reformer.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "utopians."
- He looked up "utopians" because he had never seen it before.

---

vacillate (verb)

Move or sway in a rising and falling or wavelike pattern.

- The line on the monitor vacillated.
- Can you use "vacillate" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

vamped (verb)

Provide (a shoe) with a new vamp.

- Can you use "vamped" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "vamped" when talking about this idea.

---

verged (verb)

Border on; come close to.

- Can you use "verged" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- In everyday English, people use "verged" when talking about this idea.

---

vicia sativa (noun)

Herbaceous climbing plant valuable as fodder and for soil-building.

- He looked up "vicia sativa" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "vicia sativa" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vinous (adjective)

Of or relating to wine.

- Students compared "vinous" with similar adjectives in the lesson.
- A "vinous" approach may work better in this case.

---

vitis vinifera (noun)

Common European grape cultivated in many varieties; chief source of Old World wine and table grapes.

- The article explained what "vitis vinifera" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "vitis vinifera" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

vivarium (noun)

An indoor enclosure for keeping and raising living animals and plants and observing them under natural conditions.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "vivarium."
- He looked up "vivarium" because he had never seen it before.

---

wainscot (noun)

Wooden panels that can be used to line the walls of a room.

- Understanding "wainscot" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "wainscot" during the group presentation.

---

wankel engine (noun)

A rotary engine that is a four-stroke internal-combustion engine without reciprocating parts.

- Understanding "wankel engine" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "wankel engine" because he had never seen it before.

---

wastepaper basket (noun)

A container with an open top; for discarded paper and other rubbish.

- He looked up "wastepaper basket" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "wastepaper basket."

---

watchfulness (noun)

The process of paying close and continuous attention.

- Wakefulness, watchfulness, and bellicosity make a good hunter.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "watchfulness."

---

wheedle (verb)

Influence or urge by gentle urging, caressing, or flattering.

- She tried to use "wheedle" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "wheedle" and when to wait.

---

whited sepulchre (noun)

A person who is inwardly evil but outwardly professes to be virtuous.

- He looked up "whited sepulchre" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "whited sepulchre."

---

wilkins micawber (noun)

Fictional character created by Charles Dickens; an eternal optimist.

- They discussed "wilkins micawber" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "wilkins micawber" to mean fictional character created by charles dickens; an....

---

wittier (adjective)

Combining clever conception and facetious expression.

- Would you call this situation "wittier"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "wittier."

---

woodgrain (noun)

Texture produced by the fibers in wood.

- He looked up "woodgrain" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "woodgrain."

---

wynette (noun)

United States country singer (1942-1998).

- He looked up "wynette" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "wynette" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

xxy (noun)

(genetics) abnormal complement of sex hormones in a male resulting in Klinefelter's syndrome.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "xxy."
- Understanding "xxy" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

xxy-syndrome (noun)

Syndrome in males that is characterized by small testes and long legs and enlarged breasts and reduced sperm production and mental retardation; a genetic defect in which an extra X chromosome (XXY) is present in the male.

- The article explained what "xxy-syndrome" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "xxy-syndrome."

---

abraded (verb)

Rub hard or scrub.

- He did not know how to use "abraded" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "abraded" carefully so everyone would understand.

acculturated (verb)

Assimilate culturally.

- In everyday English, people use "acculturated" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "acculturated" in real sentences.

acetabulum (noun)

The cup-shaped hollow in the hipbone into which the head of the femur fits to form a ball-and-socket joint.

- The article explained what "acetabulum" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "acetabulum" to mean the cup-shaped hollow in the hipbone into which the....

acidifying (verb)

Make sour or more sour.

- In everyday English, people use "acidifying" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "acidifying" in a sentence that fits this situation?

adze (noun)

An edge tool used to cut and shape wood.

- In class, the teacher used "adze" to mean an edge tool used to cut and shape wood.
- Understanding "adze" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

afterimage (noun)

An image (usually a negative image) that persists after stimulation has ceased.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "afterimage."
- He looked up "afterimage" because he had never seen it before.

agriculturists (noun)

Someone concerned with the science or art or business of cultivating the soil.

- They discussed "agriculturists" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "agriculturists" because he had never seen it before.

airily (adverb)

In a flippant manner.

- This cannot be airily explained to your children.
- She spoke "airily," and the audience immediately understood her point.

alecto (noun)

One of the three Furies.

- Understanding "alecto" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "alecto" during the group presentation.

aleksandr scriabin (noun)

Russian composer of orchestral and piano music (1872-1915).

- In class, the teacher used "aleksandr scriabin" to mean russian composer of orchestral and piano music....
- The article explained what "aleksandr scriabin" means with a simple example.

algren (noun)

United States writer (1909-1981).

- The article explained what "algren" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "algren" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

allemande (noun)

Egg-thickened veloute.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "allemande."
- Understanding "allemande" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

allemande sauce (noun)

Egg-thickened veloute.

- He looked up "allemande sauce" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "allemande sauce" to mean egg-thickened veloute.

---

allylic (adjective)

Of or pertaining to the allyl radical.

- Would you call this situation "allylic"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "allylic."

---

amaranthus (noun)

Large widely distributed genus of chiefly coarse annual herbs.

- Understanding "amaranthus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "amaranthus."

---

amnesic (noun)

A person suffering from amnesia.

- He looked up "amnesic" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "amnesic" during the group presentation.

---

amorality (noun)

The quality of being amoral.

- In class, the teacher used "amorality" to mean the quality of being amoral.
- They discussed "amorality" during the group presentation.

---

angstroms (noun)

A metric unit of length equal to one ten billionth of a meter (or 0.0001 micron); used to specify wavelengths of electromagnetic radiation.

- In class, the teacher used "angstroms" to mean a metric unit of length equal to one ten billionth....
- Understanding "angstroms" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

anser (noun)

Typical geese.

- The article explained what "anser" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "anser."

---

appliques (noun)

A decorative design made of one material sewn over another.

- Understanding "appliques" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "appliques" to mean a decorative design made of one material sewn over....

---

apposition (noun)

The act of positioning close together (or side by side).

- 'Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer' is an example of apposition.
- Understanding "apposition" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

apprenticing (verb)

Be or work as an apprentice.

- Learners should practice how to use "apprenticing" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "apprenticing" when talking about this idea.

---

araucaria (noun)

Any of several tall South American or Australian trees with large cones and edible seeds.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "araucaria."
- The article explained what "araucaria" means with a simple example.

---

araucaria family (noun)

Tall evergreen cone-bearing trees of South America and Australia with broad leathery leaves; in some classifications included in the Pinaceae.

- The article explained what "araucaria family" means with a simple example.

- In class, the teacher used "araucaria family" to mean tall evergreen cone-bearing trees of south america....

---

artemisia campestris (noun)

European wormwood similar to common wormwood in its properties.

- He looked up "artemisia campestris" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "artemisia campestris" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

arteritis (noun)

Inflammation of an artery.

- They discussed "arteritis" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "arteritis" to mean inflammation of an artery.

---

ases (noun)

A United States territory on the eastern part of the island of Samoa.

- Understanding "ases" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "ases" means with a simple example.

---

asphyxiate (verb)

Deprive of oxygen and prevent from breathing.

- She tried to use "asphyxiate" carefully so everyone would understand.
- In everyday English, people use "asphyxiate" when talking about this idea.

---

astringency (noun)

A sharp astringent taste; the taste experience when a substance causes the mouth to pucker.

- The article explained what "astringency" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "astringency" to mean a sharp astringent taste; the taste experience when....

---

auf wiedersehen (noun)

A farewell remark.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "auf wiedersehen."
- They discussed "auf wiedersehen" during the group presentation.

---

augmentative (adjective)

Increasing or having the power to increase especially in size or amount or degree.

- 'up' is an augmentative word in 'hurry up'.
- It is useful to describe something as "augmentative" when it is increasing or having the power to increase....

---

august von wassermann (noun)

German bacteriologist who developed a diagnostic test for syphilis (1866-1925).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "august von wassermann."
- He looked up "august von wassermann" because he had never seen it before.

---

authenticates (verb)

Establish the authenticity of something.

- She tried to use "authenticates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use "authenticates" and when to wait.

---

babyish (adjective)

Characteristic of a baby.

- Babyish tears and petulance.
- It is useful to describe something as "babyish" when it is characteristic of a baby.

---

barracudas (noun)

Any voracious marine fish of the genus Sphyraena having an elongated cylindrical body and large mouth with projecting lower jaw and long strong teeth.

- He looked up "barracudas" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "barracudas."

---

beadles (noun)

A minor parish official who serves a ceremonial function.

- In class, the teacher used "beadles" to mean a minor parish official who serves a ceremonial....
- Understanding "beadles" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

bedrest (noun)

Confinement to bed continuously (as in the case of some sick or injured persons).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bedrest."
- He looked up "bedrest" because he had never seen it before.

---

befalling (verb)

Happen, occur, or be the case in the course of events or by chance; ; (Santayana).

- She tried to use "befalling" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "befalling" until he saw an example.

---

beriberi (noun)

Avitaminosis caused by lack of thiamine (vitamin B1).

- Understanding "beriberi" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "beriberi."

---

bided (verb)

Make a serious effort to attain something.

- Learners should practice how to use "bided" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "bided" when talking about this idea.

---

billeting (verb)

Provide housing for (military personnel).

- Learners should practice how to use "billeting" in real sentences.
- In everyday English, people use "billeting" when talking about this idea.

---

biodefense (noun)

Procedures involved in taking defensive measures against attacks using biological agents.

- In class, the teacher used "biodefense" to mean procedures involved in taking defensive measures....
- The article explained what "biodefense" means with a simple example.

---

blinking chickweed (noun)

Small Indian lettuce of northern regions.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "blinking chickweed."
- He looked up "blinking chickweed" because he had never seen it before.

---

blueness (noun)

Blue color or pigment; resembling the color of the clear sky in the daytime.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "blueness."
- He looked up "blueness" because he had never seen it before.

---

bluestem (noun)

Tall grass with smooth bluish leaf sheaths grown for hay in the United States.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bluestem."
- He looked up "bluestem" because he had never seen it before.

---

boneheads (noun)

A stupid person; these words are used to express a low opinion of someone's intelligence.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "boneheads."
- The article explained what "boneheads" means with a simple example.

---

brachiopod (adjective)

Of or belonging to the phylum Brachiopoda.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "brachiopod."
- Would you call this situation "brachiopod"? Explain why.

---

bradleys (noun)

United States politician who was elected the first black mayor of Los Angeles (1917-1998).

- Understanding "bradleys" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "bradleys" because he had never seen it before.

---

brawled (verb)

To quarrel noisily, angrily or disruptively.

- He did not know how to use "brawled" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "brawled" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

braziers (noun)

Large metal container in which coal or charcoal is burned; warms people who must stay outside for long times.

- Understanding "braziers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "braziers."

---

brigadiers (noun)

A general officer ranking below a major general.

- Understanding "brigadiers" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "brigadiers" during the group presentation.

---

brigit (noun)

Celtic goddess of fire and fertility and agriculture and household arts and wisdom; later associated with Saint Bridget.

- They discussed "brigit" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "brigit" because he had never seen it before.

---

brownshirts (noun)

A member of the Nazi SA which wore brown uniforms.

- The article explained what "brownshirts" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "brownshirts" to mean a member of the nazi sa which wore brown uniforms.

---

bryan donkin (noun)

English engineer who developed a method of preserving food by sterilizing it with heat and sealing it inside a steel container–the first tin can (1768-1855).

- The article explained what "bryan donkin" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "bryan donkin" during the group presentation.

---

btus (noun)

A unit of heat equal to the amount of heat required to raise one pound of water one degree Fahrenheit at one atmosphere pressure; equivalent to 251.997 calories.

- Understanding "btus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "btus."

---

bulgur pilaf (noun)

Pilaf made with bulgur wheat instead of rice and usually without meat.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "bulgur pilaf."
- He looked up "bulgur pilaf" because he had never seen it before.

---

bumpkins (noun)

A person who is not very intelligent or interested in culture.

- The article explained what "bumpkins" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "bumpkins" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

buttressing (noun)

A support usually of stone or brick; supports the wall of a building.

- He looked up "buttressing" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "buttressing."

california redbud (noun)

Shrub of western United States having pink or crimson flowers; often forms thickets.

- In class, the teacher used "california redbud" to mean shrub of western united states having pink or....
- Understanding "california redbud" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

caloocan (noun)

A suburb of Manila in southwestern Luzon.

- He looked up "caloocan" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "caloocan" to mean a suburb of manila in southwestern luzon.

carjack (verb)

Take someone's car from him by force, usually with the intention of stealing it.

- My car was carjacked last night!
- He did not know how to use "carjack" until he saw an example.

carl orff (noun)

German musician who developed a widely used system for teaching music to children (1895-1982).

- The article explained what "carl orff" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "carl orff" to mean german musician who developed a widely used system....

castellated (adjective)

Having or resembling repeated square indentations like those in a battlement.

- It is useful to describe something as "castellated" when it is having or resembling repeated square indentations....
- A "castellated" approach may work better in this case.

catecholamine (noun)

Any of a group of chemicals including epinephrine and norepinephrine that are produced in the medulla of the adrenal gland.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "catecholamine."
- The article explained what "catecholamine" means with a simple example.

catnap (noun)

Sleeping for a short period of time (usually not in bed).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "catnap."
- Understanding "catnap" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

cementitious (adjective)

Like or relevant to or having the properties of cement.

- The adhesion of cementitious materials.
- The speaker chose "cementitious" because it captured the feeling precisely.

ceremonious (adjective)

Characterized by pomp and ceremony and stately display.

- A "ceremonious" approach may work better in this case.
- It is useful to describe something as "ceremonious" when it is characterized by pomp and ceremony and stately display.

chairlifts (noun)

A ski lift on which riders (skiers or sightseers) are seated and carried up or down a mountainside; seats are hung from an endless overhead cable.

- The article explained what "chairlifts" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "chairlifts" during the group presentation.

chanterelle (noun)

Widely distributed edible mushroom rich yellow in color with a smooth cap and a pleasant apricot aroma.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "chanterelle."
- They discussed "chanterelle" during the group presentation.

characterisations (noun)

The act of describing distinctive characteristics or essential features.

- The article explained what "characterisations" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "characterisations" during the group presentation.

---

cheapskates (noun)

A miserly person.

- In class, the teacher used "cheapskates" to mean a miserly person.
- The article explained what "cheapskates" means with a simple example.

---

checkbooks (noun)

A book issued to holders of checking accounts.

- Understanding "checkbooks" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "checkbooks" during the group presentation.

---

cheval-de-frise (noun)

Defensive structure consisting of a movable obstacle composed of barbed wire or spikes attached to a wooden frame; used to obstruct cavalry.

- The article explained what "cheval-de-frise" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "cheval-de-frise" during the group presentation.

---

chimaera (noun)

A deep-sea fish with a tapering body, smooth skin, and long threadlike tail.

- He looked up "chimaera" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "chimaera" during the group presentation.

---

chintzy (adjective)

Of very poor quality; flimsy.

- The speaker chose "chintzy" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "chintzy."

---

chittering (verb)

Make high-pitched sounds, as of birds.

- He did not know how to use "chittering" until he saw an example.
- Learners should practice how to use "chittering" in real sentences.

---

chlorofluorocarbons (noun)

A fluorocarbon with chlorine; formerly used as a refrigerant and as a propellant in aerosol cans.

- Understanding "chlorofluorocarbons" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "chlorofluorocarbons" because he had never seen it before.

---

cidade de praia (noun)

The capital of Cape Verde on Sao Tiago Island.

- In class, the teacher used "cidade de praia" to mean the capital of cape verde on sao tiago island.
- He looked up "cidade de praia" because he had never seen it before.

---

circumnavigating (verb)

Travel around, either by plane or ship.

- In everyday English, people use "circumnavigating" when talking about this idea.
- Can you use "circumnavigating" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

clamoured (verb)

Utter or proclaim insistently and noisily.

- She tried to use "clamoured" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "clamoured" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

clockmakers (noun)

Someone whose occupation is making or repairing clocks and watches.

- The article explained what "clockmakers" means with a simple example.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “clockmakers.”

---

cockerels (noun)

A young domestic cock; not older than one year.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “cockerels.”
- He looked up “cockerels” because he had never seen it before.

---

cofounders (noun)

One of a group of founders.

- In class, the teacher used “cofounders” to mean one of a group of founders.
- Understanding “cofounders” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

collegians (noun)

A student (or former student) at a college or university.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “collegians.”
- The article explained what “collegians” means with a simple example.

---

colourings (noun)

A digestible substance used to give color to food.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “colourings.”
- He looked up “colourings” because he had never seen it before.

---

commiserating (verb)

To feel or express sympathy or compassion.

- She tried to use “commiserating” carefully so everyone would understand.
- The coach explained when to use “commiserating” and when to wait.

---

common mugwort (noun)

European tufted aromatic perennial herb having hairy red or purple stems and dark green leaves downy white below and red-brown florets.

- In class, the teacher used “common mugwort” to mean european tufted aromatic perennial herb having....
- Understanding “common mugwort” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

contiguity (noun)

The attribute of being so near as to be touching.

- They discussed “contiguity” during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used “contiguity” to mean the attribute of being so near as to be touching.

---

convocations (noun)

A group gathered in response to a summons.

- In class, the teacher used “convocations” to mean a group gathered in response to a summons.
- He looked up “convocations” because he had never seen it before.

---

cooperators (noun)

An associate in an activity or endeavor or sphere of common interest.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included “cooperators.”
- Understanding “cooperators” helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cotyledons (noun)

Embryonic leaf in seed-bearing plants.

- In class, the teacher used “cotyledons” to mean embryonic leaf in seed-bearing plants.
- He looked up “cotyledons” because he had never seen it before.

---

count maurice maeterlinck (noun)

Belgian playwright (1862-1949).

- In class, the teacher used “count maurice maeterlinck” to mean belgian playwright (1862-1949).
- The article explained what “count maurice maeterlinck” means with a simple example.

---

countenanced (verb)

Consent to, give permission.

- He did not know how to use "countenanced" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "countenanced" and when to wait.

---

crenellated (verb)

Supply with battlements.

- In everyday English, people use "crenellated" when talking about this idea.
- He did not know how to use "crenellated" until he saw an example.

---

cudgels (noun)

A club that is used as a weapon.

- They discussed "cudgels" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "cudgels" to mean a club that is used as a weapon.

---

curettage (noun)

Surgery to remove tissue or growths from a bodily cavity (as the uterus) by scraping with a curette.

- He looked up "curettage" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "curettage" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

custards (noun)

Sweetened mixture of milk and eggs baked or boiled or frozen.

- The article explained what "custards" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "custards" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

cyclopean masonry (noun)

A primitive style of masonry characterized by use of massive stones of irregular shape and size.

- The article explained what "cyclopean masonry" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "cyclopean masonry."

---

dactyl (noun)

A metrical unit with stressed-unstressed-unstressed syllables.

- They discussed "dactyl" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "dactyl" because he had never seen it before.

---

darnedest (adjective)

Expletives used informally as intensifiers.

- It is useful to describe something as "darnedest" when it is expletives used informally as intensifiers.
- The speaker chose "darnedest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

---

deafen (verb)

Make soundproof.

- Deafen a room.
- A deafening noise.

---

debacles (noun)

A sudden and violent collapse.

- The article explained what "debacles" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "debacles" to mean a sudden and violent collapse.

---

decongestants (noun)

A drug that decreases pulmonary congestion.

- Understanding "decongestants" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "decongestants" because he had never seen it before.

---

decoratively (adverb)

In a decorative manner.

- Used decoratively at Christmas.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "decoratively" naturally.

---

demur (noun)

(law) a formal objection to an opponent's pleadings.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "demur."
- Understanding "demur" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

desperadoes (noun)

A bold outlaw (especially on the American frontier).

- The article explained what "desperadoes" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "desperadoes."

---

devoir (noun)

Formal expression of respect.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "devoir."
- They discussed "devoir" during the group presentation.

---

dicarboxylic (adjective)

Containing two carboxyls per molecule.

- A "dicarboxylic" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "dicarboxylic"? Explain why.

---

dies irae (noun)

The first words of a medieval Latin hymn describing the Last Judgment (literally 'day of wrath').

- In class, the teacher used "dies irae" to mean the first words of a medieval latin hymn describing....
- Understanding "dies irae" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

digraphs (noun)

Two successive letters (especially two letters used to represent a single sound: 'sh' in 'shoe').

- He looked up "digraphs" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "digraphs."

---

disarticulated (verb)

Separate at the joints.

- She tried to use "disarticulated" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "disarticulated" in real sentences.

---

discographies (noun)

A descriptive catalog of musical recordings.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "discographies."
- Understanding "discographies" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

discontentment (noun)

A longing for something better than the present situation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "discontentment."
- They discussed "discontentment" during the group presentation.

---

disgorge (verb)

Eject the contents of the stomach through the mouth.

- Learners should practice how to use "disgorge" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "disgorge" and when to wait.

---

dishy (adjective)

(informal British) sexually attractive.

- A dishy blonde.
- A "dishy" approach may work better in this case.

dithered (verb)

Act nervously; be undecided; be uncertain.

- Can you use "dithered" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- She tried to use "dithered" carefully so everyone would understand.

dithered color (noun)

A color produced by a pattern of differently colored dots that together simulate the desired color.

- In class, the teacher used "dithered color" to mean a color produced by a pattern of differently....
- The article explained what "dithered color" means with a simple example.

dithered colour (noun)

A color produced by a pattern of differently colored dots that together simulate the desired color.

- The article explained what "dithered colour" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "dithered colour" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

donkin (noun)

English engineer who developed a method of preserving food by sterilizing it with heat and sealing it inside a steel container–the first tin can (1768-1855).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "donkin."
- He looked up "donkin" because he had never seen it before.

dressmakers (noun)

Someone who makes or mends dresses.

- In class, the teacher used "dressmakers" to mean someone who makes or mends dresses.
- They discussed "dressmakers" during the group presentation.

dumbwaiter (noun)

A small elevator used to convey food (or other goods) from one floor of a building to another.

- Understanding "dumbwaiter" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "dumbwaiter."

eavesdropper (noun)

A secret listener to private conversations.

- In class, the teacher used "eavesdropper" to mean a secret listener to private conversations.
- The article explained what "eavesdropper" means with a simple example.

effortful (adjective)

Requiring great physical effort.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "effortful."
- Students compared "effortful" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

elastase (noun)

A pancreatic enzyme that catalyzes the hydrolysis of elastin.

- He looked up "elastase" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "elastase."

embayment (noun)

An indentation of a shoreline larger than a cove but smaller than a gulf.

- Understanding "embayment" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "embayment" during the group presentation.

enervating (adjective)

Causing debilitation.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "enervating."
- Students compared "enervating" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

enlivens (verb)

Heighten or intensify.

- The coach explained when to use "enlivens" and when to wait.
- Can you use "enlivens" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

ephedra sinica (noun)

Chinese ephedra yielding ephedrine.

- In class, the teacher used "ephedra sinica" to mean chinese ephedra yielding ephedrine.
- He looked up "ephedra sinica" because he had never seen it before.

---

ernest thomas sinton walton (noun)

Irish physicist who (with Sir John Cockcroft in 1931) first split an atom (1903-1995).

- The article explained what "ernest thomas sinton walton" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "ernest thomas sinton walton" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

exaggeratedly (adverb)

In an exaggerated manner.

- She spoke "exaggeratedly," and the audience immediately understood her point.
- The narrator describes the scene "exaggeratedly" in the final chapter.

---

exhuming (verb)

Dig up for reburial or for medical investigation; of dead bodies.

- He did not know how to use "exhuming" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "exhuming" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

existentialists (noun)

A philosopher who emphasizes freedom of choice and personal responsibility but who regards human existence in a hostile universe as unexplainable.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "existentialists."
- He looked up "existentialists" because he had never seen it before.

---

expatriation (noun)

The act of expelling a person from their native land.

- The expatriation of wealthy farmers.
- Understanding "expatriation" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

externalize (verb)

Make external or objective, or give reality to.

- Language externalizes our thoughts.
- Can you use "externalize" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

faunus (noun)

(Roman mythology) ancient rural deity; later considered a counterpart of Greek Pan.

- He looked up "faunus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "faunus."

---

federate (verb)

Enter into a league for a common purpose.

- The republics federated to become the Soviet Union.
- The country was federated after the civil war.

---

feminizing (verb)

To give a (more) feminine, effeminate, or womanly quality or appearance to.

- The coach explained when to use "feminizing" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "feminizing" in real sentences.

---

flatfoot (noun)

A foot afflicted with a fallen arch; abnormally flattened and spread out.

- They discussed "flatfoot" during the group presentation.

- In class, the teacher used "flatfoot" to mean a foot afflicted with a fallen arch; abnormally....

---

fluting (noun)

A groove or furrow in cloth etc (particularly a shallow concave groove on the shaft of a column).

- They discussed "fluting" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "fluting" because he had never seen it before.

---

foreshortening (verb)

Reduce in scope while retaining essential elements.

- He did not know how to use "foreshortening" until he saw an example.
- She tried to use "foreshortening" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

foxing (verb)

Be confusing or perplexing to; cause to be unable to think clearly.

- In everyday English, people use "foxing" when talking about this idea.
- Learners should practice how to use "foxing" in real sentences.

---

franche-comte (noun)

A former province of eastern France.

- In class, the teacher used "franche-comte" to mean a former province of eastern france.
- They discussed "franche-comte" during the group presentation.

---

gametophyte (noun)

The gamete-bearing individual or phase in the life cycle of a plant having alternation of generations.

- The article explained what "gametophyte" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gametophyte" to mean the gamete-bearing individual or phase in the life....

---

gamp (noun)

Colloquial terms for an umbrella.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gamp."
- Understanding "gamp" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gartner's bacillus (noun)

A form of salmonella that causes gastroenteritis in humans.

- In class, the teacher used "gartner's bacillus" to mean a form of salmonella that causes gastroenteritis in....
- They discussed "gartner's bacillus" during the group presentation.

---

genus amaranthus (noun)

Large widely distributed genus of chiefly coarse annual herbs.

- He looked up "genus amaranthus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "genus amaranthus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

genus anser (noun)

Typical geese.

- They discussed "genus anser" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "genus anser" means with a simple example.

---

genus araucaria (noun)

A genus of the araucaria family.

- The article explained what "genus araucaria" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "genus araucaria" during the group presentation.

---

genus chimaera (noun)

Type genus of the Chimaeridae.

- In class, the teacher used "genus chimaera" to mean type genus of the chimaeridae.
- The article explained what "genus chimaera" means with a simple example.

---

genus paramecium (noun)

Freshwater ciliate with an oval body and long deep oral groove.

- In class, the teacher used "genus paramecium" to mean freshwater ciliate with an oval body and long deep....
- They discussed "genus paramecium" during the group presentation.

---

genus pelargonium (noun)

Geraniums native chiefly to South Africa; widely cultivated.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "genus pelargonium."
- He looked up "genus pelargonium" because he had never seen it before.

---

george szell (noun)

United States conductor (born in Hungary) (1897-1970).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "george szell."
- They discussed "george szell" during the group presentation.

---

gibs (noun)

A unit of information equal to 1024 mebibytes or 2^30 (1,073,741,824) bytes.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gibs."
- Understanding "gibs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

gingiva (noun)

The tissue (covered by mucous membrane) of the jaws that surrounds the bases of the teeth.

- The article explained what "gingiva" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gingiva" to mean the tissue (covered by mucous membrane) of the jaws....

---

gingko (noun)

Deciduous dioecious Chinese tree having fan-shaped leaves and fleshy yellow seeds; exists almost exclusively in cultivation especially as an ornamental street tree.

- The article explained what "gingko" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "gingko" to mean deciduous dioecious chinese tree having fan-shaped....

---

glimpsing (verb)

Catch a glimpse of or see briefly.

- The coach explained when to use "glimpsing" and when to wait.
- Can you use "glimpsing" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

glints (noun)

A momentary flash of light.

- The article explained what "glints" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "glints."

---

glottis vera (noun)

The space between the two true vocal folds.

- In class, the teacher used "glottis vera" to mean the space between the two true vocal folds.
- The article explained what "glottis vera" means with a simple example.

---

gnomic (adjective)

Relating to or containing gnomes.

- Gnomic verse.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "gnomic."

---

gnomon (noun)

Indicator provided by the stationary arm whose shadow indicates the time on the sundial.

- In class, the teacher used "gnomon" to mean indicator provided by the stationary arm whose....
- The article explained what "gnomon" means with a simple example.

---

godwit (noun)

Large wading bird that resembles a curlew; has a long slightly upturned bill.

- In class, the teacher used "godwit" to mean large wading bird that resembles a curlew; has a....
- The article explained what "godwit" means with a simple example.

---

grapplers (noun)

A tool consisting of several hooks for grasping and holding; often thrown with a rope.

- He looked up "grapplers" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "grapplers" during the group presentation.

---

greenly (adverb)

With green color.

- The countryside rolled greenly down into the valley.
- She spoke "greenly," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

grizzle (verb)

Be in a huff; be silent or sullen.

- Can you use "grizzle" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "grizzle" and when to wait.

---

grottos (noun)

A small cave (usually with attractive features).

- In class, the teacher used "grottos" to mean a small cave (usually with attractive features).
- The article explained what "grottos" means with a simple example.

---

gustav theodor fechner (noun)

German physicist who founded psychophysics; derived Fechner's law on the basis of early work by E. H. Weber (1801-1887).

- He looked up "gustav theodor fechner" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "gustav theodor fechner."

---

gymnasia (noun)

A school for students intermediate between elementary school and college; usually grades 9 to 12.

- They discussed "gymnasia" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "gymnasia" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hairstylists (noun)

Someone who cuts or beautifies hair.

- They discussed "hairstylists" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "hairstylists" because he had never seen it before.

---

hankie (noun)

A square piece of cloth used for wiping the eyes or nose or as a costume accessory.

- In class, the teacher used "hankie" to mean a square piece of cloth used for wiping the eyes or....
- The article explained what "hankie" means with a simple example.

---

hawksbill (noun)

Pugnacious tropical sea turtle with a hawk-like beak; source of food and the best tortoiseshell.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hawksbill."
- Understanding "hawksbill" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

hawksbill turtle (noun)

Pugnacious tropical sea turtle with a hawk-like beak; source of food and the best tortoiseshell.

- The article explained what "hawksbill turtle" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "hawksbill turtle" during the group presentation.

---

hemangioma (noun)

Benign angioma consisting of a mass of blood vessels; some appear as birthmarks.

- Understanding "hemangioma" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hemangioma."

henceforward (adverb)

From this time forth; from now on.

- He answered "henceforward," which changed the tone of the conversation.
- Place "henceforward" carefully so the meaning stays clear.

herbaria (noun)

A collection of dried plants that are mounted and systematically classified for study.

- Understanding "herbaria" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "herbaria" to mean a collection of dried plants that are mounted and....

heyerdahl (noun)

Norwegian anthropologist noted for his studies of cultural diffusion (1914-2002).

- Understanding "heyerdahl" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "heyerdahl" to mean norwegian anthropologist noted for his studies of....

hirsutism (noun)

Excessive hairiness.

- He looked up "hirsutism" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hirsutism."

holofernes (noun)

(Apocrypha) the Assyrian general who was decapitated by the biblical heroine Judith.

- The article explained what "holofernes" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "holofernes."

homogenize (verb)

Become homogeneous or similar, as by mixing.

- The two liquids homogenized in the blender.
- Homogenize the main ingredients.

honoris causa (noun)

A degree conferred to honor the recipient.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "honoris causa."
- The article explained what "honoris causa" means with a simple example.

hoofing (noun)

Dancing in which the steps are more important than gestures or postures.

- Understanding "hoofing" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "hoofing."

horsetail milkweed (noun)

Milkweed of southwestern United States and Mexico; poisonous to livestock.

- They discussed "horsetail milkweed" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "horsetail milkweed" to mean milkweed of southwestern united states and mexico;....

huds (noun)

The United States federal department that administers federal programs dealing with better housing and urban renewal; created in 1965.

- He looked up "huds" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "huds" during the group presentation.

hunchbacked (adjective)

Characteristic of or suffering from kyphosis, an abnormality of the vertebral column.

- Would you call this situation "hunchbacked"? Explain why.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "hunchbacked."

hurted (verb)

Cause emotional anguish or make miserable.

- The coach explained when to use "hurted" and when to wait.
- Learners should practice how to use "hurted" in real sentences.

---

hybridizing (noun)

(genetics) the act of mixing different species or varieties of animals or plants and thus to produce hybrids.

- They discussed "hybridizing" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "hybridizing" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

iberians (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Iberia in the Caucasus.

- They discussed "iberians" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "iberians" means with a simple example.

---

icelander (noun)

A native or inhabitant of Iceland.

- They discussed "icelander" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "icelander" means with a simple example.

---

identifiably (adverb)

In an identifiable manner.

- They were identifiably different.
- She spoke "identifiably," and the audience immediately understood her point.

---

imperils (verb)

Pose a threat to; present a danger to.

- He did not know how to use "imperils" until he saw an example.
- Can you use "imperils" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

in apposition (adverb)

In an appositive manner.

- Using "in apposition" can make your explanation more exact.
- He answered "in apposition," which changed the tone of the conversation.

---

independency (noun)

Freedom from control or influence of another or others.

- He looked up "independency" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "independency."

---

insouciance (noun)

The cheerful feeling you have when nothing is troubling you.

- They discussed "insouciance" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "insouciance."

---

intoning (verb)

Utter monotonously and repetitively and rhythmically.

- Learners should practice how to use "intoning" in real sentences.
- She tried to use "intoning" carefully so everyone would understand.

---

intranets (noun)

A restricted computer network; a private network created using World Wide Web software.

- In class, the teacher used "intranets" to mean a restricted computer network; a private network....
- The article explained what "intranets" means with a simple example.

---

iops (noun)

Pressure exerted by the fluids inside the eyeball; regulated by resistance to the outward flow of aqueous humor.

- They discussed "iops" during the group presentation.

- In class, the teacher used "iops" to mean pressure exerted by the fluids inside the eyeball;....

---

isopod (noun)

Any of various small terrestrial or aquatic crustaceans with seven pairs of legs adapted for crawling.

- In class, the teacher used "isopod" to mean any of various small terrestrial or aquatic....
- The article explained what "isopod" means with a simple example.

---

jenners (noun)

English physician who pioneered vaccination; Jenner inoculated people with small amounts of cowpox to prevent them from getting smallpox (1749-1823).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jenners."
- The article explained what "jenners" means with a simple example.

---

jousts (noun)

A combat between two mounted knights tilting against each other with blunted lances.

- Understanding "jousts" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "jousts" to mean a combat between two mounted knights tilting....

---

jurisprudential (adjective)

Relating to the science or philosophy of law or a system of laws.

- A "jurisprudential" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "jurisprudential"? Explain why.

---

jus sanguinis (noun)

The principle that a person's nationality at birth is the same as that of his natural parents.

- The article explained what "jus sanguinis" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "jus sanguinis."

---

kalashnikovs (noun)

A type of submachine gun made in Russia.

- He looked up "kalashnikovs" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "kalashnikovs" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

kamikazes (noun)

A pilot trained and willing to cause a suicidal crash.

- In class, the teacher used "kamikazes" to mean a pilot trained and willing to cause a suicidal crash.
- Understanding "kamikazes" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

keratoconus (noun)

Abnormal cone-shaped protrusion of the cornea of the eye; can be treated by epikeratophakia.

- He looked up "keratoconus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "keratoconus."

---

kiner (adjective)

Related by blood.

- The speaker chose "kiner" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- Her writing became clearer after she learned "kiner."

---

klaipeda (noun)

A city in western Lithuania on the Baltic Sea; formerly an important trading town of the Hanseatic League.

- They discussed "klaipeda" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "klaipeda" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

knickerbockers (noun)

Trousers ending above the knee.

- In class, the teacher used "knickerbockers" to mean trousers ending above the knee.
- They discussed "knickerbockers" during the group presentation.

---

konstantin stanislavsky (noun)

Russian actor and theater director who trained his actors to emphasize the psychological motivation of their roles (1863-1938).

- They discussed "konstantin stanislavsky" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "konstantin stanislavsky" to mean russian actor and theater director who trained his....

---

kookie (adjective)

Informal or slang terms for mentally irregular.

- It is useful to describe something as "kookie" when it is informal or slang terms for mentally irregular.
- Students compared "kookie" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

---

kotex (noun)

A disposable absorbent pad (trade name Kotex); worn to absorb menstrual flow.

- The article explained what "kotex" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "kotex" during the group presentation.

---

kyphosis (noun)

An abnormal backward curve to the vertebral column.

- Understanding "kyphosis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- In class, the teacher used "kyphosis" to mean an abnormal backward curve to the vertebral column.

---

lachesis (noun)

The Greek goddess of fate who determines the length of the thread of life.

- He looked up "lachesis" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "lachesis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

laminectomy (noun)

Surgical removal of the bony arches on one or more vertebrae.

- He looked up "laminectomy" because he had never seen it before.
- They discussed "laminectomy" during the group presentation.

---

lammas (noun)

Commemorates Saint Peter's miraculous deliverance from prison; a quarter day in Scotland; a harvest festival in England.

- They discussed "lammas" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "lammas" means with a simple example.

---

lammas day (noun)

Commemorates Saint Peter's miraculous deliverance from prison; a quarter day in Scotland; a harvest festival in England.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lammas day."
- He looked up "lammas day" because he had never seen it before.

---

lamplighter (noun)

(when gas was used for streetlights) a person who lights and extinguishes streetlights.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lamplighter."
- The article explained what "lamplighter" means with a simple example.

---

landrover (noun)

A car suitable for traveling over rough terrain.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "landrover."
- He looked up "landrover" because he had never seen it before.

---

lanius borealis (noun)

A butcherbird of northern North America.

- The article explained what "lanius borealis" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "lanius borealis" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lanthanides (noun)

Any element of the lanthanide series (atomic numbers 57 through 71).

- They discussed "lanthanides" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "lanthanides" to mean any element of the lanthanide series (atomic....

---

lathering (verb)

Beat severely with a whip or rod.

- The coach explained when to use "lathering" and when to wait.
- Can you use "lathering" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

latticed (adjective)

Having a pattern of fretwork or latticework.

- Would you call this situation "latticed"? Explain why.
- A "latticed" approach may work better in this case.

---

leaper (noun)

Someone who bounds or leaps (as in competition).

- The article explained what "leaper" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "leaper" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

libidos (noun)

(psychoanalysis) a Freudian term for sexual urge or desire.

- He looked up "libidos" because he had never seen it before.
- In class, the teacher used "libidos" to mean (psychoanalysis) a freudian term for sexual urge or....

---

lichen planus (noun)

An eruption of shiny flat-topped purplish (usually itchy) papules on the wrist and forearms and thighs.

- He looked up "lichen planus" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "lichen planus."

---

liposomal delivery vector (noun)

A transducing vector that uses liposomes to carry the gene of interest.

- They discussed "liposomal delivery vector" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "liposomal delivery vector" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

lithographers (noun)

A printmaker who uses lithography.

- In class, the teacher used "lithographers" to mean a printmaker who uses lithography.
- The article explained what "lithographers" means with a simple example.

---

logarithmically (adverb)

In a logarithmic manner.

- Data plotted logarithmically with respect to time is shown in Figure 2.
- Using "logarithmically" can make your explanation more exact.

---

loungewear (noun)

Clothing suitable for relaxation.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "loungewear."
- Understanding "loungewear" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

louver (noun)

One of a set of parallel slats in a door or window to admit air and reject rain.

- The article explained what "louver" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "louver" to mean one of a set of parallel slats in a door or window....

---

louvres (noun)

An art museum that is a famous tourist attraction in Paris.

- He looked up "louvres" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "louvres" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

maeterlinck (noun)

Belgian playwright (1862-1949).

- The article explained what "maeterlinck" means with a simple example.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "maeterlinck."

mender (noun)

A skilled worker who mends or repairs things.

- They discussed "mender" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "mender" means with a simple example.

mesosphere (noun)

The atmospheric layer between the stratosphere and the thermosphere.

- The article explained what "mesosphere" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "mesosphere" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

messiest (adjective)

Dirty and disorderly.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "messiest."
- The speaker chose "messiest" because it captured the feeling precisely.

micawber (noun)

Fictional character created by Charles Dickens; an eternal optimist.

- Understanding "micawber" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "micawber" during the group presentation.

microgram (noun)

One millionth (1/1,000,000) gram.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "microgram."
- Understanding "microgram" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

minocycline (noun)

Tetracycline antibiotic (trade name Minocin) used to treat a variety of bacterial and rickettsial infections.

- Understanding "minocycline" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "minocycline" means with a simple example.

mizen (noun)

Third mast from the bow in a vessel having three or more masts; the after and shorter mast of a yawl, ketch, or dandy.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "mizen."
- The article explained what "mizen" means with a simple example.

monarchism (noun)

A belief in and advocacy of monarchy as a political system.

- They discussed "monarchism" during the group presentation.
- In class, the teacher used "monarchism" to mean a belief in and advocacy of monarchy as a political....

mount ranier (noun)

A mountain peak in central Washington; highest peak in the Cascade Range; (14,410 feet high).

- In class, the teacher used "mount ranier" to mean a mountain peak in central washington; highest peak....
- The article explained what "mount ranier" means with a simple example.

mount ranier national park (noun)

A national park in Washington having mountain terrain featuring glaciers and alpine lakes and streams and swamps.

- He looked up "mount ranier national park" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "mount ranier national park" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

mugwort (noun)

Any of several weedy composite plants of the genus Artemisia.

- The article explained what "mugwort" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "mugwort" to mean any of several weedy composite plants of the genus....

---

murderously (adverb)

As if bent on murder.

- The huge dog bore down on them with bared fangs and barking murderously.
- Using "murderously" can make your explanation more exact.

---

murrumbidgee (noun)

A river of southeastern Australia; flows westward into the Murray River.

- He looked up "murrumbidgee" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "murrumbidgee."

---

murrumbidgee river (noun)

A river of southeastern Australia; flows westward into the Murray River.

- In class, the teacher used "murrumbidgee river" to mean a river of southeastern australia; flows westward....
- He looked up "murrumbidgee river" because he had never seen it before.

---

musculus sartorius (noun)

A muscle in the thigh that helps to rotate the leg into the sitting position assumed by a tailor; the longest muscle in the human body.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "musculus sartorius."
- He looked up "musculus sartorius" because he had never seen it before.

---

mushing (verb)

Drive (a team of dogs or a dogsled).

- Can you use "mushing" in a sentence that fits this situation?
- The coach explained when to use "mushing" and when to wait.

---

napier's rods (noun)

A set of graduated rods formerly used to do multiplication and division by a method invented by John Napier.

- They discussed "napier's rods" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "napier's rods" means with a simple example.

---

nearside (noun)

The side of a vehicle nearest the kerb.

- The article explained what "nearside" means with a simple example.
- Understanding "nearside" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

neckwear (noun)

Articles of clothing worn about the neck.

- Understanding "neckwear" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "neckwear" means with a simple example.

---

negations (noun)

A negative statement; a statement that is a refusal or denial of some other statement.

- Understanding "negations" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "negations" means with a simple example.

---

nelson algren (noun)

United States writer (1909-1981).

- In class, the teacher used "nelson algren" to mean united states writer (1909-1981).
- Understanding "nelson algren" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

neomycin (noun)

An antibiotic obtained from an actinomycete and used (as a sulphate under the trade name Neobiotic) as an intestinal antiseptic in surgery.

- Understanding "neomycin" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "neomycin."

---

nightstick (noun)

A short stout club used primarily by policemen.

- In class, the teacher used "nightstick" to mean a short stout club used primarily by policemen.
- Understanding "nightstick" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

nij (noun)

The law enforcement agency that is the research and development branch of the Department of Justice.

- The article explained what "nij" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "nij" to mean the law enforcement agency that is the research and....

---

nonbeliever (noun)

Someone who refuses to believe (as in a divinity).

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "nonbeliever."
- The article explained what "nonbeliever" means with a simple example.

---

nonstarter (noun)

A person with a record of failing; someone who loses consistently.

- In class, the teacher used "nonstarter" to mean a person with a record of failing; someone who....
- The article explained what "nonstarter" means with a simple example.

---

objectifies (verb)

Make external or objective, or give reality to.

- Pornography objectifies women.
- Can you use "objectifies" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

octahedra (noun)

Any polyhedron having eight plane faces.

- The article explained what "octahedra" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "octahedra" to mean any polyhedron having eight plane faces.

---

olas (noun)

Leaf or strip from a leaf of the talipot palm used in India for writing paper.

- They discussed "olas" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "olas" because he had never seen it before.

---

oligarchical (adjective)

Of or relating to or supporting or characteristic of an oligarchy.

- Would you call this situation "oligarchical"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "oligarchical" when it is of or relating to or supporting or characteristic....

---

oozy (adjective)

Leaking out slowly.

- The speaker chose "oozy" because it captured the feeling precisely.
- A "oozy" approach may work better in this case.

---

ordains (verb)

Order by virtue of superior authority; decree.

- She tried to use "ordains" carefully so everyone would understand.
- He did not know how to use "ordains" until he saw an example.

---

orderings (noun)

The act of putting things in a sequential arrangement.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "orderings."
- He looked up "orderings" because he had never seen it before.

---

orff (noun)

German musician who developed a widely used system for teaching music to children (1895-1982).

- The article explained what "orff" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "orff" to mean german musician who developed a widely used system....

---

oryza sativa (noun)

Yields the staple food of 50 percent of world's population.

- The article explained what "oryza sativa" means with a simple example.
- They discussed "oryza sativa" during the group presentation.

---

ostinato (noun)

A musical phrase repeated over and over during a composition.

- They discussed "ostinato" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "ostinato" because he had never seen it before.

---

outplaying (verb)

Excel or defeat in a game.

- She tried to use "outplaying" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "outplaying" in real sentences.

---

overlayed (verb)

Put something on top of something else.

- He did not know how to use "overlayed" until he saw an example.
- The coach explained when to use "overlayed" and when to wait.

---

oximeter (noun)

A measuring instrument that measures the oxygen in arterial blood.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "oximeter."
- The article explained what "oximeter" means with a simple example.

---

paba (noun)

A metabolic acid found in yeast and liver cells; used to make dyes and drugs and sun blockers.

- Understanding "paba" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- He looked up "paba" because he had never seen it before.

---

palatine raphe (noun)

The seam at the middle of the hard palate.

- Understanding "palatine raphe" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "palatine raphe."

---

paramecium (noun)

Any member of the genus Paramecium.

- He looked up "paramecium" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "paramecium."

---

parturition (noun)

The process of giving birth.

- They discussed "parturition" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "parturition" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

passer domesticus (noun)

Small hardy brown-and-grey bird native to Europe.

- He looked up "passer domesticus" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "passer domesticus" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

pathans (noun)

A member of the mountain people living in the eastern regions of Afghanistan.

- Pathans are the predominant ethnic group in Afghanistan.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pathans."

---

pelargonium (noun)

Geraniums native chiefly to South Africa; widely cultivated.

- They discussed "pelargonium" during the group presentation.
- Understanding "pelargonium" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

percept (noun)

The representation of what is perceived; basic component in the formation of a concept.

- They discussed "percept" during the group presentation.
- The article explained what "percept" means with a simple example.

---

phoenixes (noun)

A constellation in the southern hemisphere near Tucana and Sculptor.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "phoenixes."
- They discussed "phoenixes" during the group presentation.

---

photophobia (noun)

Pain in the eye resulting from exposure to bright light (often associated with albinism).

- They discussed "photophobia" during the group presentation.
- He looked up "photophobia" because he had never seen it before.

---

piddle (verb)

Waste time; spend one's time idly or inefficiently.

- She tried to use "piddle" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Can you use "piddle" in a sentence that fits this situation?

---

piddle away (verb)

Waste time; spend one's time idly or inefficiently.

- Learners should practice how to use "piddle away" in real sentences.
- The coach explained when to use "piddle away" and when to wait.

---

pigeon guillemot (noun)

Northern Pacific guillemot.

- Understanding "pigeon guillemot" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "pigeon guillemot" during the group presentation.

---

pillock (noun)

A person who is not very bright.

- In class, the teacher used "pillock" to mean a person who is not very bright.
- Understanding "pillock" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

---

plantagenets (noun)

The family name of a line of English kings that reigned from 1154 to 1485.

- Understanding "plantagenets" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "plantagenets."

---

pledger (noun)

Someone who makes or gives a pledge.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "pledger."
- They discussed "pledger" during the group presentation.

---

plushy (adjective)

Characterized by extravagance and profusion.

- A "plushy" approach may work better in this case.
- Would you call this situation "plushy"? Explain why.

pointillism (noun)

A genre of painting characterized by the application of paint in dots and small strokes; developed by Georges Seurat and his followers in late 19th century France.

- He looked up "pointillism" because he had never seen it before.
- Understanding "pointillism" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

polishers (noun)

A power tool used to buff surfaces.

- She wrote a short paragraph that included "polishers."
- He looked up "polishers" because he had never seen it before.

polynesian tattler (noun)

Tattler of Pacific coastal regions.

- In class, the teacher used "polynesian tattler" to mean tattler of pacific coastal regions.
- Understanding "polynesian tattler" helps you talk about this topic clearly.

polysyllabic (adjective)

(of words) long and ponderous; having many syllables.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "polysyllabic."
- Students compared "polysyllabic" with similar adjectives in the lesson.

polysyllabic word (noun)

A word of more than three syllables.

- The article explained what "polysyllabic word" means with a simple example.
- In class, the teacher used "polysyllabic word" to mean a word of more than three syllables.

pompously (adverb)

In a pompous manner.

- He pompously described his achievements.
- She spoke "pompously," and the audience immediately understood her point.

portages (noun)

The cost of carrying or transporting.

- They discussed "portages" during the group presentation.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "portages."

postmarks (noun)

A cancellation mark stamped on mail by postal officials; indicates the post office and date of mailing.

- In class, the teacher used "postmarks" to mean a cancellation mark stamped on mail by postal....
- The article explained what "postmarks" means with a simple example.

postulation (noun)

A formal message requesting something that is submitted to an authority.

- In class, the teacher used "postulation" to mean a formal message requesting something that is....
- They discussed "postulation" during the group presentation.

prepayments (noun)

Payment in advance.

- Understanding "prepayments" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- The article explained what "prepayments" means with a simple example.

prognostications (noun)

A sign of something about to happen.

- He looked up "prognostications" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "prognostications."

promisingly (adverb)

In an auspicious manner.

- The afternoon had begun so promisingly.
- Try rewriting the sentence and include "promisingly" naturally.

---

proprietress (noun)

A woman proprietor.

- He looked up "proprietress" because he had never seen it before.
- She wrote a short paragraph that included "proprietress."

---

psychobabble (noun)

Using language loaded with psychological terminology.

- Understanding "psychobabble" helps you talk about this topic clearly.
- They discussed "psychobabble" during the group presentation.

---

puddling (verb)

Wade or dabble in a puddle.

- The children are having fun puddling in paint.
- In everyday English, people use "puddling" when talking about this idea.

---

punctuates (verb)

To stress, single out as important.

- She tried to use "punctuates" carefully so everyone would understand.
- Learners should practice how to use "punctuates" in real sentences.

---

pungency (noun)

A strong odor or taste property.

- The pungency of mustard.
- He commented with typical pungency.

---

purple-hooded orchis (noun)

North American orchid having a spike of violet-purple flowers mixed with white; sepals and petals form a hood.

- In class, the teacher used "purple-hooded orchis" to mean north american orchid having a spike of....
- The article explained what "purple-hooded orchis" means with a simple example.

---

pusillanimous (adjective)

Lacking in courage and manly strength and resolution; contemptibly fearful.

- Her writing became clearer after she learned "pusillanimous."
- A "pusillanimous" approach may work better in this case.

---

pyloric (adjective)

Relating to or near the pylorus.

- Would you call this situation "pyloric"? Explain why.
- It is useful to describe something as "pyloric" when it is relating to or near the pylorus.

---

pyloric valve (noun)

The sphincter muscle of the pylorus that separates the stomach from the duodenum.

